Presented to the LIBRARY of the UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
by PROFESSOR
S. NAGATA
This Dictionary is an attempt to bring together in a convenient form materials for the study of the language most widely known throughout East and Central Africa, and to combine them in the light of a long, though in various ways limited, experience.

It would be more accurately described as an annotated vocabulary of the dialect of Swahili commonly spoken in Zanzibar city. It cannot lay claim to the formal completeness, especially in the treatment of verbs, which attaches to the idea of a dictionary, and it deals with a dialect which in respect of a large number of words is distinguished by the Swahilis themselves from the Swahili dialect of the coast. It is based on the lists of words, singularly accurate and relatively complete in themselves, furnished by Bishop Steere's Handbook of Swahili and scattered throughout his collections and translations, and on Krapf's Dictionary of Swahili—works issued more than twenty years ago. Later sources have also been drawn upon, especially Père Sacleux's Dictionnaire français-swahili, 1891, and the ever-increasing volume of Swahili literature (chiefly documents, letters, stories and poetry) due to the industry and scientific enthusiasm of German colonists and scholars. No work, however, at present exists (1903) which attempts the same object as the present. It was beyond the scope of Bishop Steere's plan to supply more than full lists of useful words. As to Krapf's monumental work, it may be enough to express a hope that it will never be re-edited. It remains indispensable to every student of Swahili, and has the permanent value and charm of genuine philological pioneer work by an honest and able researcher. It deals almost entirely with the dialect of Swahili used at Mombasa, and revision might make it more practically useful by the removal of inaccuracies and repetitions, and by modifying the spelling and arrangement, but such treatment would be analogous to re-writing Schliemann's Troy or Livingstone's Journals. The many first-hand explanations and examples are too precious, however, to be left unused, and it is especially on these that the present Editor has ventured freely to draw.

As to the use made of these and other materials, this Dictionary makes no claim to be encyclopaedic, or to include more than the commoner technical terms of arts, crafts and commerce, or to represent fully the flora or fauna of Zanzibar. Like other dictionaries, it presupposes an elementary acquaintance with the grammar of the dialect dealt with, in this case a very simple one. But (apart from imperfections due to ignorance or oversight) it will probably be found to provide sufficiently for the ordinary wants of officials, missionaries, travellers, teachers and translators, especially when used in connexion with the English-Swahili Dictionary (also published by the Oxford University Press, second edition, 1901) by the same Editor.

Reasons for attempting to provide a Dictionary of this kind may be briefly stated. The common language of Zanzibar has hitherto been the best known and most widely useful form of Swahili. And Swahili is still by far the most important member of the Bantu family of language, i.e. of the solid block of dialects, closely related among themselves and clearly differentiated from all others, which are spoken throughout about a third of the African continent, i.e. over nearly the whole of it from Nigeria and the Soudan on the north to the Hottentot region on the extreme south. Hence Swahili has been ranked not unreasonably among the twelve most important languages of the modern world, and the position of Zanzibar as till lately the undisputed commercial capital and chief political power of Eastern and Central Africa has determined the form of Swahili still most useful as the key to that entire region. It is not necessary to enlarge on its characteristics, but one special feature of it may be more fully referred to here.

The term Swahili represents, ethnologically as well as linguistically, the mixture of African and Arab elements on the East Coast of Africa. The proportions of the mixture in the race and the language vary indefinably, but its main characteristic is constant, viz. that the language remains always African, —and by African in this connexion is meant Bantu—in all its leading grammatical and phonetic features, however largely Arabic, and in a small degree other foreign elements figure in its vocabulary. How largely they figure appears in this book. The Editor is not well acquainted with Arabic, Hindustani, or indeed other dialects of Bantu, but he has made an attempt to discriminate between the Bantu and foreign element throughout. All words believed to be of non-Bantu origin are marked with an asterisk (*). Such words are mostly Arabic, or introduced through Arabic channels, and an Arabic scholar could no doubt add considerably to the number. As it is, a glance will show the numerical importance of the foreign element. A close study is needed to realize its full significance, to detect it (often strangely disguised) in all stages of phonetic and even grammatical assimilation, and to recognize its subtle power of permeation, even to the absolute displacement of some of the commonest Bantu words, and almost a monopoly of the connectives of words and sentences except in the simplest relations, and to unfold its historical significance as a record of successive invasions of Arab influence, warlike and peaceful, to which the East coast has been for centuries subjected. Here two or three results may be noted briefly. The Arabic element is so large and penetrating as seriously to diminish the value of the Swahili dialect for the purposes of comparison with other dialects of Bantu, simply from the displacement of Bantu roots elsewhere general. On the other hand, the very opportunity and power of assimilation is and has proved to be a most valuable one. It enables the African to draw on the rich resources of the Arabic vocabulary for the expression or better expression of new ideas, while providing an easy, and as it were, natural channel for the germinal seeds of culture, taste, and enlightenment of all kinds, wherever Swahili penetrates throughout the continent. There is a third consideration of practical importance. Bantu, and especially Swahili, is easy to pronounce and even to represent in writing with the ordinary alphabet, and the tendency of Swahili is to make Arabic also easy to pronounce and even (in a degree) to spell.

As to the always difficult subject of spelling and transcription of a language only lately reduced to writing, the present Editor is content to adopt generally the remarks made by Bishop Steere (in his Handbook, at the end of the Introduction and in the chapter on the alphabet), corroborated as they are in principle by Professor Max Müller in his little-known Introduction to the Outline Dictionary for Students of Language by John Bellows (now long out of print). He would also avow his own tendency to Bantize rather than Arabize, i.e. to simplify rather than refine upon Arabic sounds uncongenial to the African, so far as their representation in writing is concerned. There seems no ground for deliberately contributing to their perpetuation. The principle just referred to is, that it is a practical necessity in the transcription of languages to indicate sounds, not depict them, and that for this purpose the ordinary English alphabet should be used with as few modifications as possible. Happily in Swahili there are no sounds commonly heard which are not sufficiently indicated by Roman characters. The only real difficulty is one inherent in all phonetic transliteration, viz. actual or supposed differences in the pronunciation of the same word, whether locally or by individuals, and consequent impossibility of a spelling both accurate and uniform. Such differences are partly natural and universal, few individuals pronouncing the same word in exactly the same way. In Swahili they are aggravated by the disturbing effect of Arabic, leading to strange but common transpositions of vowels and inversions of consonants in the effort of the African to imitate or assimilate its difficult characteristic sounds, and also by varying dialectic tendencies among the Africans themselves. English achieves uniformity of spelling by resigning all pretence to phonetic accuracy. In Swahili phonetic exactness at present would make uniform spelling impossible. Hence in this Dictionary, words will be found given in various forms, representing the word as heard by different and differently qualified transcribers. The consequence may be sometimes baffling, but seems unavoidable.

Only students need attend to the brief notes appended in brackets to many of the articles. They are mainly meant to supply hints for further study, by bringing together under each word, others which seem to throw light upon it as to origin or meaning—especially cognate words from the same root, words worth noting from similarity of form, synonyms in the wide sense of similar in general or in a special meaning, also words illustrative by contrast and opposed meaning. There are but few notes on life and customs, &c., in Zanzibar. The fact appears to be that under the outward forms of a purely Mohammedan régime, only modified on the surface as yet by European civilization, and slightly disturbed in its depths by the leaven of Christianity, there exists a medley of tribal customs and superstitions, as varied and varying as the population itself, which do not admit of disentanglement on the spot, and could only be profitably studied in the places from which they are derived.

For Arabic words Steingass' Dictionary has been chiefly relied on, and Palmer's and Tien's Grammars. As to the manifold imperfections of this book, competent critics may be trusted to recognize and perhaps to allow for them. Every one who has experience of Zanzibar will find words which seem wrongly inserted or omitted. The prefaces of Johnson and Murray catalogue the difficulties which beset more or less the making of even a small dictionary of any language. The lexicographer is no doubt rightly defined as a drudge, but perhaps doubtfully as 'a harmless drudge.' The present Editor knows the Swahili of Zanzibar well enough to know that he does not know it well. But his work may (it is hoped) help others to know it as well—and better.

A. C. MADAN.

INTRODUCTION

TO THE USE OF THIS DICTIONARY

To find words and ascertain their meanings in a dictionary too limited in size to allow a full enumeration of either, attention is needed to the following directions.

1. To find words.

All Swahili verbs, many nouns and adjectives, and some particles vary at the beginning, and will not commonly be found under the letter (sound) which comes first. As a rule, verbs and adjectives are to be looked for under the first letter of the root, and nouns under the form of the singular number. The variable formative elements, as distinct from the radical, are called in this Dictionary prefixes (pfx.), and for convenience prefix is often arbitrarily used to include infix, and affix or suffix. Prefixes are usually agglutinative elements, but some have a limited use as independent words. A glance at the Tabular Conspectus of the noun and verb which follows the Introduction will be practically sufficient, with a knowledge of the elements of the simple Swahili Grammar, to enable the root to be distinguished. Thus:

(a) A Noun beginning with wa-, mi-, vi-, ny-, ma-, which are common plural prefixes, may be looked for under the corresponding singular form.

Obs. The declension of each noun (which colours grammatically the whole of a Swahili sentence) is as a rule shown by placing immediately after it the plural prefix in brackets. This method sufficiently distinguishes declensions 1 to 5. Declension 6 does not change in the plural, and is shown by the absence of a prefix following, or by (—). Nouns of declension 8 should be looked for under the letter following ku, i.e. the verb from which they are in almost all cases formed. The declensions are commonly referred to as D 1 (S), i.e. First Declension Singular Number, D 1 (P), i.e. First Declension Plural Number, D 2 (S), D 2 (P), and so on.

(b) An adjective beginning with any one of the common adjectival prefixes (see Conspectus II (c)) may be looked for under the letter (sound) following it. Variable adjectives are written with a (-) before the root, e.g. -ema, and the more important variations of forms corresponding to different declensions are appended to each.

(c) Conspectus I both illustrates the difficulty of finding the root of a Swahili verb and also supplies a key. Combinations of any of the six classes of prefix, which may precede a root, must be recognized and removed, and then the letter following will be the first letter of the root.

2. To ascertain meanings.
Nouns and verb-stems are so readily developed from a root in Swahili, by a regular and almost mechanical process, i.e. by the use of certain prefixes, that it is impossible to give more than a selection from them. Their meaning may, however, be gathered as a rule from the known meaning of the prefix, and the root when recognized will usually be found independently or in some cognate word. The rarer the combination, the more certain the meaning to be simply the normal meanings of root and prefix combined.

(a) The commonest formative noun-prefixes are M- (Mw-), Ki- (Ch-), U- (W-), at the beginning of a word, often with a variable but significant ending, -o, -ji, or -zi. The characteristic force of each of these elements may be gathered from the notes on them in their places in this Dictionary.
INTRODUCTION

(6) The Swahili verb-root is capable of such a rich and varied development in the form of additional verb-stems, each with its complement of conjugations, moods, tenses, &c., that only a few have been fully treated in this Dictionary, hardly any completely. Shades of meaning are so numerous and their differences so delicate, that appropriate renderings in English suited to each particular case have to be left very largely to the student's appreciation of each form separately. Only examples and suggestions can be given within reasonable limits of space. But the following considerations may enable him better to infer for himself the meaning of verb-forms not stated under the verb itself. And if he is still inclined to complain of vagueness and inadequacy in their interpretation, it may be remembered that language unwritten (like Swahili) is the speech of a living person, and so carries its own simultaneous commentary of look, gesture, and tone, as well as sound—appealing thus to four senses in sympathetic and intelligent relation to the speaker, and not only to the eye interpreting a written character. The full meaning of any written statement has at best often to be guessed, and a Swahili, if he writes, writes as he speaks, assuming a hearer and not a reader.

Subject only to the limitations imposed by common sense (i.e. by the meaning of the root itself) and common usage, all Swahili verbs may exhibit, beside (1) a simple or primary form (Pr.), seven derived forms, here called—(2) Applied (Ap.), (3) Causal (Cs.), (4) Reciprocal (Rp.), (5) Reversive (Rv.), (6) Stative (St.), (7) Reflexive (Rf.), and (8) Reduplicated (Rd.)—each (under the above limitations) with Active, Passive, and Neuter Voices, and Positive and Negative Conjugations, and each of them with its complement of Moods, Tenses, as well as derived nouns and adjectives, beside an indefinite number of other forms or stems formed by combinations of those just enumerated.
INTRODUCTION

The characteristics by which each main form may be recognized, and the chief meanings of each, from which choice must be made, are briefly as follows:

1. Primary (Pr.), in which the root is followed by a, the simplest form of the verb and conveying its simplest meaning, but generally capable of both transitive and intransitive construction. (Obs. verbs of non-Bantu origin may end also in -u, and -i.)

   (a) The Passive Voice in this (and in all the verb-forms following) is distinguished by w before the final vowel, and (b) the Neuter by k (ik, ek). The Neuter has three common uses, indicating (1) the same as the passive, but with less definite reference to any agent or instrument, (2) what is usual, (3) what is practicable, e.g. njia hii yaendeka may mean (1) this road is as a fact passed over, (2) this road is a regular thoroughfare, (3) this road is passable, open, safe. Obs. meaning (3) is also regularly indicated by -kana, for ka, e.g. yaendekana, i.e. a combination of the Neuter and Reciprocal forms (see below, 4).

2. Applied (Ap.), in which i or e is inserted between the root and final a, and choice has to be made among all the meanings usually expressed in English by a preposition following a verb, e.g. from, to, at, by, with, in, out of, for, against, about, &c. Only the sympathetic interpretation referred to above can determine the choice rightly in many cases. Obs. the Passive of the Ap. form is often used as the Passive of the Pr. form.

3. Causal (Cs.), in which z (sh, s, and sometimes y) is inserted between the root and final a. The meaning conveyed is (1) Causal, (2) Intensive or Emphatic. But the Causal sense includes at least six varieties of causation, needing often delicate discrimination and totally different translation, according as it is (1) simple, a causing to do (or be), (2) compulsive, forcing to do, (3) permissive, allowing to do, (4) suasive, inducing to do, (5) passive, not interfering with doing, (6) consequential, resulting in (tending to) doing.

4. Reciprocal (Rp.), in which an is inserted before the final a. Here again the form expresses several distinct aspects of common action, e.g. (1) reciprocal, e.g. pigana, ‘give and return blows’—action and reaction, (2) connected action, e.g. tokana na, ‘come out of;’ fualana na, ‘follow;’ (3) combined (mutual, joint) action, e.g. endana, ‘all go together;’ liana, ‘cry together,’ (4) interaction, of what affects all parts or different parts of the same single object, e.g. shikana, ‘hold together, be compact (firm);’ kazana, ‘be tight, be pressed together,’ (5) in connexion with the Neuter sign ka (see above), -kana indicates commonly what is practicable, possible, probable, &c., e.g. one-kana, ‘be visible, be within the range of vision, come into sight.’

5. Reflexive (Rf.), in which the syllable ji is prefixed to the root itself. The many shades of meaning thus conveyed may be gathered from the article on ji in the Dictionary.

6. Reduplicated (Rd.), in which a verb-stem is repeated twice and used as a single stem to indicate emphasis, frequency, or continuance, e.g. piga piga, ‘beat soundly,’ or ‘keep on beating.’

7. Reversive (Rv.), in which u (sometimes o) is inserted between the root and final a, indicating the reverse of the simple Pr. form, but also (when the general result is identical) sometimes the same. Cf. pinda and pindua, kama and kamua, zima and zimua.

8. Stative (St.), in which am is inserted before the final a, indicating a relatively fixed state or permanent condition. It occurs also combined with an, i.e. -aman, in verbs like shikaman, andamana. See under -mana in its place.
INTRODUCTION

Of the above forms, the four first (Pr., Ap., Cs., Rp.) are given under almost every verb, Rf. and Rd. only occasionally, while Rv. and Rs. are treated as separate verbs in this Dictionary. Combinations of them are to be found under a few verbs, e.g. penda, piga, toa, funga, ona, &c. The brief enumerations just given shows the difficulty of complete treatment of the Swahili verb, and it must never be inferred that because a verb-form is not to be found in this Dictionary it does not exist, and cannot be readily employed.
I. CONSPICUOUS OF (ZANZIBAR) SWAHILI VERB
Illustrating the usual relative order of the various Prefixes and Suffixes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>PREFIXES</th>
<th>ROOT</th>
<th>AFFIXES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Negative</td>
<td>Personal</td>
<td>Subjective</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sing.</td>
<td>Pres. Indef.</td>
<td>a</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. ni, n</td>
<td>Pres. Def.</td>
<td>na</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. u, w</td>
<td>Pres. Perf.</td>
<td>me</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. a, yu,</td>
<td>Preter.</td>
<td>li</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>u, i, ki,</td>
<td>Narrat.</td>
<td>ka</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>li, pa, ku</td>
<td>Plur.</td>
<td>ji</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ha</td>
<td>3. wa, nga, ya</td>
<td>(Infinitive)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. tu, tw</td>
<td>Fut.</td>
<td>ta (-ka)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. m, mw</td>
<td>Condition</td>
<td>ya, ya, ya</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. wa, nga, ya</td>
<td>Defered</td>
<td>ya, ya, ya</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ku</td>
<td>Pret. Neg.</td>
<td>ku</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

N.B. This Table is not intended to exhibit all the Swahili prefixes or affixes, much less to be a guide to all their possible combinations. Thus the Reflexive sign could not, of course, appear in the same word as the Passive, and in the Subjunctive the negative is -si- inserted between the Subjunctive and Objective Prefixes. Moreover, as pointed out previously, the Affixes may be repeated any number of times and in any combinations which the meaning of the root allows, so long as they preserve the above order relatively to the original root, or the new root on which each combination is based, e.g. pend-, pendez-, pendek-, pendekez-, penden-, &c.
II. CONSPECTUS OF

Illustrating the usual Prefixes which distinguish the various Declensions and Numbers, and also the chief Verbal and Adjectival Prefixes and Pronoun Forms corresponding to each. There is no distinction of Gender in Swahili Nouns.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DECLENSION</th>
<th>NOUN-PREFIX</th>
<th>ROOT</th>
<th>ADJECTIVAL PREFIX</th>
<th>PRONOUN</th>
<th>VERBAL PREFIX</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.</td>
<td>Sing. m Plur. wa</td>
<td>(e.g.) tu (thing)</td>
<td>m, mw wa, w</td>
<td>huyu, yule hawa, wao</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) mtu, person, (c) mwema, good, (d) huyu, this, (e) ampenda, he loves him.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.</td>
<td>Sing. m Plur. mi</td>
<td>(e.g.) ti (tree)</td>
<td>m, mw mi, m</td>
<td>huu, ule hii, ile</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) mti, tree, (c) mdogo, small, (d) huu, this, (e) waota, it grows.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.</td>
<td>Sing. ki Plur. vi</td>
<td>(e.g.) tu (thing)</td>
<td>ki, ch vi, vy</td>
<td>hiki, kile hivi, vile</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) kitu, thing, (c) kizuri, pretty, (d) hiki, this, (e) chapandiza, it pleases.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.</td>
<td>Sing. u, w Plur. ny</td>
<td>(e.g.) imbo (song)</td>
<td>m, mw n (with euphonic variants)</td>
<td>huu, ule hizi, zile</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) uimbo, song, (c) mbaya, bad, (d) huu, this, (e) wachukiza, it disgusts.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
(ZANZIBAR) SWAHILI NOUN

1, is the usual Declension of liying beings, 2, of plants. Diminutives belong to 3, Amplificatives to 5, Abstracts mostly to 4, Foreign words to 6, and in some cases 5, 7 is Local only, and 8, Verbal. The (so-called) Possessive Adjectives and a few others follow the Pronominal Prefixes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Declension</th>
<th>Noun-Prefix</th>
<th>Root</th>
<th>Adjectival Prefix</th>
<th>Pronoun</th>
<th>Verbal Prefix</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>5.</td>
<td>Sing. = Plur. ma</td>
<td>(e.g.) kasha (box)</td>
<td>(c)</td>
<td>hili, lile haya, yale</td>
<td>(e)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Sing. Subj. Obj.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Plur. Subj. Obj.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) kasha, box, (c) kubwa, large, (d) hili, this, (e) latosha, it suffices.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.</td>
<td>Sing. — Plur. —</td>
<td>(e.g.) kazi (work)</td>
<td>n (with euphonic variants)</td>
<td>hii, ile hizi, zile</td>
<td>(e)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Sing. Subj. Obj.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Plur. Subj. Obj.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) kazi, work, (c) ngumu, hard, (d) hii, this, (e) yachosha, it wearsies.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.</td>
<td>Sing. — Plur. —</td>
<td>mahali (place) (only noun in this declension.)</td>
<td>pa, p</td>
<td>hapa, pale</td>
<td>(e)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Sing. Subj. Obj.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) mahali, place, (c) pembamba, narrow, (d) hapa, this, (e) pafaa, it suits.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.</td>
<td>Sing. — Plur. —</td>
<td>(e.g.) kufa (dying)</td>
<td>ku, kw</td>
<td>huku, kule</td>
<td>(e)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Sing. Subj. Obj.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>e.g. (a, b) kufa, dying, (c) kutukufu, glorious, (d) huku, this, (e) kwasisiwa, it is praised.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
ABBREVIATIONS

EASILY recognized abbreviations are used for the common grammatical names of parts of speech and their varieties—conjugations, moods, tenses, &c.

The eight Declensions given in Conspectus II are distinguished as \( D_1 (S) \), i.e. First Declension Singular Number, \( D_1 (P) \), i.e. First Declension Plural Number, \( D_2 (S) \), \( D_2 (P) \), \( D_3 (S) \), and so on.

The eight principal forms of verb-stem are distinguished as \( Pr. \) Primary or Simple, \( Ap. \) Applied, \( Cs. \) Causal, \( Rp. \) Reciprocal, \( St. \) Stative, \( Rv. \) Reversive, \( Rf. \) Reflexive, \( Rd. \) Reduplicated. \( Ps. \) denotes Passive, \( Act. \) Active, \( Nt. \) Neuter, \( Pos. \) Positive, \( Neg. \) Negative.

\( Pfx. \) Prefix, includes (for convenience) infix, suffix, and affix—the same formative element being often medial or final as well as initial.

\( Kr. \) Krapf, \( Sac. \) Sacleux, \( Str. \) Steere, the principal authorities relied upon throughout, are only cited in connexion with particular words or statements.

The chief languages referred to are : \( B. \) Bantu, \( Ar. \) or \( Arab. \) Arabic, \( Swa. \) Swahili, \( Z. \) Zanzibar, \( Hind. \) Hindustani, \( Pers. \) Persian, \( Fr. \) French, \( Eng. \) English, \( Germ. \) German, \( Port. \) Portuguese. Obs. \( Arab. \), and not \( Ar. \), denotes Arabic words but little used or assimilated in the common talk of Zanzibar.

The following may also be noted:—

a. = adjective.
adv. = adverb.
amplif. = amplificative, denoting large (relative) size.
conj. = conjunction.
conjug. = conjugation.
cf. = compare.
conn. = connect, connected.
contr. = contrast, contrary in meaning.
dim. = diminutive, denoting small (relative) size.
dist. = distinguish, distinct in meaning.
est. = especially.
fig. = figurative, in a figurative sense.
follg. = a word or article immediately following.
int. = interjection.
intens. = intensive, with intensive force, emphatic.
lit. = literally, in a literal sense.
ABBREVIATIONS

n. = noun.
obs. = observe.
op. = opposed to, of opposite meaning.
perh. = perhaps.
prec. = a word or article immediately preceding.
prep. = preposition.
pron. = pronoun.
pronom. = pronominal or possessive—of adjectives, &c.
syn. = synonymous, in a wide sense, illustrative of the general, or of a special, meaning of a word.
usu. = usual, usually.
A SWAHILI-ENGLISH DICTIONARY

(Words marked * appear not to be of Bantu origin.)

A.

A represents generally the broad sound of a in 'father.' It also includes (chiefly in non-accented syllables) the lighter sound of a in 'man.' And there is a modification of it which is noted under certain words of Arabic origin, being heard and written sometimes as e. See EfLu, Hewa, and E.

A is far the commonest vowel sound in Swahili, and with the consonants k and m gives a distinct phonetic colour to the spoken language as a whole. Though comparatively rare as an initial sound of Bantu roots, it is the regular terminal sound of most Swahili verb-forms, appears in many of the formative prefixes of the verb, in the plural prefixes of two declensions, and in most of the common conjunctions and prepositions.

Aa is used to represent a long a sound, which usually indicates (1) in the case of Bantu words, a really double syllable with an i or r sound slurred or elided between the a's; (2) in the case of Arabic words, the Bantu effort to express the sounds of Alif, Ain, or combinations of them.

A as a simple uncombined sound is used:

(1) As an interjection, whose meaning depends on the mode of utterance and intonation. Thus:

(a) A/ or Ah! or Ahh! expresses simply wonder, pleasure, pain, grief, &c.

(b) A-aa or A-haa (also A-hee and E-hee)—the sounds distinct, with rising intonation, and stress on the last, 'yes, just so, exactly, I understand,' i.e. assent, affirmation.

(c) Aa-a or A-a-a—the sounds distinct, with falling intonation, and stress on the first, 'no, oh no, not so, by no means,' i.e. dissent and negation.

(2) As a preposition, but only, occasionally as a slurred or shortened form of the full prepositional wa, ya, &c., after a vowel preceding.

(See below.)

(3) Not (like the other personal prefixes, ni, u, tu, m, wa) as a verb-form 'he, she) is,' its place being taken sometimes by yu, otherwise by the general verb-form ni, e.g. mfalme yu (or ni) mwema, the king is good.

A in verb-formation is:

(1) The Pers. Pfx. of 3 Sing. in all Tenses, agreeing with D 1 (S), e.g. a-tapenda, he will love.

(2) The Tense Pfx. of Pres. Indef., e.g. vapenda (u-a-penda), you love, and (coalescing or dispensing with the Pers. Pfx. wholly or in part) napenda (ni-a-penda), I love, apenda (a-a-penda), he loves.

(3) Part of one form of the Past Tense Pfx. ali (otherwise li only), e.g. nali-penda (u-ali-penda), otherwise ni-li-penda, I loved.

N. A in Prefixes, (1) when followed by e, disappears regularly in ka, ma, wa, pa, sometimes in a, na, ta. never in the Neg. Pfx. ku, e.g. akenda (a-kaenda), and he went, peupe (pa-peupe), a white place; (2) when followed by i, coalesces with it to form e, e.g. aketa (a-ka-ita), and he called, wezi (wa-izi), thieves, mengi (ma-ingi), many.
-a is the invariable element, which combined with a prefix forms the various prepositions wa, ya, za, cha, la, pa, kwa, mwa. In meaning these all correspond generally to the English ‘of,’ and (with the noun following) to the Genitive Case in the classical languages, and include all such adjectival relations as ‘belonging to, proceeding from, consisting of, of the class or kind of, relating to, qualified by,’ &c.

Each of the above forms will be found in the Dictionary, but here it may be noted that:

1. With a noun following, they supply the lack of adjectives, and, with an adverb preceding, the lack of prepositions, in Swahili, e. g. nyumba ya mawe, a stone house, sumu ya kufisha, deadly poison, baada ya haya, after these things, kando la mto, beside the river.

2. Where the reference is general, or the noun easily supplied, they are sometimes used without a noun preceding, e. g. ya kwanza, in the first place, wa vita, warriors, cha kula, food. And by a curious idiom the preposition is sometimes referred to the person concerned and not to the thing qualified, e. g. alimpigawa jicho, and he struck him a blow in the eye, not (pigo) la jicho.

3. After some common nouns the preposition is often omitted, e. g. binti Ali, the daughter of Ali, mwana chuni, the schoolboy, kina bibi, ladies. And it is sometimes slurred, if not elided, after a preceding, e. g. saa a tano, or saa tano (saa ya tano), the fifth hour.

*Aali, a. superior, excellent, exalted. (Arab. Cf. taala and Ali. Aa here represents the combination Alif, Ain, Alif.)

*Aasi, v. See Asi. (Ar.)

*Abaddan, adv. always, constantly, ever. Mwanamke a. harithi, a woman is never contented. (Arab., for common siku zote, daima.)

*Abedari, n. (—, or ma-) and Bedari, a large block or pulley used in hoisting the main-yard of a native sailing vessel. (Ar. or Hind. Cf. for pulley, kapi, gofia.)

*Abiria, n. (—, and ma-), person crossing (a river, sea, &c.), passenger (in a boat, vessel, &c.). (Ar. Cf. abiri.)

*Abudu, v. worship, adore, venerate, prop. of religious worship and service, both outward and inward. A. Mtungu (sanamu), worship God (idols). A. sala, perform a service of prayer. Ps. abuduwa, be (in fact) worshipped. Nt. abudika, be an object (generally, or a proper object) of worship. Ap. abud-ia, -iwa, -ika, offer worship to, worship in (for, on account of, &c.). Cs. abud-isha, -ishwa, cause to worship, convert. (Ar. Cf. ibada, nwabudu, maabudu, and, of external worship, sujudu.)

Acha, v. the main idea is, ceasing or breaking off connexion with something, and may be rendered in many ways, with many shades of meaning, e. g. (1) ‘leave, leave off, leave behind, let go, let pass, let be, go (part, depart) from; (2) abandon, desert, neglect; (3) acquit, release, pardon; (4) allow, permit, give leave; (5) separate from, divorce.’ Acha! (imper.) Let go! Give over! Hands off! Sikuachi, I will not let you go. Akamwachaka akendazake, and he left him and went away. A. mtumwa huru, let a slave go free (set him at liberty). Colloquially, a. is used somewhat as an expletive, e.g. Acha (or, waache, for waache) Wasungu watawale kwa nguvu, let alone Europeans for strong government, i.e. trust them for it. Acha misinga ilie, just let the cannons fire, i.e. the cannons did make a noise. Ps. achwa. Many derivative verb-stems are used, with their characteristic meanings. Ap. ach-ia, -iwa, -ika, -iana. Also -ilia, -iliwa, -ilika, -iliana. Kuachia mtoto mali, to bequeath property to a child. Ameachiwa, he has had money left him. Kumwachilia makoza, to pardon his offences. Thambi hii inachiliika, this sin is venial. Watu waachilia nyama, human beings who are quite distinct from animals. Cs. ach-ishia (sometimes asha), -isha, -ishia, -ishika. Achisha mtoto (with or without maziwa), wean a child. Ulimuachisha mkewe, you caused him to desert (divorce) his wife. Rp. ach-ania, -ania, -anisha, leave each other, part, diverge, be different, be inconsistent. Wameachana, they have taken leave of each other. Njia zinaa, the paths diverge. Maneno yamea, the statements do not agree. Achana na, part from. (Cf. saza, bakisha.)

*ACHALI, n. pickle, sauce, relish; jam, preserve. Usually of an acid mixture, made of lemon juice, salt, pepper, &c., but also of sweet ones. (Hind.)

*Ada., n. (-, and ma-), (1) customary habit, manner, and esp. (2) customary present, commission, fee,—as to a doctor, teacher, or workman on beginning or ending a job, or at a wedding. Such gifts, whether in cash or kind, have various significant names, e.g. nsito, stick, kilemba, turban, kinyosha mgongo, backstraightener, kisingua milango, door-opener, kipa mkone, handshaker, &c.

A. ya biashara, custom of trade. Nipe a. yangu, give me my fee. A. silizopasilia jumbe, customs proper to be observed as to a chief. (Ar. Cf. syn. desturi, mila, and for presents generally bakshishi.)

*Adabu, n. good manners, proper behaviour, politeness, courtesy, civility, etiquette. A. yake Arabu nyingine kuliko Waswahili, Arab etiquette is often different from Swahili. Huna a., you do not know how to behave (a very insulting expression). Tia a., teach good manners. Fanya a., behave well, show courtesy. Often used, like many nouns in Swahili, as an adjectival predicate. Mtu huyu a. sana, this person behaves like a gentleman. (Ar. Cf. adibu, taadabu, and dist. athabu, punishment, sometimes written adabu.)

*Adamu, n. Adam. Mwana wa Ad., mwana Ad., bin Adamu, are commonly used for 'member of human race, human being, man.' (Ar. Cf. mtu, mlimwengu, mwana, and wanadamu, i.e. w-anad.)

*Adawa, n. enmity, hostility, strife, quarrel. (Arab. Cf. more common wadui (w-adui), and adui.)

*Aden, n. and Adan, Eden, also Eden. Bustani ya Aden, Garden of Eden. (Ar.)

*Adi, v. cause to pass, let pass on, allow a guest to depart,—esp. after courteously accompanying him to the door, or a short distance on his journey. Wakatusindikiza hatta mtoni wakatuadi, they accompanied us as far as the river, and took leave of us. (Arab,—the B. sindikiza being commonly used.)

*Adibu, v. teach manners to, educate. Ps. adibivu. Nt. adibika. Mtolo yale hadibiki, that child will never learn to behave. Ap. adibia, -iwa. Cs. adib-isha, -shii,—used in same sense as the Pr. adibu, and more commonly. (Ar. Cf. adabu, taadabu, and contr. adibu, right external behaviour, with adili, right moral conduct. Also B. lea, bring up, educate.)

*Adili, n. right, right conduct,

*adiliifu, a. as *adili, a. upright, honourable, respectable, moral. (Ar. Cf. adili.)

Adui, n. (—, and ma-), enemy, foe, opponent. (Ar. Cf. adawa, wadui, and syn. B. mt esi, mshindani.)

A-ee, int. also A-ee, E-hee, with second syllable accented and on a higher-note, expressing assent, affirmation, 'yes, just so, exactly.' (Cf. a as int. and note.)

Afia, n. (ma-), person or thing causing fear, a terror, horror, bugbear, enemy. (Arab. Cf. hofu, mwaf u, and B. kioja, kitisho.)

Afathali, adv. better, rather, preferably, as the best course, more correctly. A. enende, you had better proceed. *Hivi a., it is best so. (Ar. Cf. fathili, (u)afathali.)

Afia, n. See Afya. (Ar.)

Afikana, v. See Afiki. (Ar.)

Afiki, v. agree with, correspond to, be same as, fit. Tarihi ya mwaka ili afik i hamashara Desember, the date corresponded to Dec. 15. The most used forms are the R p. afikana, agree together, make an agreement (contract, bargain), come to an understanding, be reconciled, and Cs. afikana, bring to terms, reconcile, pacify. (Ar. as if wafiki. Cf. mafsikano, mwafaka, and syn. B. patana, lingana.)

Afuni, n. opium. (Ar. Cf. syn. kasumba.)

Afu, v. also Afua, save, deliver, preserve, cure, pardon, acquit. Muungu amemwafi, God has preserved him. — n. (ma-), preservation, pardon. (Arab. not common and deriv. stems rare. Cf. afu, n. and afya, also common B. syn. ponya, okoa.)

Afu, n. blossoms of the wild jasmine, mwafu, growing in Z. and valued for the perfume. (Cf. yasmini.)

Afya, n. also Afia, good health, sound condition, safety, preservation, and also general condition, state of health, with qualifying adj. *Sina a., I am not in good health. A. nyema (mbaya), good (bad) health. Bora a., (also borafya), good health. (Ar. Cf. afu, v. and hali, also B. syn. uzima.)

Afya, v. cause to swear, put on oath. (Cs. from apa, v. = apisha. See apa, and for interchange of p and f, see under -F.)

Aga, v. (1) agree (with), promise (to), engage; (2) say good-bye (to), take leave (of), dismiss, let go. Aga (agana) buri rian, say a last farewell, take solemn final leave (of). Fig. of sunset, jua linaga miti, the sun is taking leave of the trees. Ps. agwa. Wameagwa, they have been told (received permission) to go. Ap. ag-ia, -iva, -ilia, -iliana. Ulimagia kofia, you promised me a cap. Niagie babangu, say good-bye to my father for me. Maneno waliyoogiliana ye na rasiki zake, the terms which he and his friends agreed upon. Cs. ag-isa, -azwa, usually Intens., charge, commission, order, appoint, give strict injunctions. Kuagiza ni kuweza? Does ordering mean it can be done? R p. ag-ana, -ania, -anika, -anisha, (1) make a mutual agreement, come to terms, conclude a bargain; (2) exchange farewells, say good-bye to each other. Cs. aganisha, bring to terms, reconcile. (Cf. agizo, agano, and syn. wasia, ahidi.)

Agano, n. (ma-), (1) agreement, promise, contract, mutual understanding; (2) leave-taking, farewell. (Usu. in plur. Cf. aga, and syn. mapatano, mafsikano, ahadi, mkataba.)

Agizo, n. (ma-), charge, injunction, commission, order, appoint-

Agua, v. treat medically, supply medicine, operate (on). Killa anguaye, humwagua, every one who was sick he treated with medicine. Atuangle uganga wa vita, let him supply us with war-medicine. Chukwa ndimu aagulie mngongo wake, take a time, and let him apply it to his back. (Derivs., &c. as prec. Cf. ugwa.)

Ahsa, int. yes, just so (see A, as interject. sound, and cf. A-ee, int. note).

*Ahadi, n. (—), also Wahadi, promise, engagement, agreement. Toa (funga, -po) a., make a promise. Vunya a., break a promise. Timiza (skisha, shika) a., keep (fulfil, &c.) a promise. Ahadi yetu, tupeleke mzigo Tabora, our engagement is, to convey a load to Tabora. (Ar. Cf. ahidi.)

*Ahali, n. (—), relations, kindred, kinsman. Used comprehensively, and often in contrast with near relatives. Wasee na ndugu na a., parents, brothers, and relations. Ndugu na a., brothers and (other) kinsmen. Mtu katika a, sake, one of his relations. (Ar. Cf. akabra, jamaa, utani, ukoo.)

*Ahora, n. and Akhara, Ahori, (1) that which is last (or behind, or beyond), the end, the last stage; (2) esp. the next world, future life, last day, grave (as end of present life). Toka awali hatta aheri, from first to last, from beginning to end. (Syn. B. toka mwanzo hatta mwisho.) Huko ahera ni kuzuri, it is nice over yonder. Hatta Sultani atakwenda ahera (or, aherami), even a king must die (will come to his end).

(Ar. Cf. ahiri, and syn. B. mwisho, kikomo, end, and kuzimu, spirit world.)

*Ahi, n. See Akhi.

*Ahiri, v. and Akhiri, stand over, be behindhand, be put off (deferred, adjourned), remain behind. Ps. ahiriwa (as ahiri). Ap. -ahir-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. ahir-isha, -ishwa, postpone, delay, adjourn, defer, cause to wait. Maneno haya yanaahirika, this business can be adjourned (taken afterwards). (Arab. Cf. ahera, and syn. usiri, B. ngoja.)

*Ahsante, and Ahasanta, Asant, used as an expression of thanks and gratitude, 'thank you, you are very kind.' (Ar. = 'you have done well,' cf. hisani. Usually a kindness or gift is acknowledged, if at all, by vema, or ngema, it is well, good.)

Aibu, n. (that which is a) disgrace, shame, scandal, reproach; infamy, dishonour, shame. — v. (Pr. not used). Ap. aib-ia, -iwa, -ika, be put to shame, be dishonoured, be disgraced, &c. Cs. aib-isha, -ishwa, disgrace, bring dishonour, &c. on. (Ar. Cf. syn. fetheka, haya, and contr. heshima.)

*Aili, v. take on oneself, make oneself responsible for, incur a debt. A. deni, charge oneself with another person's debt. Ap. ail-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. ail-isha, -ishwa, put responsibility on, declare guilty, hold culpable, condemn. — a. responsible, guilty. Huyu si a. ni yeye, this one is not responsible, it is that one. (Arab. not common. Cf. syn. diriki.)

*Aina, n. kind, class, sort, species. (Ar. Cf. syn. ginsi, namna, and follg.)

*Aitha, conj. further, moreover, next, then. (Arab. Cf. kathalika, thama, and common tena.)
*Ajabu, v. also Taaj. and Staaj., wonder, be astonished, feel surprise. Ap. ajab-ia, -iwa, -ika, wonder at. Cs. ajab-isha, -ishwa, surprise, astonish, &c. — n. (—, and ma-), (1) wonder, amazement, admiration, astonishment; (2) a marvel, surprise, a wonder, &c. One a., feel wonder. — adv. wonderfully, extraordinarily.

Kushwa a., marvellously great. Often used to strengthen mno, and sana. Nyingi mno a., exceedingly many. (Ar. Cf. shangaa v., toshewa v., and syn. mwujiza, &c.)

*Ajali, n. fate, doom, destiny, appointed end, death. Leo imetimia a. yake, to-day your hour is come. Kusalimika ajali, to be finally delivered up, to meet one's fate, to come to the appointed end. (Ar.)

*Ajara, n. and Ijara, Ujira, hire, wages. (Ar. Cf. ajiri, and ujira, mshahara.)

*Ajazii, v. be weak, be slack, be remiss. (Arab. Cf. ajizi, and syn. B. legea, choka.)

*Ajili, n. cause, reason, commonly in the phrase kwa ajili ya, because of, on account of, for the sake of, by reason of. Also conj. and kwa ajili, because, in order to. (Ar. and cf. syn. sababu, maana, hoja.)

*Ajizi, n. weakness, slackness, remissness. (Arab. Cf. ajazi, and common B. legea, choka.)

Aka, v. sometimes also Waka, especially if a vowel precedes, 'build, construct with stones and mortar, work as a mason.' Aka nyumba, build a stone house (jenga being commonly used of native construction, i.e. with poles, sticks, and earth).

Ps. akwa. Ap. ak-ia, -iwa, -ika. vitu vya kuakia, mason's tools (materials, &c.). Akisha (ash), cause to build, have mason's work done, order to be built. (Cf. mwashi, uashi, and contr. jengu and unda. In other dialects aka means 'build,' without reference to masonry.)

*Akali, n. and a., a few (of), some. A. ya vitu, vitu a., a few things. (Arab. Cf. common haba, and B. chache.) — also a verb-form, 'and he is, he being'—(a, Pfx. 3 Pers. S., ka connective, li = is, being, which see).

-ake, a. of pron. 3 Pers. S., his, hers, her, its, of him (her, it). Additional emphasis and precision is given by adding yeye, mwenyewe, or both, e.g. kiti chake, his chair, kiti chake yeye, his chair, kiti chake mwenyewe, his own chair, kiti chake yeye mwenyewe, his very own chair. The various prefixes, connecting -ake with different classes of nouns are w-, y-, ch-, vy-, l-, z-, p-, kw-, mw-.

*Akhi, n. brother. (Arab. for common B. ndugu.)

*Akiba, n. store, reserve, stock, what is laid by for future use. Weka a., put by, store up. (Ar.)

*Akida, n. (ma-), leader, commander, esp. of soldiers, ak. wa asikari, captain. (Ar. with article prefixed?)

*Akidi, v. suffice (for), be enough (for). Chakula hiki chaakidi watu waliopo, this food is enough for those present. (Arab. for common B. tosha. Cf. kifu.)

*Atika, n. an Arab domestic feast, e.g. on first hair-cutting of a child. (Ar.)

*Akiki, n. a red stone, red coral, cornelian. (Ar.)

*Akili, n. (1) intellect, intelligence, consciousness, understanding, reason, sense; (2) ability, cleverness, judgement, discretion; (3) a trick, ruse, clever plan, happy thought; (4) also used of what is abstract and immaterial, 'pure thought.' Hana a., he is a fool (simpleton, madman). A. zake chache, he is dull-witted; deficient. A. nyingi, great intelligence, plenty of sense. Fanya a., use the brains, exercise intelligence. A. yako haikuongoka, your device did not succeed. Katika a. yangu, according to my view, so far as I understand. jambo la a. tupu, si la kiwiliwili, something wholly immaterial, not of the body. Fuata a. material, you, follow your own judgement. (Ar. Cf. busara, ufahamu, utambuzi, ujuzi, moyo, welekevu.)

Akina. See Kina.

-ako, a. of pron. 2 Pers. S., your, yours, of you. (Cf. ake for prefixes, and use of weve, weneyewe, for emphasis.)

*Akraba, n. kinsman, relation, connexion, family. A. za kumeni (kukeni), relatives on the father's (mother's) side. (Ar. Cf. ahali, jamaa, utani, B. ukoo.)

*Akram, a. also il akram, honoured, respected. (Ar. occurs only in letters opening in the Arabic style, with other a. Cf. dibaji.)

*Al (and El), the Arab. article, is not used independently, but is incorporated with various Arabic words in common use among Swahilis, e.g. alhamisi, Thursday, assubuki, morning, liwali, governor, and sometimes as possessive, ras il mali, capital sum of money.

*Ala, n. (—, ma-, and ny-), sheath, scabbard, case of knife (sword, &c.). (Cf. syn. uo.)

*Alafu, n. and a., thousand. See Elfu. (Ar., plur. of Alfa.)

*Alama, n. sign, mark, token, trace, indication, vestige, signal. Tia a., put a mark on, mark. (Ar. Cf. elimu, &c., and syn. ishara, dalili.)

*Alasiri, n. afternoon, and esp. of one of the regular Mahommedan hours of prayer, about 3.30 p.m. (Ar. al asr. Cf. alfafir, alhuuri, &c., and note on Al.)

*Alfu, n. and a., thousand. See Elfu. (Ar.)

*Alfafir, n. dawn, daybreak, and esp. of one of the Mahommedan hours of prayer, about 4 a.m. (Ar. al fajr. Cf. alasiri and note.)

*Alhamdu lillahi, a common reply to a salute among some Swahilis, 'praised be God.' (Arab. Cf. al, and himidi.)

*Alhamisi, n. Thursday. (Ar. Al hams, i.e. 'the fifth' day of the week, according to the old oriental reckoning preserved by the Arabs, which regards the Sabbath as the last and Sunday as the first day of the week, making Thursday thus the fifth day. The name has been taken over by the Swahilis, though juma a tano, also meaning 'the fifth day of the week,' is also regularly used, and this denotes the day before Alhamisi, i.e. Wednesday, because the fifth day from (but not including) Jumaa, Friday, the Mahommedan Sunday.

Ali, (1) a verb-form, he (she) is, he (she) being (a, Pfx. of 3 Pers. S. agreeing with D 1 (S), and li, which see, and cf. relative forms, ali-ye, ali-o, &c.); (2) a common name, 'Ali.'

Ali-, sign of 3 Pers. S. of Past Tense of the Affirm. Conj., e.g. alipenda (a-li-penda), he (she) loved. -ali- (also -li-), sign of Past Tense of the Affirm. Conj., following or coalescing with Pers. Pfx., e.g. nali-penda (ni-al-i-penda), I loved, twali-penda (tu-al-i-penda), we loved.

*Alia, v. make a mark on, e.g. by a blow. Bakora imemwalia moto, the stick has made a mark on the boy. (Ar.)

Alikia, v. (1) invite, summon, call, give injunctions to, and in particular of a doctor's orders, i.e. 'treat (a patient)'; (2) make a short sharp sound, click, snap, crack. Ps. alikwa, e.g. be treated medically. Ap. alik-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. alikisha, alisha, -shwa. (1) A. mbele ya wali (kasini, kucheza ngoma), summon before the governor (to work, to a dance). Humwalika kwenda kwake kula, he used to invite him to dinner. A. vita wikubwa, summon (for) a great war. Mwalikwa, an invited guest. (2) A. is used of the cracking of roasted grains of Indian corn (mbisi). Alisha vidole, crack the finger-joints. Alisha mtambo wa bunduki, make the trigger of a gun click, cock the trigger.

*Aliki, v. hang, hang up, suspend. (Arab. for common B. tundika, tungi, angika.)

*Allah, n. God, seldom used except (1) in Arab. formulas; (2) as a common expletive, with or without other words. (1) La ilahi illa Allah, the first clause of the Mahomedan creed, 'there is no God but God'—sung as a monotonous chant at funerals. Allah bilkhuri, a common salutation, 'God prosper you.' Alhamdu billahi, a common rejoinder, 'praised be God.' Allah djam, God knows, i.e. I do not know. (2) Allah, expressing wonder, disgust, &c. Allah allah, in letters, to call special attention, 'remember, be careful to note.' And cf. Inshallah, bismilla, ee walaa, wallai. (Arab. Cf. Rabbi, Mola, and common B. Muungu.)

*Almaria, n. embroidery. (?Hind.)

*Almasi, n. diamond. (Ar., used also as a proper name.)

*Ama, conj. (1) either, or. Ama —ama, either—or. (2) (or is it not? and so), surely, moreover, however. Wa ama, and further, yet. Ama sizo? Or is it not so? Do you not admit it? (Ar. Cf. ao, and negat. wala.)

-am, Static termination of some verbs in Swahili, often denoting a (relatively) permanent condition or state, e.g. simama, be standing, tuama, settle down, kisinga, lie across, and sometimes combined with Rp. termination, -na, i.e. -mana, e.g. fungamana.

*Amali, n. (1) action, act, thing done; (2) practice, occupation, business. Mtu wa a., a man of action, an energetic practical man. A. yake kutega mitego, his business was trapping. (Ar., plur. of aml. Cf. B. tendo, mtendaji.)

*Amana, n. pledge, deposit, thing entrusted. Weka a., make a deposit, pledge. (Ar. Cf. amini, amani, ? imani.)

Amba, v. speak against, denounce, slander, abuse. Ps. ambwa. Only the Pr. form in this sense. Ap. ambia, -iwa, the common word for 'say to, speak to.' See Ambia. Amba is used, but not commonly in Z., (1) with Rel. Pfx. added, in the sense of a simple Rel. Pron. 'who, which', being followed by a finite verb, sometimes with a kwamba inserted between, sometimes with the verb itself in the Relative form, e.g. Vykula ambavyo havimo katika ulimwengu, (such) food as does not exist in the world. Watoto ambao kwamba wataka kwenda, children who wish to go. Killa mti na mzigo wake ambao umtoshao, every man with a load which is sufficient for him. (2) as a conjunction = kama, that, saying that, e.g. wakamsema amba amefanya mbaya, and they accused him, saying that he committed crimes. Also in the Infinitive form kwamba, (saying) that, is to say (ya kwamba, that, is also used), and kwamba also means 'if, though.' See Kwamba. (Cf. syn. tukana, suta, sema, mwambi, and kama, conj. Amba is used for 'say, speak' in poetical Swahili, and in other B. dialects. Cf. jambo, i.e. ji-ambu.)
AMBA

Amba, v. for Wamba, which see.

Ambaa, v. means passing near to, but without actual contact, and has various shades of meaning, according as such contact is or is not desirable. (1) pass by, pass along, pass without touching (without affecting); (2) avoid contact with, escape, not to salute (recognize, hurt, &c.); (3) miss contact with, fail to see (salute, recognize). A. pwani (or, na pwani), coast along, hug the shore. A. na maovu, escape evil. Maovu yaku-ambaa, may evil not touch you. Nali-mwambaa, I avoided seeing him (cut him), or I failed to see him. Derivatives seem rare. Cs. ambaza, cause to pass near. Ambaza chombo na pwani, coast along the shore. (Cf. mwambaa, and perh. for close juxtaposition and contact, ambo, ambisha, ambika, wambiso, ambuka, ambata, &c.)

*Ambari, n. ambergris, found at times off the east coast of Africa. (Ar.)

Ambata, v. be close to, come in contact with, stick (to), adhere (to), be attached (to), cling, clasp. Ps. ambatwa. Nt. ambatika. A. inchi (na inchi, katika inchi), come close to (strike on, cohere with) the ground. Mayayi yamaambata kikangoni, the eggs have stuck to the frying-pan. Jua linaambata katika inchi, the sun beats fiercely on the ground. Moto uliniambata, the heat scorched me. Fimbo zimenwambata, the blows of the stick made him feel. Ap. ambat-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. ambatisha, -ishwa. Rp. ambat-ana, -anisha, &c. Mbau mbili hihi zimeambatana, hasiambuliki, these two boards have stuck together, they cannot be pulled apart. (Cf. ambaa, ambua, amba, ambi, wamba, wambiso, and for the termination, fumba, kamata, vuata, kumbatia. Also syn. nata.)

Ambia, v. Ap. of amba, but meaning 'say to, report to, tell to, inform by word of mouth, speak to'—always with an objective prefix, and the words of the communication expressed or implied. Not used for 'talk to, converse with.' Often followed by kama, ya kuwa, ya kwa-mba, that, with Oblique or Direct narration. Akamwambia, njoo uka-le, and he said to him, Come and eat. Ps. ambiya, e.g. asiyejua maana, haambiwi maana, he who does not know the meaning, will not be told it. Ap. ambi-ila, -iwa, -ila. Mtu wa kuambiliki, an affable, courteous, meek person. Mtup kuyu haambiwi, this child cannot bear being spoken to. Cs. amb-iana, Nyote ambianeni, all of you tell each other. (Strictly the Ap. form of Amba, which see. Cf. sema, nena.)

AMBUA

Ambika, v. be brought into contact, hold together, be firm (tight, coherent). (Cf. ambaa, and follg.)

Ambisha, v. and Ambisa, cause to be in contact, bring (force) together, make cohere. Rp. ambishana, e.g. Intens. of things cohering or cemented together. (Cf. ambaa, and follg. Also wambiso.)

Ambo, n. (ma-), (1) any glutinous substance, gum, glue, i.e. something which causes coherence. Ambo la mkuyu wa kusungia nyaraka, gum made from the sycamore to fasten up letters with. (Cf. ambaa, and chambu, i.e. ko-ambu?) (2) the cord- ing of a native bedstead (also ambo, wambu, which see, and cf. wambu).

Ambua, v. break contact, remove, separate, take off (something adhering), often of removing husk, peel, skin, i.e. peel, husk, clean, flay. Ps. ambuliwa. Nt. ambuka. Ng'ozu mambuka, the skin has peeled off, after an illness, or cast by a snake. Ng'ozu ya simba ikaanikwa hatta ikaambuliwa, the skin of the lion was dried in the sun, and finally cleaned. Cs. ambukisa, -iwa, see follg. Ap. ambulila, -uliwa, -ulika. (Cf. ambaa, Ambukiza, v. (1) cause to be peeled off (removed, cast), and so (2) 'give a disease to, infect, carry contagion to, be contagious,' peeling of the skin being an obvious effect of some diseases. (Cf. follg. and ambaa, ambaa, &c.)

Ambukizo, n. (ma-), infection, that which causes infection. (Cf. prec.)

*Amdelhan, n. a particular fabric of fine silky texture. (Hind. see ngo.)

*Amerikani, n. (ma-, wa-) and a., (1) America, (2) American. Mas- jibatu Am., common petroleum for lamps, stoves, &c. Nguo Am., calico, esp. (3) stout, unbleached cotton cloth or calico, as largely introduced from America.

*Ami, n. See Amu. (Ar.)

*Amili, v. manage, effect, bring about, work at. (Arab. Cf. amali, mwaremale, and B. syn. tenda, fanyiza.)

*Amin, and Amina. Be it so, Amen. (Arab. Cf. aminia, aminia.)

*Amini, v. believe, trust, have faith (in), put confidence in. Ps. ami- nivwa. Nt. aminika. A. Muungu, believe God, trust God. A. kwa Muungu, believe in God, have faith towards God. Sultan akamwa- mini sana, the Sultan had great confidence in him. Amini mtu na kitu, entrust a person with a thing. Ap. amin-ia, -iwa, -ika. Aminiwa, have a thing entrusted to. Haaminiki, he is not deserving of confidence, he is untrustworthy. Cs. amin-ishwa, -ish- wa, -isha, &c., (1) cause to believe, inspire faith (confidence, trust); (2) entrust to, commit to care of, entrust with. Aminisha mtu mali, entrust a man with money. (3) Intens., have trust (about), feel confidence. Hakuminisha kwenda kulala, he did not venture to go to sleep. — n. fidelity, trustworthiness, honesty, integrity, faithfulness. (Cf. umini, uaminifu.) — a. and -amini, faithful, honest, trustworthy, &c. Cf. -aminifu. (Ar. Cf. amana, imani.)

*-aminifu, a. same as Amini, a. (Ar. Cf. umaminifu.)

*Amiri, n. (ma-), commander, leader, officer, esp. of soldiers. (Arab. Cf. amri, amuru, and syn. akida.)

Am'ka, v. also Amuka, awake, rouse oneself, rise up from sleep, regain life (consciousness, strength, &c.). Ap. amk-ia, -iwa, (1) wake up at (in, for, &c.), (2) in particular, pay a morning visit to, make an early call, visit formally,—the customary duty of dependents to patrons and superiors, and of children to parents, (3) in general, greet, accost, salute, address, pay respects to, also (4) fig. of the dawn, jumaa mosi kwa usiku kwamkia jumaa pili, on Saturday late in the night as it dawned on Sunday. Cs. am-sha, -shwa, awaken, rouse up (from sleep, lethargy, &c.). Amsha kanwa, take breakfast. Cf. chamsha kanwa. (Cf. uka, unkva, v. rise up, &c., in other dialects. Amkua, Ps. amkuwa, is found in Swa. poetry = ankia, rouse, accost, visit. Cf. naamanzi, and unka, also, for evening visit tuesha.)

*Amri, n. (1) a command, order, rule, regulation, direction, (2) authority, supreme power, rule, government, law. Mwenyi a., ruler, chief, responsible head. A. ya Muungu, the will of God, providence, chance. Sina a. nayo, I have no power (responsibility) in the matter, it is not my affair. Tso a., issue an order. Shika (fuata) a., obey (execute, carry out) an order. A. nyingi, strict discipline. (Ar. Cf. amuru, amiri.)

*Amru, Amria, Amrisha, &c., v. See Amuru.

*Amu, n. also Ami, father's brother, paternal uncle. (Arab. Cf. B. baba mdogo, baba mkubwa, and dist. mjomba.)
Amua, v. judge, be umpire, arbitrate, settle dispute (between). Ps. amuliwa. Nt. amulika. Ap. amuli-ia, -liwa, e.g. act as judge for, arbitrate between, and amuliwa, have a case settled, be judged (decided). Cs. (rare) amusha, -shwa. (Cf. mwamusi, maamusi, and Ar. syn. hukumu.)

*Amuru, v. also Amru (and so commonly the derivatives), order, command, direct, exercise authority, be the supreme power. Ps. amuriwa. Aliamurumurukiwenda upesi (or, aendo upesi), he ordered him to go quickly. Ap. amir-ia, -iwa, give orders about (for, at, &c.). Amurirwa kazi, he has had orders as to work. Cs. amir-isha, -ishwa, usu. intens., give strict orders, have orders issued. (Ar. Cf. B. syn. agiza, from aga.)

Ana, verb-form, he (she) has (a, Pfx. of 3 Pers. S. agreeing with D 1 (S), and na, which see).

Ana-, at the beginning of verbs, is the sign of 3 Pers. S. of the Present Definite, agreeing with D 1 (S), e.g. anakwenda (a-na-kwenda), he is going.

-anA, as a verbal termination, is the sign of the Reciprocal Conjugation, which includes a wide and subtle variety of meanings noted under different words, e.g. (1) reciprocity of act or feeling, action and reaction, e.g. pendana, love each other, pignana, beat each other, fight. (2) community, collective action, interaction, e.g. liana, weep together, as well as lisana, excite each other to weep, lana, eat together, (as well as) eat each other. Tokana na mtu, part with a person. Tokana nadamu, lose blood. (3) practicability, conditionality. This may be noted esp. in the combination of -ana with the Nt. Pfx. ka, e.g. tendekana, be possible, be able (under conditions) to be done, patikana, be procurable, be to be had. (4) coherence, combination, perhaps underlies such uses as kasana, be hard (tight, close), pindamana, fungamana, &c. (Cf. uses of Prep. na. -ana is also a widespread root in Bantu dialects. Cf. Mwana.)

-anana, a. (anana with D 5 (S) and D 6 (S), anana or nyanana with D 6 (P)), soft, thin, gentle (in action or effect). Upepo mwana, gentle breeze. Maji maan., quiet, still, slowly moving water. Nguo an., soft clothes (fabric). (Not common, restricted in meaning, of things rather than persons. Cf. syn. A. laini, B. -ororo.)

*Anasa, n. (1) pleasure, enjoyment, luxury, convenience, often (2) in bad sense, over-luxuriousness, self-indulgence, sensuality. Killa a. ino, it contains every luxury. Kaa a., live in comfort (or, self-indulgently). (Ar. Cf. anisi, and syn. raha, furaha.)

Andaa, v. (1) prepare, provide, get ready, put in order, arrange; (2) esp. of cooking, prepare food. Ap. anda-lia, -liwa, -lika. Andalia vita, prepare for war. (Cf. maanda-si, maandali, and for the root perh. andika, andama.)

Andama, v. follow, accompany, go along with (or, after), follow up, come next to, succeed. Mwesi uneandama, the moon has followed on, i.e. the new month has begun. (Cf. mwesi mwandamo.) Ap. andam-ia, -iwa, -ika. Andamia tembo, follow up (pursue) an elephant. Cs. andam-isa, -iswa, cause to follow, &c. Mwana kii ituwanandisa mwesi, this rain will bring in the new moon, i.e. will last till next month begins. R.p. andamana, follow one another, go all together, form a procession. Andamana na, associate with, take the side of, be companion to. Sinya mtu wa kuandamana naye, he is not a proper person to associate with. (Cf. folllg. and mwandani.)
Andamano, n. (ma-), a following (of people), train, procession, retinue. (Cf. prec. and mwandamano.)

Andamizi, n. (ma-); following. (See Mwandamizi, and cf. andama.) -andamo, a. following, succeeding. Mwesi mwa., moon (month) following, new moon. (Cf. prec. and ama, mwandamano.)

Andao, n. and Mwandao, preparation, arrangement. A. la maiti, preparation of corpse for burial, funeral arrangements. (Cf. anda, andama, mwandamano.)

Andasi, n. usu. in plur. maandasi, confectionery, pastry, &c. (Cf. andaa, maandasi.)

Andika, v. (1) set in order, lay out, set straight, give definite arrangement to; (2) write (i.e. make an orderly arrangement of letters); (3) register, enrol, make an entry, put on paper; (4) (of a ship), steer, keep on a course, set the course; (5) (andika, andika huru), register as free, give freedom (to). A. mesa, arrange (lay, set) a table, prepare a meal. A. bara (waraka), write a letter. A. asi kari (jeshi), enlist soldiers (a force). A. chombo, keep a vessel on a course. A. tanga, arrange a formal mourning. Ps. andikwa. Liane ndikwa (na Muungu), it is written (by God, and therefore finally settled, destined). Liandikwalo hali futiki, what is written cannot be wiped out. Ap. andika-ia, -iwa, -ika, -iana, write for (to, at, &c.). Tafathali unandikie bara, please write a letter for me. Andikia miumwa, set a slave free. Andikiana, correspond (by letter). Cs. andikisha, -ishwa, -ishia, &c., e.g. cause to write, dictate a letter to, inspire writing, have set in order, have a meal laid. Nalimwandikishia chakula, I had a meal laid for him. Rp. andik-ana, -anya. Waliandikana wapagasi wote, they all entered as porters together (by common consent). Andikanya sahani, set plates in rows (piles, one on the other), make a row (pile) of plates. Cf. panganya. (Cf. andiko, mwandiko, mwandikia, mwandikaji, mwandishi, wandidi, &c. Cf. also andaa, and andik, andarwa, and awa, and wanda, and derivs. and syn. in some senses tandika and tengeneza.)

Andiko, n. (ma-), something written, a writing, letter, book. Sio andiko lake, it is not his writing (written by him). (Cf. andika, mwandiko.)

Anga, n. (1) light, brightness, lustre; (2) upper air, sky, bright expanse of the atmosphere; (3) fig. enlightenment, illumination, inspiration. Ndegé za a., birds of the air. A. la jua, sunshine. Mwesi waleta a., the moon brings light. (Chiefly of sun and moon. Otherwise mwanga and wanga, &c. Cf. wanga, wanga, &c.)

Anga, v. use sorcery, bewitch, perform incantations, &c. Watu wa Donge humwangia uchawi wao wakama, the people of Donge practised their enchantments upon him, and killed him. (Not often in Z., where nganga, uchawi, and loga are usual. Cf. mwanga, wanga.)

Angaa, v. See Ng'aa. (Cf. angalia.)

-angafu, a. (angafu with D 5 (S), D 6), (1) bright, shining, luminous, radiant, polished, emitting (transmitting, reflecting) light; (2) enlightened, intellectual, clever, quick-witted. Maji maangafu, gleaming (glassy, clear) water. (Cf. anga and derivs.)

Angaika, v. be in suspense (anxious, confused, distressed, excited, &c.). Cs. angaisha, -ishwa, make anxious, &c. (Cf. angana, and perh.
angaa, anga, and syn. fathaika, sumbuka, tahrakuli.)

Angalia, v. (1) have the eyes open (to), pay attention (to), observe, notice; (2) be careful, beware (of); take care. Angalia! (Imperat.), see! observe! take care! Haangallii, he does not attend (is careless, is unobservant). Ps. angaliwa. Nt. angaliza. Ap. anga-lilia, -liliwa, -lilia. Cs. (seldom) angaliza, -izwa. (Specialized from same root as anga, and its derivatives. Cf. -angalifu, uangalizi.)

-angalifu, a. careful, observant, attentive. (Cf. angalia, uangalifu.)

Angama, v. be in mid-air, be suspended, hang. A. mnazimi, be left hanging in a cocoanut tree. A. juu ya mti, be caught in the boughs of a tree, when falling. (A St. form, cf. Nt. angika, and Rv. angwa, and poss. anga. Also follg.)

Angamia, v. be ruined, be lost, be utterly undone, perish. Watu wengi wameangamia vitani, many perished in war. A. mwituni, be lost (perish) in the forest. Nt. (seldom) angamika, e.g. Mali yangu imeangamika, my property is ruined. Cs. angamiza, -izwa, ruin, spoil, destroy. (Apparently Ap. of angama, which see, with generalized meaning; cf. uangamizi.)

Angaza, v. (1) be light, give light, be bright, shine, e.g. macho ya kwanga, bright (sharp, observant) eyes. Mwanga wa taa unaangaza nyumba yote, the light of the lamp gives light to the whole house; (2) look intently (at), fix attention (on), sometimes with macho, e.g. angaza macho, keep the eyes open (lit. make the eyes bright). Angaza mali yako, keep a sharp eye on your property; (3) remain awake, keep watch at night. Nimeangaza usiku kucha nisule, I have kept awake the whole night without sleeping; (4) fig. open the eyes of, enlighten, instruct. Ps. angazwa. Ap. ang-azia, -aziwa;

-azika, e.g. kwani, kuniangazia macho? Why look so intently at me? Cs. ang-azisha, ishwa. Rp. angazana. (Cs. of (angaa) ng'aa, also Intens., cf. anga, angalia, ng'aa, mwanga, -angafu, &c. And cf. syn. common in L., (1) kasa macho, kodo, gaze, stare; (2) mulika, give light; (3) kesh, keep awake, and kaa macho.)

Angika, v. hang up, hang, suspend, esp. against a wall on a peg or hook or on a branch. Ps. angikwa. Ap. ang-ikia, -ikiwa, -ikika. Cs. ang-ikisha, -ikishwa. (Cf. angama, angwa, change, i.e. ki-ango, mwango, ?anga. Also syn. tungika, tundika, both Nt. forms with act. meaning, as anika, funika, &c.)

-angu, a. of pron. i Pers. S., my, mine, of me. (Cf. -ake for Pxf., and use of mimi, mwényewe for emphasis.)

Angua, v. (1) let fall, drop, take down, throw down, e.g. fruit from trees; (2) let out suddenly, utter, vent, e.g. a. embe (nazi, &c.), throw down mangoes (cocoanuts, &c.). Sultan ali aangua kilio, the Sultan gave vent to a cry. Also (3) hatch, e.g. a. mayai, hatch eggs, a. waana, hatch out young birds (not 'lay', which is zaa, taga). Ps. anguliwa. Nt. anguka, which see. Ap. angu-ria, -riwa, -rika. Cs. angu-sha, -sha, -shia, -shiwa, often intens., e.g. (1) make fall, throw down violently; (2) fig. bring to ruin, send as a blow (curse, disaster). Mwengu ame-mwangushia mabaya, God has sent down evil upon him. (Rv. of root found in angika, angama, which see, also anguka, and syn. shua, shusha. Dist. kwanga.)

Anguka, v. (1) fall, fall down, drop, have a downward movement (direction, tendency); (2) fig. meet with disaster, be ruined; (3) happen, befall, fall out. Ap. anguk-ia, -iwa, (1) fall down into (on, before, &c.); (2) come upon, fall in with. Waka-mwanga anguka migmu, and they fell down before his feet, they submitted to him. Kuangukiwa na msiba, to be the victim of a calamity. Akaangukia mji ngeni, and he lighted upon a strange city. Ukaanguka msiba mkuwa mno, and a very great mourning took place. (Nt. of angua, cf. anguko, also angika, angama, and notes.)

Anguko, n. (ma-), 1 a fall, drop (downward), a downward movement, &c.; 2 ruin, fall; 3 something fallen, a ruin. Maanguko ya maji (ya mto), waterfall (also maporomoko). (Cf. anguka, maangamizi, &c.)

Ania, v. intend, resolve, set the mind on, desire. No deriv. common. (Arab. Cf. syn. Kusudia, azimu, and B. taka. Nia seems a different word.)

Anika, v. set out to dry, expose to sun (or air), air, dry. A. nguo (mchele, &c.), dry clothes (rice, &c.). Ps. anikwa. Ap. anikiia, -iwia, dry for (at, with, &c.). Kamba ya kuanikia nguo, a clothes-line. Cs. anik-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. anna, and syn. kausha.)

*Anisi, v. please, give pleasure to, gratify the desires of. Wanaipiga ngoma kwa ajili kutumiani, they are drumming in order to please us. (Arab. Cf. anasa, and syn. rithisha. B. pendez.)

*Ankra, n. invoice, account, bill of sale, reckoning. (Hind. used in commerce. Cf. Arab. orotha.)

*Anna, n. one-sixteenth of a rupee, value 12 pies, or 4 pice, i.e. one penny. (Hind.)

Anua, v. take out of the sun (or air, or rain), put under cover (in shade, in the house). Ps. anuliwa. Nt. anuka, 1 be taken out of the sun, be dry, have done airing; 2 (of weather) be dry, have done raining, clear up. Kumeanuka, it has cleared up, it is fine again. Ap. anu-lia, -iwia, &c. Sina mtu wa kunianulia nguo, I have no one to go and bring in the clothes for me. (Rv. of same root as anika.)

*Anwani, n. heading, title, address (of a letter), direction, general description. Andika a. ya barma, write the address of a letter. Tu-naningia katika anwani ya vyakula, we are entering on the subject of dietetics. (Arab.)

Anza, v. begin, commence, start, be the beginning, be the first. Anza kazi, begin work. Kazi yaanza, work begins. Anza kusema, begin to speak. Kwanza, Infin., and ya kwanza, used as adv., first, firstly, in the first place, to begin with. -a kwanza, first (ordinal of mosi, one). Ps. anzwa. Nyumba imeanzwa ku-jenga, or imeanza kujenga, the house has begun to be built. Nt. anzika. Ap. anz-ia, -iwa. Also anz-ilia, -iliwa, -iliki, make a beginning of, make an attempt at. Cs. anz-isha, -ishwa, -ishia, &c., set on foot, institute, found, see put in hand, start. Also anz-ilisha, and -iliza, which can be used of special earnestness, effort, or occasion. (Cf. mwanzo, kwanza.)

*Anzwani, n. Johanna (island).

*Ao, conj. also au, or; oo—oo, either—or. (A. Cf. ama, and disjunct. wala.)

-ao, a. of pron. 3 Pers. P., their, theirs, of them. (Cf.-ake for prefixes, and use of wao, wenyewe, for emphasis.)

Apa, v. swear, take an oath, utter an oath. A. Korani, swear by the Coran. Sisadiki, apa yamini, I do not believe, swear by your right hand. Ps. apwa. Ap. apia, swear to (about, with, in, &c.). Akaniapia na kiape, and he swore to me with a formal oath. Cs. 1 apisha (also afya), -ishwa, cause to swear, put on oath, administer an oath to, adjure, conjure; 2 ap-iza, -izwa, usually Intens. with special sense, swear at, imprecate against, denounce, curse, adjure. Apihana, curse each other. Rp. apiana, take an oath together, join in swearing. (Cf. uapo, wapo, kiapo, api.)

Apí, or (attached to a word ending with -a) -pi, same as wapi, where? (which see).

Apiso, n. (ma-), curse, imprecation. (Cf. apa, and syn. laana.)

*Arabuni, n. (1) earnest-money, deposit, advance, payment to secure future service; (2) with -ni locative, in Arabia. (Ar. For *Arabuni, see Mwarabu.)

*Ári, n. scandal, shame, disgrace, dishonour. Nkiona ari, ulimwengu wanichukiza, if I feel dishonoured, everything is hateful to me. (Ar. Cf. aibu, fetha, haya.)

*Aria, n. part, section, party, following. (? Hind.)

*Arifu, v. inform, report, let know, give instructions about, esp. in writing, by letter, e.g. baada ya salaam, nakurifu haya, after good wishes, I proceed to inform you as follows. Ps. arifwa. Ap. arif-ia, -iwa, &c. — a. well-informed, ingenious, knowing. (Ar. Cf. marifa, taarifu, and syn. hubiri.)

*Ároba, n. and a., also Ar*ba, Arbaa, four. (Arab., used mainly in conjunction with some other Ar. numeral, as droba mia, 400, droba arshirini, 24; otherwise usually the B. syn. nne, -nne.)

*Árobaini, n. and a., forty. Used also in technical senses, irrespective of number, e.g. (1) of a chief's body-guard, 15 young men armed; (2) of a ceremonial interval, sometimes of a week, each of the four weeks after a birth. Alipotoka katika arobaini, when he was four weeks old. -a arobaini, fortieth. (Ar. See Ároba. B. makumi manne.)

*Árobashara, n. and a., fourteen. -a arobashara, fourteenth. (Ar. Cf. acharini, and droba. B. kumi na 'nne.)

*Arthi, n. (1) soil, ground, earth; (2) land, as contr. with sea; (3) land, region, country. (Arab. Cf. udongo, soil' as a substance, harra, as opp. to bahari, sea; ulaya and wilaya, of territorial divisions; inchí, the common B. syn.)

*Arusi, n. also Harusi, (1) the marriage ceremony, a wedding, nuptials; (2) the marriage feast; (3) bride, bridegroom. (A. ni mambo yatendo wayo, nume akipelekwa kwamke, Arusi is all that is done when a man is conducted to his wife. Yule ni arusi, lea atatinga nyumbani, yonder is the bridegroom, to-day he will enter the bride's house. Tu-memleta arusi kwa numwewe, we have brought the bride to her husband. (Ar.—the initial Aín being often heard as a faint h in Swah. Cf. níkaka, and syn. B. ndoa, maosi.)

*Asali, n. sweet syrup of several kinds, (1) a. ya nyuki, from bees, 'honey'; (2) a. ya mua, from sugar-cane, 'treacle, molasses'; (3) a. ya tembo, made by boiling palm-wine. (Ar.)

Asha, v. (1) for akisha, Cs. of aka, build, which see; (2) for achisha, Cs. of acha, which see. (Also in Ar. a woman's name. Dist. washa, Cs. of waka, burn.)

*Ashara, n. and a., ten. (Arab. for the common B. kumi, ten. Appears in edashara, thenashara, ushuru, &c. and follg.)

*Asharini, n. and a., and Ishirini, twenty. -a asharini, twentieth. (Ar. Cf. ashara, and B. makumi mawili.)

*Ashokali, a. better (after sickness), improved in condition, fit, in form. Fanya a., get better. Mimi leo a., I am better to-day, I am feeling well. (Ar. for common B. sijambo, kujambo, &c.)

*Asherati, n. also Hash., Uash., dissipation, profligacy, debauchery, fornication, adultery. — a. also -aash., dissipated, immoral. Mtu huyu asherati sana, this person leads a very immoral life. (Ar. Cf. ufsiki, ufsada, and B. usini.)
*Ashiki, v. have a passion for, be enamoured of, be in love with. (Arab. Cf. shauko.)
*Ashiria, v. Ap. make signs to (with, for, &c.), signal (to), indicate by signs (to). Ps. ashiriwa. (Ar. Cf. ishara, and B. syn. onya, onyesha.)
*Asi, v. rebel (against), disobey, mutiny, neglect duty (towards), quarrel (with). Asi Mwungu (msalme, mke), fail in duty towards God (king, wife). Ps. asiwa. Ap. asi-a, -wa, -ka, rebel against (at, on account of, &c.). Cs. asisha, -shwa, cause to rebel, abet in disobedience, &c. Asisha mume na mke, make a man quarrel with his wife. — a. (also -asi), rebellious, quarrelsome, undutiful. (Ar. Cf. uasi, maasi, kalifu.)
*Aisikari, n. (—wa, and ma-) and Askari, soldier, policeman, guard, armed attendant. Andika (iia, changa) asikari, enlist soldiers. Cheza a., be drilled. (Ar.)
*Aisili, n. (1) origin, source, root, stock; (2) inborn temperament, nature; (3) essence, fundamental principle, ground; (4) ancestry, family. Watu wa a., original inhabitants, aborigines. A. ya fullani mtumwa, such and such a man is by origin a (born) slave. A. yake, atoka waa? Where is his original home? A. ya mali, capital (of money). Huyu a. yake ni mjinga, this man is a born fool. Hana a. wala fasili, he has neither root nor branches, i.e. ancestry or connexions, standing or prospects. Hakufanya kwa a., he did not act rightly (according to principle, properly). — adv. originally, by nature, in old times. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. mwanzo, chanzo.)
Assubuhi, n. also Subuhi, Usu- buti, morning (in general), time of morning, earlier part of the day. As adv., 'in the morning,' and often emphasized by na mapema. Njo a ssuubuhi na mapema, come in the morning early. (Ar. with Article prefixed. Cf. sabalkheri, and ala- siri, alajiri, athuuri and B. kucha.)
*Asusa, n. something sweet or pleasant, used to correct an unpleasant taste or effect, e.g. something taken and chewed after a drinking bout, a corrective, comfort, relief. (Ar. Cf. faraja.)
*Ata, a verbal formative termination, seeming to convey an idea of close contact, holding firmly, clasping, compressing. Cf. ambata, kamata.
Atamia, v. sometimes tamia, otamia, sit on eggs, brood (of a hen). Cs. atamisha mayai, put eggs under a hen, get a hen to sit on eggs. (An Ap. verb-form, a variant of otama, sit on the heels, squat on the ground.)
*Atahabu, n. punishment, torture, chastisement, correction. Tia a. kati, punish severely. (Ar. Cf. athibu, and dist. adabu, good behaviour.)
*Atahma, n. (1) greatness, grandeur, glory, exaltation; (2) (also asama), nose-ring. (Arab. Cf. athimu, and B. utukufu, ukuk.)
*Atana, n. the cry of the muezzin, the Mahommedan call to prayers. (Arab. Cf. athiini, nwaithini.)
*Atihima, n. a charm, spell, incantation, e.g. against evil spirits, to bring back runaway slaves, &c. (Arab. Cf. follog. and talasimu, hiri, dawa.)
*Atihimu, v. honour, exalt, make much of, celebrate, glorify. Ps. ahi-tracks of men or animals. Ps. au-li-wa. Nt. auka. Shamba lote limeauka, the whole plantation has been inspected. Ap. au-ua,-iwa,-iuka, survey for (with, by, &c.). Vipande vya kuaulua, surveying instruments. Cs. au-sha, e.g. cause (employ, send) to survey, show about, show the sights of. (Cf. kagua, angalia, tazamia. Ava is sometimes used for Eva, which see.)

*Aagni, v. also Ayini, assist, help. — n. assistance, help. (Ar. Cf. more usual msaada, saidia.)

*Aoshi, n. endurance, permanence, durability, wear, quality of lasting. Kitu cha a., a tough lasting material or substance. Yuna a., he has lived long, he lasts well. (Ar. Cf. ishi, maisha, and syn. udumu.)

*Awasala, n. See Hawala. (Ar.)

*Awalli, n. beginning, start, first place. Also a. first, and adv. (1) firstly, at first; (2) just, nearly, almost. A. wa inchi, border, boundary of a country. Awalli ni awali, awali mbovu kapani, first is first, there is no bad first. Toka awali hatta aheri, from first to last, from start to finish. Awali Munugu, Here goes! Here's for luck!—a workman's rejoinder to the overseer's call Kasi! Work hard, or Jembel! Dig away. (Ar. for common B. mwa-nzo, kwanza.)

*Awasia, n. one kind of native sailing vessel,—having perpendicular stem, high rudder head, and sharp stern. (? Ar. or Hind. Cf. chombo, and note.)

*Aya, n. a short section or division of a book, esp. of the Coran. (Arab. Cf. jatu.)

*Ayari, n. (1) impostor, impudent cheat, knave, rogue (Ar.); (2) naut., shroud, rope supporting the mast of a ship. (? Ar. or Hind.)
Ayika, v. for yeyuka, which see. Aza, v. for waza, which see.

Azama, n. See Athama (2).

Azima, v. also Azima, and Azimu. resolve, purpose, propose, intend, decide on. Akazima: safari kwenda barra, and he determined on a journey up country. Ps. azimwa. Nt. azimika. Ap. azim-ia, -iwa, -ika, decide about (for, against, &c.). Cs. azim-isha, -ishwa. Also Intens. — n. resolve, purpose, plan, design, proposal. (Ar., and for n. cf. mradi, and shauri. Dist. azima for athima, and azima, as foll.)

Aziri, v. slander, bring into disrepute, disparage. (Arab. for common B. singizia, chongea, and izara.)

Azizi, n. a rarity, wonder, curiosity, treasure. Azizi ni kitu kisichoena watu, azizi means something uncommon, not widely known. Also a., precious, rare, valuable. Pame-ingia mjini kitu azizi, a great curiosity has arrived in the town. (Arab. Cf. tunu, ajabu.)

Azur, n. perjury. See Zuri. (Arab.)

B.

B represents the same sound as in English.

B in some words is not distinguished from P in common talk, e.g. bopu and pofu, babua and pajua, bogoa and pogoa, boromoka and poromoka.

Words not found under B may therefore be looked for under P, and vice versa.

B in some words appears as v in kindred words (cf. interchange of p and f), e.g. gomba and ugomvi, iba and uivi, ombe and maomvi or maombi, jambia and jamvia, kumbi and kumvi.

B as initial sound of a root, when preceded by an n prefix, causes a euphonic change of n into m, e.g. nbavu, plur. mbavu for nbavu, and mbela for nebela from ubele. Also when an n prefix precedes initial w of a root, mb takes the place of nw, e.g. uwingu, plur. mwingu for mwingu. (n, b and w appear to be alternative sounds in some words. Cf. uwinda and ubinda.)

Baa, n. (1) evil, trouble, disaster, plague, nuisance; (2) a reprobate, villain, bore. Baa pia hutokana na vijana na watumwa, all troubles proceed from children and slaves. Baa la kujitakia, a self-caused evil. (Ar. Cf. shari, msibwa, ukorofa.)

Baada, adv. or Bada, Badu, after, afterwards,—of time, and only of space 'behind,' so far as it is sometimes involved in the idea of succession, following after, coming next to or behind. Contr. nyuma. Seldom used alone, but commonly (1) with ya, forming a preposition, after, in succession to, next to. Baada ya salaam nakuarifu, after good wishes, I beg to inform you,—a phrase introducing the substance of a letter after the formal complimentary opening; (2) with yake, often in combination, baadaye, and general reference, 'after it, thereafter, afterwards, then, next.' (Ar. Cf. bado, wabadahi.)

Baamwezi. See Mbalamwezi.

Baathi, a. some, a portion of, generally with ya, e.g. baathi ya watu, some of the people,—like watu wangine, nuss ya watu. (Ar.)

Bab, n. kind, sort, class,—used sometimes in commerce of goods, e.g. bab ulaya, European goods, i.e. for or from Europe. Panga bab-bab (or babu-babu), arrange in classes, according to kind. (Arab. Cf. aina, namna, ginsi.)
*Baba, n. (1) father; (2) uncle on father's side; (3) ancestor; (4) patron, protector, guardian. Baba haswa is used to denote and emphasize actual paternity. Huyu ni baba yanga haswa, this is my real father. Paternal uncles are distinguished as mkubwa, if older, and mdogo, if younger, than the father. Nina baba wakubwa wawili na mmoja mdogo, I have two uncles older than my father and one younger. Baba wa kambo, step-father. Baba is treated grammatically as D₁, in respect of the agreement of verbs and of all adjectives except the Pro- nominal. These latter are used in the forms agreeing with D₆, commonly in the sing.; almost always in the plur. for the sake of distinctness, and these forms often coalesce with baba. Baba mvewa, a kind father. Baba khataki kwenda, my father refuses to go. Baba wake (or babake), baba yake (or babaye), his father. But baba zo (or babazo), rather than the ambiguous baba wao, their fathers. Baba ya watoto, a kind of owl. (Cf. babu, and syn. amu, and dist. mjomba.)

Babaika, v. stutter, stammer, hesitate in speaking, talk as in sleep. (Cf. gugumiza, payuka.)

Babata, v. tap, strike lightly,—as a blacksmith on thin metal.

Babu, n. (1) grandfather; (2) ancestor, ancient. (For grammatical treatment cf. baba. Also cf. bibi, grandmother, and msee, ancestor.)

*Badala, n. and Badili, (1) thing given in exchange, or for barter, a substitute, an equivalent, a swop; (2) a person filling the place or office of another, substitute, representative, successor. Badala ya, in place of, instead of. (Cf. badili, and mahali pa, in place of.)

*Badani, n. the front or back piece together forming the body of a native dress, kanzu,—also called kimo. (? Ar. or Hind. Cf. kanzu.)

*Badili, v. change, become changed, exchange (whether by giving or taking), interchange, alternate, act reciprocally, exhibit successive changes. Esp. of exchange of goods, i.e. barter. Used both act. and neut. B. mali, barter goods. B. fetha, change money, whether for other coin or its equivalent. B. zamu, relieve guard, take an appointed turn or spell of work, &c. B. nguo, change clothes, put on another suit. Ps. badilitwa. Nt. badiliika, change, be changed, be capable of change, be fit for exchange, be liable to change, &c. Ap. badili-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. badilisha, -ishwa, -ishana, e.g. badiliishana, of several persons, cause each other to exchange, agree upon terms of barter, wrangle over a sale. Rp. badiliana, e.g. of several persons engaged in a matter of exchange or barter. Sometimes Redupl. badili-badili, of frequent, rapid, or vexatious change. (Ar. As contr. with B. genka, genza, &c., both imply change, alteration, and so far can often be used convertibly, but change in badili properly implies only another thing or state, in genka, another and a different thing or state, i.e. a change of quality, condition or form,—alteration as well as substitution, succession, &c. Thus badili nguo would properly mean, put on another suit of clothes, genza nguo, put on a suit of a different kind (in a different condition). Badili mali, exchange goods, genza mali, make goods better or worse.) —n. (ma-), change, exchange, alternation, successive change, repetition.Usu. in plur. (Ar. Cf. badala, -badilifu, B. genka, -genzi, &c.)

*badilifu, a. (1) changing, changeable, liable to change; (2) of character, whimsical, shifty, untrustworthy. (Ar. See Badili, v.)

*Bado, adv. (1) of time, succession, subsequence, 'yet, as yet, (not) yet'; (2) of accession, addition, 'still, still more, further, moreover, as well, to boot.' Very common after a negat. verb, and esp. in the deferred tense, e.g. amekuña? Has he come? Ans. Hajaja b., he has not yet come, or merely bado, i.e. (not) yet. Yuko? Is he there? Ans. Yuko b., He is still there, or hayuko b., he is not there as yet. Often too with an infin. loosely, with negative force, b. kuñjua, there is no knowing as yet. Vīta b. kwisha, the war is not yet over. Bwana b. kuam'ka, my master is not yet awake. B. analala, he is still asleep. B. -ngine, still (yet) another. B. kidogo, yet (still) a little, i.e. soon, presently, wait a bit. Utapata b., you will get it presently. Mtu jamaa yao na b. mtu wa serkali, a kinsman of theirs and moreover a government official. (Ar. Cf. baada. Bado implies succession, futurity, and so, expectation, and by implication, negation, i.e. the not-present.)

Bafe, n. a venomous kind of snake. (Cf. nyoka.)

*Bafuta, n. also Báfuta, a thin kind of bleached calico, used esp. for lining a kansu (which see). Different qualities are distinguished as B. ingereza (fine), B. fransa (thicker), B. dondo (dressed), B. maraduja (heavy), &c. (Hind. See Nguo.)

*Bagala, n. also Bágala, a kind of native sailing vessel, — large, square stern, high poop, and long prow, used esp. in trade with India. Sometimes double - masted. See Chombo. (? Hind.)

*Bághala, n. also Baghla, a mule. (Ar. Cf. B. nyumbu, used as syn. in Z.)

Bagua, v. separate, put apart, divide off. B. yaliyo yako, pick out what is yours. Nt. baguka, be separated, be at variance, quarrel. Bagukana, be in hostile parties, quarrel together. (Cf. the common tenga.)

*Bahari, n. (1) sea; (2) fig. of what is of vast extent. B. kuu, the high seas, ocean. B. ya Sham, Red Sea. B. il ali, Persian Gulf. B. Rum, Mediterranean, i.e. Sea of Constantinople. Watu wanaozama katika bahari ya maneno, people who plunge into the ocean of words, i.e. embark on etymological studies. (Ar. Cf. baharia. Also opp. barra, B. inchi kavu.)

*Baharia, n. (—, and ma-), sailor, one of ship's company. (Ar. Cf. bahari, and B. mwana maji.)

*Bahasha, n. (—, and ma-), case, satchel, bag, packet, paper box (or, cover). Bahasha ya nguo, a bundle of clothes. Sometimes used to describe an 'envelope.' (? Hind.)

*Bahati, n. (1) fortune, chance, luck; (2) esp. good fortune, good luck. Kwa b., by chance, by good luck. B. njema (mbaya), good (bad) fortune. Ndío b. yake, that is his good luck. Tumía b., do a thing at random, take the chance, risk everything, make a plunge, speculate, trust to luck. (Ar. See follg. Cf. syn. nasibu.)

*Bahatisha, v. guess, make a venture, speculate, trust to luck. Ps. bahatishwa. (Ar. Cf. bahati, and syn. kisi.)

*Bahili, n. and a., also Bakhili, and -bahili, a miser, miserly, covetous, grasping, parsimonious, i.e. mwényi kueweka mali, one who hoards his money. Mali ya bahili huipwa na dudu, a miser's wealth gets worm-eaten. (Ar. Cf. ubahili, -kabithi, and for the idea, roho, choyo, tamaa.)

*Baina, n. clearness, clear knowledge, certainty. Hapana b., there is no certainty (clear evidence). (Ar. Cf. baini, follg. and utahirih, ha-kika.)

*Baini, v. and Bayini, (1) see clearly, know, distinguish, recognize; (2) make clear, prove, show; (3) be clear, be manifest, be plainly shown,— this sense more usual with the Nt. bainika. Ps. bainiwa. Mwiri amebainiwa, the thief has been detected. Nt. bainika, be shown, be made clear. Ap. bain-ia, -iwa, -ika, -ikia, -ikiana. Cs. bain-isha, -ishwa, &c., intens. make very plain, clearly distinguish, demonstrate. — a. and -bainifu, clear, plain, demonstrable, evident, well-known, notorious. — n. also Baina, which see. — adv. See Beina. (Ar. Cf. bayini, ubaini, bayana, mbayana, ubayana, and syn. thiiri, wazi.)

*Bajia, n. a small cake of ground beans and pepper (Str.). (? Hind.)

Bajuni, n. (ma-), native from coast north of Mombasa. See Mgunya.

*Baki, v. remain over, be left, stay behind. Ap. baki-a, -iwa, remain over to (for, in, &c.). Walibakiwa mali, they had property remaining over to them. Cs. baki-sha, -shwa, -sha, or bakiza, leave behind, cause to remain. Rp. bakiana, of several persons or things, remain behind all together (by consent). — n. (—, and ma-), also bakia (ma-) and -o), (1) that which remains over, remainder, residue; (2) in Arithm., subtraction. Baki ya vitwana, the remainder of the men-servants. (Ar. Cf. B. syn. saa (ma-), salio, &c.)

Bakora, n. a walking-stick,—usually of a white wood (the best being mtabwe, which see) with top bent at an angle, and rather larger at the lower end. Alipigwa b. kumi, he got ten strokes with a stick. (Various kinds of sticks are simbo, sifo, (ki-) gongo, (ki)barango, rungu, mkongojo, mkito, mpweke, kipigi, mtabwe.)

*Bakshishi, n. gratuity, gift, present, beggar's dole, fee. (A great variety of words and expressions denoting 'gift' from different points of view will be found in this Dictionary. Some are of a general kind, e.g. adha, atia, karama, bakshishi, majazi, thawa, sawadi, kipaji, kipawa, hadaya, tuso (tusa, tunzo), others of special character, for various occasions of charity, congratulation, affection, bribery, &c., e.g. hiba, kumbu-kumbu, kisalama, kipukusa, sadaka, hongo, mlungula, rushwa, kijiri, mpenyeso, or taken from a common form of present, e.g. ujito, kilemba, pesa, or from the service rewarded, uongozi, uchukuzi, makombozi, makozi (and many words of similar formation), or from the immediate effect in view, e.g. kipa mkono, kinyosha mgongo, kifungu mlango, and many others.)

*Bakuli, n. (—, and ma-), a large, deep basin, dish, or pan of earthenware. Dim. kibakuli. (Ar.)

*Balaa, n. sorrow. (Arab. for common huzuni, &c.)

Balamwezi, n. also Baamwezi, moonshine. See Mbalamwezi.

Balanga, n. a disease producing light-coloured patches on a dark skin, a form of leprosy.

*Balari, n. a kind of chisel. (? Hind.)

*Balasi, n. (ma-), a very large kind of jar (of stone or earthenware, with narrow mouth), used esp. for storing water. Said to come from the Persian Gulf. (? Pers. Cf. kasiki, which is smaller. Balasi also means 'leprosy' in Arab., and is used so in Z. Cf. unkoma.)

*Balehi, v. grow up, come to (sexual) maturity, become marriageable. Amebalahi sasa, apewe mke, he is now grown up, he should be given a wife. — n. also Mbalohe (wa-), boy or girl growing up, entering on manhood or womanhood, developed, marriageable. (Ar. Cf. syn. komaa, pevuka and ubalehe, -pevu, -zima.)

*Bali, conj. but, nay, rather, on the contrary. (Arab. Cf. more common lakini.)

*Balozi, n. (ma-), also Barozi, which see, and Balyozi, consul, political agent. (? Turkish. Cf. ubarozi.)
*Balungi, n. (ma-), citron—the fruit of mbalungi. (Hind.)

Bamba, n. (ma-), a flat thin piece (esp. of metal), a sheet, plate, or strip of metal. *Mabamba ya chuma, hoop-iron. Also of card-board, mill-board. Dim. *kibamba. (Cf. mbamba, -embamba, and follg.)

Bambo, n. (1) an iron instrument grooved and pointed, used for drawing a sample from a sack of grain; (2) (ma-), long cord-like strip of plaited grass, used for making coarse mats and baskets, and for cording a native bedstead. (Cf. shupatu, also *ubambo, mbamba, bamba.)

*Bamia, n. same as Binda, n. (which see).

Bamvua, n. (ma-), spring tide. (Cf. syn. maji makwi.)

Bana, v. hold as in a vice, press, squeeze, pinch. Also in neut. sense, stick fast, jam. Ps. *baniwa. Nt. *banika, be fixed, e.g. between two sticks, for roasting by a fire. Also used act., set to roast at fire. Ap. *ban-ia, -iwa, -ika, press to (with, in, &c.). *Jibania ngu, gird oneself tightly, fasten one’s clothes tight, as for work, a journey, &c. Cs. *baniza, ban-za. *Jibanzatukutani, squeeze oneself up against a wall, to allow something to pass. Rp. *banana. (Cf. *banna, bano, mbano, banzi, kibanzi, and syn. kaza, songe, &c.)

*Banada, n. also Banaderi, the ports on the Somali coast north of Zanzibar, esp. Barawa, Marka, Mag-desh, Warsheikh, &c., now in the Italian Protectorate (1902). (Ar. Cf. bandari.)

*Banagiri, n. (—, and ma-), also Banajili, armlet, bracelet, in Z. usually of silver—a broad band ornamented with blunt projecting points. (Hind. Cf. kikuku, and for such ornaments generally, urembo.)

*Bandari, n. harbour, anchorage, roadstead, port. *B. ni mahali pa *pwani watu washukapo, a bandari is a place on the shore where people disembark. (Ar. Cf. banada.)

*Bandara, n. See Bendera.

Bandi, n. (ma-), stitching, a row of stitches, a stitch, esp. of the coarser kinds of sewing. *Fanya (piga, shona) bandi, baste, tack, run (in sewing). (Cf. *ponta, *shuku, and see Shona.)

Bandia, n. puppet, toy-figure, doll. *Mtoto wa bandia, a doll, often made of plaited grass, stuffed with rice.

Bandika, v. put on, stick on, fasten on, apply, attach, esp. of causing something to adhere to a surface, also ‘add, place in addition to.’ Sometimes fig. and neut., e.g. *Amewabandika, he has attached himself to them, he sticks to them, of an unpleasant companion. *B. dawwa, apply a plaster (in medicine). Ps. bandikwa. Ap. *bandik-ia, -iwa. Cs. bandik-isha, -ishwa, -iza, -izwa. *Bandikisha vyombo, put on an extra load, add to a load. (Cf. bandika, and follg., and n. pandika, pandikiza.)

Bandua, v. take off, detach, remove, strip off, peel off, relieve of. Nt. banduka. *Hawambanduki Mzungu, they never leave (part company with) the European. *Unisugue hatta nibanduke maganda, rub me, till my shell comes off—of a tortoise. (In form and sense a Rv. form of Bandika, but no deriv. or cogn. forms common. Cf. mbanduko.)

*Banduru, n. bilge, place in ship’s hold from which water is baled out, ship’s well.

*Bangi, n. bhang, leaf of mbangi or Indian hemp, often chewed and smoked, and used in various sweet preparations. A strong intoxicant. (Hind. Cf. mbangi, *paru, *boza, majuni, afyuni.)

*Baniani, n. (ma-), a Banyan. See Banyani.

*Baniya, n. the Caaba at Mecca. (Arab. a building.)
Banja, v. crack, break, e. g. a nut.
Bano, n. (ma-), a carpenter’s tool for holding work in position, cramp, holdfast. (Cf. bana, mbana.)
Banua, v. loosen, unfasten, slacken pressure, e. g. open the jaws of a vice.
Nt. banuka. Ban-ulia, -uliwa. (Rv. of bana.)
*Banyani, n. (ma-), Banyan, heathen Indian, usually trader from Cutch.
Banzi, n. (—, and ma-), thin strip of wood, or split stick, used for holding fish, meat, &c., to toast by a fire. (Cf. bana, and dim. ki-banzi.)
Bao, n. (ma-). See Bau.
Bapa, n. also Ubapa, used of a broad flat, or slightly rounded, surface, e. g. b. la upanga, the flat blade of a sword, the flat side as opp. to the sharp edge (makali). B. la uso, broad forehead or broad cheek (face). B. la kisu, knife blade. (Cf. kengee.)
*Bara, n. See Barra.
*Bara-bar, a. also Baraba, just as it should be, quite right, exact, proper, without a flaw. Ndipo mambo yawe baraba, so all may be well. Fetha hii ni baraba, this is the exact sum. Athwuri baraba, just noon. (Hind.)
*Barafu, n. ice. Tukakuta barafu juu ya mezala imeganda, and we found ice formed on the table. (Ar.)
Baragumu, n. (—, and ma-), ‘horn,’ used as a musical instrument, ‘trumpet, war-horn,’ blown through a hole near the small end. (Cf. panda, pembe, siwa, for similar instruments.)
*Baraji, n. rope attached to the after end of the yard-arm in a native vessel, halyard. (Cf. hamarawi, and foromali.)
*Baraka, n. (—, and ma-), also Mbaraka (mi-), (1) a blessing, generally; (2) (special forms of blessing, such as) prosperity, progress, advantage, plenty of food, abundant harvest, &c.; (3) a favour, gift.

Tuna b. leo, we are getting on well to-day. (Ar. Cf. bariki, mbaraka.)
*Barakoa, n. a mask, covering the face down to the mouth, all but the eyes, worn in public by Arab and Mahommedan women generally of the upper class. (Ar.)
*Barathuli, n. See Barazuli.
*Barawai, n. a swallow.
*Baraza, n. (1) place of public audience or reception. In Z. a stone seat in the entrance hall, or against the wall outside a house, or a raised platform with stone seats and sometimes roofed over in front of the house, for receiving strangers, holding audiences, and transacting business. Hence also (2) a meeting, reception, public audience, council; (3) members of a council, cabinet, committee. (Ar. Cf. barizi.)
*Barazuli, n. a dull-witted heavy man, simpleton, dupe,—one who is made a butt of by his companions. (Ar. Cf. mjinga, mzuzu.)
*Baridi, n. (1) cold, coldness, chill, dampness; (2) wind, air, draft; (3) coolness, refreshment, relief (from heat and exhaustion), comfort; (4) fig. coldness of manner, dullness, lack of interest, repelling aspect or tone. (Thus baridi may imply both pleasant and unpleasant sensations, but the verb burudisha, &c., is always used of what has a pleasant effect.) B. nyungi, high winds, or great cold. Maji ya b., (1) cold water, opp. to maji ya moto, hot water; or (2) fresh water, as opp. to maji ya chumvi (ya bahari), salt (sea) water. (Cf. maji ya mwua, maji matamu, &c.) B. yabis, rheumatism. Maneno ya b., platitudes, or chilling remarks. (Ar. Cf. burudisha, buruda, ubaridi.)
*Bariki, v. (1) bless, consecrate; (2) grant wealth (favour, prosperity, &c.) to; (3) knock down to (a bidder), accept the bid of at an auction. Ps. barikiwa. Ap. barik-ia, -iwa, give a blessing to (for, with, &c.). Cs. barik-isha, Intens. load with favours. (Ar. Cf. baraka, mbaraka, taburuku, and the common name Mabruki.)

*Barizi, v. (1) hold a reception, give an audience, summon a council, receive guests, sit in state; (2) attend an audience, go to a council (meeting, reception, &c.); (3) sit out of doors, sit together in a garden, &c. See Baraza. Sultan anabarizi lea, the Sultan is holding a court to-day. Twabarizi kwa Msungu, we attend meetings at a European's house. (Ar. Cf. barasa.)

*Barra, n. or Bara, (1) 'land' in general, as opp. to sea, b. na bahari, land and sea; (2) land as most known to Swahili, i.e. wild, uncultivated country, b. tupu, b. nyewepe, bare, unoccupied land; (3) the region of the coast, b. ya Waswahili, the Swahili coastland; and also (4) the hinterland as contr. with coast, tangu twani hatta b., from the coast to the interior. B. il asili, mainland, continent. B. al Hindi, India. Barabara is used descriptively of a bare open locality, of a broad road or clearing. Barabarani, out in the open, on the high road. (Ar. Cf. Zanzibar, i.e. Zanzi-bara, negro coast.)

*Barua, n. written form, note, bill, ticket, letter, esp. of formal official communications, but also generally of ordinary correspondence, like waraka. (Ar. Cf. waraka, cheti, hati, and kibarua.)

*Baruti, n. gunpowder. (Ar. barud.)

*Basbasi, n. mace, the inner husk of nutmeg (*kungu manga). (Ar. for fennel?)

*Bassi, Bass, (1) conj. very commonly used as a connective in narratives, often heading each succeeding paragraph in a story, 'Well, and so, accordingly, and then'; (2) interj. generally expressing contentment or resignation, 'It is enough, very well, that will do'; but also often an order or decision, 'Stop that! That's all! Have done with it.' (Hind. Bassi is one of the commonest and most characteristic interjections in Swahili, and capable of conveying very different shades of meaning according to the tone of voice and expression, from the highest gratification to the extreme of mortification and disgust. In fact, a whole series of distinct ideas may be conveyed by the same word, e.g. at the close of a bargain a dialogue may be heard carried on with it alone. Bassi? (interrogatively and doubtfully), Is that really all that you can give me, your lowest terms? Bassi (with decision), Those are my final terms. Bassi (with reluctant resignation), Well, I suppose I must accept it. Bassi (with an air of satisfaction), Very well; that settles the matter. Bassi (final consent), Be it so! Done! Agreed!

*Bastola, n. pistol (? same word, through Arab.).

*Bata, n. (ma-), a duck. B. la Bukini, a goose, lit. Madagascar duck. B. la mzinga, a turkey, perh. from its note. Kwenda batabata, walk like a duck, waddle. (Ar.)

*Batela, n. also Betela, a kind of sailing vessel common at Z., smaller than dagala, cut-water slightly curved like a boat, square stern and usually a small quarterdeck. See Chombo. (Ar.)

*-bathiri, -bathirifu, a. extravagant, prodigal. (Ar. Cf. ubathirifu, and batili, ubatili.)

*Bati, n. (1) tin, block tin, sheet tin. Also used of (2) corrugated iron sheeting (ma-). Tia bati, tin, v., i.e. cover a copper vessel with tin.

-batili, a. and -batilifu, worthless, invalid, of no use (force, or effect). Hoja batili, a futile argument. Nikaha tie batili, that marriage is null and void. (Ar. Cf. ubatili, and B. syn. tanguka, v.)

*Batli, n. log, in naut. sense, i.e. a ship's record or journal. (? Hind.)

Batobato, n. (1) open place where dancing takes place, dancing-yard (more commonly kiwanja cha ngoma in Z.); (2) markings, coloured spots or stripes, of animal or insect. Also adv. (as if tatabata) of waddling, flat-footed gait. Yule ana batobato, he walks flat-footed. Also kibatobato, with various spots (markings). (Cf. kipaku, and madoadoa.)

Bau, n. (—, and ma-); also Bao, a board, and as contr. with ubau (mbau), a large board; usually of a board of special kind or for special purpose, e.g. a bench or table; and also (1) a playing-board, for chess, cards, but most commonly (2) for a favourite game called Bao simply, or Bao la mitaj, like a chess-board with 64 (sometimes 32) holes for squares, and seeds or pebbles for counters. Cheza bao, play the Bao game. Hence bao is also used of (3) a game, generally, or victory in a game. Twaliwafunga (or twaliwatia) mbau sita, we won six games. Tia bau, mark a game, win; (4) a diviner's board, esp. bau la mishanga, a board covered with sand, called also ramli (Ar. for sand) and (locally) kibunzi. Figa bau, use a divining board, take the omens. (Cf. ubau.)

*Baura, n. anchor of European pattern and make, with two flukes (makombe). Also called nga ya baura. (Cf. syn. nanga.)

Bavuni, adv. loc., alongside, at the side. See Ubavu.

Bawa, n. (ma-), wing of bird or insect. Dim. kibawa. (Cf. ubawa, wing-feather.)

*Bawaba, n. (—, and ma-), hinge. (Hind. Cf. patta.)

*Bawabu, n. (ma-), door-keeper, house-porter, chamberlain, turnkey. B. wa kifungo, gaoler. (Ar. Cf. mungoje milango.)

*Bawasiri, n. piles, haemorrhoids. (Ar.)

-baya, a. (mbaya, with D 4 (P), D 6, baya with D 5 (S)), bad, in the widest sense, i.e. possessing the quality of not approving itself or being acceptable, whether materially, morally, intellectually, or aesthetically, i.e. a quality which is offensive (in whatever degree or way) to feelings, conscience, reason, or taste. It may therefore be rendered in a great number of ways in English, e.g. painful, unpleasant, inconvenient, defective, ugly, erroneous, wrong, wicked. (Cf. ubaya, -ovu, -buvu, and the opp. -ema, -zuri, -zima.) These and other words in Swahili express qualities, the degrees and kinds of which are not differentiated or clearly recognized. It is impossible, therefore, to enumerate the rich variety of English words, which find their readiest and sometimes their only mode of rendering in them.

*Bayana, a. and Boyana. See Baini. (Ar.)

*Bayini, v. and a. See Baini. (Ar.)

*Bazazi, n. (ma-) and Mbazazi (soa-), trader, tradesman, shopkeeper. (Ar. Cf. ubazasi, tajiri, mchuruzi.)

Beba, v. carry on the back,—as native women do their children in a cloth. Ps. bebwa. Ap. beb-aa, -ewa, carry for (in, to, &c.). Cs. beb-esha, -eshwa, place (a child) on the back (of the mother). Aisiye na mto na abebe jirwe, if any one has no child, let her even bring a stone on her back.
Bebera, n. (ma-), also Beberu, (1) he-goat; (2) a strong man. (Cf. mbozi. Beberu, or beru, also means an extemporized sail, made of loin-cloth, handkerchiefs, &c.)

*Bedari, n. See Abedari.
*Bedawi, n. (ma-), a Bedouin, wanderer, outcast. Mfano wao kama Mahedawi, they looked like Bedouins. (Ar.)

*Bedeni, n. a kind of sailing vessel from Arabia—cut-water and mast perpendicular, sharp stern, and high rudder-head. See Chombo. (? Ar.)

*Bee, int. also Ebbe, for Lebeka, which see. — n. See Bei.

*Beek, int. for Lebeka, which see.

Bega, n. (ma-), shoulder—of man or animal. Chukua mzigo begani (kwa bega, juu ya bega), carry a load on the shoulder.

*Behewa, n. inner court—surrounded by buildings and open to the air, as in all large stone houses in Z. (Ar.)

*Bei, n. also Bee, trade, commerce, bargain, sale, business transaction. Piga (pigana) bei, drive a bargain. Bei hiyari, mortgage with option of realizing by sale. Bei rehani, mortgage with right to amount of debt only. (Ar. Cf. biashara, ubazasi.)

*Beina, adv. also Baina, in the midst, between. Beina ya, amongst, between. (Ar. For more usual kati.)

*Belghamu, n. phlegm. (Arab. for B. kohosi, or kipande cha kohosi, i. e. expectorated matter.)

Bembe, n. pastry, confectionery, sweetmeats, esp. of a lover's presents, dainty dishes sent during Ramathan, &c. (Cf. bemb.)

-bembe, a. enticing, coaxing, wheedling, coquettish. (Cf. bemb, bembe, ubembe.)

*Bendera, n. and Bandera, (1) flag; (2) (the Arabian flag being red), red cotton cloth, Turkey red calico. B. maradifu, red cotton drill or twill. Tweka b., hoist a flag. Shusha (tua) b., lower a flag. Bendera hifuata pepo, the flag goes with the wind. (Ar.)

Benua, v. cause to project, stick out, bulge, protrude, put forward, expose to view. Ps. benuliwa. Nt. benuka, bulge, stick out, be convex. (Cf. mbinu, and syn. toa nje, tokeza.)

*Bereu, n. a sticky black stuff, black paint. (? Hind.)

*Betli, n. (—, and ma-), (1) small pouch, pocket bag, case. B. ya kiasi, cartridge pouch. Mabeti kiinoni, cartridge belt round the waist (possibly from Eng. 'belt'); (2) verse or couplet of a poem. Uimbo huu una beti tatu, this song has three verses. (Ar.)

*Betilli, n. and Batili, a kind of sailing vessel from the Persian gulf—long projecting prow, sharp stern, high rudder-head. (See Chombo, and dist. batela.)

*Bi, prep. by, with, in, &c. (Arab., used in a few phrases, e.g. bi nafsi yake, by himself, and appears. in a few words such as bilashi, bismilla.)

Bia, n. used, with various verbs, of joint action, co-operation, partnership, association, in business or pleasure. Fanya bia, do in common, act as a company, go shares in. Changa b., make a joint contribution. Gawa b., divide into shares. Safari b., travel together, each paying his own expenses. Kula b., dine together at the expense of all. Nunua b., purchase jointly. (Cf. shariki, and contr. kikoa.)

Bia, n. (ma), a large cooking pot. (Cf. kibia.)

Bibi, n. (— and ma), term of respectful reference and address to women (1) in general, 'lady, my lady, Madam, Miss'; (2) used of the 'Mistress' of a household, by or in reference to its members, slaves and others, 'the mistress, my mistress'; (3) also grandmother, and (4) used of the 'wife,' by or in reference to the husband, more courteous than mke, mke wangu. When there are several ladies in a household, they are distinguished as bibi mkubwa, the mistress, and bibi mdogo of other ladies. Sometimes the phrase kina bibi, the lady folk, the ladies, is used with courteous vagueness of one or more ladies. (Hind. Cf. Arab. sitti, rarely heard.)

Bibo, n. (ma), cashew apple, fruit of the mbibo. (Cf. mbibo, korosho, cashew nut.)

Bichi, a. (mbichi with D 6, D 4 (P)), (1) not full-grown, unripe, immature; (2) raw, fresh, newly gathered, e.g. of eggs, grass, meat, vegetables, &c. Chokaa mbichi, unslaked lime, fresh plaster. Nyama mbichi, raw flesh, underdone meat.

Majani mbichi, fresh, green grass. (Contr. -bivu, and cf. ubichi.)

Bidi, v. put pressure on, make obligatory on, compel, oblige, esp. of moral pressure, duty, honour, privilege. Akanibidi kuleta wasahadi, and he bound me to produce witnesses. Frequent as an impersonal verb. Ikabidi, it was necessary, there was an obligation. Ikambidi kuka twa mbita, he was compelled (sentenced) to have his hands cut off. Imenibidi, I feel bound to. Ps. biodia, be under obligation to. Ap. bidia, -iwa. Cs. bidisha, and Intens. jibidisha, take special pains. (Ar. Cf. folla. and pasa, lazima, shurutisha.)

Bidi, n. effort, energy, exertion, exercise (of strength or will), moral force, willingness to work. Fanya b., work hard, take pains, show energy (interest, earnestness). Mtu twa b., a man of energy, willing worker. (Ar. Cf. bidi, and B. syn. utendaji.)

Bikari, n. pair of compasses, compass for drawing. (Arab.)

Bikira, n. (ma), a virgin. (Ar. Cf. B. nvunamwali, and folla.)

Bikiri, v. deprive of virginity, deflower. Ps. bikiriwa. (Ar. Cf. bikira, ubikira.)

Bila, prep. and Billa, without, except by, apart from,—with a noun, or Inf. or ya. Siwezi kuka billa mke, I cannot remain without a wife. Billa yeye kutoa sikira, without his disclosing his idea. Billa uthuru, without excuse. Also with ya, b. ya amri, except by order. B. ya kujua maana, without knowing the meaning. (Ar. Cf. B. syn. fa-sipo.)

Bilashii, adv. without (getting) anything, for nothing, in vain, gratis, gratuitously. Utarnui bilashii, it will be no use your returning. (Ar. bila shai, for the commoner burre.)

Bilauri, n. (1) crystal, glass; (2) any small drinking vessel of glass, a

*Bildi, n. plummet, sounding-lead, i.e. *isasi ya kupinia maji, lead for measuring (the depth of) water. Tia b., plumb, sound. (Ar. Cf. *chubwi, timazi.)

*Bilingani, n. (ma-), and Bilin-ganya (ma-), a dark purple vegetable of the tomato kind, fruit of the *Mbililingani (which see), sometimes called 'mad apple.'

*Bilisi, n. (ma-), devil, the devil, Satan. (Arab. for common *shetani. Cf. *ubilisi.)

*Bilula, n. a tap, turncock.

*Bima, n. insurance against loss, accidents, &c. *Lipa b., *toa b., pay (effect) insurance of goods in commerce. *Fanya masharti ya b., draw up a deed of insurance. Also as v., insure, effect insurance on. (Hind.)

*Bin, n. son (of). (Arab. for common B. *mwana.)

*Binadamu, n. member of human race, human being, man. Hence *kibinadamu, of a human kind, human, natural to man, and *ubinadamu, human nature, humanity. (Ar. bin Adamu. Cf. B. *mtu.)

Binda, n. an Indian vegetable, a kind of hibiscus—also known as *bamia.

Bindo, n. (ma-), fold of the loincloth, used as a pocket, bag, receptacle for carrying things, pocket, purse. *Pesa largu nineliipa b., I have fastened my farthing in my loincloth. *Kinga b., hold out a fold of the loin-cloth to receive something. *Iiyo bindoni, what is in the pocket, safe, secure. (Cf. *pinda, *upindo, &c., which is perk. the same word,—also *uwinda, *uiinda, and for 'bag, bundle' cf. *furushi, *bahasha.)

Bingwa, a. and -bingwa, clever, knowing, shrewd, capable. *Fundi huyu *mbingwa, he is a good workman. (Cf. *ubingwa, and syn. -stadi, *waria.)

*Bini, v.=*Buni, which see. (Ar.)

*Binti, n. daughter, young lady. When followed by the father's name, without preposition, forms the usual designation of all women in Zanzibar except of the lowest class—slaves, beggars, and freed slaves, e.g. *binti *Ali, *binti Abdallah, *binti *Sualem. Not used by itself in address, except in a familiar way to young persons, 'my daughter.' (Ar. Cf. *bin, and B. syn. *mwana.)

*Birika, n. (—, and ma-, according to size), (1) large metal vessel for holding water, large kettle; (2) cistern, tank, bath—of masonry, such as are found in all the better houses of Zanzibar, either for holding rainwater or for bathing purposes. Sometimes (3) of ordinary European bath. (Ar.)

*Birinzi, n. a particular dish of cooked food—meat, rice, pepper, &c. (Cf. *pilau.)

*Bisbis, n. (—), and Bisibisi, screwdriver. (Hind. Dist. *bisi.)

-bishi, a. of one who is always opposing, whether (1) goodhumouredly, 'joking, jesting;' or more commonly (2) captious, argumentative, Bisho, n. also Mbisho, working to windward, beasting, tacking. Uepow a b., head wind. Figa b., beat to windward. (Cf. bisha, mbisho, &c.)

*Bisi, n. also Mbsi, parched grains of Indian corn, described as mahindi yaityokaangwa, a favourite preparation, cried in the streets of Z. as bisi moto, hot bisi. There is also bisi la mtana, made of millet.

*Bitana, n. lining. Nguyya bitana, clothes made with two thicknesses of material. (Ar. Cf. basita, used as lining, and tabaka, maradufu.)

*Bithaa, n. goods (for trading), merchandise. Fetha na bithaa, cash and goods, money and kind.

-Bivu, a. (mbivu, with D 6, D 4 (P)), matured, ripe, well cooked, opposed to -bichi. Embe mbivu, ripe mangoes. Nyama mbivu, well-done meat. (Cf. iva, ubivu, and the less common forms -ivu, or -ivu, uivu, but dist. -wivu, jealous.)

Biwi, n. (ma-), heap of plantation or garden rubbish, sweepings, refuse, leaves.

*Bisari, n. small seed such as pepper, caraway, and other condiments used in making curries. Hence sometimes 'curry powder.' B. nene, anise. (Ar.)

*Bisimu, n. a buckle, brooch, clasp, fastening. (Ar.)

*Bobari, n. carpenter's rounded chisel, gouge, also known as ngabu.

Bofu, n. (ma-), a large bladder. (Also heard as variant of posu, froth, and -bovu, rotten. Cf. kibofu.)

Boga, n. (ma-), pumpkin, gourd, the plant being mboga. (Dist. mboga, vegetables in general.)

*Bohari, n. (-, and ma-), storehouse, warehouse, large shop, magazine, go-down, described as nyumba ya mali (ya kuruekea vitu), house for goods (for storing things). Mabohari ya makuti, thatched store-houses. (Cf. ghalu.)

*Bohora, n. (ma-), also Bohra, a member of one of the two chief sects or divisions of Mahommedan Hindoos in Z., the other being Khoja. Each sect has its own mosques, club, burying ground, &c.

*Boi, n. (ma-), house servant, personal attendant, domestic. So many boi, be servant. Taka boi, apply for service. (From Eng. boy. Cf. mtumishi, mwandishi, and see Manworar.)

*Boko, n. (ma-), hippopotamus, esp. of a large size, the dim. kiboko being the common name in Z.

Bokoboko, n. a particular dish of cooked food (Str.), and hence to describe other things of a soft, jelly-like consistency.

Boma, n. (ma-), any kind of raised structure for defensive purposes, (1) earthwork, outer wall, rampart, mound, palisade, stockade, fence, and hence (2) fort, redoubt, castle. (Cf. bomoa, and syn. ngome, fort, and dist. uo, fence of yard or garden, ukuta, wall of house, partition wall.)

*Bomba, n. (1) pump. Bomba ya kunuta maji, a pump for drawing water. Also used of (2) chimney of a steamer, or any large pipe. (? Portug.)

Bombwe, n. (ma-), cut figure, carved pattern, carving, sculpture. Kafa madombuwe, carve figures (patterns). (Also kibombwe (vi-). Cf. more usual choro, nakshi.)

Bomoa, v. break down, break through, make a breach in, cause to fall down, esp. of a wall or fence, or other artificial structure. Ps. bomo-lewa. Nt. bomoka, fall down, be broken through, collapse. Ap. bomo-lewa, lewa. Mtiambu wa kubomojola, a crowbar to break down a wall with. Ca. bomo-isha, -shwa. (Cf. boma, and poromoka, poromoka, sometimes heard as pomesha or bomosha, bomokha.)
Bomu, n. (ma-), boom, sound of a drum, esp. of the larger, deep-sounding kind, or of a cannon. Bomu la gogo, a long drum with low note.

Bonde, n. (—, and ma-), valley, hollow between hills, low-lying country. (Cf. Bondet, the country between the Usambara hills and the coast near Tanga and Pangani, German East Africa.)

Bonge, n. (ma-). See Donge.

Bongo, n. (ma-), brains, marrow. (Cf. ubongo.)

*Bonth, n. bridge,—rarely heard. (Cf. Fr. pont, and syn. daraja, ulato.)

Bonyea, v. yield to pressure, give way, sink in, be crushed, e.g. of soft ground, ripe fruit, &c., and other inanimate objects. Nt. bonyeka. Cs. bony-esha, -esa, press in, make impression on, examine by feeling and pressing. (Cf. syn. tomasa, of animate objects, and bopa.)

Bopa, v. (1) be soft to the touch, soften, feel soft, as of ripe fruit, an abscess, &c.; (2) sink in, become hollow (concave). Ap. bopea. Mashavu yake yamebopea, his cheeks are sunken (hollow). Cs. bop-esha, -esha (and possibly boby, bofya, cf. apa, afya for apisha), press with finger, make impression on, feel. (Cf. bonyea, bonyesha (which implies greater force and effect), tomasa, and follg.)

Bopo, n. (ma-), soft place, mud-hole, pit. (Kr.)

*Bora, a. of special quality (importance, or value), fine, high class, first-rate, excellent, good, noble, &c., often with implied comparison, 'better, the better, best.' Tumbako bora, there is nothing like tobacco. Asikari ndume bora, magnificent fighting men. (Ar. Cf. afathali, better, superior, and -ema, -zuri.)

*Bori, n. (1) clay bowl of a tobacco pipe. See Kiko, Tosa. (2) Tusk of ivory. See Buri.

*Boriti, n. also Borti, pole of the kind used for rafters in East Africa. (These poles are still an important article of trade on the African and Arabian coasts. They are a kind of mangrove, straight, hard, and (if kept dry) very durable, and carry the heavy concrete ceilings and roofs of all stone houses, incidentally limiting the dimensions of rooms and arrangement of the whole.)

*Borohoa, n. a native dish, beans, &c., pounded into a paste or thick broth and flavoured.

Boromoka, Boromoko. See Boromok, &c.

Boronga, v. make a mess, muddle, fuss, bungle, mix. B. kazi, do a job badly (in a muddling, unworkmanlike way). Sometimes Redupl. bora-boronga. Ps. borongwa. (Cf. follg., also buruga, wuruga.)

Borongo, n. muddle, mess, bungle.

Kazi ya b, a badly done job.

Borotangi, n. See Buratangi.

Buruga, v. See Buruga.

-bovu, a. (mboov with D 6, D 4 (P)), bad, chiefly of physical condition, i.e. rotten, unsound, unhealthy, spoilt, decomposed, purid: Matunda mabovu, rotten, unsound fruit. Samakia mboovu, stale fish. Hence also (2) worthless, unfit for use or service. Mtu mboovu, an ill-conditioned, unsound, worthless man. (Cf. the more comprehensive word -baya, and note, and the apparently cognate word -ovu, which indicates usually bad moral condition. Mtu muovu, an evilly disposed, unprincipled, bad-natured man. Contr. -zima, -zuri, -ema.)

Boza, n. an intoxicating preparation of bhang. (See Bangi.) Hence perh. bosibosi, idle, dull, incapable of work. (St.)

Bu, int. descriptive of the thud of a heavy blow or fall. Anguka bu, fall heavily. Piga bu, give a heavy blow.

Bua, n. (ma-), stalk, stem, of the larger grasses, e.g. of mtama, millet, or muhindi, Indian corn. Used for house walls, fencing, and firing. (Cf. ubua, of smaller kinds.)

Buba, n. a bad skin disease, of a persistent and contagious kind.

Bubu, n. (ma-), a dumb person, mute, dumb. *Sema kwa bibubu, speak in dumb language, i.e. by signs.

Bubujika, v. bubble out, burst forth in a flood. B. machosi, burst into a flood of tears. B. maneno, come out with a torrent of words.

*Buddi, n. escape, way out, alternative, means of avoiding. Seldom used except with negative parts of kwana ha, to have, in such phrases as hakuna b., necessarily, undoubtedly, it must be so; sina b., I must, I cannot avoid it. Haina b. kuniambia habari yako, there is no escape from telling me about yourself. Billa b., inevitably, surely. Bassi mimi nina b. ya kulia? What! Can I help crying? (Ar. Cf. labuda. Buddi is sometimes heard as bundi.)

Buhuri, n. incense. (Arab. Cf. ubani, wumba, udi, and vukiza.)

Bugu, n. (ma-), a thick kind of withy, used as cord for binding. (Cf. mbugu, nbugu.)

Bulubu, n. (—, and ma-), (i) spider. Tando la (utando wa) b., spider's web; (2) a kind of large veil, covering the whole figure entirely, worn by some women (Arab, Comoro, and others) in Z. when out of doors.

Buki, n. Madagascar. Often in loc. form, Bukini. Also -buki, a., of Madagascar, cf. Mbuki, a Malagasy. *Bata la Buki, a goose. A district of Ng'ambo in Z. is called Kwa Wabuki.

Buku, n. (ma-), the very large, long-tailed rat common in town and country, Z. (Buku is also sometimes used of a book,—from the English. But cf. kitabu, chuo, mshahfu.)

Bukua, v. hunt out a secret, discover, reveal. (Cf. mbukulia.)

*Bulangeni, a. used of coloured, striped, variegated objects, e.g. a vessel painted in two or more colours, a coloured wall, &c. (? Ar.)

*Bulangeti, n. also Burangiti, blanket, rug. B. magongoi, blankets at their backs,—of a soldier's kit. (From the Eng.)

*Buli, n. (—, and ma-), teapot. Also b. ya kahawa, coffee-pot,—which is commonly maika or deli.

Bumba, n. (—, and ma-), also Pumba, lump, B. la tumbako, plug, or packet, of tobacco. B. la udongo, clod of earth. B. la nyuki, cluster of bees, when swarming. Dim. kibumba. (Cf. bumbwi, and pumba.)

Bumbuzi, n. utter perplexity, helpless amazement, confusion of senses. *Kupigwa (kushikwa) na b., to be dumbfounded, to lose one's senses.

Bumbwi, n. grain (rice, millet, &c.) pounded and mixed up with grated cocoanut.

*Bumia, n. beam forming stern-post of native vessel, fastened to the keel (mkuku), and carrying the rudder-post (fashini).

Bumunda, n. (—, and ma-), a kind of dumpling or soft cake. (Str.)

Bundi, n. (—, or ma-, according to size), an owl. (Dist. bundi, as a variant of buddi.)

Bundika, v. plait the hair,—used of a simple kind of plaiting in three parts. (Cf. suka, of more elaborate plaiting.)

*Bunduki, n. gun, rifle, musket. *Piga b., fire a gun. Elekesa b., point (aim) a gun. Piga bunduki-bunduki, keep up a fusillade. Guns are described as b. ya jiwe, or ya gumegume, a flint gun; b. ya mrao, a matchlock gun; b. ya kushindiliwa, or ya fataki, a muzzle-loading gun; b. ya kuvunja, or ya kuku, a sporting (hinged) gun (rifle). B. ya viasi, a breech-loading rifle. B. ya midomo mivili, or ya kasiba mibili, a double-barrelled gun. Common trade guns are sometimes called bunduki ya kindoro, or ya mkoa. (Ar.)

Bungo, n. (ma), fruit of mbungo, a kind of medlar. (Cf. mbungo.

Buni, n. (1) fruit of mbuni (which see), coffee berry, raw coffee. B. ya kahawa, coffee beans. B. iliyoitwagwa, pounded (ground) coffee berries. (2) An ostrich. (Ar.)

Bunju, n. a poisonous fish of the Diodon (Globe-fish) kind.

Bunzi, n. (ma), a large stinging fly, building a clay nest.

Bupu, n. (ma). Bupu la dafu, used of the cocoanut, when full of milk, and just forming a soft layer of nutty substance in the shell. (Cf. dafu.)

Bura, n. a kind of Muscat cloth.

See Nguo.

Buri, n. (ma), and Bori, elephant’s tusks, tusks of ivory, larger than kalasha. (Cf. pembe, kalasha.

Buriani, n. used of final arrangements, esp. on parting company, last words, farewells, &c. Kuwa ra-fiki yao b., to give their friends a farewell (send-off). Takana (agana) b., exchange final farewells. (Cf. Ar. burai.

Burre, adv. (1) gratis, gratuitously, for nothing, without payment; (2) uselessly, vainly, in vain, for no good cause or result, idly, fruitlessly. Kazi burre, labour for nothing, i.e. wasted, or unpaid. Takana watu burre, abuse people without cause. Also as n. maneno ya burre, idle (frivolons, foolish) words. (Ar. of Oman?)

Buruda, n. prayers for sick and dying, Mahommedan ’Visitiation of the Sick.’ Chuo cha buruda, service for the sick. (Arab. Cf. baridi, burudisha, &c., and for other services fatika, hitima, soma.

together, mix together. (Cf. boronga, mburugo, and koroga, vuruga.)

*Buruji, n. fortress, fort, castle. (Arab. Cf. ngome, boma.)

*Burura, v. pull, haul, drag along on the ground. Ps. bururiva. Nt. bururika. Ap. burur-ia, -iwa. Cs. bururi-isha, -ishwa, e.g. bururisha ndoo kisimani, haul a bucket up from a well. (Cf. mbururu, and syn. kokota, vuta.)

*Busa, n. (1) good sense, practical wisdom, prudence, sagacity, skill, &c.; (2) plan, device, stratagem. Leta, employ a device. (Ar. Cf. akili.)

*Busat, n. a kind of matting, made at Muscat. (Str.)

*Busa, n. gun-wad, tow (for cleaning gun or cannon).

*Busashi, n. a kind of muslin. (Str.)

*Bushuti, n. thick woollen stuff, blanket. (Ar. Prop. of Arab burnous, black cloaks of woollen cloth or camel’s hair.)

*Bustani, n. a garden. (Ar. or Pers.)

*Buthara, n. prodigality, lavish outlay. (Arab. Cf. -bathiriifu, gharama, and B. syn. upotevu wa mali.)

Bu, n. (ma-), maggot, grub, larva. B. la nyuki, bee grub. B. likamea mbawa, the grub grows wings. (Cf. jana.)

Bu, n. (ma-), fruit of the baobab tree (mbuyu, which see), calabash. The pith is edible, and the husk is used to draw water with. Hence buyu often means ‘a native bucket, pail.’

Busi, n. (ma-), very large goat, for usual mbuzi. Dim. kibusi.

*Busana, n. (—, and ma—), used (1) in reference, ‘master, owner, possessor’ of slaves, house, plantation or other property, and generally ‘great man, dignitary, worthy, personage’; (2) in address, ‘Master, Mr., Sir.’ Often bwana mkubwa, to show special respect, and contr. bwana mdogo of the next in rank, or inferior. Bwana is also used by women of and to their husbands, and in Z. is a common designation of the Sultan as supreme. (For the root -ana, cf. mwana, dubwana.)

Bweta, n. small box, such as a desk, work-box, cash-box, jewel-case, &c. (?Portug. or French, or Ar. dim. of bet. Cf. syn. kasha, sanduku.)

CH.

C is used only in combination with H, to represent the sound of ch in English or ty, i.e. a sound between t and ch, as in nature.

CH (1) represents the pf. ki- (which see) (a) regularly before adjectives (including the Pronominal) and tense-signs beginning with a vowel, e.g. kitu changu (for ki-angu), mything; kisu chakata (for ki-a-kata), the knife cuts; kikao chema cho chote (for ki-ema ki-o kote), any good dwelling whatever; (b) sometimes before other than adjectival roots beginning with a vowel, e.g. chango (for ki-angu), chuo (for ki-no), a book; chombo (for ki-ombo), a vessel; chumba (for ki-umba), room in a house.
In all these cases, the corresponding plural pfx. is -vy.

(2) Is a vulgar pronunciation of ki often heard among the poorer class and slave population of Zanzibar, e.g. chitu for kitu, thing; chende for tende, dates.

In the Zanzibar dialect often represents a t or ty at Mombasa, as chupa for tupa, bottle; chungwa for tungwa, orange; nicknamed, country.

(4) Is practically often not distinguished from sh or j, except in words where the distinction is necessary to make the meaning clear.

Hence words not found under Ch may be looked for under ki, j, t, or sh.

Words beginning with ch are with very few exceptions Bantu origin.

Ch-, (1) = ki. (See prec. and Ki-);
(2) is the pfx. corresponding to D 3 (S) in all adjectives and tense-prefixes in verbs, when they begin with a vowel. (See prec.)

Cha, prep. form of -a (which see), agreeing with D 3 (S), meaning 'of.' &c., e.g. kisu cha chuma, a knife of iron; chumba cha kwana, the master's room; and with kitu understood, cha kula, food; cha kupea, a bath.

Cha, v. (also kucha in some forms.

For use of ku before monosyllabic verb-roots, see Ku-, 1 (d.), (1) fear, be apprehensive of, reverence. Not often heard in Z. except in reference to God. Kumcha Muungu, to fear God. Ps. chewa. jina lako lichewa, may your name be feared. (Cheka is usually quite a different word, which see.) Ap. chea, chelea, cheleva, &c. Mchea mwana kulia, hulialye, he who fears for his child's crying, will cry himself. Mcheleba bahari si msafiri, he who is nervous about the sea is no traveller. See also Chelewa. Cs. cheshia. Rp. chana. (These derived forms must be distinguished from identical forms with different meaning, see (2) follg. Cf. -cha, uchaji, and syn. hofu, oga, ogopa). (2) Dawn, change to dawn, be morning. Kuna kucha, it is dawning. Kumukucha, dawn has come. Hajacha, it is not yet dawn. Killa kuchwa, also killa uchao, i.e. usubuhi, every morning at dawn. Kukachwa mwanga, and the light (of morning) dawned. Usiku na uche hima, I hope the night will soon be over (turn to dawn). The Infin.
form kucha is regularly used as a n., dawn, morning. Kucha kucha, just dawn, early morning. Also commonly, with or without usiku, of the whole period of darkness ending with dawn. Usiku kucha, all night long, till dawn of day. Hakulala kucha, he had no sleep all night. Cf. Ps.
form kuchwa follg., with which it is also combined, kuchwa kucha, all day and all night. Kucha hatta kuchwa, from morning till evening.
(Cf. mchana, jicho, macho, i.e. ya ju, and for 'morning' asfajirii, asubuhii, mapampazuko, weupe, and for 'rising' of sun panda, chomosa.) Ps. -chwa, set (of the sun), end (of daylight). (The root idea connecting the Act. and Ps. is not yet clear.) Kumekuchwa, it is past sunset. Mchana utakuchwa, the day will come to an end. Jua timekuchwa, the sun is setting.
Kwachwa, evening is coming on.
Like kucha (see above) kuchwa is used as a n. for whole preceding period of the day. Kuchwa, a whole day. Nimeshinda leo k., I have stopped all day to-day. Robo k., a shilling a day. Pesa ya k., a day's wages (for which k. alone can be used, e.g. k. yake rupia moja, his wages for the one day are one rupee).
Kuchwa kucha, all day and all night.
Act. chea, chewa, chelea, cheleva, chelesha, chelevesha, &c. Jua lime-nichea, the sun rose while I was still indoors, I was surprised (overtaken) by sunrise, I was caught in bed (asleep), also expressed by the Ps.
form alone nimechewa, i.e. na jua.
Hence a form of respectful morning greeting, not often heard in Z. itself, Kuchewa, i.e. habari ya kuchewa? How does the morning find you? Are you well to-day? to which the reply is simply Kuchewa, I am well to-day. Hence also the common use of chelewa, be late, prop. of being belated, taken by surprise, shown to be late in getting up, and chwelewa in similar sense. See Chelewa. Ap. Ps. chwea, chweva, chwele, chwelewa, &c. Jua timekuchwea njiani, lala, the sun has set before your journey is over (while you are still on the road), so lie down. Tulichwelewa, we were belated. Cs. chana, e.g. usiku unachana, the next is turning to day. (Cf. machwa, machwe, i.e. ya jua, and for ‘evening,’ jioni, usiku, magaribi, and for ‘setting’ of sun, shuka, tua.)

-cha, a. fearing, having fear (awe, reverence), esp. of religious feeling. Mcha Muungu, a God-fearing, religious, devout person. Muungu humkirimu mcha wake, God is always bounteous to him who fears him. (Cf. cha, v. (1), -chaji, uchaji, and syn. -oga, -hufu.)

Cha, n. See Chai.

Chacha, v. (1) ferment, as dough, native beer, &c.; (2) froth, foam, form a scum; (3) turn sour, go bad, spoil, as stale food, &c.; (4) fig. be sour in temper, cross, irritated. Ps. chachwa. Nt. chachika. Ap. chach-ia, -iswa, -iana. Wamechachiana, they are cross with each other. Cs. chach-isha, -ishwa, (1) make sour (sharp, acid); (2) provoke, exasperate. (Cf. chachu, chachuka. Dist. Chachia below.)

Chachaga, v. wash—used only of washing clothes by rubbing in the hands and dabbing on a board or stone. Ps. chachagwa. Nt. chagika. Ap. chachag-ia, -iswa. Cs. chachagisha, -ishwa. (Cf. fua, osha.)

-Chache, n. (chache with D 4 (P), D 6), (1) few in number, small (little) in quantity, not much, not many, slight, deficient; (2) (few, and so) rare, not easily got, scarce, (and so) of value. Siku chache, a few days. Watu wachache, not many people. Akili zake chache, or mhache wa akili, he is deficient in sense. (Cf. syn. haba, and kidogo.)

Chachia, v. press on, hamper, perplex, involve in difficulties. Ps. chachiwa. (Perh. same as tatia, which see, and cf. syn. songa, funga, lemea.)

Chachu, n. substance producing fermentation, yeast, leaven, such as pombe, unga wa mtama. (Cf. chacha, uchachi.)

Chachuka, v. (1) turn sour, ferment; (2) foam, froth. Wali unechachuka leo, the rice has gone sour to-day. Bahari inachachuka, the sea is frothy (yeasty, churning). (Cf. chacha, chachu.)

Chaf, n. a kind of fish.

Chafu, n. (—, and ma-), also heard as Chavu, and commonly Shavu, which see.

-Chafu, a. (chafu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), dirty, filthy, unclean, impure, obscene. Nguo chafu chafu, very dirty clothes. Maneno machafu, obscene language. (Cf. uchafu, and with milder meaning chafua, uchafuko. Also syn. taka, -najisi, and contr. safi, -cupe, -nathifu.)

Chafua, v. (1) make dirty, soil, spoil; (2) make in a mess, disorder, disarrange, disturb; (3) of the sea, make rough. Samaki amechafula maji, the fish has made the water muddy. Nyumba imechafula, ya taka kufagiwa, the house is in a mess, it wants to be swept. Ps. chafuliva. Nt. chafuka. Bahari ilichafula sana, the sea was very rough. Mambo yamechafula-chafuka, affairs are in utter confusion. Alichafula moyo (tumbo), his stomach was upset, he was sick. Ap. chafu-liia, -liwa. Amenichafulia nguo, he has dirtied my clothes for me. (Cf. uchafu, -chafu, uchafuko.)
CHAFUO

Chafuo, n. a poisonous kind of fly.
Chafya, v. sneeze. Also n. (ma-), e.g. piga ch., enda ch., sneeze (the v.).
Paa akaenda chafya, che-e-e, the gazelle had a fit of sneezing.
Chago, n. (1) part of bedstead on which the head rests. See Kitanda. (2) A kind of crab. (Cf. kaa, n.)
Chagua, v. (1) choose, select, pick out, make a choice; (2) of biassed or partial selection, garble, give a false colour to, be unfair. Mchagua jembe si mkulima, a man who is particular about his spade is not the man to use it. Ps. chagutilwa. Ap. chagu-lia, -liwa, -lika. Cs. chaguzia, -zwa, offer choice to, give an order (leave, right) to choose. Rp. chaguana. Rd. -chagua-chagua, of dainty, critical selection. (Cf. -chaguzi, mchaguo, and syn. teuza.)
-.chaguzi, a. given to choosing, dainty, critical, &c. (Cf. prec. and syn. -teuza, also uchaguzi.)
*Chai, n. also Oha, and Chayi, tea,—plant leaf and beverage. (Hind. and Ar.)
-chaji, a. having fear, apprehensive, reverential,—of a more fixed habit and characteristic than -cha. (Cf. cha, v., uchaji, and -cha, -oga, -hofu.)
Chaka, n. (ma-), (1) clump of trees, dense part of a forest, described as agongo la mwitu. Dim. kichaka. (2) Summer, the hot season, i.e. Dec. to Feb., but musimu, kaskazi are usual in Z.
Chakaa, v. get old, get worn, wear out, be used up (worn, faded), be past work,—of things and persons. Nguo zinechakaa, the clothes are worn out. Ap. chaka-lia, -liwa. Cs. chaka-za, -zwa, use up, wear out. (Cf. -chakafi, -kuku, and syn. fifa.)
Chakacha, v. pound, break small, as seeds in a mortar. Ch. menoni, crunch with teeth. Ps. chakachwa. Nt. chakachika, be pounded, be fit for pounding. Ap. chakach-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. chakach-isha, -ishwa. Chakacha-chakacha is also used as adv. of a rustling crackling sound, as of a silk dress, cf. utakaso. (Cf. syn. twanga, ponda, seta, vunja, &c.)
-chakafu, a. (chakafi with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), worn-out, old. Nguo ch., worn-out clothes. (Cf. chakaa, and syn. -kuku.)
Chake, a. pron. of 3 Pers. S. agreeing with D 3 (S), his, hers, her, its, of him (her, it). See -ake.
*Chaki, n. chalk, whiting, putty powder.
Chako, a. pron. of 2 Pers. S. agreeing with D 3 (S), your, yours, of you. See -ako.
Chakogea, n. (vy-), a chamber bath, for kitu (chombo) cha kuoga, something (a vessel) to bathe in. (Cf. oga, v., and chakula, chamshakinwa.)
Chakula, n. (vy-), sometimes zakula), something to eat, food, victuals, provender, a meal, i.e. kitu cha kula. Ch. cha assubuhi, breakfast, i.e. chamshakinwa. Ch. cha mchana (cha athuuri), midday meal, lunch, tiffin. Ch. cha jioni, evening meal, dinner, supper. Huna chakula cha kulisha mimi wala cha kula wewe, you have no food to give me to eat or to eat yourself. (Cf. -la, v., and makuli.)
Chakura, v. scratch, e.g. the ground like a fowl. Mwana wa kuku hafunzwi kachakura, a chicken is not taught scratching. (Cf. mchakuro and chokora, and syn. papwura.)
Chale, n. (also pl. of uchale), (1) cut, gash, incision,—made on purpose, whether as tribal mark, for ornamental tattooing, or for medical purposes, &c. Ch. setu za kuchanjiana hasija, our gashes for making bloodfriendship have not yet healed. Mnganga akamchanga chale thelathini na wembe, the doctor made thirty cuts on him with a razor, e.g. to reduce inflammation. (2) A kind of fish. (Cf. syn. tojo, and chanja, toja, kata, tema.)
Chali, adv. on the back, i.e. of the recumbent, supine position. Lala chali, lie on the back. Also chali-chali. (Cf. syn. kitani, kwa tani, kwa chani, kingalingali, mgongozi, and opp. kijuli, on the face.)

Chama, n. club, guild, society, association. Waana chama, members of a club. (Many such exist in Z., esp. among artisans of the same trade, a kind of trades union.)

Chamba, v. wash oneself (after calls of nature)—of ordinary and also ceremonial washing before Mahomedan prayers. (Cf. nawa, prop. of hands and face; tawaza, of feet, and dist jamba, &c.)—n. (vy), that which adheres, esp. a film over the eye. Jicho lina chamba, the eye has a film over it,—also described as kiini cheupe, white pupil of the eye. (Chamba for ki-amba. Cf. ambaa, ambika, &c. and follg.)

Chambo, n. (vy), bait for catching animals, fish, &c. Ch. cha kuzulua samaki; fish bait. Ch. cha kutegea ndege, bait for luring birds. Tia chambo katika ndoana, bait a hook. Cf. shimbika. (Cf. ambaa, chamba, n., ambika, &c. and follg.)

Chambua, v. sometimes heard as jambua, shambua, (1) clean, dress, pick over, prepare, esp. of appropriate preparation of various products for use, cooking, market, e.g. ch. pamba, clean cotton, by removing the seeds, dirt, leaves; ch. mbaasi, beans by shelling; ch. garafuu, staves by picking off the stalks. Also used (2) more generally, clean up, give a finish to, improve appearance of; (3) fig. criticize, cross-examine, expose the faults of. Ps. chambuliwa. Nu. chambulika. Ap. chambu-lica, -liwa, &c. Cs. chambu-lisha, -lishwa. (Cf. ambua, ambaa, chamba, n., &c.)

Chamburo, n. plate used in wire-drawing (Str.).

Chamchela, n. in phrase pepe ya chamchela, (1) whirlwind; (2) spirits supposed to cause the whirlwind, and propitiated as such with offerings. (Chamchela = ki-amchela. Cf. kinyamkela, also kimbunga, kivumbi.)

Chamshakinwa, n. (= kitu cha kuamsha kiwinwa), first food in the morning, morning meal, breakfast. (For form cf. chakula, chakugwe, and syn. chakula cha assubuhi.)

Chana, v. also Tana, slit, separate, part, comb. Ch. miyaa, slit leaves for plaiting, so ch. makutu, of cocoanut fronds. Ch. nyele, comb hair. Ch. kitambaa, cut, or pull, in shreds. Ch. kwa fimbo, of a severe flogging with a stick. Ps. chaniwa. Nt. chani. Ap. chan-ia, -iwa, -ika. Cs. chan-isha, -ishwa. Rd. chanchana, cut into small bits (shreds). (Cf. kitana, chanaa, chanuo, shanuo, chanyata, and dist. chana. Rp. of -cha, v. dawn.)—n. also Tana, (1) a bunchlet, fruit clustre, on the great fruit stem (mkungu) produced by the banana plant (mgomba), the single fruit being dole, and the fruit generally ndizi; (2) same as Chane (which see). (Cf. mgomba, mkungu, tana, dole, ndizi.)

Chanda, n. (vy), finger, toe,—at Mombasa. Kidole is almost invariably used in Z. Chanda na pete, finger and ring,—proverb of close connexion, coherence, affection. (Cf. wanda.)

Chandaluwa, n. (vy), awning, canopy, covering, mosquito-net,—of any material used for protection against sun, rain, insects, &c. Used with such verbs as funga, fasten; tungika, hang up; tandaza, spread out.

Chane, n. (—), also Chani, and Chana, a slip of leaf, made by slitting it up finely or coarsely, for use in plaiting mats, cord, &c. (Cf. chana, and mwa.)

Changa, v. collect, gather together. Esp. ch. asiwai (watu wa vita), muster soldiers, levy a force. Ch. fetha, collect money by way of voluntary contribution. Kuchanga mali kulipa deni, to collect money for payment of a debt. Mali ya kuchangivva, money collected for a special (or charitable) purpose. Kula kwa kuchanga, hold a club-, or subscription-, feast, each person contributing. (Cf. kula bia.) Ps. changwa. Nt. changika. Ap. chang-ia, -iwa, and rp. -iana, i.e. join in making contributions. Cs. chang-isha, -ishwa, -iza, -izana, and changanya (which see). Changizana, join in getting contributions. Rp. changana, of volunteers mustering for war. (Except in the above and similar senses, the common word is kusanya, which see. Cf. chango, mchango, changanya, changamana, &c., and perch. mchanga. Changa is sometimes heard for chanja, v., which see.)

-changa, a. (changa with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), young, immature, undeveloped, unripe, in an early stage of growth or experience, both of animal and plant life. Mtoto mchanga, a young child. Kitoto kichanga, a baby, a very young child. Embe changa, half-grown mangoes. Mahindi mchanga, maize not fully developed. Asikari mchanga, a raw recruit. Sometimes of things inanimate, assubuhi changachanga, very early morning. (Cf. syn. -bichi, -changa, denoting esp. stage of growth, -bichi, fitness for use, and contr. -pevu, -simu, -bivu.)

Changamana, v. also Tangamana, be in a mixed-up condition, often with na, (1) be mixed up with; (2) meddle, interfere in; (3) be adjoining (bordering on, next to). Shamba limechangamana na pwani, the estate is adjacent to the shore. (Cf. changa, changanya, and -mana.)

-changam'fu, a. agreeable, enlivening, good-humoured, cheerful. (Cf. follg.)

Changam'ka, v. become cheerful, look bright and happy, be in good spirits, be in a buoyant mood. Amechangam'ka, he has recovered his spirits, he is happy. Used of the sun coming out bright after cloud or rain. Also of scenery, inchi inachangam'ka, the view has become bright, clear to the eye. Cs. changam'sha, -shwa, cheer up, revive the spirits, gladden, exhilarate. (Cf. follg., also am'ka, and syn. furahi, be happy; chekelela, be smiling.)

Changam'ko, n. (ma-), entertainment, amusement, pastime, play—anything that raises the spirits. (Cf. mchego, mazungumzo.)

Changamana, v. separate what is mixed, resolve into constituent parts, analyse, simplify what is compound. (Cf. changa, v., changanya, &c.)

Changanya, v. (1) collect together, mix, form into one mass; (2) make in a mess, muddle, confuse. Ch. tembo na maji, mix palm wine with water. Ps. changanywa. Nt. changanyika. Ap. changany-ia, -iwa. Cs. changany-isha, iza, (1) mix, adulterate; (2) cause confusion in, perplex. (Cf. changa, v., changamana, and syn. (1) kusanya, (2) chafua.)

Changarawe, n. grit, small stones, fine gravel, bits of stone in sand or rice. (Not so fine as mchanga, sand; finer than vikokoto, small stones. With termination -we, cf. jiwe, mbwe.)

Chango, n. (ma-), (1) contribution, subscription, esp. of money or food, for a common object. Ch. la mchelo, a contribution of rice. Killa nyumba ilete ch., let every house bring a contribution (for a sacrifice); (2) levy, muster. Ch. la watu, wachanganao kwenda vitani, a muster of men, who muster together to go to war. (Cf. changa, v., and notes; also mchango.) — n. plur. of uchango, which see, (1) smaller intestines; also (2) (sing. and plur.) chango za tumbo, round intestinal worms. Also chango (ma-) in similar sense; ch. la usazi, the umbilical cord. — n. (vy-) = ki-ango, i.e. kidude Cha kuantikia vilu, something to hang things on (from), i.e. peg, rail, hook, &c. Akaenda changoni a kauanga upanga, and he went to the peg, and took down the sword. (Cf. angika, angua, and note,—also mwango.)

Changu, n. a small kind of fish, common in Z. market. — a. pron. of 1 Pers. S., agreeing with D 3 (S), my, mine, of me. (Cf. angu, -ake.)

Changua, v. take to pieces, disconnect,—used of dismembering and cutting up animals for food. (Rv. form of changa, which see.)

Chani, adv. also Tani, on the back (in a recumbent position). Lata chani, lie on the back. Also chanichani. (Cf. chali, and dist. chane, chana.)

Chanikwiti, a. green, grass green. (Perh. from ki-(j)ani kwiti, for kibichi, i.e. fresh grass (leaves), and so of colour. Cf. syn. rangi ya majani, grass-colour.)

Chanja, v. also sometimes changa, and shanga, ?chenja, (1) cut into, make a cut (incision, gash) in. Ch. uchale, make an incision (with knife, razor, lancet). Ch. mti, make cuts in a tree (whether to obtain sap or remove bark). Msichanje tuzikashe kizi nyama, slice up this flesh, so that we may dry it. (2) Cut up, split in pieces, make by cutting up. Ch. kuni, split logs for firewood. Ps. chanjwa. Nt. chanjika. Ap. chanjia, -iwa. Kuchanjwa ndui, be vaccinated. Chanjiana, make incisions together, i.e. in making blood-friendship. Cs. chanj-isha, -ishwa, &c. Rp. chanjana, -anisha, &c. (Cf. chenga, and syn. pasua, tema, kata, toja, and follg. chanjo, mchanjo.) — n. used (not often in Z.) of many objects made of wicker-work, interwoven twigs, osiers, wattles, e.g. a screen, a kind of hurdle, a crib for holding an animal’s food, a kind of sieve or strainer, a wicker stand for storing grain safely in a house, an arbour or shelter made of interlacing branches, summer-house, a frame for smoking meat on over a fire, &c. Ch. ya chuma, a gridiron. Ch. ya kuantikia nyama moshi, a frame for drying meat on in the smoke. Ingia nyumbani hatta mvunguini hatta juu ya ch., go inside the house, and look even under the bed and even on the store-shelf.

*Chanjari, adv. See Sanjari, and Vinjari. (? Ar.)

Chanco, n. (ma-), gash, cut, incision. Piga chanco la mti, make a cut in a tree. (Cf. chanja, mchanjo, also syn. chale, tojo.)

Chano, n. (vy-), flat round wooden platter, with a low rim. Sometimes with a stand in one piece, forming a low table. Used as (1) plate for food, chano wanachotia chakula, a platter on which they place food; (2) a board for carrying mortar on; (3) a washing-table.

Chanua, v. (1) put out leaves (of plants generally). (Cf. chiptuka.) (2) Rv. of chana, comb (with similar meaning), uncomb, comb out. (Cf. follg.)

Chanuo, n. (ma-) and Shanuo, a large comb, often of wood, with long coarse teeth, but neatly carved. (Cf. kitano, comb of a smaller kind.)

Chanyata, v. slice up (of bananas, cassavas, and various kinds of food). (Cf. chana, v. and n., and mchanyato.)

Chanzo, n. (vy-), (1) the beginning of something, a start, a first step; (2) a first principle, ground, reason; (3) draught, outline, sketch. Chanzo cha mali, capital. Cf. ras il mali. (For kianzo, cf. anza, and the more general mwanzu.)

Chao, a. pron. of 3 Pers. P. agreeing with D 3 (S), their, theirs, of them. (Cf. -ao, and -ake.)

Chapa, v. beat, hit, strike,—for the more common pigu). Niaku chapa kwa ufito, I will strike you with a stick. Chapa migiu, stamp on the ground, tramp, walk heavily. (Cf. chapa, follg., chapua, and chapu.) — n. (1) stroke, blow, but esp. (2) of the result of a blow, stamp, mark, and hence used of various objects,
e. g. postage stamp, stencil, printer's type. Akawapiga killa mtu ch. mkononi, he branded each man on the arm. Piga limeandikwa ch. , the cask has a mark on it. Piga ch. kitabo, print a book. (Cf. prec.)

Cheapeo, n. hat (of a European kind), helmet. (Cf. French chapeau, and kofia.)

Chapua, v. give a blow (to), strike (with). Chapua miguu, stamp, tramp, walk quickly. Chapua (and also the Cs. Intens. form chapuliza*;* ngoma, beat hard on (get more sound out of) a drum. (Cf. of Chapa, v., but with similar meaning.)

Chapu-chapu, adv. and int., Quick! Make haste! Hurry up! Chapu-chapu ni mwendo wa haraba, 'chap-chap' means 'quick march.' (Cf. chapa.)

Chapuo, n. (vy-), a small kind of drum. (Cf. chapa, chapa, and see Ngoma.)

Charaza, v. sometimes used for (1) 'play, dance, play on an instrument'; also (2) 'go a stroll, strut or saunter about the town,' but not usual in Z.

Chatu, n. a large snake rather common in Z., growing to over 12 feet in length,—python, boa-constrictor.

Chavu, n. (ma-). See Shavu, n.

Chawa, n. (1) a louse; (2) a kind of fish. Kidole kimoja hakivunjie ch. , a single finger does not kill a louse.

Chayi, n. tea. See Cha, Chai.

Chaza, n. an oyster.

Chazo, n. a sucker fish.

Cheche, n. (1) — a small reddish-brown animal like a mungoos, common in Z.; (2) (ma-), a spark. (Cf. kimetimi.)

Chechea, v. be lame, walk lamely. (Cf. chechea, and chopi.)

Chechele, n. absence of mind, an absent-minded person. Chukuliwa na chechele, have a fit of absence.

Checheema, v. be lame. (Cf. chechea, chopi.)

Chechesha, v. dandle, fondle, attend to, play with a child, help an invalid.

Chego, n. (ma-), also Jejo, molar tooth, back tooth, grinder. (Cf. jino, and kichego.)

Chekeo, n. (ma-), a laugh, laughter. Piga macheo makuwaka, utter roars of laughter. (Cf. cheke, &c.)

Chelea, v. Ap. from (1) -cha (which see), set (of the sun). Jua linatuchelea, we are caught by sunset, belated; (2) -cha, fear. Namchelea zaidi ya Sultani, he inspires more awe in me than the Sultan does. (Cf. follg. and chelewa, cheleza.)

Cheleo, n. (ma-), (1) delay; (2) object of fear. See Chelea, Chelewa.

Chelewa, v. be late, be too late, remain an unusual or unexpected time. Sikukawia wala sikulelewa, I did not delay and I was not late. Ukuni huu machelewa moto sana, this stick of wood has kept hot a wonderful time. Maji yachelewa kisimani, there is still water left in the well. (See -cha and Chelea, of sunset, of which it is apparently the Ap. Ps. form,—the idea of oversleeping, and being overtaken by dawn generalized to mean 'lateness' of any kind, and 'overlong remaining.' Cf. cheleo, cheleza, and for delay, lateness, kawia, ukawa, ustiri.)

Cheleza, v. cause to remain till
CHELEZO

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page</th>
<th>Text</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>41</td>
<td>Chenezo, n. (zy-), a measure, measuring-rod (line), anything to measure with (stick, strip of cloth, string, grass, &amp;c.). Described as kidude cha kuenzeza kitu, a thing for measuring anything. (For kienezo, cf. chelezo, and enea, and syn. cheo, kipimo.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chenga, v. cut, esp. of the lighter operations of cutting; e.g. brushwood for firing or fencing, stalks of ripe grain, ripe heads of grain, bunches of grapes, &amp;c. Ps. chengwa. Ap. cheng-ea, -ewa. (Cf. chanja, pasua, kata, &amp;c., mchengo.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chenge-chenge, n. small bits, chips, snippings. (Cf. chenga, and chembe-chembe.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chenu, a. pron. of 2 Pers. P., agreeing with D 3 (S), your, yours, of you. (Cf. -ake, and -enu.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chenza, n. (ma-), a large kind of Mandarin orange, fruit of the mchenza. Some are red or blood oranges. The best are called chenza za kiajjeni, i.e. Persian, and a small kind kangaja. (Cf. mchenza, mchungwa, kangaja.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Cheo, n. (zy-), (1) measure, measurement, dimensions, size; (2) rank, degree, station. Toa ch., fix the size. Ch. cha kuanzia kitako cha kikapo, measurement for beginning the bottom of the basket,—and so settling the size. Kupita ch., beyond measure, excessively. Hana ch., he is an ill-bred (low-born) person. Ch. bora (kikubwa), high rank. (Cf. syn. chenezo, kipimo; also daraja, rank.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chepe chepe, a. wet, soaked, soppy, moist. (Cf. maji maji, rutuba, lowa, loweka.)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*Cherehana, n. used generally of small foreign machines in Z., esp. sewing machines, which are common. Ch. ya kushona, a sewing machine. Kasi yach, machinesewing. (Cf. Pers. karkana, manufactory.)

---

morning (i.e. all night), and so cause to remain an unusual time, keep (preserve, leave) for a purpose. Wakameleza moto shi, they let the child remain in the pit (for safety). Ps. chelewa. Ap. cheleza, -ewa. Nimekueleleza wali hatta afajar, I have left rice ready for you in the morning, i.e.: saved it from the evening meal. Cs. cheleza, -eshwa, cause to put aside, preserve, &c. (Cf. -cha, chelewa, chelewa, &c.)

CHELEZO

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page</th>
<th>Text</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chembe, n. a grain, a single grain, a minute separate part of a thing, a single small thing,—e.g. a grain of sand (mchanga), of corn (nafaka), of incense (ubani), a seed, a bead (=ushanga mmoja). Chembe chembe, in grains, grain by grain, granular. Chembe is sometimes heard with the meaning ‘arrow-head, spear-head,’ i.e. ki-embre (cf. wembe and perh. jembe for ji-embe). Also chembe ya moyo, the place where the throb of the heart is felt, pit of the stomach. (Cf. syn. punje, also kichembe.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chembeu, n. (zy-), a kind of blunt chisel used for caulking.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chemchemi, n. a spring (of water). (Cf. chem’ka, or ? Ar. zamzam.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Chemko, n. boiling, bubbling,—also mchemko, ochemko. (Cf. prec.)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
|       | Cheneo, n. See Kieneo.

---

See Cherehana
*Cherehe, Cheree, n. a grindstone. (Cf. kinoa, and prec.)

Cheletezo, n. (vy-), a vessel to burn incense in, often of earthenware,—described as kidude cha kivunziwa manukato, something to burn sweet smelling substances in, a censer, censing-pot. (For ki-telezo, or ki-otezo, cf. ote, otesha, of crouching over a fire or anything warm. Cf. vuikiza, kivunziwa.)

*Cheti, n. (vy-), small written note or memorandum, note, certificate, ticket, passport, &c. (? Hind. Cf. hati, baru.)

Chetu, a. pron. of 1 Pers. P., agreeing with D 3 (S), our, ours, of us. (Cf. -etu, and -ake.)

Cheua, v. ruminate, chew the cud (of ruminant animals). Nt. cheuka, have a rising in the throat. Cs. chesha, e.g. cause eructation. (Cheu, and mcheu, n. seem to be used also of rumination and eructation. Cf. kiungulia.)

Chewa, n. a large kind of fish.

Cheza, v. (1) play, sport, take a holiday, have a game, make a move in a game; (2) idle, waste time, not be in earnest, trifle; (3) act, work, move,—esp. of the easy motion of machine running well, or a hinge, bolt, wheel, watch, &c.; (4) drill, be drilled (as soldiers). Ps. chezaa. Nt. cheza. Ap. cheza-ea, -eza, play with (in, for, &c.), make sport of, mock. Kidude cha kuchesa watoto, a child’s plaything, a toy. Cs. Chesha-eshwa, give a holiday (rest) to. Chesaasha unyago, cause to take part in unyago (which see). Chesaasha frasi, make a horse curvet (prance). Ch. mtoto, dandle a child. Rd. cheza-chesa. Likachesaasha tile jabali, and the rock swayed. (Cf. mchezo, chezo, and perh. cheka. Also of pastime, ongea, sungumza.)

Chezo, n. (ma-), sport, game, play, pastime. (Cf. cheza, mchezo.)

Chiecha, n. the white nutty substance inside a ripe cocoanut, when it has been scraped or grated out with an mbuza, and the oil (tui) strained out by passing water through it. It is generally considered refuse, used for cleaning the hands with, and thrown to the fowls. Described as nazi ili yokunwa, ili yokumuliwa, ili yo chuiwa, i.e. cocoanut grated, squeezed and strained. Also used of the residuum or lees of other oil-producing seeds. (Dist. mcheza, a vegetable, and cf. tui, kasi-mele.)

Chichiri, n. (vi-), commonly kijiri, a bribe, i.e. mali ya kumpa kathi, money given to a judge (to secure his verdict). (Cf. rushwa, hongo, mw ngula.)

Chigi, n. or Chinki, a small yellow bird.

Chikachiehi, n. (ma-), fruit of the palm-oil tree (mchikichi), containing small nuts called kichikichi.

Chimba, v. dig, make (get) by digging,—of excavation, not as lima, of cultivation. Ch. shimo, dig a pit, sink a shaft (mine), make a hole. Ch. kaburi, dig a grave. Ch. udongo, dig out soil. Ps. chimbwa. Nt. chimbika. Ap. chimb-a, -wa. Mh huu umebimbwa na Wafransa, this canal was excavated by the French. Cs. chimb-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. chimbua, chimbuka, chimbo. Also cf. fukua, lima.)

Chimbo, n. (—, and ma-), digging place, place dug out, a digging, pit, mine. Ch. ya mawe, quarry. Ch. ya udongo, clay-pit. (Cf. prec.)

Chimbuwa, v. dig out, dig up, get by digging, as udongo, clay, soil; unga, flour (out of a barrel); magogo, stumps, &c. Nt. chimbuka, which see. (Rv. of chimbo, but similar in result. Cf. chanua, chana.)

Chimbuka, v. used esp. of sun or moon, ‘appear, begin to shine, rise,’ whether from horizon or from clouds. Also chimbuza, Intens. in same sense, force its way out, make its appearance. (Cf. chimbuwa, Chimbu, n. (ma-), a first start, a beginning, standpoint, basis, source, first principle. (Cf. syn. chanzo, asili.)

Chimvi, n. See Timvi.

Chini, adv. (1) down, below, beneath, under, at the bottom, on the ground, downstairs, underground; (2) in a lower place, on foot, at a lower part; (3) in a low (inferior, subject, humble) state (rank, condition, &c.). Often kwa chini in same senses. -a chini forms an adjective bearing any of the above meanings. Yuko ch., he is downstairs. Lala ch., lie on the ground. Wangine waanakwenda ch., wangine juu ya nyama, some go on foot, some ride on animals. Kitambi cha kuwa ch., a cloth to wear on the loins. Nyia ya ch., a subterranean passage. Chumba cha ch., the lower room, or a cellar. Ch. ya Sultan, in the Sultan’s jurisdiction. Chini kwa chini, emphat., at the very bottom, wholly below, &c. (-ni appears to be locative, i.e. chini, on the ground. Cf. inchi, and opp. juu.)

Chinja, v. (1) slaughter, cut the throat of, kill,—esp. of killing animals for food; (2) of brutal indiscriminate killing of persons,—massacre, slaughter, murder. Alimchinjaa adui, he slaughtered his opponent. (It seems sometimes locally used as kala, i.e. cut. Kuchinja kanzu, to cut out a dress.) Ps. chijnjwa. Nt. chinjika. Ap. chinjia, -iwa. Cs. chinjisha, -ishwa. Rp. chinjana. (Cf. chinjio. Same word appears at Mombasa as tinda, also matindo, and poss. in Z. in tindika, and mtindo. For syn. cf. wa, fisha, also chinja.)

Chinjo, n. (act, place, operation of) slaughtering, slaughter-house, massacre, battlefield. (Cf. chinjia.)

Chinusi, n. a kind of spirit, supposed to drag people under water and drown them, swimmer’s cramp.

Chinyango, n. a piece of meat forming a native butcher’s perquisite. (Perh. ki-nyango. Cf. chango.)

Chipuka, v. also Chupuka, sprout, shoot, spring up,—of any plant showing signs of life and growth. Ap. chipuk-ia. Cs. chipukisha, chipusa, and Intens. sprout vigorously. (Cf. follg., and syn. ota, mea, panua.)

Chipukisi, n. (—, and ma-), also Chipuko, shoot, young plant. Dim. kichipukisi. (Cf. chipuka, and syn. mehe.)

Chiririka, v. also Tiririka and Chururika, flow, trickle, run off, glide,—as water, or a snake. (Cf. mchilisi, and tiririka, churuzika, syn. chuza.)

-chirizi, a. machosi machirizi, trickling tears. (Cf. churuzika.)

Cho, -cho, -cho-, a. relat. agreeing with D 3 (S), i.e. ki-o, which. (For relat. see -o.)

Choa, n. (vy-), mark or discoloration of skin,—whether (1) by disease, ringworm, &c., or (2) artificial—beauty spot. Choa cheusi, black (beauty) spot.

Chocha, v. poke, prod, stir up, e.g. an animal in a hole. Ap. choch-ea, -eoa, -elea, -elewa, elesea, -elesewa, poke at, stir up, as a fire or lamp. Chochea kwa kijiti utambwa taa, poke at the wick of a lamp with a bit of stick. Chuma cha kuchokochea moto, a poker. Also in fig. sense, stir up, excite, provoke. Alimchocheleza maneno ya fitina, he stirred up discord against him. Cf. vumbilia. (Cf. mchocho, mchocheo, kichocho.)

Chochorodu, n. (ma-), alley, passage, esp. of narrow passages between houses in a native town. (Cf. the commoner mchochoro, kichocho.)

Chokoka, v. become tired, get weary, be fatigued (worn out, overdone). Nimechoka, I am tired. With noun of things, ch. njia (jua, kasi, &c.), be tired of travelling (weary with the heat, worn out by work). Ch. na mitu, be weary of a person’s company.
chokana, e.g. all be weary together.

Chokaa, n. (1) lime; (2) white plaster; (3) mortar, i.e. in Z. a mixture of lime with sand and red ever. Lime is also used for chewing with tobacco. See Tambuu.

Chokea, n. a sty (in the eye).

Choki-choki, n. fruit of the mchokichoki—with a deep-red prickly rind, sweet white pulp, and large stone.
See Mchokichoki.

Choko, n. vyoko, also Chocho, oven. (See Joko, cf. oka.)

Chokora, v. and Chokoa, pick at, poke, esp. of working at a hard substance with a pointed instrument, knife, or finger, e.g. clear out a hole, take up weeds. Ch. meno, clean the teeth (with a toothpick). See choho-lea, -lewa, kijiti cha huchoko-lewa meno, a toothpick. ? Cs. chokoza, which see. (Cf. chocha, mchoko, chokosa, and chakura.)
— n. (ma-), dependent, follower, hanger-on.

Chokoa, v. tease, bully, annoy,
vex. Ps. chokozwa. Ap. chokos-ewa, -ewa. (Cf. chokora, and syn. sumbua, tesa, uhi.)

Chole, n. a kind of bird, ? a jay.

Choma, v. (1) pierce, stab, prick, thrust (something into); (2) apply fire to, cook, set on fire, burn, brand, canterize; (3) hurt the feelings (of), provok, give pain to, excite. Ch.
mto kisu, stab a man with a knife.
Ch. moto, apply fire. Ch. nyumba moto (or, kwa moto), set a house on fire. Ch. samaki, harpoon a fish.
Ch. muku, run a spear into. Ps. chomwa. Nt. chomeka, i.e. be ierced (burnt, hurt, &c.), but also Act., e.g. chomeka muku, stick a spear in the ground. Chomeka kisu kiunoni, stick a knife into the waistband (girdle). Ap. chom-ewa, -ewa, -elea, -elewa. Chomea majani mfukoni, stuff grass into a bag. Chomelea, stick pieces into, e.g. of repairing clothes by patches, a roof with new thatch, and in masonry of bringing a rough wall to a surface with mortar and small stones. (Cf. tumea, mtomo.)
Cs. chomesh-a, -eshwa, e.g. chomesha mhra, set a dog on, make him angry.
(Cf. chomo, mchomo, chomeo, chomoa, chomosa, also mtomo, tumea, &c., in which t represents ty, ch.)

Chombo, n. (vy-), (1) implement, instrument, utensil, tool, piece of furniture, movable, of any kind or description. Vyombo includes all personal belongings, chattels, household apparatus, baggage. Chombo cha kujanyia kazi, an instrument to work with. Vyombo nya seramala, a carpenter's tools. Chukua vyombo vyangu ndani, carry my things in-dours. (2) A cooking pot being the most universal and necessary utensil, Chombo, by itself, commonly refers to a vessel for containing something, ‘pot, pan, jug, jar, cup,’ but still more universally in Z. means (3) ‘a native sailing vessel, a dhow.’ In this sense it includes a number of varieties, e.g.
ntep, betela, batili, bögala, bedeni, awesia, ghangi, but is distinguished from others of a smaller size, e.g. dau, mntumvi, galawa, mashua—all of which may also carry sails, and from those of European build, commonly called merikebu, jahai, meli, mano-vari, &c. (All coast and foreign trade being formerly carried on in these vessels, the dhow was at once the most remarkable ‘instrument’ and also ‘containing vessel’ known to the natives, whence prob. the use of chombo as its name. Hence also many of the words connected with the dhow and its parts are of non-Bantu origin.) Panda (ingia) chom-boni, go on board (embark in) a vessel. Shuka chomboni, land, go ashore, disembark. (Cf. jombo, and syn. as above, also chungu.)
CHOMEO, n. (ma-), gridiron, toasting-fork, or other similar instrument for cooking, anything used for prickling or piercing. (Cf. choma.)

Chomo, n. (1) a burn, stab, prick, &c. (Cf. mchomo.) (2) Burnt stuff, dross, slag. Ch. la chuma, iron slag, refuse of smelting furnace. (Cf. choma.)

Chomoa, v. draw out, take out, expose, bring to light. Ch. mkuki, take out a spear from a wounded animal. Ch. mwiba, extract a thorn. Ch. kisu, unsheathe (draw, draw out) a knife. (Rv. form of chomoa. Cf. omoa, chomosa.)

Chomosa, v. (1) make a way out, come out, appear, stick out. Maua yanachomosa, the flowers are beginning to appear. Ras inachomosa, the cape juts out (comes into sight). Esp. of the sun, jua limachomosa, the sun bursts out. Hence (2) of the sun, ‘be hot, scorch’ (as if choma). (Intens. form of chomoa. Cf. choma.)

Chonga, n. cut to a shape, shape with a cutting instrument, whence a variety of meanings according to the instrument used and shape produced, ‘hack, chip, bevel, dress, square, point, smooth, carve, &c.’ Chonga mti, trim (dress, square) a tree, ready for cutting into planks. Ch. boriti, trim (square) a pole (for a rafter). Ch. kijiti, cut a stick to a point. Ch. kalama, point a pen, make a pen. Ch. mtumbwi, cut out a canoe. Also, ch. maneno, invent (add to, modify) a story. Ch. sanamu, cut out figures. Ch. mawe, dress stones. Akachonga mvinje sura kama bin Adamu, and he roughly carved the log of cassiorina into a human figure. Mti lililochongwa ncha kama mkuki, a piece of wood which was cut to a point, like a spear. Ps. chongwa. Nt. chongeka. Ap. chong-ega, -eza, -esa, (1) cut with (for, in, &c.). Chongea panda la mnasi, cut a piece off the flower-stem of a cocoanut tree, to increase the flow of sap. But also common in (2) fig. sense, tell tales about, inform against, betray, complain of, accuse (esp. unkindly or falsely), slander, discredit, and still more emphatically chongezea and Intens. chongeleza. Amenichongeza kwa maneno mabaya kwa wali, he discredited me with a shameful story to the governor. Mtu huchongeza na ulimi wake, a man is betrayed by his own tongue. Cs. chong-esa, -esa, -esa. Rp. chonga. (Cf. chongo, mchongo, chongo, chondo, uchongesi, chongelezo, chongoa—also chanja, chenga, chinja—all referring to cutting.)

Chonge, n. also ? chonge, a canine (pointed) tooth, cuspid. Chonge sameno, teeth filed to a point. (Cf. chonga, with pass. termination -e, and for teeth, jino.)

Chongelezo, n. (ma-), what is told to a person’s discredit or disadvantage,—tales, unkind gossip, scandal, &c. (Cf. chonga, uchongesi, &c.)

Chongo, n. absence of one eye, loss of an eye. Mwenyi chongo, a one-eyed person. Ana chongo, he has lost an eye. (Cf. ? chonga.)

Chongoa, v. (1) cut to a shape, round off, cut to an angle (point), bring to a point, sharpen, point; (2) be of a pointed shape, be angular, be jagged. Ch. kikango, round off a cooking pot. Nt. chongoka, be sharp, jagged, e.g. of craggy, precipitous rocks. Ras imech. kama sindano, the cape is as sharp as a needle. (Rv. form of chonga, with similar meaning. Cf. choma, chomoa.)

Chongoe, n. (vy-), a large kind of fish.

Choo, n. (vy-), privy, water-closet, cess-plt, i.e. in Z. a circular pit, lined with stone at the sides, and closing gradually into a small aperture over the centre. Usually connected with the bath-room in large houses. Enda chooni, go to the closet, go to stool. Wakampeleka chooni wakumwogesa, they conducted him to a closet and gave him a bath. Also used (1) of the action of the bowels, &c. Patā ch., have a motion of the bowels. Funga ch., be constipated, have an obstruction of the bowels. Ch. safi, free action of the bowels. Ch. kikubwa is used of solid, ch. kidogo of liquid motions; (2) of (solid) excreta. Hai fai kutia mkojo ao choo katika maji, it is a mistake to put the excreta of either kind in water.

Chooko, n. See Choroko.

Chopa, n. (ma-), handful, of what can be gathered and held in the fingers, as sticks, ropes, bits of wood, &c. (Cf. konsi, n., and chopa. Cf. chopa, v., trade in a small way, hawk goods about the country,—not used in Z. Cf. syn. churusa.)

Chopi, adv., enda chopi, be lame on one side, walk lamely.

Chopoa, v. snatch from the hand, take away suddenly, seize by surprise, pluck away, filch. Ps. chopolewa. Nt. chopoka (and a variant chopuka, churupuka), slip from the grasp, be filched away, escape, extricate oneself, e.g. from a snare. Sungura akachopoka mkononi mwa simba, the hare slipped from under the lion’s paw. Ap. chopolea, -lewa. (Cf. chopa, and syn. ponyoka.)

Choro, n. (—, and ma-), marks made with a tool, engraving, carving, scratch, scrawl, bad writing, hieroglyphics. Also machorochoro, carved patterns, writing. (Cf. chora, and nakshi, bombwe.)

Choroko, n. also Chooko, a small dark-green pea or bean, often mixed with rice and other grain for food. Considered inferior to kunde. Huku-shiba mikundeni, utashiba michoroko- koni? If kunde did not satisfy you, will choroko? (Cf. mchoroko.)

Chosha, v. (Cs. of choka, i.e. for chokesha), make weary, be fatiguing. See Choka.

-Choshi, a. (choshi with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), tiresome, tiring. (Cf. choka, -chovu.)

Chosha, n. and Josho, for ki-osho, ji-osho, washing, place for washing, bathing-place. Mahali pa choshoni, place for washing, e.g. of corpses, or clothes. (Cf. oga, osha, and fua, fuo.)

Chosi, n. and Chozzi, includes two species of birds, one very fond of fresh cocoanut sap, tembo,—a Nectarinia (Sa.).

Chota, v. take up a little of, take a pinch of, take up by bits (pieces), pick up with the fingers. Ch. maji, fetch a little water at a time. Ch. kuni, fetch firewood. Ps. chotwa. Nt. choteka. Ap. chot-ea, -ewa. Kazi yake kumchotea maji mwalimu, his duty was to supply his teacher with water. Cs. chot-esha, -eshwa. (Cf. choto, mchoto, and danga, dona, donoa, also chopa.)

Choto, n. a small part (piece, bit, quantity, amount, a scrap, a pinch). (Cf. chota, mchoto.)

-chovu; a. (chovu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) weary, tired, fatigued, worn out, bored, exhausted; (2) tiresome, tiring, wearying. (Cf. choka, -choshi.)

Chovya, v. put (into), plunge (into), dip (into), make contact with, touch, finger. Ch. kidole motoni, put a finger in the fire. Ch. nguo motoni, plunge clothes into water. Ch. asali, dip into (touch) honey. Mchovya asali hachovyi mara moja, he who dips his finger in honey, does not do it once. Alimchovya haya, he plunged him in confusion. Nt. chovyeka. Ap. chovy-ea, -ewa. Cs. chovy-esha, -eshwa. (Cf. chovy, mchovy.)

Chovyo, n. (ma-), a dip, touch, what is got by a dip (touching). (Cf. chovy.)

Choyo, n. avarice (shown either in getting or keeping), greediness, covetousness, a grasping nature, miserliness, &c. Mwenyi ch., a grasping, niggardly person. Kuva na ch., to be covetous, to grudge. Lia ch., cry for (disappointed) greediness.
Also as a., huyu ni ch. sana, he is a dog in the manger. (Cf. bahili, roho, tamaa.)

Chozi, n. (ma-), (1) a tear, tear-drop; (2) anything resembling a tear, gum on trees, &c. Toka (lia) ma-chozi, shed tears. Bubujika machozi, burst into a flood of tears. Machozi yalimchuruzika usoni, tears trickled down his face. (Cf. chuza.) (3)
One or two species of bird. See Chosi.

Chua, v. sometimes Tua, as at Mombasa, (1) rub, rub down, and so variously, grind, file, pound, polish;
(2) fig. of quarrelling, &c., jar, rub, make discord. Kuchua si kwema, fiction is not good. Chua meno, clean the teeth. Chua mafumba ya ungu, rub down the lumps in meal.
Chua-chua kitwa, rub (chafe) an aching head. Ap. chu-liia, -liwa, -liika. Chulika mafuta, have oil rubbed in. Jiwe la kuchulua, a grindstone. Rp. chuana, e.g. of persons wrestling. (Cf. saga, sugura, more common in Z.)

Chub, int. (the ch being mainly heard), expressing contempt or impatience, 'sht! nonsense!'

Chubua, v. take the skin off, abrade, bruise badly, flog, give a hiding to. Kiatu changu kimenichubua mgwu, my shoe has rubbed the skin off my foot. Ps. chubutua.
Nt. chubuka. Mgongo umechubuka, my back is raw. Ap. chubu-liia,
-liwa. Alikanyagaimoto akamcho-bulia ngozi, he trod on the child and rubbed the skin off. (Cf. follg.)

Chubuko, n. (ma-), bruise, abra-sion, raw place. (Cf. prec.)

Chubwi, n. a plummet, a sinker,— attached to fishing line to assist the cast and sink the bait. (Cf. bili, sounding lead, timazi, carpenter's plumb line.)

Chuchu, n. (—, and ma-), a small hard protuberance on the skin, wart, pimple, small tumour, a callosity.

Chuchu la siwa, treat. (Cf. sugu.)

Chuchumia, v. Ap. reach up (to), stretch up to, as by rising on tiptoe or hind-legs. Mbuzi anachuchumia, the goat is trying to get at (the leaves).

Chui, n. leopard.

Chuja, v. (1) filter, strain; (2) strain out, remove by filtering or straining; (3) cleanse, purify. Ch.
maji yaliyo na taka, filter dirty water.
Ch. nasi kwa kifumbu kupata tui, filter (grated) cocoanut in a bag to get the milky extract. Mmungu achuje taka za moyo wetu, may God take away the impurities of our heart.
Ps. chujwa. Nt. chujika. Moyo chuj-ia, -iwa. Chombo cha kuchujia, a filter (?chujio, ma-). Cs. chujisha, -ishwa. (Cf. chjujo, chujua, and perh. vuja.)

Chujo, n. (—, and ma-), what is got by straining or filtering. Chujo ya asali, molasses, treacle. (Cf.
prec.)

Chujua, v. Rv. form of chuja, implying an opposite result in, or by use of, a liquid, i.e. spoil with water, by washing or otherwise. Amechujua uji wangu, una maji, he has spoilt my gruel, it is too watery.
Ps. chujuluiwa. Nt. chujuka, e.g.
ngwo hizi símechujuka, these clothes are spoilt (in colour) by washing.
Rangi hii haichujuki, this colour does not wash out, it is a fast colour.
Ap. chujuliwa, -iwa. (Cf. chujia.)

Chuki, n. ill humour, bad temper, dislike, resentment. Mtu wa chuki (or, wa chukichuki), one who is quick-tempered, easily put out, ready to take offence. Yuna ch., he is offended, he is sulky. Ona ch., be in a bad temper. Tia ch., offend, vex, make angry. (Cf. follg.)

Chukia, v. hate, have ill feeling towards (e.g. anger, resentment, disgust, loathing, aversion), dislike, abhor. Ps. chukiwa, be hated, &c. Cs. chukiza, -izwa, e. g. cause dislike, offend, put out. Hence chukiz-ia, -izwa. But note that chukia is also used, Act. and Ps., as chukiza, i. e. cause chuki in, as well as, feel chuki towards. Bwana amechukiwa na mtumwa wake, mtumwa wake alimchukiza, the master was provoked by his slave, his slave provoked him. Jichukiza, grow angry of oneself, be angry gratuitously (without cause). Chukizisha, cause to be annoying, make offensive. Chukizana, provoke each other. Rp. chukiana, hate each other. (Cf. chuki, machukio.)
CHUKU

48

CHUMBA

Chuku, n. cupping-horn. Piga ch., make a false impression, exaggerate, tell an incredible story, draw the long-bow. (Cf. umika, ndumiko.)

Chukua, v. (1) carry, bear (a load), take on one's back (shoulders or head, or in one's hands), e. g. as a caravan porter (mpagazi) or town porter (hamali, mchukuzi). Ch. mzigo begani, carry a load on the shoulder,—such load being usually about 60 lbs. weight in a mainland journey. (2) Take, conduct, convey, lead. Ch. mlotu kunywa kwa babaye, take this child to his father (cf. peleka in this sense). (3) Take away, carry off, remove, transport. Ch. taka, remove a mess (cf. ondoa). Also of the feelings, carry away, transport, overwhelm (of joy, sorrow, &c.). (4) Bear up under (passively), i. e. endure, put up with, take peaceably, be resigned to (cf. vumilia, stahimili, shukuru); (5) bear the weight (responsibility) of, support, maintain, sustain. Anach. waze na wake, he is supporting his parents (cf. ponya, rusukisha, saidia). (6) Take (in capacity), contain, hold, have capacity for (of a vessel, measure, &c.), and fig. include, involve, allow of. Chombo hiki kitach, pishi tatu, this vessel will hold three pishi (cf. weka). (7) Take up, use up, require. Safari ile ilitch, siku nyingi, that journey occupied many days. Zawadi hizi zitach. Nguo nyingi, these presents will require a lot of cloth. Chukua has many applications, e. g. neno hili lach. mambo mengi, this word includes many things, i. e. has many meanings. Ch. mimba, be pregnant. Nguo hizi zinakuch, these clothes set off your appearance, give you a fine air (carriage). Ps. chukuliwa. Nt. chukulika (rarely chukuka). Ap. chuku-lia, -liwa, &c., e. g. carry to (for, from, &c.), feel for (towards, about, &c.). Nikuchukuli, let me carry it for you. Chukuliwa mashuku, be an object of suspicion. Inachukulika, it is not too heavy to be carried, it is endurable. Hencechukuliana, be compatible, agree, tolerate each other's company. Cs. chukuza, -zwa, employ a person to carry, lay a burden on, &c. Rp. chukulana, e. g. carry in turns, give mutual support, endure each other, agree together. (Cf. mchukuzi, uchukuzi.)

Chuma, n. (—, and vυ-), iron, a piece of iron. Chuma pua (or pua alone), steel. Nabamba ya ch., iron of a flat kind, hoop iron, iron plate, &c. Pau (or fito) za ch., iron rods, bar iron. (For ki-uma, so cf. perh. uma, kiuma.)

Chuma, v. (1) pluck, gather,—of fruit, flowers, &c.; (2) make a profit, esp. in trade or business, gain in trade, prosper, be well paid. Watu huenda chuma barra, people go to make money up country. Ps. chumwa. Nt. chumika. Ap. chum-ia, -iwa. Cs. chum-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. chumo, uchumi, and syn. Ar. faidi, faida.)

Chumba, n. (vυ-), room, chamber, apartment, i. e. part of a nyumba, esp. of a store house. Nyumba hii ina vyumba vingi, this house has many rooms. Ch. cha kulala, bed room, dormitory. Ch. cha kulia, dining room, refectory. (Cf.
nyumba, jumba, mchumba, also mkato.)

Chumo, n. (ma-), (1) plucking, gathering. Machumo ya zabibu, grapes plucked, vintage. (2) Profit, gain, source of gain, employment. (Cf. chuma, v., and uchumi.)

Chumvi, n. (1) salt; (2) saltiness, pungency (of flavour or quality. Maji ya ch., salt water, brine, sea water (contr. maji baridi, maji ya mvua, maji malamu, maji ya pepo, fresh water). Ch. ya halili, sulphate of magnesia, Epsom salts. Maneno yake ch., his remarks were pungent, had a flavour.

Chuna, v. skin, flay, take the whole skin off. Mmchune ngozi kwa vizuri, msikate wala msitoboe, wala mchune na nyama, mchune vena, take off the beast’s hide properly, do not cut it or make holes in it, and do not take off flesh with it, skin it carefully. Also of stripping bark off a tree. Chuna kamba, get (strips of bark for) rope. Ps. chunwa. Nt. chunika. Ap. chun-ia, -iya. (Cf. chunua, chuni, mchuni, also chubua, ambua.)

Chunga, v. (1) tend, take care of, act as guardian to, but esp. of animals, i.e. act as keeper or herdsman of sheep, cattle, goats, &c., feed, take to pasture, graze, &c. (Cf. mchunga (sf), machunga, and syn. tunza, lishia.) (2) Sift, separate fine and coarse particles, e.g. of flour for cooking, of lime for plaster, &c., by shaking and tossing in a flat basket. (Cf. pepeta, and tunga. Chunga (—) is sometimes n., siftings, husks, coarse particles, &c.)

Chungu, n.(1) (zy-), the commonest kind of cooking pot,—usually a round rather shallow vessel of baked earthenware, red or black in colour, of various sizes, and with a lid of same material. (Cf. ungu, jungu, ki-jungu, and for other household vessels, bakuli, bungu, bia, chano, hero, waya, fua, kombe, kibungu, mkungu, ki-kungu, kango, kikombe, kikango, and see Mtungi, Sufuria, and Chombo.) (2) (—, and of size, ma-), a heap, a quantity, a pile, a mass. Chungu chungu, in heaps, quantities. Fetha sikawa nyings, chungu zima, the coins were numerous, a whole pile. (Cf. syn. fungu, jamii.) (3) An ant, of a common small kind, and so used more generically than other names of species (e.g. mehwa, sifa, maji ya moto, which see). Also used fig. of a poor, insignificant person. (4) (—) sometimes for uchungu, of some particular kind of smart, e.g. naona chungu ya mwiba, I feel the sharp prick of a thorn. Cf. follg.

-chungu, a. (chungu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) bitter, acrid, sour, sharp in taste, acid; (2) disagreeable, unpleasant. Dawa chungu, bitter, unpalatable medicine. (Cf. uchungu, n., also often used as a., and utungu.)

Chungulia, v. look at (down upon, into), esp. of sly or critical and thorough examination, i.e. peep (at), pry (into), cast glance (at), inspect closely. Ps. chungula. Nt. chunguli-ka, -kana. Ap. chungulilia. Ufa wa kuch, a peep-hole. Cs. chunguza, e.g. Intens. look carefully (anxiously, thoroughly) into. (Cf. syn. angalia, tasamia, kagwa.)

Chungwa, n. (ma-), the common sweet orange, fruit of mehungwa (which see), abundant for nine months in the year in Z. (Cf. for other varieties, chens, dance, limau, kangaja, ndimu, balungi, furungu.)

Chuni, n. usu. in pl. machuni, process of skinning, flaying an animal. (Cf. chuna, mchuni.)

Chunjua, n. a small hard protuberance on the skin, a wart. (Cf. chuchu.)

Chunua, v. scrape skin off, skin. Alichunua uso wake, he took the skin off his face. Ps. chunuliwa, Chunusi, n. (1) and Chunuzi, a bit of skin taken off, abrasion, raw place; (2) same as Chunusi, which see.

Chunyu, n. incrustation of salt, deposit from salt water. Nincoga maji ya pwani nafanya chunyu, I have had a sea-water bath, and feel the salt on me. (Cf. munyu, chumvi, nyunyo.)

Chuo, n. (vy-), (1) book; (2) school. Buni (tunga) chuo, write a book, compose a book. Chuo cha serkali, a government school. Mwana-chuoni, or -vunoni, (1) a (boy) scholar, one who attends school; (2) an educated, learned man, a scholar, a man of books. Enda chuoni, go to school. Tiwa chuoni, be sent to school. (For ki-so, from the appearance of a bound book, cf. vo, and for 'book' Ar. syn. msahafu, kitabu, and for 'school' madarasa, soma, v.)

Chupa, v. 'get over' something by leap, step, hop, jump. Chupa gogo, step over a log. Ap. chup-ia, -iwa, and see follg. Cs. chup-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. syn. kia, kituka, and vuka.) — n. (—, and ma-), a bottle. Ch. la kutilia marashi, a scent-bottle. Ch. la mvinyo, a spirit bottle. Also used of the 'womb,' e.g. kwunja chupa, of first stage of childbirth. Dim. ki-tupa (preserving the t, as at Mombasa).

Chupia, v. move quickly, rush, dash, gallop. Frasi mzesu wa kuchupia, a horse accustomed to going quickly. (Conn. with chupa, v.)

Chupuka, Chupua, v. See Chippuka, and Chopoka.

Chura, n. (ev-), a frog.

Churua, n. or Churuwa, and Shurua, measles.

Chururika, v. See Chiririka, and Churuzika.

Churuza, v. and Chuuza, keep a small shop, do a retail business, hawk goods about, be a pedlar. (Cf. mchuruzi.)

Churuzika, v. and Chururika, trickle down, run of, be drained away, as water from roof, blood from wound, rain from a tree, &c. Anach. damu, he bleeds freely. Cs. churusisha, -ishwa, drain off, carry off. (Cf. chirizika, mchirizi, tiririka, and also chusa.)

Chusa, n. (vy-), a harpoon, used for large fish, such as papu, nguru, chewa.

Chuza, v. or Chuuza, Churuzza, trickle, glide, run down. Chosi la unyonge likichuza, as the tear of abject misery falls. Kwanja na kuchuza hakulingani na wazi, oozing and trickling is not the same as open (flood-gates). (Cf. chiririka, churuzika.)

-chwa, v. Ts. from -cha, which see.

D.

D represents the same sound as in English.

D, as an initial in words of Arabic origin, is used for three Arabic letters, viz. Dal, and sometimes Tah and Dhal. See T, Th.

D takes the place of l and r, as the initial of a root, if a formative n is prefixed. Thus kasha refu, a long box; kamba nedefu, a long rope.

D in Z. sometimes represents a j or dy in the Mombasa dialect, and in some words is not clearly distinguished from t. Thus words not found under D may be looked for under J or T.

Words beginning with D are mostly of non-Bantu origin.

-dachi, a. commonly used for 'German.' Mdachi (wa-), Dachi (ma-), a German. Kidachi, the German language, of the German kind. Udachi, Germany, also ulaya Dachi. (From deutsch, cf. jamani.)
DADA

Dada, n. sister, esp. elder sister, a term of endearment among women.

*Dadisi, v. pr'y, be inquisitive, be curious (about), ask unnecessary questions (of). Nimemadisi sana hatta aniambie, I plied him with questions to get him to tell me. Ps. dadisiwa. Nt. dadisiika. (?Ar. Cf. mdadisi, and syn. hoji, chungulia, petkua.)

*Dadu, n. and Dado, game, toy, esp. of dice in Z. Cheza d., play with dice. Machezo ya d., games with dice. (Ar.)

*Dafina, n. hidden treasure, treasure-trove, godsend. (Ar.)

*Daftari, n. an account book, catalogue, list. (Ar. Cf. worotha, hesabu ya mali.)

Dafu, n. (ma-), a cocoanut in the stage when it is full of milk, further described as (1) bupu la dafu, punje la dafu, dafu la kukomba, dafu la kulamba, i.e. when just beginning to form a soft layer of nutty substance in the shell, which can be licked or easily scraped off, and (2) tonga la dafu, when the nutty substance has become thick and tough. Maji ya dafu, cocoanut milk. Dafu is also commonly used for the milk itself,—little cared for by natives. (Cf. nazi.)

Dagaa, n. (? plur. of udagaa), very small fish, fish in an early stage, small fry,—like whitebait, a favourite dish with natives.

*Dai, v. (1) summons, prosecute, sue at law, accuse, charge; (2) claim in court, demand as a right, claim. Nakudai, I accuse you. Nadai kwako haki yangu, I claim from you my lawful rights. Rupia amdayo Tuna, the rupee which Tuna claims from him. Jidai ukali, claim for oneself martial spirit, boast of prowess. Ps. daiva. Ap. daia, claim on behalf of (in reference to, for, from, &c.), act as solicitor for. Rp. daiana, of counter claims, cross-suit. —n. (ma-), legal process, suit, claim, for the more usual: da'wa). (Ar. Cf. mdai, da'wa, and for 'claim' haki.)

*Daima, adv. perpetually, permanently, constantly, continually, always. Namwona d. akipita, I see him constantly passing. Dumu d., emphat., always, for ever and ever, never endingly, eternally. -a daima, a. continual, permanent, lasting. (Ar. Cf. dumu, and syn. siku zote, marra kwa marra, and for 'lasting' ishi, aushi.)

Daka, v. catch, snatch, seize, get hold of,—with a sudden, quick movement, e.g. catch a ball thrown in the air, pounce on a thief, appropriate food greedily. Also daka maneno, make a smart response (quick repartee, sharp reply). Ps. dakwa. Ap. dakia, -iwa. Cs. dakiza, -iza, e.g. object to, rebut, contradict. (?Cf. dakizo, dakua, ndaku, dakuliza, and nyaka, nyakua, and for 'seize' kamata, shikia.) —n. (ma-), recess, receptacle, niche in wall, cupboard. D. la mlango, a recess with a door, cupboard. Dim. kidaka. (Cs. dakua, and dukiza,—prob. the same root.)

*Dakawa, n. towing line, towrope, i.e. kamba ya kufungasia.

*Dakika, n. the smallest division of time, moment, minute, second. Kwa d. moja, in a twinkling, at once. (Ar.)

Dakizo, n. (ma-), objection, contradiction, demurrer. (Cf. daka.)

*Daku, n. midnight meal taken by Mahomedans during Ramathan. (Ar. Cf. Ramathani, futari.)

Dakua, v. let out secrets, gossip at random, talk indiscreetly. Ps. dakuliwa. Ap. daku-ilia, -ilwa, talk foolishly to (for, about, against, &c.). Cs. dakuilia, used as 'contradict, protest against, object to, rebut.' (Rv. of daka. Cf. dakizo, udaku.)

*Dalali, n. salesman, auctioneer, broker, cheap-jack. (Ar. Cf. udalali, and syn. mnadi.)
DALASINI 52  DAWA

*Dalasini, n. cinnamon, from the tree mdalasini. (Ar.)

Dalia, n. a yellow mixture, used by women for personal adornment (cosmetic, scent, &c., and colour).

*Dalili, n. sign, token, mark, trace, indication, evidence, signal. D. ya mvua ni mwengo, the sign of rain is clouds. D. ya mgwu, footstep (on the ground). With negatives, si hatta dalili, not at all, not a vestige, not in the least.

*Dama, n. a game, played on a board like chess, a kind of draughts.

*Damu, n. blood. Nyama na d., flesh and blood. Anatoka d., he is bleeding. Also of the menses, ingri damuni, menstruate. Cf. hethi. (Ar.)

Dandalo, n. a kind of dance. (Cf. ngoma.)

Danga, v. (1) take up little by little, get a little at a time, scoop up carefully (of water in a pit), i.e. d. maji. (Cf. chota.) Hence (2) fig. of enforced and tedious delay, wait, have to wait (but perch. this is tanga, which see).

-danganyifu, a. (dang. with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), deceptive, delusive, cheating, &c.) (Cf. danganyia.)

Danzi, n. (ma-), a bitter orange, fruit of mdanz, which see (and for other varieties, chungwa.)

*Darabi, n. (ma-), rose-apple, fruit of mdarabi.

*Daraja, n. (ma-), (1) step, set of steps, stairs, staircase, bridge; (2) degree, rank, dignity, social station. Akashuka katika d., he descended the staircase. D. kubwa (bora), high rank. A district of Zanzibar city near the bridge is called Darajani. (Ar. Cf. ngazi, ulalo, and for 'rank' cheo.)

*Daraka, n. (ma-), an arrangement, appointment, obligation, duty, undertaking. Madaraka ya nyumbani, household arrangements, domestic economy. Chukulia d., go bail for, answer for, bear the punishment of. (Ar. Cf. diriki, tadaruki.)

*Darasa, n. (ma-), class, meeting for reading or study. Madarasa, school, academy. (Ar. Cf. durusi, also choo, soma.)

*Dari, n. upper floor, upper story, ceiling, roof,—roofs and upper floors in an Arab house being alike made of concrete laid on poles and rammed hard. Darini, juu ya dari, upstairs, on the roof. (Ar. Cf. sakafu, brofa.)

*Darizi, v. See Tarizi.

*Darumeti, n. inside woodwork of native vessel, joists carrying the deck, cross-beams, &c.

*Dasi, n. rope sewn into the edge of a sail for strength, and distinguished as d. ya bara, on the upper (yard) side, d. ya chini, on the lower, d. ya goshini and ya demani, on the narrower and broader ends.

Dasili, n. a powder made of the dried and pounded leaves of a tree mkunazi, used as a detergent (Str.) for a kind of skin disease.

*Dasturi, n. bowsprit,—also called mlingote wa maji. (Dist. desturi.)

Dau, n. (ma-), a large native-built boat, both ends sharp and projecting, and usually with a square matting sail. (Cf. chombo, mtumbwi, mashua, kidau.)

*Daulati, n. the ruling power, government, authorities. (Arab. for the common serkali.)

*Dawa, n. (—, and ma-), medicine, medicament, anything supplied by a doctor, including 'charm, talisman, &c.,' used by native doctors. D. ya kuhara, a purgative, aperient. D. ya kutapisha, an emetic. D. ya kunywa, medicine for internal use. Dawa ya kutia (kupaka, kubandika, kujisuka), medicine for external use. Mada-wa ya nongo-ongo, quack medicines. (Ar. Dist. follg.)
DIDIMIA

*Da'wa, n. or Daawa, and sometimes Mdaawa (mi-), legal process, suit, litigation, legal claim, dispute. (Ar., the aa representing ain. Cf. dai, and dist. dawa, medicine.)

*Dawati, n. writing desk, writing case. Dim. kidawati. (Ar. for inkstand.)

*Dayima, adj. always. See Daima.

*Debe, n. (ma-), tin can,—commonly of the 4-5 gal. tin in which American petroleum has been imported, often used as a pail. Nataka debe mafuta, I want a tin of oil. Nataka debe la mafuta, I want an oil-tin. (Hind.)

*Debwani, n. a turban-cloth,—an Indian cloth, mostly of silk, with red or brown stripes, and worn on the head as a turban.

Dege, n. (1) infantile convulsions, fits (cf. kifafa); (2) a kind of moth.

*Deheni, n. a water-proofing mixture of lime and fat, used on the bottoms of native vessels. Also as v. of applying the mixture. (Ar.)

Deka, v. (1) give oneself airs, live in style, play the grandee; (2) show conceit, be arrogant, be unpleasant. Also jideka, e.g. of a vain woman's gait and bearing. (Cf. syn. jivuna, jiona, piga kiburi, jifahirisha, and shawa.)

*Delki, adv. See Telki. (Ar.)

Dema, n. a kind of fish-trap of open wicker-work. (Cf. mtego.)

*Demani, n. (1) sheet (rope) of mainsail of a native sailing vessel. Hence (2) lee side (in navigation), also called upande wa demani (wa demanini), upande wa chini. Contr. goshi, goshini. (3) Season of the year from end of August to beginning of November, when the south monsoon slackens and gradually dies away,—spring-time in Zanzibar. Also sometimes of the whole season of the south monsoon, from April to October. (Contr. Musimu, and see Mwaka.)

Denge, n. a mode of wearing the hair, a patch on the top of the head only. Kata denge, shave the whole head except the crown.

*Dengu, n. a kind of pea imported from India, and usually mixed with grain, &c. for food. (Cf. choroko, mbaazi, kunde.)

*Deni, n. (—, and ma-), a debt, loan, money obligation. Panya (ingia, jipasha) d., get into debt, borrow, lend. Lipa d., discharge a debt, repay a loan. (Ar. Cf. azimu, also wiia, vitwa.)

*Deraya, n. armour, coat of mail, cuirass, i.e. vao la chuma. (Cf. Arab. adad.)

*Desturi, n. or Dasturi, custom, usage, regular practice, routine. The usual word in Z. (Hind. Cf. Ar. kawaida, ada, nila, mathehebu. Dist. dasturi, bowsprit.)

*Deuli, n. waistband,—a silk shawl or scarf worn round the waist. (Cf. mshipi, mahazamu.)

*Devai, n. wine in general. (Perh. Fr. du vin. Cf. mvinyo, used mainly of spirits.)

*Dia, n. money paid for a life, fine for murder, ransom. Killa mtu dia ya roho yake, every man his ransom (to save his life). (? Ar. Cf. fida, fidi.)

*Dibaji, n. used of the string of prefatory epithets and complimentary titles in Arab letter writing, and more generally 'elegant composition, good style, fine writing.' (Arab. 'painting, embroidery;' cf. udibaji. Such epithets are jenab, muhebb, akram, naskhi, asizi, hashamu, karamu, fathili,—often in pure Arab form with the article il prefixed to each. Cf. anwani, waraka.)

Didimia, v. sink down, go to the bottom, penetrate. Ap. didimik-ia, -twa, bore into, e. g. of a tool. Cs. didim-isha, -ishwa, cause to sink down, force down (into, &c.). Didimisha nguo mkobani, stuff clothes into a wallet. (Cf. tota, zama, zizinia.)

Difu, n. See Kiliifu.

*Digali, n. stem of the bowl of a native pipe. See Kiko.

*Diki, adv. See Tiki, and Shiki.

(Dr.)

Diko, n. (ma-), landing place.

*Dimu, n. See Ndimu.

*Dini, n. religion, creed, worship. Kushika chuo na kusali ndio dini, to follow the Coran and perform the prayers is (Mahommedan) religion. (Ar.)

*Dira, n. mariner's compass, i.e. kipande cha kusafria chombo baharini, an instrument for a ship to steer by on the sea. (Ar.)

*Diriki, v. in general, have power (will, time, opportunity, &c., for), and so (1) be able, be in time (for), reach, succeed, attain, manage, arrange; (2) venture, undertake, guarantee, incur responsibility (for). Nalitakakwenda, sikadiriki, I wanted to go, but I could not manage it. Sijadiriki kuisha kusema, before I could finish speaking. (Ar. Cf. daraka.)

*Dirisha, n. (ma-), window. D. la vibau, a louvre window. D. la kuchunguilia, a window to peep through. (Hindi. Cf. mwangaza.)

*Diwani, n. (ma-), councillor, public functionary, magnate. (Ar.)

Doa, n. (ma-), spot, blotch, mark, stain. Doa la mafuta, a grease spot. Madoadaa, used as a., spotted, variegated, of different colours, speckled.

Doana, n. hook, fish-hook. See Ndoana.

*Dobi, n. (ma-), one who washes clothes, as a trade,—always a man in Z. Usinjanye punda wa dobi, do not treat me as a washerman's donkey. Cf. chombo hiki ki dobi, this vessel is heavily loaded. (Hind.)

*Dodi, n. (ma-), also Udodi, Nndodi, (1) fine wire, whether brass or iron; (2) a bracelet of fine wire, hair, or thread.

*Dodo, n. a very large kind of mango is called embe dodo, or dodo. The word is also used of 'a woman's breast.' Yuna dodo, she has breasts, she is growing up. (Cf. embe.)

*Dodoki, n. (ma-), a long slender fruit, eaten as a vegetable, a kind of lufah. See Mndodoki.

-Dogo, a. (ndogo with D 4 (P), D 6, dogo with D 5 (S)), little (in condition, quality or quantity), small, slight, unimportant, young. Mito ndogo, a small child. Ndugu ndogo, a younger brother. Baba mdogo, father's brother, uncle. Mtu mdogo, a poor man. Adv. kidogo, a little, rather, not very, not much, in small amount. Used as adj. to denote 'small in quantity.' Watu kidogo, a few people. But watu wadogo, poor, inferior people. Maji kidogo, a little water. With negat, 'not' at all, (not) in the least, (none) whatever; esp. with hatta. Sikupi hatta kidogo, I will not give you a single bit, I will not think of giving you any. Sometimes redupl. for emphasis, vitanda vidogodo, or vidogo-vidogo, very small bedsteads. (Cf. contr. -kubwa, -kut, -ingi.)

*Dohani, n. chimney, smoke-stack, and in Z. esp. of (1) funnel, smoke-stack, of a steamer. Hence merikebu ya d. (or ya moshi, smoke), a steamer; (2) a tall narrow basket of sticks and cocoanut leaf-fronds, used for carrying fruit to market. (Ar.)

Dokeza, v. give a hint of, suggest, foreshadow, sketch. (Perh. tokea, cause to come out, make appear. See Toka, Toa. But cf. kidoko.)

*Dokra, n. a cent, hundreth part of a dollar. (Cf. reale.)

Dole, n. (ma-), single banana fruit, i.e. one of a cluster (chana) on a large fruit stem (mkuingu). (Cf. udole, kidole, and ndizi.)
Domó, n. (ma-), (1) large lip, large beak; (2) protuberance, projection, thing resembling a beak, overhanging crag, &c.; (3) brag, boasting, cant. Piga domó, let the tongue wag, brag, boast. (Cf. mdomó, kidomó, and for 'boasting' (ji)semea, (ji)vuna, (ji)gamba, (ji)sisu.)

Dondó, n. (—, and ma-), large sore, ulcer,—so common an ailment as to be used as typical of sickness and disaster generally. Mwungu atakupa d., God will bring sickness upon you. Doná jwá yá donda, blow on blow (i.e. calamity). D. ndugu, spreading, confluent ulcers. Dim. kidondá. (Cf. donda, v., dondoba, and for 'small sores' upéle.) —v. fall by drops, drip, fall in bits (bit by bit). (Cf. more common tona, also donoá, donda, n.)

Dondo, n. (ma-), (1) large tiger-cowry shell, used by tailors for smoothing down seams to a good surface (cf. kawri). Hence perh. (2) dressing for cloth, starch, chalk, &c., used to give a good surface and appearance to inferior material. Ngwó yá dondo, glossy calico. (3) Sometimes of 'twigs, chips, scraps' of wood, leaves, &c., e.g. for lighting fires. (Cf. donda, v.)

Dondoa, v. (1) pick up bit by bit, pick over grain by grain, &c.; (2) let fall bit by bit, drop, cause to drip; and so perh. (3) form sores, cause illness; (4) make selections (from), compile knowledge (by). Umálishi samaki utamondo a mvili, if you let him eat fish, you will cause sores on his body. Nt. dondoza. Mbégu ziméndondo, the seeds dropped one by one from my hand. (Rv. of donda, with similar meaning. Cf. chongá, chongoa, &c.; also donda, n., and sollg.)

Dondoo, n. (ma-), selections, notes, extracts, quotations, choice bits, e.g. in an anthology. (Cf. donda, dondoa, &c., and for similar idea okota, mateusi.)

Dondoro, n. a kind of antelope. (See Paa, for the only sort seen in Z.)

Donge, n. (—, and ma-), also Tonge, small rounded mass, ball, lump, e.g. of a mouthful of rice, rolled in the fingers and put in the mouth,—in this sense usually Tonge. Kwiringa donge za wali na kutia kivani, to make a little ball of rice and put it in the mouth. Donge la uzi, a ball of thread. Dim. kivanyá madongé, the blood is forming clots. Dim. kidonge, e.g. a pill. (Cf. bonge, tonge, and perh. udongo.)

Donoá, v. peck, strike at (with beak or fangs), e.g. of fowls and snakes. Nyoka ilimondoá jwá yá utosti, the snake struck him on the crown of his head. (Cf. dona, donoá, &c.)

*Dopa, n. (ma-), a sail-maker's palm, for coarse sewing.

Doria, n. used of 'white muslin' in trade. (Hind.)

*Doti, n. a piece of cloth suited for, and worn as, a loincloth, shuka, i.e. about 2 yards of full width, or 4 yards of narrow material. (Hind.)

Doya, v. go as spy, éconnoitre, spy out (but in Z. peleleza is usual).

*Dua, n. a prayer, special supplication, request made in prayer, addressed to God. Omba dua, offer a prayer, make a request, to God. (Ar. Cf. omba, maombi, and sala,—which suggests the outward ceremonial aspect of prayer.)

*Duara, n. used of (1) wheel, circle, rounded object, and (2) any machine of which the principal feature is a wheel, e.g. crane, windlass, capstan, &c. (Ar. Cf. mduara, dura, mwiringo.)

Dubwana, n. (ma-), a person of extraordinary size, a giant, a colossus. Also used as a. -dubwana, of anything gigantic,—animal, tree, or other object. *Mtu mdubwana, a giant. (? Cf. bwana.)

Dude, n. (ma-), the vaguest and most general term for referring to any object, = kitu usichokijina jina lake, 'something of which you do not know the name, or have no word to describe, a thing, a what-do-you-call-it, an object. Dude gani hili? What in the world is this object? Dim. kidude.

Dudu, n. (ma-, of size), large insect. See Mdudu, which is commonly used. Dim. kidudu.

Duduka, v. be disfigured (by illness or disease). Duduka uso, have face pitted, marked with small-pox. Ps. dudukwa. Nadudukwa na pele, I am disfigured by an eruption. (Cf. umbua.)

Duduvule, n. a stinging insect, which bores in wood (Str.).

-dufu, a. (dufu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), dull, insipid, tasteless, flat, uninteresting, good for nothing,—of persons and things. Tumbako dufu, mild, flavourless tobacco. Mtu mdufu, a stupid, dull person;—also dufu la mtu, in same meaning.

Duka, n. (ma-), shop, stall. Tembea madukani, walk in the bazaar. Weka duka, open a place of business. Vinja duka, close a shop, give up business. (Cf. Ar. dakkán.)

Dukiza, v. and *Dukisa, intrude oneself, listen secretly, try to overhear. *Jidukiza, play the eavesdropper, intrude where not wanted (offensively). (? Ar. dakas, and follg. Perh. same as dakisá.)

Dukizi, n. (ma-), eavesdropping, scandal-mongering. (Cf. dukisa, mdukizi.)

Dumbwí, n. See Kidimbwe.

Dume, n. (ma-), a male, esp. of animals. Prasi dume, or dume la frasi, a stallion. Bata dume, a drake. See -ume.

---

Dumia, Dumisha. See Dumu.

Dumu, v. remain, continue, endure, last, abide. *Dumu daima, last for ever,—used also as adv., for ever and ever. Ap. dum-iia, -iwa. Dumia kazi, remain at, persevere in work. Also, remain with, attend on,—of service. Cs. dum-ishia, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. daima, udumu.)

Dumu, n. (ma-), also Mdumu (mi-), can, pot, jug, mug, esp. of metal. Dumu la maji, water-can.

Dundu, n. (ma-), large pumpkin, gourd, calabash, the shell used as a vessel to hold liquids.

Dunge, n. (ma-), a cashew apple in green, unripe stage,—fruit of mbibo. (Cf. mbibo, korosho, bibó.)

Dungu, n. (ma-), a stage or platform, raised from the ground and often roofed over, for a watchman guarding crops on a plantation. (Cf. kilingo.)

Dungudungu, n. used to describe anything of unusual shape or quality, 'a wonder, marvel, curiosity.' (Cf. ajabu, kioja, tunu.)

Dungumaro, n. (1) a kind of evil spirit ; (2) a drum used in expelling such a spirit. (? Mdungumaro, a person possessed by this spirit.)

Duni, a. inferior, low, mean, abject, worthless. Mtu d., a nobody, an insignificant person. Hali d., an abject condition. (Ar. Cf. thaifu, -nyonge, hafisu, -dógo.)

Dunia, and Dunya, the world, universe, earth (as a whole). Fariki d., depart from the world, die. Mtu wa d., a worldly man. Mambo ya d., or simply dunia, the way of the world, worldly affairs, the spirit of the age.* (Ar. Cf. ulimwengu.)

Durabini, n. and *Darubini, telescope, microscope, or similar optical instrument, i.e. kipande cha kutaszamia, an instrument for seeing with. Piga d., use a glass. (Ar. or Pers. Cf. miwani, spectacles.)

Duru, v. surround, be round, go round, put round. (Arab. for common B.zunguka, zungusha, &c. (Cf. duara.)

Durusi, v. study a book, meet in class, attend school. (Arab. for common B. soma, ena chuoni. Cf. da-rasa.)

Dusumali, n. a coloured handkerchief or scarf, often with green and red stripes, and of Persian manufacture, worn on the head by women. (Ar. or Pers. Cf. utaji, shela.)

Duzi, n. (ma-), eavesdropper, tale-bearer, gossip-monger, slanderer. (Cf. dukisi, and the commoner mpele-lezi.)

E.

E represents the sound of a in 'gate,' and (esp. when unaccented) the lighter sound of e in 'ten.' In some words of Arabic origin (1) it is used for a sound between a and e (cf. Elfu, Hewa, and A); (2) it is used in Zanzibar characteristically for what is heard in other dialects as a, e.g. merikebu, rather than marikabu, sheria for sharia, shebaha for shabaha; (3) it is not distinguished from i, not being so distinguished in Arabic writing or common pronunciation. (Cf. elimu, ilmu, &c.)

Thus words not found under E may be looked for under A or I.

When a in a prefix or formative syllable precedes an e or i, the two together are usually pronounced e, e.g. akenda for akeenda, he went; kwewa for kwewaita, to call them; weesi for waisi, thieves; mengi for maiingi, many (things).

For e as an interjection see Ee and Ehee. The same e is used and repeated at the end of a word intensively, esp. to express distance, e.g. akaenda e-e-e, and he went on a very long way; kule-e-e, far away yonder; pepepe-e-e, a very white, clean surface, — in each case the intonation of e being raised higher in proportion to the intensity or distance indicated.

-e is (1) the characteristic sign of the Subjunctive Mood, taking the place of the final a of a verb in the Indicative Mood; (2) a passive termination of some verbal nouns, e.g. kiumbe, kombe, uetele, ushinde, utume.

-o (or -ye) (1) affixed to a noun, represents the pronom. a. yake, e.g. nyumbae or nyumbaye for nyumba yake, his house; (2) after a verb-form or tense-sign, represents ye, the form of relative corresponding to 1, 2, 3 Pers. S., e.g. niliye, I whoam; umpendaye, you who love him, or, he whom you love; (3) in combination with the prep. na or kwa, represents the pronoun of 3 Pers. S. yeye, e.g. nae or naye, for na yeye, and kwae or kwaye, for kwa yeye; (4) is used as the final sound of a common contracted form of the Personal Pronouns, except the 3 Pers. P. wao, i.e. mi(y)e for mimi, we(y)e for weewe, yee for yeye, si(y)e for sisi, n(y)i(y)e for ninyi.

Ebbe, int. also Bee, commonly used by slaves or inferiors in reply to a call, 'yes! coming! I hear!' (Ar. See Lebeka.)

Ebu, int. also Ebuu and Hebbu, Well then! Come then!—often in expostulation or reproof.

Eda, n. time of customary ceremonial mourning, or seclusion from company, e.g. of a woman after a death or divorce. Kalia eda, remain in mourning, or in seclusion. Akakaa eda akavaa kaniki miezi minne, she remained in seclusion and wore mourning four months. (Ar. Cf. matanga, under Tanga.)

Edashara, n. and a., eleven. -a edashara, eleventh. (Ar. Cf. wahedi, and ihshara, also B. syn. kumi na moja.)

Ee, int. Oh,—in invocation or assent. Ee Mungu, O God. Ee bwanu, O Sir. Ee walla, Ee waa, O yes! All right! Certainly, Sir! (literally, Yes, by God!).

Egama, v. be in a resting or reclining position,—not lying down, but propped on elbow or support. Also Rf. jiegama, place oneself in a resting position, recline, prop oneself (in a position). Ap. egam-ia, -iwa, rest on, lean on, recline on.
Aniachamugmutu mwake, he leaned upon his chest. Cs. egamisha, -ishwa, canse to lean, prop, support. (Cf. fogg., also tegemea.)

Egema, v. (1) lean on, rest on, bé supported by; (2) trust to, rely upon. Ps. egemewa, be leaned upon, to be a support (to), be trusted (by).
Cs. egem-esha, -esa, -eshwa, &c., e.g. (1) prop up; (2) confirm, help to establish, give support to, find ground for. Rp. egemeana. (Cf. egama, egesa, tegema.)

Egemo, n. (ma-), prop (e.g. handrail or balustrade of staircase), support, ground of belief or action.
(Cf. prec. and tegemo.)

Egesha, v. Cs. cause to rest, bring into close contact, make secure, &c.
Egesha chombo p\wani, bring a vessel to land, moor, make fast. E. mashua ngazini, secure a boat to the gangway of a ship. Sikumuwegesha naye, I did not bring him into contact with him, introduce him to him, make him a friend of his. Ps.
Kp. egeshana, e.g. moor two vessels alongside, bring together, come into contact.

Ehee, int. of assent (spoken with rising intonation, and stress on last syllable), yes, just so, I quite understand. (Contr. Ee-he, ee-e, of dissent, and cf. a-haa.)

Ekerahi, n. or Ikirahi, aversion, disgust, horror, abhorrence, that which provokes aversion, &c. (Ar. Cf. ki-rihi,—the e- or i- representing Alif.)

-ekevu, a. having aptitude, having capacity,—of persons. (Cf. wekevu, and -elekevu, of which it is a shortened form, -ekevu, for -elekevu, -elekevu.
See Elekea.)

Ekuva, v. break, break up, break down, cause to give way. Ekuva dari, break through a concrete ceiling.
Nt. ekuka. Maji yameekua ngazi, the water has broken down the steps
(by undermining them). Mwizi ameekua mlango, the thief broke down the door. Boriti ya dari ineekuka, a rafter of the ceiling has given way. Also of breaking up a road, or floor. (Perh. a variant of wekua and tekua, with same meaning.
Cf. egemea and tegema.)

-ekundu, a. (nyekundu with D 4 (P), D 6, jekundu with D 5 (S)), 'red' of all shades and varieties—scarlet, purple, pink, &c. Of European complexion 'fair, fresh, ruddy,' of native
'light-coloured, reddish yellow,' esp.
of Arabs. (ekundu, -upe, white, and -eusi, black, are the only simple ads. of colour in Swahili, others are supplied by reference to typical objects.)

*Ela, conj. also Illa, ila, except unless, but. (Ar., 'if not.' See Illa.)

*Elafu, n. and a., a thousand.
(To. See Elfu.)

*ele, a. sick, ill, bed-ridden.
(To. See Mwele, Uela.)

Elea, v. (1) float, be afloat, swim
(of things), be on the surface.
Chombo chaela, the vessel is afloat.
Cs. ele-za, -zwa, set afloat, swim.
Cf. chlezo. (2) Of uncomfortably internal feeling, moyo wametelea, my heart palpitates, my stomach is upset,
I feel sick, I am nervous. Cs. eleza moyo, nauseate, make nervous, affect the heart or stomach. (3) fig. be clear, be intelligible. Maneno yake yamenielea, his statement is intelligible to me, I understand what he says. Ps. elewa. Siclewi maana, I do not see the meaning. Cs. ele-za, -zwa, explain, make clear. Ntakuelaza habari, I will explain the matter to you. Also Ap. ele-za, -zwa, in same meaning. (Dist. eleka, and elekea, which see.)

*Eleka, v. carry astride on the hip—as native women do their children, secured by the arm. Mama, nieleke, mother, please carry me. Asio mwana na eleke jiwwe hivi, whoever has not a child, let her just bring a stone instead. Cs. form, elkeana, pile up one on another. (Ar. Cf. beba, and mbeko.)

Elekeav, v. Ap. also Lekeav, (1) point to, be directed towards, incline to, tend to, be opposite, face, correspond to, agree with; (2) be rightly directed, be satisfactory, turn out well, succeed. Anaiekeav kwenda, he is inclined to go. Maneno haya ya- menelekeav, this matter has been satisfactory. Cs. elke-esa, -eswa, point, direct, show the way to. Sermala waria awakaleka waanafunzi bass, the master carpenter merely gives directions to his apprentices. El. chombo, steer a ship. El. bunduki, aim a gun. El. kidole, point the finger. El. njia, show the right course. El. nia, direct attention. Elekezana, come to an agreement among themselves. Rp. elekean, be directed towards each other, or to a common point, be facing one another, be opposite (contradictory), agree, correspond. Obs. also elekan, correspond. Cs. eleke-anisha, -anishwa. (Poss. conn. with Elea, which see, and cf. follg.)

-elekevu, a. also -lekevu, and -ekevu, handy, apt, having a capacity for or a knack of. Mtu mwelekevu wa kasi, a good capable workman. (Cf. elekeav, &c.)

Elemea, v. See Lemea.

*Elsen, n. and a., two thousand. (Ar. dual of elfu. Cf. syn. elfu mbili.)

*Elf, n. (—, and ma—), also Elf, Elafu, and a., a thousand, thousands. Rd. elfu elfu, of enormous numbers, myriads. —elfu, thousandth. (Ar. elf, pl. alaf. Cf. elfen, and syn. mia kumi, and obs. e for a.)

*Elmu, n. and Ilmu, knowledge, learning, wisdom, science, education, doctrine, teaching. Elmu ndio mwanga uongozao, knowledge is the guiding light. (Ar. Cf. muvalu, maalamu, mtaalamu, elimisha, and syn. hekima, busara, maarifa, akili.)

-ema, a. (njema with D 4 (P), D 6, jema with D 5 (S)), good,—including goodness of all kinds and degrees, whatever commends itself to feelings, taste, reason, or conscience; and translatable in a corresponding variety of ways, pleasant, beautiful, sensible, right. Muungu ni mwema, God is good. Chakula chema, nice food. Kasi njema, sound workmanship. Uso mwema, a handsome face. Dawa njema lakini si njema, the medicine is effective, but nasty. Linakuku kwa Muungu lote jema, all is good that comes from God. Vema, adv., well, rightly, nicely, &c. A common rejoinder of assent is vema, also njema, ngema, very well, certainly. Sema vema, speak clearly. Tengeneza vema, arrange carefully. Sometimes without a noun, mema na maovu ndio ulimwengu, the world is a mixture of good and evil. (Cf. syn. (in some senses) -zuri, -zima, and contr. -haya, -ovu, -bou. Occasionally -ema, like -ote, -enyewe, takes pronominal forms. Jawabu lema, a good answer. Zema haziosi, good things never go bad.)

Embe, n. (—, and of size ma—), mango, the fruit of the muvembe, very plentiful for three months. Dec. to Feb., in Z. Various kinds are known as enbe dodo, very large; sikio la punda, long and narrow in shape; enbe boribo, i.e. the Bourbon mango. (See Mwembe, and Tunda. Dist. uembe.)

Embwe, n. (ma-), a kind of gum or glue. E. la mbuyu, a sticky paste made from the fruit of the baobab tree (mbuyu).

Enda, v. go—including a wide range of meanings under the general idea of motion, such as (1) go, move forward, proceed, progress; (2) begin to go, start, set off; (3) go away, depart, withdraw; (4) go on, keep on, continue; (5) move, have motion, be in motion, act, work, operate; (6) make its way, occur, have a use, be possible. (Cf. huenda, kwenda.) Enda, go away, is commonly followed by a pronom. adj. with pfx. z, as if with njia in plur. understood. Naenda zangu, I am going away. Enda zako, go (you) away, also zetu, zenu, zao. The Rs. form jienda is used of automatic, easy, or perpetual motion, e.g. mashua inajienda, the boat goes of itself. The Rd. form enda denotes continued motion, 'go on and on.' Enda is used in some phrases idiomatically without idea of movement, e.g. enda chafya, sneeze; enda mwayo, yawn; enda wazimu, be mad, act as a madman. Enda is also used as a semi- auxiliary with future meaning and often followed by an Infinitive Mood without the Infinitive sign ku-. Maji yaenda letwa, water is going to be brought, but usu. including the idea of some one going for it. Watu walikwenda kwitwa, the people were sent for. Mwivi aenda hukumiwa, the thief is going to be tried. (See also -endapo.) Enda tembea, go on foot. Enda kwa miguu, go on foot, walk. Enda kwa frasi, ride. Enda kwa gari, drive. Ap. (1) end-ea, -eewa, -eka, -ekesa, -eana, &c., go to (for, by, in, &c.). Endea kuni, go for (to fetch) firewood. Jienda, go voluntarily, walk for pleasure, amuse oneself, stroll about. (Contr. jienda above.) Endeka, admit of going upon, be passable, be practicable, e.g. of a road. Njia hii haiendeki, this road is impassable. Hakuendeki, of the weather or circumstances generally, 'travelling is out of the question.' Endekeza, make able to go, and so 'adapt, fit, put in order, put to rights.'

(2) End-elea, -elewa, -eleka, -eleza, &c., (a) move on, progress, advance, increase, often further defined by nbele, forward. Endelea nyuma, go back, recede, decrease, &c. (b) Continue indefinitely, have no end. (Cf. mvwendelesi, maendeleo, &c.) Endeleza, cause to go on, prolong, keep working at, make progress with. Enda maneno, make a long speech. Enda nake, work at a mat. Enda waraka, go on with a letter. Endeleza is also used of spelling, i.e. making the letters or words go on. Enda neno hili, spell this word. Cs. end-esha, -eshwa, -eshana, cause to go, permit to go, assist to go, send, dispatch, pay passage of, show the way to, accompany, &c. Endesha nitoto, teach a child to walk. Endesha kazi, push on a job. Rp. endana, e.g. maguruudumi yake yana- endana vizuri, its wheels all work together beautifully, e.g. of watch- work. (Cf. nenda, enenda, mwendo, endeleo, mvwendelesi, huenda, -endapo, &c.)

-endapo, a verb-form used, with Pers. Pfx., and sometimes endapo only for all persons, as a conj. 'in case of, if, when it happens that,' e.g. nenda- apo nikisa ao nikaugwa, suppose I died or was taken ill. (From enda with the generalized meaning 'happen, take place,' and -po, which see. Cf. huenda.)

Endeleo, n. (ma-), usually in plur. form, going on, progress, advance, success. (Cf. enda, mvwendelesi, &c.)
Enea, v. be spread out (abroad, over), be extended over (among, in), be diffused in, permeate, cover whole extent (of), become generally known (among, to, in), be distributed (to), be coextensive (with), correspond (to), be suited (fitted, adapted, for), &c. Muungu aenea dunia yote, God pervades the whole world, God is omnipresent. Maji yameenea inchi yote, the water has inundated the whole country. Amewagawanyia watunguo, lakini haikueenea, he distributed cloth to the people, but it did not go round. Upanga amekueenea, the sword is just your size. Ps. enewa. Cs. ene-za, -eza, -zaa, &c., (1) spread, extend, cause to cover, distribute, make coextensive with, adapt, suit; (2) compare, cause to fit, measure one thing with another, take measure of, judge. Walienesana, they compared themselves. Alieneza mtoto wake, he took his son’s measure. (Cf. enenza.) Muungu aemwenzenza killa mtu riziki zake, God has put the means of living in every man’s hands. Eneza habari, publish news, divulge information, advertise. Rf. jieneza. Alijieneza mwili mzima selaha, he armed himself from head to foot. (Cf. eneo, enesi, enenza.)

Enenda, v. also Nenda, same as enda in the simple senses, ‘go, move, proceed, go on,’ but not used by natives indiscriminately, and not usually in any derived forms. Waka-enenda miji mweninge, and they went to another town. Tumbo la kuenenda, diarrhoea.

Enenza, v. and Enza, (1) examine, inspect, consider; (2) measure, take the measure of, compare by measurement. Rp. enenzana. (Cf. eneza (2), with which it appears identical, and enesi, but obs. eneszi follg., and enenda.)

Enenzi, n. (ma-), esp. in plur., going, walking, pace, gait, way of going on, behaviour. Makenzi ya polepole (ya haraka, ya utesi), slow (hasty, quick) going. (Cf. enenda, enda, mwenendo.)

Eneo, n. (ma-), extent, spread, range, reach, province, covering power, extent covered or affected, sphere of influence. E. la Muungu, omnipresence of God. E. la marathi, spread of sickness, affected area. (Cf. enea, and follg.)

Enesi, n. (ma-), spreading out, extension, distribution. Cf. Muungu ni mwenesi, God is the Great Giver. Makenzi ya chakula, dealing out of portions of food, making food go round. (Cf. enea, enesi, eneo, &c.)

Enga, v. (1) split up, slice up,—used of preparing cassava (munhogo) for cooking. Also (2) coddle, pet,—of treating a child with overcarefulness. Sometimes Rd. enga-enga muto, spoil a child (by petting). Ps. engwa. Ap. eng-za,-eza. (Cf. engua.)

Engua, v. skim, take scum off, remove froth, &c., as of fermenting liquor, or in cookery. Ap. engulia,-uliva. (Cf. prec.)

-enu, a. pronom. of 2 Pers. P., your, yours, of you. (For the prefixes, and use in combination with ninyi or wenyewe, or both, see -ake.)

-enyewe, a. (like -enyi, follows the rules of the pronounal adjectives, -angu, -ako, &c., as to agreement with nouns), used to express identity, distinctness, and (of persons) personality. Mtu wenyewe, the man himself, the very person, the particular individual, Kasha lenyewe, the actual box. Vitu vyenyewe, the very things. Often with the personal pronouns, mimi wenyewe, weve wenyewe, &c., I myself, you yourself, and sometimes with nifsi added, nipo mimi wenyewe, nifsi yangu, here I am, my own proper particular self. Sitaki wenyewe, I utterly refuse, I will not have it,—a strong emphatic refusal. Also with ji in reflexive verbs, e.g. alijimwa mwenye, he hurt himself. Mali ya mwenye, the property of the owner, i.e. of some one else, not mine or yours. (Cf. -enyi, and mwenyewe.)

Enyi, int. of 2 Pers. P., You there! I say, you! (For ee ninyi. Cf. ewe for ee weve.)

-enyi, a. (also -eny, following the rules of pronominal adjectives, -angwa, &c., as to agreement with nouns), having, possessing, with, in a state or condition of. Always followed by a noun or equivalent, defining the object, state, condition, &c. referred to. Largely used to supply the lack of adjectives in Swahili, admitting as it does of combination with (1) Nouns, e.g. -enyi mali, wealthy, -e. mwewe, stony, -e. uzuri, beautiful, -e. kuwa, self-existent, -e. enzi, all-powerful, -e. watu wengi, populous, -e. tambo, corpulent, -e. nimbo, pregnant. (Cf. similar use of prep. -a.) (2) Verb-forms, not only Infinitives, -enzi kutawala, ruling, reigning, -e. kwenda, capable of movement, &c., but also finite forms and even sentences, e.g. mwenyi ameiba, the man who has stolen, the thief. Mwenyi hawesi, a sick man. Nani mwenyi ataka kwenda? Who wants to go? Hao ndio wenyi hawakupapa, these are the absentees. Penyi, kwenyi, mwenyi are also commonly used for defining time, place, or circumstances. Penyi mwitu, in a forest. Kwenyi Ijumaa, on Friday. Mwenyi hapo, when he is absent, in his absence. (Cf. -enyewe, mwenyewe, mwenyi, mwinyi.)

Enza, v. See Eneza.

*Enzi, n. also Ezi, supreme power, sovereignty, dominion, rule. Mwenyi esu Mtshu, Almighty God. Kiti cha enzi, chair of state, throne. (Ar. Cf. syn. mamlaka, utawala, ngumwe, &c.)

Epa, v. get out of the way of, avoid being hit by, swerve from, flinch, shirk, e.g. of avoiding a missile, a blow, or any danger of the sort. Epa jiwe, avoid a stone.
each other's way,—less pointed and deliberate than epushana above. (Cf. epa.)

erevu, a. (nyerevu with D 4 (P), D 6, jerevu with D 5 (S)), shrewd, clever, cunning, resourceful, canny, crafty,—not often a term of praise, but not always in disparagement, as -janja. (Perh. cf. elea, mwelewa, and follg., and contr. -jinge, -pumbafo.)

Erevuka, v. become shrewd, be clever, have worldly wisdom, have the eyes open. Cs. crevu-sha, shwa, make wise, teach prudence to, open the eyes of, initiate in the ways of the world. (Cf. prec.)

Esha, n. also Isha, the latest Mahommedan hour of prayer. Kusali esha, to attend evening prayers. Used for period from 6.30 p.m. to 8.30 p.m. (Ar. See Sala.)

-etu, a. pronom. of 1 Pers. P., our, ours, of us. (For the prefixes and use in combination with sisi, or wenyeu or both, see -ake.)

Eua, v. (sometimes heard as aua, cf. geuza, gauza), make white, whiten, clean, cleanse, purify, perh. only used in a ceremonial sense, purification after defilement by the usual Mahommedan rites, or a sprinkling as a charm against disease. Mwanamke ameutilwa njusi, the woman has been purified of her uncleanness. (Cf. ewepe, weno, and syn. takasa, tohara.)

-ewepe, a. (nyewepe with D 4 (P), D 6, jewepe with D 5 (S)), (1) white, of any shade or kind, light-coloured, bright, clear, transparent; (2) clean, clear of all obstruction, open, unoccupied; (3) pure, righteous. Watuewepe, white people, Europeans, but it is also used of light-coloured Arabs, Indians, Abyssinians, &c. Moyo mweupe, a pure, honourable, upright character. Inchi haina mwitu, nyewepe, the country is open and treeless. Pempe, an open place, clearing in a forest, square in a town, unoccu-pied ground. Kweupe, dawn of day, morning light, fine weather. (Cf. opp. -ewusi, also -ekundu and note, ewa, &c., and for 'brightness' weupe, nuru, uangafu, muwanga.)

-ewusi, a. (nyeweusi with D 4 (P), D 6, jeusi with D 5 (S)), black (of any shade or kind), dark-coloured, gloomy, dim, dusky, dark, including dark shades of blue, green, red, &c., colours being mainly grouped according to relative lightness and darkness. Watu weusi, natives (in general), i.e. non-Europeans. (Cf. weusi, giza, and opp. -ewepe, &c.)

Ewaa, int. or Eewaa, commonly used in assent, by inferiors or slaves, 'Yes, Sir!' Certainly, Sir!' Also of approval, 'Just so, that is right.' (Ar. = ee wallah, Yes, by God. Cf. Inshallah, wallai, &c.)

Ewe, int. for ee weve, You there! I say, you!—in calling attention or in remonstrance.

Ewedeka, v. See Wewedeka.

Eza, v. See Enza for Enenza.

Ezeka, v. thatch, cover with thatch, i.e. usually with grass, reeds, or cocoanut leaves, makuti. E. paa, cover a roof with thatch. E. nyumba, thatch a house. Ps. ezekwa. Ap. ezekaa, of men or material, sima mua wa (mali ya) kuniseeka, I have no one (no means) to do my thatching. (Cf. follg.)

Ezua, v. take thatch off, strip a roof, uncover the rafters,—as is done, e.g. in Z., when a fire is spreading. (Cf. prec.)

F.

F represents the same sound as in English.

F and v are not distinguished in Arabic, and in some Swahili words they are not clearly distinguishable, as in the adjectival termination -fu or -vu, e.g. in kamilifu, -vumiliwu, and in words like juta (juta), fringa (viringa), fukiza (wukiza), funda (vunja), though a difference of meaning is often involved. Cf. faa and vaa, fua and vua, &c. Hence words not found under F may be looked for under V.

F before the causal formative -y sometimes represents p in the simple verb, e.g. ogopa has a Cs. form ogofya as well as ogosha, and apa has afya as well as apisha, apisa. (Cf. similar change of v for b in gomba, ugomvi, iba, mwivi.)

Faa, v. (also kufa in some forms. For the use of ku- before monosyllabic verb-roots see Ku-1 (d.). (1) die, perish, cease to be (live, act, work, feel); (2) lose strength, decay, fade, be benumbed; (3) come to an end. Wendi walikyuja vitani, many died in war. Kufa, or kufa kwa, marathi (njaa, mafi, baridi, &c.), to die by pestilence (famine, drowning, cold, &c.). Njia imekufa, the path is disused. Sheria inakufa, the law is falling into abeyance, becoming obsolete. Ap. fia, fiva, esp. (1) in local sense, fia barya (bahari), die up country (at sea), and (2) in a pathetic sense, die to the loss or sorrow of, e.g. amefia mamaye, he has died to his mother's sorrow, he has died and left his mother to mourn him. Maua yamenifia kwa jua, the sun has killed my poor flowers. Kufa jua and kufia jua are used of sunstroke. Esp. common in the Ps., i.e. fwa, have a death in one's family or among one's friends. Kurnefwa, there has been a death. Alijiwa na mtoto, he lost his child. Nakimbia pafiuwapo, nakimbilia paliwapo, I run from a house of mourning, I run to a house of feasting. Cs. fisha, fishta, fisha, fischiwa, fishana, cause to die, put to death. Amenemfisha kazi yake, he has ruined his work. Jiﬁsha, destroy oneself,—of suicide. (Cf. -fu, usfu, kifo, tufua, ?fjia.)

Faanisha, v. (also Fafanusha), liken, compare, explain (i.e. use comparison and illustration), make clear. Nifafanishe na nini? What shall I liken it to? Fafanisha maneno, explain a statement, make a clear statement. (Cf. mfano, fanana, and follg.)

Fafanusha, v. (1) explain; also (2) recognize, understand, see clearly. Nt. fafanuka, be clear, be known, be intelligible. With Ap. fafanukia, be clear to. Nyumba ya Sultanimefamukia, the Sultan's place is clearly in view. Ap. fapanu-hia, liwa, make clear to. Cs. fapanu-sha, shwa, make clear, explain. (Cf. mfano, fanana, fanafishia, and syn. tambua, pambanua, eleza.)

Fagia, v. sweep (with brush, broom, besom). Ps. fagiiwa. Ap. fagi-lishia, liwa, sweep at, sweep away (for, with, in, &c.). Sina ya kusafilia, I have nothing to sweep with. Pamefagiliwa viziuri, the place is beautifully swept. (Cf. fagio, ufagio.)

Fagio, n. (ma-), a large brush, broom, besom,—for sweeping floors, &c. (Cf. common ufagio.)

*Fahali, n. (ma-), bull, seldom in Z. of other male animals. Mafahali wavili hawakai zisi moja, two bulls cannot live in the same farmyard. But used descriptively of men, of special manliness, vigour, course, &c. (Ar. of male horse or camel.)

*fahamifu, a. intelligent, acute, with quick comprehension, having a good memory. (Ar. Cf. fahamu.)

Fahamu, v. (1) know, perceive,
Fahari, v. turn out well for, succeed. Ps. fanikiwa, have (a thing) turn out well, succeed, prosper. Cs. fanikisha, ishwa, ishia, ishiwa. (Cf. fanya, and fana, faa.)

Fanusia, n. lantern, lamp. (Ar.)

Fanya, v. make. One of the commonest verbs in Swahili, always implying some result, purpose, or object, beyond mere act, for which tenda is used. Its many applications may be distinguished as—(1) make, make to be, produce, manufacture. F. kasha (njia, shamba), make a box (road, plantation). Zifanywazo, manufactured articles. F. ndege, make a (model of, picture of, an artificial) bird. (Cf. umba, and huluku, of actual creation.) F. mayai, produce eggs. F. mali, amass wealth. F. shauri, make a plan, consider. (2) Do, work at, engage in (of the operation rather than the result). F. kazi, work, labour. F. biashara, carry on trade. F. shughuli, attend to business. Nifanyeni? What steps am I to take? F. vyoyote, act recklessly, at random. (3) Bring about a result, cause, compel. F. aende, take steps to make him go, make him go. (This sense is usually expressed by the Causative form of verbs, or by another word of definite compulsion, e.g. lazimu, shurutisha, jusw..) (4) Bring into play, allow to happen, give spontaneous vent to, esp. of the feelings, feel, show.” F. furaha, rejoice. F. hofu (hasira), be afraid (angry). F. fahari, give oneself airs, play the grandee. (5) Make in imagination, suppose, regard as. Umenifanya mimi mgonywa, you thought (made out) that I was ill (when I was not). Jifanya, make oneself, pretend to be, disguise oneself as. *Usifanye msa*aha, do not suppose it is a joke, do not make fun of it. Ps. fanyika. Nt. fanyika, e.g. be done, be able to be done, be practicable. Hence fanyakia, ikiwa, be done for (for the benefit of, &c.), turn out well for.
and also 'be favourable to, favour, give prosperity to.' Nimefanyirika, I have prospered, things have gone well with me. Ap. fany-ia, -iwa, -iana, e.g. do for (to, with, at, &c.). Cs. fany-isa, -iswa; also fansa, fanzwa. Hence fany-isa, -iswa, -isika, fansia, fanziwa, cause to make, cause a making of, cause to be made, repair, put in order, mend, have (a thing) done (by giving orders, personal attention, &c.), provide, get ready. Nifanzie nyumba hii, have this house put in order for me. Niafanyiza, I will have it done (see to it). Fansa chakula, get a meal ready. Sometimes intensive, e.g. wakamfansa killa namna, they did all sorts of things to him (of ill-treatment). Rp. fanyana, of mutual, concerted action, co-operation, e.g. with kazi, work; shauri, deliberation; biasara, trade. (In some of the deriv. forms, the y sound is often not distinguishable, e.g. faniza, fanika, and cf. fanikia, v. Cf. tenda, which can sometimes be used convertible with fanya.)

Fara, n. brim, brimful. Pishi ya fara, a full pishi (see Pishi), about 6 oz. weight. Fara ya pishi is also used for 12 pishi, i.e. fara, a dozen. Adv. fara, or farafara, e.g. kujaa farafara, to be full to the brim, be quite full. (Ar. Cf. furifuri, furika, and perh. fura.)

Faragha, n. privacy, seclusion, leisure, retirement, secrecy. Sina f. leo, I have no time to-day, I am engaged. Faraghani, in seclusion, in secrecy. Kwa faragha, and as adv. faragha, secretly, privately. (Ar. Cf. siri, upweke, utawa, eda.)

Farajika, v. Nt. See Fariji. (Ar.)

Farakaka, n. a comb-like instrument for keeping threads apart, part of a weaver's loom. (Ar. Cf. fariki.)

Farakana, v. become parted, be estranged, be separated. Kufarakana hakwanji kujwana, separation is not the end of acquaintance. (Ar. Cf. fara, fariki.)

Faranga, n. (ma-), young bird, nestling, and esp. chick, chicken. (? Ar. faruj. Cf. syn. kinda, mitoto wa kuku.)

Farathii, n. (1) a matter of necessity, obligation, prescribed duty, esp. of religion. Nina farathii ya kula, I am bound to have some food (cf. lazima, sharti). (2) Place of resort, haunt, usual abode. Chakula pale ulapo, ndio farathii yako, where you take your meals, that is your abode. (Ar.)

Fariji, v. comfort, console, relieve, ease, bless. Ps. farijiwa

Fariki, v. (1) depart (from), part company (with), but esp. (2) die, decease. Hawezi kumfariki mkewe, he cannot bear to leave his wife. Amefariki dunia, he has departed this life (lit. from the world). Ap. fari-ia, -iwa, -iana. Amefarikiwa na munewe, she has lost her husband (by death or desertion). Cs.
farik-isha, -ishwa, separate, set apart, put away. (Ar. Cf. faraka, and syn. ondoka, tenga, and for ‘die,’ fa.)

Faro, n. See Kifaro.

Faroma, n. or Faruma, a block or mould to put caps on after washing, to prevent shrinking and preserve shape. (Ar.)

Farumi, n. ballast in a ship. Chombo halina kitu, utie farumi kipate kwava kisito, the dhow is empty, put some ballast on board to give it weight. (Hind.)

Fashini, n. a block of wood fastened to the stern post (bumia) in a native-built vessel, and carrying the rudder (msukuani).

Fasili, n. sprout, shoot. Huna asili wala fasili, you have neither root nor offshoot, i.e. family or connexions, position or prospects. (Arab.)

Fathali, v. do a kindness (to), confer a favour (on), put under an obligation, esp. as the act of a superior. Ps. fathiliwa. Nt. fasiriwa, -shwa, -swa, put under an obligation. — n. also Fathali, favour, kindness, benefit, privilege. Akili ni f. aliyo-fathiliwa bin Adamu, intellect is a special privilege conferred on man. Nimekula f. yao, I have experienced kindness from them, I am under an obligation to them. Hana (or hajji) f., he has no sense of favour, he is ungrateful. Lipa f., return a kindness. (Ar. Cf. ajathali, tafathali.)

Fatiha, n. and Fatiha, a Mahomedan office, or form of service, usually a reading from the Koran, used at various ceremonies, e.g. marriage, a funeral, visiting a grave, occupying a new house, starting on an expedition. (Properly, but not only, of an opening or introductory service, cf. hitima similarly of a closing service.) Soma f., toa f., perform a service, usually the office of a mwali mu. Fumbe akawaambe fathali wavivi, the chief had a dismissal service for the fishermen. (Ar. Cf. sala, hitima, buruda, hutuba, &c.)

Fatiishii, v. prey, search, be inquisitive. (Ar. Cf. tafti.)

Faulu, v. (1) of a vessel, get round (a point), get past, weather, and hence (2) succeed, obtain one's wish. Amefaulu, he has made his point, he has scored. (Ar. Cf. syn. pata, shinda, fanikiwa.)

Feka, v. also Fyeka, clear away trees and brushwood, clear forest land. Feka mwitu, make a clearing in a forest.

Felefele, n. an inferior kind of millet (ntana). good quality. *Upanga wa f., a long straight double-edged sword, often carried by Arabs. (Ar. Cf. Fidia.

Feleti, v. discharge, let go, release, procure release of, esp. of discharging an obligation or debt for some one. (Arab. Cf. fungua, komboa.

Feli, n. act, deed, way of acting. Nilio feli ya yule mtoto, that is what the boy did, the way he went on. Umrudi aache feli yake, reprove him that he may leave off his (bad) ways. (Arab. Cf. syn. B. tendo, kitendo, kazi.

Fenessi, n. (ma-), jack-fruit. See Mfenessi. F. la kisingu is used of both durian, and bread-fruit.

Fereji, n. (ma-), a large ditch, channel. Cf. more usual mfereji. (Ar. Cf. handaki, shimo.

Feruzi, n. turquoise,—a common name among the lower classes, like Almasi, diamond. (Ar.)

Fetaa, v. commonly Fetwa, give a legal decision, judge a point (of Mahommedan) law, give judgement. Ps. fetwa, be judged, be sentenced. (Arab. for usual hukumu, anuma.

Fetha, n. (1) silver; (2) money, coin, cash,—in general. Mkufu wa f., silver neck-chain,—often of great length, as a convenient means of investing and storing money. Ana f. nyangi, he is very wealthy. F. tayari (or, mkononi, ready money, cash (cf. taslimu, nakudi.). F. ya kuchwa, a day’s pay. (Ar. Cf. for ‘coin,’ sarafu, pesa.

Fetheha, n. disgrace, a disgraceful thing, shame, scandal. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. aibu, haya.

Feuli, n. baggage compartment, in stern of native vessel.

Fi, prep. on, with, in such phrases as saba ji saba, seven by seven, seven times seven; also expressed by saba marra saba, seven times seven. (Arab.)

Fiata, v. See Fyata.

Ficha, v. hide (from), conceal (from), disguise, take shelter (from), give shelter (to), cover. With double obj. Amenificha habari, he concealed the news from me. Alimficha kofia, he hid his cap from him. Ps. fichwa, (1) be hidden from (something); (2) be kept from seeing (knowing, hearing something). Nt. ficka. Ap. fich-a, -iwa. Alimficha kofia, he hid his cap for him (at his request), or from him, i.e. to his loss or sorrow, like the Pr. ficha. Cs. fich-isha, -ishwa. Rp. fichana, conceal (or, hide) from each other; fichanana, hide themselves away all together (or, by common consent). Rf. jijicha, &c. Kujificha mwa, take shelter from rain. Kihema cha kujifichia, a tent to take refuge in. Bandari hii imejificha kwa upepo mbaya, this port is sheltered from dangerous winds. (Cf. kificha, mfichifichi, mfichaji, and syn. setiri, funika.

Ficho, n. usually in plur., i. e. ma-ficho, hiding-place, concealment, disguise. (Cf. ficha.

Fidia, n. ransom, fine, money paid as composition or reparation. Huyn hawi fidia ya gidamu ya kiatu cha babangu, he is not worth my father’s shoe-lace. (Ar. Cf. dia, and prec.)
Fifi, v. be dying away, fade, pine, dribble away, disappear, e. g. of a flower, an ink spot, a scar, &c. Ps. Tifawa. Ap. Fiki-lia, -liwa. Range yake imefufilia mblila, its colour has completely faded away. Cs. Fiki-liza, -liwu, e. g. jua limefufilia mwanga wa mwili, the sun has taken all the gloss off the body. Also of money disappearing gradually, 'fish away.' (Cf. fa, die, and fusua.)

Figa, n. esp. in plur. mafiga, i.e. three stones used as a tripod to support a cooking pot over a fire. Also called mafya (see Jifya), but the common word in Z. town is meko (for majiko, see Jiko).

Figili, n. (m-), and Figili, a kind of radish, both root and leaves being used as vegetables. See Mfigili.

Figo, n. (m-), kidney, but in Z. usually nso, which see.

liana, these statements converge on the same point, come to the same thing, coincide. (Cf. msiko, and syn. ja (juia), pata (patia), &c.)

*Fikara, n. and Fikira, thought, thoughtfulness, meditation, consideration, reflection, esp. in the plur. Aan F. sake, he is thoughtful. Yuko katika F. sake, he is buried in thought. Wamepata F. ya kuwenga, they have got an idea of building. (Ar. Cf. Fikiri, uifikira.)

Filia, v. Ap. from fa, fa (which see).

*Filiilii, n. (—), a carpenter's square. (Hind.)

Filimbi, n. a kind of flute. Mpi-ga filimbi, a flute-player.

Fimbo, n. a stick, esp. a light stick carried in the hand, a walking-stick, a switch. (Cf. bakora for various kinds of stick, and uxito.)

Fiessi, n. See Finessi.

Fingirika, v. (also occurs as bingirika, and so in deriv. forms), go by rolling (by turning round), roll round, berolled along, as a log—not as a stationary revolving wheel (cf. sunyaka), but implying movement, e.g. of a wounded snake. Cs. fingiri-sha, -ishiwa, push along something round, roll (something) along. Usichowesa kuchukua, ufingirishe, what you cannot carry, move by rolling. (Cf. viringa, viringika, mviringo, where v seems a variant for f. Also cf. sunguka, &c. of circular motion, and duara, duru.)

Finya, v. (1) pinch, pinch up, press with fingers or nails, nip; (2) make (or, be) narrow (pinched, contracted). Alinisinya nikiula, he gave me a pinch, and I screamed. F. jicho, half close the eye, as in dozing. F. uso, wrinkle the face, frown. Kitu chanisinya, the shoe is tight (pinches me). Rd. finyana, used of pinching up, or crumbling small, as food for children. (Cf. vinya.) Rp.finyana, (1) be pinched together, be wrinkled, be creased, be folded; (2) be narrowed, contracted, cramped, confined. Uso umefinya, his face is frowning (wrinkled). Mango umefinya, the door is narrow. Adui sharti afinyane, the enemy must certainly shrivel up. (Cf. finyana and finyanga; and for pinching, nyakua, and for making folds or creases, kunya, kunjama.

Finyanza, v. also Finyanga, Finyanja, knead clay, with hands or feet, as potters do, and hence 'do potters' work, make vessels of clay, i.e. fanya wumbo ywa udongo. (Cf. mfinyansi, and finya, of which finyanza seems to be a derivative, equivalent to fianyisha.)

Finya, n. (ma-), crease, fold, narrow place, narrowness. Mafinya ya uso, wrinkles on the face, whether of a frown or grimace. Njia ya finyo, a narrow road. (Cf. finya.)

Firigisi, n. gizzard.

Firuzi, n. See Feruzi. (Ar.)

Fisadi, n. (ma-), a corrupter, esp. a corrupter of women, a seducer, an immoral person. (Ar. Cf. ufisadi, fisidi, and syn. fasiki, mtongozi.

Fisha, v. Cs. of fa, which see.

Fisi, n. the common kind of hyaena. (Cf. kingubwa.

Fisidi, v. also Fisadi, corrupt, seduce, esp. of corrupting women. (Ar. Cf. fisadi.

Fitina, n. (1) discord, variance, antagonism, quarrelling, misunderstanding. Finya f., fia f., cause discord, slander, be cause of discord. (2) Tumult, mutiny, insurrection; (3) a source of discord, an agitator, a fire-brand. Akatokea mtu mmoja fitina, a certain mischief-worker appeared on the scene. (Ar. Cf. follg. and ufitina, ugonyi, nasi.

Fitiri, n. alms and presents given at the end of Ramathan, the Mahomedan month of fasting. (Ar. Cf. futari, futuru.

Fito, n. plur. of uflto, which see.

Fiwi, n. a kind of bean used as food in Z. Cape bean. (For others, cf. kunde, choroko, mbaazi, dengu.)

*Foromali, n. yard (of a ship), i.e. mtwa kusungia tanga, the spar that carries the sail. It is controlled by braces fore, baraji, and aft, hama-ravi, and hoisted by the hensa, which see, and cf. tanga.

*Forsadi, n. fruit of the mulberry tree (msforsadi).

*Forotha, n. and Forotha, custom-house. The locative form forthani is commonly used in Z. for the place, and also for the district (mtua), in which it is situated. (Ar.)

*Frasi, n. also Farasi, horse, mare. (Ar. See Farasi.)

-fu, a. (rarely in any forms except mfua, wajfu, kifaru, mfu), dead. Mfu, a dead person. Kifaru, a dead thing. Maji mfu, neap tides. (Cf. fafu, wajfu, kifaru, fuamu.)

Fua, n. (—, or of size ma—), (1) a round wooden tray with raised rim, used for washing clothes on, a shallow wooden bowl for hand-washing, &c. (cf. fua, v. and chano, and for other kinds chungu). (2) Only in the plural mafua, chest, chest complaint. (See Mafua, and cf. kifua, and fua, v.)

Fua, v. beat, strike, hammer, but usually limited to certain operations, viz. (1) of smith's work, work at (a metal), make (of a metal). F. chuma (saha, fetha), work in iron (brass, silver), follow the trade of blacksmith (silversmith, &c.). F. kisu (jembe), make a knife-blade (hoe). Cf. mfua (chuma, fetha, &c.), and mhunzi. (2) Of laundry work, wash clothes in the native way, dashing them on a stone or board. Mfu nguo, a washerman—men only making a profession of washing—commonly called dobi in Z. (Cf. dobi, and chachaga.) (3) Of husking coconuts, by dashing them on a pointed stake. Fua nazi, clean a coconut. Ps. fuliwa. Nt. fulika. Madini hii hafuliki, this metal is unworkable. Ap. fulia, -liwa, -liana, e.g. work metal for (with, at, &c.), wash for. Cs. fua-lisa, -liswa, e.g. (1) set to work as smith or washerman, employ, have work done by them. Also (2) of the artisan, procure work. Fuliza nguo, get clothes for washing, i.e. take in washing. (3) Keep on at, hammer at, cause to hammer or keep on, continue doing,—in a general sense, for which see Fuliza. Rp. fuana, work together as smiths, &c., help each other, or actually 'beat (hammer) each other.' (Cf. mfua, fuawa, fua, kifua, mfu, ufu, fu, and for striking, piga, chapa, menya, &c. Dist. vua)—n. see Mafua, and cf. kifua.

Fuama, v. lie on the face—not often in Z. Cs. fuamisha. (Cf. lalu fuliului.)

Fuasa, v. copy, imitate, follow a pattern. Cs. fuas-isha, -ishwa. Fuaisha sauti kwa kinanda (in music), accompany singing on the piano. (Cf. fuata and mfua.)

Fuata, v. (1) follow, come next to, succeed, come behind, pursue; (2) imitate, copy, accompany (in music), do like, be like; (3) obey, keep to, abide by, be follower (adherent) of. Fuata maji yaendako, swim with the stream. Bendera ya-fuata pepo, the flag follows the wind. Nafuata mbio na pembe hizi ndogo, I will accompany the tune with these little horns. Often, n. nyuma, follow behind. F. sheria, keep the law. F. Muhammad, be a Mahommedan. Ps. fuatwa. Ap. fuat-iwa, -iwa. Cs. fuat-isha, -ishwa, often intens., copy carefully—also Fuasa, which see. Rp. fuatanwa, accompany, follow in a crowd. Fuatanisha, send (some one) to accompany. (Cf. andama, mfua, mfuatanwa.)

Fuatano, n. (ma—), a following, succession, esp. in plur., e.g. mfuatanwo ya sauti, a tune, melody. (Cf. fuata.)

Fuawa, v. be beaten, hammered, e.g. of a vessel aground, and exposed to the full force of the waves. (Seems seldom used. Perh. Ps. form of fua, v., cf. follg.)

Fuwae, n. anvil, i.e. something to be hammered upon. (Cf. fua, v., and fuwa.)

Fudifudi, adv. on the face, face downwards. Lala fudifudi, lie on the face. (Cf. fulfuli, and follg.)

Fudikiza, v. turn upside down (inside out, face downwards), turn over, e.g. of cards in playing. (Cf. fulfuli, and syn. pindukiza.)

Fuga, v. (1) keep in confinement, rear, breed (of tame animals, stock, poultry, &c.); and (2) tame, domesticate, break in (of wild animals). Fuga ngombe (mbuci, kuku), keep cows (goats, fowls). Ps. fugwa. Pt. fugika. Frasi huhu hajugiki, this horse is not (or, cannot be) broken in. Ap. fug-ia, -iwa. Cs. fugi-sha, -shwa, e.g. of professional horse-breaking. (Cf. fuga, mfugo. Perh. cf. funga.)

Fugo, n. (ma-), breeding, rearing, domestication, &c., of animals. (Cf. fuga, and mfugo.)

Fuka, v. (1) emit, throw out, smoke, &c. See Vuka. (2) Fill up (a hole). See Fukia. — n. a thin kind of porridge (of rice flour, with sugar, honey, spice, &c.), served to guests at an entertainment or festival.

Fukara, n. a poor man, beggar. Fukara hahehohe, of extreme destitution. (Ar. Cf. fakiri, fukarika, and syn. maskini, mwombaji.)

Fukarika, v. become poor. (Ar. Cf. fukara, and opp. tajiri, tajirika.)

Fuko, n. See Vuka. (Cf. fuka, vuka.)

Fukia, v. fill in (a hole, grave, &c.), dig in, cover in. F. kaburi, fill up a grave. Akajukia sakafu yote kwa mchanga, and he filled up all (the holes in) the floor with sand. Alifukia kitabu katika sanduku, he covered up the book in the box. Nyumba ilinfukia, the house (when it fell) buried him. Ps. fukiwa. Pt. fukika. Ap. fuk-ilia, -iliwa, -lika. Tundu linafukilika kwa udongo, the hole can be filled in with earth. Cs. fuk-isa, -iwa, -isha, -ishwa. R.P. fukiana. (Cf. fuka, which is seldom heard, and fukua, also mfuko.)

Fukiza, Fukizo. See Vukiza, Vukizo.

Fuko, n. (1) (ma-), a large bag or pocket, saddle-bag. (Cf. for various kinds, mfuko.) (2) Hole, place dug out. Kuku achimba fuko, the fowl is digging a hole. (3) A burrowing animal, mole. (Cf. fuka, v., fukia, ufuko, mfuko.)

Fukuta, Fukuto. See Vukuta, Vukuto.

Fukuza, v. (1) force out, drive out, esp. in hunting or war, and hence both (2) drive off, chase away, banish, and (3) go in pursuit of, hunt, try to catch. Mwawa wakafukuza ngururwe wakasipata, the hounds chased the pigs and caught them. Wamesukuza mbali adui, they have chased the enemy quite away. Ps. fukuzwa.

Fulifuli, -iwa. Cs. fuku-zishka, -ishwa. Rp. fukuizana, e.g. of children chasing one another. (Seems to be Cs. form of fukwa, with intensive force, and specialized meaning. Cf. fuka, fukia, fukua, mfukuzi, and syn. kimbiza, winda, fuata.)

Fuli, n. lesser rainy season. See Mvuli.

Fulifuli, adv. (1) also Fudi-fudi, on the face, face downwards,—of position; (2) for furutini = farafara, in plenty, in quantities, brimful. See Fara.

Fuliza, v. keep on at, keep going, keep doing, quicken, hasten. F. miguu, walk quickly. F. mwendo, go speedily. Also fulizula and fululiza, an emphatic Rd. form. Ps. fulizwa. Ap. futi-zia, -iwa. Rp. futuliza. (Cf. fua, of which it is an Intens. form with generalized meaning, and mfululiza, mfululizoo.)

*Fullani, n. such a one, a certain one, so and so, such and such (things), alluding indefinitely to persons or things, for reference only. F. amesema, somebody has said. Nataka bithaa f, I want such and such goods. (Ar.)

Fuma, v. (1) weave, and also of connecting together, forming a fabric, by sewing, &c. Ps. fumwa. Nt. fumika. Ap. fumi-ia, -iwa. Sindano ya kufumia ngano, a needle for sewing clothes. Cs. fum-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. mfuma, a weaver, mfumo, weaving.) (2) Shoot, pierce (with a sharp weapon). In Z. choma is usual. (Cf. fumo, and esp. fumwa, which retains the more general sense of the root, and for weaving mfumo.)

Fumania, v. come on suddenly, take in the act, intrude in the house of, surprise. Ps. fumaniwa. Nt. fumanika. Cs. fumaniza, and Intens., e.g. alinwana mwanume aliyefumaniza na mkewe, he killed the man whom he surprised with his wife. (Cf. syn. gundu.)

Fumba, v. (1) shut, close, by bringing things, or parts, together. F. macho, close the eyes. F. kinwa, shut the mouth. F. mkono, close the hand. F. mkono, clasp the hands together. F. miguu, bring the legs together. (2) Mystify, make a mystery about, disguise, use in an obscure way. F. maneno, use unintelligible, difficult language. Fumbo humfumba nyinga, a parable mystifies a fool. Ps. fumbwa. Nt. fumbika. Maua yanafumbika, the flowers are closing. See also Vumbika. Ap. fumb-ia, -iwa, e.g. shut up in (for, by, &c.), talk darkly about, &c. Cs. fumbi-sha, -ishwa. Rp. fumbana, e.g. hatta macho yakafumbana, till his eyes closed. Cf. fijumba, shut oneself up (in meditation, study, &c.). (Cf. jumba, kfumba, also fumbo, fumbua, fumbata, and vumbika.)

Fumba, n. (ma-), (1) a matting sleeping bag, a mat doubled lengthways and the ends sewn up, used sometimes for burying. Hutiwa maiti katika fumba (mkeka wa fumba), hushonwa mithili ya mfuko, the body is put in a fumba, and sewn up as in a bag. Also for drowning criminals. Wakatiwa katika mafumba, wakatoswa baharini, they were put in bags and thrown into the sea. (2) Lump, clod. F. la unga uliogandama, a lump in flour which was caked. F. ya mlama, caked millet. (Cf. pumba, lump.) For makuti ya fumba, cf. makuti ya kumba. See Kuti.

Fumbama, v. lose one’s senses, be dazed, light-headed, e.g. huyu amefumbama akili yake, this man is not in his right mind. (Cf. prec. and -ma.)

Fumbata, v. enclose (with hands, or' arms), grasp, clutch, encompass.

Sitwezi kuwufumbata mti huu kwa mkeno yangu, my arms will not go round this tree.

Ameufumbata fetha mkenoni, he has grasped the money with his hand.

Ps. fumbatwa.

Nt. fumbatika, e.g. konzi ya maji haifumbatiki, water cannot be grasped in the fist.

Ap. fumbat-ia, -iwa.

Cs. fumbat-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. fumba, and syn. ambata, kumbatia, kamata.)

Fumbo, n. (ma-), anything puzzling, hidden, mysterious, and so 'puzzle, problem, dark saying, hint, proverb,parable, riddle.' Sema kwa mafumbo, speak in an unintelligible, difficult way.

Maneno ya fumbo, and fumbo la maneno, mysterious language.

(Cf. fumba, also syn. sirí, methali, mfano, kitendawili, matata.)

Fumbua, v. Rv. of fumba, unclose, open, lay open, reveal, disclose, by separating things or parts which were close together, e.g. fumbua mkeno, open the closed hand, and so of the eyes, mouth, &c.

F. maana, unfold the meaning.

F. majani, make openings in high grass, for air or planting.

Ps. fumbulwa.

Nt. fumbuka.

Cs. fumbulisha, -lishwa.

Rf. fumbuana. (Cf. fumba, ufumbulio, and for similar meaning vumbua (perh. same word); fumua, uncover; fungua, unfasten; fumua, unravel; fundua, untie.)

Fumo, n. (ma-), (1) a spear; (2) a chief,—but seldom heard in Z. for the usual mkuki, mfalme. (Cf. fuma.)

Fumua, v. Rv. of fuma, undo (what is woven, matted, sewn, connected together), and so (1) unravel, unpick, take to pieces, unstitch, &c.; (2) reveal, disclose, make clear, explain. (Cf. fumbua.) F. uzi, unstitch. F. nyele, let down hair. F. nguo, rip (pull in pieces) calico. F. moto, pull a fire to pieces, take sticks out the fire.

F. makuti, take out (decayed) thatch. F. mali, squander money, be prodigal. Also in Nt. sense, mtama unafumua, the millet is coming into ear. Maua yofumua, the flowers are coming out. Mfumua maneno he, of a spy or tale-bearer. Ps. fumuliwa.

Nt. fumuka, e.g. nguo imefumuka, ushone, my dress is come undone, sew it up.

Mashua inafumuka, the boat opens at the seams, leaks, is coming to pieces.

Rp. fumukana, e.g. of people separating after a meeting, 'disperse.'

Ap. fumul-ia, -iwa. (See Fuma, and cf. fumbua, fumua, fungua.)

Fumukano, n. (ma-), separation, breaking up, dispersal, e.g. of people after a meeting. (Cf. fuma, fumua.)

Funda, v. pound, bruise, triturate, pulverize, e.g. rice, pepper, ginger, &c., in a mortar (himu), also 'point up together, mix with other ingredients,' e.g. ondokeni mifundu ulanga, get up and mix the meal.

Ps. funda.

Nt. fundika, be pounded, be mixed, and also in act. sense. (Perh. a form of umuja, retained in this special sense in Z. For the operation cf. onda, twanga, saga, chakacha, paaza. For a root funda, teach, and also make a knot, not itself used in Z., cf. fundi and fundo. But funda, n. seems different from all.) — n. (ma-), a large mouthful, of liquid or solid, distending the cheeks, cf. funda la shavu, esp. common of liquids.

Piga majunda, take large mouthfuls, gulps, draughts, either to be swallowed, or for rinsing the mouth out after a meal and to be ejected. (Perh. cf. fundo, a knot, as fumba and fumbo.)

Fundi, n. (ma-), a person skilled in any art, craft, or profession, and so able to instruct others in it, a skilled workman, one who has learnt his trade, a trained artisan or craftsman, e.g. mason, carpenter, tailor, smith, washerman, &c.,—mwalimu being commonly used of the higher professions, Fundika v. make into a knot, tie up. Usually piga fundo, funga. See Fundo.

Fundisho, n. (ma-), teaching, what is taught, instruction, doctrine. (Cf. fundisha.)

Fundo, n. (ma-), (1) knot, anything resembling a knot; (2) fig. a difficulty, grudge, esp. (3) ill feeling, resentment. *F. la mti (maa),* a knot in wood or a tree. F. la uzi, knot in thread. F. la nguo, clothes tied in a knot. F. la utupe, a rosette. F. la chombo, cross-beam in a dhow (cf. mwashiri, securing the mast. F. la ushanga, consists of ten strings (kete) of beads. See Kete. Also (4) a purse, usually consisting of a knotted piece of the waist cloth. Siku ya mashaka, fundu, for the day of adversity, a purse. F. la mgun, the ankle, also kifundo. Piga f, tie a knot. Fundua f, untie a knot. Maji yalinipiga fundo, the water choked me. (Cf. fundua, kifundo, fundika, ?fundia.)

Fundua, v. undo a knot, untie, unfasten, and fig. explain (a difficulty), get over a crisis. F. chupa, uncork a bottle. (Cf. sibua.) Ps. funduliwa, Nt. ?funduka. Ap. fundu-lia, -lwa. Cs. fundu-usha, -ushwa, -usa, e.g. fundushiha mwa, of a tree flowering. (Cf. fundo, and for similar words fumbua, funua, fungua, fiumua.)

Funga, v. (1) fasten, make fast, tie, bind, secure. F. mzigo, tie up a load, finish packing. F. mlango, shut close (fasten) the door. (Cf. shindika mlango, put to, close the door.) F. waraka, seal up a letter. F. choo, constipate, be constipated. Funga kamba (or, na kamba, fasten with a cord. (2) Shut in, enclose, imprison, put in fetters. F. gerezani (minyororoni, kifungoni, put in prison (in chains, under arrest). (3) Overcome (in a game or contest), win, checkmate, put in difficulties, convict. Tulivufunga mabao sita, we won six games against them. Neno lake liliungufunga mwenyewe, his own statement convicted him. (4) Decide on, embark on, begin, take decisive steps towards. Funga bishara, conclude a bargain. F. vita, begin operations in war. F. shauri, resolve on a plan. F. safari, set out on a journey. (5) Funga is also used as Nt. in various senses, e.g. fast. Leo sisi tunafunga, to-day we are fasting. Ramathani ni mwezi wa kufunga, Ramathan is the month of fasting. Mwaa inafunga, it is a settled rain. Cf. mfungo, mfunguo. Mito imefunga, the rivers are impassable. Rf. jifunga, as above, and esp. (1) devote oneself, engage oneself, give special attention. Jifunga kusoma, apply oneself to study (kwa kasi, to work, na adui, with an opponent, in strife). (2) Get oneself into a fix, contradict oneself, hamper oneself. Amejifunga kwa ulimi wake, he is convicted by his own tongue. (3) Jifunga, avoid childbearing. Ps. fungwa. Huna budi kufungwa na mti, you must be tied to a tree. Nt. fungika. Minga haufungiki, the door is not secured, or, the door will not shut. Ap. fung-ia, -iwa, -iana. Unifungie nini? Wanifungia kuona? What would you tie me up for? are you doing it just to tease me? Akamfungia frasi na kamba, and he fastened the horse to him by a cord. Nimefungiwa nyumba, I am locked out of the house. Fungitwa deni, be imprisoned for debt. Cs. fung-isha, -ishwa, -iza, &c., cause to fasten, cause to be fastened, and Intens. bind tight, confine, close. Ntamsfungisha, I will have him put in prison. Mwina inakufungisha ndani, the rain keeps you indoors. Fungisha mji (njia), blockade a town (road). (Cf. mfungizo. Cf. also fungasa.) Rp. fungana, (1) fasten together, or with na, fasten to; (2) be fastened together, e.g. of clouds, forest, 'be dense, be thick.' Also funganya, of a work of common interest and co-operation. Funganya mizigo, join in a general packing up of loads. Also funganisha, e.g. jahasi na jiwve, make fast a vessel to a rock. Cf. also fungama. See Fungama. (Cf. fungu, kifungo, fungua, &c.)

Fungama, v. be in a fixed, tight, dense, &c. condition. Rp. fungama, e.g. of interlacing branches. Mwitu umefungamana kabisa, the forest is hopelessly dense, impenetrable. Hapa pamefungamana na miibla, here is a dense mass of thorns. (Cf. funga, and for form, -mana, andamana, changamana.)

Fungate, n. honeymoon,—period of seven days after marriage, during which food is supplied by relations. (Fungate = seven, in some Bantu dialects.)

Fungo, n. (1) fast, period of fasting. (Cf. funga, m funguo.) (2) A kind of speckled civet cat,—smaller than the ng'ombe.

Fungu, n. (ma-), (1) portion, part, piece, share, lot. Fungu la nyama, a portion of meat. Fungu zima, a large share. (Cf. kipande, sehemu.) (2) Heap, pile, and esp. of sandbanks, shoals, reefs, &c. in the sea. Chombo kinepanda funguni, the dhow has run on a sandbank. Also of pile of stones over a grave. Vunja fungu, used of customary visit to a grave after forty days, with a valedictory offering.

Fungua, v. Rv. of funga, (1) unfasten, undo, untie, unbind, let loose, release, set free, open, &c. F. mlanga, unfasten a door (cf. shindua mlanga, set a door open). F. mikono, open the hand (like jumbua), give a gift. Fungua, give birth to a child, be confined. (2) Cease fasting. Nipe kidgo nifungue kinwa, give me a morsel to break my fast with. (So funguka, fungusa.) Ps. funguliwa. Ft. funguza. Nt. funguka. Shikiza mlanga, usifunguke wala usifungikoe, fix the door so that it will neither open nor shut. Amefunguka moto, she has given birth to a child. Ap. fungu-la, -liwa, -lika. Nifungule mizigo, relieve me of my load. Funguila mtumwa, give a slave freedom. F. ng'ombe, turn out cattle to graze. Cs. fung-uza, -uzwa, e.g. force (induce, allow, &c.) to open, cause to undo, &c. Akawafunguza wale watu, and he had those people set free. Also 'give a meal to,' after fasting. Aliufunguza, he caused us to break our fast. Rp. Funguana. (Cf. funga, m funguo, mafungulia, ufunguo, also as similar fungua, fungu, fimbua, fandua.)

Funguo, n. plur. of Ufunguo, which see. Also 'breaking of a fast,' but usu. m funguo. (Cf. funga, fungua.)

Funika, v. (1) cover, cover up, put a covering on; (2) fig. conceal, disguise. F. chungu, put a lid on a pot. F. kitabu, close a book. F. maneno, speak obscurely. F. inchi maji, cover the land with water, make an inundation. Jifunika mkeka, cover oneself with a mat. Ps. funikwa. Nt. funikika. Jua linefunikika na mawingu, the sun is concealed by clouds. Ap. funik-ja, -iwa. Cs. funik-isha, -ishwa, -iza, cause to cover, cause to be covered. Maji yamefunikisha inchi, the water has flooded the country. Rp. funikana. (Cf. fungua, ki funkiko, and syn. setiri, ficha.)

Funua, v. (1) uncover, lay open, undo; (2) disclose, reveal, explain, show. F. chungu, take the lid off a pot. *F. chu'o, open a book. *F. mabawa, spread wings. Ps. funuliwa. Nt. funuka, e.g. *mava ya-funuka, the flowers are opening, coming out. Mwitu unafunuka, the forest is getting more open, is passable. Ap. funu-ia. Abamfunulila maana, and he explained to him the meaning. (Cf. funika, usfunuo, and similar fungua, funuwa, fumbu, funuda.)

Funa, v. same as fundisha, teach, instruct, educate. Jifunza dasi, learn a trade,—from a fundi.
Ps. funzwa. Nt. funzika, e.g.
moto huyu hafunziki, this child is unteachable, is too stupid (or, obstitute) to learn. Ap. funs-ta,
-twa. Cs. funz-isha, -ishwa.
Rp. funzana. (Cf. fundi, fudisha, and follg.) — n. (ma)— grub, maggot, worm.

Funzi, n. (ma—), teaching, instruction. (For more usual fundisho and applic.)

Fu, n. (1) (ma—), washing-place, mahali pa kufulia nguo, for washing clothes. (Cf. fua, ogua, chosho, ki-geo.) (2) Scum, froth, foam. *(Cf.
ufu, usuko, fua, and syn. posu.)

Fupa, n. (ma—), a large bone.
F. la kichwa, the skull. *F. joro, a (large) cartilage. (Cf. mfsupa, kifupa, usupa.)

-fupi, a. (fupi with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) short, low (in stature, length, or height); (2) brief, concise, abridged. (Cf. follg. and opp.
-rofu.)

Fupika, v. be shortened, be lessened (in height, length, stature), be abbreviated, &c. Cs. sup-isha,
-ishwa, -isha, shorter, abridge. (Cf.
-fupi.)

*Fura, v. rise up, swell, be puffed up (in physical sense only). Mumba ya mitama inafura, the bud of the millet swells,—as it ripens, and finally bursts (inapasuka). Nt. furika, swell up, run over, boil over, overflow (over), make an inundation.

Cs. furik-isha, -ishwa, cause an overflow, inundate. Maji yakafurikisha inchi, the water overflowed the country. (Ar. Cf. fura, furisuri, furiko, and syn. 'flood,' gharikisha.)

*Furaha, n. joy, pleasure, happy-ness, bliss, delight, gladness, mirth, merriment. Fanya f., ona f., be happy. Pokea kwa f., welcome.
Also adv. gladly, with joy. Tukaenda furaha, and we went joyfully.
Furahani, in a state of happiness.
(At., no B. syn. Cf. furahi, and
Ar. raha (higher but more passive), bliss, and such words as mchezo, asungumzo, mapendesi.)

*Furahi, v. rejoice, be glad, feel pleasure, be happy, be pleased, enjoy oneself. Ps. furahwa, be pleased (with), be made happy (by), be rejocied (at). Tulifurahwa sana na barna yako, we were delighted at your (at, in, for, &c.). Cs. furah-isha, -ishwa, -ishana, gladden, cheer, re-joy, delight. Ametufurahisha sana, he caused us great amusement. (Ar.
Cf. furaha.)

*Furahifu, n. (furahifu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), joyous, cheering, pleasant. (Ar. Cf. furaha.)

*Furika, v. See Fura, and cf. follg.

*Furiko, n. usu. in plur. mafuriko, overflowing, flood, inundation. (Ar.
Cf. gharika.)

Furuga, Furugika. See Vuruga, Vurujika.

Furukombe, n. a large bird of prey, a kind of eagle or vulture.

Furukuta, v. move about, be restless, toss about on a bed,—as when ill, excited, unable to sleep,—also (e.g.) of a rat under a carpet.

*Furuni, n. Furuma, n. See Farumi, and Faroma.

*Furungu, n. (ma—), (1) shaddock, fruit of mfurungu; (2) anklet (usu.
of silver). (Cf. mali, and for other ornaments, bumbo.)

Furushi, n. (ma—), bundle, packet, package. (Cf. kifurushi, bahasha.)
*Fusfus, n. and Fusussus, gem, precious stone. (Arab. Cf. kito.)

*Fusho, n. or Vusho, something used for fumigation, something to be burnt, as a charm, or sanitary medicine. (Cf. muku, vukuza, vukizo, &c.)

Fusi, n. rubbish. See Kifusi.

Fusia, v. lay down a bed of small stones and rubbish for a concrete floor or roof, or to fill up foundations. (Cf. kifusi, wusio.)

Futa, v. (1) wipe, wipe out (away, off); (2) remove, obliterate, abolish, cause to be forgotten. F. vumbi nguoni, wipe dust off clothes. F. vhibaya vya waraka, scratch out the mistakes in a letter. F. kamasi, wipe the nose. Muungu anifutule thambi zangu, may God wipe away my sins. Liandikwalo halifutiki, what is written cannot be effaced. a kufuta is often used of what is plain, common, of inferior quality, e.g. mkeka wa kufuta, a common white mat. Kanzu ya kufuta, a plain white kanzu without any ornamental stitching. Cf. mfuuto. Ps. futwa. Nt. futika, e.g. hii yafutika, hii halifutiki, one thing is pardonable, another is not (but see Futika). Ap. fut-ia, e.g. kitambaa cha kufutia, a cloth to wipe with, duster. Cs. fut-isha, -iskwa, set to wipe, wipe hard. Rp. futana. (Cf. pangusa, sugua, tua. Also futa, as for vuta, which see, and as a rarely used sing. n. see Mafa.)

*Futari, n. first meal in the evening after a day’s fast, usually ricegruel (uji). (Ar. Cf. fitiri, futunri. Dist. futuri.)

*Futhuli, n. See Fithuli. (Ar.)

Futika, v. put in the pocket, stick in waist-cloth, tuck into the girdle,—as a native does his knife, money, or any small article. Ps. futikwa. Ap. futik-ia, -iva. Cs. futik-isha. (Cf. futua, and dist. futika, as Nt. of futa.)

Futua, v. (1) open out, undo a bundle (or girdle), take out (of a bundle, pocket, &c.), pluck out; (2) fig. bring to light, make known, expose. F. manyo ya kuku (ya ndeivu), pluck off the feathers of a fowl (hairs of the beard). F. kibofu cha ng ombwe, take out the bladder of an ox. Rf. jisfutua, make a show of oneself, boast, brag. Ps. futulwa. Nt. futuka, (1) be brought out, be brought to light; (2) be provoked, be angry. Ap. futukia, be in a passion with. Hence futu-ia, -iwa, and futukisha, provoke. Cs. futusha, -shwa. Jua linafutusha mahindi, the sun is making the maize open out. Rp. futuana. (Cf. futika.)

*Futuri, n. short span, as a measure, from tip of thumb to tip of forefinger,—as dist. from shibiri, full span from thumb to little finger. (Ar.)

Fuu, n. (ma-), (1) a small, black berry, edible fruit of mfuu. (See Mfuu, dist. kifuu.) (2) Fuu la kichwa, skull (see Fvuu).

Fuvu, n. (ma-), also Fuu, empty shell, husk. F. la kichwa, skull. F. la nazi, shell of a cocoanut (but generally kifuu). F. la yai, eggshell (but generally kaka).

Fusi, n. See Ufuzi, Mafuzi.

Fyata, v. put (or, hold) between the legs. F. nguo, tuck the loin-cloth between the legs (see Uwinda). F. mkia, grasp the hands between (i.e. by closing) the thighs. F. mkia, put the tail between the legs. (Cf. follg.)

Fyatua, v. and ? Fuya, let go suddenly, let off (of something which is holding, a spring, a trap, &c.).

Fyeka, v. also Feka, clear away,

Fye-ko, n: esp. in plur. mafye-kos, clearing operations, thing cleared away, clearings.

Fyoa, v. (1) cut. *F. masuke ya ntama, cut ears of millet; (2) fig. use cutting or abusive language, reply insolently. Ap. fyo-lea, -lwa, abuse, jibe. (Cf. fyeka, and follg. Also perh. fyo-nya, and fyo-za.)

Fyonya, v. make a chirping sound with lips, expressive of contempt, or disgust. (Cf. fyoa, and follg.)

Fyonza, v. also Fyonja, Fyonda, suck, suck at, suck out. *F. suku-li, suck sugar. *F. ziwa la mama, suck the mother's breast. *F. damu, suck out blood. (Cf. fyonya, and nyonya.)

-fyo-zi, a. abusive, scornful. (Cf. fyoa, and ufyoezi.)

G.

G represents the same sound as in English 'go.' This hard g is used in Swahili for the Arabic consonants Jim and Qaf in some words of Arabic origin (cf. g in Egyptian dialect for j elsewhere), and also sometimes as a variant of j and k in other words and (perh. through an intermediate dy sound) of d.

Hence words not found under g may be looked for under j or k, and sometimes under d.

Obs. that the sound written ng' in this Dictionary is heard and written sometimes as gn, esp. at Mombasa.

Gb is used to represent the sound of the Arabic Gha in the few words in which it is commonly retained as a deep guttural. It is more often pronounced as a deep slightly rolled r, or as a harsh k, and is in some words slurred and hardly heard at all, or pronounced by Swahilis as g. (Cf. ghali, hamu, oro-fa, guhoro.)

Gaaga, v. also Garagara, (1) roll from side to side, turn restlessly, sprawl, as on board a ship, or a sick man in bed, or an animal wallowing on the ground; (2) fig. be lazy, listless, indifferent, have nothing to do, loll. Cs. gaagaaza. (Dist. kaa-kaa.)

*Gadi, n. (ma-), prop, shore, e.g. to keep a vessel upright, when stranded, or a tree inclined to fall. Tia magadi, shore up. (Cf. follg.)

Gae, n. (ma-), a large potsherd, a large broken piece of metal, glass, earthenware, &c. Dim. kigae. Jungu bowan limekuwa magae, the cracked dish is all in pieces.

Gaga, n. (ma-). See Kigaga.

Galawa, n. sometimes Ngalawa, a small dug-out canoe, with out-riggers (matengo) and sail, much used by fishermen. Galawa juu, wimbi-chini, the canoe on the surface and waves beneath,—to describe a safe voyage. (Cf. mtumbw.)

Kalme, n. also Kalme, milingote wa galme, small second mast aft in a large dhow, mizzen mast, carrying its own sail.

Gamba, v. only in the Rf. form jigamba, vaunt oneself, brag, boast. (Cf. jivina, jisifu, jiona.)

Gamba, n. (ma-), scale (of a fish). Also sometimes of any small detached part of outer skin of an animal, e.g. of the tortoise, katta nibanduku maganda, till my shell comes off. (Cf. ngamba, and ganda, gandao.)

*Gamti, n. unbleached cotton cloth from India, Indian grey sheetings. (Cf. nguo.)
Gana, n. or Kana, rudder-handle, tiller. (Cf. msukan, shikio.)

Ganda, v. become hard (fixed, congealed, curled, frozen), get thick, coagulate, of a liquid. Masivwa ya-meganda, the milk is curdled. Mito ineganda k'ya baridi, the rivers were frozen with the cold. (2) Stick to, cleave to, embrace closely, clasp. Alimganda shingoni, he clasped him round the neck. Ps. gandwa.

(Cs. gandi-sha, -shwa. (Cf. gandama, gandumana, and ganda, n.)
—n. (ma-), husk, rind, shell, outer covering of trees, plants, fruits, &c.
G. la yai, eggshell. G. la mchungwa, orange peel. G. la mkate, crust of bread. Maganda ya masiwa, curds of milk, flakes. Maganda ya mahindi, the sheath enclosing the cob of Indian corn. (Cf. gamba, also gome, kaka, kifuu, and (husk) kapi, kumvi, kumbi.)

Gandama, v. stick together, get stuck, get hard, set, freeze, curdle, coagulate. Asali inegandama na-chombo, the treacle sticks to the vessel. Chungu zimegandama sam-lini, the ants are stuck in the ghee. Ps. gandumwa. Naligandumwa nakutep, I had ticks sticking to me. Nt. gandumika. Ap. gandum-ia, -iwa, stick to, adhere, cling to, be true to. G. chungu, stick to a cooking pot. G. rafiki, hold fast to a friend. Cs. gandum-iza, -iwa, e.g. G. mtu chini, pin a man to the ground. Also Intens. gandumiza ulinwengu, cling to, take to one's heart, the world. Rv. gandamaana, -anisha, e.g. maji inegandamana, the water is frozen hard.
(St. of ganda, cf. sinama, tuama, &c., and for similar idea shikamana, kazana, shupana, pindana.)

Gando, n. (ma-), claw of lobster (kamba) and crab (kae), (and perh. of the cuttlefish (pweza), but cf. mnyiri). Kaa akiinua gando mamba yamekatika, when the crab raises his claw, there is an end of the matter. (Cf. ganda, v., and of animals, ukucha.)

Gandua, v. Rv. of ganda, (1) unfasten, pull away, separate something adhering closely; (2) fig.
rescue from danger, save in a crisis, get out of a scrape. Ps. ganduliwa. Nt. ganduka. Ap. gandu-lia, -liwa. (Cf. banduka, ambuka.)

Ganga, v. bind up, fasten together, splice, mend (what is injured or broken). Hence esp. of doctors' work generally, 'apply remedy, cure, heal.' Ganga mgui, put a leg in splints. G. jeraha, bandage a wound. G. tumbo, attend to the stomach. Ps. gangwa.
Nt. gangika, i.e. be cured, be curable. Ap. gang-ia,
-iwa. Cs. gang-isha, -ishwa.
Rv. gangana. (Cf. mganga, uganga, mgango, gango, kigango, and of treatment, alika, ugusa.)

Gango, n. (ma-), appliance for holding together what is separate or severed, cramp, brace, splint, splice, joining, patch. Dim. kigango. (Cf. gango.)

Ganzi, n. (—, and ma-), deadness, numbness. Mguu imekufa g., my foot is asleep (benumbed). Often of the teeth, tia (fanya) g. la meno, set the teeth on edge. Meno yafanya ganzi, my teeth are set on edge.

Garafuu, n. (also written garo-fu, karafuu), cloves, the flower-bud of the mgarafuu, the most valuable and abundant article of commerce in Zanzibar and Pemba (except coconuts). (Ar. karamful.)

Garagara, v. See Gaagaa.
Krapf quotes a native description of the whole process.)

Genge, n. (ma-), cliff, precipice, ravine, deep ditch. Ukifika gengeni, jikathari, when you come to the steep place, be careful.

-geni, a. (ngeni with D 4 (P), D 6, geni with D 5 (S)), strange, foreign, novel, outlandish, extraordinary, queer, curious. Jambo geni, a strange occurrence. Maneno ya kigeni, a foreign language. (Cf. ngeni, ugeni, and syn. -hya, ajabu.)

Gesla, n. also Geza. See Jizla.

Geua, v. change, make different, alter. Ndiye ajigwanya nyoka, it is he who changes himself into a snake. The Cs. geusa (see below) is usual in Z. in this sense. Ps. geuliwa.

-geni, a. ngeni, change, alter, be changeable, be alterable, alter; (2) change position, turn oneself, turn round; (3) change in appearance, be transformed, be disguised. *Aligewa aki-*mwoona,* he turned round and saw him. Amegewa mwningwe, he has become another person. Hence geuk-ia, -iwa, turn to (from, for, at, &c.).

Ap. geul-ia, -liwa. Cs. geu-za, -zaa, -zia, -ziwa, -zana, cause to change, alter, make different, disguise, transform, pervert, turn round, &c. (For difference of geua and badili, see Badili. Cf. -geuzi, -geu, magewi.)

-geugeu, a. changeable, fickle, wayward. Mambo ya kigengeu, constant changes. (Cf. geua.)

Geuzi, n. esp. in plur. magemuzi, change, alteration, shifting, turn, transformation.

-geuzi, a. changeable, fickle, unsettled, always changing. (Cf. geua, -geugeu.)

---

Gari, n. (ma-), any vehicle on wheels, cart, waggon, carriage, barrow, perambulator, bicycle. Also g. la moshi, locomotive (or other) steam-engine. G. la pepe, bicycle. (Hind.)

Gasia, n. See Ghasia. (Ar.)

Gauka, Gauza, v. See Geuza.

Gawa, v. place in parts (pieces, portions, shares), divide up, distribute, deal out. G. chakula, apportion food. G. karata, deal (playing) cards. Ps. gawinya.

Ap. gaw-ia, -iwa. Cs. gaw-isha, -ishwa. Rp. gawana, e.g. utakachopata tutagawana sawasawa mimi awe, whatever you get, we will go halves in, you and I. Also gawanya, which see. (Cf. gawio, mgawo.)

Gawanya, v. place in parts, apportion, divide, share, distribute,—prop. of mutual arrangement or equal rights, gawa rather of the act of an official, superior, or benefactor, e.g. tugawanya; gawa wee, let us have a division; do you act as divider. Ps. gawanywa.

Gawania, v. place in parts, apportion, divide, share, distribute,—prop. of equal rights, gawa rather of the act of an official, superior, or benefactor, e.g. tugawanya; gawa wee, let us have a division; do you act as divider. Ps. gawanywa.

Gawio, n. (ma-), division, apportionment, sharing. Kuu ni magawioni, the critical point is in the division (of spoils). (Cf. gawa, gawinya, mgawo.)

Gema, v. get palm-wine. Also gema tembo, gema mnazi, of cutting the growing flower stem of the coconut tree, from which the sap flows into a calabash fastened to it. Also used of getting india-rubber by cutting a plant or tree, gema mpira. A special knife is used (kotama). Ps. gemwa.

Ap. gem-ca, -cwa. Cs. gem-esha, -eshwa, employ (allow, undertake, contract) to tap coconut trees. (Cf. mgema, kotama, tembo.)
GHÁFALA

*Ghafala, n. a sudden occurrence, suddenness, carelessness, thoughtlessness, inattention, haste. Neno la gh., sudden, abrupt statement. Marathi ya gh., sudden stroke of illness. Usikae katika gh., do not be imprudent, careless,—advice to an invalid. Often as adv. and also kwa ghafala, suddenly, unexpectedly. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. tháruba, haraka.)

*Ghafalika, v. be hurried, be thoughtless (imprudent, neglectful, inattentive), &c. Ap. ghafalik-ia, -iwa, be careless (hasty, &c.) about. (Ar. Cf. ghafala, taghafali, and follg.)

*Ghafalisha, v. Cs. (1) make hurry, distract, flurry, come on suddenly; (2) do hurriedly, hurry over, neglect, fail to attend to. Gh. kazi, hurry over work. (Ar. Cf. ghafala, and prec.)

*Ghairi, v. (1) do something unexpected, sudden, or surprising, change one’s mind, alter plan, annul; (2) disappoint, offend, surprise. Labuda roho yake itaghairi, perhaps his mind will change. Akaghairi kuo lava, she suddenly refused to be married. —n. sudden change, surprise, disappointment. Tia ghairi, disappointment, surprise, offend. Also used with ya, as prep. ghairi ya, without, except, apart from, without regard to. (Ar., seldom used in deriv. forms.)

*Ghala, n. store-room, store-house, magazine, go-down. Weka vyakula ghalani, put away food in the larder. (Ar. Cf. bohari.)

*Ghali, a. often heard as r-rhali, (1) scarce, rare, hard to get; (2) dear, expensive, costly. Ngurwe zimekuwa ghali sasa, zimekwenda mhali, pigs are scarce now, they have made off to a distance. Sitaki ghali, nataka rahisi, I do not want an expensive one, I want a cheap one. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. ‘scarce’, -chache, haba, ‘costly’ -a thamani. Also rahisi, cheap.)

*Ghalibu, v. ‘compete’ in commerce. Rp. ghaliibiana, carry on a commercial war. (Ar. Cf. mghalaba, and syn. shindana.)

*Ghalika, v. (1) be rare, occur infrequently, be an infrequent visitor; (2) be dear, be costly, rise in price. Umeghalikasana siiku hiza, you seldom come to see us now. Viasa vineghalika, i.e. vinekuwa ghali, potatoes are dear, have risen in price. (Ar. Cf. ghali.)

*Ghalisha, v. Cs. make valuable, make scarce, raise the price of. (Ar. Cf. ghali, syn. pandisha be, zidisha thamani, and contr. rahiisika.)

*Ghammu, n. grief. See Hamu. (Ar. Cf. ghumia.)

*Ghangi, n. also Ghanji, Ghanja, and Gangi, a native vessel, like an Indian båghala, but not so high in the stern or long in the prow. (Cf. chombo.)

*Gharama, n. expense, outlay, payment. Fanya gh., toa gh., lay out money, incur expense. (Ar. Cf. gharimia.)

*Gharika, n. flood, deluge, inundation. (Ar. Cf. furiko, and follg.)

*Gharikisha, v. cause a flood (over), make a flood (in), inundate. Maji imegharikisha inchi, the water has flooded the country. (Ar. Cf. gharika, and furika.)

*Ghasia, n. (also commonly gasia), confusion, complication, bustle, hurry, medley, crowding, and used of various things involving these ideas, and of annoyances generally, e.g. gh. nyingi leo, a lot of troubles to-day; pana gh. njini, there is a disturbance in the town, a street crowd or riot;—also of a royal progress or cortège, the rush of a wild animal, &c. Gh. ya machezo, a medley of amusements. Níkakuta nyumba tupu hamna gh.,
I found the house empty, there was no stir or hum of people inside. (Ar. Cf. syn. mchafuko, mashaka.)

*Ghathabika, v. be furious, be enraged, be in a passion. Cs. ghathabi-sha, -shwa, exasperate, enraged, provoke. (Ar. Cf. ghathabu, and syn. kasirika.)

*Ghathabu, n. rage, fury, passion, anger, exasperation, used with such verbs as fanya, ona, ingia, also ingiwa (na), shikwa (na), putwa (na). Ana gh. ya kwenda, he goes at a furious rate. Mwenyi gh. mbele yake amesimama shetani, a man in a passion has a devil before him. (Ar. Cf. syn. kisira, uchungu.)

*Ghobira, n. (ma-), pardon, forgiveness of sins, absolution, — used only of God. Ghofira ya thambi, pardon of sins. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. in a more general sense, usameke, masamaha, ondule, maachito.)

*Ghotrofa, n. upper story, upper room. See Orofa. (Ar.)

*Ghoshi, v. adulterate, falsify, debase. Ameghoshi fetha kwa kuchanganya na kitu kingine, he has debased the silver by mixing it with something else, — a common practice in Z. Ps. ghoshiwa. Kitu kilichoghotrofa, an adulterated article. (Ar. Cf. syn. haribu, changanya.)

*Ghubbari, n. (ma-), rain cloud. Ulimwengu una magubbari, the whole sky is cloudy, looks rainy. (Ar. Cf. wingu.)

*Ghubba, n. (ma-), a bay of the sea, also of the ‘sweep, curve, bend’ of a river, — the concave aspect. (Ar. Cf. for curve, too, jindi, mzingo.)

*Ghumia, v. be overwhelming (to), be perplexed (at), be taken aback, lose presence of mind. Ps. ghumia, in same sense. Amelokwe na watu ameghumia, some people came on him suddenly, and he was taken aback. Cs. ghium-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. ghammu, or hamu, grief, and syn. shangaa, tekewa.)

*Ghururi, n. and Ugh-, arrogance, self-conceit, infatuation, folly, blindness. Mtu kuyu amepatwa na ghururi ya ulimwengu, this man is the victim of worldly delusion. (Ar. Cf. syn. kiburi; ufithuli.)

*Ghururika, v. also Ghurika, be proud, be arrogant. (Ar. Cf. ghururi.)

*Ghusubu, v. deceive, cheat, swindle, betray. Sultaní aliqhusubu haki ya maskini, the king betrayed the rights of the poor man. (Ar. Cf. common danganya, kopa, punja, &c.)

*Gilgilani, n. coriander seed, — used in curry powder. (Hind.)

*Ginsí, n. also Jinsi, and Jisi, kind, sort, quality, (1) often combined with gani, as a general interrogative. Ginsi gani? How? Why? What? What is the meaning of it? (2) Also often followed by -vyo introducing a dependent adverbial sentence, i.e. as a conjunction, ‘the manner in which, the way in which, how, in what way.’ Alimwambhi ginsi alivyofanya, he told him what he had done, or, how he had acted. (3) Also often as an interj. with either gani or -vyo. Ginsi iliyvo njema! Oh, how good it is! Njema ginsi gani, it is wonderfully good. (4) Ginsi gani is also used without an adjective to denote what is wonderful, nondescript, ridiculous, extravagant. Mancu haya hi ginsi gani, these statements are quite absurd, there is nothing to be made of them. form of Gota, which see. Cf. gonga, bisha.) — n. a kind of woodpecker.
Also kigogota.

Gole, n. (ma-), small pellet of opium (afuni) prepared for smoking. (Cf. gole, expectorated matter, Kr.)

Goma, n. (ma-), a large drum. (Cf. ngoma, kigoma.)

Gomba, v. (1) gainsay, contradict, forbid; (2) argue (with), quarrel (with), wrangle. Anagomba na mke ve, he is squabbling with his wife. Ap. gomb-za, -eva, -eka, argue (for, against, at, &c.), press a claim. Gombea ngazi, quarrel over the gangway. Gombea daraja, stand up for one's rank (position, status). Alitukanwa kwa sababu weve kuku-gombea, he was abused, because he stood up for you. Cs: gomb-za, -ezoa, -esika, (1) strictly forbid; (2) make quarrel, make a quarrel, scold. Gombesika, be blameworthy, deserve scolding. Tumegombezwa tusinde (or, kwenda), we are forbidden to go. Rp. gomb-ana, quarrel with each other, squabble. (Cf. ugomvi, -gonvi, ucombezi, ngombezi, and syn. teta, bisha, nenea, and 'forbid' katasa.) — n. (ma-), leaf of the banana plant (mgomba), i.e. jani la mgomba. See Mgomba.

Gombo, n. (ma-), leaf (sheet) of a book,—gombo la chuo.

Gome, n. (ma-) and perh. Kome, the hard external covering of trees and some animals, bark, shell. Ambua (toa) magome, take off strips of bark. Used of shell of crustaceans,—lobster, &c., also of mollusca (cf. kome), and as a colloquial word for half rupee, or shilling, 'bob.' (Cf. ganda, generally of soft outer covering, ngozi, v., kome.)

Gonda, v. grow thin. See Konda.

Gongo, n. (ma-), (1) a thick, heavy stick, cudgel, club, bludgeon (for other kinds, see Bakora). Also of other thick things, e.g. (2) seam (in a dress); (3) hump (of a camel), cf. nundu; (4) dense wood, thicket, gongo la mwitu, where trees are thickest in a forest. (Cf. mgongo, gonga.)

Gongoja, v. See Kongoja.

Gongomea, v. hammer, give blows to, drive with blows, as rivets, nails, pegs, stakes, &c., and so 'nail up.' Ps. gongomewa, fasten up. Akasi-gongomea ngu katika bweta, and he nailed up his clothes in a box.

-gunjwa, a. sick, ill, unwell, indisposed. U mgunjwa ao mzima? Are you ill or well? Huyu ni mgunjwa sana, this man is very ill, a great invalid. (Cf. ugenjwa, gunjwesa, and cf. -wel.)

Gonjwesa, v. Cs. cause to be ill, make ill or sick. Jigonjwesa, pretend to be sick, sham sickness, behave as if sick. Ps. gonjweswa. (Cf. folll.)

*Gora, n. (ma-), also Jora, and commonly Jura, a length of calico, calico in the piece (of about 30 to 35 yards).

Gorong'ondwa, n. a kind of lizard (Str.). Cf. myusi. (There is perh. also a verb gorong'onda, work about with a zigzag movement.)

*Goshi, n. also Joshi, windward or weather side, in navigation; also called upande wa jiu, upper side. Contr. demani, lee side. Upande wa goshini, weather side, windward. Pindua (chombo) kwa goshini, tack about, bout ship. Enda goshi, sail near the wind. Goshi la tanga, the lower, forward part of the sail in a native vessel. See Tanga. Kalia goshi, (1) be to windward of, and so (2) fig. have an advantage over, have the best position as to. Huyu anakukaliza goshi, this man has the better position, menaces your safety.

Gota, v. knock, tap, rap, strike. Gota mlanga, tap at a door. Also Gotagota, of drumming on an instrument, and Gogota, which see. Ps. gotwa. Nt. goteka. Ap. got-ca, -awa. Cs. got-esa, -eswa, cause to knock, e.g. gotesa maneno, of ill-pronounced, broken speech, the opposite of fluent speaking. Gotagota maneno, of jumbling words of different dialects together. Rp. gotana, —like gongana, e.g. vyombo vina-gotana, the dhows are knocking together. (Cf. mgoto, and syn. gonga, piga, fua, bisha, &c.)

Govi, n. also Ngovi, but in Z. Ngozi, which see. Govi mbo, prepuce, condition of being uncircumcised.

Guba, n. (ma-), packet of aromatic leaves (of mkadi, and other kinds), sold for their perfume. Cf. kiguba. (Dist. ghubba, kuba.)

*Gubari, n. (ma-). See Ghubari, and Wingu.

*Gubeti, n. prow of a native vessel; head, figure-head, often projecting far in front, and ornamented with carving, &c., described as kikono cha omo, as being like a hand held out from the bow. (Cf. omo, hanamu, and contr. shetri, stern.)

Gubi, n. (ma-), leaf stalk of coconut tree (mnazi).

*Gudi, n. (ma-), dock for ships. (Cf. gadi, and majahaba, lit. supports, props.)

*Gudulia, n. (ma-), pitcher, porous water jar, water-cooler of earthenware. Dim. kigudulia. (Cf. kuzu, mutungi.)

Gugu, n. (ma-), weed, undergrowth, wild plant of no value. Gugu mwitu, a plant resembling corn, tame. Lala maguguni, sleep in the bush; used also as indeclin. adj. (like mwitu), wild, uncultivated, from the jungle. (Cf. kigugu.)

Gugumiza, v. gulp, gulp down, swallow with a gurgling sound, splutter in the water,—as a swimmer in rough water, or man out of his depth; also of defective utterance. Mgonwa amegugumisa maji kwa shidda, the sick man has swallowed some water with an effort. Agugumiza maneno, he talks in a jerky, spluttering way. (Cf. goteza.)

Guguna, v. (1) gnaw, bite at; (2) carp at, annoy, molest. Panya ameguguna muhogo, a rat has gnawed the cassava. Ps. gugunwa. Mtu amegugunwa na fis, the man has been gnawed by a hyena. Nt. gugunika. Ap. gugun-ta, -iwa. Cs. gugun-isa, -izwa. (Cf. tafuna, ?guna, and perh. a verb gugunua, carp at, annoy, molest.)

Gugurusha, v. also heard as gurugusha, of movement, producing a rustling or scraping sound, as of a rat, rustle about, shuffle along, rattle about. (Cf. syn. piga mtakaso and furukuta.)

Guguta, n. cob or ear of Indian corn, with the grains removed. (Cf. mukhindi and kigunzi.)

Guia, v. and Guya, seize, catch, hold. Guia nyama, catch an animal in a trap. Ps. guiwa. Cs. guia, -swa. Rp. gui-ana. (Cf. shika, nasa, kamata, all more used in Z.)

Gumba, n. kidole cha gumba, thumb. (? Mtu gumba, a solitary, childless, or sterile person.)

Gumegume, n. bunduki ya gumegume, a flint-gun. (Cf. bunduki, and perh. -gunu.)

-gumu, a. (ngumu with D 4 (P), D 6, gumu with D 5 (S)), (1) hard, tough, firm, solid, strong. (Contr. -ororo, laini, thaifu.) Boriti hii ngumu kama chuma, this pole is as hard as iron. (2) Hard to deal with, difficult, laborious, puzzling. (Contr. rahisi, -epesi.) Kazi ngumu, hard work. (3) Brave, resolute, stout-hearted, courageous, obstinate, self-willed, fixed, unyielding. Mbona wewe mgumu sana? Why will you not change your mind? (Cf. syn. hodari, thabiti, -kali). (4) Inexorable, cruel, hard-hearted. (Contr. -ema, -pole, -a huruma.)

Guna, v. (1) grunt, grumble, murmur; (2) express disapproval, indignation, contempt, 'protest, complain, sneer at.' Baathi ya watu wana-mgume, some of the people sneer at him. (Cf. mguno, guno, nung'u-nika.)

Gunda, n. (ma-), a horn used for blowing. Dim. kigunda. (In Z. commonly pembe, baragumu.)

*Gundi, n. gum-arabic.

Gunga, v. use (native) medicine (nganga, dawa) to secure health, safety, well being. Figunga, secure oneself, take precautions for safety—by charms, medicine, &c., i.e. native form of life insurance.

Gungu, n. (ma-), a mode of danc- ing, a figure in a dance, e.g. gungu la kukuwa, the stumbling figure; gungu la kufunda, the pounding figure.

*Guni, n. (ma-), (1) a matting bag used for dates. Dim. kiguni. Also used to describe unrhymed or blank verse, mashairi yeni ni guni, as opp. to rhymed poetry, mashairi yeni vina. (2) A carpenter's spokes- shave. (Hind. Guni of poetry may come from the name of a famous Pemba poet, Guni.)

*Gunia, n. (ma-), (1) a coarse bag or sack used chiefly for rice imported from India, &c. Also (2) the material of which it is made, sack-cloth.

Guno, n. (ma-), grunt, grumble,—sound expressive of indignation or contempt. (Cf. guna, muguno.)

Gunzi, n. (ma-), full-grown ear, or cob, of Indian corn (muhindi). (Cf. kigunzi, and kibunzi.)

Guru, n. Sukali guru, a coarse unrefined kind of sugar made from the cane, as in Z., and sold in large dark-coloured lumps.

*Gurudumu, n. (—, and ma-), a wheel. Used in the plur. of any vehicle of which the wheels are conspicuous. (Cf. gari.) Magurudumu ya mzinga, a gun carriage.

Guruguru, n. (ma-), and Mguru-guru, a large kind of burrowing lizard. (Cf. mjusi, kenge.)

Gurugusha, v. a variant of Gurgurusha, which see.

Gutu, n. (ma-), stump, remainder. G. la mkono, stump of mutilated arm. (Cf. kikono.) G. la mnazi, trunk of cocoanut tree with the crown broken off. Also dim. kigutu. (Cf. shiku, baki, salio.)

Gutua, v. or Kutua, startle, frighten, surprise. Nt. gutuka. (Cf. the more common stusha, stuka.)

Guu, n. (ma-), used of any object resembling a leg (foot), or of a leg (foot) of large size, but in Z. mguu is always used of the leg (foot) of an animal or man. Ubau wa maguu matatu, a three-legged stool, tripod.

Gwanda, n. also Bwanda, a short kind of kanzu (which see), sometimes worn by men, reaching to the knees.

*Gwaride, n. (ma-), one of the words used in Z. for the ‘native police,’ and esp. their military band, called also mdunzi, matarumpeta. Kuchesa gwaride, to drill. (Cf. Engl. guard.)

H.

H represents generally the same sound as in English,—a sound which is of great importance in verb-forms in Swahili, as being the main characteristic of the negative conjugation.

In words of Arabic origin, this sound represents both forms of Arabic H, and also in most words the Arabic Kh. The tendency in Swahili is to soften down all gutturals to the point of disappearance, though they are learnt and retained in some words of comparatively recent introduction and by persons brought into close relations with Arabs. H also represents in a few words an initial Alif or Ain in the Arab original, and when an h sound in Arabic follows a vowel closely, the tendency in Swahili is to pronounce it before the vowel.

A word not found under H may therefore be looked for under Kh, or under the first vowel of the word.

H- (1) is the characteristic of the a. and adv. demonstr. of nearness and of reference, ‘this, this near me, this, referred to, that,’ which appears (followed always by the same vowel as occurs in the following syllable) in huwu, hawa, huu, hii, hizi, hiki, hiri, hili, haya, huku, humu, hapa, and the corresponding forms in -o, huyo, &c. (See esp. Huko, and Huyu, and cf. the other characteristic demonstr. letter L.) (2) As a negative prefix, is found only in the 2 and 3 Pers. S. of verb-forms. See Ha- and Hu-.

Ha, a verb-form, he (she) is not, negative prefix used in agreement with Mtu. Yehe ha mwema, he is not good. Si is usually preferred to ha.

Ha- is the characteristic negative prefix of all verb-forms, except (1) where si is used, i.e. in the 1 Pers. S. of the Indic. Mood, in the Subjunctive, and in verb-forms containing a relative, e.g. si-pendi, I do not like; asiende, that he may not go; yasi-yopendezo, things which do not please.

(2) Where it becomes h- only, i.e. in the 2 and 3 Pers. S., e.g. h-u-pendi for ha-u-pendi, you do not like, and h-a-pendi for ha-a-pendi, he does not like; (3) when an additional sign of the negative is required, viz. the change of final a to i, in the Present Indicative only, e.g. hawapendi, they do not like. Ha-, as Negative Prefix, is always initial.

Ha- is also a contraction for nika-, the sign of the First Person Singular in the ka or Narrative Tense. Hamwona for nikamwona, and I saw him. (Confusion with the negative is barred by the change of final a to i in the Present Tense, see above, e.g. hamwoni, he does not see him, or you (plur.) do not see.)

*Haba, a. (1) little (in quantity), few; (2) rare, scarce; (3) not enough, deficient, too little, short (in amount). Chakuli h., not enough food. Mtu h., a rare kind of man. Siku h., a few days, insufficient time. Maji h., shallow water, not enough water. Sometimes used as a n. ‘a little’ of anything. (Cf. kidogo.) Habana haba hujasa kibaba, grain upon grain fills the measure. (Cf. Ar. haba, a grain, and syn. B. -chache, kidogo, kitambo.)

Habari, n. and Khabari, (1) news, report, message, information; (2) events, matters, proceedings, things. Common in salutations, of persons meeting, e.g. Habari? or Habari gani? How are you? How are you getting on? or Habari ya siku nyingi? How have you been of late? Niambie h. yake, tell me about him. Kwa h. ya jambo ilie, as to that matter. H. zangu zilizonipata, things that happened to me. Ginsi gani kutufanya h. ile? What did you treat us like that for? (Ar. Cf. hubiri, and syn. maarifa, tarifu, jambo.)

*Habba, n. (ma-), and Hubba, (1) love, fondness, affection; (2) love-token, souvenir, gift. Of natural affection of friends and relatives, as well as of the sexes. Tia habbani, take a fancy to. Ana habba nami, he is in love with me. Hanifunuli habba, he does not open his feelings to me. Amenitoka habbani, I have ceased to care for him. (Ar. Cf. common address in letters, muhebbi, and syn. pendo, mapenzi, shauku.)

Habeshia, n. (ma-), also Mhabeshia, Habushia, an Abyssinian. Used also of female domestic slaves of the suria class, of whatever race.

*Hadaa, v. cheat, deceive, outwit. Ps. hadaiwa. Nt. hadaiika, be deceived. — n. deception, cunning, trickery, &c. (Ar. Cf. danguya, punja, kalamkia, &c., also hila, ujania, werevu.)

*Hadimu, n. (ma-), servant, attendant, slave. In Z. usually Hadimu, which see, i.e. one of the original inhabitants of the island. (Cf. hudumu, Mhadimu, and syn. mtumishi, mtumwa, mngoje.)

*Hadithi, v. narrate, tell stories, relate, describe, recount, report. Ps. hadithiwa. Ap. hadith-ia, -iwa, tell to (for, about, in, &c.), e.g. pamehadithiwa vingi, there are many stories told about the place. Tumehadithiwa, we have been told, history relates. — n. story, tale, account, report, history, legend, fiction. *Ni hadithi tu, it is only a story, mere fiction. (Ar. Cf. sumulila, and habari, kisa, ngano.)
HAFIFU

*Hai, a. or Hayi, alive, living, having life, animate. *Yu hai, he is alive. (Ar. Cf. uhai, huika, huisha, and syn. -zina.)

Hai, a verb-form, it is not, they are not,—Negat. Pfx. with Pers. Pfx. agreeing with D 2 (P) or D 6 (S). See Ha-.

*Haiba, n. beauty, adornment, decoration. *Mwanamke ana h. uso wake, the woman has beautified her face. *H. inaingia sasa nyumbani, the house is becoming decorated now. (Ar. Cf. syn. usuri, pambo, urembo.)

Hain, verb-form, it has not (is not), they have not (are not),—the Negat. Pfx. with Pers. Pfx. agreeing with D 2 (P) and D 6 (S), —and na. See Ha-, Na.

*Haini, n. traitor, betrayer, deceiver. Also rarely as v., betray. (Ar. Cf. hiana, and for deceiving, see Danganya.)

*Haithuru, v. often used as, it does not matter, never mind, it is all the same. (See Thuru, and syn. mamoja.)

*Haj, n. pilgrimage to Mecca, —incumbent on all Mahomedans, where possible, and often undertaken from Z. *Kwenda haj, to go as a pilgrim to Mecca. (Ar. See Haji.)

*Haja, n. (1) need, want, appeal for aid, request; (2) reason, cause, ground, excuse, claim. right; (3) what is needed, necessaries, belongings, engagements, calls of nature. *Toa h. kwa, taka h. kwa, make a request, request something of. *Sina h. naye, I have no need of him, he is of no use to me. *Hana h., he is not wanted. *Haina h. ya kugomba, there is no reason for quarrelling. *Mabaghala ya kupakia h. sake, mules to carry his baggage. *Kwa h. ya kutembea, for the sake of a walk. *Fanya h., attend to the calls of nature. (Ar. Cf. hitaji, haji, hoja, or kuja, and syn. for 'need,' &c. mahitaji, maombi, ikosfu, —for 'reason, &c.' sababu, ajili, maana, sharti,—for 'necessaries' riziki, mafaa, vyombo, &c.)

Hajambo, verb-form,—Negat. Pfx. of 3 Pers. S. combined with jambo, thing, affair, matter,—he is not (affected by) anything, there is nothing the matter with him. See Jambo.

*Haji, n. (1) also Haj, a pilgrimage to Mecca, see Haj; (2) (ma-), a pilgrim, one who is on his way to or has been to Mecca; and (3) more generally of an adherent of any religion. *Mahaji ya kizungu, people who follow the European religion. — v. also Hiji, Heji, make a pilgrimage to Mecca. Ap. haj-ia, -iwa. *Atanihajia mahali pangu, he will make the pilgrimage for me. Cs. haj-isha, -ishwa, send as a pilgrim, allow to go, provide means for, &c. (Ar. Cf. haj. Dist. haji, he does not come, i.e. from ja, v.)

*Hajiri, v. remove (from), leave, emigrate, move house. (Ar. for the common B. syn. hama.)

*Hakali, n. or Hikali, payment for privilege, e.g. kushika hakali, force to make a deposit, or pay footing, as a stranger intruding, &c. (Arab. higal.)

*Haki, n. (1) justice, right, lawfulness. *Mt wa h., a just man. *Hukumu h., or kwa haki, judge justly. *Shika (or fanya) h., be just, deal justly. (2) In general, absolute justice, righteousness. *Mungu ni mwényi h., God is the Righteous One.

(3) In particular, a claim, a right, a privilege, a just share. *Nipe h. yangu, give me my wages, what I have a right to. *Killa mwényi h. anuwaye fullani, any one who has a claim as a creditor of so and so. *Enda hakini, appeal to the law. *Nakuliza kwa haki, I have a right to ask you. (Ar.)

Haki, verb-form, it is not. (Cf. hai.)

*Hakika, n. certainty, reality, genuineness, fact, truth. *Mambo haya ni h., these are facts. *H. yako, truth as to you, you certainly, e.g. h. yako unekosa, you are certainly wrong. *Sina h. nalo, I am not sure about it. As adv. truly, certainly, really. (Ar. Cf. hakiki, halisi, kweli.)

*Hakiki, v. make sure about, ascertain, investigate, prove, know for certain. Ps. hakikiwa. Nt. hakikika, e.g. haihakikiki, certainty is unattainable. Ap. hakik-ia, -iwa, inquire into (about, for, at). Cs. hakik-isha, -ishwa, cause to investigate, make a strict inquiry, have a matter gone into. (Ar. Cf. hakika.)

*Hakimu, n. (na-), judge, ruler, chief. *H. wetu anayetumiliki, our chief who rules over us. *H. hapendelei mtu, the judge favours no one. (Ar., not often used in Z., cf. hakumuu, and ?hekima, and syn. sultani, mfalme, jambe, fumu, kathi.)

*Hakiri, v. treat with contempt, despise, abuse. Cs. hakir-isha, -ishwa, e.g. as Intens., vilify, scorn. (Arab. for common tharau, tuseza, thilisha.)

Hako, verb-form, also Hayuko, he (she) is not there (is away, is absent), Negat. Pfx. of 3 Pers. S. ha agreeing with D 1 (S), and Locat. Pfx. ko. (So hayuko, hapo, hamo, &c.)

Haku-, as first part of a verb-form, is the Negat. Pfx. with *ku, which in this combination may be (1) sign of Past Tense Negat., e.g. hakupendesa, he did not please, or (2) pfx. agreeing with Infin. Mood, e.g. kulala hakupendesi, lying down is not pleasant, or (3) pfx. of general reference, e.g. hakupendesi, the circumstances are unpleasant, or (4) Pers. Pfx. of 2 Pers. S. object, or P. object (with -enti), e.g. hakupendi, hakupendeni, he does not like you.

Hakuna, verb-form, often used as simple negative no, not so, it is not,—Negat. Pfx. ha-, with *ku of general reference or agreeing with an Infin. Mood, and na, which see. (Cf. hamuna, hapana, and for Negat. la, siyo.)

*Hal, n. Hal wáraré, otto of roses,—one of the favourite and most costly perfumes in Z. (Ar.)

*Halafu, adv. afterwards, presently, not yet, after a bit. Also commonly halafu yake, afterwards. Always of time. (Ar. Cf. baada, baadaye, bado kidogo, and nyuma.)

*Halali, a. lawful, permissible, allowed, rightful, optional, available, ceremonially clean. *Mke wake h., his lawful, wedded wife. *H. kwenda, you may go if you like. *Kwiba si h., it is unlawful to steal. Also as a n., *h. yako, it is right for you, you may. *Kichwa changu h. yako, my head is at your mercy. (Ar. Cf. halalisha, and hiyari. Contr. haramu, and dist. verb-form halali, he does not lie down, from fala.)

*Halalisha, v. Cs. make lawful, legalize, declare right, free from legal or ceremonial objections or disabilities. *Muhammadí hakuhalalisha nyama ya ngurume, Mohammed did not sanction pork (as food). Ps. halalishwa. (Ar. Cf. halali.)

*Halassa, n. sailor's wages, i.e. *ujira wa waanamaji.

*Hali, n. state, condition, circumstances, case. A common form of address is Hali gani? or U hali gani? How are you? (Cf. Habari, Jambo, Salaam.) *Kwa killa h., in any case. *H. moja na, on same side.
as, of same views as, a follower of. Yu h. yetu, he is one of us. H. ya kwua ukwua, a state of desertion, desolation,—of a woman abandoned by her husband. (Ar. Cf. mahali, pahali.)

Hali, verb-form, it is not, Negat. agreeing with D 5 (S). Cf. hai. (Dist. hali, he does not eat, Negat. Present, from la.)

*Halifu, v. (1) oppose, contradict, rebel (against), disobey. H. mfalme, or kwua mfalme, rebel against the king. H. sheria, transgress the law. Amenihalifu sana, he violently opposed me. (2) Leave behind, esp. at death, i.e. bequeath. Andika mali yote aliyoali halifu fullani, make an inventory of all property left by So-and-So. Ps. halifswa. Ap. halif-ia, -iwa, -iana. Cs. halif-ishwa, -ishwa, e.g. incite to disobedience, &c. — a. rebellious, disobedient, headstrong. (Ar. Cf. for (1) -halifu, uhalifu, and syn. asi, kaidi, and B. pinta, bisha, teta, &c., for (2) halafu, and acha, rithisha.)

*Halili, Halilisha. See Halali, Halalisha.

*Halisi, a. real, genuine, true, exact, precise, accurate. Myaohalisi, a true genuine Yao. Ndio halisi nitakayo, that is exactly what I want. Also adv., exactly, perfectly, really, just, just so. Njema halisi, of the very best quality. (Ar. Cf. syn. haswa, sawasawa, kweli.)

*Halua, n. a common sweetmeat, made of flour, eggs, sugar, ghee, &c., and often brought by Arabs from Muscat.

*Haluli, n. Chumvi ya haluli, sulphate of magnesia, Epsom salts.

Ham, verb-form, you (plur.) are not,—Negat. Pfx. with Pfx. of 2 Pers. P.*object. (Cf. ha, and m.)

Hama, v. change habitation, emigrate, flit, remove (from, to). H. nyumba (mji, inchi), move from (or, to) a house (town, country). Ap. ham-ia, -iwa. Cs. ham-isha, -ish-wa, e.g. cause to remove, eject, banish, transport. (Cf. -hame, -hamishi.)

*Hamaki, v. be confounded, lose one's wits, act foolishly. (Ar. Cf. shangaa, toshewa, pumbaza. Dist. tahamaki.)

*Hamali, n. (ma-), porter, carrier, coolie,—the professional town carrier in Z. Cf. mchukusi, any carrier of a parcel, or load; mpagazi, a caravan-porter. Merikebuya h., a freight vessel, merchant ship. Gari la h., a trolley, goods-van. (Ar. Cf. hamili, himili, stahimili, and syn. mpagazi, mchukusi.)

*Hamami, n. a public bath, bathing establishment. (Ar. Cf. for room bath, birika ya kugea, kioge.)

*Hamaraawi, n. rope attached to lower or forward end of the yard in a native vessel, to steady it and assist in shifting, when tacking,—a forebrace. See Foromali.

*Hamaya, n. protection, guardianship. Usually in formal documents, e.g. fi hamayat al Ingerzea, under British protection, for the common chini ya mkono wa, or mkononi mwa, in the hands of. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. ulinzi, tunza.)

*Hamdu, n. praise,—usually in Arab formal expressions, e.g. Al hamdu illahi, praise to God. (Cf. himidi, hemidi, and syn. sija.)

-hame, a. deserted, abandoned,—of place, e.g. mahame, pahame, a deserted village. (Cf. hama, -hamishi, and syn. -kiwa.)

*Hami, v. protect, defend. (Arab. Cf. hamaya, and the common syn. tunza, linda.)

*Hamila, Hamili. See Himila, Himili.

*Hamira, n. leaven, yeast, made by mixing flour and water, and leaving it to turn sour. (St.) (Arab. for common syn. B. chachu.)

-hamishi, a. wandering, nomad, migratory, homeless. (Cf. hama, -hame.)
HAMNA

Hamna, verb-form, (1) there is not inside, there is not, no—same as hakuna, hapana, but with m of reference to interior, for ku, pa; (2) you (plur.) have not, in which m is the Pers. Pfix. of 2 P. subject. See Hakuna.

Hamo, verb-form, also Hayumo, he is not within—same as Hako (which see) with mo, locative of interior, for ko.

*Hamsi, n. and a., five. Rarely used alone, for the common B. tano. Hamsi mia, five hundred. (Arab. Cf. hamsini, hamstashara, alhamisi.)

*Hamsini, n. and a., fifty. -a hamsini, fiftieth. (Ar. Cf. hami.)

*Hamstashara, n. and a., fifteen. -a hamstashara, fifteenth. (Ar. Cf. hansi, ashara, and syn. B. kumi na tano.)

*Hamu, n. grief, sorrow, distress. Tia hamu, grieve. Fanya (ingiwa na) hamu, he grieved. (Ar. Cf. ghamsuni, and syn. kusuni, sikitiko, majonsi, &c. Dist. hamu, haste, hurry,—not often heard, cf. hina. Tuna hamu ya kwenda zetu, we are in a hurry to go, &c.)

Hana, verb-form, he (she) has not—Negat. Pfix. with na, which see. Hana hitu, he has nothing. Hana kwao, he has no home, he is a vagabond.

*Hanamu, a. oblique, aslant, sideways. Kata h., cut obliquely. (Cf. syn. mshathali, kombo, upande.)

*Handaki, n. ditch, trench, channel (artificial). (Ar. Cf. shimo, msingi.)

*Hando, n. a copper vessel, similar to the earthenware mtungi, with narrow circular opening at the top, used chiefly for carrying and storing water. (For other metal vessels cf. sufuria, kitasa, kalasia.)

HAPO

*Hangaika, v. See Angaika.

Hani, v. also Hana, which see.

Hankiza, v. Cs. talk down, beat down with loud talking, drown an opponent's voice, bluff, prevent hearing. Rp. hankizana.

*Hanisi, a. impotent (sexually), effeminate, weak. (Ar.)

*Hanithi, a. ribald, foul, shameless. Acha neno h. wee, stop that bad language, will you? (Arab. for more usual-najisi, -chafu, -baya.)

Hanzua, n. a kind of sword dance, commonly played after Ramathani.

Hao, a. pron. of reference, 3 Pers. P. agreeing with D 1 (P'), those referred to, those there. See Huyu, and O.

Hapa, a. pron. of place, this place,—agreeing with D 7, seldom of time or circumstances, and generally used alone as pron. or locative adv. H. pazuri, this is a nice place. Toka h. hatta mjini, from here to the town. Njoo h., come here. H. pana watu, here there are people. Sometimes papa hapa, just here, on this very spot (cf. papa). See Huyu, and cf. follg.

Hapale, a. pron. for hapa-pale, just there, at that very place. (Cf. huyule, hivile, &c., and see Huyu, Yule.)

Hapana, verb-form, there is not there, there is none, no—same as hakuna, hamna, but with pa, agreeing with D 7, of place. Commonly as a simple negation, like hakuna, la, siyo.

Hapo, a. pron. of reference, agreeing with D 7, and like hapa commonly used alone, but unlike hapa, of time as well as place, and also more generally of circumstances. Toka hapo! get out of that! go along! H. kale, in the days of old, once upon a time, often at the beginning of a story. Tangu h., tokea h., from long ago, ever so long. Hapo, in that case, under the circumstances. H. mba1, that was a different case.
Also papo hapo, just there, at that very place (time, crisis). (Cf. hapal, huyo, papa.

Hapo, verb-form, also Hayupu. he (she) is not here,— same as huko, hamo, with locative -po for -ko, -mo.

Harara, n. heat, warmth, (1) of the body, high temperature, inflammation, prickly heat, rash produced by heat. Ameshikwa na h., he is hot, feverish. Yuna h. ya mapaja kwa jua na njia, he has a rash on the thighs from the heat and walking. (2) fig. hot temper, rashness, precipitancy. H. ya moyo, moyo wa h., moyo h., a passionate disposition, quick temper. (Ar. Cf. hari, and syn. moto, uvikuto.

Hara, v. have looseness of the bowels, suffer from frequent purging, have diarrhoea, &c. H. damu, have dysentery, pass blood with the stools. Dawa ya kuhara (also, ya kuharisha), an aperient medicine, a laxative, a purge. Cs. har-isha, -ishwa. Chakula hiki chaniharisha, this food gives me diarrhoea. (Ar.)

Harabu, n. (—, and ma), one who is destructive, a spoiler, a ruffian, a vandal. Mwarabu h. usiende mrima, the Arab is a destroyer, so do not go to the mainland. Nazi mbou h. ya umina, bad cocoanuts spoil the good ones. Also a. harabu, destructive, violent. (Ar. Cf. haribu, uharabu.

Haradali, n. mustard. (Ar.)

wrong for, &c. Cs. harim-isha, -ishwa, often Intens. and so instead of the Pr. harimu, declare illegal, according to Mahomedan law. Harimisha mu kitu, interdict some one from something. Tuneharimishwa kileo, we are forbidden intoxicants. — n. (ma-), person or thing forbidden. Harimimu, persons within the prohibited degrees of consanguinity and so forbidden to each other. (Ar. Cf. haramu, haramia, and for forbidding, gombesa, katasa,unga, marufukan.)

*Harufu, n. (1) a letter (of the alphabet), a written character, figure. H. za kiarabu, Arabic writing characters. (Ar. Cf. tarakimu.) (2) Scent, smell, odour, of any kind, good or bad. (Cf. nuka, manukate, uwundo.)

*Harusi, n. wedding. See Arusi. (Ar.— the h representing Ain.)

*Hasara, n. loss, damage, injury. Pata h., lose. Tia h., cause loss to. Lipa h., pay damages, repay, make amends. (Ar. Cf. hasiri, thara, upetewu.)

*Hasa, int. certainly not, by no means, impossible, God forbid,—a very emphatic negative. (Ar. Other negatives are la, sto, hakuna.)

*Hasherati, n. profligacy, vice. See Asherati. (Ar.)

Hasho, n. a piece of wood used as a patch, let in or fixed on, to close a hole, &c.

*Hasi, v. castrate, geld. Ps. hasiwa. Also n. (ma-), a bullock, a gelding. (Ar. Cf. mhasi, masesi, and syn. tawashi.)

*Hasibu, v. also Hesabu, count, reckon up, calculate. (Ar. For derivatives, &c., see Hesabu.)

*Hasidi, v. also Husudu, envy, grudge, be jealous of. Unamhasidi nguo zake, you envy him his clothes. (For derivatives, &c., see Husudu.) — n. (1) envy, jealousy, spite; (2) an envious, spiteful person, and in general, enemy, foe. Tukaona huyu ndiye hasidi, and we see that he was indeed our enemy. (Ar. Cf. uhasidi, uhusuda, and syn. B. uuivu.)

*Hasimu, n. antagonist, rival, opponent. (Arab. Cf. husuma,— for common adui, and cf. mdai, mtesi, &c.)

*Hasira, n. anger, wrath, passion. Kuwa na h., to be angry. Kutia h., to enrage. Used with many verbs, e. g. fanya, ona, piga, shikwa na, ingia, ingiwa, patwa na, &c. (The common word in Z. Cf. kasiri, and syn. ghathabu, uchungu, chuki. Dist. follg.)

Hassa, adv. also Haswa, exactly, wholly, completely, very much. (Ar. Cf. halisi, barabba, kabisa, sana.)

*Hatamu, n. bridle, i. e. ugiwa wa mdomoni, the mouth strap, to guide or fasten an animal with. (Ar. The bit is lijamu.)

*Hatari, n. danger, peril, risk, jeopardy. Hatari kwenda, it is dangerous to go. Jitia hatarini, run a risk, imperil oneself. (Cf. hatiri-isha, and dist. hathari. Cf. masheka.)

*Hathari, v. exercise care, be cautious, act with prudence. Hathari kwa adui, be on guard against (be on the look-out for) an enemy. Fihathari is a common cry of warning, Mind yourself! Look out! Take care!—like bismilla. — n. caution, care, prudence. Common in such phrases as kuwa na h., to be on one's guard; kutia h., to put on one's guard, to caution. Also fanya h., jipasha h., pata h. (Ar. Cf. syn. angalia, jilinda, kuwa macho.)
HATI 95  HAWA

*Hati, n. written note, memorandum, document, certificate, writing, esp. of an official or formal kind, e.g. andikia hati, emancipate, write a freedom-paper for. (Ar. Cf. waraka, a news letter, of ordinary correspondence, and barua, chetti.)

Hatia, n. See Hatia, and Atia.

*Hatibu, n. (ma-), a preacher. H. anapanda ndani ya mimbara apate kuhutubu, the preacher is mounting the pulpit to give his address. (Ar. Cf. hutubu, hotuba.)

*Hatima, n. end, conclusion. Akakaa raha hatta hatima, and he lived happily to the day of his death. Hatimaye, for hatima yake, used as adv., finally. — adv. finally, at last, in the end, and sometimes as prep. after, e.g. hatima kufa kwake, after his death. (Ar. Cf. hitima, hitimu, and syn. B. mwisho, kikomo.)

*Hatirisha, v. Cs. put in danger, endanger, risk, imperil. Amehatirisha mali katika chombo, he has risked his goods on a dhow. Ps. hatirishwa. Rf. jiihatirisha, risk oneself, i.e. jii hatarini. (Ar. Cf. hatari.)

*Hatia, n. and Hatia, (1) fault, transgression, crime, sin; (2) guilt, blame, culpability. Tia hatiyan, find fault with, accuse. Kuwa na h. na (mntu) may mean either to have done a wrong to, or, to have a charge against. (Ar. Cf. thambi, kosa.)

*Hatta, (1) prep. until, up to, as far as, as much as, — implying a point, object, degree, or condition in view. Toka hapa h. huko, from here to there. Tangu assubuhi h. jioni, from morning to evening. Simps h. moja, I will not give him as much as one (even one). Often with kidogo, after a negative, i.e. not in the least, not even a little, not at all. Also without kidogo, but in same sense, habari hili si kweli hatta, this report is not true at all. Sometimes even with negative only implied, e.g. Amekwenda? hatta, Has he gone? Not he. (2) conj. (a) connective, so, then, next, often merely transitional and not requiring translation, h. assubuhi, so in the morning. H. siku moja, one day, once upon a time. (b) subordinative, so as to, even if, though. Nita fanya akili gani, h. tugawe sawasawa? What plan shall I follow, so that we may divide equally? H. aje na muki, usikubali, even if he come with a spear, do not consent. (3) adv. H. ntamipiga, I will even beat him, I will go so far as to beat him. Baha hati yako h. nimekuja, Thanks to your good luck, I have even come, I am positively here. (Ar.)

Hatu, verb-form, we are not,—Negat. Pfx. with Pfx. of 1 Pers. P. See Ha-, and Tu.

*Hatua, n. step, pace, in walking, also footstep, mark left by the foot. Pima kwa h., measure by paces. Vuta h. hapa na hapa, go a step in either direction. Safari h., a journey on foot. H. mbili mbele, two steps to the front. (Ar. Cf. nayo.)

Hau, verb-form, it is not, Negat. Pfx., and Pfx. agreeing with D 2 (S), and D 4 (S). See Ha-, and U.

Hauna, verb-form, it is not (does not exist), it has not,—Negat. Pfx., and Pfx. agreeing with D 2 (S), D 4 (S), and na (which see).

Havi, verb-form, they are not,—Negat. Pfx. and Pfx. agreeing with D 3 (P). See Ha-.

Havina, verb-form, they are not, they have not,—Negat. Pfx. and Pfx. agreeing with D 3 (P), and na (which see).

*Hawa, n. (1) longing, bias, strong inclination, lust, passion.
HAWA 96  HAZI

Huyu yuna h. ya moyo, this man is deeply in love. Usifanye h. nafsi, do not show bias, do not be partial. (Ar., with ya final. Cf. syn. shauko, haba, mapenzi, nga, tamaa, roho, maeleko, uchu.) (2) Air, the air. H. yu kule nzuri sana, the air there is delightful. Badili h., take a change of air. (Ar., with alif final. Cf. amga, upepo, baridi, tabia, climate. Hawa is also sometimes written hewa,—the first a having a light sound like a short e. Cf. elfu, elfu, mwalimu, elitimu, &c., and e.)

(3) Eve, the first woman. (Ar., not the same h as (1) and (2). (4) See follg.

Hawa, pron. these, plur. of huyu, agreeing with D 1 (P).

Hawa, verb-form, they are not,—Negat. Pfx. with Pfx. agreeing with D 1 (P).

*Hawa, Hawaa, Hawai, n. also Hawara, a paramour, a woman living with a man who is not her husband. (Cf. suria, kinyumba, mwandani, kahaba.)

*Hawala, n. also Awala, money order, cheque, draft, bill of exchange. (Ar. Cf. syn. hundi, hati.)

Hawana, verb-form, they are not (do not exist), they have not,—Negat. Pfx. and Pfx. agreeing with D 1 (P), and na (which see).

Hawezi, n. 3 Sing. Pres. Indic. Negat. of weza, he is unable, he has not strength, he is sick. So commonly applied to the condition of sickness, as to be sometimes used as an indeclinable adj., sick, ill, e.g. nalikwaa hawezi, for siwesii, I was ill. Walikuta watu wengi hawezi, they found many people sick. And even as verb, e.g. amehawezi, he has become sick, he is ill. See Weza, and Siwesi.

Hawi, v. 3 Pers. Sing. Pres. Indic. Negat. of -wa (kwowa), he is not, he does not exist. See -wa.

*Hawili, v. (1) change, transfer. II. chombo, change ship, trans-ship.

Cs. hawil-isha, -ishwa. (2) Give security for, guarantee, undertake responsibility for. H. deni, become responsible for a debt. (Ar. Cf. hawala, and syn. (1) badili, (2) diriki.)

*Haya, n. (1) shame, modesty, bashfulness, shamefacedness; (2) cause of shame, disgrace; (3) humility, respect, reverence. Tia h., make ashamed. Fanya (ona) h., feel shame, be shy. Hana h., he is a shameless (impudent, brazen) person. (Ar. Cf. syn. aibu, setheha, tahayari. Dist. follg.)

Haya, (1) int. as call to action or effort, come on! now then! work away! step out! make haste! &c.; (2) a. these, plur. of huyu, agreeing with D 5 (P); (3) verb-form, they are not,—Negat. Pfx. and Pfx. agreeing with D 5 (P).

Hayale, a. for haya-yale, those very (things), agreeing with D 5 (P). (Cf. huyule, huyu, yule.)

*Hayamkini, v. it is impossible. See Yamkini. (Ar.)

Hayana, verb-form, they are not (do not exist), they have not,—Negat. Pfx. and Pfx. agreeing with D 5 (P), and na (which see).

*Hayawani, n. a brute, a beast, like a brute, and so of persons, fool, idiot, brute. (Ar. Cf. whayawani, and syn. mjinga, mpumbafu.)

*Hayi, a. alive, living. See Hai. (Ar.)

Hayo, a. of reference, agreeing with D 5 (P), those referred to, those yonder, those. (Cf. huyo.)

Hayuko, verb-form, he (she) is not there,—Negat. Pfx., Pfx. yu agreeing with D 1 (S), and locative Pfx. -ko. (Cf. ha-, -ko.)

*Hazama, n. also Azama, or Athama, nose-ornament, pendant. (Ar.)

*Hazamu, n. (ma-), girdle. Commonly in the plur. (Ar. Cf. ma-hazamu, mshipi, masombo.)

Hazi, verb-form, they are not,— Negat. Pfx., with Pfx. agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6. (Cf. ha-.)

*Hazina, n. treasure, deposit of money, exchequer, privy purse. H. ya mali, nyumba ya h., treasury. (Ar. Cf. daifina, mali, akiba.)

Hazina, verb-form, they are not (do not exist), they have not.—Negat. Pfx., with Pfx. agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6, and na (which see).

*Hebbu, v. like, be pleased with, take a fancy to. Baba aliuhebbu unyoya ule, his father took a fancy to that feather. Ap. hebb-ia, -iwa. (Arab. seldom used. Cf. habba, hiba.)

*Hedaya, n. gift, present, usually of something rare, costly, or wonderful. Kitu cha h., a costly thing. (Arab. Cf. atia, zawadi, bakshishi, tumu, &c.)

*Hekalu, n. (ma-), a large building, a palace, a temple, the temple at Jerusalem. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. jumba.)

*Hekima, n. wisdom, knowledge, judgement. (Ar. Cf. hakimu, hakumu, and syn. elimu, busara, akili, maarifa.)

*Hekimiza, v. Cs. cause to know, give instructions to, inform, direct. Ametuhekimiza tukutunze, he directed us to take care of you. Ps. hekimizwa. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Hema, n. (—, and ma-), a tent. Piga (simikisha) h., pitch a tent. Ondoa (ng'oa) h., strike a tent. (Ar.)

*Hemidi, n. also Himidi, praise, esp. in ascription to God. (Ar. Cf. hamdu, follg. and syn. sifu.)

*Hemidi, v. and Himidi, praise. Ps. hemidiwa. (Ar. Cf. hamdu, hemidi, and syn. sifu.)

*Henza, n. halyard,—the thick rope by which the heavy yard and sail of a native vessel is hoisted. It passes over a sheave at the masthead, and carries a double or treble pulley (gofia) connected with another (abe- dari) on deck by a smaller rope (jirari), giving the necessary pur- chase. (Cf. langa.)

*Henzarani, n. a cane, canework.

*Heri, n. happiness, blessedness, good fortune, luck, success, advantage. H. yako ni yetu, your happiness is ours. Mtu wa h., a fortunate (happy, enviable) man. Kisualiiwa h., to be granted good fortune. Kisu- nuliwa h., to make a lucky guess, hit on a happy idea. Common in formula of leave-taking, kwa heri, good-bye, or kwa heri ya kuonana, good-bye till we meet again. Also heri, it is well, it is best (like afathali), e.g. heri uende, you had better go. (Ar. Cf. subalkheri, masalkheri, in which the kh is more distinctly heard as a guttural.)

Hero, n. a small wooden dish, sometimes on legs, used for serving food on. (Cf. chungu.)

*Hesabu, v. also Hasibu, Hisabu, count, calculate, reckon up. Ps. hesabiwa. Nt. hesabika. Hasi- hesabiki, they are not counted, or, they are not to be counted, i.e. worthless, or, they are past counting, i.e. numberless. Ap. hesab-ia, reckon with (to the credit of, against, &c.). Rp. hesabiana, settle accounts together. Cs. hesab-isha, -ishwa, e.g. ntahesabisha, I will have an account taken. — n. (1) reckoning, calculation, enumeration; (2) a bill, an account (of money, measure, value); (3) the art of counting, enumeration, arithmetic. Chuo cha h., an account book, like daftari. Toa h., give an account. Andika katika h., put down to an account. Fanya h., reckon up, calculate. Taka h., demand an account. (Ar. Cf. idadi, pima, kadiri.)

*Heshima, n. often Hésima, (1) as a quality or condition, honour, dignity, position, rank; (2) the correlative attitude in others, respect, reverence, awe, courtesy; (3) as shown in act, a present, acknowledgement, fee. Hana h., he has no dignity, or, he is disrespectful. Wekeu (wekeana) h., treat (each other) with honour. H. kwake tele, he is full of due consideration for people. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. (1) utukufu, darajia, cheo; (2) hofu, adabu; (3) bakshishi, &c.)

Himidi, v. honour, pay respect to, treat with courtesy, give a present to. Ps. heshimiwa. Ap. heshim-i-a, -iana. (Ar. Cf. tukuzu, jali, stahi, himishu.)

Hessi, n. (—, and ma-), a screw. Also msomari wa hessi. (Cf. para-fujo, msomari.)

Hethi, n. menses, menstruation,—more commonly mwesi or damu. Kuwa na h., to menstruate, also ingiu mwesiini (damuni). (Ar.)

Hi-, as first syllable of a verb-form, is (not part of the root) a contraction for niki-, i.e. Pfx. of 1 Pers. Sing. of the Pres. Partic., e.g. hipenda, for nikitenda. (Cf. ha for nika, and see Ki.)

Hiana, a. sometimes -hiana, (1) tough, hard, strong. Mti huu ni h., or una h., this wood is hard. (2) Hard, unyielding, domineering, oppressive, arrogant. (Cf. uhiana, and syn. -gunu.) — n. (1) hardness; (2) oppression. Mtu hamfanyi mwesiiiwe h., a man is not hard upon his friend. (Hiana, uhiana, is also sometimes used as a variant of haini, treacherous, deceitful.)

Hiari, n. and Hiyari, choice, option, power of deciding, control. Hiari yako, just as you like. Kichwa changu h. yako, my life (head) is in your hands, you may kill me if you like. Killa mtu ana h. katika nyumba yake, every man is master in his own house. Kazi ya h., voluntary labour. — v. choose, prefer. Waanake wakahiaryi kukabili risasi zetu, the women deliberately faced our bullets. (Ar. Cf. ihlari, and syn. chagua, fanya kwa moyo.)

Hiba, n. gift, present, keep sake, souvenir,—given as sign of affection, hence also bequest, legacy. (Ar. Cf. habba, muhebbi, hebbu, and for ‘present’ generally bakshishi, ada, sawadi, &c.)

Hicho, a. of reference, that, that yonder, agreeing with D 3 (S). (Cf. huyo and -o.)

Hidima, n. also Huduma, service, employment, ministration. Mungu atia watu katika h. yake, this white man takes people into his service. (Ar. Cf. hudumu, mhadimu, and syn. utumwa, utumishi, kazi.)

Hii, a. dem. this, there,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 6 (S). (Cf. huyu.) Also hiile (of emphasis, i.e. hii-ile), that (those) very. (Cf. huyule.)

Hikaya, n. and Hekaya, story, anecdote, remarkable incident. Nna h., I have something to tell you. Tumeona h. leo, we have seen a strange thing to-day. (Ar. Cf. kisa, ngano, hadithi, habari.)

Hiki, a. dem. this,—agreeing with D 3 (S). Also hikile (of emphasis, i.e. hili lile), that very. (Cf. huyu, huyule.)

Hila, n. device, trick, stratagem, craft, cunning, deceit. Fanya h., use cunning, try to circumvent. Mtu wa h., a wily, sly man. (Ar. Cf. hadaa, madanganya, werevu, ujanja.)

Hili, a. dem. this, agreeing with D 5 (S). Also hilile (of emphasis, i.e. hili lile), this very. (Cf. huyu, huyule.) Similarly hilo, of reference, that, that yonder. (Cf. huyo, -o.)

Hima, adv. quick, quickly, hastily, in a hurry. Fanya h., make haste. Twende h., let us go quickly. Hima! hima! quick! quick! (Cf. himiza, hamu, and syn. upesi, haraka, mbio.)

Himidi, v. praise, extol, magnify, esp. of praise to God. Ps. himi-diva. — n. praise. (Ar. Cf. hamdu, hemdi, and syn. sifu, sifa.)

*Himila, n. (1) load, burden; (2) pregnancy. Mke wangu ana h., amechukua mimba, my wife is with child, she has conceived. (Ar. for the commoner (1) mzigo, (2) mimba. Cf. follg.)

*Himili, v. (1) bear, support, carry, take away; (2) bear, endure, accept, be equal to; (3) be pregnant. Khusha kuhimili mzigo, to carry to carry the loads. Himili jua, endure the heat of the sun. Ps. himiliwa. Nt. himilika. Ap. himili-ia, -iwa, -iama. Cs. himil-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. himila, hamali, stahimili, and syn. chakula, vumilia, kuwa na mimba.)

Hina, n. henna, prepared from the plant mhina, a very favourite red dye.

*Hindi, n. (ma-), (1) a single grain of Indian corn, a seed of the plant muhindwa, which see; (2) India, also Ulaya Hindi, Uhindi. (Dist. Mhindi, a Hindoo.)

*Hini, v. refuse to give (to), withhold (from), keep back (from). Ame

*Hirizi, n. charm, amulet, i.e. uganga wa kuvwa mwili, uwalivo, medicine worn on the person, which is put on, round the neck or at the side. Often a small leather case, containing a sentence from the Coran. (Ar. Cf. uganga, dawa, talasimu.)

*Hisa, n. (1) part, portion, share (cf. fungu, sehemu); (2) indulgence, permission, pardon. (Ar.)

*Hisani, n. kindness, favour, goodness. Kwa h. yako, by your kindness. (Ar. Cf. ahsante, and syn. fathili, wema.)

*Hitaji, y. need, require, be in need of, lack, want, feel want of, desire. Nahitaji chakula, I need food. Often impersonal, e.g. yakita taji mashahidi wawe watu wa kveli, witnesses need to be truthful. Yakita ule sana, you should eat heartily. Sometimes 'be wanting, be wanted,' e.g. vitu vinavyohitaji katika ma

*Hitari, v. choose, select, prefer. Ps. hitariwa. Kalamu iliyohitariwa, a choice, selected pen. Cs. hitar

*Hi"tiari, n. also Ih"tiari, choice selection, preference. H. yako, as you like, i.e. upendawo. Nuthari Hitilafu, n. also Ihitilafu, (1) difference, something out of the way (unusual, of special interest, critical); (2) defect, blemish. Shauri to lao moja wala hapana h., their design is the same and there is no difference. Aka-this very day. Also hivile, for emphasis, i.e. hivi vile, those very (things).

_Hivyo,* a. dem. of reference, those, those yonder. Also adv., in that manner, in the manner described, so. Often vieyo hivyo, just so, exactly so. (Cf. huyo, -vyo, )

_Hiyana,* Hiyari. See _Hiana,* Hiari.

_Hiyo,* a. dem. of reference, that (those), that (those) yonder,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 6 (S). (Cf. huyo, -o.* )

_Hizi,* a. dem. these,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). _Siku hizi,* some days ago, lately, modern times, nowadays. Also _sizi hizi,* just these, these very. Also _hizile,* for emphasis, i.e. _hizi zile,* those very. _Hizo,* as the form of reference, those, those yonder. (Cf. huyu, huyo, )

* Hodari, a. (1) strong, firm, stable, solid; (2) active, energetic, brave, earnest, strong-willed. Used of strength generally, in substance, construction, character, &c. _Boriti h,* strong poles. _Ukuta h,* a solid wall. _Mtu h. wa kasi (wa viti, wa maneno),* an effective, able mechanic (soldier, orator). (Perh. Hind. Cf. _thabiti,* and syn. B. _a nguvi,* _-gumu.* Contr. thaifu, )

* Hodi,* n. used in Z. invariably and only as a polite inquiry before entering a private house or room, 'May I come in?' and, unless an answer is given,—usually the same word or _karibu,* come in,—good manners forbid entry. (Prob. a word introduced by Arabs from Muscat, meaning 'safety, well-being;' and so equivalent to wokovu, _salamu.* Hence as an interrogative, Is all well? all well? and the answer, 'all well,' by the same word,—or by karibu, which see.)

*Hofu, n. (1) fear, apprehension, awe; (2) cause of fear, danger. Kuwa na h., to be afraid. Fanya (piga, ona, ingia, ingiwa, patwa na, shikwa na) h., be frightened, be seized with fear. Sometimes also adj. -hofu, timid, fearful. — v. feel fear, be afraid of. Ps. hoftwa. Nt. hofika. Ap. hofia, fear for (about, in, &c.). Cs. hof-isha, -ishwa, terribly, frightened. (Ar. Cf. ajia, mwasa, and common syn. B. ogopa, oga, kitisho, uchaji, -cha.)

*Hogo, n. (ma-), a very large root of cassava. See Muhogo.

*Hohe hahe, n. a solitary, destitute, outcast person or state. Cs. such phrases as maskini (jukara) hohe hahe, utterly poor and destitute. Ni hohe hahe tu, he is quite forlorn.

*Hoho. Pilipili hoho, red pepper, as dist. from pilipili manga, black pepper. Mkatewa h., a cake flavoured with pepper.

*Hoja, n. also Huja, (1) want, need, necessity; (2) what is urgent or pressing, business, concern; (3) urgent request, argument, logical demonstration. Kwa h. ya, on account of, for the sake of. Kwa h. yangu, at my need, at my earnest request, also, on my account, for my sake. Hakuna h., there is no objection. Jambo hili lina h. nyingi, this is a very troublesome affair. H. ya nguru, a powerful argument. Hatta tuishe h. hii mimi nave, let us even wind up this matter together, you and I. (Ar. Cf. haja, and follg. Also hitaji.)

*Homa, n. fever, esp. of malarial or ague-fever, described as marathi ya baridi, or ya baridi, or ya kitapo cha baridi, i.e. the chilly or shivering sickness. Shikwa na homa, have an attack of fever. Homa ya vitindi, intermittent fever. (Ar. Cf. kidinga popo, dengue fever, mkunguru.)

Honga, v. make a payment, not as of debt, but to secure an end, hence bribe, pay toll, pay one's way, pay a footing. Mhonge ndio mpate kujenga, give him a present, and so get leave to build. Ap. hongea, pay for, secure an end, advance a stage, get past a crisis, be acquitted, get cleared of a charge. Thus fig. of a woman after childbirth. Leo nimehongea (or, hongela), I was delivered to-day. Also of a stage of recovery after circumcision. Cs. hong-esa, -eswa, (1) cause to pay toll, blackmail; (2) cause (help, allow) to advance a stage, or to secure an end, e.g. procure acquittal. Kiapo kinihongeze, may the ordeal be favourable to me, let me escape. Also of congratulations after some event or crisis, e.g. after a journey, childbirth, &c. Mtu akisafiri akirudi, huja watu kumhongesa, when a man returns from a journey, people come to congratulate him. Akamhongesa mtoto wake kusaa, he congratulated his daughter on her safe delivery. (Cf. hongo. These words seem little used in Z., being appropriate to mainland usages and ideas. For bribing cf. rushwa, mlungula, kijiri, upenyesi, and for congratulation salimu, pukusa, -pa mkono, tunza, fichua.)

Hongo, n. toll, tribute, blackmail,—used of customary presents given to native chiefs for leave to pass through the country. (Cf. honga, and for presents generally bakshishi.)
*Hori, n. (1) creek, inlet, gulf, arm of the sea. (Ar. Cf. gubba.) (2) (ma-), a kind of canoe, with raised stem and stern, usually from India, and employed on the creek at Z.

*Horji, n. a thickly padded quilt, used as a saddle for donkeys. (Ar. Cf. seruji.)

*Hotuba, n. See Hutuba.

Hu, verb-form, you are not,—Negat. Pfx. combined with Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing, i.e. ha-u, e.g. humu-refu, you are not tall. (Cf. ha-u.)

Hu-, (1) verbal pfx. denoting customary or repeated action, without distinction of tense, person, or number. Huenda, my (your, his, her, its, our, their) custom (habit, practice, usual plan) is (was, has been, will be, &c.) to go. In narrative often followed by -ka-, huukia pale uwanjani akalala, he would arrive in the courtyard and go to sleep. Sometimes cynically, vita huja, wars will happen. (2) Negat. Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing, e.g. huendi, you do not go. (3) A formative element in several pronominal advs. and adj. See Huku.

Hua, n. a dove. (Cf. pugi, nginga, njiwa.)

*Hubba, n. affection, desire. See Habba. (Ar.)

*Hubiri, v. give information (to, about), inform, bring news (to, about), announce, report, relate. Roho yake ikamhubiri kuwa ndiye nunda, his heart told him that was the wild beast. H. anjili, preach the Gospel. Ps. hubiriwa. Ap. hubir-ia, -iwa. Cs. hubir-ishia, -ishwa. — n. (ma-), that which is related, report, announcement, &c. (Ar. Cf. habari, cf. syn. arifu, sumulia, eleza.)

*Hudumah, n. also Hudumu, Hidima, service, attendance, waiting on a person, ministration. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Hudumu, v. serve, wait (on), attend (on). Mmhudumu kwa uzuri, see that you wait on him properly. Ps. hudumiwa. Nt. hudumika. Ap. hudum-ia, -iwa, serve, be in attendance upon, serve for (at, with, &c.). Cs. hudum-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. huduma, mhadimu, uhadimu, and syn. tumikia, ngojea, andikia.)

Huenda, used as adv., sometimes Hwenda, it happens, sometimes, at times, and so 'possibly, perhaps, it may be, there is a chance.' (Enda with pfx. hu- of customary or repeated action. Cf. syn. kwenda, huwa, labuda, yamkini.)

*Hui, v. become alive, revive, rise from the dead. Ps. huiwa. Nt. huika. Amehuiwa na Mungu, naye amehuika, he was restored to life by God, so he revived. Cs. hui-sha, -shwa, restore to life, re-suscitate, save, keep alive. Hui is also used in this act. sense. (Ar. Cf. hai, and jufu, amba, ishi.)

*Huja, Huji. See Hoja, Hoji. (But dist. huja, and huji, as parts of the verb -ja, come. See Hu-.)

Hujambo, v. are you well? you are well. The commonest form of salutation in Z. Often jambo only. See Jambo.

Huko, adv. dem. of general reference, in that case referred to, with those circumstances in view, in connexion with that environment, but commonly of place and time, 'from (to, at, in, &c.) that place (or, time), there, thither, thence, then, &c.' H. na h., hither and thither, here and there. H. nendako, where you are going to, your destination. H. utokako, where you come from, your starting-point. H. nyuma, (1) yonder in the rear; (2) meanwhile. Kuko huko, just yonder, just there, under those precise circumstances. Huko is also used to suggest the world beyond, the other world, the world of spirits. (Huko includes three formative elements, hu, ku, and -o, for which see Huku, and -a. For similar adv. with meanings often hardly distinguishable cf. huno, hapo, kule, pale.) — verb-form, you are not there,—Negat. Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing., with -ko (see Huko, with which it is sometimes used, e.g. huko huko, you are not there).

Huku. (r) adj. dem. this,—agreeing with D 8, e.g. kuwa huku kusuri, this (mode of) dying is admirable, or with a locative form in -ni, from, to, e.g. nyumbani huku, to (from) this house. (2) adv. usually of place, here, near, in this place, but also of environment generally. H. kusuri, it is pleasant here (in our present circumstances). H. na h., this way and that, hither and thither. Kuku huku, just here. (Hu-) is a demonstrative prefix, in huyu, hutu, huku, humu, and the corresponding forms ending in -o, agreeing with D 1 (S), D 2 (S), D 8, and locat. in -ni,—the h alone being the characteristic demonstrative element throughout, as l is of other demonstratives. See also Ku.)

Huku-, at the beginning of a verb-form may be (1) hu of customary action with ku, Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing. objective, e.g. hukupenda, there is a general liking for you; (2) hu the Negat. Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing. with ku of general reference, e.g. hukupendi, you do not like the place (circumstances); (3) hu, Negat. Pfx. as in (2), with ku, sign of Negat. Past Tense, e.g. hukupenda, you did not like.

Humo (i) adv. dem. of reference to an interior, in that place (referred to), inside yonder, in there. H. mwetu, in our house yonder. Mumo h., just in there, in that very place. (2) verb-form, you are not in (there). See Huko, and Hu-, Mo-, &c.

Humu (i) adj. dem. this,—agreeing with locative forms in -ni, e.g. nyumbani humu, in this house. (2) adv. dem. in this place, inside here. Mumu h., just in here, in this very place. See Huku, and Mu-.

Huna, verb-form, you have not,—Negat. Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing., and na (which see).

Hundi, n. draft, cheque, money order, bill of exchange. (Hind. Cf. hawala.)

Huo (r) a. dem. of reference, that there, that yonder, that referred to,—agreeing with D 2 (S), D 4 (S). See H-, Huko, and -o.

Huru (r) n. (ma-) (also -huru), a freedman, a freeman, free, not a slave, free born, emancipated. Acha (weka, andika), huru, set free, emancipate. (Ar. Cf. uhuru, and syn. mngwana, contr. mitumwa. Huru in card-playing means diamonds, Str.)

Huruma, n. (1) sympathy, consideration, fellow-feeling, kindliness; (2) mercy, pity, compassion. Mweny i h., compassionate, sympathetic, kind. Kuwa na h., to be kind (merciful, &c.). Fanya h., ona h., ingita (or, ingiwa) h., have kindly feeling. (Cf. follg. and syn. rehema, of which huruma is perh. a form, by a common Swahili transposition of Arab. consonants. See Rehema.)

Hurumia, v. Ap. pity, have pity (compassion, sympathy) for, have mercy on. Ps. hurumiwa. (Ar. Cf. huruma, and syn. rehenu.)

Husu, v. (1) give a share (to), assign as a person’s share (right, due, privilege, &c.). Esp. in Ap. husia, e.g. alimhusia kadiri yake, he assigned him his proper portion. (2) Be assigned as share, be closely (specially, exclusively) concerned with, be the privilege (right, monopoly, peculiar property, quality) of, belong to, be limited to, refer only to, concern, be specially connected with, be confined to. Adayetu alyeto- tusu, the fee which is our special privilege, which specially belongs to us. Maneno yasiyomhusu, statements which do not apply to him. Nduguye alyemhusu, his nearest relative. Neno lililohusu bwana zao, a peculiar privilege of their masters. Often used also in the Nt. husika in this sense. Ni mhalifu kwa neno lililohusika, he is rebellious as regards a special duty. Jina la ‘mweny i thambi’ limeshusika kwa Mweny ezi Mengu tu, the word ‘sinner’ implies special reference to Almighty God. Neno hili lahusika na watu hawa tu, this word applies only to these persons. (Ar. Cf. hisa.)

Husumu, v. strive, contend. (Arab. Cf. hasimu, for common shindana, teta, &c.)

Husuni, n. fortress, fort, castle. (Arab. for common ngome, gereza, bona. Dist. husuni.)

Husuru, v. reduce to straits, oppress, besiege. (Arab. for common onea, and for besieging cf. funga, zunguka, masingiwa.)

Huthuria, v. Ap. be present (at), be placed ready (for), attend a meeting, form an audience. Enyi watu waliushuria, opening words of a speech, address to an audience, All you who are present. Mahali pale pakhushuria chakula, that place is prepared for food. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. -wapo, e.g. enyi watu milopo hapa.)

Huthurungi, n. a yellowish-brown calico, usually made in Arabia,—a favourite material for men’s dress (kanzu) in Z. (Ar.)

Hutuba, n. reading of the Koran, preaching in a mosque, sermon. Funga h., lit. arrange a reading (or, service), and so of a betrothal or marriage service. (Ar. Cf. follg. and hatibu.)

Hutubu, v. read the Koran publicly, preach, give an address. Ap. hutub-ia, -iwa, preach to (about, in, for, &c.). (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Huu, a. dem. this—agreeing with D 2 (S), D 4 (S). (Cf. h-, huko, and huyu.) Sometimes redupl. huu huu, this very one, this same.

Huule, a. dem. of emphasis, ‘that, that very,’ for huu ule. (Cf. prec. and huyule.)

Huwa, verb-form, it is (was, will be) customary, i.e. hu of customary action, and -wa, v. be. Commonly used as adv. (1) regularly, commonly, e.g. killa siku huwa wanakwenda, every day as a rule they go; (2) perhaps, it may be, possibly, sometimes. (Cf. syn. labuda, huenda, kwenda.)

Huyo, a. dem. of reference, that there, that yonder, that referred to,—agreeing with D 1 (S). Huyo! huyo! there he is! That is he!—in a hue and cry after a thief, or chase after animals. (Cf. huyu, and -o.)

Huyu, a. dem. this,—agreeing with D 1 (S). (It includes the characteristic letter h, with the variable vowel u, and yu. See H and Yu.) Also in the emphatic form huyule, for huyu yule, that very, that. See Yule.

*Huzuni, n. grief, sorrow, distress, mourning, calamity, disaster. -enyi huzuni, sorrowful, depressed, downcast. So -a huzuni. Kiwa na h., to be sad, to be sorrowful. Fanya (ona, ingia, shikwa na, &c.) h., feel sorrow, be distressed, &c. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. hamu, majonzi, sikitiko, msiba, and for formal mourning, matanga, maombolezo.)

Thus the pfx. of the 1 Pers. Sing. is either n- or ni-, e. g. ninapenda or nnapenda, nitalala or nitalala. The tendency is decidedly commoner in Z. than in the Coast Swahili, e. g. ingia not ngia, ingine not ngine, inchi not nchi, wingsi not ungi, inzi not nzi.

Hence words not found under / may be looked for under E, or Y, or N.

The numeral nne, four, is a disyllable beginning with a faint i sound, represented by a double n, and not wholly lost in the adjectival forms of the numeral. I has been used as the initial of imbu, mosquito, because in this word m does not seem to keep its usual affinity for a u sound.

The a in certain pfxs., chiefly wa-, ma-, and ka-, when followed by an i, as a rule coalesces with it to form an e sound, e. g. waivi becomes wevi, maino meno, akaingia akengia (but not in pa-, ha-, -ta, -na, -nga, &c.).

Final i always takes the place of final a of a verb in the Pres. Indic. Negat.

I, verb-form, is, are,—agreeing with D 2 (P), and D 6 (S).

I- is a Pers. Pfx., subjective and objective, of verbs, agreeing with D 2 (P), and D 6 (S). This pfx. is also often used for general reference, and supplying an impersonal form of the verb, e. g. haifai, it is no good, nonsense. Imekuisha, all is over.

I- (or E-) before the final a of a verb forms the characteristic of the so-called applied verb-stems, and gives the simple root-meaning of the verb a very varied range of applications usually expressed in English by different prepositions following.

Iba, v. steal, thieve, embezzle, kidnap, purloin, filch, &c. (Kuiba is used as the root-form in some tenses. See Isba.) Ps. ibwa, and ibiwa, be stolen. Nt. ibika, be stolen, be capable of being stolen. Ap.
ibia, steal from, rob, e.g. amemwibia mali yake, he has stolen his money from him, —ibiva, be stolen, be stolen from, lose by theft. Thus tumeibiva may mean ‘we have been kidnapped,’ or, ‘we have been robbed.’ Ibiana, steal from each other. Cs. ib-isha, -ishwa, e.g. cause to steal, incite to theft. (Cf. uisi, mwisi, mwibaji, and syn. nyanganya.)

*Ibada, n. (1) worship, divine service. Ameacha i., he has left off attending the mosque. I. ya sanamu, idolatrous worship. (2) Practical religion, a religious life, religious practices. Mtu wa i., a devout man. Ibisi akamharibia i. yake, the devil corrupted his religion. (Ar. Cf. abudu, maabudu, and syn. dini, utawa, usufi.)

*Ibisi, n. the devil, Satan. (Arab. for usual shetani.)

*Idadi, n. reckoning, counting, number, computation. Billa i., without number, numberless. Desturi za adabu nyingi, hasina i., rules of etiquette are numerous, in fact past counting. (Ar. Cf. syn. hesabu, hasibu.)

*Idi, Idili. See Ada, Adili.

Ifu-ifu, a. ash-coloured, grey. See Jifu, Kijifu.

Iga, v. (1) imitate, copy, but commonly (2) in the sense, ape, mock, counterfeit, mimic, caricature. I. maneno ya kiswahili, try to talk Swahili. I. kwa maneno, use mocking expressions to. Hodari wa kuiga, a clever mimic. Ps. igwa. Nt. igika. Ap. ig-ia, -iwa. Cs. ig-iza, -izwa, and Intens. of copying with effort, trying to imitate. (Cf. mwigo, mwigaji, thihaka, and syn. fuula, fuasa.)

*Ihtaaji, Ihtiari, Ihtilafu, Ihtimu. See under Hitaji, &c.

*Ijara, n. pay, hire, salary, wages, rent. Mtu wa i., a hired servant,—not a slave. (Ar. Cf. ajira, ajiri, and syn. mshahara, and rent, kodi.)

*Ikiriki, n. also Ekerahi. See Kirihi.

Ikiza, v. Cs. lay across, set in position (from side to side), spread over. I. nyumba borili, set up the poles (or rafters) in a house, to carry a concrete floor or roof. Also i. mawe, i. dari, of same operation. Also used of cookery, ikiza na sukari, spread with sugar, and kuku ya kuikiza.

Iko, verb-form, it is (they are) there,—Pfx. agreeing with D 2 (P), D 6 (S), and locative -ko (which see).

*Ila, n. defect, blemish, drawback, disgrace, stain, blot. Mtu mzuri lakini ana ila, a good man but he has his faults. Also for conj. illa, which see. (Ar. Cf. syn. kipungu, hitilafu, kosa, waa. Dist. kila.)

Ile, a. dem. that, those,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 6 (S). (See I and Yule. Dist. ile as 3 S. Subj. from la, eat.)

*Iliki, n. cardamom.

*Illa, conj. also Ela, Ila, except, unless, but. Hana illa mke mmoja, he has but one wife. Havai kilemba illa amekwenda Makha, he does not wear a turban, unless he has been to Mecca. (Ar. Cf. illakini.)

*Illakini, conj. but, nevertheless, notwithstanding. (Ar. Cf. illa, and lakini.)

*Illi, conj. in order that, that. Used with Subj. and Infin. Moods, e.g. amekwenda mjini illi kununua (or, anunua) chakula, he has gone to town to buy food. (Ar. Cf. kusudi.)

*Ilimu, n. See Elimu, knowledge, learning, &c. (Ar.)

*Ima, conj. See Ama.

IMA, v. be erect, straight, &c. —a. B. verb, rare in Z. (Cf. simama, simika, mwima, mwimo, ima-ima.)

IMA-ima, a. and adv., upright, erect, steep, perpendicular. (Cf. prec.)

*Imamu, n. the minister of a Mahommedan mosque, who conducts the prayers and gives an address on Fridays. (Ar. Cf. muathini, mwalimu, kathi.)

*Imani, n. (1) faith, trust, confidence, trustworthiness, uprightness. Maskini hana i., a poor man cannot be relied upon. Unga wa i., a kind of double-handled sword. (2) Religious faith, belief, object of belief, creed. *Imani kwa *Muungu, faith towards God. (Ar. Cf. amini, amani, amana, &c., and for creed, shahada.)

*Imara, n. firmness, compactness, hardness, strength, stability, solidity, material and moral. *Ukuta huu hana i., this wall is not strong. Mtu wa i., a resolute, brave, strong-willed man. — a. firm, strong, hard, unbreakable, solid, courageous, brave. (Cf. follg. and syn. -gumu, thabiti, hodari.)

*Imarika, v. Nt., be strong, be firm, be solid, &c. Cs. imar-isha, -ishwa. See prec.

*Imbu, n. a mosquito. (Also written mbu, but in this word m does not appear to have its usual affinity for a u sound, though sounded as a distinct syllable.)

*Ina, verb-form, it has, they have,—Pfx. agreeing with D 2 (P), D 6 (S), and na, which see.

*Inama, v. stoop, bend down, let down, lower, bow, slope, decline, sink, depress. Used Neut. and Act. *Ukuta huu umeinama, this wall has sunk, or, slopes downwards. Inama kichwa, bow the head. Mji wote umejiinama, the whole city is depressed. Ap. inam-ia, -iwa, bow to, incline towards, be directed to, depend on. *Nyumba hii imeinama, this whole house rests on me. Cs. inam-isha, -ishwa. (St. form of a root ina, cf. inika, inua, and cf. syn. shusha, tua.)

*Inchi, n. (1) country, district, land, region. I. yetu, inchi ya kwetu, our country, fatherland. I. za barra, the regions of the continent. I. za Ulaya, the countries of Europe. (Cf. ulaya, wilaya, upande.) (2) Land, ground, dry land, i.e. i. kavu, as opp. to the sea, bahari. *Piga katika i. (or chini), throw to the ground, dash down. Chini ya i., ndani ya i., underground. I. sawa, level country, a plain. (Cf. barra.) (3) The earth, the inhabited world. *Pembe za i., the corners of the earth, i.e. remotest parts of the world. (Cf. dunia, ulimwengu.) (Cf. chini. Never of the actual substance or materials of the ground, i.e. soil, earth, which is uongo. Cf. arthi. Obs. inchi is sometimes heard for English 'inch,' as futi for a 'foot,' by measure.)

*Inda, Inga. See Winda.

-Ingli, a. sometimes -ngi (nyingi with D 4 (P), D 6 (P), chungi with D 3 (S), jingi with D 5 (S), wengi with D 1 (P), pengi with D 7), many, much, large (in quantity), plentiful, abundant. Of persons, -ngi is used with wa, i.e. bountiful in respect of, giving (having, enjoying) in abundance. Mwingi wa baraka, giving many blessings. (Cf. wingi, and syn. tele, marithawa.)

*Inga, v. sometimes Ngia, (1) go in (to), come in (to), enter, get in, fall in; (2) share in, take part in, engage in; (3) penetrate, pass into (a condition, state, &c.); (4) be imported. E.g. i. nyumbani (or nyumba, or katika nyumba), go into a house. I. chomboni, go on board a vessel, embark (also panda chomboni). I. safarini, join an expedition, or, start on a journey. I. baridi, become cold. I. kutu, get rusty. Esp. common of the feelings, e.g. i. hofu, be affected by fear, feel fear, be alarmed, and so with kiburi, furaha, hasira, hasuni, uchungu, &c. The passive construction is common in same sense, ingiwa na, or ingiwa.

Ps. ingiwa. Nt. ingika. Ap. ing-ilia, -iliwa, -ilika, -iliza, -ilizwa, -iana, -ilizana, esp. of entry with a purpose, e.g. go in for, try into, &c. Alimwingilia mwanamke, he went in to see the woman,—hence live with, cohabit with. Ingiliza hazuni, introduce to work, instal in office. Waingiliani maneno haya? What are you prying into these matters for? Cs. ing-isa, -izwa, -isha, -ishwa, —the latter forms being usu. intensive, i.e. ingisa, of causing, allowing, procuring entry, ingisha, of special effort or force in entry. Vitu viingizwa voyo, imports. Hence ingizana. (Cs. enda ndani, ja ndani, penya.)

INGINE, a. (but with some pfxs. commonly -ingine. Thus with D 1 (S), D 2 (S), D 4 (S) mwingine or mingine, with D 1 (P) wange, with D 4 (P), D 6 nyingine or ngine or zingine, with D 5 (S) jingine or lingine, with D 5 (P) mangine, with D 7 pangine, with D 8 kwingine,) other, another, different, same, a second. Wangine—wange, some—some, some—others. -ingine-inge, of different kinds, assorted, miscellaneous, of all sorts. Vinge, as adv. variously, in another way. Vinge-vingine, in different ways (degrees, classes, sorts), in all sorts of ways. Vingevinge, in some other way, in any other way, and so with relative affixed to other forms, e.g. mtu mwingineo, some other person, any one else.

Ini, n. (ma-), the liver. Sometimes fig. of inmost seat of feelings, like moyo, e.g. maneno yale yalimkata maini, those words cut him to the heart.

Inika, v. (1) give a downward direction to, lay over on one side, give a cant (tilt, downward bend or turn) to, let hang down, turn down at the edge, &c.; (2) fig. humble, bring low, depress. I. chombo, careen a vessel (for repairs). Usiuinike mzigo, do not let your load hang down. I. kichwa, jiinika, hang down the head (in grief or shame). Also jiinika, make a bow, bow oneself gracefully. I. mti, bend down a tree (to get at the fruit). Nani awesaye kumwinika mfalme? Who can humiliate a king? Ps. inikwa. Ap. inik-ia, -iwa. Cs. inik-ishka, -isha,-isa, e.g. mwaliimu ameinkiza watu kwa kusali, the minister taught the congregation to bow down at prayers. (Cs. inama, inua, and syn. laza, laza upande.)

Inshallah, adv. Used as the commonest and most trivial form of assent, 'oh yes, certainly, of course.' (Ar. = if God wills. God willing. See Allah. Cf. syn. vema, naam, ndio.)

Inua, v. (1) set up, raise up, build up, pile up, lift up, raise, hoist; (2) fig. inspirit, cheer, restore, cure, set up. I. mzigo, raise a load (cf. twika). I. ntoto, lift up a child. I. macho, raise the eyes. I. mgonjwa, restore an invalid. Ps. inuliwa. Nt. inuka, e.g. inchi yote imeinuka, the whole country is elevated, is a table-land. Ap. inu-lia, -liwa. Cs. inu-lisa, -liwa, e.g. inuliza mzigo, help a man up with his load. (Cs. inama, inika, and syn. *pandisha, kwes.)

Inzi, n. (ma-), a fly,—in general, the common house-fly.

Ipi, a. interr. which? what?—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 6 (S). See -pi. Also generally, kama ipi? of what sort? how? (Cs. -pi, wapi.)

Ipua, v. same as Epua, which see. But this form seems in some degree specialized, as meaning ‘take off the fire’ (a cooking pot, &c.). Cf. tweka and twika.

*Irabu, n. a vowel sign in writing Arabic. (Arab.)

*Iriba, n. a sesame, money-lending. See Riba. (Ar.)

*Iriwa, n. also Chiriwa, Jiriwa, a (screw) vice.

*Isa, n. a proper name, not uncommon in Z. Also the only name for Jesus Christ known to Mahommedans,—with the addition bin Maryam.

Isha, v. end, come to an end, bring to an end, make an end of, finish, close, complete. (The infinitive form kwisha is frequently used after some tense pfxs. of the indic. mood, esp. na, ta, me, and after the relative in a verb-form, e.g. amekwisha, alipokwisha. On the other hand, the initial i of the root often coalesces with preceding a in other pfxs. and forms the usual e sound, e.g. wakesha for wakaisha, they finished, and with a preceding i is often hardly heard, as in punzi limenisha, my breath has come to an end, and akisha, upon his finishing. It is preserved, however, after li, e.g. alishaa, not alisha. For similar use of the infin. form cf. iti, iva, iba, oga, usa.) Maneno yamekwisha, the debate has come to an end. Akali akeshi akaenda soko, he ate and when he had done he went away. Akapigana nao akawaisha, he fought with them and killed them all. Kwisha kazi, to finish a job. Isha is constantly used as a semi-auxiliary of time, expressing completion more emphatically than the tense pfx. me. Thus used it is commonly followed by the root-form of the principal verb, without the Infinitive pfx. ku. Amekwisha fanya, he has already done it, he has completed it. Alipokwisha kuja, when he had actually arrived. -a kwisha, last, extreme, worst. Ps. ishwa. Nt. iishika, Nimeishwa na fetha, my money has come to an end. Haiishiki, it cannot be completed. Ap. iish-a, -iwa. Mke wangu amenishia mali, my wife has used up my money. Nimeishiya wali, my dish of rice has come to an end. Ngoje nikuishie maneno, wait till I finish my message to you. Also a further Ap. form iish-ia, -iliwa, -iliizwa, marking completion for some special purpose or of a particular kind. Wakaishilia mwezi, they waited for the month to come to an end. So of mwaka, kazi, maneno, when there is a particular object in view. (Cf. ingilia, toschelea, pigilia, &c.) Cs. ishiza, ishisha (seldom heard). (Cf. mwisho, and syn. maliza, timiza, kamusisha, konesha. Dishi, in some forms identical, e.g. haishi.)

*Isha, n. See Esfa.

*Ishara, n. sign, token, signal, mark, omen, indication, warning, hint, crucial case, remarkable fact, a wonder. Tumeona i. mwaka huu, we have seen a wonderful thing this year. Tia i., put a mark on. Toa i., make a signal. (Ar. Cf. ashiria, and syn. dalili, alama.)

*Ishi, v. last, endure, continue, live, remain. Aishi milele, may he live for ever. Mti huu haiishi sana, this wood does not last long. (Ar. Cf. aushi, maiha.)

*Isivyoy, verb-form, used as a general Negat. Conj., as (in a way that) is not,—corresponding to adverbal use of forms in vi, vyoo (hivu, vele, vivyo, &c.).

*Islamu, n. (1) (wa- and ma), a Mahommedan; (2) the Mahommedan religion, Islam. Kiislamu, (of) the Mahommedan (kind). (Cf. Muaalimu, Muislamu, Mslimu, also salamu, salimu, &c.) Also -islamu, a. Mahommedan.

*Itisika, n. dropsy. (Ar. Cf. syn. safura.)
Ita, v. call, call to, summon, invite, name. (For use of kwita &c. in some forms see notes on Isha.) Amekvenda kumwita, he has gone to call him. Ps. itwa. Unakwita-wa, you are summoned, somebody wants you. Amekvenda kwitwa, some one has gone to call him. Nt. itika, be called, obey a summons, answer to a call, respond, acknowledge a salute, reply. Alikwitwa akaitiika, he was called, and replied. Nyote mwaitika Vuga, you all accept the supremacy of Vuga. Itika rathi, give a favourable reply, assent. Hence itik-ia, -iwa, answer for, reply to, correspond to, and in music accompany, follow the lead of, chime in, and fig. correspond to, harmonize with, suit, agree with. Itikisa, cause to reply, teach harmony to, also Intens., assent to, give a reply. Itikizana, reply to each other, all shout together in response, acclaim, correspond, harmonize, sing (play) in harmony. Ap. it-ia, -iwa, call to, summon for (by, in, &c.). Akataaye kuitwa, hukataa aitivwalo, he who rejects a call, rejects what he is called for. Cs. it-isha, -ishwa (seldom used). Rp. itana. (Cf. mwito, and syn. alika. Also taja, name, mention by name.)

*Ita, v. cast in a mould (Str.). (? Wita. Cf. Ar. subu, and kiwita.)

*Italasis, n. satin. (Arab.)

Iva, v. also Wiva, (1) become ripe, get ripe, mature, become cooked (done, fit to eat), come to a head; (2) fig. come to a point, be ready for action (or, execution), be fully prepared. Embe sinaiva, the mangoes are ripening. Nyama imeiva, the meat is cooked. Ap. ivia. Cs. iv-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. -bivu, -petu, and tayari.)

-ivu, a. also -wivu, jealous, envious. (Cf. uvivu, and hasidi. N. -ivu sometimes for -bivu, ripe, and dist. ifu-ifu.)

Iwapo, verb-form, when (where) it is, when (where) they are,—Pfx. i-agreeing with D 6 (S) and D 2 (P), -iva, from the verb kuwa, and relative -po, of place, time, or condition generally. Used as a conj. when, if, in case, supposing, even if, although. Iwapo una akili, ukae, if you have sense, wait. See -wa, v., and po.

Izara, n. slander, disparagement, backbiting. (Ar. Cf. aziri, for common masingizio, &c.)

J.

J represents (1) in words of Arabic origin the same sound as j in jar. As in different Arabic dialects, J and G are sometimes interchanged (cf. ginsi, jinsi). (2) In words of Bantu origin, a very similar sound in Zanzibar, which elsewhere may be better represented by dy (cf. ch for ty, and t at Mombasa), and is used for d, y, and z, in some words common in neighbouring dialects, and so partially current in Zanzibar.

The sound of J is often practically indistinguishable from that of Ch.

Hence words not found under J may be looked for under Ch, or G.

J-, for ji-, in nouns and adjectives, before roots beginning with a vowel. See Ji-.

Ja, v. (1) come; (2) of events, happen, turn out, result. As in other monosyllabic verb-roots the Infinitive form kuja is used as the root form in some tenses (see Ku-), and yu is commonly prefixed to 3 Pers. Sing. of Pres. Indic., i.e. yuaja for aja. The Imperative in this verb only is irregular, viz. njoo, njooni, for 2 Pers. Sing. and Plur. Alikuja nyumbani, he came to the house. Naja kwako na barua hii, I approach you with this letter. Umekuja ku-shtakiwa, some one has come to accuse you. Atakuja kuwawa, he will come to be killed, he will some day be killed. Ap. jia, jiwa, jika, jiana, come to (for, about, at, in, &c.). Maneno tuliyojia kwako ni hayo, that is the errand on which we came to you. Siku uliyojia, the day on which you came. Mgeni amenijia leo, a visitor has come to me to-day. The passive is used by itself of receiving visits, e.g. ninejiwa, I have had a visitor, I have a friend with me. Jika, be approachable, be accessible. Mji huu haujiki, this town is not to be entered. Rumi jiajia, and ? jaija, of repeated or troublesome arrivals. Wananijiajia tu, they keep on bothering me with visits. Also Rf. jijia, e.g. nikawa kujiwa zangu hatta chini, and I just fell anyhow (helplessly) to the bottom. See Ji-. Hence a further Ap. jilia, jiliwa, jiliba, jiliza, come to (at, for, &c.) with a special purpose, in a special way. Cs. not in use. Ja (like isha, and toa) is occasionally used as a semi-auxiliary followed by a verb in its root-form, e.g. amekuja twaa, he has come to taking, he actually takes (or, has taken). Atakuja ua watu, he will come to killing people, he will positively commit murder. And it regularly furnishes the formative element ja in three forms of the Swahili verb-system, viz. (a) in the Deferred Tense, with a Negative Prefix preceding, e.g. kajaja, he has not yet come, and (b) in its Subjunctive form, e.g. asijelala, without his yet lying down. Obs. also ja for je sometimes in the latter case, e.g. asijelala for asijelala, asijawa for asijekuwa (cf. nag-, nga-). Also ja is traceable without a negative preceding, e.g. ujaonaji? where have you yet seen?

Also there is a semi-auxiliary use of -sija, -sije, e.g. wasije kuthurika, lest they come to be hurt. Asije kuja mtu mwingine akatuthuru, lest another man chance to come and hurt us. (c) In the 'tense of Possible Condition' (Str.), i.e. with the relative -po, of time, place, or condition, e.g. nijapolala, sitwesii kugena, even if I lie down, I cannot turn over. Wajaipo kuja, even if they come. Wajapo hawaaji, though they do not come. And n. tijapo, and even japo, used as conjunctions simple, even if, supposing that, although. (Cf. njia, ujia, majilio, of arriving, fika, wasili, and contr. enda, go. Ja appears to be one of the few roots occurring very widely in Bantu from Uganda to Zululand, and also in Arabic.)

Jaa, v. (1) become full (of); (2) fill up a given space, be plentiful, abound, swarm. Used of any vessel or space, and of its contents. Mtungii umejaa maji, the pitcher is full of water. Maji yamejaa mtungini, the water fills the pitcher. Inchi imejaa miji, the country abounds in trees. Nsiye walijaa kotejote, locusts swarmed everywhere. Maji ya kujaa (ya kupwa), high (low) tide. Ps. java, be filled, be full, like Act. but esp. of what are not the natural, suitable, usual contents. Java na hofu (wa-zimu, kiburi), be filled with fear (frenzy, conceit). Ap. ja-lijia, -liwa, be full up to, jalija hatta juun (not usual; dist. jalia from jali). Jalija, -liwa, -lisia, -lisia, fill up, cause to fill (or, be filled), make quite full. Cs. jaza, jazwa, make full, fill (the ordinary process, jaliza indicating a step further, a more complete (or additional) filling). (Cf. njalifu, njazi.)

Jaa, n. rubbish heap, dunghill, place where dust and refuse are thrown. Mkuu ni jaa, a great man is a dust heap. (Ar.)

Jaa, n. the north, i.e. point of the compass (Arab.). (The northward direction is in Z. kaskazini, kibla.)

*Jabali, n. (ma-), (1) a rock, hill, cliff, mountain; (2) rock (as a substance), stone; (3) raised line of needlework across the back in a native dress, kanzu. (Ar. Cf. mwamba, mlima, jiwe.)

*Tabari, n. Supreme Ruler, Mahommedan title of God. (Arab.)

*Jadiliana, v. Rp. argue together, reason with each other. (Ar. Cf. syn. hujiana, bishana, semezana.)

*Jaha, n. honour, glory, prosperity. Mtu alioshushiwa j., a man who was granted good fortune. Kilango cha j., the Gate of Paradise. (Ar.)

*Jahazi, n. ship, vessel,—of any description. (Ar. Cf. chombo, merihebu.)

*Jahili, a. reckless, foolish, rash, precipitate, unthinking. (Arab. Cf. mjingga.)

* Jalada, n. and Julada, (1) cover of a book, binding; (2) whip. (Arab. leather. Cf. mjeledi, jelidi.)

*Jali, v. give honour to, heed, respect, reverence. (Ar. Cf. syn. heshimu, sikia, hofu.)

*Jalia, v. Ap. grant (to), give power (opportunity) to, enable, be gracious (to), esp. of God's favour and help. Muungu akinijalia, if God helps me, God willing. Ps. jaliwa. Ntakwenda nikijaliwa, I will go, if I can (if I am allowed, if all is well, God willing). Lijaliwalo kuma, halina uzuo, what is allowed to happen, there is no preventing. (Ar. Cf. sayidia, bariki, wesehen. Dist. jalia from jaa, v.)

*Jaluba, n. small ornamental box of metal. (Ar. ?Turkish. Cf. kijaluba.)

*Jamaa, n. a number of persons gathered or connected together, family, society, company, assembly, gathering, meeting. Mtu wa j., member of a family, kinsman. Enyi j. waliotuhuria hapa (on addressing an audience), my friends here present. Also of a single person, one of a family, friend. Huyu ni j., this person is a connexion (friend) of mine. — v. See Jamii. (Ar. Cf. jamii, juma, and syn. ndugu, nkutano.)

*Jamala, n. courtesy, good manners, elegance, grace, gracious (kind, obliging) behaviour. J. yako haiku- potei, you will not lose by your kindness. (Ar. Cf. syn. adabu, madaha, fathili.)

*Jamanda, n. (ma-), a round basket of plaited grass, usually with a cover. Used as a blinker for camels, hence macho yangu yametiwa majamanda, kama ngamia, my eyes have got blinkers like a camel. (Cf. kijamanda, kidoto, and for baskets generally kikapo.)

Jamani, a. also Jaman, Jerman, German. See Dachi, which is more usual.

Jamba, v. break wind with noise. — n. (ma-), breaking wind. (Cf. shuta, shwi.)

*Jambia, n. also Jamvia, a curved broad-bladed dagger, worn in the belt by Arabs, often highly ornamented. J. lameta kumofa, the dagger is bright on one side. J. kiunoni na bakora mkononi, dagger at waist and stick in hand.

Jambo, n. (mambo), (1) matter, affair, circumstance, business, thing (never of a concrete kind, which is kitu); (2) matter of importance, difficulty, trouble; (3) for sijamo, hujambo, see below. J. hili guumu sana, this matter is a very difficult one. Amenitenda kila j. la wema, he has treated me with every possible kindness. Mambo ya serkali, political (public, official) affairs. Ulimwengu una mambo, the world is full of troubles. Jambo (sometimes yambo) is the commonest form of greeting for all classes in Z. ‘How do you do?’ and also the commonest form of reply, ‘I am quite well.’ Jambo thus used represents in the greeting hu jambo (or strictly huna jambo, though this is never heard), and hujambo is the more correct and respectful form, spoken interrogatively, i.e.,

You have nothing the matter with you? Nothing the matter? You are well? Similarly in the reply, jambo is for the more correct sijambo, i.e., sina jambo, I have nothing the matter, I am quite well. Jambo with the Negat. Pfx. of the Pres. Tense is used as a verb, with the special sense of being well or improving in health or general condition, both of persons and things, e.g., sijambo, I am well, I am better, matters are improving with me. Inchi yote sasa hajambo, the whole country is now in a good state. Hajambo, it (the weather) is fine. Cf. the corresponding use of the Negat. Pres. of wesa, i.e., sivwezi, huwezi, &c., I am ill. Sometimes jambo is thus used with other tense pfxs., e.g., umemtoa nyoka, hukujambo lolote, you got the snake out, but you were none the better for it. Hajambo, like huwezi, is sometimes used adjectivally, e.g., nikapata hajambo, I got well. Tukawa sote hajambo, and we were all getting on well. (Cf. amba, orig. speak, ji-ambo, jambo, a subject of speech, thing talked of, affair. Cf. neno, word, matter, thing. Contr. kitu, a concrete thing, substance.)

Jamdani, n. white brocade. (Hind. See NGuo.)

Jamii, v. (1) collect together, but commonly Cs. jami-isha, ishwa, in same sense; (2) copulate. — n. and Jamia, a collection of objects, group, company, number, mass, body, total, sum. j. ya watoto, a lot of children. j. ya mali, the whole of a sum of money. j. ya makathi, bench of judges. j. ya watu, the mass of men, most people, the public. j. ya maneno, the words taken together, the whole sentence, context. Also as adv., in a mass, collectively, as a whole, all together. Wote jamii, all the lot, the whole lot. (Ar. Cf. jamaa, juma, and syn. kusanya.)

Jamvi, n. (ma-), a piece of floor-matting, of the common coarse kind, made of plaited strips of leaf, used in houses, mosques, shops, &c. J. la kutandika chini nyumbani, matting to spread on the floor in houses. (Cf. mekka, msaala.)

Jamvia, n. See Jambia.

Jana, n. and adv., yesterday, day before the present, period preceding the present. Siku ya jana, yesterday. Mwaka wa jana, last year. (Cf. jusi, leo, &c.)

Jana, n. (ma-), (1) a fine, large child, e.g., jana dume, a very fine boy. (Cf. mwana.) (2) A youth, lad (cf. the common kijana in same sense). (3) Grub, larva, young (of an insect). Majana ya nyuki, bees in the grub stage (cf. hii). Hamna asili, twajitaflunia majana, there is no honey (in the comb), we are just munching grubs. (From same root as mwana, which see.)

Janaba, n. pollution, defilement, esp. ceremonial, according to Mahomedan rule. (Ar. Cf. una-jisi, ujusi, uchafu.)

Jangwa, n. (ma-), desert, wilderness, waste, barren ground, bare (desolate) country. (For ji-angwa cf. wangwa, and syn. nyika, poli, pululu.)

Japo, conj. also Ijapo, even if, although. For japo as a tense sign, and auxiliary, see ja. (Cf. syn. iwapo, kwamba.)

Jarari, n. or Jerari, halliard,—a rope running through a pulley (apedari) on deck, and another (gofia) attached to the thicker rope (henga), by which the mainyard and sail of a native vessel are hoisted. See Tanga, and Kamba.
*Jaribu, v. (1) experience, make trial of, attempt, try, test, prove,—only incidentally with any idea of trying, in the sense of 'do one's best,' 'make an earnest endeavour' (for which see jitahidi, kasa, fanya, bidii, shika); (2) in moral sense, test, tempt. Akajaribu kuitikisa mtu, he tried shaking the tree. J. safari, attempt a journey. J. upangia, make trial of a sword. Ps. jaribiwa. Nt. jaribika, be liable (open) to test (or, temptation). Ap. jarib-ia, -iwa, -iwa, -tana, make an attempt on, have a try at (for, with, in, &c.) Cs. jarib-isha. — n. (ma-), (1) trial, proof, test, attempt; (2) that which tries (tests, proves the nature or mettle), a trial, trouble, difficulty. (Ar. Cf. syn. onja, angalia, tazamia.)

Jarifa, n. (ma-), drag-net, seine,—of European make. (Cf. juya, kimia, wavu.)

Jasho, n. (1) sweat, perspiration; (2) high temperature, sultriness, heat,—causing perspiration. Hakulaliki nyumbani kwa j., it is too hot to sleep indoors. Fanya (taka) j., perspire, sweat. (Cf. hari, moto, mvuuke.)

*Jasi, n. (1) a kind of soft friable stone (chalk, gypsum, pumice) rubbed on the fingers when plaiting mats. (Ar. Cf. chaki.) (2) (ma-), ornament worn in the lower lobe of the ear, often a round silver plate. (Cf. kipuli, kipini, and for ornaments, urembo.)

Jawa, v. Ps. of Jaa, v., which see.

*Jawabu, n. (ma-), (1) answer, reply, cf. jibu; (2) affair, matter, concern, cf. jambo. J. liwe lote, be the matter what it may. Amejasinya j. kuu, he has done a great thing. J. la kesho huandaa leo, the business of to-morrow one gets ready for to-day.

*Jaza, v. and Jazi, reward, make a present to, grant favour to, give maintenance (to), supply (to), require, punish. Muungu amenjasa mengi, God has been bountiful to him. Ap. jaz-ia, -iwa, -izilia, -izilia. (Ar. Cf. tuza, lipa, -phasawabu, &c.) — n. (ma-), and jazi, jazo, gift, reward. (Ar. Cf. bakshish, sawadi.)

*Jaza, n. Cs. of Jaa, which see.

*Jazi, a. sufficient, plentiful, common. Kitu hiki ni j. uwino, this article is common in the town. Vyombo vi j., the vessels are numerous. (Ar. Cf. syn. -ingi, tele, marithawa, &c.) — n. also Juza, which see, and Jazo.

*Jebu, n. (ma-), an ornament worn by women hanging under the chin, often from the veil. (Cf. urembo.)

Jego, n. See Chego.

Jema, a. form of -ema, good (which see), agreeing with D 5 (S).

*Jemadari, n. (ma-), commanding officer (of soldiers), general. (? Hind. Cf. amiri, afisa.)

Jembe, n. (ma-), hoe, of native make, the common instrument of cultivation,—a flat pear-shaped piece of hammered iron with a spike (msuka) passing through, and fixing it to, a short stout wooden handle (kipini). J. la kizungu, a spade. Piga j., hoe, use a hoe (or, strike with a hoe). Dim. kijembe. (Cf. wembe.)

*Jeneza, n. a bier, i.e. kitanda cha kuchukulia mtu aliyekeula, a bedstead for carrying a dead person (to the grave). It has handles and a frame to support a covering. Or an ordinary kitanda is used, turned upside down. (Ar. Cf. machela, tusu.)

Jenga, v. construct, build—a house in the native way, of poles, sticks, mud, grass, &c., not of masonry (see Aka, Uashi), but also extended to building in general. J. nyumba ya mti na udongo, build a house of poles and clay. Also j. merikebu, build a ship (but this is more usuallyunda). Ps. jengwa. Nt. jengeka. Ap. jeng-ee, -ewa, build for (with, in addition to, at, &c.). Nyumba hii imejengewa, this house has been added to, enlarged. Cs. jeng-eshia, -eshwa, cause to build, have built. (Cf. jengo, njengo, jenzi, mjenzi, njenzi, also aka, unda.)

Jengia, n. (ma-), a building, a building operation, material for building, a house, shed, enclosure. Toa j., design, draw, make a plan of a building. J. la mawe na choka, a structure of stones and mortar. Majengo, building materials. (Cf. jenga.)

Jengua, v. Riv. of Jenga, take a building to pieces, demolish, pull down. (Cf. jenga, and the more usual syn. bomoa, vanja.)

Jenzi, n. (ma), building, mode of building. Ndio majenzi yao Wa-do, that is the way the Dade tribe builds. (Cf. jenga, mjenzi.)

Jeraha, n. (—, and ma-), a wound, a sore, ulcer. Dim. kijeraha. Tia j., wound. Pata j., be wounded. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

Jeruhi, v. be wounded. (Ar. Cf. jeraha, majeruhi.)

Jeshi, n. (ma-), a great company, assemblage, host, troop, army. J. la asikari, an army,—usually a larger body than kikosi, or kundi. Fanya (changaz, kusanya) j., muster (levy, enrol) an army.

Jesila, n. See Jizla.

Jetea, v. rely on, trust to, be confident in, be puffed up by. Jetea uliwengu, rest the hopes on this world, of a worldly person (mliwengu). Rf. jijetea, be self-confident, be self-reliant, be arrogant. Mwanamke huyu anajetea njama wake, this woman relies on her youthfulness, as her stock-in-trade. (Cf. tegemea, egemea, tumaini, jivuna.)

Jethamu, n. a kind of leprosy, or elephantiasis. (Arab.)

Jeuri, n. violence, outrage, brutality, assault, injustice, oppression. Mweny j., a tyrant, oppressor, ruffian. Fanya (piga, toa) j., act in a violent (brutal, outrageous) way. —a. and -jeuri, violent, tyrannical, &c. (Ar. Cf. ujeuri, and syn. uthalimu, thulumu, shari, ukorofi, and opp. upole, haki, adili.)

Ji (before vowels often j-) a prefix used as 1. formative only, (a) initial, before roots of (1) nouns of D 5, when they would be otherwise monosyllabic in the Singular, e.g. jiwe (plur. mawe, not majiwe), jicho (plur. macho, not majicho), jino (plur. meno, for ma-ino, indicating an i in the root), jiko (plur. meko, for maiko). (2) Declinable adjectives, when the root is monosyllabic or begins with a vowel, to mark agreement with D 5 (S), e.g. jipya, jingi, jike, jekundu, jororo, jema, &c. (b) Medial, between ki- diminutive and the root of nouns, in both sing. and plur., esp. when confusion might otherwise arise with a different word, e.g. kijitu, dim. of mtu (not kitu, a thing), kijiti, dim. of mti (not kiti, a seat), kijiko (not kiko, a pipe) kijiwe (not kiwe), kijibwa (not kibwa). It also occurs in dim. of neno, kijineno for kineno. (3) Terminal, attached to nouns directly formed from a verb, and commonly conveying the notion of habitual, customary, general action or condition, e.g. from iqa, imitate, mwiga, one who imitates, and mwigaji, a regular imitator, caricaturist, from omba, beg, mawomba, one who begs, prefers a request, mwombaji, a professional beggar. (Cf. ulaji, gluttony, as a quality, habit, and obs. such words as kinywa ji, that which is drunk, a beverage, in contr. with kinywa, mouth, where ji is mainly distinctive.) 2. Amplificative, i.e. denoting relative largeness, before any suitable monosyllabic noun, and some dissyllables, e.g. jitu, jibwa, jisu, jiguu, jumba (ji-umba, cf. nyumba), jombo (jiombo, cf. chombo), jivuli, jinywa. (Contr. ki, as corresponding diminutive prefix.) 3. Reflexive, in verbs (often strengthened by a nafsi following) and verbal nouns (e.g. jisifu, majisifu, jivuna, majivuno, &c.), and either (a) simple, jiua, commit suicide, jischa, hide oneself, jihathari, guard oneself, jiweka vema, behave oneself, or (b) with a range of meanings both wide and delicately shaded, mostly centring on such ideas as independence, wilfulness, selfishness, interested action, personal aims and objects, or again, carelessness, indifference, random or chance action, &c., and capable of conveying alike a gross insult, or a subtle inundo. A few examples are:—jienda, of easy, automatic, perpetual motion. Jiendea, take a walk (for pleasure), run amuck (like a madman). Jijia, come on one's own concerns (independently), jog along. Nikawwa kujiija zangu chini, so I simply fell helplessly to the bottom. Jikohoza, give a significant cough. Jigonyuweza, feign sickness, sham. Jiona, be concealed. Jikalia, lead a life of ease and idleness. Juptia, go about one's own devices. Kizze ajipiti impendeza yo, the old lady can go about her business as she likes. Ji- being a prefix of such common use and wide application, words not found under ji- may be looked for under the letter following ji-. (Obs. sometimes a simple objective person pfx. is used for the reflexive ji-, e.g. nikanywa mvinyo nikanilevya, and I drank wine, and made myself drunk. Umekupuka na rehema ya Muungu, you have shut yourself out from God's mercy.)

*Jibini, n. cheese. (Arab.)

*Jibu, v. answer, reply, respond, retort. Ps. jibwa, be answered, receive in answer, &c. Nt. jibika, be answerable, admit of an answer, &c. (also jibikana, in same senses). Ap. jib-ia, -iwa, -iana, e.g. jibiana kwa waraka, correspond (by letter). Cs. jib-iza, -iwa, -ishwa, -izana. Akamjibisha majibu, and he compelled him to reply, or, and he caused an answer to be given to him (the other person). Jibizana, c.g. of a class conducted by method of question and answer. — n. (ma-), answer, reply, retort, response. Commonly in plur. leta majibu, bring an answer. Pa (toa) j., give an answer. (Ar. Cf. jawaibu, mabij, rarely jibile, jibio. Dist. fipu, and wajibu.)

Jibwa, n. (ma-), a very large dog. (Cf. mbwa, kijibwa.)

Jicho, n. (mabo), (1) eye. Fumba j, close the eye. Fumba j., open the eye. Finya j., half close the eye. Kasa j., look fixedly, rivet the eye. Twaj., cast a glance. Ngariwa j., glare, stare. Pepesa (jicho), wink. Macho is often used of wakefulness, or being awake, and fig. of vigilance, as n., a., and adv. Ana macho, or yu macho, he is awake. Kaa macho, remain awake, keep watch at night (cf. kesha).
Walikuwa macho, they were awake.
(2) Spring, place where water bubbles from the ground. Jicho la maji, a spring of water. (Cf. chemi.)
(3) Bud of a flower, when just opening. (Cf. tumba, chipukizi.)
Macho ya mitama (?), husks of millet. (Perh. cf. -cha, v. dawn, and, for conditions of the eye, upogo, upofu, chongo, makengeza, chamba ch'icho.)

Jifu, n. (ma-), usu. in plur. ashes,—of burnt material. (Perh. cf. jifya.)
-jifuyifu, sometimes used as 'grey, ash-coloured, ashy.' (Cf. ifu-ifu.)
Jifya, n. (mafya), cooking stone,—one of the three used to support a cooking-pot over the fire. Not usu. in Z. town. (Cf. jifu, and see figa, jiko.)

Jigamba, v. Rf. of gamba (which is not used), vaunt oneself, boast, brag, show off. Ap. jigmambia. Other forms rare. (Cf. syn. jisifu, jiona, jivuna.)

Jijiri, n. or chichiri. See Kijiri.
Jika, v. go to stool,—in Z. enda chooni. See Choo.

Jike, n. (ma-), female—animal.
Funda j., an ass. Bata j., a duck. (Cf. -ke, kijike, and contr. ndume.)

Jiko, n. (meko), fire-place, hearth, kitchen. Often in the locat. form, jikoni, the kitchen. Moto wa jikoni, under-cook, scullery boy. Mkaa jikoni, a stay-at-home. The plur. meko is used most commonly in Z. for the (three) stones which support a cooking-pot over the fire, i.e. mawe yasuiuyo chungu cha kupika katika moto. (Cf. figa, and note, jifya, and ji-.)

Jilio, n. (ma-), coming, approach, advent, usu. in plural. (Cf. jio, jilia, Ap. form of ja.)

Jimbi, n. (ma-), (1) a male fowl, a cock. J. lauwika, the cock crows. (Cf. syn. jogoo, pora.) (2) A plant, of which both leaves and roots are eaten (Colocasia edulis, Sac.). (Cf. mayugwa.)

Jimbo, n. (ma-), inhabited country, district, province. (Cf. wilaya, which is used of the administrative divisions of Zanzibar Island.)

Jina, n. (ma-), name, i.e. proper name. J. lako nani? What is your name? J. la kupangwa, nickname (borrowed name). Tia (-pa) j., give a name (to). Taja mtu j., mention a person by name.

Jinamisi, n. (ma-), (1) bending (oneself) down, bowing down, e.g. mahali pa jinamisi, a place where you must bend down. (2) fig. humility, self-humiliation. (3) Nightmare. J. limenilema, I am oppressed by a nightmare. (Cf. inama, and ji-.)

Jingi, n. (ma-), one of the two upright posts of a native frame for rope-making, supporting a cross board (bau la jingi). Also a form of -ingi, agreeing with D 5 (S).

*Jini, n. (ma-), a spirit, genius—supernatural (created) being, powerful and capricious, but not always like shetani, malignant. (Ar. See Pepo.)

Jino, n. (meno), (1) tooth; (2) various objects resembling a tooth, as projecting, gripping, catching, e.g. cog (of a wheel), ward (of a lock), strand (of a rope), plug (of tobacco), battlement (on a wall), &c. Kamba ya meno matatu, a rope of three strands. J. zima la tumbako, si kipande, a whole plug of tobacco, not a cutting. Ota j., cut a tooth,—of a child. Ngoa j., extract a tooth, have a tooth out. Nauma j., I have a tooth-ache, also j. lantyma. J. la mhele, incisor, front tooth. J. la nynuma, back tooth, molar. Toa meno, show the teeth. Tofuna kwa meno, gnaw, nibble, chew with the teeth. -a meno-meno, battlemented, jagged, serrated. (Cf. change, chego, pembe, kihoyo.)

*Jinsi, n. sort, kind, quality, class,—also commonly ginsi, which see. (Ar.)

Jinywa, n. (ma-), a large mouth, esp. as an insulting term, e.g. ziba jinywa lako, shut up that great mouth of yours, shut up. (Cf. common kinywa, kana, and nya.)

Jio, n. (ma-), coming, approach. Seldom used. Jio la usiku, approach of night, evening. (Cf. folllg. and njio, jilio, njia, also jia, Ap. form of ja.)

Jiona, Jipevua, Jipotoa. See Ona, Pevua, Potoa, and Ji.-

Jioni, loc. form of jio used as n. or adv., evening, in the evening. Jioni hivi (or, hiti, or, leo), this evening. (Cf. jio, and syn. kuchwa, nishuko wa jua, magaribi, and contr. assubuhi.)

Jipu, n. (ma-), boil, abscess. J. laiwa, the boil is coming to a head. J. limetumbuka, the boil has burst. J. litatoka usaha, the boil will discharge. (Cf. upele, kidona.)

Jipunguza, Jipurukusha. See Punguza, Purukusha, and Ji.-

Jipya, n. new,—agreeing with D 5 (S). See -pya.

*Jirani, n. (ma-), (1) neighbour, one living near; (2) anything near, adjacent, adjoining, on the boundary. Nyumba yangu ni j. ya nyumba yake, my house is next to his. Shamba j., adjacent estate. (Ar. Cf. ujirani, mpaka mmoja, pakia.)

*Jiri, v. come to pass, take place, take effect. Haikujiiri neno, it has no effect. Cs. jirisha. Mfalme akajirisha sheria, the king gave effect to the laws, enforced the law. (Ar. for common tukia, tokea, ja, wa.)

*Jirwa, n. (ma-), also Iriwa, a screw vice.

Jisifu, v. Rf. of sifu (which see), boast, brag, vaunt oneself, sing one’s own praises, advertise oneself. — n. usu. in plur. majisifu, self-praise, boasting. See Ji.

Jisingizia, v. Rf. of Singizia (which see).

Jisu, n. (ma-), a large knife. (Cf. kisu, kijisu.)

*Jitahidi, v. make an effort, exert oneself, try hard, strain at. Cs.

Jitahidisha, in intens. sense, make a great effort. — n. effort, endeavour, exertion. Jitahidi haiondo amri ya Muungu, human effort is powerless against God’s will. (Ar. ji not reflexive, cf. juhudi from same root, and syn. fanya bidii, kasa, shika.)

Jiti, n. (ma-), a large tree, a trunk of a tree, a large piece of wood. Unapoikamata ngoma, kamata jiti lake, when you get hold of a drum, see you get hold of its wooden part. (Cf. mtu, kijiti, and dist. kitu.)

*Jitimai, n. grief, sorrow, affliction.

Jito, n. (ma-), also Juto, as from a root uto,—large river, lake. Lake Nyassa is sometimes spoken of as jito. (Cf. mto, kijito, and ziwa, lake.)

Jitu, n. (ma-), a very big man. Anakuwa j. zima, he is becoming a perfect giant. (Cf. mtu, kijitu, and syn. pande, or pandikizi, la mtu, and dist. kitu, a thing.)

Jivi, n. (ma-), (1) a great (notorious, famous) thief. (Cf. mwewi, iba.) (2) A wild hog (Str.).

Jivu, n. (ma-), ash, also Jifu, which see; (2) wooden socket in which the handle of a native drill turns. (Cf. keke.)

Jivuli, n. (ma-), great shadow, shadow of large object. Jivuli la mvumo, shadow of borassus palm. (Cf. mwuli, kivuli, &c.)

Jiwa, v. Ps. ap. of -ja, be approached, be visited, have guests. See -ja.

Jiwe, n. (mawe, or to indicate large size majiwe), a stone, a large stone, a piece of stone, stone (as material). Nyumba ya mawe, a stone house. J. la tamani, a precious stone. Mawe is used as a contemptuous expletive, Rubbish! nonsense! humbug! I don’t believe you! J. la kusatia, a mill-stone. J. la manga (see Manga), a hard close-grained stone, used as a whetstone (kinoo). Piga, or pigia, mawe, throw stones at, stone. Mwapa wa jiwe, a stone’s throw. The stone of Zanzibar is coral limestone of different ages. (Cf. mbwe, kawe, kibwe, kikawe, kijiwé, and for different sizes of stone, mwamba, jabi, kokoto, changarawu, mchanga.)

*Jizla, n. also Jesila, Gesla, a measure of weight, viz. 10 frasila or 60 pishi, about 350-60 lb. (Ar.)

Jogoo, n. (ma-), a male fowl, a cock. Jogoo lawika, the cock crows. J. la kwansa, first cockcrow, about 2 a.m. J. la pili, second cockcrow, just before dawn, 4 p.m. Majogoo ndio saa la shamba, the cock is the clock in the country. (Cf. jimbi, pera, kuku.)

*Johari, n. a jewel, a gem, a precious stone, e.g. zumaridi, yakuti, almati, feruizi, lulu. Also fig. j. zamtu ni mbili, akili na haya, the most precious qualities are these two, intelligence and modesty. (Ar. Cf. kilo.)

*Joho, n. (—, and ma-), (1) woollen cloth; (2) a long loose cloth coat or cloak, open in front, and often richly embroidered, worn by Arabs and well-to-do people. (Ar. Cf. kansu, and ngu.)

Joka, n. (ma-), a very large snake, in general—a serpent. (Cf. nyoka, n. and v. Dist. choka.)

Joko, n. (ma-), oven, kiln, esp. of potter's work, a place for baking earthen vessels, i.e. mahali pa kuwevyungu. (From ji, which see, and oka. Cf. josho, and choko.)

Jombo, n. (ma-), ampl. of chombo, i.e. ji-ombo, a large utensil, a large vessel or ship. (Cf. chombo, kijo)umbo.)

Jongea, v. move (pass) on, make a move, move, approach. Jongea ufulimi, move into shade. Jongee huku, nipshe mimi, move aside and let me pass. Ap. jong-elea, -ela, -elewa, -eleza, -eleana, move to, approach, go up to, &c. Akani jongelea hatta nilipo, and he came close up to where I was. Cs. jong-esu, -eswa, -esana. (Cf. enda, pita, soga. Dist. chongea.)

Jongo, n. (ma-), (1) a large, high back, a ridge, high projection; (2) a seam,—in sewing. J. nene, a large, projecting seam. (For ji-ongo cf. maongo, or maungo, and gongo, mgongo (elsewhere mongo), back, dorsal ridge, kijongo, kibiongo.)

Jongoo, n. (ma-), a very large black millipede, common in Z. and destructive to crops. Mtupa jongoo hutupa na mi wake, he who throws away a millipede, throws away the stick it is on as well.

Jororo, a. soft,—form of -ororo, agreeing with D 5 (S). (See -ororo, and ji.)

Josho, n. (ma-), for ji-osho, or same as chosho, i.e. ki-osho, a bathing-place, a place for washing. (Cf. oga, osha, and see Chosho.)

Joto, n. (ma-), for jito, or same as choto, i.e. ki-oto, great heat, inflammation, pyrexia. Pata joto (or joto joto), get hot. (Cf. ota, moto.)

Joya, n. a white spongy substance sometimes found filling the shell of a cocoanut, instead of being deposited as the usual lining of nutty hard substance on the inside,—also the nut thus filled. Joya la nazi, either the substance or the nut. Hutazamwa nazi, kama imefanya joya ndani, a cocoanut is examined to see if it is spongy inside. Kama j., spongy, porous, full of holes. Nyumba yangu ni j., atakaye huwiga, my house is like a spongy cocoanut, any one who likes goes into it. (Cf. naze.)

*Jose, n. (1) a walnut; (2) a pair, brace, couple,—of anything. (Ar. 'nut' in general. Cf. losi. The consonants are transposed of the Ar. word for 'pair'.)

Jua, n. (ma-), (1) the sun, sunshine, fine weather; (2) time of day (as judged by the position of the sun). J. kali (jingi), hot sun, hot weather. J. kichwani (vichwani), time of sur. overhead, noonday. J. kucha (kupanda, kutoka, kuchomosa), sunrise. J. kuchwa (tua, shuka), sunset. J.
JUWA 120 JUTA

Juna, v. know, know about, understand, be acquainted with. Najua jambo hili (mtu huyu), I know this affair (this person). Stihi maneno ya kijungya, I do not know the Zanzibar language. Najua kufua chuma, I know smith's work. Namina aliko, I know where he is. Ps. julua. Nt. julika, be known, be knowable, be intelligible, and JULI- kana, in the latter sense. Ap. ju- tiia, -itiwa, know about, &c. Ali- mujulia kama amekasirika, he recognized that he was angry. Cs. (rarely jusa), ju-lisha, -lishwa, -lishana, cause to know, make known, inform. Also juvya, jivisha (sometimes meaning 'make impertinent, provoke to or teach impertinence.' Cf. -jivi. Rp. ju-ana, -ania, -anisha. Nimewajuanisha, I have introduced them to each other. (Cf. -juzi, -jwi, ujuzi, &c., and syn. fahamu, tambua.)

*Juba, n. (—, or ma-), (1) a kind of coat, vest, or jacket, open in front, with collar and wide sleeves of cloth or (unlike the joho) of calico and linen. (Arab. Cf. joho, kanzu, ngu). (2) A mortising chisel. (Cf. patasi, chembeu.)

*Juhudi, n. effort, exertion, strain, arduous, arduous, painful stress, agony. Ana j. ya kazi, he is a zealous worker. Fanya j., take great pains. J. si pato, trying is not the same as succeeding. (Ar. Cf. jitahidi, and cf. syn. bidii, kazi, ngu).)

*Jukum, n. trader's risk, payment for taking risk, insurance. Lipa j., insure (goods, in trading). Chukua j., take the risk, guarantee. (Hind., used in commerce, cf. syn. bima.)

*Jukwaa, n. (ma-), also Jukwari, scaffolding, staging, stage, scaffold. (Hind.)

*Juma, n. (1) also Jumaa, Friday, and more fully Ijumaa, i.e. the day of assembly, e.g. Kwenyi (wapo) Ijumaa, on Friday; (2) (ma-), a week. J. moja, one week. J. zima, a whole week. The days following are named from it, i.e. Jumaa (for juma ya mosi, Saturday, Jumaa pilili, Sunday, Jumaa tatu, Monday, Jumaa wene, Tuesday, Jumaa tano, Wednesday. But Alhamis, Thursday. See Alhamisi. (Ar. Cf. jamaa, jamii, jumla, and see Siku. Jumaa seems also sometimes used for njumu.)

*Jumaa, n. See Juma. Moskita wa jumaa, the mosque of the congregation. (Arab.)

Jumba, n. (ma-), a large house, mansion, palace. (Peri umba. Cf. nyumba, chumba, kijumba, &c.)

Jumbe, n. (ma-), king, chief, head man,—also called locally divani, shomvi, pasi. (Peri. ji-umba, from umba, cf. kiumbe, and syn. sultani, mfalme, mwinyi, mkua, and dist. njumbe.)

*Jumla, n. (1) the sum, total, a lot, all together; (2) in Arithm. addition. Also adv. wholesale, in lots. (Ar. Cf. juma, jumaa, and syn. jamii, shelabela.)

*Jumlisha, v. Cs. add up, sum up, put all together. Ps. jumlishwa. (Ar. Cf. jumla, and syn. jamisha, tia pamoja.)

Jungu, n. (ma-), a large cooking pot, usually round, of red or black earthenware, and with a cover. (For ji-ungu, and cf. kijungu, kichungu, ungu with pl. nyungu, and for other vessels, see Chungu, Chombo.)

*Jura, n. (ma-), also Jora, Gora, a length of calico, calico in the piece (of 30 to 35 yards). (? Ar.)

Juta, v. regret, feel the loss of, miss, be sorry for, feel remorse for, referring to something past. Najuta

Juto, n. (ma-), (1) regret, remorse, sorrow for what is past. Fanya (ona, ingiwa na, &c.) majuto, feel remorse. Shikwa (patwa) na majuto, have a fit of remorse. Wakajuta sana majuto makuu, they very bitterly regretted it. Majuto ni mjukuu, mwishowe hija kinyume, remorse is a grandchild, it comes at last. (2) A form of jito, a large river. (Cf. juta, toba, and mto.)

Juu, adv. and (with ya) prep., (1) of position,—above, high up, over, on, upon, up (to) above, from above, upstairs, on the top (of). J. ya nyumba, on the top of the house. Aliyoko juu, mngoej chini, wait below for the man who is above. Panda j., go upstairs. Shuka j., ya frasi, dismount from a horse. Angenda j., hafikili mbinguni, though he soars high, he does not get to the sky. Also of rank, dignity, &c. Aliye j. ni j., i.e. a great man is out of reach. Juu, iliyo juu, palipo juu, juu yake, is used of the top of a thing. Hapa ndipo juu, here is the top, the highest point.

(2) Resting on, dependent on, obligatory on, morally binding on, the business of, the duty of, &c. J. yake, you are responsible, it depends upon you. J. ya mfalme kutawala, it is the king's business to rule. (3) Over and above, in addition to, beside. J. ya mambo haya, besides all this. Umpe mpia j. ya mishahara wake, give him a rupee in addition to his wages.

(4) About, concerning, as to, in respect of, with regard to. Miototo hisanya adabu j. ya mwalimu wake, a pupil treats his teacher with all respect. Fanya shauri j. ya safari yako, make plans for your journey. Alirema mengi j. yake, he talked a great deal about him. (5) Against, in opposition to, to the prejudice (harm, loss) of. Huna nguvi j. yangu, you have no power against (over) me. Wakaletu vita j. ya adui, they made war upon (against) their enemies. (6) In an excited, perplexed, fluttered, alarmed state or condition (of mind and feeling). Moyo wake ni j., yuna moyo j., he is excited, has taken offence, is angry, has lost his head, &c. The Rd. form juunjuu, is also often used, with different shades of meaning, e.g. (1) high up, very high, exalted. Tazama kijunjuu, take a birdseye, synoptic, general view; (2) proud, arrogant, supercilious; (3) superficial, foolish, shallow, excited, perplexed, &c. Wakauliswa ya juunjuu, they were asked the usual formal (civil) questions. Mambo ya juunjuu, indifferent matters, gossip, topic of the hour. Tukasemesana juunjuu, we had a chat together. (Contr. chini.)

Juvisha, Juviya, v. Cs. See Jua, v.

Juya, n. (ma-), a seine, drag-net, made of native materials. (Cf. jarifa, wavu, kimia.)

Juzi, v. Cs. See Jua, v.

Juzi, n. (ma-), the day before yesterday. J. na jana si kama ya leo, yesterday, and the day before, are not like matters of to-day. Mwaka j., or wa j., the year before last. Also used indefinitely, juzi, or juzi juzi, a few days ago, lately. J. hivi, the other day. Tangu majorzi yole, some time ago. Mtu wa j., a new-comer, a young person. Kushinda j., three days ago.

Juzu, v. be permissible, be allowable, be suitable, be fitting for, be right for, be duty of. Nguo hii haimjuzu, these clothes do not suit him, are not proper for him. Neno hili lajuzu nami, this matter is right for me, is my duty. Ap. juz-ia, -iwa, be right for, be allowed to, be obligatory for. Mwanamke huyu anijuzia kumwoa, it is right for me to marry this woman. So ninejuziwa kumwoa. Also n. and a., of what is allowable, within one's duty, and so (often) morally binding, obligatory. (Ar. Cf. pasa, wajibu.)

*Juzu, n. (ma-), division, section, chapter of a book, esp. of the Coran. Anasoma ya thelatihini, he is reading the thirtieth chapter. (Ar. Cf. kitabu, chuo.)

K.

K represents the same sound as in English. The two different k sounds in words of Arabic origin are not commonly distinguished in Swahili. For the sound of Arabickh see remarks on Kh- below.

K is often pronounced ch in Zanzibar, esp. among the slave class and new-comers from mainland tribes.

K is one of the commonest sounds in Swahili speech, entering as it does into the formatives ka, ki, ko, and ku (which see), and the preps. kwa, katika.

Words not found under K may be looked for under Kh, H, or Ch. For words beginning with ki- see remarks on Ki-, below.

K-, before a vowel, sometimes represents ka or ki, which see.

Ka, 1. is a verbal connective prefix, except in the cases noted below. In general, it connects two or more verbs together in such a way as either (a) to carry on the construction (mood and tense) of the first verb to those following with ka-, or (b) to supply in those construction appropriate to the context. But most commonly it is used (1) to connect a verb in the Past (Narrative) Tense Indicative with others following, or else (2) to connect a verb in the Imperative Mood with another in the Subjunctive, or Imperative. Thus the typical form of a narrative in Swahili begins with a verb in the Past (li-) Tense, and proceeds with verbs having ka for li, e.g. paliondokoa sormala akena kuwa mke, there was once a carpenter and he went and married a wife. Palikuwa mitu akawa ta'iri, there was once a man and he became rich. Hence kamay be said commonly to carry the force of 'and' before a Past (Narrative) Tense. Similarly, the common form of Imperative sentence with more than one verb is njoos kona, or njoos ukaone, or njoos kaona, come and see. Nenda kalete (ukalete, kaleta), go and fetch (it).

Beside these uses, ka is regularly employed (1) with a single Imperative as a semi-connective, i.e. with reference to something implied or understood, e.g. leta, bring it; kaleta

(kalete), bring it then. So kaseme ti! speak then! Also nikuwete? Am I to call them then? (2)

Prefixed to a verb-root, without Pers. Pfx. with the force of the 3 Pers. Sing. Perf. Indic., e.g.

kafa, he is dead. Kenda zake, he has gone away. Alikwenda mjni kapanda punda, he went to town on a donkey, i.e. amepanda punda.

(3) Affixed to the sign of the Future ta, when ta would otherwise be required to bear the accent, as in relative forms, e.g. atakapokwenda for atapokwenda, when he shall go.

In (2) and (3) ka has no connective force.

There remain a number of cases in which ka is less commonly used, e.

g. with a Present Tense, nikali;

and I am; with or following the hu tense, hufikia pale akala, he used to go there and eat; huotaka assubuhi hukarudi, he used to go out in the morning and come back; with a Future Tense, ntaenda nikapata baraka, I will go and win a blessing; with a subordinate verb, nine-kwenda kwake nikamitazame, I have been to his house to see him; introducing a supplement especially to negative expressions, e.g. asije akafa, that he may not first come and die, for asije kifsa or asijafa, before he die; usinipige ukujita, do not strike me and then regret it (i.e. or you will regret it); tusiende tukurudi, do not let us go and then have to come back again; kwenda akoja leo, perhaps he comes to-day.

Kaa coalesces commonly with e or o following, e.g. akenda, akoga, and with i following forms e, as akesha, for akaisha. Nika is often contracted into ha.

2. is a Diminutivé Prefix of nouns and adjectives, more emphatic than ki, e.g. katoto, a tiny child; kajiwe, a very small stone; kagongo kajupi, a very short little club; paka kadogó, a very small kitten. Kadogo is used, like kidogo, as adv., in a very small degree, in infinitesimally, to a very small amount.

Kaa, v. (1) stay, stop, rest, remain, wait; (2) sit, sit down, take a seat; (3) dwell, live (in), inhabit, reside (at); (4) continue, last, endure. Unakaawapi? Nakaashamba (mjini), Where do you live? I live in the country (in the town). Kaa kitako, sit on the haunches, squat, sit down. Nimkca, I am seated,—often a polite rejoinder (whether seated or not) to the invitation karibu, walk in. Nguu hii imekaa sana, this dress has lasted a long time, has worn well. Inchii hii inakaa watu, this country is inhabited, i.e. imekaliwa na watu. Ps. kaliwa (rarely kawu). Nt. kalika, and kalikana, be habitable, &c. Ap. ka-lia, -lisa, -lishwa, e.g. -liana, wait for (with, in, by, &c.). Akamkalia nabii Musa njiani, and he waited for the prophet Moses in the road. Kumkalia mtu matanga, to join in the mourning for a person. Imemkalia tama, it has remained agreeable to him. Akakalia nyele zake, and he waited with (for) his hair, i.e. he let it go untrimmed. Wakakaliana karibu, and they settled near each other. Cs. ka-lisha (kasa), -lishwa. (Cf. ukao, kikao, makazi, mkaa, &c., and syn. keti, shinda, ngoja, ishi, dumu.)

Kaa, n. (ma-), (1) a piece of charcoal, also extended to mean 'a lump of coal.' Makaa, charcoal, coal, embers. Mineral coal is sometimes distinguished as makaa ya mawe, stone coal. Makaa ya moto, live embers. Makaa simwe (ya simwe, mazimwe), slaked embers, cinders, dead (burnt out) coal. Makaa moshí (yamoshi), soot. (Cf. masiti.) Choma (oka, pika) makaa, make charcoal.

(2) (—), a crab, the most generic term, including many varieties, e.g. kaa makoko (ya pwani), chajo, ngadu, mwanamizi. (Dist. follg.)

Kaaka, n. also Kaa, the palate, also kaa la kinwa.

Kaanga, v. fry, braze, cook with fat, i.e. oka, kwa samili (or, kwa masifita). K. nyama, cook meat with fat. K. moto, heat, warm. Mayai ya kukaanga, poached (fried) eggs. K. ngoma, warm a drum at a fire to tighten the skin. Hence ngoma ya kukaanga, fig. for delay, i.e. a pause in a dance. (Cf. kaango, kikaango, ukaango, and for cooking, pika.)

Kaango, n. (—, and ma-), a cooking pot,—of earthenware, properly for cooking with fat, a frying-pan. (Cf. kaanga.)

*Kaba, v. press tight, squeeze. Nguo inamkaba mwili, his clothes are too tight for him. Kaba roho, seize by the throat, throttle, choke. Wakamkaba roho hatta akasimia, they throttled him till he fainted. (Ar. Cf. syn. bana, sengu, kaza, saki, shika, kamata.)

*Kaba, n. or Kaaba, (1) lining of the kanzu on neck and shoulders. See Kanzu. Also (2) a kind of vest with sleeves. (Ar. Cf. juba.)

*Kabari, n. (—, and ma-), a wedge (of wood or iron), e.g. to split logs with.

*Kadila, n. (ma-), tribe, clan,—a smaller division than tajfa, and larger than ufungu, jamaa.

*Kabili, v. (1) be in front, be opposite, face (towards), front, point to, correspond to, be directed towards, be exposed to; (2) incline towards, tend to, be inclined to, be likely to, have a propensity for; (3) confront, brave, defy, oppose, be contradictory to. Nakambibili uso kwa uso, I met him face to face. Makali palipokabili baridi, a place exposed to the wind. Hakabili kuusa, he is not inclined (likely) to sell. Ulmwvengu unakabili mvuna, the weather portends rain. Hatuwezi kukabili bahari ile, we cannot navigate (for navigate, face) that sea. Wakabakili risasi zetu, they boldly faced our bullets. P.s. kabitiwa. Nt. kabilika. Ap. kabili-ia, -iana, be opposite, face each other, have a mutual attraction, correspond. Cs. kabili-isha, -ishwa. Nakabukabiliwa na wali, I will confront you with (present you to) the governor. Kabilisha mtu, send a man in a given direction. Kabilisha barua, dispatch a letter, forward a letter to its destination. Kabilisha moyo, set the heart on, resolve. (Ar. Cf. Kubali, Kabla, kibula, and syn. tekea, simamia, -wa mbele ya, kutana na, shindana na, lingana na, &c.)

Kabisa, adv. utterly, altogether, quite, wholly, exactly. Njema kabisa, as good as can be. Sitaki kabisa, I absolutely refuse. (Cf. syn. kanwee, haswa, halisi.)

*Kabithi, v. also Takabathi, (1) take in the hand, receive, hold, lay hands on, seize, keep. Also (2) Cs. (for kabithisha), cause to hold in the hand, put in the hand (of), deliver (to), hand over (to), give (to). Amenkabithi mwenyi deni, he has seized the debtor. Kabithi mali, hoard, economize. Ulitakabathi thamani, you received the price. Unakabithi watoto mali yao, hand over this property to the children. Nika-wakabithi jetha wale watumwa, I gave the money to the slaves. Cs. kabithiwa. Ap. kabith-ia, -iana. Cs. kabith-isha, -ishwa, cause to receive, hand over (to), deliver (to). (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. (1) pokea, kamata, shika; (2) salimu, toa, po-keza, lipa.)

*Kabithi, a. economical, grasping, close-fisted, miserly. (Ar. Cf. kabithi, ukabithi.)

*Kabla, conj. and (with ya) prep., before,—almost exclusively of time, previously, antecedently, in advance of. Followed by a verb in the negative, usu. the ja tense and often with bado, or else a relative. K. hajaja bado, before he arrived. K. haikutiwa nanga, before casting anchor. K. atakapohuja (ajapo), before he shall come (comes). K. ya kuja, before arrival. K. ya siku chache, before long, or, a few days before. (Ar. See Kabili, and follg. Cf. mbele.)

*Kabla, n. purpose, object, tendency, direction. Tukaona kabla yao, we saw what they were going to do. (Arab. seldom used. Cf. kabili, kibula, kibla.)

*Kabuli, n. (1) acceptance, sanction. (Ar. Cf. the more common kibali, ukubali). (2) An Indian dish of rice, curry, &c. (Hind. Cf. pilau.)

*Kaburi, n. grave, tomb, sepulchre, place of burial. Makaburi, or makaburini, a cemetery. Chungulia kauburini, have one foot in the grave. (Ar. Cf. siara, kuzimu.)

*Kadamu, n. (ma-), also Mka-damu, foreman,—used of the third in authority of the men superintending work on an estate, the head man being msimamizi, the second noko.

(Ar. Cf. takadamu, and follg.)

*Kadimisha, v. Cs. cause to go before, send in advance. (Ar. Cf. kadamu, and tangulia.)
Kadiri, v. also Kadri, (1) estimate, reckon, calculate, fix the value of, put a limit on; (2) form an opinion on, consider, weigh, judge. K. malí, make a valuation of property. *Nakadiri maneno haya ni kweli, I judge that this statement is true. Ps. kadiriwa. Nt. kadiriika, e.g. be limited, be measurable, be moderate (in amount, behaviour, &c.), be finite. *Kufa ni furathi ya iliyokadiriwa, death is a necessary condition of what is finite. Anatakabari mno, hakadiriiki, he shows great arrogance, he has no moderation. Maneno yasiyokadiriika, unmeasured (or, unintelligible) language. Ap. kadiri-ia, -iwa. Cs. kadir-isha, -ishwa, e.g. put limit to, restrain, cause a valuation (estimate) to be made, &c. — n. (1) amount, measure, extent, capacity, value, rank; (2) moderation, self-control, temperance. K. ya watu kuni wamekuja, as many as ten people have come. K. gani? What amount? How much? *Kaa mahali pa k. yako, remain in a place suited to your condition. — as adv. conj. and (with ya) prep. in various senses, (1) about, nearly, up to; (2) as much as, as long as, as often as, whilst, when, as; (3) moderately, on an average, in a certain degree, e.g. k. utakapo-fanyiwa maevu unite, whenever you are badly treated, call me. K. akitia, hukaza, as soon as he places it, he fastens it. K. ya kuka kikata, just when he was sitting down. Common also with -yo following, e.g. k. awezayo, as far as he can, to the best of his ability. (Ar. Cf. ukadiri, and syn. ginzi, kiasi.)

Kadogo, a. invar. dim. of -dogo, and more emphatic than kidogo, exceedingly small, minute, infinitesimal, tiny. Also adv., in a very small degree. (Cf. -dogo, ki- and ka-.)

Kafara, n. (ma-), an offering, a sacrifice, a charm,—to avert evil. Toa k., make an offering, sacrifice.

Chinja k., kill (an animal) as an offering. (Ar. cover, atone. Cf. kafiri, kufaru, and syn. sadaka, thabjhu.)

Kafi, n. (ma-), paddle, small steering oar. Piga k., use a paddle, paddle. (Cf. kasia.)

Káfla, n. a caravan. (Arab. rarely heard, for common msafta, safari.)

Kafíni, v. cover up, wrap. Mtu aliyekufa hukafíniwa kwa sando, a dead man is wrapped in a shroud. (Ar. kafí, a pall; rarely heard, for common funu, vi).

Kafiri, n. (ma-), one who is not of the Mahommedan religion, an infidel, an unbeliever, an atheist, a pagan, an apostate. (Ar. Cf. kufaru, ukafí.)

Kafuri, n. camphor. (Arab.)

Kaga, v. protect by a charm, put a charm on (in, near, &c.), e.g. kaga shamba (mwiili, kaburi), protect by charm a plantation (person, grave). Cf. follg.

Kago, n. (makago and mago), a charm (for protection or preservation). K. la fisi, charm against a hyaena. (Cf. kaga, and syn. kafara, dawa, hirizi, talasimu.)

Kahaba, n. (ma-), prostitute. (Ar. Cf. ukahaba.)

Kahawa, n. coffee, i.e. the beverage,—the berry being buni, or buni ya kahawa, and the plant mbuni. (Ar. Cf. mkahawani.)

Kahini, n. (ma-), also Kuhani, priest, soothsayer, and sometimes in bad sense, deceiver, swindler. (Ar. Cf. mkohani, and kasisi.)

Káhira, n. Cairo. (Arab.)

Káida, n. fundamental rule, canon, pattern, standard, method,—same as kawaida, which see. (Ar. Cf. syn. kanuni.)

*Kaidi, v. be obstinate, be headstrong, rebel, refuse to obey, contradict. Usimbaidi baba akisema neno, do not contradict (disobey) your father, if he says anything. Cs. kaidi-isha,-ishwa, e.g. incite to disobedience. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. halifu, asi.)

*Kaidi, a. obstinate, refractory, disobedient, rebellious, &c. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Kaimu, n. (ma-), superintendent, guardian, vicegerent, viceroy. Ha-kimu atakwaa k. wa shugbili ile, the chief will undertake that business. (Arab. Cf. wasiri, wakili.)

Kajekajo, n. small cords used to fasten the sail to the yard, in a native vessel. (Cf. chombo, and kamba.)

Kajia, n. an extremely small path or passage. Dim. of njia. (Cf. njia, njija, and ka-.)

Kaka, n. (ma-), (1) used occasionally of an empty shell, e.g. of an egg, or of the rind of a fruit, e.g. of an orange, k. la yai, k. la chungwa. (But ganda is more usual, cf. jiwu, juwu.) (2) Elder brother, generally used playfully or colloquially, as dada. (3) A disease affecting the hand.

Kaka-kaka, adv. in a hurry, in a rush (press, bustle). (Cf. kikaka.)

Kakamia, v. strain after, make a sudden or violent effort to do, or get something, e.g. k. maji, of a thirsty man. (Cf. follg.)

Kakam’ka, v. make a muscular effort, strain,—as in lifting a load, breaking a stone, or in travail. Obs. also, Rf. jikakamia, in same sense.

Kakawana, v. be strong, athletic, well knit, muscular. (Cf. syn. shupaa, -wa na maungo.)

*Kaki, n. a thin hard-baked biscuit or oake. (Cf. mkate.)

*Kalafati, v. caulk (the seams of a wooden vessel),—the tool used being chemeu. Described as tia pamba na mafuta yasingie maji, apply cotton and grease to prevent water getting in. Ps. kalafatwa. —n. caulking, material used for caulking. (Ar.)

Kalala, n. also Karara, Ukalala, the tough leathery sheath of the cocconut flower stem.

Kalam’ka, v. be quick witted, be wide awake, be sharp (intelligent, on the alert), have one’s eyes open. Ap. kalamkia, -iwa, (usually) be too sharp for, outwit, deceive, cheat. (Cf. kalam’zi, and am’ka, and syn. danganya, punja, hadaa.)

*Kalamu, n. pen (made of reed). Also any pen. Chonga k., point a pen, make a pen. K. na wino, pen and ink. (Ar.)

Kalam’zi, a. crafty, cunning, sharp. (Cf. kalam’ka, and syn. -janja, -erevu, ayari.)

*Kalasha, n. tusk of ivory, smaller than buri. (Cf. pembe, buri.)

*Kalasia, n. small brass vessel with narrow neck, often used for milk. (Hind. Cf. kopo, sufuria, for metal vessels.)

Kale, n. old times, antiquity, the past, former ages. Watu wa k., the ancients, men of old. Zamani za k., old times, past ages. Hapo k., once upon a time, long ago. Kikale, of the old style, old-fashioned, antiquated. -a k., old, ancient. -a kikale, antiquated. (Cf. zamani, and dist. usee, old age.)

*Kalfati. See Kalafati. (Ar.)

-Kali, a. (1) sharp, having a sharp edge, cutting, e.g. kisu kikali, a sharp knife, makali ya upanga, the edge of a sword, opp. to butu; (2) sharp to the taste, acid, sour, bitter, e.g. siki kali, sour vinegar, opp. to laini, tamu, and cf. chungu; (3) sharp in temper, severe, stern, cross, cruel, fierce, e.g. ng’ombe mkali, a fierce cow, opp. to -pole, -a huruma; (4) keen, intense, vehement, brave, jua kali, tembo kali, strong palm-wine, scorching sun, watu wakali, warlike people, opp. to-legeru, -vivu, -ega. (Cf. ukali.)

-Kali, verb-form, used with Person prefixes, nikali, tukali, &c., and I am (was), and we are (were), &c. (Cf. ka, and li.)

*Kalibu, n. a mould, e.g. for bullets, i.e. kidude cha kusubia lisasi, a thing for casting bullets in. Also of that in which metal, &c., is heated, a heating pot or furnace. (Cf. subu, ita, joko, tanuu.)

*Kalima, n. word. (Arab. for common neno. Cf. mkalimani.)

*Kalme. See Galme.

Kama, v. squeeze, but esp. of milking, e.g. kama ng'ombe maziwa, milk a cow, or simply kama. Ps. kamwa. Nt. kamika, kamikana. Ap. kam-ia, -iwa. (Dist. kamia, threaten.) Cs. kam-isha, -ishwa, e.g. kamisha ng'ombe za watu, act as milkman, undertake milking. (Cf. kamua, kamata, and songa, kaba, shika.)

*Kama, conj. also Kana, (1) as a particle of comparison in general, (a) as, such as, like, as if, as though, e.g. uwe kama mimi, be like me. Ruka k. ndege, fly like a bird. Mtu msupi k. wewe, a man as short as you. K. hivi (vile), as thus, like this, in this way, for instance. With a noun, often supplies a lacking adjective, e.g. k. maji, like water, i.e. liquid, fluid, also fluent, easy. K. majani, green. With nini, forms an expletive or adv. of emphasis, e.g. kubwa k. nini, wonderfully great. Zuri k. nini, inexpressively beautiful, or in the form kamani! wonderful! marvellous! With a verb, kama is commonly followed by -yo, e.g. k. upenda-yo, as you please, k. uliyosema, as you said, but also k. wapenda, k. ulisema. (b) Like, as it were, almost, about, nearly, of vague comparison, e.g. of numbers, asikari k. mia, about a hundred soldiers. Ny-ingi k. si nyangi, a moderate number.

(c) In the definite comparison of two or more objects, 'as compared with, rather than, and not' (cf. kuliko), e.g. afathali kwetu ali k. kutumia yote, it is better to save money than to use it all up. Yeye mkuwa k. wewe, he is big as compared with you, i.e. bigger than you. Heri kupotea nkaka k. kwali hai, better I should be lost and die than live. Bora thabu k. fetha, gold is more valuable than silver. (2) As a subordinative particle, (a) that,—of reported speech, &c. Nasema k. ndiwe, I say that it is so. Nimesikia k. haji, I understand that he does not know. Aliamuru k. aende, he ordered that he should go. (Cf. similar use of ya kwali, ya kwamba, kwamba, and kama kwamba.) (b) If, supposing that, though, i.e. conditional, e.g. k. una homa nenda kwa mganga, if you have fever, go to the doctor. K. hutaki, bassi, if you do not want to, there is an end of it. Also often with Pres. Partic., k. ukipenda, if you like. K. fetha ikipatikana, ntalipa, if the money is forthcoming, I will pay. (c) Whether, if, e.g. sijui k. yuko, I do not know whether he is there. Alimulisa k. ndiwe, he asked me whether it was so. (Ar. For comparative use cf. sawa na, mfano wa, mitihili ya, kuliko. For conditional use cf. ikiwa, iwapo, endapo, and the use of -ki- and -sipo in verbs.)

*Kamali, n. a game played by chucking small coin into a hole (Str.).

Kamamanga, n. See Komamanga.

*Kamani, adv. wonderfully, strangely, exceedingly. (For kama nini? Like what! see Kama.)

*Kamasi, n. (ma-), mucus from the nose, catarrh. Siwezi k., I have a cold in my head. (Cf. mafua, kifua.) Futa makamasi, wipe the nose.
KAMATA

Kamata, v. take forcible hold of, catch hold of, seize with the hands (arms, claws, a trap, &c.), grasp, clasp, make a prisoner of, arrest. Chui alimkamata kuku, the leopard got hold of the fowl. Ps. kamatwa. Nt. kamatika, e.g. maji hayakamatiki, water cannot be grasped in the hand. Ap. kamat-ia, -iwa, e.g. seize with, grasp at, get a partial hold of, &c. Cs. kamatisha, also Intens. hold fast. Rp. kamatana, grapple, e.g. in wrestling. (Implies some effort, difficulty to overcome. Cf. shika, kabithi, guia, nasa. For the termination cf. ambata, fumbata, nata, pata.)

Kamati, n. ball of wheat flour, leavened with tembo, i.e. palm-wine (Str.).

Kamba, n. cord, rope,—the most generic term, properly of the native kind, but made of twisted cocoanut fibre (makumbi). Hence k. ya kumbi, kamba ya nazi, to distinguish it from k. ulaiti, European, hempen rope, and k. ya miwaa, rope of plaited leaf strips. See Ukkamba. UkuKuma wa kamba si upya wa ukamba, in a rope old fibre is better than new leaf strips. Piga (funga) k., tie with a rope, cord (a load), but also like songa k., suka (sokota) k., make a rope by twisting or plaiting. The ropes of a native sailing vessel have various names, all of non-Bantu origin, e.g. amari, baraji, hamarawi, disi, hensa, jarari, demani, goshi, dakawa, mjari, or ujari. Various materials for binding are ubugu, ugomba, ung'ong'o, unumu, ukindu, and miwaa. (Cf. ukamba, also ugwe, kitani.)

Kamba, n. a lobster, crayfish, prawn, shrimp, sometimes distinguished as k. ya pawani, k. ya bahari, also mkamba,—the common lobster, and k. ya mtoni, crayfish. (Cf. mkamba, udwvi, kaa.)

Kambali, n. (ma—), also Kambari, freshwater cat fish, with broad flat head and fleshy feelers,—the only freshwater fish common in Z., and sometimes of large size (15 lb. to 20 lb.)

Kambi, n. (ma—), encampment,—usually on enclosure occupied at night in travelling on the mainland. (? Eng. camp. Cf. kituo, boma.)

Kambo, n. baba (mama) wa kambo, step-father (-mother), muto wa kambo, step-child. (Perh. cf. kambo, used (Kr.) for the shoot sprouting from the roots of the banana (mgomba), near but separate from the chief stem.)

Kame, n. (ma—), barren land, wilderness, desert, waste, uncultivated ground. (Cf. nyika, jangwa, poli.)

*Kamili, v. complete, finish, make perfect, also be complete, be finished. But these meanings are usually taken by the Cs. and Nt. or Ps. forms. Ps. kamiliwa. Nt. kamili. Ap. kamil-ia, -iwa, e.g. end off, finish off. Ali pokamilia nyumba ile, when he finished off that house. Cs. kamil-isha, -ishwa, e.g. nine-kamilitsha mwesi wangu, I have completed my month. — a. complete, perfect, whole, entire, unimpaired. (Ar. Cf. maliza, timia, timiliza, isha.)

*Kamiliifu, a. same as Kamili, a., which see.

Kamio, n. (ma—), a reproach, a threat. (Cf. prec.)

*Kampani, n. also Kumpani, a commercial house, a trading association, a company. (From Eng. company.)

Kamua, v. Rv. of kama with similar meaning, squeeze, wring, compress, squeeze out, e.g. $k$. nguo, wring wet clothes; $k$. chungwa, squeeze the juice out of an orange. $K$. jipu, make an abscess discharge. Ps. kamuliwa. Nt. kamulika. Ap. kamu-ia, -iwa, e.g. akam-kamulika ndimu mwili, and he squeezed lime juice over his body. Cs. kamu-lisha, -lishwa. ( Cf. kama, v.)

KAMusi, n. a lexicon, a dictionary. (Arab. 'ocean'.)

KAMwe, adv. always with a negative preceding, (not) at all, (not) in the least, (not) ever (i.e. never, by no means). Si kitu kamwe, it is nothing at all. Sitaiki kamwe, I will have nothing to do with it. (Cf. kabisa, halisi, hatta kidogo.)

Kana, v. also Kanya, deny, negative, say 'no,' disown, refuse, e.g. kwanza mwili amekana, sasa au-ngama, at first the thief denied it, now he confesses. Baba alimkana mtoto, the father disowned the child. Ps. kaniwa. Nt. kan-ika, -ikan, e.g. amekaniwa na watu si mwivi, it was denied by the people that he was a thief. Hatikaniki kabisa, it is absolutely undeniable. Ap. kan-ia, -iana, forbid to, refuse to, deny to (about, for, on the part of, by, at, &c.). Baba amemkaniwa mtoto kuiba (or, asiibe), the father had forbidden the child to steal. Cs. kan-isha, -ishwa, also kan-usha, -yusha, -ushwa, -ishwa, -ishana, also Intens. deny emphatically, e.g. amenikanishia haki yangu, he has wholly denied me my rights. Mwanamke amekukanisha mtoto wake, the woman has induced you to disown your child. (Cf. kanyo, ki-kano, kataa, katasa.)

Kana, n. rudder handle, tiller, i.e. mkono wa usukani.

Kana, conj. See Kama.

Kanadili, n. (ma-), a projection from quarter or stem of native vessel, used as a closet (choo),—also quarter gallery.

Kanda, n. (—, and ma-), (1) a bag of native (plaited) matting,—often used for grain, broader at the bottom than at the mouth. Dim. kikanda. (Cf. kikapo.) (2) Leather thong, strap,—also plur. of ukanda.

Kande, n. and Kandi, stores, supplies,—for a journey, &c., esp. provisions. Not usual in Z. (Cf. masarufu, akiba, riziki.)

Kanderinya, n. kettle, tea-kettle.

Kandika, v. of the operation of covering the wooden framework of a native hut with clay to form the walls. Women bring water, while men dig and knead the clay, and apply it in lumps with the hand, between the sticks and inside and out. $K$. nyumba kwa udongo, plaster a house with clay. Ps. kandikwa. (Cf. follg. and kanda, kando, paka, v.)

Kandiko, n. (ma-), material for native plastering, i.e. earth or clay. (Cf. prec. and jengo.)

Kandili, n. (ma-), lamp, candle-stick, chandelier. (Ar. Cf. fanusi, kinaka, taa, meshmaa.)

Kando, n. (—, and ma-), side, edge, margin, brink (esp. of river or sea), bank, coast. $K$. ya (or la) mto, the margin of the river. Used commonly as adv. and (with la, ya) prep., on one side, aside, by the side, on the verge or edge, e.g. aliye kando, haangukwii na mti, he who is on one side is not fallen upon by a tree. $K$. yetu, in our neighbourhood, near us. Sawasawa k., parallel.

Weka k. (or, kando-kando) ya, put by the side of. $K$. zote, on all sides. (Cf. ukingo, upande, and ukando.)
Kanga, v. See Kaanga.
Kanga, n. (1) kanga la mnasi, the fruit stem or stalk bearing the nuts on a cocoanut tree, when stripped of the nuts, the bare stalk, dry stem. (The same when growing, and with nuts on it, is utaswi, cf. mnasi.) (2) Common speckled guinea-fowl (cf. kororo). (3) In commerce, guinea-fowl (ma-}, piece of calico of all patterns and colours, worn by native women and men. Described as leso ya upande mmoja. (Cf. shiti, kisuto, leso, nguo.)
Kangaja, n. (ma-), (1) small mandarin orange, fruit of the mkangaja; (2) a sea-fish, with a disagreeable smell.
Kango, n. (ma-), a frying-pan. See Kaango.
*Kaniki, n. in commerce, blue shirtings,—a dark blue calico, worn by the poorer classes commonly as an undergarment, or at work. See Nguo.
*Kanisa, n. (ma-), synagogue, temple, church. (Arab. Cf. msi-kiti, hekali.)
*Kanju, n. (ma-), fruit of the cashew tree, mkanju,—which in Z. is called mbibo. See Mbibo.
Kano, n. (ma-), large sinew or tendon (of animals). (Cf. mkano.)
*Kantara, n. a bridge. (Arab. Cf. daraja, bonith, ulalo.)
*Kanuni, n. that which is regular (necessary, indispensable), a fundamental rule, a necessary condition, a sine qua non. As adv. undoubtedly, certainly, truly. (Ar. Cf. farathì, sharti, kawaida, hakika, yakini.)
Kanusha, v. Cs. from Kana, which see. Other forms are kanyusha and kanisha.
Kanya, v. same as Kana (which see), refuse a proposal, give a negative answer.
Kanyo, n. (ma-), denial, refusal, contradiction, negative answer. (Cf. kanya, kana, mkano, and syn. katao, katazo.)
Kanwa, n. (ma-), also Kanywa, mouth (of man, and animals in general). K. jumbe la maneno, the mouth is ruler of speech. (Dim. from nywa, see.-nya, and cf. kinwa, which is usual in Z.)
*Kanzi, n. what is kept in store, a treasure, also treasury, store-room. Aweke mali kanzini, let him put his belongings in the store-room. (Ar. Cf. tunu, ha-zina, and kandi, ghala, akiba.)
Kanzu, n. the usual outer garment of men in Z., a long-sleeved calico gown, reaching from the neck to the ankles, usually plain white or yellowish-brown (huthurungi), with or without lines of silk stitch-work, red or white, on the neck, wrists, and front, and fastened with a small button or tassel at the throat. Worn over a loincloth, often with a light doublet, or under a coloured sleeveless open waistcoat (kisibau), or a cloth cloak (joho). Worn also by women, but then shorter, of coloured and varied materials, and with red binding. Kanzu are distinguished as ya ku-futa, plain, common, ya ziki, with white cotton stitching at the neck, ya kazi, with ornamental stitching, and according to material, ya bajfa, ya huthurungi, &c. (? Cf. Ar. kash, clothe. For parts, &c., of the kanzu see badani, taharizi, stjafu, kikwapa, jabali, mhalborti, kaba, tikì, mrera, kiboko, kurara, tarizi, mjusi, &c., and for tailoring, shona, mshoni.)
Kao, n. (ma-), place of residence, dwelling, habitation,—commonly in the plur. makao. Also of mode or act of remaining, residing, &c., situation, position, way of living, but thus more often ukao, kikao. (Cf. kaa, v., ukao, kikao, ukazi, makazi.)
*Kaoleni. See Kauli.
Kaomwa, n. and Kauma, calumba root,—mainly procured from East Africa. Described as 'the root of a creeping plant, like a sweet potatoe, a tonic of bitter taste' (Kr.).
Kapi, n. (—, and ma-), (1) a pulley,—consisting of a sheave (roda), enclosed in a block (makupa). (For various sorts see Gofia, Abedari.)
(2) Chaff, husks. (Cf. kumvi, wishka, kununu, macho ya mtama.)

Kapo (ma-), and Kapu, a large basket
(of plaited leaf-strips). See Kikapo.

*Karaha, n. provocation, (giving) offence, (causing) aversion. Mambo ya k., provocation, cause of ill-feeling; repulsion. (Ar. Cf. kirhi, also erkahi, ikirahi.)

*Karakoli, n. and Karakoni, prison.
Not usual in Z. (? Turkish, introduced by Soudanese. Cf. gereza, kifungo.)

*Karama, n. (1) an honour, privilege, valuable possession, gracious act, generous behaviour; (2) gracious gift, esp. a gift of God in answer to prayer. (Ar. Cf. karimu and eol, and for gifts generally bakshishi.)

*Karamu, n. a feast, banquet, festive entertainment. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Karani, n. (ma-), clerk, secretary, amanuensis, supercargo. (Ar.)

Karara, Karasia. See Kalala, Kalasia.

*Karata, n. card, playing card.
(? charta, card.)

*Karatasi, n. paper, a piece of paper. (Ar.)

*Karatha, n. money on loan, advance, credit. K. ya fetha, a cash advance. (Arab. Cf. follg.)

*Karathi, v. and Karithi, (1) lt, money, esp. make an advance for commercial purposes, accommodate with money or goods; (2) also as Cs. borrow, get an advance.
Ps. karathiwa. (Ar. Cf. prec.
and the commoner kopa, kopesh, and asimu.)

*Karibia, v. Ap. come near (to), go near (to), approach, move close to, enter. Ps. karibiwa. Cs.
karib-isha, -ishwa, bring near, move close, invite as guest, welcome, entertain. Karibisha chakula (kiti), invite to a meal (offer a seat to).
Tulikartbishwa visuri, we were hos-itably treated. Rp. karibiana.
(Ar. Cf. karibu, and sorea.)

*Karibu, n. near relation, kinsman. Watu hawa k. zangu, these people are relations of mine. Also mtu wa k., a relation. —adv. and (with ya and na) prep. (1) of space, near, close (to); (2) of time, presently, shortly, lately, recently;
(3) in general, nearly, almost, about.
Hivi k., just lately. Alikuja k., he came near, or, he arrived recently.
K. yangu, near me. Common as reply to the inquiry Hodi ? i.e. Come in, walk in, you are welcome. (Ar.
Cf. karibia.)

*Karimu, a. and -karimu, liberal, openhanded, generous. Also v.
See Kirimu. (Ar. Cf. karama, karamu, and syn. -paji.)

Karipia, v. Ap. use harsh language to, reprimand, scold, chide.
Ps. karipiuwa. (Cf. laum, kemea, shutunu. The Pr. form karipa also used.)

*Kariri, v. repeat, say over again and again, recite, rehearse. Ps.
kari-ia, say over to (for, at, &c.).
Cs. karir-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf.
syn. B. semi (soma) tena, or marra ya pili, or marra nyangi).

Kasa, n. a sea turtle. (Cf. ngamba, kobe.)

*Kasa, adv. also Kassa, less, less by, short by, usually in connexion with robo, themuni, or similar words, e.g.
gru pi mbili k. themuni, two rupees less four annas; saa sita k. robo, a quarter to twelve o'clock (lit. six hours less a quarter). K. robo, three quaters (of a dollar), one rupee and a half. (Ar. Cf. kasiri, n. and kasoro.)

*Kasarani, Kasasi, n. See Kistrani, Kisasi.

*Kasha, n. (ma-), box, chest, cupboard, packing case. Kasha la fetha,
(1) a silver box; (2) a money box,
KASHABU

safe. (Cf. sanduku, bweta,—also Ital. cassa, Fr. caisse.)

*Kashabu, n. a wooden rod, which draws the threads of the web apart in native weaving. (? Ar. Cf. msuno, funa.)

*Kashifu, v. (1) reveal, disclose; (2) show up, discredit, disparage, tell stories of, slander. Ps. kashifuwa. (Ar. for more usual chongea, singisia, &c.)

Kasia, n. (ma-), an oar. Piga (vuta) k., row. (Cf. kofi, a paddle.)

*Kasiba, n. barrel (of a gun). Mdomo kama k., small round mouth,—a point of beauty. (Ar. ‘reed.’ Cf. mwanzi, mdomo.)

*Kasidi, n. Also Kusudi, which see. (Ar.)

*Kasiki, n. (—, and ma-), large earthen jar (for water, ghee, treacle, &c.). (Cf. balasi, which is larger.)

Kasimele, n. cocoanut cream, the thick oily juice squeezed from the grated nut by a strainer, before any water is mixed with it, i.e. maji ya nazi yaliyokamuliwa mele katika kisumbi,—also called tui la kasi-mele, or tui halisi. The same nut, when mixed with water and strained again, produces tui la nyuma, tui la kupopolea, a white milky fluid. See Tui.

*Kasiri, v. cause to be angry, vex, provoke. Hayo ndiyo maneno yali-yokukasiri, these are the words which annoyed you. Sultan ali mkasiri mkewe, the Sultan vexed his wife. But the Cs. is more common in this sense (see below). Ps. kasiriwa. Nt. kasirika, be angry, be excited, whence kasirik-ia, -iwa, be angry with. Ap. kasiria-ia, -iwa. Cs. kasirisha, -ishwa, enraged, provoke, exasperate, stir up violent feeling in, incite, inflame. Rp. kasiri-ana. (? Ar. Cf. hasira, and syn. ghathabu, uchungu. Dist. hasara, hasiri and also kasiri, n.)

*Kasiri, n. end. Alasiri k., late afternoon, 5 p.m., i.e. mwisho wa alasiri. As adv. less. K. ya, k. kuliko, less than. (Arab., seldom heard. Cf. kasa, kasoro, and the commoner hatima, mwisho.)

*Kaskazi, n. (1) northerly wind, north monsoon. K. inavuma, the north wind is blowing. Cf. kusi, south wind, and upepo. (2) Season of the north monsoon, i.e. December to March, the hottest part of the year in Zanzibar, i.e. wakati wa jasho na kukaasha miti, also called mutim, and sometimes chaka; (3) northerly direction, the north. Also called Kibula Kibla. Kaskazini, in the north, northwards. (Cf. shemali, the Ar. word for ‘north,’ and jaa.)

*Kasoro, adv. less (by), short (by). Kasoro nusu, less by a half. Sometimes as n., defect, blemish. (Ar. kasr. Cf. kasa, kasiri.)

*Kassa, adv. See Kasa.

*Kassik, adv. of intensity, used with verbs, much, very, with energy (vehe-mence, violence, &c.), e.g. enda k., go with force, go quickly. Mlo unapita k., the river runs quickly, has a strong current. Also as a noun, tia (piga) k., apply force, tighten. Sokota kwa k., twist forcibly. (Prob. Ar. ? Cf. kiaisi, or kasa, kasi.)

*Kastabini, n. a thimble. (Persian, for more common subana.)

*Kasumba, n. opium. (Hind. Cf. syn. Ar. asifuni.)

*Kata, v. (1) cut, cut off, cut away, cut short, cut up, or in pieces; (2) fig. divide, reduce, bring to an end, decide, frustrate. The noun following may define the thing cut, the nature of the cutting, the effect produced, or the instrument used. K. miti, cut down trees. K. maji, go up stream. K. kisu (or kwa kisu), cut with a knife. K. ngu, cut calico, often in the sense “buy a piece of calico, order a new dress or suit. K. nakshi, carve (in wood or stone). K. pesa, reduce (or, withhold) a sum due. K. maneno, conclude (break off, decide, settle) a discussion.
K. hukumu, decide a suit, give sentence. K. tamaa, bring hopes to an end, despare, despond, be desperate. K. kiu, quench thirst. K. shauri, frustrate a plan. Ps. katwa, implying an agent, as present or prominent in the mind. Nt. katika, in which the fact rather than the agency is in view, e.g. hukumu imekatwa, the judge has decided the case. Hukumu imekatika, a verdict has been given. Kusi imekatika, the south wind is coming to an end. Hence, katik-ia, -iwa, be cut off, &c. at (for, in, &c.), e.g. muhogo ulikatikia mumo, the cassava broke off where it stood. Ugwe hukatikia pembamba, cord breaks at the thinnest part. Also katikana, be capable of being cut, &c., be possibly cut. Ap. kat-ia, -iwa, -iana, cut at (into, off from, a part of, &c.), e.g. katia hesabu, cut off from (deduct from) an account. Katia miti, cut a piece from, chop at, make a cut in (not, cut down). Katia njia, cut into (strike on) a road. Ni kiasi changu kama nalikatikia mini, it fits me exactly, just as if it was made for me (or, I had been measured for it). Tulikatikia maneno, we have had our matter settled. Katiana, settle accounts together, strike a balance, i.e. by striking out items on both sides. Cs. kat-iza, -izwa, -iza, -iziwa, -iza, cause to cut (be cut, &c.), or Intens. cut (end, decide) abruptly (vigorously, sharply, &c.). Katiza maneno, break off (interrupt, stop, apply closure to) a discussion. Walikatikia vyokuka, their supplies were deliberately stopped. Rn. katana, e.g. wanakatana kwa visu, they are fighting with knives. Also Rs. jikata, jikatia, jikatiza, &c., and Rd. of emphasis, kaktakata, cut to pieces, make mincemeat of. (Ar. Cf. mkata, mkato, kata, kota, mkatizo, mkate, mkataa, and follg. Also syn. tema, chanja, pasua, chonga, choma, vanja, maliza.)

*Kata, n. also Kataa, a cutting, piece, part, portion, section, fraction, not of a literal cut or cutting, but fig., e.g. (a) part of a house, k. ya nyumba, a room, an apartment, one of the screened-off divisions in a native hut, or k. ya chumba, an alcove, recess, part of a room; (b) k. ya kitabu, part of a book, section, leaf, page (cf. juzu, ukarasa); also of a country, 'quarter, district,' k. ya inchi (cf. mtaa, kita); (c) lengths of rope, string, silk, &c., as sold in shops, i.e. hank, skein, coil. (Ar. Cf. kata, v., and kato, mkato, &c.)

*Kata, n. (ma), (1) a ladle, dipper, scoop, used for drinking, or dipping water from a hole,—usually a cocoonut shell, with one end cut off, and fixed to the end of a stick. (Cf. upawa.)

(2) A round pad, usually of leaves, grass, or a folded strip of cloth, worn on the head when carrying a load, water-jar, &c. (Dist. mkata, ukata.)

Kataa, v. refuse, reject, decline, say 'no.' Ps. kataliwa. Nt. katalika. Ap. kata-ria, -riwa, -riana, e.g. refuse, refuse credence to, decline acceptance from, say 'no' to, &c. Cs. katu-za, -zwaa, -za, prohibit, forbid, deter, cause to refuse, refuse peremptorily, &c. Also katu-ria, -riwa, prohibit to (from, by, &c.). (Cf. katazo, kana, gombeza, dokiza, teta, marufuku.)

*Kataa, a. final, decisive, conclusive. Neno hili k., this statement is decisive. (Ar. Cf. kata, mkataa.)

*Katabahu, lit. he wrote it,—usually at the end of letters, with the name of the writer, and sometimes bijedihi, by the hand of. (Arab. Cf. kitabu, mkatabu.)

*Katani, n. also Kitani, flax, and what is made from it, linen, string, strong thread, twine. Uzi wa k., thread made of flax or hemp, as dist. from uzi wa pamba, cotton thread. (Ar. Cf. uzi, ugwe, kigwe, kamba.)
Katazo, n. (ma-), prohibition, contradiction, objection. (Cf. kataa, and syn. kindano, dakiso, teto.)

*Kathalika, adv. in like manner, likewise, similarly, in the same way. (Ar. Cf. aitba, thanma, and foll., and syn. B. vile vile, vivyo hivo.

*Kathawakatha, a. and adv., thus and thus, and so on, et caetera, many other such, many more. Watu k., lots of people. (Ar. Cf. kathalika.)

*Kathi, n. (ma-), judge,—the official term, magistrate appointed by the Sultan to decide questions of law. (Ar. Cf. hakimu, and mwamuzi.)

Kati, adv. and (with ya) prep., among, between, inside, in the middle of, amidst, surrounded by. K. ya nyumba, in the middle of the house. Kata k., cut asunder (through the middle). Also as n., the middle, the centre, and -a kati, central, middle; wakati wa k., the intervening period, interval; pa k., the centre. Sometimes redupl. katikati (ya), between, among, in the very middle (of), also kati na kati. (Cf. katika, prep.)

*Katiba, n. ordinance, custom, natural (or original) constitution, destiny, doom,—from the idea of binding and permanent force of Mahommedan law as written in the Coran. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

Katibu, n. a writer, scribe, amanuensis, clerk. (Cf. karani, mwandishki, katabahu.) — v. write,—seldom used, e.g. in Rp. tukatibiane, let us draw up a written contract. (Cf. mkataba, kitibu, kitaba, and common syn. andika.)

Katika, prep. among, in, whether (a) of place,—in, at, to, towards, into, from (in), out of, away from; (b) of time,—in, at, during; (c) in general,—in, engaged in, to, in the direction of, from; (d) in the matter of, in reference to, concerning, as to, about. Very common in all senses. In local use, equivalent to -ni. Sometimes with kwa, when kwa with the word following indicates a single idea or object. Kujika katika kwa mfalme, to arrive in the king’s court or presence. (Cf. kati, and the equally common kwa.)

Katikati, adv. and (with ya) prep. See Kati.

*Katili, n. a murderous person, a bloodthirsty man, a ruffian. (Arab. Cf. syn. B. mwuaji.)

*Kato, n. (ma-), a cutting, fragment, thing cut or broken off. (Cf. kata, mkato.)

Katru, n. a kind of gum, imported to Z., and sold in small dark-red lumps chiefly for chewing with betel. See Tambuu, Uraibu.

Kauka, v. become dry, dry up, be parched. Inchi imekauka, the earth is parched. Sauti imemkauka, his voice is dried up, he is hoarse. Ap. kauk-ia, -iva. Sakafu impekauka maji, the water has dried off the roof. Cs. kau-sha, -shwa, dry, cause to dry up, parch. (Cf. -kaou, yabis, and of drying clothes by exposure to sun and air, anika.)

*Kauli, n. (i) sentence, expression; (2) expressed opinion, narrative, account. K. tatu zilizosemwa, three accounts were given. Tufuase k. ya waalimu wetu, let us follow the opinion of our teachers. K. ile ika muchi, the expression vexed him. (Ar. for the common neno. Cf. kalima and kauleni, double tongued, untrustworthy, i.e. a man of two stories.)

Kauma, n. calumba root. See Kaomwa.

*Kauri, n. a cowry (shell). For various kinds cf. dondo, kulu, kete. Kauri is also used to describe china, vitu vya kauri, as opp. to earthenware, vitu vya udongo.
-KAVU

kavu, a. (kavu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), also -kafu, (1) dry, parched, waterless, barren. Inchik, dry land, terra firma, as opp. to bahari, sea. Kuni k., dry woodfire. Nguo k., dry clothes. Prov. maji mafu, muvi mkafu, at neap tides the fisherman gets little. (2) Dry, humorous, satirical, amusing. Mtu mkavu, a witty person. Maneno makavu, witticisms. (3) Brave, fearless, unconcerned. Cf. the phrase -kavu wa macho, -enyi macho makavu, of a nonchalant, intrepid, dauntless look. (Cf. kauka.)

Kawa, v. be delayed, tarry, linger, delay, loiter, take a long time, be behind time, be late. Ap. kawia, same as kawa; also kawilia, delay for (on account of, at, about, &e.), and so kaw-ilisha, -ilishwa, cause to delay, keep back, make late. Cs. kaw-isha, -ishwa, put off, make stand over, adjourn, e.g. kawisha kodi, get in arrears for rent. (Cf. usiri, ahiri, chelwa, and ? kaa.)

Kawa, n. (—, and of size ma), (1) a dish cover, conical in shape, made of plaited grass. Sahani isiyo na k., a dish without a cover. Tuli-ngane savu savu, kama sahani na k., let us suit each other (i.e. agree), like a dish and its cover. (2) Mildew, mould (Str.).

*Kawadi, n. (ma), a procurer.

(Arab.)

*Kawaida, n. also Kaida, regulative principle, fundamental rule, usage, custom, system, and so 'pattern, standard, maxim.' K. kama sheria, customary usage is like law. Hatuna k. ya kuja mtu, we are not used to a person coming, we do not allow it. (Ar. Cf. desturi, kanuni.)

Kawe, n. a very small stone, dim. of jiwe, kijiwe. (Cf. jiwe, mbwe, and ka.)

Kawia, Kawilia, Kawisha, &c. See Kawa.

Kaya, n. (ma), a kind of shell-fish.

-KAYA

Kaya, n. (1) a sieve; (2) a rattle resembling a sieve,—dry grain shaken inside a flat case of reeds.

Kayamba, n. (1) a sieve; (2) a ratttle resembling a sieve,—dry grain shaken inside a flat case of reeds.

Kazo, n. (1) work, labour, employment, occupation, profession, business, function, a job; (2) hard work, toil, strain, effort, exertion; (3) normal action, regular duty, routine. Mchezo huo ni k. burre, a game like that is labour thrown away, —a native view of athletics. Ndio k. yake, that is what he always does, or, he is responsible for it. Fanya (tenda) k., work, be a labourer. Nguo hii ni k. ya Wahindi, this stuff is made by Hindoos. K. ya maka-tia, contract work, task work. (Cf. kasa.)

Kazo, n. pressing tight, holding hard, grip. Also as a. -kazo, tight. (Cf. kasa, mkazo.)

Kazoarkaaoa, n. a term of abuse (perh. from zoa and ka-, which see), i.e. wretched gutter-scraper.

-ke, a. (1) (also -a kike, jike), of the female sex, female, feminine; (2) like a woman, timid, stupid. Mke (Pl. wake), mtu mke (Pl. watu wake), mtu wa kike (Pl. watu wa kike), and most commonly mwana mke (Pl. waana wake, or waanake), are all used of 'woman' generally, in respect of sex simply. In relation to the male sex, mke has the definite meaning ‘wife, married woman,’ and is then clearly distinguished from mwanamke, which denotes an irregular connexion, e.g. mke we wasiri ali-kwama mwanamke wake Abunuwasì, the vizir’s wife was Abunuwasi’s paramour. Mke ni nguo, a wife means (the cost of her) dress. Wake, as a noun, plur. of mke, often takes for distinctness pronouns of the form in z-, i.e. wake sake, his wives, rather than wake wake. Watoto waanake, or wa kike, girls. Bata jike, a female duck. Moyo wa kike, a womanly (i.e. usually ‘timid, stupid’) character. (Cf. jike, kike, kuke, uke, and opp.-ume.)

Kefu, int. also Këfûle, expressing disgusted surprise, indignation, aversion. K. mini killa siku, think of me (being so treated) every day. Mtu hamfanyisii hiana mtu asio- amini, kefu alionwamini, a man does not act treacherously towards one he distrusts, much less one he trusts.

Kefya-kefyà, v. tease, annoy, nag at, depress, discourage, put out of heart. (Cf. sumbua, tesa, chokoza, uthi.)

Keke, n. a drilling tool, a drill, consisting of a steel bit (kekêe), fitted into a wooden handle (msuka, m-sukano), which is turned in a wooden socket (jivu) by a bow and string (uta). Described generally as ki-dude cha kusulía mtì, a tool for boring wood.

Keke, n. (1) a boring tool, see Keke; (2) a kind of silver bracelet, usually broad and flat, fastened by a clasp or bolt. (Cf. kikuku, bana- giri, and urembo.)

Kekevu, n. hiccup. (Cf. kikewe, and more usu. in Z. kwikwi.)

Kelele, n. (ma-), a shout, shouting, uproar, noise. Piga k., shout, give a shout. Nena kwa k., or, kikelele, make a loud remark. Makelele, as an int. ordering silence, i.e. Too much noise! Be quiet! Si-

Kera, v. worry, tease, annoy, vex. (Cf. kero, and syn. kefyà-kefyà, sümðoa, tesa.)

Kereka, n. cause an irritating sensation, esp. in tongue or throat, have a rough taste, cause a choking feeling. Ròho yangu yani-kereketa kwa sababu ya kula tumbako, my throat is irritated from chewing tobacco. Tumbako yanikerketa, the tobacco has a harsh taste to me. (Cf. syn. washa.)

Kereza, v. (1) saw into, cut into with a saw (rasp, file, &c.), make a cut or notch in; (2) cut in a lathe, turn. Zikerëwazo, turned articles, turnery. (Cf. follg.)

Kerezo, n. also Këëzo, a machine for turning, a lathe.

Kërimu, v. See Kirimu.
Kering'ende, n. (1) a kind of dragon-fly; (2) a red-legged partridge (Str.); (3) a cricket.
Kero, n. trouble, annoyance, disturbance, vexations conduct. (Cf. kera, and syn. ghasia, masumbu, utaha.)
Kesha, v. remain awake, keep awake, stay up at night, not to sleep, watch, keep watch. Ngoma ya vijana haikeshi, a children's dance does not last all night. Kesha kuchwa, stay awake till the morning. Ap. kesh-ea, -ewa, stay up for, keep night watch with, nurse all night. Cs. kesh-esha, -esha, -eza, -eswa, keep a person awake. Rp. keshana, remain awake together. (Cf. keshia, n. and kesho, and syn. keti na macho, kaa macho.)
Kesha, n. night watch, vigil. Nna k. yangu usiku kuchwa, I have my watch all night long. Siku ya k. ya mwisho, the last night of a formal mourning (matanga). (Cf. keshia, v. kesho, and dist. keshia for kaisha, he has finished.)
Kesho, n. and adv., to-morrow, the next day, the day after. K. kuchwa, the day after to-morrow. K. yake, the following day. Kushinda kesho kuchwa, the third day (also called mtendo).
Kete, n. (1) a small kind of cowry. Also a game played with these shells. Meno kama k., teeth like cowries,—a point of beauty. (Cf. kauri.) (2) (ma-), a string (of beads, &c.). Two makele = one timba; ten makele = five timba = one fundo. (Cf. kata, n.)
Keti, v. (1) (in poct. keleti), sit down, take a seat; (2) dwell, live, remain, stay, reside. Tafsahali uketi, please take a seat (cf. kaa kikita, meaning strictly, squat in the native way). Ps. ketiwa. Ap. ket-ia, -iwa, e.g. kidude cha kukteta, something to sit upon. Cs. keti-sha, -shwa, e.g. cause to remain, keep, preserve. (Cf. kiti, and syn. kaa.)
Kh.- Many Swahili words are taken from Arabic originals beginning with the sound of Kh-. These will be found under H in this Dictionary, representing the simple aspirate to which they all become assimilated in proportion as they become naturalized among Africans. On the other hand, the Kh. sound is often more or less retained by persons imitating or influenced by Arabic pronunciation. Some of these words are:— khabari, khadaa, khadinu, khaful, khaini, khali, khamisi (and derivatives), khara, kharadali, khatar; khati, khatia, khatima, kazina, khema, kheri, khesa, khot, khofu, khubiri, khutuba.

*Khoja, n. a member of one of the two chief sects of Mahomedan Hindoos in Zanzibar, the other being Bohora, which see. (Hind.)
Ki, verb-form; (it) is, agreeing with D 3 (S), e.g. kiti hiti ki ghali, this chair is expensive.
Ki-, as an initial syllable, is in far the greater number of words a formative prefix, and one of the commonest formatives in the Swahili language,—so common that no attempt is made here to enumerate all the words beginning or regularly formed with ki-. Words not found under ki- may be looked for (1) under the letter immediately following ki-, or (2), under Ch-, since ki- usually (though not always) becomes ch- before a vowel (e.g. chungu for ki-ngu, but kiungo, not chungo), and moreover ki- in any word is often heard pronounced chi- among the lower classes in Zanzibar. Ki as a formative prefix is used (1) with verb-stems, to form verbal nouns denoting usually some concrete embodiment or special manifestation of the root-idea of a non-personal kind. (Contrast the characteristic use of u- in forming abstract, and of m- in forming personal derivative nouns.) When ki is prefixed, the verb-stem (a) may retain its final -a. In this case, which is not common, the verbal noun is often followed by another noun depending directly on it, e.g. kipo mkono, kifungua mlango (denoting presents given on special occasions), also kifa uwongo, and cf. kinyua, mouth, kidonda, kifaa. (b) Changes final a to o, si, zi, or is followed by -ji, e.g. kitendo, kifungo, kituo, kicheko, kiongozi, kikohosi, kinywaji, kipoji. Obs. also kiumbe, and chumb-ba. This form (ki- with a verbal root and termination -o) is not only common, but may practically be formed at pleasure from any suitable root. In some cases the word becomes specialized and limited in meaning (e.g. kifuo, a stake used for husking cocoanuts), but seldom loses altogether the power of including any of the following meanings,—act, process, time, place, method, instrument, instance or case, i.e. some particular embodiment of the idea conveyed by the root. Instances of all kinds follow in their place in the Dictionary, e.g. kiungo, limited to a kind of lamp-stand; kicho including a feeling of fear, and an object feared; kipendo, meaning love, but strictly loving in connexion with some occasion or particular case either of the feeling or of the object; kikao, kifungo, with a wide range of meanings. K-i- is also used with other than verb-roots with the same general (concrete non-personal) meaning, e.g. kitu as comp. with mtu, kivuli with mvuli and uwuli, and even with reference to persons in such words as kizee, kipofu, kiziwi, kibeti, but see below (3). (2) To form diminutives with noun-stems, and as such may be used before any suitable noun whatever, often displacing an initial m or n, e.g. kitoto, kipande, kisuli, and sometimes followed by a ji- or j-, especially with monosyllabic roots, e.g. kijiti, kijibwa, kijiji, kijana, kijimba, kijineno. Obs. that ki- may convey the idea, not only (a) of relative smallness, but (b) of relative unimportance, e.g. kishughuli, a small trifling business; of endearment, e.g. kipenzi, darling; and of secrecy or contempt, e.g. kishauri, a plot. kijuma, a secret (or private) messenger, kijitu, a mannkin. Obs. that relative degrees of size may be conveyed in the case of some words by placing them in different declensions, D 3, D 5, or D 6, e.g. kipete, a small ring; pete, a ring of ordinary size; pete (pl. mapete), a large ring. (3) With noun-stems and adjectives, to give them an ad-verbal use, and also a peculiar use as nouns, denoting the sort or kind which the noun itself expresses. E.g. amevaa kizungu, he is dressed in European fashion; aliilia kisimba, he roared like a lion; asema kigeni, he talks in a foreign way, like a stranger. Kaa kilako, sit on the haunches. Kiti cha kifalme, a royal throne. Mambo ya kisasa, modern ways. Vitu vya kikale, antiquated, old-fashioned things (but vitu vya kale, antiquities, ancient things). When used independently, this form often denotes the language of a place or country, e.g. kiyungu, the language of Zanzibar. To this use may also be referred words like kizee, kipofu, kilema, &c., commonly used of persons, but meaning 'one of the old generation, one of the blind sort,' &c., and perhaps kinyosi, kiongozi (see above (1)). K-i- is also used as follows:—(1) as the pfx. of all adjectives and verbs (both subjective and objective) corresponding to D 3 (S), e.g. kitu kiki changu kizuri chakipendensa kitoto kile, this pretty thing of mine pleases that little child. (2) In verbs, ki is (a) the characteristic of the Pres. Partic. corresponding to the Eng. Partic. in -ing, and may be translated according to the context by such words as, 'if, supposing, as, when, while, though, &c.' Obs. that niki- in this use is often contracted into hi, as nika into ha. (b) Sometimes inserted before the root in Past Tense to denote an imperfect, or continuing action or state, e.g. alipokisema, while he was still talking; alikingoja, he was waiting. (c) Sometimes used for ka as a connective particle in narrative. So strongly is the ki- sound identified with its use as a prefix in Swahili, that even when it belongs to the root, as esp. in words of Arabic origin, it is constantly treated as a pfx., and changed to vi- in the Plur. of such nouns, e.g. in the case of kitabu, kiasi, kilele, kiberiti, and others.

Ki, n. (via), door bar. (Cf. kiwi, pingo, komeo.) Also as vi, step over. (Seldom in Z. Cf. kiuka, chupa.)

Kiada, adv. in an orderly, distinct, intelligible way. Sema k., speak slowly and distinctly. Nieleze k., explain to me distinctly. (Ar.)

Kialio, n. (vi-) stick laid across the bottom of a cooking pot inside, to prevent what is cooked from being burnt. Dim. of walo, or perh. for kilalio. (Cf. ulalo, lala.)

Kiambaza, n. See Kiwambaza

Kianga, n. (vi-) and sometimes Kiangazi, a burst of sunshine, ray of light, reflected brightness, interval of brightness, or fine weather. (Cf.anga, mwanga, angalia, &c.)

Kiango, n. (vi-), a small suspended stand, carrier, or support (for a lamp, &c.). Dim. of mwango. (Cf.anga, angika, and chango, a peg.)

Kiapo, n. (vi-) an oath, an ordeal, a trial by oath or ordeal, a thing sworn by, or used in ordeal. Fanya (piga, shika) k., take an oath. Tilia (pigisha) k., administer an oath. Kula k., to submit to an ordeal. Kama husadiki, tule kiapo, if you do not believe, let us try ordeal. Viaapo thabiti, binding oaths. Peleka kiaapo, compel to swear, require to undergo an ordeal. Various kinds of ordeal are kiapo cha moto, cha mchezo, cha kibao, &c. (Cf. apa, nepo, apiza, also yamini, zuru.)

Kiaraibu, n. and adv., the Arabic language, something of the Arabic kind, in the Arab way. (Cf. Mwarabu, and ki-)

Kiiasi, n. (vi-) and adv., also

Kassi, (1) measure, quantity, amount (cf. kadiri, kipimo); (2) moderation, self-control, temperance (cf. kadiri, kujizuia); (3) a little, a small (moderate) amount (cf. kidogo); (4) the charge of a gun, cartridge. Common in inquiring price, K.gani? How much? What is the price? Mtu wa k., a temperate person, a man of moderation. Alimpa k., he gave him a little. As adv. of quantity, time, or space,—a little, e.g. new hili timeanza k., this business began some time ago. Alikwenda k., he went a little way. (Ar., the radical ki being treated as formative, as in kitabu, &c. See Ki, and cf. kidogo.)

Kiatu, n. (vi-) native shoe, sandal,—and used of any kind known in Z. K. cha ngozi, leather sandal, flat sole with cross strap and small thong (gridamu) between the toes. (Cf. kubasi.) K. cha mtii, a kind of wooden clog, worn indoors, and held on by a peg (msuruki) between the toes. Known as mtalawanda, from the wood used. K. cha kihindi (kizungu), Indian (European) shoe. Mshona viatu, or msioni wa viatu, a shoemaker.

Kiasi, n. (vi-) a sweet potatoe,—root of a kind of convolvulus. Different kinds are known as kiasi sena (white), k. kindoro (red). K. cha kizungu, the common (European) potatoe. K. kukua, yam,—also k. manga.

Kibaba, n. (vi-) (1) a common dry measure, about a pint basin full, or a pound and a half of grain. A kibaba is half a kisaga, and a quarter of a pishi. K. cha tele, a full, heaped up measure. *K. cha mfuto, a measure full to top only. (2) Dim. of baba.
*Kibakuli, n. (vi-), small basin. Also a kind of millet (mtama). (Ar. Cf. bakuli, and chungu.)
*Kibali, n. also Ikibali, Ukubali, acceptance, sanction, favour, assent. (Ar. Cf. kubali, and syn. urathi, ithini.).
Kibanda, n. (vi-), small hut, hovel, shed, workshop,—usu. covered, and open at the sides. Dim. of banda.
Kibano, n. (vi-), small forceps, split stick (for holding fish, &c. over a fire to roast). (Cf. follg.)
Kibanzi, n. (vi-) and Kibanji, splinter, chip. *K. cha ukuni chaliruka, a chip from the firewood flew up. *Kibansi vya shoka, chips made by an axe. (Cf. banzi, bana, kibano.)
Kibao, n. See Kibau.
Kibapara, n. (vi-), a pauper, destitute person. Used in contempt. (Cf. bupururu, an empty shell, and syn. maskini, fukara.)
Kibara, n. dim. of bara, a small wilderness, a small patch of waste land, &c. See Bara.
Kibarango, n. dim. of mbarango, a short thick stick, cudgel, club. Also of a stumpy, thick-set person. (Cf. bakora for different kinds of stick.)
*Kibaraza, n. small seat, bench. See Baraza.
*Kibarua, n. (vi-), (1) a small written note, letter, ticket. Hence commonly (2) a day labourer of any kind,—from the ticket on presentation of which each is paid. Dim. of barua, which see.
Kibata, n. dim. of (1) mbata, which see; (2) bata, i.e. a duckling.
Kibau, n. (vi-), a small board, shelf, &c. *K. cha kuezekea, roofing shingle. Dim. of ubau, which see.
Kibawa, n. (vi-), little wing, small feather, fin. Dim. of bawa, ubawa.
*Kiberiti, n. (vi-), sulphur, a match, a firework. *Washa kiberiti, strike a match. Rusha viberiti, let off fireworks. (Ar. Cf. fataki.)
Kibete, n. (vi-), undersized creature (man, beast, bird), a dwarf, a bantam, &c. (Cf. mbilikimo.)
Kibia, n. (vi-), a small cooking pot or pan, or its lid, an earthenware cover. Seldom in Z. (Cf. bia, and chungu.)
Kibibi, n. (1) dim. of bibi, a little lady; (2) cramp (cf. kiharust). *Mguu wangu umefanya kibibi, I have cramp in the leg. (3) A name for the peacock (tausi).
Kibindo, n. mode of securing the loincloth round the waist,—by crossing the two upper (opposite) corners, and folding them back under the cloth itself. This is described as piga (funga, kaza) kibindo. *Fusika kibindoni, tuck into the fold of the waistcloth. (Cf. kipindo, pinda, pindo, upindo, and dist. ubinda, uvinda.)
Kibinja, n. (vi-), a whistle (instrument). (Cf. tbinja.)
Kibiongo, n. (vi-), a person bent by age or infirmity, bowed, round-shouldered (Str.). (Cf.ongo, mao.)
*Kibla, n. north. See Kibula. (Ar. Cf. kabili.)
Kibobwe, n. (vi-), a broad strip of calico, wound tightly round the waist for support during work or exercise, esp. by women.
Kibofu, n. (vi-), a bladder.
Kibogoshi, n. (vi-), a small bag made of a skin, a leather bag, used to carry miscellaneous articles on a journey, money, powder, &c.
Kibogoyo, n. a person who is toothless, or has but few teeth. (Cf. jino.)
Kiboko, n. (vi-), a hippopotamus, also Boko. *Viboko vya shingo, small zigzag ornament embroidered in silk on a kanzu round the neck. See Kanzu.
Kibonde, n. (vi-), trench, deep furrow, hollow between ridges. Dim.
of bonde. Kibondebonde, uneven, undulating, rolling country.

Kibua, n. (vi-), a small kind of fish.

Kibula, n. also Kibula, and Kibla, Kebla, the direction of Mecca, the point to which Mahomedans turn in prayer,—in Zanzibar, the north. (Ar. Cf. kabiili, and kaskazi.)

Kibumba, n. (vi-), also Kipumba, small packet, parcel, bunch, lump, cluster, e.g. of earth, tobacco, thread, flour. Dim. of bumba. Also adv., in lumps, in bunches, &c.

Kibungu, n. (vi-), small earthenware dish. Dim. of bungu. See Chungu.

Kibunzi, n. (vi-), a sanded board, used for predicting future events. (Cf. raml.)

*Kibirii, n. pride, arrogance, conceit, haughtiness. Piga (fanya) k., show off, be ostentatious, play the grandee. Mtu asiye na k. na watu, one who does not treat people in a discourteous (contemptuous, off-hand) way. (Ar. Cf. takabari, and piga makuu, majivuno.)

Kibuyu, n. (vi-), (1) a small calabash, nut of the tree mbuyu, used as a jug or bucket. Dim. of buyu. (2) A kind of fish.

Kibuzi, n. (vi-), a small goat, kid. Dim. of mbuzi.

Kibwana, n. (vi-), young master. Dim. of bwana.

Kibwe, n. (vi-), small pebble. Dim. of mbwe. (Cf. kijwe.)

*Kibweta, n. (vi-), small box, small case, e.g. writing-desk, jewel-box, dressing-case. Dim. of bweta.

Kicha, n. (vi-), k. cha ukindu, a palm leaf as sold in bundles, before being slit into strips for plaiting. (Cf. chana, and ukindu.)

Kichaa, n. craziness, lunacy, madness. Ana k., he is crazy. Umasi-kini wake umentia k., his poverty has driven him mad. (Cf. syn. wazimu.)

Kichaka, n. (vi-), small clump of trees, thicket, clump (or, heap) of brushwood, bundle of sticks. Dim. of chaka.

Kichala, n. (vi-), bunch, cluster of fruit. K. cha mzaibibu, a bunch of grapes. (Cf. uchala, chana, tana.)

Kichalichali, adv. on the back,—of a supine position, i.e. mgongoni. See Chali.

Kichangam’ko, n. (vi-), display of gaiety, joyous outburst. (Cf. changam’ka.)

Kicheche, n. (vi-), dim. of cheche, which see.

Kichego, n. also Kigego and Kijego (which see).

Kicheko, n. (vi-), a laugh, smile, giggle, grin. (Cf. cheka, cheko.)

Kichembe, n. (vi-), (1) dim. of chembe, which see. Kichembe cha moyo, the pit of the stomach. Also (2) for kitembe, which see.

Kichikichi, n. (vi-), small nut or kernel contained in the fruit chikichi of the palm-oil tree (mekikichi).

Kichilema, n. (vi-), the heart of the growing part at the top of a cocoanut tree,—a soft nutty substance used as salad and also cooked. Called also moyo wa mnazi, kilele cha mnazi. See Mnazi.

Kichinjo, n. act (mode, operation, &c.) of slaughtering, or sacrificing an animal. Kichinjo cha Ibrahimu, Abraham’s sacrifice (of Isaac). (Cf. chinja, chinjo.)

Kicho, n. (vi-), cause (feeling, act) of fear, danger, alarm, show of fear. K. chake kikamponya, his panic saved him. (Cf. cha v., cha, uchaji. Dist. jicho.)

Kichocheo, n. (vi-), act, method, or instrument of stirring up, e.g. (1) a poker, making up a fire, stoking; (2) also fig. provocation, taunt, provocative speech, &c. (Cf. chocha, chochea, and follg.)
Kichocho, n. (vi-), sensation, excitement, stimulus. *Mwenyi k., in an excited state. (Cf. prec.)

Kichocho, n. (vi-), a narrow alley or passage between native huts as in Zanzibar city, leaving room all round for the projecting eaves and for scaffolding if necessary. (Cf. chochoro, mchomo.)

Kichomi, n. (vi-), stabbing pain, pricking sensation. (Cf. choma, and follig.)

Kichomo, n. (vi-), act (process, method, instrument, &c.) of stabbing, burning, &c. Used of cautery. (Cf. choma, mchomo, kichomi.)

Kichungu, n. bitter, of a bitter kind. Majani kichungu, bitter herbs. (Cf. -chungu, ubungu.)

Kichupa, n. (vi-) also Kitupa, small bottle, phial, flask. Dim. of chupa.

Kichwa, n. (vi-), also but less commonly in Z., heard as kitwa, (1) the head; (2) the upper part, top; (3) principal thing, important part or person, prime mover, leader, author, beginning, chief point, source; (4) anything resembling a head; (5) pain in the head; (6) obstinacy, pride, headiness. K. wazi, bare head, bare headed. Una k.? tufunje ngomba, Have you a headache? let us apply a banana leaf. Kwana k., kujanya k., to be headstrong (presumptuous, refractory). K. kikubwa, big head, swelled head, pride, arrogance, obstinacy. Jipa k., pata k., be proud, &c. Mwenyi k., a proud, obstinate person. Kwa k. kikubwa, in a presumptuous, headstrong way. Kichwa kichwa, topsy turvy, upside down.

Kichwa-ngomba, n. (vi-), turning head over heels, a somersault. (Cf. prec.)

Kidaka, n. (vi-), (1) a cocoanut in the first stage of growth on the flower stem, before it becomes Kitale (see Nazi); (2) a recess in the wall of a house, a niche, cupboard (cf. kishubaka); (3) of the uvula,—called kidaka tonge. (Cf. daka, and similar name kinwua mchuzi, imperial.)

*Kidamu, n. front part of vessel, bow,—but more usual omo, gubeti, which see. — v. go before, go in front. (Ar. Cf. takadamu, kadamu.)

Kidanga, n. (vi-) and a., of fruit in a very early stage of formation, before it is even changa, e.g. limau kidanga, embe k.

Kidani, n. (vi-), a neck ornament, necklace, collar of gold or silver,—often chainwork, with large open links. (Cf. mkufu, and urembo.)

Kidari, n. (vi-), breast, chest,—of men and animals. (Cf. kifia, of man only.)

Kidau, n. (vi-), (1) a small kind of native boat (see Dau); (2) a small containing-vessel, pot, e.g. kidau cha wino, an ink-pot. (Also kidawa from Arab. dawat, ink-stand. Cf. dawati, and follig.)

*Kidawati, n. small box of writing materials, writing case. Dim. of dawati (which see, and prec.). (Ar.)

Kidemu, n. (vi-), chin. Ndevu samwota kidemuni, a beard is growing on his chin. (Cf. udevu, and ?-refu.)

Kidimbwi, n. (vi-) also Kidumbwi, small pool, puddle, e.g. on the shore at low water.

Kidinga, n. Kidinga popo, dengue fever. (Cf. homa.)

Kidogo, from -dogo, which see. Very common as (1) n. a small piece, a morsel, a bit, a little. Nipe k. cha mkate, give me a morsel of bread. (2) adv. a little, in a small degree, on a small scale, moderately, not much, and of time ' presently, soon.' Alisanya nguvu kidogo, he exerted himself slightly. (3) a. in a small degree, in a small quantity, a few, a little, e.g. watu kidogo, a few people. Mchete kidogo, a little rice.

Kidoko, n. (vi-), also Kidokezi, (1) a click, smack. Piga k., give a click with the tongue, smack the lips.
(2) A hint, sign, secret suggestion.
(Cf. dokeza.)

Kidole, n. (vi-), one of the extremities of the hand or foot, a finger, a toe. Distinguished as k. cha mgui, a toe, and k. cha mkono, a finger; and these further as k. cha gumba, thumb; k. cha shahada, fore-finger; k. cha kati or kikubwa, middle finger; k. cha kati ya kando, fourth finger; k. cha mwisho, little finger. (Cf. dole, udole, rarely used in Z.)

Kidomo, n. (vi-), dim. of mdomo, (1) a little lip (beak, mouth); (2) daintiness in food. Yuna kidomo, he is dainty.

Kidonda, n. (vi-), dim. of donda, a small wound, sore, ulcer, breaking out. (Cf. donda, ? dondoa.)

Kidonge, n. (vi- and Kitonge, a small round mass, a small lump, a little ball, a small mouthful (of food). K. cha uzi, a ball of cotton. K. cha dawa, a pill. Dim. of donge. (Cf. donge, tongo.)

Kidoto, n. (vi-), blinker,—a small patch or bandage of cloth, fastened over a camel's eyes while working a mill. Fungu vidoto, blindfold. (Cf. kijamanda.)

Kidude, n. (vi-), dim. of dude (which see), a little what-do-you-call-it, a nondescript thing. Kidude gani hiki? What sort of a thing do you call this?

Kidudu, n. (vi-), dim. of mdudu (which see), a small insect.

Kidugu, n. and adv. (1) dim. of ndugu, little brother (cf. kidubi and mbusi, kigao and ng'ao); (2) in a fraternal way, like brothers. Kupendana kidugu, to love as brothers.

Kielezo, n. (vi-), act (process, manner, means) of showing or explaining, explanation, pattern, model, illustration, comment. Fiuasa k., copy a pattern. Dim. of elezo. (Cf. elezo, chelezo, elea.)

Kiembe, n. (vi-), arrow,—not often in Z. (Cf. chembe and note, and syn. mshale.)

Kiemdeleo, n. (vi-), making a forward movement, progress, process. (Cf. enda, endelea, &c.)

Kieneo, n. (vi-), extending, extent, extension. (Cf. enea, eneo.)

Kienezo, n. (vi-), something to measure with, &c. See Chenezo.

Kiene, n. (vi-), dim. of mvunge, small torch, kindlings, any small thing burning or to burn.

Kifaa, n. (vi-), a useful thing, a thing for use, personal belongings, household necessaries, utensil. (Cf. faa, v., and faa, mafaa, also riziki, vyombo, pambo.)

Kifafa, n. fits, convulsions, epilepsy. (Perh. cf. -fa, kifa, i.e. a sort of dying.)

Kifalme, n. and adv. also Kifaume, (1) (vi-), dim. of mfalme, a petty king; (2) royal state, of a royal sort, e.g. kiti cha k., nguo za k., a royal seat, royal robes; (3) in a royal way, as a king.

Kifani, n. (vi-), and Kifano, a similar thing, that which matches, a fellow, a parallel, a match, an equal. Haina kifani, it is unique, it is unequalled. (Cf. mfano, fanana.)

Kifaranga, n. (vi-), young bird, chick, chicken. (Cf. syn. kinda, kidege, mtoto.)

Kifaro, n. (vi-), a rhinoceros,—faro being seldom heard. Also (1) a stick of thick hide, used to beat slaves with, and (2) a blow with such a stick, e.g. ntamia vifaro sita, I will give him six cuts. (Cf. kiboko.)

Kifaume, n. (see Kifalme), royal state, regal dignity, &c. Figa k., play the king.

Kificho, n. (vi-), act (process, manner, place, &c.) of hiding, place of concealment, a stealthy (underhand) manner. Kwa kificho, in a secret way. Mambo ya kifichoficho, intriguing, underhand ways. (Cf. ficha, ficho, and syn. setiri, siri.)

*Kifidio, n. (vi-), ransom, fine, redemption money. (Cf. fuli, fidia, and dia, ukombosi.)

Kifiko, n. act (time, manner, place, circumstances, &c.) of arriving, arrival, point arrived at, stage of journey, destination. (Cf. fika.)

Kifo, n. (vi-), act (circumstances, place, manner, &c.) of dying, death. Hawakuna k. chake alikofia, they did not see where his death took place. (Cf. fa-, fu, kifa, kifafa, a thing dying, kifu, a dead thing, ufufu, the state of being dead, and syn. mautil.)

*Kifu, v. be sufficient (for), suffice, satisfy. Wanne hawakufiku, four were not enough. Ap. kif-ia-, tawa, e.g. amenikifia haja yangu, he satisfied my wish. — n. a sufficient quantity, a full amount, abundance. (Ar. Cf. syn. tosha, rithisha.)

Kifu, n. and adv. (1) (vi-), a dead thing; (2) as if dead. (Cf. fa and syn. mautil.)

Kifua, n. (vi-), (1) breast, bosom, chest, pulmonary region,—usu. of man only (cf. kidari); (2) any chest affection, cough, consumption, plenisy, pneumonia, Hawesi kifu, he has a chest complaint. (3) A small round wooden platter,—used like chano for washing things on, and other purposes. (Cf. fua, beat, thump, and mafua, pafu.)

Kifudifudi, adv. on the face, face downwards,—of position. (Cf. fudifudi, fudikiza, kifulifuli, and contr. kitanitani, kichalichali.)

Kifuko, n. (vi-), dim. of mfuuko, fuko (which see), small bag, pocket, purse.

Kifulifuli, adv. on the face, face downwards. (Cf. kifudifudi.)

Kifumba, n. (vi-), dim. of fumba (which see), a matting bag, sleeping sack. (Cf. follg.)

Kifumbu, n. (vi-), small round basket or bag used for squeezing grated cocoanut in, and strain out the juice (tui), a strainer. (Cf. fumba, kifumba, &c.)

Kifundo, n. (vi-), (1) a knot. Piga k. cha nguo, make a knot of a piece of calico, tie up in one's clothes. (2) Protuberance, joint,—as resembling a knot. K. cha ngwu, the ankle. K. cha mkono, the wrist. Mwili wa kifundo kifundo, i.e. with small knot-like swellings on the body. (Cf. fundo, fundua, and perh. funda, and for ankle, wrist, kiviko.)

Kifungo, n. (vi-), a fastening, act (process, method, &c.) of fastening, something which fastens. Hence a wide variety of meanings (see Funga), defined by the context, or by another word, e.g. (1) button, stud, brooch, buckle, clasp, chain, cord, or other contrivance for fastening; (2) prison, place of confinement, whether chain (minyororo), fetters (pingu), stocks (inkatule), enclosure or cell. Peleka kifungoni, send to prison. (3) fig. bond, charter, that which binds (seals, cements, &c.), e.g. Mahomet is called k. cha dimi, i.e. the force which holds religion together, the corner stone of the faith. Kifungo may also mean (4) a puzzle, a poser, a dilemma; (5) an act of fasting, &c.; (6) bondage, slavery. (Cf. funga, and for binding materials kamba.)

Kifungu, n. (vi-), dim. of fungu, a small heap (portion, part, &c.). (Cf. funga.)

Kifungua, n. (vi-), an opener, an unfastener. A verbal noun governing the word following, e.g. k. kopo, a tin-opener. K. mlango, a present for opening a door. K. kinwa, breakfast. (Cf. funga, fungua, mfunguo, and follg.)

Kifunguo, n. (vi-), dim. of ufunguo, a small key (cf. prec.). Also of a private key, a thief's key, skeleton key (for which special meaning, see K1).
KIFUNIKO

Kifuniko, n. (vi-), anything which covers, (1) top, lid, cover, case, &c.; (2) fig. concealment, hiding. K. cha siri, concealment of a mystery. (Cf. funika.)

Kifunuo, n. (vi-), unfolding, uncovering, revealing, &c., that which unfolds, reveals, &c. (Cf. funua.)

Kifuo; n. a stake fixed in the ground with a pointed end for ripping off the husk of cocoanuts. Also dim. of mfuwo, a small groove (line, mark, &c.). (Cf. fua, ufuo, ufuko.)

Kifupa, n. (vi-), dim. of fupa, a small bone.

Kifupi, adv. and n. of a short, abbreviated kind, in a brief way, a short piece. (Cf. -fupi.)

Kifurushi, n. (vi-), dim of furushi, a small parcel, packet, bundle.

Kifusi, n. rubbish, and esp. of old materials fit for further use, old stones and mortar, &c.,—not used like mave in contempt. (Cf. fusia.)

Kifuu, n. (vi-), (1) an empty cocoanut shell; also (2) a cuttle-fish bone, i.e. kifu cha ngizi. (Cf. fusu, and usfu.)

Kifya, n. (vi-), dim. form of jifya, which see.

Kigae, n. (vi-), piece of broken pottery, earthenware, china, glass, &c., potsherd. K. cha paa, used of a roofing tile. (Cf. gae.)

Kigaga, n. (vi-), dry hard scale, scurf, scab. &c. (Cf. kikoko, ukoko.)

Kiganda, n. (vi-), dim. of ganda. K. cha mkate, outside crust of bread (opp. to nyama, the crumb.)

Kigawanyo, n. that which divides, a divisor, distribution, division. So kigawanyiko, that which is divided or distributed, share, dividend. (Cf. gawa, gawaya.)

Kigogo, n. See Kijogo.

Kigolego, n. (vi-), a peculiar high-pitched trill, shrill scream,—used by women esp. as a sign of joy or triumph, welcome on return, at a birth, &c. (Cf. kelele, and shangwe.)

KIFUNIKO

Kigereng'enza, n. (vi-), a very small splinter, broken piece, fragment, chip. (Cf. kigae.)

Kigeugeu, n. a. and adv., changeable, fickle, unstable, wayward thing or person, of a changeable kind, in an uncertain fluctuating way. (Cf. geuka.)

Kigoe, n. (vi-), instrument for extraction, hooked stick, small hook, crook, claw. (Cf. ng'oa, ugoe.)

Kigogo, n. (vi-), dim. of gogo, a small log, a block of wood, a lump. Also adv. lala k., sleep like a log.

Kigogota, n. (vi-), a woodpecker. (Cf. gogota.)

Kigoli, n. (vi-), a girl,—of one just growing up, almost marriageable, between mtoto and mwali. Not often heard in Z.

Kigomba, n. (vi-), dim. of momba, small banana plant, banana shoot.

Kigongo, n. (vi-), dim. of mgongo and gongo, (1) small club, cudgel; (2) hump, hunch, ridge, projection. Hence kigongo, or mwenyi kigongo, a hunchback, a deformed person.

Kigongo cha mlima, mountain ridge.

(3) A seam,—in sewing.

Kigosho, n. (vi-), bend, crook, curve, esp. when abnormal, a deformity. Nimetekeleka moto nikafanya k. cha mkono, I burn myself, and got a bent arm. Mtu mwenyi k. (cha mgungu), a knock-kneed man.

Fimbo hii ina k., this stick has a crook in it. (Cf. kombo, kikombo, kipindi.)

*Kiguba, n. (vi-), dim. of guba (which see), a small bunch of aromatic leaves, containing often rihani (sweet basil) sprinkled with dalia (a fragrant powder), and tied with a strip of mkadi leaf, i.e. from the pandanus tree (Str.).

Kigudulia, n. (vi-), dim. of gudulia, a small jar or pitcher, small water cooler of porous earthenware.

Kigugu, n. and adv. (1) a small weed or wild plant (cf. gunu); (2) like Kitani, the purpose, the palpitation confused, see native prop; worked Hindoo by also one for village, or weeds, vated or maneno ya kigumumizi. (Cf. gumaniza.)

Kigunda, n. (vi-), dim. of gunda, horn, war-horn.

Kiguni, n. (vi-), dim. of guni, a small strong matting bag, often used for bringing dates to Z.

Kigutu, n. (vi-), stump of a tree, also of a human limb, injured or deformed. (Cf. kikono, kigum.)

Kiguu, n. (vi-), dim. of nguu, (1) a leg or foot disabled or shortened by injury or disease, &c., a stump, a clubfoot; (2) a person so disabled or disfigured, one who is lame, crippled, unable to walk; (3) anything like a leg or leg-shaped, e.g. one of four 'little feet', or projections worked on either side of the mjusi (lizard-ornament) on the front of a native kanzu,—also called kipaji. See Kanzu. (Kijiguu is also dim. of nguu.)

Kiguzo, n. (vi-), dim. of nguso, (1) small post, pillar, stake, palisade, prop; (2) anything serving a similar purpose, literally or fig.—support, prop, comfort, assurance, &c.

Kigwe, n. (vi-), dim. of ugwe, small cord, string, braid, piping on the edge of a dress, a rein. (Cf. kitani, uzi, kamba.)

Kihame, n. (vi-), a deserted house (village, district). (Cf. hama, ma-hame, e being a passive termination.)

Kiherehere, n. (1) palpitation, confused movement, e.g. k. cha moyo, palpitation of the heart; (2) trepidation, bustle, anxiety.

*Kihindi, n. and adv. (1) the Hindoo language, Hindostani; (2) of the Hindoo kind. -a kihindi, Indian. (Cf. Mhindi.)

Kihori, n. (vi-), dim. of hori, (1) small gulf, inlet; (2) small (Indian) canoe.

Kinamizi, n. bending, stooping down,—as for work. Nyama ya k., i.e. a butcher’s perquisite of meat. (Cf. inama, jinamizi.)

Kini, n. (vi-), innermost part of a thing, and so (1) kernel or stone of fruit, e.g. the inner part of a clove (garafuen), when the outer skin is removed after soaking in water; (2) the yolk of an egg, kiini cha yai; (3) the heart or hard core of a tree,—called also moyo wa nti, esp. if soft, nutty, or pithy; (4) pupil of the eye, cf. mboni. (Cf. ini, and syn. moyo.)

Kini-macho, n. (vi-), also Mk., a conjurer, a conjurer’s trick, sleight of hand, juggling. Distinguished from uganga, e.g. huyu si mganga, ni k., this man is not a real medicine man, but a juggler. Mganga amefanya k., the medicine man used a juggler’s trick. (Perh. cf. prec., also inika for root, and jicho.)

Kinua, n. that which raises up,—verbal governing a word following, e.g. kiinua mgongo, that which raises the back, gratuity to one who has been bending over his work. (Cf. kinyosha mgongo, and ki.)

Kiisha, adv. for Ikiisha, also Kiisha, this ended, afterwards, next, moreover, and besides, in fine, finally. Huyu ni mbaya k. mchawi, this man is a scoundrel and moreover a wizard. (From iisha, v. Cf. mwisho, hatima, badaa.)

Kiitiko, n. (vi-), and Kiitikio, response, musical refrain. (Cf. ita, v.)

Kijakazi, n. (vi-), a young slave girl, a poor slave woman. (Cf. nyakazi, and mtumwa.)

Kijaluba, n. (vi-), small narrow metal box, often used for aromatic substances, and carried on the breast by women.

Kijamanda, n. (vi-), small box or basket of thick stiff plaited work, made of leaf-strips dyed various colours. Many come from Madagascar. (2) A small basket-work blinker, or cover fastened over the eyes of a camel while at work. (Cf. kidoto and kinga.)

Kijamba, n. (vi-), a small rock. Dim. of mwamba, which see.

Kijana, n. (vi-), dim. of mwana, meaning generally, a young person male or female, but also with special meanings, as youthfulness is viewed in reference to (1) age, (2) relationship, (3) physical development, (4) social position. (1) As to age, the kijana has ceased to be an mto mchanga, and is not yet mtu mzima, though still an mto. Mto akitapa miaka saba, amekuka k. mwenyi akili, when a child is seven years old, he is a kijana and comes to years of discretion. Amekuka k., aweza kusema, he is a kijana, he can speak for himself. Weve k., sisi watu wasima, you are a kijana, we are grown-up people. (2) As to relationship, kijana means merely son or daughter. Wakaamba kwa Mungu kijana k., and they prayed to God that they might have offspring (a child). K. cha Sultan, the Sultan’s son. (3) As to physical development, k. means any one in full vigour and capable of bearing arms, i.e. from boyhood till past the prime of life, as contr. with mto on one side, and mzeo on the other, and practically synonymous with mzima. (4) As to social relations, k. means a dependent, servant, slave. It is also used of the ‘master of the house’ with reference to his own property (cf. use of mwana for ‘mistress of the house,’ i.e. perhaps heir of the house and so rightful owner). (Cf. mwana, jana, bwana.)

Kijego, n. (vi-), also Kiehego, a child which develops its upper teeth first, and therefore considered unlucky, and often exposed or put to death by the relations. Alikuwa k., alitangulisa kuota mmo ya juu, he was an unlucky child, his upper teeth grew first. (Cf. chego, and jino, also syn. timvi, timfi.)

Kijembe, n. (vi-), dim. of jembe, (1) small cutting instrument, penknife, lancet (cf. kijisu, and jembe, kiembe); (2) fig. of cutting, sarcastic, ironical language, i.e. maneno ya kijembe, sema kijembe.

Kija, n. (vi-), also Kinjia, dim. of nyia, little path, track, &c. (Cf. njia.)

Kijiboko, n. (vi-), dim. of kiboko (boko being seldom heard in Z.), a small hippopotamus.

Kijicho, n. (vi-), dim. of jicho, (1) sly (sidelong, envious, malignant, evil) glance; (2) envy, malice, ill will. Fanya k., be envious, be jealous. Yuna k. rohoni, he feels envious, he is jealous. Hana k. nave, he bears you no malice. Wangariza wana vijicho sana, their eyes glare with envy and hate. (Cf. uwivu, hasidi, roho, tamaa.)

Kijichwa, n. (vi-), dim. of kichwa, a small head.

Kijiguu, n. (vi-), dim. of mguu, a small foot. (Dist. kiguu.)

Kijiji, n. (vi-), dim. of mjii, a small town, village, hamlet. (Cf. syn. kitongoji.)

Kijike, n. (vi-), a young female, human or other. (Cf. -ke, and jike.)

Kijiko, n. (vi-), dim. of mwiko, (1) a small spoon; (2) a small stove, or fire-place. (Cf. jiko.)

Kijineno, n. (vi-), dim. of neno, a silly little speech, child’s prattle.

KKijiri, n. (vi-), also Chichiri, a bribe, hush-money. (? Ar. Cf. ijara, ajiri, and syn. mingula, rushwa.)

Kijiti, n. (vi-), dim. of mti, a small tree, bush, shrub, small pole, piece of wood, peg, stick. (Cf. mti, and dist. kiti, a seat.)

Kijito, n. (vi-), dim. of mto, small river, brook, stream, rivulet.
Kijitu, n. (vi-), dim. of mtu, a little man. Also in contempt, mannikin, or in disgust, e.g. Ewe kijitu kiovu, Oh you wicked wretch. (Cf. mtu, jitu, and dist. kitu, a thing.)

Kijivi, n. (vi-), n. and adv., a thievish person, thief, brigand; and, in a thievish (sneaking, underhand) way. (Cf. mwivvi, iba, and jivi.)

Kijiwe, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of jiwe, a small stone, like a stone.

Kijogoo, n. (vi-), dim. of jogoo, (1) a small cock, a bantam cock; (2) a kind of shell-fish (Str.).

Kijoli, n. (vi-), set of slaves belonging to one master, establishment, domestic staff, domestics as a body. (Cf. mjoli, ujoli, and mtumwa.)

Kijombo, n. (vi-), dim. of chombo, a small sailing ship, a small vessel. (For ki-ji-ombo, chombo being for kiombo.)

Kijongo, n. (vi-), a hump-backed person, &c., like kigongo. (For ki-ji-ongo. Cf. jongo, mgongo, kigongo, kibongo.)

Kijoyo, n. (vi-), dim. like kimoyo, small heart, slight inclination, hankering. (For ki-ji-oyo, kimoyo. Cf. moyo with plnr. miyo, and nyoyo, indicating a form moyo for moyo.)

Kijukuu, n. (vi-), great-grandchild, dim. of mjukuu, which see.

Kijumba, n. (vi-), a small house, dim. of jumba. (For ki-ji-umba. Cf. jumba, nyumba, chumba, i.e. kiumba, kinyumba.)

Kijumbe, n. (vi-), a special or secret messenger, a go-between, a matchmaker. (Cf. njumbe, jumbe, -e being a passive termination. Cf. mtume.)

Kijungu, n. (vi-), a small cooking pot. (For ki-ji-ungu. Cf. jungu, chungu, &c.)

Kijusi, n. (vi-), an act (case, instance, &c.) of defilement, a particular (legal, ceremonial, physical) impurity. (Cf. -usi, ujusi.)
KIKARIRI

*Kikariri, n. and adv., repetition, repeated action, saying over and over again, repeatedly. (Cf. kariri, and for adv. marra kwa marra, marra nyingi, tena na tena.)

*Kikasiki, n. (vi-), dim. of kasiki, small pitcher.

Kikawe, n. (vi-), a very tiny stone. (Cf. kijiuwe, jiwe, kawe, mbwe.)

Kikaza, n. (vi-), a thing which tightens, strengthens, holds together, but esp. of a board, pole, or beam over a window or doorway. (Cf. kaza, kazo.)

Kike, n. and adv. (seldom vike in plur., for usual -a kike, or vijike), a female of any kind, anything of feminine style, womanly behaviour (usually meaning weakness, timidity, foolishness), like a woman, in a feminine way, e.g. watoto wa k., girls. Mtu wa k., a womanish, weak, unmanly person. Fanya k., act like a woman. Sauti ya k., a shrill, treble voice. — a. from -ke, agreeing with D 3 (S), e.g. kijana kike, a young woman. (Cf. -ke, jike, kuke, uke, kijike, and contr. -ume, kiume.)

Kikebe, n. (vi-), dim. of mkebe, small pot, mug, canister.

Kikeukoe, n. convulsive sobbing, hiccups. (Cf. kekevu, and kwikwi.)

Kikingo, n. (vi-), something to parry or defend oneself with, means of warding off, screen, defence, fendcr. (Cf. kinga, ukingo.)

Kikisa, v. speak in a hesitating, confused, broken way, be unintelligible or half-understood, puzzle, mystify. Sema kwa kukikisa, talk in a faltering uncertain way. Maneno yake yamenkikisa, he cannot get out his words clearly. Jambo hili lakikisa, this business is difficult, hard to get at. (Cf. kigugumizi, gugumiza, gota, goteza.)

Kiko, n. (vi-), tobacco pipe—of the sort common in Z., consisting of the kiko proper, i.e. a coconut shell partly filled with water, and two tubes of wood or reed (digali, nda-kali), one leading from the bowl (bori) holding tobacco (tumbako) into the water, the other (shilamu) from the kiko to the mouthpiece through which the smoke is drawn. The bubbling of the water is called malio ya kiko. Other simpler pipes consist of a hollow reed and earthenware bowl only, e.g. tosa.

Kiko, verb-form, (it) is there,—agreeing with D 3 (S),—the pf. ki and locative -ko, which see.

Kikoa, n. (vi-), (1) a meal eaten in common, provided by each of those who join in it by turns, a common table, a mess, boarding together. Kula k., to have meals in common, also kula chakula cha shirika, as is done when food is scarce, weather unseasonable, &c. Watu wala kikoa majira ya masika, people mess together during the rainy season. Leo k. changa, it is my turn to provide the meal to-day. Nikila k., ntitapa nini mkata mmo? If I join the mess, how shall I pay when I have not a penny? (Contra. kula bia, where each person provides a share at each meal.) (2) dim. of koa, small flat ring or band of metal,—used of the ornamentation of scabbards, also of anklets and bracelets. (Cf. koa, ukoa, and pete, kikuku.)

Kikofl, n. (vi-), the inside of the hand, what would lie on the upturned hand, a handful. (Cf. kofi, ukofi, also chopca, konsi.)

Kikohazi, n. (vi-), a cough, fit of coughing,—also of consumption, phthisis. (Cf. koho, ukohazi, kohoo.)

Kikoi, n. (vi-), white calico with coloured borders in cotton silk or both,—used for loincloths in great variety under many names. K. cha Ulaya, bordered shirtings,—in trade.

Kikoka, n. (vi-), blade or shoot of a grass used as forage. See Ukoka.

Kikoko, n. (vi-), dim. of koko, mkoko, and ukoko (which see), a bit of hard, dried stuff, and so of a scab, or scurf. (Cf. kigaga.)
Kikomba, n. (1) njaa ya kikomba, or ya kikomba, ravenous hunger, that makes a man scrape up and sweep off everything (cf. komba). Also kikomba cha njaa, i.e. makazo ya njaa, intense hunger. (2) Dim. of komba, a small galago.

Kikombe, n. (vi-), dim. of kombe, a small dish, used commonly of a cup or basin, or mug of any material, k. cha chai, tea-cup. K. cha bilauri, tumbler, wine-glass, also k. cha nuru, i.e. transparent, bright, polished. K. cha feiha, silver goblet. (Cf. komba, kombe, i.e. a vessel scraped or hollowed out, -e being a passive termination, also kopo, kikopo, and for such vessels generally chombo.)

Kikombo, n. and adv., a small crooked, hook-shaped, or curved thing, e.g. a small curved gouge-shaped tool; also, a small bend, curve, irregularity, deflection, defect, fault, flaw. As adv., in a crooked, irregular way. (Cf. komba, v., kombe, ukombo, and syn. pindo, nzingo, tao.)

Kikomo, n. (vi-), (1) stop, stopping, stoppage, place or time of stopping, cessation, end; (2) k. cha uso, forehead, brow, i.e. uso ulipo-koma, pasipomea nyele, mbele ya uso, juu ya macho, where the face ends, the hairless part in front over the eyes. (Cf. koma, ukomo, &c., and syn. mwisho, kusimama.)

Kikondoo, n. and adv. (1) a small sheep, lamb; (2) like a sheep, unresistingly, meekly, calmly. Kufa kikondoo ndiko kufa kiungwana, to die like a sheep is to die like a hero. (Cf. kondoo.)

Kikongwe, n. (vi-), a person bent and bowed with age, a very old person, esp. (like kizee) an old woman. Sometimes used, as intensive and descriptive, with kizee. (Cf. konga, kongwe, kongwa, and kibiongo.)

Kikono, n. (vi-), dim. of mkono, (1) small arm or hand, short or defective arm, stump of the arm, e.g. ana k.,

she has lost a hand (arm) (cf. kiguu); (2) anything resembling a small hand, e.g. projecting prow of a vessel, guard of a sword-handle, small stalk or tendril of plants and flowers, tentacle or feeler of fish or insect.

Kikonyo, n. (vi-), like kikono, e.g. of a stalk, vikonyo vya garafuu, clove-stalks.

Kikope, n. (vi-), eyelid. (Cf. ukope, kope, kopesa.)

Kikopo, n. (vi-), dim. of kopo, small vessel, pot, jug, mug, esp. of metal. Used of spouts for carrying off water from a roof, &c.

Kikorombwe, n. (vi-), signal cry, call,—made by blowing into the hand or through the fingers.

Kikosi, n. (vi-), (1) the back of the neck, nape, i.e. nyumaya shingo, below the kishogo, nape, and kogo, back of the head; (2) also kikosi, company, band, troop, esp. of soldiers or armed men. (Cf. ukosi.)

Kikotama, n. (vi-), dim. of kotama, small curved knife, garden- or pruning-knife. (Cf. shembea, and for knives generally kisu.)

Kikoto, n. (vi-), and Chikoto, (1) a whip of plaited grass, leaf-strips, or bark fibre, used by schoolmasters, overseers, &c. (cf. mjelde); (2) plait of hair. Piga (songa) vi-koto, plait.

Kikozzi, n. (vi-), and Kikosi, company, band, troop, esp. of soldiers or armed men. (Cf. jeshi.)

Kikuba, n. (vi-), (1) see Kiguba; (2) dim. of kuba, small vault, dome, cupola, arched roof. Also as adv., like a dome, &c.

Kikuchya, n. (vi-), also Kikuchya, Kikuchia, dim. of ukucha, a bit of the nail, a little projection of the nail, nail-paring.

Kikuku, n. (vi-), (1) ring, usually of metal, worn on arm or wrist, armblet, bracelet. Also used of an anklet of same kind. K. cha kupandia frasi, a stirrup. K. cha pingu, a handcuff. (Cf. furungu, banagiri, Kikukuu, n. and adv., a thing old, worn out, past work, useless. -a kikukuu, worn out. See -Kukuu.

Kikulia, n. (vi-), a thing or person that has grown up at a place,—not born at a place, which is kizala. (From ki and Ap. form of kua, kula. Cf. kimicla.)

Kikumbatio, n. (vi-), embrace. (Cf. kumba, and syn. ambiso.)

Kikumbo, n. (vi-), thrust, shove, jostling. Piga k., thrust away, shove aside, push by, nudge with the elbow. Pigania vikumbo, of rough hustling, horseplay. (Cf. kumba, and songa.)

Kikundi, n. (vi-), dim. of kundi, small company, group, knot, herd. (Cf. kikosi.)

Kikundu, n. (vi-), rump, dim. of mkundu.

Kikungu, n. (vi-), dim. of mkunga, small earthenware cooking pot, also the lid of such a pot. (Cf. chombo, chungu.)

Kikuta, n. (vi-), dim. of ukuta, small stone wall, parapet, masonry, partition.

Kikutu, n. (vi-), dim. of kuti, the tip of a cocoanut leaf, i.e. ncha ya kuti. See Kutu. (2) Chance, hap, luck, an incident, event, accident, occurrence. Kikutu chema, a happy chance. (Cf. kuta, v., and syn. tuko, nasibu, bahati.)

Kikwapa, n. (vi-), (1) armpit. Also various things connected with, or resembling the armpit; (2) the smell of the armpit; (3) the perspiration of the armpit; (4) the gore of a native dress (kansu) under the armpit. Hence kisibana cha k., an armpit tunic, i.e. sleeveless, stopping at the armpit. Kikwapa cha tanga, part of a sail.

Kikwata, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of kwata, small hoof, damaged or maimed hoof. As adv. colloquially 'on foot.' Enda k., go on foot. Sawai k., a journey on foot, i.e. kwa miguu.

Kilalo, n. (vi-), (1) camping- or sleeping-place on a journey (cf. kituo, kambiti); (2) a sleeping-shelter, e.g. a few sticks resting on forked uprights, and carrying some grass as a covering. (Cf. laula, ulala.)

Kilango, n. (vi-), dim. of mlango, a small door, narrow entrance, small opening, pass, strait. K. cha bahari, a strait. K. cha jaha, the strait gate of Paradise.

Kile, a. dem. that,—agreeing with D 3 (S). (Also Imperat. form of -la, e.g. kiloto kale kikilile kileji, let that little child eat that cake.)

Kileji, n. (vi-); a round flat wheaten cake (Str.).

Kilele, n. (vi-), top, point, peak, pointed end, pinnacle, e.g. k. cha mlima, the top of the mountain. Also of plants and trees, k. cha mnazi kikanchana, the shoot of the cocoanut blossomed. (Dist. kelele.)

Kilema, n. (vi-), (1) a deformity, defect, blemish; (2) a deformed or disfigured person. Sivema kucheka k., it is not well to mock at deformity. K. wa jicho, a one-eyed man, i.e. chongo. (Cf. kivete, kiziwi, kipofu, kibiongo, &c.)

Kilemba, n. (vi-), (1) a cloth worn as a wrapper round the head, a turban,—the style of folding and wearing being according to the rank, dignity, &c. of the wearer, often of silk, and costly. Piga k., wear a turban. (2) fig. gratuity at the end of a job, apprenticeship, course of teaching, &c. (cf. ada, bakshishi, ufito). (3) Crest, e.g. k. cha jogoo, cock's comb. (Cf. shungi, kishungi.)

Kilembwe, n. (vi-), great-great-grandchild. (Cf. kiningina, kiku, mjuku.)

Kiloo, n. (vi-), (1) state or case of intoxication, staggering, reeling, &c.; (2) anything intoxicating or narcotic, e.g. pombe, mwinyo, tembo, hangi, kasumba, &c. K. kimempata, he is under the influence of liquor. (Cf. ulevi, levya.

Kilette, n. (vi-) (1) metal row-lock, crutch, for an oar (Cf. kiswara); (2) stick used for twisting in native ropemaking. (Cf. kisongo.)

Kilicho, verb-form, which is,—agreeing with D 3 (S'), i.e. pf. ki-, li, is, and relative cho, agreeing with same.

Kidifu, n. (vi-) also sometimes Kidifu, and Ndifu, the cloth-like envelope of fibre binding the young leaves of the coconout round the growing stem. (Cf. mnazi, and madifu.)

Kili, n. (vi-) dim. of ulili, a small bedstead. (Cf. kitanda.)

Kilima, n. (vi-) dim. of milima, hill, eminence, rising ground, mound, ascent. Also name of a kind of evil spirit.

Kilimi, n. (vi-) dim. of ulimi, (1) a little tongue; (2) bad or abusive style of speaking, -ki being here deprecative as in kidomo. Ana k., he uses abusive language. (Cf. milimi, mwambi.)

Kilimia, n. the Pleiades (constellation). K. ikisama kwa jua hu- zuka kwa mwua, if the Pleiades set in fine weather, they rise in rain. (For stars cf. nyota, sayari.)

Kilimo, n. (vi-) (1) hoeing, and so the care of a plantation generally, i.e. cultivation, agriculture; (2) products of cultivation, produce, crop. Mwaka huu watu wameongokewa na kilimo, this year people have succeeded well in their cultivation. Vilimo vinasongana, the crops are too crowded, are planted too close. (Cf. lima, milima, mkulima, &c.)

Kilinda, n. (vi-) verbal noun of linda, guard, protector, governing a noun follg., e.g. kilinda chozi, the tear-guard, i.e. the pendulous end of a cluster of banana fruits, with a pearly drop of moisture at the tip. (Cf. linda, mlinzi, and kilindo.)

Kilindi, n. (vi-) a place of deep water, a deep channel, a deep. (Cf. lindi.)

Kilindo, n. (vi-) (1) act (process, means, &c.) of guarding, protection, guard, charge, care. Tu katika k. cha Muungu, we are in God's keeping. (2) A watchman's platform in a plantation; (3) a shelter (from rain, sun, &c.). (Cf. linda, mlinzi, lindo, and Ar. syn. hamaya.)

Kilinge, n. (vi-) mystery, puzzle, trick. Maneno ya k., dark, unintelligible utterances, i.e. maneno ya jumbo, or ya misano. K. cha mganga, hocus pocus.

Kilingo, n. (vi-) (1) a notch cut as a mark, a blaze on trees to show the way; (2) (? for kilindo) a watchman's platform, a shelter; (3) a carpenter's shed for shaping timber, logs, &c. (Cf. linga, ulingo.)

Kilio, n. (vi-) (1) sounding, a sound, crying, weeping, mourning, a cry, scream, shout, dirge; (2) a subject for mourning, a sad thing. Also dim. in contrast with milio, i.e. kilio kidogo. Nyamazisha k., put 'a stop to mourning. Tia k., cause lamentation. Amepeleka k. matangani, he has contributed a wail to the mourning.

Killa, a. also Kulla, every (as a rule with a singular noun only, and unlike all other adj.s in Swahili with its noun following it). K. mte, every one. K. siku, daily, day by day. K. andako, wherever he goes. K. atakapo, whenever he likes. Occasionally with Plur. k. watu wakaenda sazo, all the people went away.

Kiluthu, n. velvet. Kima, n. a kind of monkey. (For other kinds cf. nyani, tumbili, mbega, ndegele.)

Kima, n. (vi-) (1) price, value, e.g. kima chake kadiri gani? How much is it? and cf. kem. (2) Measure, stature, height, and cf. kimo. (Ar. Cf. (1) kimo, kadiri, kiasi, thamani; (2) kipimo, urefu, ukubwa.)
KIMACHO

Kimacho, adv. wide awake, in a wakeful condition, on the watch. Lala (kaa) k., lie (remain) awake. (Cf. jicho, macho, keshi.

Kimajji, adv. and a., like water, wet, damp, watery, swampy. Also -a kimaji. (Cf. maji, majimaji, rutuba.

Kimanda, n. (vi-), an omelette (of eggs, &c.). (Cf. maandasi.

Kimandu, n. (vi-), a strip of wood, fixed inside a native door-frame at top and bottom, with holes in which the pivots of the door-valves turn.

Kimanga, n. and adv., something Arabian, of the Arab kind. Hence (1) the Arab language, (2) a particular kind of grain. Sema (jua) k., speak (know) Arabic. Jiwe la k., a hard stone used for sharpening tools on or grinding corn, &c., a whetstone, a grinding stone,—also jiwe la manga, and kimango. (See Manga, and cf. syn. kiarabu.

Kimashamba, n. and adv., something of a country kind, rustic vulgar dialect, in a countryfied (rude, unpolished) way. -a k., countryfied, vulgar. (Cf. shamba.

Kimbia, v. run, run away, make haste, fly (from), escape (from). Akibiiaye hawazi gisa, wala haoni jua, one who runs does not think of the darkness, or see the sunlight. Adui wailkimbia, the enemy fled. Moto amemkimbia simba, the boy ran away (escaped from) the lion. With ji, hide oneself away, be hidden, be out of view, e. g. mi uliojikimbia, a village concealed from view. Ps. kimbira, be run from, be escaped from. Nt. kimbika, e. g. allow of running (escape, &c.). Ap. kimbilia, run to (for, in, after, &c., but not as a rule, run away from), overtake, take refuge with, have recourse to, fall back upon, go on an errand for; e. g. mibuzi hao watakimbia kukimbilia mama yao, these kids will run off to find their dam. Kimbilia rohe, run for (to save) one's life. Kimbilia pesa, run races for money. So Ps. kimbiliwa, be run to (for, after, &c.), be a refuge (asylum, resource), and Nt. kimbilika. With ji, e. g. watu wakajikimbilia, the people took to their heels,—of a promiscuous, shameful flight, every one for himself. Hence kimbiliza, -izwa, -iwa, cause to run on, make go fast, hurry, hasten, do in a hurry, do rashly (precipitately, carelessly)—like endeleza, but more emphatic, e. g. kimbiliza maneno, talk too fast, talk recklessly (foolishly, at random, without thinking). Kimbiliza jipu, open an abscess too soon, treat it prematurely. Kimbiliza udongo, be quick with the clay, before it gets too dry and hard to use. Kimbiliza kazi, hurry on the work. Cs. kimbiza, -izwa, -iwa, cause (encourage, allow, &c.) to run, put to flight, allow to escape, help in escaping, drive away, pursue. Alikimbiza roho yake, he saved his life. Akbimsa moto atije kuuawa, he saves the child from being put to death. Kimbiza punda, run in front of a donkey, as a slave does before his Arab master, when riding. Hence kimbizia, -iwa, e. g. amekimbita watumwa wangu, he has got all my slaves to run away from me. Also kimbizana, e. g. watu wakajikimbizana kuenenda, the people encouraged each other to push on quickly. (Cf. mbio, on which kimbiza appears to be formed, mkimbizi, kimbilo.)

Kimbio, n. and adv., at a running pace, with speed, at full speed, hastily, also kimbiombio. See Mbio, and Kimbia.

Kimbizi, n. and adv., similar to kimbio. Maji ya kimbizi, a swift current. (Cf. prec.)

Kimbunga, n. (vi-), typhoon, hurricane,—esp. the famous and exceptional typhoon at Zanzibar on April 15, 1872, often used as an epoch in reckoning time. Kimbunga kikaangusha minazi na majumba
KIMELEA 154 KINA

vote, the typhoon threw down all the cocoanut trees and houses. (Cf. tharuba, tufane, chamchela.)

Kimelea, n. (vi-), a plant which grows of itself, a self-sown plant, an indigenous plant, a parasitic plant (growing on to some other). Jamii ya vimelela, the whole flora (indigenous plant-life) of a place. (Cf. mea, mnea, also kikulia, kisalia.)

Kimeta, n. (vi-), also Kimete, sparkling, sparkly, glitter, lustre, shining. E.g. k. cha jua, sparkling radiance of the sun. K. cha upanga, the glitter of a sword. Also in the form kimeti, kimetimeti, kimerimeti, of anything sparkling, spangle, tinsel, and esp. of fire-flies, glow-worms. (Cf. meta, and kimulimuli, kianga.)

Kimia, n. (vi-), a circular casting net—of light fine twine. Also used to describe ‘netting, network, lace, cambric,’ &c., i.e. nguo ya kimia. -a kimia, of network, netted. (For nets cf. wavy, jarija.)

Kimo, n. (vi-), (1) measure, stature, height, depth; (2) a measuring rod, tape, foot rule. K. cha mti, a man’s height. Akupita k., he is taller than you. Maji ya k., deep water. K. cha mti, a piece of wood to measure with. (Ar. Cf. kina, of which kimo is a modified form.—) Dist. kimo, as verb-form, it is in (within, inside),—pfx. ki agreeing with D 3 (S), and locative -mo, which see.)

Kimoyo, n. also Kimoyo-moyo, something affecting the heart, e.g. (1) heart ailment, heart disease; (2) a feeling,—esp. fear, indignation, passion; (3) term of endearment, favourite, sweetheart (cf. kipensi, mchumba). (Cf. moyo.)

Kimrima, n. the dialect of Mrima, i.e. the dialect of Swahili spoken on the coast adjacent to Z. (Cf. Mrima.)

Kimulimuli, n. (vi-), fire-fly, glow-worm. (Cf. mulika, and kimeti.)

Kimwa, v. become wearied, get cross, be disgusted, lose one’s temper. Kimwa kwa chakula (njia, kazi, &c.), be put out by one’s food (travelling, work, &c.). (Cf. syn. more usual, kinai, choka, sumbuka, chukiwa.)

Kimwitu, n. dim. of mwitu, small forest, patch of forest, jungle. (Cf. mwitu, kichaka.)

Kimwondo, n. (vi-), a shooting star, i.e. nyota ya kwaukuka,—supposed to be fiery darts thrown by spirits of the air (jini) (Str.).

Kimya, n. and adv. (1) silence, stillness, absence of noise; (2) quietness, calm, reserve. As adv. silently, without noise. K. kingi kina mshindo mkuu, deep silence makes a loud noise. Nyamasa k., hold one’s tongue, be perfectly silent. Salı k., pray in secret. Mtu wa kimyakimya, a very quiet, reserved person. Akasikia k., and he heard no reply.

Kina, pfx. or n. used as pfx. (see note below) which with the noun following denotes a person or persons of a certain class, connected with another person by resemblance, dependence, or other social relation, or a person with others so connected with him. It is often heard as akina (see note), and in plur. form wakina. E.g. kina sisi, a kind of generalized plural,—‘such as we, people like us, the lot of us, we.’ Akina nani huyu? Who is this? implying ‘What are his connexions?’ whether as master or dependent. Akina Abdallah may mean (1) Abdallah’s following generally, his people or dependents, or (2) Abdallah himself alone, or (3) Abdallah with his retinue. So Akina bwana anakua, the master is coming. Kina mwinyi mkuu, the chief and his court. Kina is also used (with a noun) as a generalized mode of address, as well as reference, a polite substitute for direct mention of several or one, e.g. akina bibi, the lady-folk, the ladies, my ladies, my lady. So akina bavana, a slave's address to his master's son,—akina baba, a master's address half-playful to his slaves. It may also be used with contemptuous generality. Wamekwitwa watu wale wakina Turi, those people were known as Turi's lot. (Perh. generalized from Ar. gan, pl. agina, slave-born, a slave, or connected with the pfx. ki.)

Kina, n. (vi-), a rhyme, a terminal assonance, a similar final syllable. Kuwa na vina, to have rhymes,—of lines of poetry. Tia vina, make rhymes, rhyming endings. Mashairi ya vina, rhyming verses. (Cf. guni, for absence of rhyme, blank verse.)

Kina, n. kina cha bahari, a deep place in the sea. Bahari tina k. sana, the sea is very deep. (Kilindi, lindi, usual in Z.)

*Kinai, v. (1) be content, be self-satisfied, be independent, want no sympathy or help, be self-sufficient, be self-contained. Hence often (2) in a bad sense, of conceited, offensive, independent, or active dislike, i.e. be disgusted, be surfeited, dislike, have a loathing. E.g. of food, amekinai, he has had enough, he has had a full meal, (or of a sick man) he has no appetite, he revolts from food. Jikinai, feel quite satisfied or secure, be boastful, vaunt oneself. Sultan ni ajikinai kwa ngwau, the Sultan shows his pride of power. Csa. kinaisha, satisfy, surfeit, glut, disgust, nauseate, revolt. Chakula hiki kina-nikinaisha, this food revolts me. Atakukinaisha siku moja, you will have enough of him in one day. Kujikinaisha ubora, to vaunt his perfections. (Ar. Cf. -kinaiifu, kinaya, and syn. shiba, shibisha, rithisha, chukiza, and for boasting, jisifu, jivuna.)

*kinaiifu, a. one who has enough, does not desire or need anything, and so (1) moderate, self-controlled, sober, independent; or (2) self-sufficient, contemptuous, cold, supercilious, unsociable. (Cf. kinai, and kiasi, upweke, baridi.)

Kinamasi, n. mucilage, slime, slimy substance or fluid. Mafuta yafanya k., the oil is getting thick and sticky. Also of a wet slippery soil (cf. utope).

Kinanda, n. (vi-), a stringed instrument of the kind commonest in E. Africa, a kind of banjo or guitar. Extended to include piano, organ, and almost any similar European instrument of music. Piga k., play the banjo. (Cf. ngoma for other instruments.)

*Kinara, n. (vi-), dim. of mnara, (1) small pillar, column; (2) candlestick; (3) small ornament in the embroidery worked in silk on the collar of a native dress (kanzu), i.e. vinara vya shingo. (Ar. Cf. mnara.)

*Kinaya, n. self-content, independence, selfish isolation, a supercilious air, insolence. Neno la k., a contemptuous remark. (Cf. kinai.)

Kinda, n. (ma-), young one, esp. of birds, a chick, but also of animals, e.g. k. la frasi, a foal, k. kibwa, a young dog, cub, whelp,—not of man. Sometimes a., e.g. mnazi mkinda, a young coconu tree.

Kinda, -kindani, Kindano. See Kinza, &c.

Kindu, n. (ma-), fruit of the palm mkinda, a kind of wild date. See also Ukindu.

Kinena, n. (vi-), middle of the body between the groins (manena).

Kinga, v. is used of the effect of what is interposed between two objects, and which acts offensively to the one and defensively to the other. Hence (1) act as screen against, ward off, parry, check, stop, interpose, get in the way of, intercept, catch; and (2) fig. contradict, oppose, obstruct. Also (3) act as screen to, cover, be a defence to; (4) fig. help, assist, protect. *Kinga, jiwe hili litaanguka, guard (yourself), or, ward it off, this stone is going to fall. *Nimekinga uvuili wangi kwa nga, I interposed my body as a shield. *Munya ameni-kinga, God has protected me. *Kinga mvua (jua), keep off the rain (sun). Ps. *Kingo*wa, (1) be screened (warded) off; (2) be used as a screen; (3) be screened (protected). *Nt. kingika. *Ap. king-ia, -iwa, e.g. nga ya kikingia selaha, a shield to keep off weapons. *Cs. kingizea, usually protect, defend. *Kingiza na mvua, protect from rain. *Fkingiza, defend oneself. *Rp. kingana, (1) protect each other; (2) oppose each other, with argument, force, &c. (Cf. follg.) — n, (—, and Vinga), something interposed, and which has different effects accordingly, e.g. (1) a check, a stopper, a fender, a fence, a guard, a screen, a shelter,—and so either (2) protection, defence, assistance, or (3) obstruction, difficulty, misfortune, limitation. E.g. k. cha moto, or k. only, a fireguard, i.e. commonly a firebrand, brand used as a guard, rather than 'a fender.' Cf. kinga na kinga, ndipo moto uwakapo, firebrands make the fire burn. K. cha maji, or k. alone, a long blade of grass or leaflet tied round the stem of a tree to collect the rain trickling down and direct it to a water jar. K. ya jicho, a blinker. Cf. kidoto, also kijamanda. (Cf. kingama, mkingiko, kinda, jinga, and epusha, bekua. For kinga=kunga, see Kunga.)

Kingaja, n. (vi-), armlet or bracelet of seeds, beads, &c. (Cf. kekee, kikuku, banagiri, and urembo.)

Kingalingali, n. on the back, face upwards. Lala k., lie on the back. *Anguka k., fall backwards. (Cf. kitaniini, kichali.)

Kingama, v. (1) be interposed, lie across, be in the way, act as a screen; (2) obstruct, baffle, thwart. Gigo limekingama njiani, a log blocks the road. Njia ujine inakingama njia ya mbele, another path cuts across the road leading straight on. *Ap. kingam-*ia, -iwa, e.g. nyoka ameni*kingamia njiani, a snake stopped me on the road. *Cs. kingam-*isha, -ishwa, -iza, -izwa, intens. frustrate, stop altogether, block. *Rp. kingaman*ana, e.g. tumekingamana mimi naye, he and I had a (friendly or stormy) interview, we encountered each other. *Hence kingaman-*isha, -ishwa, cause to get in each other's way, make difficulties among. (St. form of kinga, i.e. be in an interposed position. Cf. -ama, simama, tuama, &c. Cf. mkingamo.)

Kingio, Kingo, n. screen, hand-screen, shade, lamp-cover. (Cf. kinga.)

Kingoe, n. (vi-), dim. of ngoe, a small hook. See Ngoe.

Kingojezi, n. (vi-), similar to kingojo.

Kingojo, n. (vi-), act. (time, place, &c.) of watching, watch, guard, guard-station, post, sentry-go, turn of watching. E.g. linda k., keep watch. Keti k., remain on watch. (Cf. ngoja, kilindo, samu.)

Kingozi, n. the old dialect of Swahili, esp. as formerly spoken at Melindo, Patta, and the northward towns of the Zanzibar coast, now only poetical and hardly intelligible. Hence now used of 'difficult, half-understood speech.' Maneno ya k., antiquated, meaningless terms.

Kingubwa, n. (vi-), spotted hyaena. (Cf. fisi.)

Kini, Kinika, v. be sure, be certain, be ascertained,—apparently from Ar. yakini (which see), treated mistakenly by Swahilis as a form of a verb kini. E.g. yamkinika (or, yamkini) Sultani kusafiri kesho, it is certain as to the Sultan that he will set out to-morrow. (Ar. Cf. yakini, and dist. yamkini.)

Kining'ina, n. (vi-), great-great-grandchild. (Cf. kijukun, kilembwe, and ning'inia, rock, dandle.)

Kinjurinjuri, n. a particular way of cutting the hair, leaving one long tuft. i.e. kukata kinjurinjuri (Str.).

Kinofo, n. (vi-), a scrap of meat. (Cf. mnofu.)

Kinono, n. (vi-), a fatted animal, a fatling. (Cf. nona, -nono, and nepepa.)

Kinoo, n. (vi-), a whetstone, i.e. jiwe la kunolea, a stone to sharpen things with. (Cf. noa, noo, noteo, and cherehe, a grindstone.)

Kinu, n. (vi-), a wooden mortar, made of a hard block of wood hollowed out in the centre, used for pounding and cleaning grain, and crushing and mixing vegetable food generally. Also for extracting oil. The wooden pestle is called mehe, and the operation usually kutwanga. See Mehe, Twanga. It is extended to metal mortars, e.g. k. cha chuma, an iron mortar, and also is used of a mill of any kind, e.g. k. cha moshi, a steam mill, ch. cha kushindikia, a crushing mill, whether of oil seeds or sugar-cane. K. cha mkono, hand mill. K. cha kusagia, grinding (flour) mill.

Kinubi, n. (vi-) and adv. (1) a kind of harp, used in their dances by the Wanubi, i.e. Soudanese (or (Nubians) settled in Zanzibar. Also (2) the Soudanese language; (3) in the Soudanese style. -a kinubi, of the Soudanese kind.

Kinundu, n. (vi-), dim. of nundu, a little hump, knob, lump. Hence kinundunundu, to describe a rough, lumpy surface, as of plaster, &c.

Kinwa, n. (vi-), also Kinywa and Kanwa, the mouth (as organ of drinking) of man, animals, insects, &c. (of birds, usually mdomo). Also 'something to drink, a beverage,' but this is usually kinwaji. K. mchusi, the hair on the under lip, the imperial, place where the imperial grows, lit. gray drinker. K. wasi, open mouth, with open mouth, open mouthed. (Cf. nya, kinwaji, kanwa, and follg.)

Kinwaji, n. (vi-), also Kinywaji, and rarely Kinweo, Kinwewa, something to drink, a beverage, liquid for drinking purposes.

Kinweleo, n. (vi-), a pore (of the skin). (Cf. nya, nyweleo.)

Kinyaa, n. (vi-), excrement (liquid or solid), urine, excrement, dung, filth. (Cf. nya, nyesi, kinyesi, also nkfojo, mavi.)

Kinyago, n. (vi-), anything used at an unyago (which see), but esp. a dressed-up grotesque figure, mock-ghost or scarecrow. Cheza k., lit. play at unyago, play at ghosts, dress up,—of any kind of acting, theatricals, farce.

Kinyama, n. (vi-), dim. of nyama, small animals. Vinyama vya nwi-tu wakaona kiu, the lesser wild animals grew thirsty.

Kinyamklela, n. (vi-), (1) a kind of evil spirit, to be propitiated at crossways, a storm-devil; (2) of a whirlwind, i.e. pepo za kinyamkela. (Cf. chamchela.)

Kinyefu, n. (vi-), and Kinyenyefu, a tickling or tingling sensation, itching. (From nya, cf. ngugi.)

Kinyegel, n. (vi-), name of a small animal, skunk (Str.).

Kinyemi, n. and a., something good, pleasing, acceptable. Kipyaa kinyemi kigunga kidonda, a novelty has its charms, even a new sore. (Cf. Ar. neema.)

Kinyesi, n. (vi-), excrement,—like kinyaa. Also in plur. manyesi. (From nya.)

Kinyonga, n. (vi-), (1) hip-complaint. (Cf. kifua, kimio, &c.).
Kinyonge, n. and adv., from -nyonga, state of wretchedness, abj. destitution, degradation, &c.

Kinyongo, n. (vi-), of a mental or moral twist, (1) fancy, scruple, fad; (2) ill-feeling, grudge, bitterness, spite, resentment. Usifanye kazi kwa k., do not work unwillingly, as if against the grain. Mpenzi hana k., a lover has no scruples.(doubts, hesitation). Mwenyi k., a hypochondriac. (Cf. nyonga, ki-nyonga, unyonga, also syn. mfundo, kikombo, chuki, uchungu.)

Kinyozi, n. (vi-), a barber, one who shaves. (From nyoa.)

Kinyuma, n. and adv. (also Ki-nyume commonly), the back part, the rear, behind, backwards, after time, late, in a contrary way. Kwa kinyume, backwards, to the rear. Habari ya k., later, subsequent news. Kinyume changu, behind me. Kuja k., to arrive late. Mwendo ya k., a kind of puzzle-language, the last syllable of each word being made the first. (Cf. nyuma, and baada.)

Kinyumba, n. (vi-), an unmarried woman, living with a man as his wife. (Cf. nyumba, mchumba, suria, hawa.)

Kinyumbu, n. (vi-), dim. of nyumbu, a small mule.

Kinyunya, n. (vi-), a little cake, a bit of a cake, a sweetmeat. (Cf. nyunyiza, sprinkle, and nyunyo.)

Kinywa, Kinywaji, Kinyweleo.

See Kinwa, Kinwaji, Kinweleo.

Kinza, v. object, contradict, deny, oppose, rebel. Rp. kinzana, object, stand in the way, oppose, contradict. Kinzana na mtu, dispute with a person. (Not often heard. Cf. follg. and kinga, kininga, pingana.)

-Kinzani, n. refractory, combative, obstructive. (Cf. prec. and ukinzani.)

Kinzano, n. (ma-), objection, obstruction, contradiction. (Cf. prec. and kinzana.)

Kioja, n. (vi-), something that astonishes or terrifies, an oddity, a curiosity, a portent, a bugbear, a monster. (Cf. kitisha, shani, ajabu, afa.)

Kiokozi, n. (vi-), act (means, way, &c.) of recovering, and so, reward for finding something lost or in danger. Also of persons, one who saves, rescuer, preserver. (From okoa. Cf. mwokozo, ukozi.)

Kiolezo, n. (vi-), a pattern, sample. (Cf. oleza, and syn. namna.)

Kiongozi, n. (vi-), act (means, way, &c.) of directing; but usually, guide on a road, director, leader of a caravan. (Cf. mkuu wa genzi.) Also, reward for such service, guide’s fee. (From ongoa. Cf. mwongosi, nongozi.)

Kiongo, n. (vi-), a kind of donkey from the mainland,—mostly from the Unyamwezi country; used for carrying loads, i.e. pundâ kiongo. (Also as a., obstinate, refractory (Kr.). Cf. mbishi.)

Kionja, verbal noun from onja, governing another noun, ‘that which tastes.’ K. mchusi, the imperial, or under lip, i.e. gravy taster,—like kinwa mchusi. (Cf. onja, and follg.)

Kionjo, n. (vi-), a little taste, a small sample, a trial. (Cf. onja.)

Kionyo, n. (vi-), secret warning, hint, suggestion. (Cf. ona, onyo.)

Kioo, n. (vi-), a piece of glass, looking-glass, mirror. K. cheupe, clear, white glass. K. cha kuona, transparent glass. K. cha kutazamia uso, a looking-glass. (Perh. conn. with ona, i.e. kiono.)

Kiopo, n. (vi-), anything used for taking up, fishing up, as from a well or pit,—a pole, stick with fork, hook, gaff. (From opoa.)

Kiosha, verbal noun from osha, that which washes, e.g. k. mig’u, that which washes the feet,—name of a wedding fee for particular service. (Cf. kifungua mlango.)

Kiosho, n. (vi-), act (place, means,
KIOTA

&c.) of washing. (Cf. osha, and josho.)

Kiota, n. (vi-), also Kioto, sitting-place of a bird, nest, roost, fowl’s laying place. (Cf. ota, oteo, moto.)

Kioteo, n. (vi-), ambushade, ambush, lurking-place. (Cf. ota, oteoa.)

Kiowe, n. (vi-), shout, cry for help. See Kiyowe.

Kioza, n. state of a putrid thing, putridity, gangrene. Mtu huyu yuna k. ndani, this man is rotten inside. (From oza.)

Kipaa, n. (vi-), dim. of paa, (1) a small roof, roof a shed, &c.; (2) one of the sides of the four-sided roof of a native hut, usually one of the smaller slopes, overlapped by the larger ones (mapaa). K. cha mbele (cha nyuma), the front (back) slope of a roof; (3) also kipara, which see.

Kipaji, n. (vi-), (1) a presentation, a present, donation, gift. K. cha Muungu, a gift of God. (From -pa, cf. kipaa, upaji, -paji.) (2) Part of the forehead (paji), brow, eyebrow, e.g. kunja vipaji vya uso, knit the brows, frown. Also (3) a sweet-scented cosmetic, applied to the brows, an ornamental patch of colour, a brow ornament (cf. urembo). (4) A small projection on the side of the mjusi worked on the front of a native dress (kanzu), also called kiguu. See Mjusi.

Kipaka, n. (vi-), dim. of paka, a small cat, a poor cat, a kitten.

Kipakacha, n. (vi-), dim. of pakacha, a small kind of basket, of plaited cocoanut leaf-froinds. (For other kinds see Kikapo.)

Kipaku, n. (vi-), small spot, speck, patch, of colour or coloured stuff, e.g. used of the mottled or speckled colouring of animals and birds. -a k., or k. alone, mottled, speckled, e.g. kuku k., a speckled fowl. Also kipakupaku, in same sense. (Cf. paku, and perh. paka, v., also waa, doa.)

Kipamba, n. (vi-), dim. from pamba (cotton), a small bit (tuft, plug, patch) of raw cotton (cotton wool, lint), e.g. for medical application.

Kipambo, n. (vi-), an ornament, ornamental work, a fitting, furniture of a house. Nyumba hii haina k., this house is unfurnished, e.g. of a poor man’s dwelling. (Cf. pamba, v., pambo, also syn. kifaa, chombo, urembo, uzuri.)

Kipande, n. (vi-), (1) a small bit, piece, slip, part, of anything (cf. fungu, schemu, kitambo, kidogo, kato); (2) an instrument, tool, utensil (cf. chombo, kitu, samani). K. cha nyama, a scrap of meat. K. cha mitu, a diminutive man, a mannikin (contr. pande la mitu, pandikizi). Vipande vya kupimia, surveying instruments. (3) Used esp. of a light wooden rammer, used in hardening a concrete floor or roof. (Cf. pande, upande, mpande, pandikizi, ? all conn. with panda, v. plant,—the constant common occupation.)

Kipanga, n. (vi-), (1) dim. of upanga, a small sword; (2) a large bird of prey.

Kipango, n. (vi-), dim. of pango, a small cave, den, hole, mouse-hole. (Cf. kitundu, kishimo.)

Kipao, n. (vi-), act (means, way) of mounting up. (Cf. paa, v.)

Kipapatiko, n. (vi-), little flapping object, feathery waving end, e.g. of fin or feather. (Cf. papatika.)

Kipara, n. (vi-), and Kipaa, a clean-shaved patch, a bald patch on the head, tonsure. Mtu wa kiko asilipe ana kipara cheupe, a member of a mess, if he does not pay, has a bald patch, i.e. is a marked man. (Cf. upaa, upara, and ? paa, roof.)
Kipato, n. (vi-), dim. of upato, a small metal gong, usually of brass, with edges turned in, a metal tambourine, or dish of similar shape.

Kipawha, n. (vi-), (1) dim. of pawa, small ladle; (2) gift (but not so in Z.).

Kipele, n. (vi-), small pimple, pustule, sore, breaking-out. Vipele, skin eruption, erysipelas. (Cf. upele.)

Kipendi, n. (vi-), like kipensi, a beloved object, a favourite, darling. (From penda.)

Kipendo, n. (vi-), act (trait, manifestation, &c.) of affection, kindness, love. (Cf. pendo, upendo.)

Kipengee, n. (vi-), (1) side-path, by-way, way round, side-channel, out of the straight or usual course; (2) evasion, subterfuge, shift, indirect means of obtaining an object. Maneno yake haya vipengee, these statements of his are evasive (shuffling, deceitful). (Also pengee.)

Kipenu, n. (vi-), a shed or side-room built against the side of a wall or house outside, a lean-to, a cabin in a ship. (Cf. upenu.)

Kipenyo, n. (vi-), a hole through which something is passed, a thing which is passed through, e.g. the peg of a top, axis of a globe, &c. (Cf. penya.)

Kipeo, n. (vi-), (1) highest or furthest point, apex, top, end, culmination; (2) ideal, best example, standard of excellence, chef-d'œuvre. K. cha macho, furthest limit of vision, horizon. (Cf. pe'a, pepe, pevuka.)

Kipepeo, n. (vi-), (1) dim. of pepeo, a small fan: (2) a butterfly; (3) a kind of flat fish. (Cf. upepo, pepea.)

Kipete, n. (vi-), dim. of pete, a small ring, ferrule, circlet.

Kipeto, n. (vi-), bag (with flap or cover), case, receptacle, cover, parcel, packet. K. cha barna, letter case, envelope. (Cf. peto, pete, pete, and syn. bahasha.)

Kipi, n. (vi-), or Kipia, cock's spur, i.e. kuch a la (or mwiba wa) nyuma katika kisigino cha jogoo, the spur behind at the cock's heel.

Kipigi, n. (vi-), also Kipiki, a little stick to beat with or throw. (Cf. piga, and follg.)

Kipigo, n. (vi-), stroke, blow, shot. Tembo alianguka kwa kipigo cha heri, the elephant fell by a lucky shot.

Kipila, n. (vi-), a curlew. (Also called suulu.)

Kipilipiili, n. and adv., like black pepper-corns. Nyele za k., hair of a short woolly kind, growing in small tufts. (Cf. pilipiili, and uiele.)

Kipimo, n. (vi-), thing for measuring, a measure, a weight, amount measured. (Cf. pima, and for measures mkono, shibir, wari, wakia, ratli, pishi, frasila, kibaba, kisaga, &c.)

Kipinda, adv. Kufa kipinda, die a natural death. (Cf. pinda, n.)

Kipindi, n. (vi-), (1) a portion of time, period, e.g. kila k., k. chote, all times, at all times, constantly, always. K. cha athuri, noon. Kwa vipindi, at times, periodically; also, by fits and starts, irregularly. -a vipindi, periodical, regular, irregular. -a kipindi, temporary. Also adv. kipindi, for a time, for a short time. (Cf. kitambo, kidogo, and kipande.) (2) A fixed time, a regular hour (cf. saa). Tangu asubuhi hatta jioni ni vipindi kumi na mbili, from morning to evening there are twelve hours. Vipindi vya kusali, the five regular Mahomedia hours of prayer. (Cf. sala.) (3) Fit, turn, attack, paroxysm of sickness, anger or emotion generally. Homa ya vipindi, recurrent (or, intermittent) fever. K. cha hasira, a fit of anger. (Cf. pinda, v., turn, and pindi, upindi, kitambo, saa.)

Kipindo, n. (vi-), a wrapper, esp. a folding cloth for a corpse before placing it in the shroud (saanda). Also, a fold (in a garment), pocket, purse, &c. (Cf. pinda, upindo, and kipeto.)

Kipindupindu, n. (vi-), descriptive of a violent seizure, convulsions, cholera, or other disease,—from its effect. (Cf. pinda, kipindi, and wabba.)

Kipingili, n. (vi-), ring marking a knot or joint in a plant, e.g. in sugar-cane. Also the part between two knots or joints, e.g. part of the leg between the knee and ankle, the shin. (Cf. pingili.)

Kipingo, n. (vt-), bar, pin, peg (keeping something in place), barrier, obstruction. (Cf. pinga, kipingwa, and folgg.)

Kipingu, n. (vi-), dim. of pingu, a small fetter.

Kipingwa, n. (vi-). door-bar, bolt. (Cf. pinga, and syn. komeo, kiwi.)

Kipini, n. (vi-), (1) handle, haft, holder,—of tools, knife, sword, &c. (cf. mpini, and for other handles mkono, utambo); (2) small stud or button-like ornament, worn on the nose or ear. (Cf. kipuli, jasi, and urembo.)

Kipipa, n. (vi-), dim. of pipa, small barrel, small cask. Kipipa cha baruti, barrel of gunpowder.

Kipira, n. (vi-), dim. of mpira, a small ball. Also? (2) a carpenter's moulding-plane, k. cha mviringo (cf. randa), and (3) a projecting moulding.

Kipito, n. (vi-), a passing by or through, a way through, passage. (From pita, v.)

Kipofu, n. and adv. (1) blindness, a blind person, in a blind state or way, blindly. Mioto k., haoni, macho yake yamefofuka, the child is blind, he does not see, his eyes are sightless. K. wa macho, bereft of sight, blind. Mtu huury ana k., this man is blind. Also (2) for kibofu, a bladder. (Cf. -ofu, pofuka, and kisivo, kilima.)

Kipokee, adv. by turns, by taking turns, e.g. chukua (twaa) kipokee, of carrying a load, a corpse to the grave, &c. (From pokea.)

Kipolepole, n. (vi-) and adv. (1) a kind of butterfly; (2) from -pole, i.e. in a very slow (calm, gentle) way.

Kipondo, n. (vi-), dim. of pondo, small pole, esp. of pole for puntung, propelling a canoe in shallow water. (Cf. ponda, mpondo, and follg.)

Kipondwe, n. (vi-), food consisting of something pounded or crushed, a mash, e.g. of cleaned grain and grated coccoanut mixed together in a mortar (kimu). (From ponda, with pass. termin. -we.)

Kiponya, n. (vi-), verbal of ponya, something which preserves or cures, a remedy. K. cha njaa, the remedy of hunger, i.e. food.

Kipoza, n. (vi-), verbal of pizoza, paralysis, deadness, a paralysed person, a withered, dried-up thing. Also adv., in a withered (dead, helpless) state. (Cf. mapoza.)

Kipopo, n. (vi-), dim. of popo, a small bat (the animal).

Kipopo, n. (vi-), dim. of popoo, a little ball, a round lump, e.g. of tobacco, sweets, bonbons, &c.

Kipora, n. (vi-), dim. of pora, a young cockerel.

Kipuku, Kipukupuku, adv. in showers, in numbers, wholesale, like leaves falling, e.g. of the effect of an epidemic in killing people, i.e. mara-thi ya kipuku (pukuku). Watu wanakuwa kipuku, people are dying like sheep. (Cf. pukusa, and folgg.)

Kipukusa, n. (vi-), also Kipukuba, (1) something shed, cast, dropped, e.g. horns, but esp. of leaves or fruit self-detached or early shed. Also (2) dim. of pukusa, a small present, esp. of congratulation. (Cf. folgg.)

Kipukute, n. and a. Ndizi kipukute, also kipukusa, a favourite species of banana. See Ndizi, and prec.

Kipuli, n. (vi-), a small trinket, often crescent-shaped, worn in the ear as a pendant, ear ornament. (Cf. also jasi, shamili, kipini, puliki, and for other ornaments urembo.)

Kipumba, n. (1) (vi-), also Bumba, dim. of pumba (bumba), a small clod, lump (perh. same as kibumba, which see); (2) n. and adv., a foolish act, a fool, folly. Kuwa k., to be a fool. Fanya k., to act as a fool. (Cf. pumba, pumbafo, upumbafo, which are usual in Z.)

Kipumbu, n. (vi-), scrotum. (Cf. pumba, pumbu.)

Kipumziko, n. (vi-), act (place, time, means, &c.) of taking rest, resting-place, recreation time, refreshment, relief. (From pumziko, pumuzi, pumu. Cf. baridi, maburudu.)

Kipungu, n. name of a fish, and also of a bird of prey.

Kipunguo, n. (vi-), act (case, means, &c.) of lessening, diminution, defect, deficiency, short allowance. (From pungua. Cf. -pungufu, upungu.)

Kipupa, n. and adv., unseemly haste, greediness, over-eagerness. Kicha kula, and kula k. (or kwa k.), voracious eating. (Cf. pupa.)

Kipupwe, n. the cold season, i.e. June, July, and August (when the barometer in Z. falls at nights to 75° or even 70°), cold weather. See Mwaka and Pembe.

Kipusa, n. (vi-), same as kipukusa, which see.

Kipwa, n. (vi-), rock, dry patch (left by receding tide), a shallow place. (Cf. pwa, pwani, mapwaji.)

Kirahi, n. also Ekerahi, Ikirahi, being offended, disgust, aversion, causing offence, provocation, insult. (Ar. Cf. kirihi.)

Kira, n. and adv., a piece, spot, patch different from the rest or the surroundings, colour in spots or patches, e.g. nguo ya k., patched, ragged clothes. Mapwaji ya k., patches left by receding tide. Kirakaraka, anything variegated, mottled, dappled, speckled, spotted, e.g. of birds and animals. (Cf. raka, doa, kipaku.)

Kirembo, n. (vi-), anything ornamental, esp. of personal adornment. (Cf. urembo, remba, and pamba.)

Kirimba, n. (vi-), cage (for bird or animal). Also describes a meat-safe. (Cf. kitundu, tundu, kizimb.)

Kiroboto, n. (vi-), flea. Formerly used as a nickname for irregular Arab soldiery at Z.

Kiroja, n. (vi-), same as kioja, which see.

Kirukanjia, n. (vi-), name of a kind of mouse. (Cf. panya.)

Kirukia, n. (vi-), name of a climbing plant.
Kirungu, n. (vi-), dim. of rungu (lungu), a small club, knob-kerry.

*Kisa, n. (vi-), (1) story, account, report, history, narrative; (2) statement of case, reason alleged, cause, explanation; (3) affair, matter, business, subject of report. E.g. nipe k. chako, tell me your story, i.e. all about yourself. Visa vingi, many stories, a complicated business, endless difficulties. Hakumfanyisa k. hatta kimoja, he did nothing whatever to hurt him. (Ar. Cf. hadithi, habari, neno.) Also (4) like kiini, the innermost part, e.g. kisa cha koko, the kernel inside a stone (of fruit).

*Kisaga, n. (vi-), a dry measure of about a quart, equal to two kibaba or half a pishi. Nimemtipimia kisaga cha mahindi, I have measured him a quart of maize. (2) a weevil. (Cf. saga.)

*Kisahani, n. (vi-), dim. of sahani, a small dish, saucer. (Ar. Cf. chombo, chungu.)

*Kisasa, n. and adv., a thing of the present day, a modern fashion, what is up to date. Vao la k., fashionable dress; maneno ya k., current phraseology. (Cf. sasa, and contr. kikale, kale.)

*Kisasi, n. (vi-), also Kasasi, vengeance, revenge, retaliation, requital, compensation for harm done, damages. Toa (lipa) k., suffer vengeance, pay (for harm done). Tosa (lipiza, twaa) k., take revenge on, retaliate upon, extract compensation for. Twaa k. cha ndugu, avenge a brother.

*Kissetiri, n. (vi-), and Kisitiri, a cover, screen, screening wall, parapet, partition, hiding place, retiring place, closet. (Ar. Cf. setiri, stara, kifumiko, kificho, kwambaza.)

*Kisha, adv. and Kishaa, afterwards, moreover, in fine. See Kisha, and Iasha.

*Kishada, n. (vi-), dim. of shada, (1) tassel, bow, rosette; (2) a small cluster or bunch, e.g. of beads on strings, bunch of flowers, or fruit, nosegay, &c.; (3) a tailless kite. (Ar.)

Kishaufu, n. (vi-), anything showy, bit of finery, trinket, personal ornament. (Cf. shaua, kipambo, kirembo.)

Kishenzi, n. and adv., anything of a barbarous, rude, uncivilized kind, esp. barbarous language, up-country dialect. -a k., barbarous, uncivilized. (Cf. -shenzi, ushenzi, and contr. kungwana.)

Kishiku, n. (vi-), stump of a tree, log. (Cf. shiku, kisiki, kigogo.)

Kishimo, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of shimo, a little pit, hole, underground passage, sudden fall, precipice. (Cf. genge, tundu, chimbo.)

Kishina, n. name of a dance (ngoma). Also dim. of shina. Kishinda, n. (vi-), verbal from shinda (which see) in various senses, (1) that which conquers, baffles, is too much for another, e.g. watu hawa ni vishinda waganga, these people are a match for the medicine men. (2) A residue, a remainder, esp. of what is left in a vessel, dry or liquid, a quantity less than half of the content, e.g. kishinda cha maji mtungini, of a water-jar less than half full. Also a vague measure, a suitable amount for pounding in a mortar (kinu), e.g. vishinda vingapi umetia? How many measures have you put in? Kinu tele ni kishinda kimoja, one measure makes a full mortar, i.e. enough to pound at one time. (Cf. shinda, shindika. Perh. kisinda is the same word.)

Kishindo, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of shindo, shock, blow, outburst, sudden noise, sound of steps (guns, blows, &c.), an agitation, a sensation. Habari ina k., news always comes with a kind of shock. (Cf. shinda, shindo, mishindo.)

Kishogo, n. (vi-), nape of the neck, back of the head. Kifo ni karibu, ni kishogoni mvako, death is near, it is close behind you. Akupaye kishogo si mwenzio, he who turns his back on you is not your friend. (Cf. kogo, kikosi.)

Kishoka, n. (vi-), dim. of shoka, a small axe.

Kishoroba, n. (vi-), dim. of sho-roba (which see).

*Kishubaka, n. (vi-), dim. of shubaka, a small recess, niche, pigeon-hole, loop-hole.

Kishungu, n. (vi-), dim. of shungi, (1) a small tuft of hair, crest of feathers, plume; (2) ends of a cloth, lappet, fringes. (Cf. matamvu.)

Kishwara, n. (vi-), a loop of rope, used to hold an oar (like a rowlock) in a boat, or to lift by. (Cf. kitansi, and shalaka.)

Kisi, v. (1) also Gisi, consider critically, estimate, calculate, make a guess, form an opinion on, guess. K. maneno, weigh a statement. K. mtama, set a value on (judge the price of) millet (cf. fikiri, kadiri, bahatisha, hesabu). (2) As nautical term, shift, make a change in. K. mtanga, shift the sail over, tack, put about. (Cf. pindua, bisha.) Seldom in deriv. forms.

Kisibau, n. (vi-), a waistcoat, worn open in front. Described as k. cha mikono, i.e. sleeved; k. cha kwapa, or cha kwapwa, i.e. sleeveless,—the usual kind, k. cha vitana, i.e. lined; k. cha kifundo, i.e. in common plain style. Made of all kinds of materials and colours, and worn over the kansu.

Kisigino, n. (vi-), heel, elbow, further distinguished as k. cha mguu, and k. cha mikono. (Cf. kifundo, kiweko.)

Kisiki, n. (vi-), log, stump, trunk of fallen tree. (Cf. kishiku, gogo, shina.)

Kisikusiku, adv. and n., at night, in the dark. (Cf. usiku, siku.)

Kisima, n. (vi-), well, water-hole, water-pit, place where water is drawn. (Perh. altered from Ar. kathima.)

Kisimi, n. (vi-), clitoris. (Cf. simika.)

Kisinda, n. (vi-), and? Kishinda, Kizinda, hymen. Weka k., preserve virginity. Tomo k., deprive of virginity. (Cf. bikira.)

Kisirani, n. also Kisarani, Kasa-rani, used of what is awkward, unpleasant, causing difficulty, &c., e.g. (1) mishap, unfortunate incident, hitch, awkward meeting, &c.; (2) ill-humour, awkward temper, grudging, rancour, caprice, spite, &c. Piga k., make a hitch, cause a difficulty. Sina k. moyoni mwangu, I am quite agreeable. (Cf. kifundo, hitilafu, kimoyo.)

Kisiwa, n. (vi-), an island. (Cf. siwa, a large island.)

Kisombo, n. (vi-), a dish of beans, cassava, &c., beaten or mashed up into a thick soup or paste. (Cf. kipondwe, kibumbwi, mseto.)

Kisongo, n. (vi-), act (mode, means, &c.) of twisting, esp. an instrument for twisting, whether wood or metal, tourniquet,—also that used in rope-making, turned by the kileti, and itself attached to the rope. (Cf. songa.)

Kisonono, n. gonorrhoea,—various phases being distinguished as k. cha mkojo (urine), k. cha usaha (pus, matter), and k. cha damu (blood). (Cf. sononeka.)

Kiosozi, n. (vi-), name of a small bird (Str.).

Kisu, n. (vi-), a knife, of any sort, often used with such verbs as toa, take out, draw, tia, apply, noa, sharpen, futika, stick in the girdle, put up, and a. -kali, sharp, butu, blunt, dull. Wewe kisu, sisi nyama, you are the knife, we are the victims, i.e. do what you will with us. K. cha kukanja, a pocket-knife, a clasp-knife. (Cf. jsu, kijisu, also jamba, shumbea, kotama, kijembe.)

Kisua, n. (1) a kind of fine cloth, used as a turban, a kind of kitambi, also called bura. Nimekwisha kujipamba kwa kisua na selaha, I have finished arraying myself with a turban and weapons. Also (2) to describe a person well dressed, of striking appearance; ye-yi kisua kwako duniani, he is a fine figure, if there is one in the world.

Kisugulu, n. (vi-), mound, heap of earth. (Seldom heard, a Yao word for ant-hill.)

Kisuli, n. and adv., also Kizuli, giddiness. See Kizuli.

Kisusi, n. (vi-), one of the smaller slopes of a thatched roof, running up under the edge of the larger. (Cf. paa, kipaa.)

Kisusuli, n. (1) a kind of kite (cf. shada, buratangi, tiara); (2) anything whirling about, and dazing the eye, a whirligig, a windmill. (Perh. a redupl. form = kisulisuli, and so cf. kisuli, sulika, masusa.)

Kisutu, n. (vi-), a large piece of printed calico, forming a woman's dress in Z. In commerce, 'scarves,' of plain colour, red, blue, white, &c. K. cha Mombee, of Indian manufacture, k. cha Ulaya, of European. (Cf. shiti and nguo.)

Kitaa, n. (vi-), dim. of mtaa, district, quarter, parish. K. cha imamu, the district allotted to a Mahomm edean minister.

*Kitabu, n. (vi-), a book. (Ar., the ki being part of the root. Cf. mkataba, ktaba, katabahu, and syn. msahafu, chuo.)

Kitakataka, n. (vi-), a particle of dust, a speck of dirt, a very small (trifling, worthless) thing, a mote. (From taka, Cf. takasa, takatifu.)

Kitakizo, n. end-piece, at head and foot of a native bedstead (kitanda, which see).

Kitako, n. and adv. (1) part of the body between the buttocks (matako), the fork of the legs; (2) as adv., on the base, or lower end, e.g. weka pipa k., set the barrel on its end. Kaa k., (1) sit down, take a seat, in the native way,—the usual expression,

Kitane, n. (vi-), a small comb. (Cf. tana, chanuo, shanuo.)

Kitanda, n. (vi-), a wooden frame for stretching something on, esp. a native bedstead, i.e. a frame consisting of two side-pieces (mfunbati), two end-pieces (kitakizo), resting on four legs (tendegeo, ma-), and with cord of coconuot fibre or plaited grass-strips interlaced across it. The head is called mchago, the space

Kitale, n. (vi-), a young coconut in the second stage of development, between a kidaka and a daju. See Nazi.

Kitalu, n. (vi-), a stone fence, walled enclosure, wall (of a yard, court, &c.).

Kitambaa, n. (vi-), a piece of cloth or calico, a strip or scrap of any kind of textile fabric for any use, a small cloth, e.g. napkin, towel, duster, handkerchief, bandage, tablecloth,—often with a defining phrase, k. cha mesa (cha kujutia mikono, cha kupangusia, &c.). (Cf. kitambi, utambi, tambi, kitambo, tambo, tamba, utambaa, mtambo, tamba, and others, which however do not seem referable to one root-meaning. See Tamba.)

Kitambi, n. (vi-), (1) a length or piece of cloth, usually of the kind used for head-wear, as a kind of turban,—defined as k. cha kilendo, —also worn round the waist, and as a loin cloth. (2) K. cha tambo, the mesenteric membrane. (Cf. follg. and kitambaa.)

Kitambo, n. and adv. (1) a piece, a little—often of time, a short period, e.g. alikaa k. or muda k., he remained a short time. K. kidogo, after a little, soon, presently (cf. kipande, kidogo, and kitambaa). (2) Also of stature, length, a certain length or height,—mtu wa k., a man of some height, a tall man. (Cf. tambo, pande.)

Kitanda, n. (vi-), a small comb. (Cf. tana, chanuo, shanuo.)

Kitanda, n. (vi-), a wooden frame for stretching something on, esp. a native bedstead, i.e. a frame consisting of two side-pieces (mfunbati), two end-pieces (kitakizo), resting on four legs (tendegeo, ma-), and with cord of coconuot fibre or plaited grass-strips interlaced across it. The head is called mchago, the space underneath (2 ft. to 3 ft. from the ground) m'wungu. Usually a mat only (m'keka) is spread on it, sometimes a mattress (goderoro) and pillows (mto). Kitanda cha mfuni, a weaver's frame, a loom, parts and instruments of which are mdoshi, faraka or mfariki, marufaa, kashabu, mladi. (Cf. tanda, tandika, and for other kinds of bedstead, ulili, samadari.)

Kitandiko, n. (vi-), a spreading, a thing spread, a mantle, anything worn as a covering. (Cf. tanda, kitanda, tandiko.)

Kitanga, n. (vi-), (1) a small piece of matting, usually circular, used as a praying mat (cf. msala), to lay out food on, or goods for sale. M'wungu hufufua nyama kitangani, God saves even animals at the place of slaughter. (2) The palm of the hand, k. cha mkono. (3) The scale or pan of a balance, k. cha misani. (4) A kind of dance, k. cha pepo (cf. ngoma). (Cf. tanga, n. and v.)

Kitango, n. (vi-), (1) gadding about, idling, loitering (cf. tanga, v.), e.g. hana kitango, he is no idle, he sticks to his work, he is steady. (2) Dim. of tango, a kind of small cucumber. (3) A bit of string, lace, shoe-lace, tuft on a mattress, used for fastening things up or together. (Cf. changa, mechango.)

Kitanguo, n. (vi-), act (means, way, &c.) of abolishing, doing away, bringing to nothing. (Cf. tanga, mtanguo.)

*Kitani, n. flax, string, linen. (Ar. See Katani.)

Kitanitani, adv. on the back, backwards,—of position. (Cf. tana, stretch out, spread out, and kichali.)

Kitanzi, n. (vi-), dim. of tansi, small loop, noose, halter, snare, gin, e.g. loop for a button, snare for animals or birds. (Cf. tansi.)

Kitao, n. (vi-), dim. of tao (which see), a small curved (arched, bent) thing. K. cha pingu, the ring of fetters.

Kitapo, n. shivering, shaking, trembling, quivering,—from cold, fear, illness, &c., e.g. the cold stage of fever, kitapo cha homa. (Cf. tapa, e.g. mwili wanita, my body shakes.)

Kitara, n. (vi-), a curved sword, scimitar. (Cf. upanga, sime, jambia, ? Hind.)

Kitasa, n. (vi-), (1) a box-, door-, or cupboard-lock (cf. kufuti, a padlock), a buckle, fastening of a belt; (2) dim. of tasa, small metal pot.

Kitata, n. (vi-), (1) tangle, complication, mess (cf. tata); (2) a splint (for bandaging a broken limb, &c.). (Cf. kigango.)

Kitatange, n. a bright-coloured sea fish with spines, a sea porcupine (Str.).

Kitawa, n. and adv., devout life (act or character), in a religious way. Nguo za k., dress of a devotee, habit of a monk, &c. Fanya k., act as a devotee. Kaa k., lead a secluded life. (Cf. tawa, utawa.)

Kitawi, n. dim. of tawi, a small branch, twig, cutting, bunch or cluster of fruit on a stem; (2) a kind of weed; (3) a tool used in weaving.

Kitaya, n. jaw (cf. taya). Hatamu yatiwa kitayani, the bridge is attached to the jaw.

Kite, n. (1) a cry of pain, a moan, a groan. Piga kite, give a groan. (2) Trust, liking, affection. Hana kite naye, he has no liking for him, he does not trust him.

Kitefutefu, n. also Kitetefu, sobbing, as before or after crying. (Cf. kituken.)

Kiteku, n. an iron tool,—for breaking up floors, digging up stones, &c., a pickaxe. (Cf. tekua.)

Kitembe, n. and adv., a defect in speech, a lisp, thick utterance. Piga (sema) kitembe, speak with a lisp, in a thick indistinct way, as if there was something in the mouth. (Cf. utembe.)

Kitembwe, n. (vi-), a vegetable fibre. (Cf. utembwe, also usi, nzizi, ugomba, unanasi, &c.)
KITENDAWILI

Kitendawili, n. (vi-), riddle, enigma, puzzle, charade, conundrum. The common word for propounding a riddle is tega, e.g. Kitendawili! Here's a riddle! Tega! Out with it! Nyumba yangu kubwa, haina taa, my house is large, but has no lamp. (Ans.) Kaburi, the grave. (From kitenda-wili, i.e. pilii, acting in two ways.)

Kitendo, n. (vi-), act, deed, exploit. (Cf. tenda, tendo, utendaji, &c.)

Kitengele, n. (vi-), also Kichengele, stripe, band of colour, &c. (Cf. more usual mfuo, milia.)

Kitengenya, n. (vi-), ? name of a bird.

Kiteo, n. (vi-), dim. of utea, a small flat basket used for sifting, (Cf. ungo, and tunga, more usual in Z.)

Kitete, n.(vi-), small hollow reed, small pipe. (Cf. utete.)

Kitetemo, n. (vi-), trembling, quivering, shaking, quaking. (Cf. tetema, and kitapo, tikisika.)

*Kithiri, v. get to be more, do in addition, cause to be more, increase, grow. Mitende umekithiri kusaa, the date tree has borne more than ever. Ap. kithiria, -iwa, e.g. kukithiriwa mapenzi, to be loved more than others. Cs. kithiri-sha, -shwa, make more, increase, &c. (Ar. Cf. syn. zidi, more usual in Z.)

Kiti, n. (vi-), a native stool, seat. Hence a seat or chair of any kind. K'. cha kifalme, a throne. K'. cha frasi, a saddle (cf. seruji). (Cf. keti, and perh. mti, kijiti, kiti.)

Kitimbi, n. (vi-), also Kitimf, a mischievous act, trick, artifice, stratagem. (Cf. timsi, and syn. hila.)

*Kitimiri, n. (1) name of the dog in the Seven Sleepers story; (2) name of an evil spirit. The consonants are sometimes written as a kind of charm on letters to ensure safe delivery. (Ar.)

Kitinda, n. (vi-), verbal of tinda (i.e. the root of tinda). Kitinda mibwa, the last, youngest child, lit. the ending of conception.

Kitisho, n. (vi-), terrifying, something terrifying, a terror, a menace, a fearful thing, an overwhelming danger. (Cf. tisha, tisho, utisho, and syn. afa, kiofa.)

Kititi, n. and adv. (1) dim. of titi, nipple (of the breast); (2) a small hare, leveret; (3) kititi cha bahari, the depths of the sea. As adv. (1) fully, wholly, altogether, all at once; (2) straight up, upright, in an erect position. Genge limesimaka k., the cliff rose up perpendicularly. Miti umesimika k., the tree stood straight up, was perpendicular.

Kitiwanga, n. chicken-pox,—also called titiwanga, and tete kwanga. (Cf. ndui.)

Kito, n. (vi-), a precious stone, gem, jewel. (Cf. johari, fusfus.)

Kitobwe, n. (vi-), hole—e.g. one bored by an insect or tool, dimple on the chin. (Cf. toboa,—pass. form in -e, and syn. kitundu.)

Kitoma, n. (vi-), a small round pumpkin, the outer rind or shell of which is dried, hollowed out, and used as a vessel for liquids; (2) descriptive of orchitis, hydrocele. (Cf. boga, pumpkin,—usual in Z.)

Kitone, n. (vi-), dim. of tone, a small drop (of liquid), a small spot. Kanga ni ndege wa vitone-tone, the guinea-fowl is a speckled bird.

Kitongo, adv. sideways, obliquely. Tazama kitongotongo, look askance. (Cf. tongoza, kitongoji, and syn. upande, mishathari.)

Kitongoji, n. (vi-), small village, hamlet. Wote waliyo nje mashamba vitoongojini, all who were out in the country villages. (Cf. tongozra, kitongo, and syn. kijiji.)

Kitoria, n. (vi-), edible fruit of the mitoria (a kind of Landolphia).
Kitoto, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of moto, a small child, baby, like a child, foolishly.

Kitovu, n. (vi-), the navel, the umbilical cord.

Kitoweo, n. (vi-), and Kitooeo, anything eaten as a relish with other food,—meat, fish, curry, &c.—the third common ingredient being mchuzi, gravy. (Cf. towesa, and kiungo.)

Kitu, n. (vi-), (1) a thing, esp. a sensible, material object, but also what is an object to the mind; (2) substance, what a thing is made of, matter. Mtu ni k., lakini si k., a man may be regarded as a thing, but he is not (only) a thing. Pana k., hasira? Is there such a thing as anger? Si k., it is nothing, no matter (cf. haithuru, mamofa). Hapani k., there is nothing, nothing at all, nought. K. gani hicho? What is that? K. chake ni chuma, its substance is iron. (Cf. vtu, and utu. The idea of ‘substance’ is often conveyed by the abstract forms beginning with -vi, and nyama is also used, chiefly of organic substances.)

Kitua, n. (vi-), (1) a small tree, shrub, bush, branch; (2) shade of a tree, shaded spot. Tuketi kituani, let us sit in the shade. (Not usual in Z., cf. kijiti, kivuli, which are the common words.)

Kituko, n. (vi-), a feeling (object, cause, &c.) of fear, a terror, horror, fright, alarm. E.g. inatia washu vituko vyapuhoji, it causes people alarm. Mtu yuna (ameingiwa na) kituko, the man is frightened. Vituko vikutishavuyo, terrors which alarm you. (Cf. tukia, tuko, of incident, accident, and so special sensational alarming occurrence. Or cf. shuka (stuka, situka), shuko, of what is startling, alarming. For syn. cf. kitisho, kioja, afa.)

Kitulizo, n. (vi-), a quieting influence, a soothing force, a comfort, relief, anodyne. (From tua, tuliza. Cf. ututulivu, faraja, baridi.)

Kitumba, n. (vi-), dim. of mtumba, tumba, (1) a small bag, case, cover; (2) a small bud. Gunia ni k. cha Hindi, a gunia is an Indian bag.

Kitumbo, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of tumbo, small stomach, protuberance, swelling; (2) obesity, a large abnormal stomach (cf. kikono, kiguu, of malformation or maiming); (3) as an adv., lala k., lie stomachwise, on the stomach. (Cf. tumbu, mtumbo, mmtumbwi.)

Kitumbua, n. (vi-), a small pancake, a fritter. (Cf. prec.)

Kitumwa, n. and adv. (vi-), (1) dim. of mtumwa, a little slave; (2) service, what is servile or degrading. Fanya k., act as a slave. -a k., of a servile, servile kind. (Cf. tuma, mtumwa, &c.)

Kitunda, n. (vi-), (1) dim. of tunda, a small fruit; (2) a chess pawn (Str.).

Kitunga, n. (vi-), dim. of tunga, a small round flat basket.

Kitunguu, n. (vi-), an onion. Kitunguu somu, garlic. (Sum is Ar. for garlic.)

Kituo, n. (vi-), (1) stopping, resting, cessation, respite, remission, quiet; (2) a stopping-place, encampment, time for rest, stage in a journey; (3) a stop, a pause (e. g. in talking, music, &c.), a note of punctuation, end of a sentence. Roho yake haina k., his spirit is always uneasy. Hana k., he is always on the move (cf. opp. kitango). Maneno yasiyo na k., talk without breaks or pauses. Piga kituo, form an encampment. Ki-sawahili hakina k., the Swahili language has no fixed standard. (Cf. tua, utulivu, tuo, and simama, pu-mzika.)

Kitupa, n. (vi-), dim. of (1) tupa (i. e. chupa in Z.), a small bottle, phial, flask; also of (2) tupa, a small file.

Kitwa, n. (vi-), usually in Z. sounded more as kichwa (which see), head.

Kitwana, n. (vi), a boy or youth of the slave class. Dim. of mtwana, and contr. kijakazi, a slave girl.

Kiu, n. absence of water, drought, want of water, thirstiness, thirst. Kwa na k., kwona k., to be thirsty. Komesha k., quench thirst. K. ya maji, lack of water.

Kiua, n. (vi), (1) verbal from ua, v., that which kills; (2) dim. of ua, a small enclosure, or, a small flower. Also (3) name of a fish (perh. from (1)); (4) an eyelet-hole (Str.).

Kiujaji, n. (vi), something that kills, a fatal, deadly thing, i.e. kitu cha kusisha, e.g. beast of prey, snake, poison, fire-arms. (Cf. ua, v.)

Kiuka, v. step over, get (leap, pass, jump) over, surmount. (Cf. kia, chupa, and also more usual in Z. ruka, vuka.)

Kiuma, n. (vi—contr. vyuma, as plur. of chuma), (1) anything that bites, pierces, stings, hurts (cf. k. mbuzi, the goat-biter, as name of a kind of lizard; k. inzi, the fly-biter, name of an insect); (2) esp. a small pointed or pronged instrument, a fork, an insect's sting. (Cf. uma, n. and v.)

Kiumbe, n. (vi), a created thing, a creature, but usually limited to the rational, or at least animate creation. E.g. pana nyama watili na k. kiomoja, there are two animals and one man. Mtu weumbwa kwa k., lakini si k., na nyama si k., mtu ni k., a tree is a creature like a kiumbe, but it is not strictly a kiumbe, nor is an animal a kiumbe, but only man. (Cf. umba, umbo, maumbile,—and pass. termin. —e.)

Kiumbizi, n. (vi), name of a kind of dance with sticks. (Cf. ngoma.)

Kiume, n. and adv. (seldom viume in plur. for usual —a kiume and ndume), a male, something of the male kind, manly behaviour (bearing, fashion; way, proceeding, &c.), courage, strength, prudence, spirit, heroism. Watoto wa k., boys. Fanya k., act like a man, show spirit, be brave. Sauti ya k., a bass, deep voice. Vaa k., wear a man's clothes, dress as a man. — a. from -ume, agreeing with kitu, e.g. kijana kiume, a young man. (Cf. -ume, kuume, ndume, ume, and contr. kike.)

Kiunga, n. (vi), (1) suburb of a town, suburban residence, outskirts, place adjacent. Ana k. chake na nyumba yake mjini, he has an estate (garden) in the suburbs, and a house in the town. Akaa kiungoni, he lives in the outskirts of the town. The kiunga is often an orchard, fruit or pleasure garden (contr. shaamba which is general, and more in the country). (2) Name of a fish. (Cf. unga, kiungo.)

Kiungo, n. (vi), (1) act (method, means, &c.) of joining, a joining, link, connecting part, connexion, amalgamation. Hence (2) a joint of the animal frame, a member of the body, i.e. kiungo cha mwili. Viungo vimeachana, the joints have come apart. Also achana viungo, loosen the joints, of a man lying at ease,—so too jitupe viungo, of a sprawling attitude. Makuti ya kiungo, or ya viungo, coconut leaves prepared for use as thatch. See Kuti. (3) Something which seasons, gives a taste or relish to, food, e.g. sauce, pickle, salt, vinegar, &c., i.e. mchuzi, achali, chumvi, siki. (Cf. unga, v.)

Kiunguja, n. and adv., the dialect of Swahili used in Zanzibar city and neighbourhood, as contrasted with the kindred dialects of the coast (kimurua), of Mombasa (kimwita), and Lamu (kiamu). Kiunguja is also used in contrast with kiswahili, with reference to points in which the Zanzibar use is different from all or most of the kindred dialects. (A Kiungwana, n. adv. of a gentlemanly, civilized, educated kind (style, fashion, character, &c.), in a way becoming a free man. Mw-anamke wa k., a lady (by birth or manners). -a kiungwana, gentlemanly, courteous, &c. Cf. phrase hajambo ya kiungwana, i.e. he is quite well enough to work, if he chooses. (Cf. -ungwana.)

Kiunza, n. (vi-), a board laid over a corpse, when placed in a grave,—also called mlango wa maiti, the dead man’s door. Sometimes bamboos or sticks are so used.

Kiunzi, n. (vi-), a wooden frame or structure, esp. of shipwrights’ work, the hull of a vessel,—the chief native example of construction in wood. (Cf. unda, mwunzi.)

Kivi, n. (vi-), elbow. (Cf. kisigino.)

Kivimba, n. (vi-), and similarly Kivimbe (or -i), a swelling, a protuberance, girth, circumference, bigness of anything round. K. cha mti, girth of a tree. (Cf. vimba, and mzinga.)

Kivukizo, n. (vi-), act of burning incense, fumigation, substance used in fumigation. (Cf. vukiza.)

Kivuko, n. (vi-), act (place, time, means, &c.) of crossing (e.g. a river, marsh, &c.), crossing-place, ford, ferry; also, fee for crossing. K. kikavu, an isthmus connecting two pieces of land. (Cf. vuka.)

Kivuli, n. (vi-), (1) a shade, a shady place, a shadow; (2) a ghost. (Cf. mvuli, uvuli, mwavuli.)

Kivumbasi, n. a strong-smelling herb, used by the natives to keep off mosquitoes,—a kind of basil. (Cf. rihani.)

Kivumbi, n. and adv. (vi-), a particle of dust, like dust, dusty; also, a dust-cloud, sand-storm (?). (Cf. vumbi.)

Kivumi, n. (vi-), also similarly Kivumo, (1) a rumbling (humming, buzzing, or roaring) sound, rumble, hum, buzz, &c.; (2) a rumour, a report, bit of gossip, hearsay. (Cf. vuma, uvumi.)

Kivunjo, n. (vi-), act (means, way, &c.) of breaking. (Cf. vunja, mwunjo, &c.)

Kivuno, n. (vi-), a harvest, profit, something worth having. Ganda la mua chungu kaona kivuno, a bit of chewed sugar-cane the ant thought a prize. (Cf. vuna, and syn. chumo, faida.)

-kiwa, a. solitary, alone, desolate, abandoned, outcast (with pf. w-, and wa-, of persons, pa- of place, and n- of things,—nyumba ukivwa, shamba ukivwa). (Cf. ukiva, and upweke, peke yake, hame.)

Kiwaa, n. (vi-), dim. of waa, small spot, blotch, patch, stain, blemish, blot. (Cf. kipaku, ila.)

Kiwamba, n. (vi-), a little frame, support, prop. Watoto wanaotambaa na wanaokwenda vichwamba, children who crawl and who walk with something to hold to. (Cf. wambaa, and follg.)

Kiwambaza, n. (vi-), also Kiya-mbaza, Kiambaza, a wall as made by natives, i.e. a screen of sticks fastened to upright poles and filled up with kneaded earth and stones. (Cf. wamba, kiwambo, and ukuta.)
KIWAMBO

Kiwambo, n. (vi-), also Kiyambo, Kiambo, the act (process, means, &c.) of making one thing cover another, and esp. of the thing which covers, overlays, or is stretched over another, e.g. the k. of a drum (ngoma) is the skin strained tightly over it, ngozi iliyowambiwa ngoma. K. cha makutu, a screen of coconaut leaves. K. cha kitanda, the lacing of a bed-frame with cord. (Cf. wamba, kiwambaza.)

Kiwanda, n. (vi-), also Kiwanja, a plot of ground, used for occupation rather than cultivation, whether open or enclosed, i.e. a yard, premises, &c. uncovered or covered, i.e. a shed, a workshop, e.g. unipatie k., nataka kujenga nyumba, get me a piece of ground, I want to build a house. Hii ilikwa nyumba, imevunjika, sasa ni k. tu, this was a house, but it was taken down, and now it is only a piece of ground. Akatiwa kiwanda nani kushona nguo, he was put in a workshop to learn tailoring. (Cf. uwanda, uwanja.)

Kiwango, n. (vi-), (1) number, a number (cf. wanga, and cheo. Kiwango is the B. word, but in Z. represented almost entirely by the Ar. hesahe and daraja.) (2) Importance, account, dignity, position; (3) behaviour or duties proper to a position, province, sphere of action. Ni k. changu kisema, it is my duty (it is proper for me) to speak thus. K. cha mtumwa, the position of a slave.

Kiwavi, n. (vi-), a nettle, sea nettle (Str.).

Kiwe, n. (vi-), pimple, vesicle, pustule,—as on the head after shaving the hair. (Cf. upele.)

Kiweko, n. (vi-), also Kiwiko (cf. tweka, and twika), (1) act, &c. of placing (see Ki- and Weka), place for putting, placing, resting, position; (2) pedestal, base, rest, socket. Used of wrist, k. cha mkono, and ankle, k. cha mguu. (Cf. weko, kisigino, kifundo.)

Kiwele, n. (vi-), milk-gland of a female animal, udder.

Kiwembe, n. (vi-), dim. of kwembe, a small razor, a knife. (Cf. kisu, kijembe.)

Kiweo, n. (vi-), thigh, ham, esp. of animals. (Cf. paja, more usual in Z.)

Kiwete, n. and adv. (1) lameness, crippled condition; (2) a crippled person, a cripple; (3) in a lame, halting, crippled way. Kwenda k., walk lamely. -a k., crippled. Yu k., ana k., he is lame. (Cf. kilema, kiguu, chechemea.)

Kiwi, n. (vi-), (1) stout stick, bar of wood, set against a door, inside, as a fastening, &c. (cf. komeo, pingi); (2) state of being dazzled, dazed, unable to see clearly, i.e. k. cha macho. Jua lafanyka k. cha macho, the sun blinds me, dazzles me. Haoni usiku, ana k., he does not see at night, his sight is defective.

Kiwiko, n. (vi-). See Kiweco.

Kiwilwili, n. and adv. (vi-), variously used as (1) the body in general, of man, animals, birds, &c., like mwili; (2) the main part of the body, the trunk, i.e. not with the head or limbs or both; (3) a part of the body, member, limb; (4) bulk, girth, size (cf. kivimba, unene). Kuzikwa kwa fisi, si k. tu? to be buried by a hyena, is not that just leaving the body as it is, no grave at all? Viwilwili vyangu vyote vizima, all my members are whole. K. chake chapataje? What does its bulk come to? What does it measure round? As adv., in a bodily form. (Cf. mwili. Dist. -wili, two, kiwili, &c.)

Kiwimawima, adv. in an erect position, upright, perpendicular, steep, e.g. of a steep hill, precipice. (Cf. simama, ima, ?wima.)
Kiwimbi, n. and adv. (vi-), dim. of wimbi, wavelet, ripple, eddy. As adv., like a wave. Kama wimbi, undulating, with ridges, hillocks, &c.

Kiwingu, n. (vi-), dim. of wingu, a small cloud.

Kyama, n. the general resurrection of the dead, as conceived by Mahommedans, lit. standing up, rising up. (Ar. Cf. ufunjio.)

Kyambasa, n. (vi-). See Kivumbasa.

Kiyoja, n. (vi-), a mushroom.

Kiyowe, n. (vi-), cry, shout, scream, esp. of a call for help. Piga k., cry out for help. (Cf. ukulele, kilo, kigilegele, shine.)

Kiza, n. (vi-), more usually gisa in Z., darkness, gloom, dimness, night. See Giza.

Kizalia, n. (vi-), that which is born in a given place, home-born, indigenous, native, e.g. of home-born slaves. Huyu k. Unguja, this man was born in Zanzibar. (Cf. mzalia, zaaz, and kikulia, kimelea.)

Kiza, n. (vi-), a product, production, offspring. (Cf. zaaz, zao.)

Kizazi, n. (vi-), any part or step in causing birth, or being born, procreation, generation. Usually (1) birth, production of offspring, being born. Haya niliyoandika ya k. cha Buge, this is my account of the circumstances of Buge’s birth. Ana k., he has birth, he is a man of family. (2) That which is born, a birth, offspring, whether individually a child, a young one, or collectively ‘a generation.’ K. hiki, the present generation. (Cf. zaaz, uzazi, mzazi.)

Kizee, n. (vi-), and adv., (1) an old person, or thing, esp. an old woman, crone, hag; (2) in antiquated style, old-fashioned. -a kizee, antique, old, old-fashioned (cf. -a kikale). Enda kizee, walk like an old person. (Cf. -see, mzee, and perh. zaa.)

Kizembe, n. and adv. (vi-), idling, slack (remiss, negligent) conduct or act. (Cf. -zembe, uvu, ulegevu.)

Kizibo, n. (vi-), (1) anything used to stop a hole or opening, a stopper, plug, cork, bung, &c., and (2) fig. of what is used merely for filling a hole, i.e. stop-gap, padding, temporary expedient. (Cf. siba, mziibo.)

Kizimba, n. (vi-), also Kizimbi, a cage with bars, coop for fowls, &c. (Cf. kirimba, tundu.)

Kizimwe, n. (vi-), also Kizimwi, (1) something dried up, dead, withered. Nazi kizimwe, a coconut without milk or nutty substance, dry and empty (cf. zima and -zimwe). (2) smut, blight (on cereals, &c.); (3) a fairy, an evil spirit. (Cf. zimwi, mziimu.)

Kizinga, n. (vi-), dim. of mzanga, which see.

Kizingiti, n. (vi-), top or bottom piece of the frame of a door or window, threshold, sill, lintel; (2) bar of a river, reef of rocks, natural dam, weir. Mlango wa k., opening in a bar or reef, sluice, floodgate. (Cf. mlango, kimandu, mwimo.)

Kizingo, n. (vi-), turning, winding, curve, bend, e.g. of a river, road. -a k., sinuous, winding, roundabout. Also kizingozingo. (Cf. nzingo, zinga, zunguka.)

Kizio, n. (vi-), a half of a cocoonut, i.e. kizio cha nazi, and of other fruit, cut in halves.

Kiziwi, n. (vi-), a deaf person. (Cf. ukiziwi, and possibly siba. For form cf. kipofu, kizee, kibiongo, kilima, &c.)

Kizizi, n. (vi-), small stall, &c.

Dim. of zizi, which see.

Kizua, n. See Mazua.

Kizuio, n. (vi-) and Kizuzo (and -zi), restraining, keeping back, restraint, obstruction, hindrance, stopper. (Cf. zuio, zuia, pina, mgogoro.)

Kizuka, n. (vi-), (1) something which appears suddenly, thing seldom seen, an apparition, phantom, ghost, portent. Hence (2) fairy, evil spirit, ghost; (3) and also a widow living in seclusion after her husband's death. (Cf. zuka, kizushi.)

Kizuli, n. also Kisuli, giddiness, mental confusion. (Cf. zulu, mazua, zulika.)

Kizungu, n. and adv., a European language, in European style. Sema k., speak a European language. Vaa k., wear European dress. -a k., European. (Cf. mzungu (wa- and mi-), and perh. zunguka and follg.)

Kizunguzungu, n. (vi-), giddiness, whirl, i.e. kizunguzungu cha kichwa, vertigo. Mkondo wa k., an eddy, whirlpool. Mzungu mambo yake ni kizunguzungu, a European's ways makes one's head go round. (Cf. kizua, mazua, and zunguka, mzungu.)

Kizushi, n. (vi-), a person or thing suddenly appearing, i.e. (1) newcomer, intruder, heretic, revolutionist; (2) novelty, phenomenon, sensation, apparition. Mwana wa mtu ni kizushi, akizuka zuka naye, i.e. there is no knowing what a man may do, best follow all his movements. (Cf. zuza, suka, kizuka, uzushi.)

Kizuu, n. (vi-), a kind of evil spirit, capable of being employed to enter houses in the form of rats and kill people by devouring their livers. (?Cf. prec. and zuza, also see Uchawi.)

Ko is a form of the Demonstr. Pfx. ku, the o (a) either denoting reference or relative distance, 'there'; (b) or else giving it the force of a relative pronoun, 'where' (see Ku). Ko (1) forms part of the Demonstr. adv. huko and kuko, which see; (2) affixed to nui- and Pers. Pfx. and the verb -wa or its equivalents, has a demonstrative force usually local, 'there, thence, thither,' e.g. yuko, he is there. Ndiko atiko, that is where he is. (3) In verb-forms generally is the form of relative pronoun agreeing with the Infin. Mood, and nouns and pronouns, &c. with the Pfx. ku. Huko anakokwenda, there where he is going. Kufa kulikompata, the death which overtook him. Ko as a separate word only appears in such a phrase as ko kote, wherever, under whatever circumstances. (Cf. huko, ku, mo, po.)

Koa, n. (1) (ma-), a band of thin metal plate, esp. as worn for ornament on the neck or arm, e.g. k. la fetha, a silver armlet; k. la shingo, a neck ring (sometimes broadened into a crescent shape in front) (cf. ukoa, kikoa, also furungu, kikuku, and for ornaments generally urembo). (2) (—, and ma-), a snail, slug. Ute wa k., the slime of a snail. (Cf. konokono.)

Kobe, n. (ma-), a land tortoise. (Cf. kasa, ng'amba. Dist. mkobe, a wallet.)

Koboa, v. See Goboa.

Kobwe, n. a kind of bean, like kunde, sold in Z.

Koche, n. (ma-), the edible fruit of a kind of palm. See Mkochi.

*Kodi, n. rent, tax, customs. (?Hind. Cf. Ar. ushuru.)

Kodoa, v. esp. with macho, open the eyes wide, stare, glare. Ap. kodolea (macho), -owa, stare at, gaze at fixedly with eyes wide open. Kwani kunikodolea macho? Why are you staring at me? (Cf. ngariza, kasa macho.)

Kodwe, n. small stone, used as a marble in games,—as are korosho and komwe. (Cf. jiwe, mbeve.)

Kofi, n. (ma-), (1) flat of the hand, the palm extended or upturned; (2) a blow with the open hand, slap, box on the ears; (3) as much as can be held on the palm of the upturned hand. Piga k., (1) slap, box on the ear, (2) clap the hands. (Cf. mkono, and for handfull ukuwi, kikoti, chopā, konzi.)

*Kofa, n. cap,—in Z. usually a fez of red cloth, or of white linen, often elaborately stitched. Used also of any foreign head-cover. Vaa k., put on a cap. Vua k., take off a cap. (Cf. chapeo.)
KOGA lewa, e.g. mchanga unakolewa na maji, the sand is swept away by the water. (Cf. zoa, fagia.)

Kokomoka, v. belch, vomit violently, and fig. blurt out, burst out with. (Cf. bubuyika, and tapika.)

Kokota, v. drag, haul, tug at, pull along, draw. K. gari, draw a cart (carriage). K. roho, used of slow painful breathing. K. maneno, of slow dragging speech, difficult articulation. K. kazi, work slowly. Jikokota, move slowly (reluctantly, &c.). Ps. kokotwa. Nt. kokoteka. Ap. kokot-za, -ezwa, e.g. kamba sa kukokotea, cords to draw with. Cs. kokot-eza, -ezwa, e.g. kokotesa kazi, work slowly (whether from care or laziness). (Contr. kimbisa, and cf. endelesa.) (Cf. -kokotevu, kokoto, and syn. vuta.) -kokotevu, a. (same with D 5 (S), D 6), dragging, dilatory, slow. (Cf. prec.)

Kokota, v. urinate, make water. Ap. kojolea. Kopo (chombo, bakuli) la kukojolea, chamber-pot. Cs. kojosa, e.g. dawa ya kukojosa, a diuretic. (Cf. follg. and mkojo, also nya, and Ar. tabawali.)

Kojosi, n. urine (for common mkojo). Also, that which causes micturition. (Cf. prec.)

Koka, n. set on fire (or? heat up, e.g. kokeni mabwi ya moto, of burning rubber). Seldom in Z., for common tia (or, choma) moto, washa. Also koka for kuoka, bake (see Oka, and cf. koga for kuoga). (Perh. cf. chocha, and obs. kokoa.)

Koko, n. (— and ma), (1) stone of a fruit,—the kernel being kiini (cf. kokwa); (2) bush, underwood, jungle. Mbwa koko, a bush-dog, i.e. in a semi-wild state. Kaa makoko, small mud crabs (cf. mkoko). (Dist. koko for, or plur. of, ukoko.)

Kokoa, v. sweep up, collect together in a heap,—of dust, rubbish, &c., i.e. k. matakataka. Ps. koko-Kolekole, n. name of a large fish, ? dolphin.

Koleo, n. (―, and ma-), a smith's tool for handling his work, i.e. kidude cha kushikia chuma, a pair of tongs, e.g. kusima koleo si mwisho wa uhunzi, cooling the tongs is not the end of the job. Also (1) any similar instrument, pincers, &c.; (2) notch in an arrow (held on the string with the fingers). (Cf. prec.)

*Koli, n. and Koli, a ship's papers. (? Ar. kul.)

Koma, v. cease, come to an end, stop, decease. Also sometimes act., bring to an end, close. Lisilo mkomava, kujikoma lilo, what has no one to end it, ends of itself. Wali-pokoma nusu ya njia, when they ended half the journey. Yali- pokoma magrebi, when evening set in. Koma wije, stop coming further. Cs. kom-essa, -esha, make stop, bring to an end, thwart, forbid, kill,—usually implying some force or abruptness. Komessa maneno, stop conversation, cut short a debate. (Cf. kikomo, ukomo, ?ukoma, and syn. isha, nyamaa, tindika.) — n. (ma-), the edible fruit of a kind of palm, mkoma (same as koche, a local name).

Kooma, v. (1) be fully ripe, be full grown (developed, matured), and so (2) be past the prime, fall off, begin to lose powers, decline, become demoralized. Cs. komaza, unduly stimulate, over-excite, make game of, mock. Usimene nakukoma, do not say I am talking improperly with you. (Cf. petuka, balahi, -zima.)

Komaia, n. (ma-), fruit of the tree

Mkomaia, which see.

Komamanga, n. (ma-), pomegranate, the fruit of the mkomamanga. (Cf. mkoma, and manga.)

Komba, v. scrape out, hollow out, clean out. E. g. k.ngoma, make a drum (by hollowing it out). K, dafa, scrape out the nutty part of a cocoanut. Cf. dafa la kukomba, a cocoanut full of milk, but beginning to form the soft nutty substance inside. K. chungu, clean out a cooking pot. K. taka (maji, vumbi), clean out dirt (water, dust). K. mtlu mali, clear a man out of his money, ruin, impoverish. Ps. kombwa. Nt. komba, be cleaned or cleared out. Ap. komb-ec, -ecwa,—also kemb-elca, -elewa, -eleka, -elela, -esheva, e.g. amekomeleka mali, he has lost every penny he had. Kombelesha mchusi kwa wali, sop up the gravy with the rice. Cs. kemb-essa, -esha. (Cf. ukombe, komba, kombe, kikombe, komba, kikomba, kombeo, and ?kumba.)

Komba, n. a small racoon-like animal, galago,—common in Z. and very destructive to cocoanuts. (Cf. prec.)

Kombamoyo, n. (ma-), a long thin straight pole. Used as rafters in constructing the roof of native huts, resting on the side poles (nguso) and carrying the cross-pieces (fito) and thatch.

Kombe, n. (―, and ma-), (1) anything hollowed or scraped out, flat and slightly curved, and also (2) an instrument suited for scraping or hollowing. Hence various meanings, e.g. (1) a large dish, pan, or platter of earthenware, charger (cf. kikombe). (2) bivalve shell-fish and their shells, such as oysters, &c., k. ya pwani (cf. kome, konokono, kauli). (3) Shoulder blade, k. la bega, or la mkono, also of an empty skull, k. la kichwa (cf. kichwa, bipuru, fumu or fuu). (4) Like ukombe, a gouge, scraper, e.g. miiba na kombe za kunichoma, thorns and sharp edges hurting me. Also of the fluke of an anchor, baura ya makombe mawili, a European anchor with two flukes. (Cf. komba, v. and note, and ukombe.)

Kombeo, n. (ma-), a sling—for throwing stones.

Kombo, n. (ma-), (1) a scrap, a scraping, a bit of food remaining
KOMBOA 176  KONGOA

Komoa, v. unbar, i.e. remove the komeo. Ps. komolewa. Ap. komelewa, -lewa. (Cf. komea.)

Komwe, n. (ma-), seed of a plant mkomwe, used as counters in playing games.

Konda, v. also Gonda, grow thin, become lean, be emaciated, get into low condition of health or body, pine. Cs. kond-esha, -eshwa, cause to get thin, wear out, dispirit, cause to pine (languish). Fikondesha, worry oneself by brooding, taking a matter too much to heart.

Kondavi, n. (ma-), a broad belt of beads worked in patterns,—worn by women. (Cf. ushanga, utunda.)

Konde, n. (ma-), (1) fist, closed hand. Piga k., strike with the fist (knuckles of the closed hand), i.e. kwa nyuma ya vidole. Piga moyo k., take courage, cheer up, make a bold resolve (cf. ngumii, konsi). (2) A field, clearing, cultivated piece of ground. Lima k., till a plot of land. (Cf. shamba.)

Kondo, n. Kondo ya nyuma, after-birth. (Cf. mkondo. Kondo, war, is not used in Z.)

Kondoo, n. (—, and ma-), a sheep. Chunga k., keep sheep, act as shepherd. Manyoya ya k., wool, fleece. K. mume (or, ndume), a ram. K. jike, ewe. (Cf. kikondoo. Sheep, mostly of the fat-tailed kind, are imported to Z., but not kept or bred there.)

Konga, v. grow old, get feeble with age. Mzee huyu amekonga, havesi kufanya kazi, this old man is weak with age, he cannot work. Cs. kong-esha, -eshwa, make old, add to the age of, wear out, e.g. with nagging or abuse. (Cf. -kongwe, kongoja.)

Konge, n. plur. of ukonge, fibres of a kind of Sansevieria (m Konge), used for making string and cord. See Mkonge.

Kongo, n. also Koongo. See Korongo.

Kongoa, v. draw out, cut out, extract, disengage. K. mismari, draw a nail. K. jino, extract a tooth (commonly ng’oa jino). Walikongo pembe, they cut out the (elephant’s) tusks. K. unyele, draw out a hair. Ap. kongo-lea, -lewa, take to pieces, break up, e.g. a frame of any sort, a box, a boat. Mashua yote ilikongolewa vipande, the whole boat was taken to pieces. Kongoolea sanduku, open a case,—by extracting the nails, &c. (Cf. ng’oa, kongomana.)

Kongoja, v. walk feebly (with difficulty), totter, stagger. Ap. kongoj-ea, -eua, e.g. simbo la kuko-njoea, a stick to steady one’s steps with. Jikongoea, prop oneself, steady oneself,—as with a stick. Nipe gongo la ngu mkongojo nipate kujikongoea, give me my staff that I walk with, so that I may steady myself. (Cf. konga, -kongwe, mkongojo.)

Kongomana, v. meet together, be united, be joined, be assembled, be heaped (gathered, piled) together. Cs. kongomishana, gather, assemble, unite, weld, heap together, agglomerate. (Cf. mkongomana, kongoa, and the more common kuta, kutana, kutanisha, kusanya, &c.)

Kongomea, v. fasten up, nail up, put together. Akazikongomea ngu zangu katika bweta, and he nailed up all my clothes in a trunk. (Cf. prec.)

Kongomeo, n. (ma-), a fastening, also ?larynx, Adam’s apple. (Cf. prec.)

Kongwa, n. (ma-), a forked stick, a slave stick, i.e. a stick or pole with a forked end in which the slave is secured by the neck with an iron crosspin. (Cf. mpanda, panda la miti.)

Kongwe, n. a lead in singing. Toa k., start a song, give a lead, lead off. (Cf. bwaga umbo.)

Kongwe, a. old, worn-out, aged, past work. Mee mkongwe, a feeble old man. (Cf. konga, kikongwe, ukongwe.)

Konka, v. take a sip of, get a drop of,—used of water enough to allay, not quench, thirst, i.e. konka maji. (Cf. onja.)

Kono, n. (ma-), something that projects, sticks out, e.g. a handle, a shoot or sprig of a plant. (Cf. mkono, kikono, ukono.)

Konoa, v. See Konyoa.

Konokono, n. (ma-), a snail. (Cf. koka.)

Konyeza, v. make a covert sign to, i.e. in order to attract notice, to warn, to give a hint to, e.g. k. kwa macho, raise the eyebrows, wink; k. kwa mkono, make a significant gesture. Ap. konye-za, -eua. (Cf. follg. and ashiria, onya. Kr. has konya, deceive, hoodwink,—not usual in Z.)

Konyezo, n. (ma-), a sign, hint, suggestion, warning. (Cf. prec.)

Konyoa, v. break off, pluck off, tear off, esp. with some instrument, e.g. of removing the grains from a cob of maize, by pounding, i.e. k. mahindi. K. embe, peel a mango with a knife. Also k. muango, dismember, quarter. Ps. konyolewa. Nt. konyoka. Ap. konyo-lea, -lewa.

Konzi, n. (—, and ma-), (1) closed fist. Piga k., rap with the knuckles, with the back of the hand. (2) A fistful, as much as can be taken up in the closed fingers, i.e. vidole vili-vyofumbwa, e.g. teka konzi mbili za mchele, take two fistfuls of rice. (Cf. konde, ngumi, also kof, chopa.)

Konzo, n. (ma-), large stick, stake, or pole,—with the end pointed and hardened with fire, used as weapon, hunting-spear, or in pitfalls set for large animals. (Cf. mkonzo, mkuki.)

Koo, n. (ma-), (1) throat; (a) aliment of the throat; (b) mucus from throat, expectoration (cf. kohoa, as if kohoo and kohazi). (2) Of a breeding animal or bird, e.g. k. la kuku, a breeding fowl. K. la mbugi, a breeding goat (an idiomatic inversion of kuku wa koo, cf. pandikizi la mtu, Kopa, n. (ma-), a slice of dried cassava (mhogo). (Cf. mhogo, ubale.)

Kopa, v. (1) get food or money on credit, borrow for trading purposes, i.e. on promise to account for purposes, i.e. on promise to account for purposes, i.e. to get money or goods on credit. K. mali (nguo, sitha), borrow goods (cloth, cash). (2) Shindle, cheat, defraud, get on false pretences. Ps. kopwa, i.e. (1) (of things) be borrowed; (2) (of persons) be swindled. Ap. kop-za, -ewa, borrow from (for, with, &c.), cheat by (for, with, &c.), e.g. nimukopwa nguo kwa Baniani kwa reale mbili, kwa muda wa miizi miwili, I have borrowed cloth for you from the Banian for two dollars on a credit of two months. Cs. kop-esha, -eshwa, -eshea, -eshwa, lend, supply goods on credit (to), advance as a loan, e.g. mti pe mtu kadii akukopeseavyo, pay him as much as he advances to you. (Cf. Ar. azimu, karithi.)

Kope, n. (—, and ma-), (1) burnt end of the wick of candle or lamp, snuff, i.e. kope la taa, kope la utambi; (2) eye-lid, e.g. nje ya kope chozi likichunza, outside the eye-lid a tear was trickling. Kwa kope la juu na chini, in the twinking of an eye. (Cf. ukope, kikope, kopesa.)

Kopesa, v. kopesa-macho, wink. (Cf. kope, pepesa macho, finya macho.)

Kopo, n. (—, and ma-), used very generally of any vessel of metal (esp. of tin, zinc, sheet iron), can, mug, pot, jug, cup, &c.—the size being relatively indicated by the declension, e.g. kikopo, a small jug, makopo, a very large jug. Used also of other metal articles, e.g. kopo la majo, a gutter, rain spout. (Cf. tasa, sufuria, and for other vessels generally chombo, chungu.)

*Kora, v. please, satisfy, be on good (comfortable, confidential) terms with, be loved by. Chakula hiki kimenikora, this food has satisfied me. Ps. korwa, e.g. be loved by, have one's wishes met by, be pleased with. (Ar. Cf. syn. penkasa, rithisha.)

*Korani, n. the Coran, the Mahomedan Bible. (Cf. sura, chapter; juzu, aya, short section; soma and hitima for reading.)

*Korija, n. and Korja, a score, a lot of twenty, twenty together. Used in selling poles, strings of beads, lengths of cloth, &c.

*Korodani, n. sheave of a pulley. (?Ar. Cf. roda.)

-Korofi, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) evil-minded, tyrannical, destructive, malignant, brutal, savage; (2) inauspicious, of ill omen, unlucky. Mkorofi sana huyu, he is a monster of cruelty. Ndege korofi, an evil (inauspicious, unlucky) omen. (Cf. follg. and ukorofi.)

Koroika, v. be treated brutally, be ruined. Also Cs. korof-isha, -ishwa, treat with cruelty, bring to ruin. (Cf. prec., and syn. haribika, angamia.)

Koroma, v. snore, snort, groan, —and of similar sounds. Amesikia wamekoroma, he has heard them snoring. — n. (ma-), (1) a snore, snoring, snort (Cf. mkoromo, mkoromaji, wsono). (2) A cocoanut just becoming ripe, the milk drying, the nutty part formed and hardening, between the stages of dafu and nasi. See Nazi.

Korongo, n. (ma-), (1) a hole dibbled or dug in the ground for planting or sowing. Mamalaka ya kupiga makorongo na kupiga mrapba, the office of making the holes and marking out the plots. (2) Name of a crane, and so fig. used of a lean, lanky person.

Kororo, n. (ma-), a crested guinea-fowl,—the common sort being kanga.

Korosh, n. (ma-), a cashew nut, produced by the tree mbibo or mkanjua. (Cf. bido, dunge.)

Koru, n. also Kuro, a water-buck.

Kosa, v. (1) make a mistake (as to), do wrong (to), offend (against), go astray (in), blunder, err; (2) fail to get (hit, find, attain), miss (a mark), fall short, be deficient, be defective; (3) lack, be without, lose, suffer loss of. E.g. nimekosa, I have failed, done wrong, sinned. Hambunikosa nenu hatta siku moja, you never treated me badly (failed in duty to me) in any particular. Mtumakosa mali hawi mtu mbale ya watu, a man without money is not a man in the sight of men. Amemkosa nduguye, he has lost his brother. K. njia, miss the road. K. nyama, miss (shooting) an animal. K. shabaha, miss the mark. Kosakosa, make a series of blunders. Ps. kosa. Nt. koseka, e.g. be done wrongly,—with Rp. kosekana, e.g. be missing, be wanting, be not to be had, fail. Mungu hakosekani wala hafi, God never fails (is absent) or dies. Neno hili limekoseka, this affair has been bungled. Ap. kos-a, -ewa, offend (against, about, &c.). Kosea sheria, commit a legal offence. Cs. kos-esha, -esha, cause to do wrong, mislead. Rp. kosana, e.g. miss each other, quarrel, treat each other badly, disagree. (Cf. -kosefu, ukosefu, ukosekano.) — n. (ma-), mistake, a miss, error, fault, failing, failure, defect, wrongdoing, sin. Sikosa lake, it is not his fault. Tia kosani, blame, accuse. Sahihisha makosa, correct mistakes.

-Kosefu, n. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), full of (given to, liable to) mistakes, erroneous, defective, &c. (Cf. prec.)
man. Kuna safari leo, there is a journey to-day. (2) May refer to an Infinitive or noun beginning with ku-, e.g. kusafiri kumekwisha, travelling is over. (3) Is the objective Pfx. of 2 Pers. Sing., e.g. nakupenda, I love you. Kwenda huko kulikufaa, going there did you good. And, with -eni following, the root ku supplies one form of the objective Pfx. of 2 Pers. Plur. Nakumbieni, I tell you (people). (b) As a sign of tense, ku, with the Negat. Pers. Pfx. preceding it, is the sign of the Past Tense of the Negat. Conjurg., e.g. sikuja, I did not know. Hazikupendwa, they have not been liked. Kuja huku hakukukukumbusha, coming here did not remind you. (c) Ku is the sign of the Infinit. Mood in all verbs, e.g. kuwa, kwenda, kupenda, &c. (d) Ku is inserted, without specific meaning, before the root of all monosyllabic verbs (i.e. -fa, -cha, -la, -pa, -nya, -fa, -wa), and of some disyllabic verbs occasionally (e.g. isha, uza, oga, ota), after all tense signs, except a, ja, ka, ki, ku, nga (which alone are capable of bearing an accent), e.g. alikuja, amekuja, atapuja, not ali, amepa, ataja. Obs. ku as Infinitive sign is sometimes dropped, esp. when a verb preceding and governing the Infinitive is a semi-auxiliary, e.g. nimekwiisha pata (for kupata), I have got. Ataka fanya, he wants to do it. Aenda tafuta, he goes to search. 2. In adjectives, ku- is the pfx. agreeing (a) with D 8; (b) like pangu and mwangu, with nouns of the Locative form, ending in -ni, e.g. kukuwa kwake nyumbani kwangu, his sojourn in my house. 3. Ku is also used, but only in connexion with a few roots, to form (a) nouns, e.g. kuzimu, the world of spirits, the state or place of departed souls, kumoja, one kind, e.g. kazi setu hazina kumoja, our work is not all of one kind; kushoto, the left-hand, as indi-cating position generally; kuume, the right-hand position, also, the male sex, kuke, the female sex, e.g. jamaa ya kueni, a relation, in the female line, or, on the mother’s side. Also n. kule, that place (case, condition, &c.), huku, and kwetu, our country, home, as virtual nouns. (b) Adverbs, e.g. upanga unakata kiwiti, the sword cuts on both sides, is double-edged. Kaa kushoto, sit on the left. Also kule, there, huku, here, kuku huku, just here. It is in these advs. and in its use as a person-pfx., that a positive demonstrative meaning of ku appears, viz. as an element denoting general reference to circumstances, condition, state, but esp. to locality, i.e. indicating ‘circumstances under which’ or ‘place where’ something occurs. (c) The prep. kwa, i.e. ku-a. See -a. (Cf. ko, also pa, po, and mu, mo.)

Kua, v. grow, grow up, get large, increase, become great,—used of the growth of men and animals (but ota, mea, ‘usual of plants, and similar growths). Mito umleuvyo naivyo akuaulyo, as you bring a child up, so he grows up. Ap. ku-lia, -liwa, e.g. (1) grow up in (at, by, for, &c.). E.g. mito huyu amekulisia hapa, this child has grown up here (cf. kikulia). Also apparently (2) be (too) great for, be heavy to, burden, be hard for, e.g. amekulisia kufanya kazi hii, he has found the job too hard for him. Neno hili limemkulisa, kubwa, zito, the thing is too much for him, it is big and weighty (cf. -kulifu). Cs. kuza, kuwza, make great, enlarge, magnify, increase, glorify. E.g. kuza Sultan, make the Sultan powerful. Muungu amekuza umri wake, God has prolonged your life. (Cf. -kuu, -kuwaa, tutuka, tukuza, kikulia, ukulifu.)

Kuaheri, Kuaherini, good-bye, adieu!—for kwa heri. See Heri.

*Kuba, n. vaulted roof, arched structure, cupola, dome. Dim. and adv. kikuba. (Ar. Cf. zege. Kuba is sometimes used for kubwa, great. Dist. guba, ghubba.)

*Kubali, v. accept, approve, acknowledge, assent (to), agree (to), welcome. Ps. kubaliwa. Nt. kubaliika, e.g. be acceptable, be capable of acceptance. Nt. kubaliia, -iwa, accept from (about, at, &c.). Cs. kubali-sha, -shwa, force to accept, procure acceptance by, win over, persuade, &c. Rp. kubaliiana, e.g. be on good terms. (Cf. kibali, ukubali, and syn. kiri, rithia, ithini.)

Kubazi, n. (ma-), a plain kind of sandal with no ornamental work. (Cf. kiatu, mtalawanda.)

-kubwa, a. (kubwa with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D6,—sometimes pronounced kuba, (1) great, big, large, spacious, extensive, e.g. nyumba k., a large house; shamba k., an extensive estate, large garden. Kisu kikubwa, a large knife. (2) Great in power (influence, rank, importance, &c.), important, significant. Bwana mkubwa, bibi mkubwa, is a usual term of respectful address or reference. Neno limekubwa kubwa, halikataliki, the matter has become urgent, it cannot be met with a negative. Asiosikia mkubwa, huona makubwa, he who disregards a superior, generally finds serious consequences. (3) Elder, oldest. Ndugu yangu mkubwa, my elder brother. (4) -kubwa is used with a noun or another adjective simply to intensify its meaning, as having a quality in a marked way or high degree, like the adv. sangi, e.g. mwivi mkubwa, a regular thief. Mtu huyu ni mliri mkubwa, this fellow is an utter drunkard.

Obs. mkubwa (wa-) is often used as a noun,—superior, chief, manager, master, director; &c. (Cf. kuu and note on the comparative meaning, also kua, tukuza, &c.)

Kueha, v. (1) Infin. Act. of -cha, (a) fear, (b) dawn. See -cha. (2) Verbal n. of cha, the dawn, morning, all the night. See -cha. (3) Plur. of ukueha, nails, claws, and sometimes sing. kucha (ma-), of size.

Kuchewa, Kuchwa, Ps. forms from kucha. See -cha, v.

*Kufulli, n. (—, and ma-), a padlock. (Ar. Cf. kitasa.)

*Kufuru, v. (1) treat with mockery or contempt, revile, curse, and esp. (2) with reference to religion, become an unbeliever, apostatize, blaspheme, commit sacrilege, renounce God. Ps. kufurwa. Nt. kufurika. Ap. kufur-ia, -iwa. Cs. kufur-isha, -ishwa, make (consider, treat as, force to be, urge to be, &c.) an unbeliever, cause to blaspheme. (Ar. Cf. ukufuru, ukafiri, -kafiri.)

Kuguni, n. a hartebeest.

*Kuhani, n. (ma-). See Kahini, Mkohani. (Ar.)

Kuke, n. and Kuuko (from -ke,—like uke and kike, of sex,—but more generalized), the female kind, feminine status or condition,—used only in a few adjectival phrases. Mkono wa kuke, the left hand, as the (usually) weaker, also wa kike,—but commonly wa kushoto. Opp. to mkono wa kumwe. Kukeni, on the female side, by the mother. Ujamaa wa kukeni, relatives on the mother’s side, in the female line. Contr. ujamaa wa kike, female relatives. (Cf. -ke, and ku.)

Kuko, (1) n. a. and adv. that there, that, there, e.g. kuko ni kusiri, that is nice there. Kupika kuko kwafendesa, that way of cooking is satisfactory. Kwenda kuko, to go yonder. So kwa kuko, a kuko. Kuko huko, just there, on that spot. (A Rd. form from ku, the ko being the form of reference. Cf. kuku, huko, and mowo, papa, &c.) (2) Verb-form, there is there, there is, it is there.

Kuku, (1) n. a fowl, a hen. Mtoto wa (mwana wa, kinds la) k., a chicken,—also faranga, kifaranga.
Koo la k., a breeding fowl. (Cf. posa, jogoo, jimbi. Dist. mkuku, keel.)

(2) n. a. and adv., this here, this, here, e.g. in the phrase kuku kuku, just here, in this very place. (Cf. kuko, and ku-.)

-kukuu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), also -kuukuu, worn out, old, past work, useless from age or wear. (Cf. -kongwe, -chakafu, -bouv.)

*Kulabu, n. a hook, hooked instrument, grapple,—of various kinds. Used for holding work in position, e.g. by a tailor, blacksmith, and on ship board, for fastening clothes, &c. Akapeleka k. yake chini, he let down his hook. Ulimi wangu umetiva k., hauwesi kunena, my tongue has had a hook put in it, it cannot speak. (Ar. Cf. ndoana, kiopo, upembo, nge.)

Kule, used as (1) n. ‘that’ used indefinitely, kule ni mbali, that is a long way off. (2) A form of -le, agreeing with Infin. or noun in ku-. (3) adv. there, in (from, to) that position, &c. Sometimes reduplicated kule kule, just there. Also pronounced kule-e-e,—the final vowel raised in pitch and prolonged in proportion to the distance indicated. (Cf. ku, yule, and kuku, kuko, &c.)

Kulia, v. be great (too great) for, be hard to, weigh on, depress, overwhelmingly, &c. (Prob. appl. form of kua, which see, and follg.)

-kulifu, a. (1) in Ps. sense, of one who is easily tired, discouraged, beaten, one who lacks grit (spirit, perseverance), i.e. remiss, weak-kneed, poor-spirited, &c. (Cf. kulia, kua, and syn. -legevu, -zembe.) But also (2) in Act. sense, oppressive, burdensome, tiresome, fatiguing. (Cf. ukulifu, and ukalifu.)

Kuliko, relative verb-form, (1) that which is, which is, referring to D 8, e.g. kufa kuliko bora, the mode of dying which is noble; (2) where there is,—the ku of general reference (see ku), e.g. peponi kuliko raha, in Paradise where there is rest; but (3) esp. common in comparisons, ‘than’ after an adjective, ‘where there is’ being equivalent to ‘as compared with,’ e.g. yeye mkuhwa kuliko nduguye, he is bigger (taller, older) than his brother; also (4) in the general sense, ‘as to, as regards,’ e.g. kuliko bei ya watumwa, as regards the slave traffic. (See Ku, Li, Ko.)

*Kulla, a. every,—always preceding its noun. (Ar. See Killa.)

Kululu, n. (ma-), a large kind of cowry, a tiger-cowry. So little valued by the native that kupa tulu means ‘to get nothing worth having.’

Kulungu, n. a species of antelope.

Kuma, n. vagina. (Cf. uke.)

Kumba, v. (1) push, shove, press against, jostle. Ps. kumbwa. Nt. kumbika. Ap. kumb-ia, -rwa. Cs. kumb-iza, -izwa, -izia, e.g. push off on to, transfer to. Adamu alinkumbizia mkewe, Adam put it off on his wife. Rp. kumbana, jostle each other, hustle (cf. piga kikumbo, and sukuma). (2) Clear out, take away all, make a clean sweep of, clean. Same derivatives as above. E.g. walikumba biashara yote ya tumbako, they monopolized the whole traffic in tobacco. Mwivi amenikumbia mai, a thief has carried off everything I had. Kumba maji, bale out water. (Cf. komba, and follg.)

Kumba, n. (1) a kumba kumba, miscellaneous, promiscuous, of all and any sort. Safari ya kumbakumba, a caravan of any who could be got together (a scratch lot) (cf. kumba, v.). (2) Kuti la kumba, a whole cocoanut leaf with the fronds plaited all along each side of the central rib. Used for light fences, and enclosures, back yards, &c. See Kuti.

Kumbe, adv. expressing astonishment, pleasant or unpleasant surprise, Lo and behold! What do you think? For a wonder, all of a sudden.

Kumbi, n. (ma-), also Kumvi, Kumfl, the fibrous husk or sheath of various plants, esp. of the cocoa-nut, areca-nut, &c. Kumbi is used collectively (i.e. of the material generally), but the plur. is commonly used. Single fibres are called uzi (pl. nyuzi). The husks are commonly buried in pits on the shore or in a wet place, till the fibres are loosened. They are then taken up, beaten out, and cleaned, and called makumbi ya usumba. (Cf. kumvi, ukumvi, prob. the same word,—like jambia, and jamvia, &c.)

Kumbi, n. plur. of ukumbi, which see.

Kumbikumbi, n. white ants in the flying stage, when they first issue in swarms from the ground. Used as food. (Cf. mchwa.)

Kumbo, n. devastation, depopulation, wholesale destruction. (Cf. kumba, mkumbo.)

-kumbufu, a. having a good memory, thoughtful. (Cf. kumbuka, and fahamifu.)

Kumbuka, v. call to mind, remember, think of, bear in mind, brood over, i.e. mental attention directed usually to the past, or a subject connected with it. Nakumbuka ulinzwengu. I am considering the situation. Ps. kumbukwa. Ap. kumbuk-ia, -iwa, direct the memory (or, attention) to. Sikumbukiti, I do not recall it. Amenikumbukia chuo changu, he recollected my book for me, reminded me of it. Cs. kumbusha, -shwa, remind, put in mind (of). (Cf. fahamu, of memory, and tambua, of recognition. Also, kumbukumbu, ukumbusho, -kumbufu.)

Kumbukumbu, n. (ma-), mention, remembrance, memorial, parting gift, souvenir,—anything that recalls another thing to mind. (Cf. prec.)

Kumbusho, Kumbuu. See Ukumbusho, Ukumbuu.

Kumbwaya, n. a kind of drum standing on feet. (Cf. ngoma.)

Kumbwe, n. (ma-), a snack, a mouthful of food,—colloquial, kumbwe na kinywee, something to eat and drink. (A pass. form in -e, from kumba.)

Kumi, n. and a. (pl. ma-), ten,—the highest simple numeral of B. origin used in Swahili. Used of the three divisions of a month, a decade. kumi la kwansa (la kati, la kuvisha), the first (middle, last) decade. -a kumi, tenth. (Cf. Ar. ashara.)

Kumoja, n. one kind. Kazi setu hasina k., our occupations are not all of one kind. (Cf. umoja, and for ku, kuzimu, kushoto, kuke, &c.) — a. form of -moja, agreeing with D 8. — adv. on one side, from one point of view, i.e. kwa upande inmoja. -kali kumoja, with one sharp edge.

Kumunta, Kumunto, n.—in Z. more usually kung'uta, kun'uto, which see.

Kumvi, n. (ma-, also plur. of ukumvi), husk or sheath of various vegetable products, of maize, rice, &c., i.e. k. la muhindu (enclosing the ear, suke), k. za mpunga. (Cf. kapi, wishwa, kununu.)

Kuna, v. scratch. Used of allaying irritation rather than of laceration or wounding (cf. papura, piga makucha), e.g. k. kichwa, scratch the head; k. ngasi, scratch the skin. Also of coarse grating, e.g. kunu nazi, grate a cocoonut, i.e. extract the nutty part from the shell with the instrument called mbusi. Ps. kunwa (dist. kunywa, to drink). Nt. kunika. Ap. kun-ia, -iwa, e. g. mbusi ya kunia nazi, a cocoonut grater. Cs. kun-isha, -ishwa.

Kupa, n. a continuous series of light and dark bands, as in a rainbow. (Cf. kupa, kupa.)
Kuna, verb-form, (1) there is, there are (ku of general reference, cf. ku, mna, pana); (2) it has, they have,—ku agreeing with D S. The negative form hakuna is one of the commonest expressions for a simple negative, 'there is not, nothing, no.' Kuna nini (or kunani)? What is there? What is the matter? Kunako, there is (there), that is so,—in reference to the query kuna? Kufa kuna maumivu, death involves suffering. Kuna supplies one way of expressing abstract existence. Kuna muungu? Is there a God? Does God exist? Kunaye, He exists. Also kunaye may mean 'it depends on him (it is with him).’ (See Ku and Na.)

Kunazi, n. (ma-), the small edible fruit of the tree mkunazi, which see.

Kunda, n. (ma-), a green vegetable like spinach (Str.).

Kundaa, v. be short, stunted, small of stature. (Cf. via.)

Kunde, n.plur. of ukunde, a kind of bean, produced by the plant mkunde, which see.

Kundi, n. (ma-), a number of things (usually living things) together, crowd, troop, group, flock, herd, swarm, &c. Makundi makundi, in troops, in large bodies, in masses.

Kunga, v. used of various processes of sewing, hem, make a border, trim, embroider, e. g. kunga mshono, make a stitched seam on band; k. nguo, put a border, trimming, or stitched edge to a cloth. K.utepe, with similar meaning. Ps. kungwe. Ap. kung-ia, -iwa. (Cf. shona, pinda.)

Kunga, n. sometimes Kinga, (1). a secret, wile, subterfuge, trick, device, e. g. k. za moyo, secret thoughts, private reflections. Mtumi wa k. haambivi maana, he who conveys a secret message is not told its meaning. Kazi haifai illa kwa k., work is no good, unless you have been taught the art. (2) Esp. of confidential and private instruction on matters unfit for open mention, e. g. sexual subjects,—called sometimes malango, rudiments, or kunga za mwituni (za nyumbani, za jandoni, and ngungwi, ? nkungwi). Hence (3) shameful things, what causes shame. (Cf. mkunga, somo, siri, misiri, and perh. kunja.)

Kungu, n. (1) also Ukungu, mist, fog, haze (cf. ukungu, uwande, wingu). (2) An edible stone-fruit from the tree mkungu. The stone contains a kernel, of which children are fond (cf. mkungu). Kungu manga, nutmeg, lit. the Arabian kungu (cf. manga),—fruit of the mkungu manga. (3) Confidential adviser, esp. an older friend who gives advice to unmarried women, and makes all arrangements for them at the time of marriage, receiving various fees and presents from the bridegroom for so doing. (Cf. kunga, mkungwa, kungwe.)

Kunguni, n. a bug.

Kunguru, n. (ma-), (1) a carrion crow,—black, with white on the neck and shoulders; (2) a kind of calico, made at Cutch.

Kung'uta, v. (1) shake out, shake off, sift, winnow; (2) test severely, scrutinize, examine. E. g. k. mavumbi (mwia), shake off dust (rain). Jikung'uta, shake oneself. K. mabawa, shake out the feathers,—of a bird basking in the sun. Waka-lipeleka janvi uami wakaikung'uta, they took the carpet to the yard, and gave it a shaking. Ps. kung-'utwa. Nt. kungutika. Ap. kungut-ia, -iwa. Cs. kung'utisha, -ishwa. (Cf. kung uto, chunga, pepeta. The word kumunja is also heard, but not usual in Z., and kumutika, fig. be shaken, be alert, expectant, agitated, e. g. roho yake inamkumutika.)

Kung'uto, n. (ma-), a basket used as a sieve, strainer, or for tossing and winnowing grain. (Cf. kikapo, and kiteo, tunga.)

Kungwe, n. (ma-). See Mkunga.
Kuni, n. plur. of ukuni, firewood.
(See Ukuni, and cf. kuna.)

Kunja, v. fold, wrap up, crease, wrinkle, tumble, make a mess of. E. g. k. uso, wind up thread. Kunjaknjua uzi, tangle the thread. K. uso, knit the brow, frown. K. mabawa, fold the wings. Jikunja, shrink, cower, flinch (cf. kunyata). Ki-su cha kunjua, a clasp-knife. Ps. kunjwa. Nt. kunjika, e.g. be folded, be easy to fold, admit of folding. Ap. kunj-ia, -iwa, e.g. wrap up for (with, in, &c). Cs. kunj-isha, -ishwa. Rp. ku-jana, e. g. nguo imekunjana kwa upepo, the calico (which was laid out smooth) has been ruffled up by the wind. (Cf. follg. and kunjua, finya, and perch. kunga.)

Kunjamanja, v. be folded, wrinkled, creased. E. g. k. uso, knit the brows, frown, so uso umekunjamana.
(Cf. prec. and -mana.)

Kunjio, n. (ma-), fold, wrinkle, crease. E. g. makunjio ya mshiji, the folds of a fishing-line. (Cf.
kunja, and pindi.)

Kunjua, v. Rh. of kunja, unfold, unwrap, smooth out, spread open. K. nguo, lay out clothes. K. miguu, stretch the legs out. K. uso, smooth the brow, smile, look pleased. Jikunjua, be cordial, be open. Ps.
kunjulia. (Cf. -kunjia, -kunjifu.)

-kunjifu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), open, serene, unclouded, genial, amiable, merry. Miu mkunjifu, a genial man. So with uso (face), moyo (temper). (Cf. kunjua, kunja, ukunjifu.)

Kuno, n. (ma-), what is produced by scraping, a scraping, scrap. Makuno ya nazi, grated cocoanut.
(Cf. kuna v., mkuno.)

Kunrathi, v. a common phrase of polite apology,—pardon me, excuse me, by your leave, no offence meant. Often strengthened by sana. Kunrathi sana, with your kind permisssion, I humbly beg pardon. (Arab.
Imperat. kun rathi, be content, but in common use. Cf. equivalent mwe (or mwe) rathi, and rathi, rithi, utafathali.)

Kununu, n. (ma-), kununu la mawele, an empty husk or spike of a kind of millet. (Cf. kunvi, kapi, wishwa.)

Kunyata, v. draw together, cause to shrink, compress. Seldom occurs except with Kf. ji, in the sense, cower, shrink together, esp. as an attitude of fear, pain, or supplication.
Jikunyata kama maskini, humble honeself like a beggar. Jik. kwa baridi, be doubled up with cold.
Jik. uso, have an offended, disgusted look. (Cf. kunja uso.)

Kunyua, v. (1) scratch at, give a scratch to, e. g. to hurt, or to attract notice; (2) call by a secret sign, give a private hint to, &c.
K. kidole, hurt the finger by a scratch,—implying more than the simple kuna, scratch. Ps. kunyuliwa. Nt. kunyuka, e. g. kunyuka ni mti, get scratched by a tree in passing by it. (Cf. kuna, papura, piga mtai.)

Kuo, n. (ma-), (1) furrow, trench, hollow, hole, i. e. made by hollow-ning out. Makuo ya kauku, holes scratched by fowls. Usually (2) a bed or row of seedlings, &c. (3)
A plot of ground marked out by a furrow or line drawn on the ground, and given to a man to cultivate (cf.
ngwe, same marked by a cord).
Hence nyosha k., mark out a piece of ground; ongeza (funguza) k., enlarge (reduce) a plantation. (Cf. mkuo, and syn. shimo, hantaki, mfu.)

Kupaa, n. (ma-), also Kupa, (1) one of the two side-pieces forming a pulley (kapi, gofia) enclosing the sheave (roda) (cf. korodani); (2)
? cheek-bone, cheek-piece.

Kupe, n. a tick,—on cattle, dogs,
&c. Kama kute na mki wa ng'ombe, like a tick and a cow's tail,— of things adhering closely. (Cf. kama pete na kidole, like a ring and a finger.)

Kupua, v. shake out, shake off, throw off, let fall, drop on the ground (by a push, jerk, &c.). E.g. k. nguo, throw off clothes. K. imbu, drive off mosquitoes. Ps. kupuliwa. Nt. kupuka, e.g. fig. be cast off, be a fugitive (outcast). Hence kupukia. Ap. kupu-tia,-iwa. Cs. kupu-sha,-shwa. (Cf. kung'uta, mkupua.)

*Kura, n. a lot, i.e. as in casting lots. Piga kura, cast lots. (Ar.)

Kuro, n. also Koru, Kuru, a water-buck.

*Kurubia, Kurubisha, v. See Karibia, Karibisha.

Kusa, v. Cs. of kuta, i.e. kutisha or kusha, kusa, cause to meet, bring on. Nimemkusa mashaka, I have got him into trouble. See Kuta.

Kushoto, n. and adv., the left side, the left-hand position. Mkono wa k., the left-hand, as opp. to mkono wa kume (wa kulia). Kaa kushotoni, sit on the left side. (Cf. ku, and kumoya, kuzimu, kuke, &c.)

Kusi, n. southerly wind, south monsoon,—prevailing at Z. from May to Oct. Hence also of the season, and of the southerly direction. Kusi, the south quarter, to (from, in) the south. -a kusini, of the south, southerly. Contr. kaskazi, the north wind, &c. (Cf. Ar. suheli, coast, used of Africa; i.e. south of Arabia, and hence 'south'.)

*Kusudi, v. also Kasidi, intend, purpose, propose, design, aim at, usually in the Ap. form kusudia, with same sense. Kusdia safari, resolve on an expedition. K. kwenda, intend to go. Ps. kusudi-iwa. Nt. kusudika. Cs. kusudi-sha,-ishwa. — n. (ma-), intention, purpose, aim, object, end. Kwa k., on purpose, intentionally, deliberately, wilfully (cf. kwa moyo, kwa nafs). Also as adv., kusudi, and makusudi, like kwa kusudi. And as conj. with Infin. or Subjunct., 'on purpose to, in order that (to), with the object of,' e.g. akaandoka kusudi aende (or, kwenda) Ulaya, he started with the intention of going to Europe. (Cf. syn. shauri, maana, nia, nradi.)

Kuta, v. come upon, meet (with), chance on, hit on, find. Nalimkuta hawesi (hayuko), I found him ill (absent). Kuta mashaka, meet with (experience) difficulties. Ps. kutwa. Nt. kutika. Ap. kut-ia,-iwa, e.g. mauiti imemkutia, death came upon him, or amekutia na mauiti. Cs. kutisha, or kusha, kusa, cause to meet on, bring upon, involve in. Hence kut-isha,-ishwa, kushia, &c. Rp. kutana, meet together, assemble, gather, collect, hold a meeting, be crowded (cf. kusanya, songa, bar-izi). Jeshi limekutana, the crowd is dense. Hence kutanika, be assembled, meet. Also kutan-ia,-iwa, meet for (at, by, in, &c.). Cs. kutanisha, cause to meet, hold a meeting (of). (Cf. mkutano.)

Kuta, n. plur. of ukuta (which see), walls.

Kuti, n. (ma-), (1) a cocoanut leaf, whether green or dry; (2) a cocoanut leaf prepared for use in different ways, e.g. (a) kuti la kumba (and fumba), the whole leaf, with the fronds on either side simply plaited together, used in forming light fences, enclosures, shelters of any kind; (b) kuti la pande, with the fronds all plaited together on one side, similarly used; (c) kuti la viungo, lengths of the leaf-rib (upongoo) (or of stick) about three feet long with all the fronds attached to it and brought to one side. These form the usual roofing material of native houses in Z., and are a regular article of sale. (Cf. mnazi, and kikuti, ukuti.)

Kutu, n. rust,—or anything resembling it, a discoloration, &c. K. ya shaba, verdigris. K. ya mwezi, the shaded or darker parts of the moon.

Kutua, v. give a jerk to, pull suddenly, cause a shock to. K. kamba, jerk a rope. Nt. kutuka, c.g. fig. be shaken, startled, frightened, shocked, &c. Cs. kutu-sha, -shwa, startle, frighten, &c. (Cf. kupua, also situka, tuka, &c.)

-kuu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), great. Seldom simply 'big,' i.e. of merely physical size or material greatness, but implying some moral or sentimental element of pre-eminence, authority, and excellence. -kubwa, on the other hand, means 'big, large, extensive,' though also used to include and denote the natural effects of great size, i.e. authority, weight, influence, impressiveness. Thus (1) 'great, powerful, having natural or representative authority,' &c. Wakuu kwa vijana is a common contrast, 'old and young, great and small' (also wakubwa kwa wadogo). Cf. mkuu as n., chief, master, king (as also mkubwa, n., and in African stories the rabbit (sungura) is called the mkuu wa nyama, or nyama mkuu, king of beasts, while the elephant would be described as the nyama mkubwa, largest of animals. Bustani kuu, a great (grand, fine) garden. Obs. kiasi kikuu, yam,—often of great size in East Africa. (2) 'Noble, pre-eminent, high-class, excellent, influential.' (3) 'Over-great, presuming on greatness, excessive, unnatural, outrageous, beyond the proper bounds of decorum (self-control, human nature).' E.g. maneno makuu, presumptuous, boastful words. Taka makuu, aim too high, be over-ambitious. Piga makuu, give oneself airs, be arrogant, make a great show. Hana makuu, he is an unassuming, civil spoken, humble person,—sometimes in contrast to -kiau in other senses, e.g. makuu mengili la-kini hana makuu, he has many great qualities, but he never makes too much of them. (Cf. -kubwa, kua, kuu, &c.)

Kuume, n. (from -me, like ume, and kiume, of sex, but more generalized), (1) the male kind (status, condition); (2) right-hand side, right-hand. Used (like kuke) only in a few adjectival and adverbial phrases. Mtu huyu ni ndugu yangu wa kumeni nami, this man is a relation of mine on the father's side. Mkonw wa kuume, the right-hand (also mkono wa kulia, the hand used in eating, opp. to mkono wa kushoto). Kaa kumeni, sit on the right-hand side. Wa kuume haukati wa kushoto, the right hand does not cut the left. (Cf. ku, and kushoto, kumoja, kuzimu, and follg.)

Kuvali, n. mkono wa kwuli, the right-hand,—for mkono wa kuume, which is usual in Z. (Cf. prec.)

Kuwa, v. Infin. of wa, be (which see), to be, being, existence. Can be used of pure existence (cf. Mwenyi kuwa, as a title of God, the Existing One, the Self-existing.)

Kuwili, n. and adv., the double kind, in a double way, in two ways. Kisu kikali kwili, a knife with two edges. Anatajwa kwili, he has two names. (Cf. ku, and kumoja, kuume, &c.)

Kuyu, n. See Mkuyu.

Kuza, v. Infin. (1) Cs. of kua, make great. (2) Uza, sell, for kuza. (3) Uza for uliza, ask.

-kuza, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), and D 6), well-grown, fine, big of its kind,—of things capable of growth. Yule paka mkusa sana, that is a very fine cat. (Cf. kua, -kubwa, -kuu.)
Kuki, n. (ma)-, also Kusi, an earthenware pitcher or jug, larger than gudulua, with handle or handles and narrow neck. (Cf. mtungu, chombo.)

Kuzimu, n. state (place, condition) of departed spirits of the dead, the grave, the lower world. Enda kuzimu, and be buried. Chungulia k., look into the other world, i.e. be at death's door, have one foot in the grave. K. kuna mambo, the world of spirits has its wonders. (Cf. mzungu, and perl. washimu, also zima, zimwe, and for the form ku, and syn. ahera, petoni, huko.)

Kw-, as a pfx. before vowels, is for ku-, which see.

Kwa, prep. (ku combined with the variable prepositional element -a, which see). This is the most common and comprehensive of the few Swahili prepositions,—so comprehensive as to cover most of the meanings of the other common prepositions, i.e. -a, na, and katika. Subject to the few limitations characteristic of each of these (see -a, Na, Katika), kwa can be represented according to the context by 'to, in, at, from, by, for, with, on account of, in respect of, as to,' and indeed almost any preposition denoting relations of time, place, motion, object, instrument, and condition generally. Kwa is seldom used, however, of the Agent proper, or of comparative nearness or distance (see Na), nor of relations which may be called adjectival (see -a). E.g. toka kwa, come from (or, out of); kaa kwa, remain at; enda kwa, go to. Ua kwa mkuki, kill with a spear. Kwa nini? For what? Kwa sababu ya, because of, by reason of. Kwa habari hizi, at (about, on account of) these news. Wali kwa mchusi, rice with gravy. Mia kwa tano, five per cent. Wangwana kwa watumwana, gentry, slaves and all. Andika kwa kikwa, write in Swahili. Kwa haraka, in haste, hastily. Kwa hivi, thus. Kwa with a noun, commonly a name, following, often denotes a single object or idea, e.g. kwa Mponda, Mponda's town. Kwa mfalme, the chief's house. Hence katika is sometimes used with it, e.g. katika kwa nduguye, from (at, to) his brother's house. Kwa is rarely used with Personal Pronouns, the corresponding form of the adjective, i.e. kwangu, kwake, kwake, &c., being substituted, unless some special meaning is intended, e.g. asiyeona kwa yeye, akionywa haoni, he who does not see of himself does not see if he is shown. (Cf. -a, katika, na.)

Kwa, form of the prep. -a (which see) agreeing (1) with D 8, (2) with locatives ending in -ni, e.g. nyumbani kwa nduguye, in (to, from) his brother's house.

Kwaa, v. (1) strike the foot (against an object), stumble, knock, be stopped by a sudden obstacle; (2) fig. falter, hesitate, be brought to a stop or check, get into a difficulty. K. na jiwe, or jiweni, knock the foot against a stone. Heri kukuwa kidole kuliko kukwaa ulimi, better to stumble with the toe than the tongue. Ap. kwalaia, kwaisia, rarely heard. Mkwaia nyoka, anapo ukuti husikituka, a man who has stumbled over a snake, starts if he sees a switch (cocoanut frond). Cs. kwa-sa, -sua, cause to stumble, make difficulties for, &c. Also intens. dau limekwasa maweni, the boat struck hard on the rocks. (But? cf. kwa-sa for kwaruza.) Rp. kwazana, knock against each other. (Cf. kwaasa, kwama, kwao or kwayo, kwazo.)

Kwake, (1) n. (ku-ake) his (hers, its) circumstances (position, house, KWAKO

1. (2) adv. idiomatic equivalent of kwa yeye, to (from, at, with) him (her, it), to his house, &c. (3) Form of a. -ake, agreeing with D 8 and locatives in -ni.

Kwako, n. adv. and adj., same as kwake, but relating to 2 Pers. Sing., i.e. wewe, you. (Cf. -ako.)

Kwale, n. partridge,—including several species.

Kwana, v. St. of kwaa, (1) become jammed, stick fast, come to a deadlock, be gripped, be squeezed; (2) fig. be in a fix, get into a difficulty. Ap. kwam-ia, -iwa. Cs. kwam-isha, -ishwa, cause to jam, make stick fast, put in a difficulty, &c. Mti huu umenikwamisha mkono, this tree has got my hand fixed in it. (Cf. kwaa, kwasa, kwamua, and syn. shikika, fungwa, naswa, kamatwa.)

Kwamba, conj. (ku-amba, saying), of very general meaning, and translatable according to the context defining the particular sense of 'saying,' intended, e.g. (1) (stating) that, so to say,—also ya kwamba; (2) (supposing) if, as if, suppose, even if; (3) (objecting) though. It is also used, though not commonly in Z., after the relative formed with amba, e.g. ambaye kwamba, who,—of a person, ambalo kwamba, which, &c., and with similar indefinite meaning in the phrase Kwambaje? How is it? Kwambaje kwako? How are you? (Cf. kama, ya kuwa, and see Amba, Ambia.)

Kwangu, (1) n. (ku-angu), my circumstances (condition, affairs, locality), my house. Kwangu kuzuri, my condition is prosperous, my surroundings are beautiful, &c. (2) adv. (for kwa mini), to (with, from, &c.) me, at (in, to, from, &c.) my house. Twende kwangu, let us go to my house. (3) a. agreeing with D 8, and locatives in -ni. Kufa kwangu, my dying. Nyumbani kwangu, to my house. (So kwako, kwave, kwetu, kwenu, kwao.)

Kwangua, v. scrape, remove a coating, crust, or anything adhering (solid or liquid), e.g. k. matope, clean mud off (boots, &c.). K. chungu, scrape the burnt rice off the bottom of a cooking pot. K. kucha, pare the nails. K. maji, scrape up a remnant of water in a pit. Ap. kwangu-lichia, -liwa. (No v. kwanga in use. Cf. kombu, parishu.)

Kwana, v. and Kwanyua, tear down, rip (split, strip) off, e.g. of branches, leaves, fruit. Ps. kwamul- livelya. Nt. kwanyuka, e.g. panda ya mti imekwanyuka kwa mtu mite, the fork of the tree was split down by a heavy man. Ap. kwanyu-lichia, -liwa. (Cf. nyakwa, paswa, ramua, ambua.)

Kwanza, Inf. of ansa (kuansa), but often as adv., at the beginning, at first, firstly, in the first place. Also ya k., often followed by ya pil, secondly, ya tatu, thirdly. A. k., first, best. Ngoja k., wait first (before acting), wait a bit. (Cf. ansa, mwanzo, chanzo, and syn. Ar. avwali.)

Kwao, (1) n. (ku-o), their circumstances, their place (country, home), &c. Mwanamke hu hu ana- wasa kwao, this woman is thinking about her native country, is homesick. (2) adv. to (from, with) them. Mfw- kuswa kwao hana pa kwenda, an outcast from his own people has nowhere to go. (3) a. their,—form of -ao, agreeing with D 8 and locatives in -ni. (Cf. kwangu, and ku, wao.)

Kwao, n. (ma-), also Kwayo, KWEUPE

stumbling-block, obstruction to the feet, difficulty. Nyia ya kwaao, a rough road, stony path. (Cf. kwa aa, ngororo, zio, kwaraa.)

Kwapa, n. (ma), armpit. Futika (chukua) kwapani, (tuck (carry) under the arm. Kisibau cha kwapa, a sleeveless waistcoat. (Cf. ki-kwapa.)

Kwaruza, v. (1) scrape, grate, whether of action, movement (scrape along, move with difficulty), or sound (be harsh, be grating); (2) grate, be of a coarse, gritty, rough kind. E.g. chombo kinekwaruza mwamba, the vessel has grazed a rock. Mchele huu unakwaruza watu, this rice is gritty to the taste. Nyia ya kukwaruza, a rough, stony road. (Cf. mkwaruza, parusa, para, kwanga, and perh. kwa a, kwasa, and contr. lainika, laini.)

Kwaza appears sometimes to be a short form of kwaruza, with kwaruza for kwaruzaana, e.g. madau yana-kwasaana, the boats are colliding, scraping against each other.

Kwata, n. and Kwato, Ukwato, hoof. Piga k., kick,—of an animal. (Cf. piga teke.)

Kwayo, n. (ma-). See Kwao, n.

Kwaza, v. Cs. of kwa a, and ? for kwaruza (which see).

Kwea, v. go up, get on the top of, mount, climb, ascend, rise, e.g. k. mnazi, or mnaeini, climb a cacoanut tree; k. mlma (frasi), mount a hill (a horse); k. chombo, get on board a vessel. Ps. kwelewa, Nt. kweleka. Ap. kwelea, e.g. kamba ya kukweleaa, a cord to climb with. So kwele-esa, -ezwa. Cs. kwea, cause to go up, set up, raise, put one thing on another. Kweza mashua, haul a boat high on the beach. Kweza be, raise the price of an article. Vitu vinekweeswa, things have been raised in price. Kweza matumuma ya duara, set the spokes in a wheel.

Kwele*, n. kwelea ya mawimbi, mawimbi ya kwelea, a swell, rolling waves, as dist. from breakers. (Cf. kwea, and wimbi.)

Kwele*, n. and adv., truth, truthfulness, reality, genuineness, certainty. Kwa kwele si kwa ubishi, seriously, not in fun. Kwelii iliyu uchungu si uwongoji lo tamu, an unpleasing truth is better than a pleasing falsehood. -a kwele, true, truthful, genuine. As adv., truly, really, certainly, genuinely (cf. hakika, yakini, halisi.)

Kweme, n. seed of a plant mkweme, very rich in oil.

Kwendaa, (1) v. Infin. of enda (ku-enda), to go; (2) used as adv., perhaps, possibly, I dare say, it may be. Kwendaa akaja leo, perhaps he comes to-day. (Cf. enda, huenda, and syn. labuda, yamkini.)

Kwenu, (1) n. (ku-enu), your circumstances, place, country, home. (2) adv. (for kwa ninyi), to you, to your house. (3) a.—form of -enu, agreeing with kupenda and nouns in -ni. (Cf. kwangu, and ku-enu.)

Kwenyi, form of -enyi, which see. Often used as equivalent of kwa, e.g. of time, kwenyi Ijumaa, on Friday. (So mwenyi, penyi.)

Kwetu, n. adv. and a., in same uses as *kwenu, and kwangu, i.e. our circumstances, to us, our. The common expression for ‘my (our) country, my home.’ (Cf. kwangu, ku-etu.)

Kweu, n. sometimes for the usual kweupe, clearness, dawn, light. Mbele kweu na nyuma kweu, brightness before and behind. (Cf. follg.)

Kweupe, n. (ku-eupe), brightness, whiteness, clearness, dawn, light, clear space, fine weather. Kuna kweupe, it is dawn, it is fine. (Cf. eupe, eua, weupe, and kweu, and syn. kucha, dawn, contr. kweusi, giza, usiku.)
Kwezi, a. creeping, climbing, e.g. of a plant. (Cf. kwea, ukwezi, also tambaa, tambaai.)

Kwikwe, n. hiccup. Kwikwe wa kulia, convulsive sobbing (cf. kifutu, kikukeu).

Kwisha, Infin. of isha, used as (1) n. ending, the end, extreme; (2) adv. finally, at last, in the end. -a kwisha, last, extreme, best, worst. (Cf. mwisho, isha, kisha, and similar use of kwansa. Syn. for end, kikomo, hatima, aheri.)

L.

L represents the same sound as in English.

This sound is interchangeable in most Swahili words of Bantu origin with that of a smooth untrilled r, and often in words from Arab sources.

Hence words not found under L may be looked for under R.

On the other hand, the indiscriminate use of l and r makes many words of different meanings indistinguishable, and in some cases is carefully avoided, e.g. in the case of the initial sound of any word, and especially of l-, la, li as a formative syllable or prefix, and the dem. a. -le.

The l sound is generally latent in the long sound denoted by a vowel written twice, and sometimes heard (as in kindred dialects). In some words it is evanescent, e.g. mlango or mwango, a door; ufalme or ufalme, dominion.

After a formative n, l (and r) are represented by d, as in ndefu, for nlefu (nrefu).

L- (1) as a pfx. of verbs and pronom. adj.s agrees with D 5 (S), e.g. kasha lililo lake li zito, his box is heavy; (2) is the characteristic letter of the common demonstrative of distance, yule, &c. (Cf. -le, and H.)

La, v. (1) eat, consume,—of food generally (cf. chakula); (2) use, use up, require for use or efficiency (as material, time, &c., cf. tumia, chukua);

(3) wear away, diminish, spend (materials, means, money). (The Infinitive form kula is used as the root form in certain tenses, as is the case with other monosyllabic verb-roots. See ku, i. (d) and ja.) Mlaji ni mla leo, mla jana kalani? The eater of to-day is the man who eats, the eater of yesterday,—what has he eaten? Rarely la is used as the imperative, e.g. nyakula hivi la, eat this food. Itakula fetha (saa nzima, siku nyingi), it will take money (a whole hour, several days). Ps. liwa, be eaten, &c. Nt. lika, be eaten, &c., be eatable, be fit for food. Jiwe limeliwa na kamba, the stone has been worn away by the rope. Kitu hiki hakiliki, this substance is not edible. Chuma inalika, iron rusts away. Ap. lia, liana, eat, &c. for (with, in, &c.), e.g. mko wa kulia, the eating hand, the right hand. Chumba cha kulia, a dining room, refectory. Kijiko cha kulia, a spoon to eat with. Amenilia mwenzai wali wake, he has eaten up his friend's rice for him. Jilia, eat selfishly (for his own purposes, &c.), e.g. mwana amejilja mali ya babaye, the son has wasted his father's goods (like a fool, willfully). Tumeliana siku zote, we have always had our meals together. Rp. lana, e.g. eat each other, all join in eating. Cs. lisha, lishwa, e.g. (1) cause to eat, feed, keep (animals, &c.), graze, pasture, i.e. lisha kuku (ng'ombe, mbuzi), keep fowls (cows, goats). Lisha ng'ombe majani, feed cows on grass. Lisha upanga viungo, glut the sword with (dead men's) limbs. Wanalisha miwa kinani, they feed the sugar-cane into the mill. (2) Eat, browse, feed on, e.g. kulungu alisha majani, the antelope browses on grass (cf. malisha, malisho, chunga). Hence lishi-sha, -shwa, make to eat, feed with, e.g. lishisha sumu, administer poison to. (Cf. mlo, mla, mlaji, ulaji, mlafi, ulafi.)
*La, int. no, not so, by no means. (Ar. Cf. la ilaha illa Allah, no God but the God, and syn. sio, stwo, hakuna, hapana, hasha.)

-la, a. eating, feeding on, consuming,—verbal a. of la, v.

*Laana, n. (ma-), a curse, imprecation, oath. (Ar. Cf. uapo, kiapo, apizo.)

*Laani, v. curse, swear (at), damn. Ps. laaniwa, Nt. laanika. Cs. laani-sha, -shwa, cause to curse, get cursed, bring a curse on. (Ar. Cf. -laanifu, laana, apapa.)

*Laanifu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) given to cursing; (2) accursed. (Ar. Cf. ulaanifu, laana, malani.)

*Labeka, int. See Lebeeka.

*Labuda, adv. often labuda, labda, perhaps, it seems so, no doubt, probably, possibly. (Ar. la-buddi, there is no escape. Cf. buddi, and syn. yamkini, yawezekana, huenda, kwenda.)

*Ladu, n. a sweetmeat made up in balls, consisting of flour or fine grain mixed with treacle, ginger, pepper, &c.

Laika, n. (ma-), also Ulaika, a short, downy hair, as on the hands and human body generally. Also 'down' of birds. (Cf. uele, mnyoya, and dist. Ar. malaika, an angel.)

*Laini, a. and -lainifu, (1) of things, smooth, supple, soft, pliable, of delicate texture, thin, delicate, fine (cf. -ororo, -embamba). (2) Of persons, facile, gentle, good-humoured (cf. -pole, taratibu). Nguo 1., smooth, fine cloth. Mchanga 1., fine sand. (Ar. Also as v., smoothen, but usu. as foll.)

*Lainika, v. (1) be smoothed, be made smooth; (2) fig. be softened, be appeased. Ps. lainiwa. Cs. laini-sha, -shwa, make smooth, &c. (Ar. Cf. laini.)

*Laiti, int. Oh that, if only, would that,—esp. of regret for what is past or impossible, and then used with verbs in the Past or Conditional Tenses. But also of hope, with the Present. E.g. laiti safari ingalikwisha! would that the journey had come to an end! Laiti (kwamba) twali-fika jana! would that we had arrived yesterday! (Ar.)

Lake, a. form of -ake, his, hers, her, its,—agreeing with D 5 (S). Sometimes in the form -le affixed to a noun, e.g. nenole, his word.

*Laki, v. meet, go to meet, esp. in a friendly, complimentary, way. (Ar. Cf. pokea, kuta.)

*Lakini, conj. but, yet, however, nevertheless. (Ar. Cf. walakini.)

*Lakki, n. and a., a hundred thousand, a lac. (Ar.)

Lako, a. form of -ako, your, yours,—agreeing with D 5 (S). Sometimes in the form -lo affixed to a noun, e.g. jinalo, your name.

Lala, v. (1) lie, lie down, go to bed; (2) sleep, go to sleep; (3) settle down, fall, collapse; (4) lie flat, be spread out, be horizontal. Also lala usingi, go to sleep. Nyumba imelala chini, the house has fallen down. Inchi yote yalala sawasawwa, the whole country is a flat plain. Filala, rest oneself, take a siesta. Chumba chake cha kulala (or alicholala), his bed-room. Ap. lalia, latiwa, latika, latiana. Lalia matanga, sleep in the house of mourning. Hakulaliki nyumbani kwa hari, there is no sleeping indoors from the heat. Mtu wa kulalia nyumba, a night-watchman, a caretaker. Mkeka mpya usiolatiwa, a new mat which has never been slept upon. Hence lalisha, lalishwa. Cs. laza, lazwa, lazia. E.g. cause to lie down, put to bed, lay flat or horizontal. Rp. talana, sleep at each other's houses, be on familiar terms. Lala (with objective pfxs., i.e. as act.), laza, and talana are used of sexual intercourse. (Cf. for sleep, sinzia; for rest, pumzika, jinyosha.)

Lalama, v. ask for mercy (of), make an appeal (to), cry out. *M-wiviv amlalama wali apace kupona nafisi yake, the thief throws himself on the governor's mercy to save his life. Ps. lalam-ija. Nt. lalama, makani, be made to appeal for mercy, be reduced to submission, be beaten, —and so, beg for mercy, cry out for quarter. Ap. lalamia, e.g. mdeni alimilalamia mwenyi mali, the debtor threw himself on the mercy of the money-lender. Cs. lalam-isha, -ishwa, make cry out, bring to terms, force to confess. (Cf. omba, kiri, ungama.)

*Lamba, v. also Ramba, lick, lick up with the tongue. L. makombo ya sahari, lick up the scraps on the plate. Ps. lambiva. Haulambvi mkono mtupu, an empty hand is not licked. Nt. lambika. Ap. lambia, -iwa. Lambiwa damu mkononi, have the blood licked off the hand. Cs. lalam-isha, -ishwa. Rp. lambana. (Cf. ulambilambi.)

Lami, n. pitch, tar.

*Lango, n.(ma-), (1) city gate, large gate, gateway; (2) malango is used of secret instruction given to girls and boys on growing up. (Cf. mlango, kilango, and kunga.)

Langu, a. form of -angu, my, mine,—agreeing with D 5 (S). (Cf. l- and -angu.)

Lao, a. form of -ao, their, theirs,—agreeing with D 5 (S). (Cf. l- and -ao.)

Lapa, v. finish off hastily, eat up ravenously, dismiss promptly. (Not common in Z. Cf. kula kwa pupa.)

*Lazimu, v. be obligatory (on), be a necessity (to), be binding (on), bind, make responsible, put pressure on. Sheria inemlasimu nyalme, the law has bound (condemned) the king. Tunakulazimu wee, we make you responsible. Ps. lazini-ija, be bound, be under obligation, be responsible, &c. Ap. lazim-ia, -iwa. Cs. lazim-isha, -ishwa, intens. put strong pressure on, force, compel. Jilazimisha na, devote oneself to, accept full responsibility for. — n. also Lázima, Lázim, necessity, obligation, engagement, surety, bail, responsibility. E. g. chukua l., bail, go bail. Ni l. juu yoko, it is obligatory on you. Si l., commonly means an absolute prohibition, i.e. it is imperative (obligatory, &c.) not to. Si l. kuingia ulana, usitopiga hodi, you must never enter a house without saying 'hodi.' (Ar. Cf. sharti, farathi, bidi, juzu.)

-le, final, (1) characteristic of a demonstr. 'that' (see Yule); (2) sometimes a contraction for lake, e.g. jinale, his name (cf. jo for jako); (3) subjunct. mood of -la, v. eat.

Lea, v. bring up, rear, nurse, educate. Moto umleayo, ndiiyo akunyvo, as you bring up a child, so he grows up. Ps. lewa, e.g. amelewa vema, he has been well brought up. (Cf. mlezi, malezi, and dist. lewa, be drunk.)

*Lebasi, n. and Libasi, clothes, raiment, wearing apparel. Kiila lebasi ya kiarabu, all kinds of Arab clothes. (Arab. Cf. nguo, mawazi.)

*Lebeka, int. and Labeka, At your service, Yes, sir (madam) !—in answer to a call, Coming! I am here! A common reply of a slave or inferior to a master's call, and often pronounced ebee, or simply bee. (Ar. phrase 'Here I am at your service.') Ci. inshallah, eewala, bismilla, &c.)

Legea, v. Regea is also common, (1) be loose (slack, relaxed, soft, ownload on, and so, oppress, burden. Hence lemezana. Rp. lemeana, lie on (lean on, rest against, press) each other. (Cf. pagaa.)

Lenga, v. Lenga muhogo, cut cassava in slices.

Lengelenge, n. (ma-), a blister. Fanya (toka, tokwa na) malengelenge, to get blistered.

Lenu, a. form of -enu, your, yours (plur.),—agreeing with D 5 (S). (Cf. l and -enu.)

Leo, n. and adv., to-day, this day, the present time. Also siku ya leo, to-day. Leo hivi, this very day. Si leo, not to-day, long ago. Si-a leo, old, out of date.

Lepe, n. (ma-), or Leppe, Lepee, drowsiness, faintness, a heavy slumberous condition. L. la usingizi, sleepiness, drowsiness. Fanya l. be drowsy. Huyu ni lepee, this man is drowsy, hard to rouse.

Leso, n. (—, and ma-), handkerchief,—of printed calico, often worn round the neck or on the head. L. ya upande mmoja, the ‘scarf’ of commerce, one piece forming a kanga, i.e. a woman’s dress. L. ya kushona, handkerchief,—two pieces of three handkerchiefs each being sewn together to make a kanga.

Leta, v. bring, fetch, supply, cause to come to where a person is,—thus supplying a Cs. of -ja, come. Ps. letwa. Nt. rarely heard, leteka. Ap. let-ja, -eja, -eana. Lete, have (a thing) brought to. Wali-letewa chakula, they were brought food. Lete, exchange letters, correspond. Cs. let-ja, -eja, -eana. Rp. letana. (Cf. chukua, pela.)

Letu, a. form of -etu, our, ours,—agreeing with D 5 (S). (Cf. l and -enu.)

Levi, a. drunken, intoxicated, given to drinking. (Cf. levya, leva, levuka, ilevi, kilo, and -lasi from -la.)

Levuka, v. get sober, become sober, become steady—in manner, gait, &c.—a Rv. Nt. form. (Cf. prec. and lewa.)

Levya, v. make drunk, intoxicate, cause to reel, make stagger, make giddy. Jilevya, make oneself drunk, get intoxicated. Also Rd. levya-levya—a Cs. form in -ya, cf. ponya. (Cf. prec.)

Lewa, v. be drunk (giddy, intoxicated), stagger, sway, reel, wave to and fro. Lewa kwa pombe, be drunk on native beer. Lewa kwa bahari, of the effects of sea-sickness,—be giddy. Dau lalewga, of a boat on a rough sea,—roll and pitch. Also Rd. lewa-lewa, reel and stagger. (Cf. levya, leuka, -levi, -ulevi, kilo, and dist. lewa, Ps. of lea, rear, educate.)

Li, verb-form, (it) is,—agreeing with D 5 (S), e.g. kasha li sile, the box is heavy.

Li-, -li, (1) verb- and pron. a. pfx.—agreeing with D 5 (S), e.g. ulichukue kasha sile, carry that box. (2) sign of Past Tense Affirmative, and also with -a-, i.e. -ali-, and forms part of the Past Conditional Tense sign, -ngali-. (3) verb-form representing sometimes (and in some other Bantu dialects regularly) the present Tense of wa, be, with or without a prefixed, but not used to denote absolute existence, e.g. nili (nali), I am, nkali, and I am. Ali, he is. It is regularly used in connexion with the relative, i.e. aliye, he who is, not awaye; valio, they who are, not wavwo; lililo, which is, not liwalo.

Lia, v. (1) sound, make a sound (the most general word for sound of any kind, in animate or inanimate nature); (2) utter a cry, cry out (for joy, sorrow, pain, &c.); (3) mourn, weep. Chuma yaia, iron has a ring. Panalia wazi, the place sounds hollow. Ndege analia, the bird is singing. Bunduki zaliya, guns are going off (sounding). Lia machozi, shed tears, cry. Lia ng'oa (muwina), cry from passion (jealousy). Ap. lilia, liliwa, cry to (for, at, with, &c.), sound in harmony with, &c. Liliwa, be mourned for, &c. Jililia, bewail oneself. Cs. lisa, liswa, lisana, cause to sound, make cry, cause (or, be the occasion of) crying. Lisana, weep together, weep over each other. Lisa bunduki, fire off a gun. Jilisa, pretend to cry, sham sorrow, shed mock tears. Rp. liana, e.g. of harmonious, concerted sounds, or general mourning, &c. (Cf. mti, kilo, and sauti, vuma, imba, nguruma, &c.)

*Libasi, n. See Lebasi. (Arab.)

Licha, conj. and licha ya, prep. let alone, not to say, much more (less). E.g. sikupata robo moja, licha recale, I did not get a shilling, not to mention (much less) a dollar. Licha ya haya, hatta mangine mabayya, apart from these, there are other bad points. Licha tawi lilioviva, hatta bichi like, not to mention ripe bunches, there are unripe too. Licha ya ndege moja, hatta wote ntakupa, one bird is nothing, I will give you all of them.

*Lihamu, n. solder. See Lhemu. (Ar.)

*Lijamu, n. bit (of a horse). Sernj na lijamu na vigwe, saddle, bit, and reins. (Ar.)

Lika, v. Nt. of la, eat (which see).

Likiza, v. (1) give leave (respite, relief, holiday) to, release, let go; (2) dismiss, send away, make go, not allow to stay. Thus likiza mtoto may mean (1) give a boy a holiday, or (2) wean a child (cf. achisha). Ps. likizwa. Ap. likiza, -iwa. Cs. likiz-isha, -ishwa. Rp. likizana. (Cf. ondosha, ruhusu, achi, chezesha.)

Lima, v. hoe,—the only native mode of cultivation, hence generally 'cultivate, work land.' Ps. limwa. Nt. limika, e.g. be fit for cultivation, arable. Ap. lim-i, -iwa, e.g. jembe la kulimia, a hoe to dig with.
Cs. lim-isha, -ishwa, -ishia, &c., e. g. of the overseer (msimamizi), get hoeing done, or of the Mahommnedan minister (mwalimu), give permission to begin hoeing. (Cf. follg. and mlimo, mkulima, kilimo.)

-limaji, a. engaged in agriculture. Mlimaji, same as mkulima. (Cf. lima.)

Limatia, v. be delayed, remain behind, be late, be too long. Safari inalimatia, the expedition is delayed. Ps. limatiwa. Cs. limat-isha, -ishwa. (Seldom in Z. Cf. syn. kawia, chelew, siri.)

Limau, n. (ma-), a lemon, fruit of the mlilmau.

Limbika, v. (1) allow time for, wait for; (2) keep from, let remain, reserve, economize, put aside (in store); (3) bear with, be patient to, show consideration for. E.g. limbika maji, wait for water,—at an exhausted or slow-running well. L. ndizi (hunt), wait for bananas (coffee) to ripen. L. nycle, let the hair grow. L. maneno, to answer slowly, deliberately. L. watu, not to overwork people, treat with consideration. Ps. limbikwa, e.g. nazi hulimbikwa juu ya m Nazi hatta sikakauka, the coconuts are left on the tree till quite dry, i.e. when wanted for seed. Ap. limbik-ia, -iwa, e.g. amelimbikia watoto mali, he has reserved (laid up) money for his children. (Cf. follg.)

Limbiko, n. (ma-), anything reserved, put away in store, hoard, reserve. (Cf. limbika, and follg., and syn. akiba.)

Limbuka, v. come to an end of waiting for, get the result of waiting (care, consideration, prudence), enjoy a looked-for advantage, have a first taste of pleasure deferred, enjoy the first-fruits, get the benefit of, use for the first time. E.g. watu wanalimbuka leo vitu vya mwaka, people are now beginning to enjoy the year’s produce. Kwenda kulimbuka katika shamba lake, go to enjoy the first-fruits of his estate. Ps. limbukwa.

Ap. limbuk-ia,-iwa. Cs. limbu-sha, -shwa, e.g. reward waiting, give a foretaste of, satisfy hope deferred, yield the wished-for result, answer expectations. (Cf. limbika, and follg.)

Limbuko, n. (ma-), first-fruits, reward of waiting, fulfilment of hope, foretaste of reward. (Cf. prec.)

-limi, a. talkative, chatting, long-winded. (Cf. ulimi, tongue, and mvwenyi domo.)

Linda, v. (1) defend, protect, guard, watch, keep safe; (2) keep off, fend off, guard against, watch for. E.g. angenuawa, lakini Muungu ameminda, he would have been killed, but God protected him. Jilinde, nami ntakulinda, defend yourself and I will defend you. Linda kingojo ndege wasile matunda, keep watch lest birds eat the fruit. Mlinzi hulinda ndege, the watchman watches against the birds. Mke mzuri haliniwi, a pretty woman is not driven away, or is not (easily) kept safe. Ps. lindwa. Nt. lindika. Ap. lind-ia, -iwa, e.g. nimeminda shamba lake, I have guarded his plantation for him. Cs. lind-isha, -ishwa. Rp. lindana. (Cf. mlinzi, lindo, ulinzi.)

Lindi, n. (ma-), a deep place, deep channel, hole,—esp. in water, the sea. Also l. la choo, cesspool. (There is a town called Lindi on the coast south of Zanzibar, another Malindi (or Melindi) north, and a district of Zanzibar city is also called Malindi.)

Lindo, n. (ma-), a watching-place, station, post (to guard). (Cf. linda, and kingojo.)

Lingga, v. (1) make equal, put side by side, match, compare, suit, level, smooth, straighten, harmonize; (2) be equal, be like, suit, harmonize, fit. L. bunduki, level a gun, take aim (cf. elekeza). L. nguo, try on clothes, be measured for clothes. L. kichwa, of a movement in dancing,—bending the head forward and sweeping round. Watu pia wamelinga kiaut hiki, every one has tried on this shoe,—of Cinderella’s slipper. Ps. lingwa. Nt. lingika. Ap. ling-ia, -tw.a. Rp. lingana, e.g. match, be like, be level, harmonize,—also, make a suitable reply. Also linganya, liganisha, ? linganyua. (Cf. -li-ganifu.)

-LINGANIFU

-Linganifu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), agreeing, matched, similar, suitable, harmonious, regular. (Cf. linga, ulinganifu.)

Linganya, v. Cs. of Linga (which see), e.g. suit, match, harmonize, tune (an instrument).

Liini, adv. interrog., When? At what time? (Cf. syn. wakati gani? saa ngapi? siku iki?)

Lio, n. (ma-), sound, loud cry, shout, roar, loud wailing. Malio ya kiko, the bubbling sound of a native pipe (with a water-bowl). (Cf. lia, milio, kilio.)

Lipa, v. (1) pay, give in payment, repay, make a return for, recompense, compensate, reward; (2) have to pay, suffer (for). Lipa deni, pay a debt. Nikulipe mema yako uliyonitenda, let me pay back your kindness to me. Lipa kisasi, suffer vengeance,—also, take vengeance, i.e. pay back. Ps. lipwa. Nt. lipika. Ap. lip-ia, -tw.a, pay to (for, on behalf of, &c.), avenge. Cs. lip-isha, -ishwa, -iza, -tswa, -izana, make pay, exact a return from, &c. Lipaza kisasi, take vengeance on. Jilipiza, pay oneself by force, take as one’s due, and with kisasi, avenge oneself on. (Cf. lipo, lipizi.)

Lipizi, n. (ma-), forced payment, exactation, vengeance. (Cf. lipa, lipo.)

Lipo, n. (ma-), payment, recompense, revenge. (Cf. lipa.)

*Lisani, n. tongue, flap,—used of the flap under the opening of a kanzu in front. (Ar.)

*Lisasi, n. (—, and ma-), also Risasi, (1) lead (the metal); (2) a bullet. (Cf. malisaa, popoo.)

Liwa, n. sweet-scented wood brought from Madagascar, like sandal-wood. It is grated, mixed with water, and used as a perfume. (Cf. sandali, mitwa.)

*Liwali, n. (ma-), also Wali, governor, headman, i.e. the Arab official representing the Sultan of Zanzibar, or supreme government. (Ar. il wali, changed to liwali, cf. lawala.)

Liza, v. (1) cause to buy, induce to buy, sell to, e.g. mbona watu unawaliza? Why are you getting people to buy? (seems to be conn. with uz.a, sell, as if for uliza, see uza). (2) Cs. of lia, cause to sound, make cry.

Liza, n. (—), door chain. See Riza.

Lo, a. relative, agreeing with D 5 (S), ‘which, that.’ Seldom used independently except in such a phrase as kasha lo lote, any box whatsoever. Hakufanya (tswa) lo lote, he did nothing at all. (Cf. l. and -o.)

-Lo, a. (1) short form of lako, appended sometimes to D 5 (S), e.g. jinalo, your name, i.e. jina lako. Also (2) in verbs, ‘which, that,’ agreeing with D 5 (S), neno alilolinena, the word which he spoke.

Lo, Loo, int. of pleasure, wonder, horror, &c.—the intensity of feeling being represented by the indefinite prolongation of the vowel sound.

Loa, -loefu. See Lowa, -lo-

Loga, v. bewitch, use enchantment on, place under a spell or charm. Ps. logwa. (Cf. uganga, uchawi, mwanga, and pagaza.)

Loo, int. See Lo.

Lowa, v. and Loa, get wet, be soaked (drenched, saturated), be damp. Nt. loweka, (1) get wet,—same as lowa, and (2) make wet, drench, souse, e.g. loweka nguo, put clothes to soak. Ps. lowekwa, be wetted, drenched, soaked, &c. Cs. low-esha, -eshwa. Rp. lowana, i.e. all get wet together. (Both the l and w sounds are evanescent, and so va, orea, oana may be heard. Cf. follg. and tia maji, rutubisha, cho- vyu.)

Lowama, v. be in a wet condition, be soaked, &c., and Ap. lowamia. Cs. lowamisha. (A St. form. Cf. lowa, and follg.)

-lowefu, a. and -loefu (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), wet, moist, damp, soaking. Fanya gundi iloweke katika maji hatta ilowame, let the gum be steeped in water, till it is thoroughly soaked. (Cf. lowa, and syn. maji maji, chepe chepe, -a rutuba.)

*Lozi, n. (ma-), an almond,—from the tree mlozi.

Luba, n. a leech. See Mruba.

*Lugha, n. language, speech. L. ya kiunguja na kikiwita ni mbali kidogo, the language of Zanzibar and Mombasa differ slightly. (Ar. Cf. syn. maneno, and use of ki-.)

Lulu, n. a pearl. Kusamia l., to dive for pearls. Bora kama l., as beautiful as a pearl. As a type of perfection, l. is playfully used in salu- tation. Huyambo kama lulu? Are you as well, as a pearl (is beautiful)? (Cf. for gems, kito, almasi, firuzi, &c.)

Lungu, n. (ma-). See Rungu.

Lungula, v. and Rungula, treat with violence, extort money from, blackmail, threaten, rob. Not often heard in Z. (Cf. miungula, hongo, nyang’anya.)

*Luththa, n. taste, flavour, savour. (Ar. Cf. utamu.)

M.

M represents the same sound as in English. But beside this purely consonantal sound, it includes also a semi-vowel sound, very common in Swahili, capable of bearing an accent and so of being treated as a distinct syllable. This semi-vowel sound might be represented in many words by writing m with a u preceding or following, i.e. mu-, um-. But the vocalization of m is in Zanzibar so slight, and yet so characteristic, that mu- is best written for mu- before a vowel, and m written m', when it is necessary to indicate its distinct syllabic character,—a necessity, how- ever, which does not occur very often in practice. Thus the m is strictly the same in mtoto and mtu, mtini and mti, but as in Swahili the accent always falls on the last syllable but one, the m in mtoto and mtini has little more than a consonantal force, and the words may be scanned as disyllables, while in mtu, mti, m has a distinct syllabic force sufficiently shown by the form of the word and ordinary rules of Swahili pronunciation. On the other hand, m may well be written m' in words like am'ka, alini'pa, &c., and mu in words like muhogo, muhindii (which see).

M (like k, and the vowel a) is one of the commonest and most character- istic sounds of the Swahili language, owing to its wide use as a formative in Swahili generally, and also in Arabic words adopted and adapted for Swahili use, and though somewhat un-English it is not difficult for a foreigner to become accustomed to. In the Arabic words common in Swahili, m, mu, and ma generally point to verbal nouns of time, place, &c. or to the participles formed with m,—their accidental similarity to common Bantu forms helping to their adoption and adoption, even when the original force of the Arab. formative is disregarded. E.g. the names Muhamadi (or Mhamadi), Mabruki, and mathbula, mathbahu, &c. It is so common as a formative of verbal nouns, that it is impossible to give in this Dictionary all such nouns, actual or potential, in Swahili.
Many must therefore be looked for, if not found under m, mw- (or the other common pfxs. ma-, mb-), under the letter next following, where at least the root-meaning may be indicated.

M, as a simple independent syllable, is a verb-form 'you are,' used like other person prefixes for ni, agreeing with the Pronoun of 2 Pers. Plur. e.g. ninyi m watu wazuri, you are fine people.

M (or mw- before a vowel, and in some words mu-) is, as a formative A. of nouns, (1) the characteristic initial sound (properly semi-vocal, but often practically consonantal, as noticed above) of D 1 (S), D 2 (S), and of adjectives agreeing with them other than pronominal (which as a rule begin with w, i.e. u, not mu, e.g. m tu wangu, m ti wenyewe). The omission of m before words of these declensions has the effect of transferring them to D 5, usually giving them an amplificative meaning. (2) a formative of verbal nouns, prefixed at pleasure to any verbal stem, act. or pass., and forms a noun denoting a personal agent (or patient) and (a) if the final vowel of the verb stem is unchanged, the noun is so completely verbal as usually to govern a noun following, e.g. m la watu, a cannibal,—but (b) if such final vowel is changed to -e, -i, or has -ji affixed, the noun is a true noun, -e often indicating a passive force, -ji an habitual agent, e.g. m neni, mchungaji, mkate. 2. If the final vowel is -o, the noun denotes an action or thing acting, not a personal agent. Cf. m shindo, mwanzo, mzu nguko, &c.

- B. In adjectives, a prefix agreeing (1) with D 2 (S), D 4 (S), e.g. m tu mwema, m ti mzuri (but obs. that in the pronom. adj. angu, -ako, &c., w (for u) takes the place of mw, e.g. m tu wangu, and also in the adj. -ete, -enyi, -enyewe, in agreement with D 2 (S), D 4 (S), e.g. m ti wenyewe), and (2) with nouns ending with the locative -ni, when indicating place or circumstances within which something happens, e.g. nyumbani m wangu, in my house. It is also prefixed to adjectives (3) with the same general force as ku, e.g. mzuri humo, like kuzuri huko, it is nice there. Mwenyi (or kwenyi) saa moja, at one (seven) o'clock, in one hour.

C. In verbs, (1) subjective pfx. of the 2 Pers. Plur., and occasionally, with -ni affixed to the verb, objective of the same, e.g. mwapenda, you love, ampendani, he loves you, (2) objective pfx. of 3 Pers. S. agreeing with D 1 (S), and also (3) subjective of the same, when the reference is to environment generally or place in particular, like ku and pa, e.g. mnamo, there is (in) there, and mna, there is (in) there. Mmanuka humo, there is a smell in there.

Obs. adjectives are as a rule in this Dictionary placed under the first letter of their root. But a number of adjectives practically confined by their meaning to D 1 are also for convenience given under m, as their most common singular form, and as often used of persons without any noun, and so practically nouns themselves. (Cf. mo, mu, mwa, and ku, pa.)

Ma-, as an initial syllable—1. is in most words of Arabic origin the Arabic formative of verbal nouns and participles, but from its identity of form it is sometimes treated by Swahili instinct as the B. formative of the plur. of D 5 (cf. same tendency as to the formative ki, e.g. kitebu, plur. vitabu). 2. as a formative proper in Swahili, ma- is (a) the plur. pfx. of D 5 and of adjectives agreeing with them (other than pronominal adjectives, these having y- for ma-). (b) a plur. pfx. denoting what is large of its kind. Thus many nouns have practically two plurals, expressing different degrees of size or importance, e.g. p e t e, as D 6, is a ring of moderate or ordinary size, plur. pete; but pete, plur. mapete, rings of unusual size (cf. the dim. kipete, a small ring, plur. vipete). (c) the plur. pfx. of most foreign words, even when the singular is treated as D 1, e.g. sultani, plur. masultan. (d) used with some adjectival roots with the meaning usually conveyed by the prefix u, e.g. makali ya upanga, the sharpness (or, edge) of a sword; mapana ya mti, the thickness (girth, diameter) of a tree; makutu, pride; and cf. usumbuo, (active) annoyance; masumbuo, annoying acts, and, when these are regarded collectively, 'annoyance' in general, like the sing. (e) as the plur. pfx. of nouns, which in the sing. usually occur as D 4, and some of these nouns have accordingly two plurals. In this case, ma- (1) often denotes concrete instances of what is in the sing. usually abstract, e.g. uamkizi, visiting in general; maamkizi, particular visits. (2) as a plur. pfx. of verbal nouns from an act or pass. stem, e.g. masifu, masiwa, matakwa, but the corresponding sing. is not used. It may also (3) refer to relative size, cf. (b) above. Obs. (1) the prefix ma- when followed by e, i, or o, coalesce with it to form an e sound, e.g. makasha neupe (ma-eupe), mengi (ma-ingi), meroro (ma-eroro). (2) the words given under ma- in this Dictionary are mainly either (a) of Arabic origin and form, or (b) used only or mostly in the plur., or (c) used in plur. with a meaning somewhat different from that of the sing., or (d) of unusual meaning. Words beginning with ma-, not found under ma-, may be looked for under the letter following ma-, or under u followed by that letter.

-Ma (-ama) is the characteristic termination of what may be called the Stative form or conjugation of the Swahili verb, denoting a relatively permanent state or condition, e.g. kwama, simama, fumbana, tuama, &c. See also -mana, -ama.

*Maabudu, n. an object (objects) of worship. (Ar. Cf. abudu, ibada.)

*Maadam, conj. (1) when, while, since; (2) since, if, seeing that, because. E.g. madam amataka, when (as long as) he wants him. Maadam ya kusika wewe huku, since your arrival here. (Arab., not often heard. Cf. wakati wa, and -po.)

*Maafikano, n. plur. (1) agreement, contract, bargain, settlement; (2) mutual understanding (respect, esteem). Nina maafikano naye, I am on good terms with him. (Cf. afiki, mwafaka, and syn. maagano, mkataba.)

*Maakuli, n., and Makuli, victuals, food. (Arab. Cf. syn. chakula.)

*Maalum, a. well-known, recognized, true. (Arab. Cf. elimu.)

Maamkio, Maamkizi, n. plur., visits, acts of visiting. (Cf. am'ka, zumu.)

*Maamuma, n. an utter fool, blockhead, simpleton, ignoramus. (? Ar. Cf. syn. mjinga, mshenzi, kafiri.)

Maamuzi, n. plur., and Maam'zi, judgement, arbitration, verdict. (Cf. amua, mwamuzi, and syn. hukumu.)

*Maana, n. (1) cause, reason, sake, consideration; (2) meaning, import, purpose, intention; (3) reasonableness, sobriety, sense. E.g. kwa maana (ya), because (of), on account of, for the sake of, considering (that). Tia maanani, keep in mind, ponder, reflect on. Maneno ya m., statements of importance. Waume wenyi m., manly, sensible persons. Asiojua maana, haambiwii maana, he who does not know the meaning will not be told it. Often (4) as conj., because, in order to (that).

Maandalio, n. plur., preparation, esp. of food, cooking and serving a meal. (Cf. andaa, nanda, ma-

Maandamano, Maandamizi, n.
plur., a following, train, procession. (Cf. andamana.)

Maandasi, n. plur., used of any kind of confectionery, and sweet cooked dishes, e.g. pastry, pies, tarts, puddings, jams, cakes, buns, &c. Various kinds are umunda, ladu, kitumbua, mkate wa kumimina (wa kusonga, wa sinia, wa tambi, wa mofa), nyangi’amba, &c. M. ya mayai, an omelette. Sinia ya maandasi, a tray for sweetmeats. (Cf. andaa, and prec.)

Maandikio, n. plur., place (time, manner, &c.) of putting ready, preparation, arrangement, esp. of serving up meals. (Cf. andika, mwandishi, &c., and follg.)

Maandiko, n. plur., (1) setting in order, arranging, putting ready; (2) things set in order, arrangements, &c.; (3) esp. things written, writings, report, description. (Cf. andika, mwandiko, and mkono.)

Maandishi, n. plur., like maandiko, but esp. of preparing and serving food, food served, &c. Also of writing, handwriting. (Cf. prec.)

Maanga, a. Maji maanga, clear, transparent water. (Cf. -angafu, anga, &c.)

Maangalizi, n. plur., careful attention. (Cf. angalia.)

Maangamizi, n. plur., utter ruin, destruction, collapse. M. ya kesho, ruin in the next world, eternal damnation. (Cf. angamia.)

Maanguko, n. plur., fall, collapse, fallen remains, ruins. M. ya maji, cataract, cascade, waterfall. (Cf. anguka.)

Mao, n. plur., and Mawio. Mawo ya jua (i.e. mwao, cf. waa), sunrise, the orient, east (cf. macho ya jua). (In Z. mashariki is usual.)

Mapizo, n. plur., imprecations, curses, denunciations. (Cf. apa, apiza.)

*Maarifa, n. knowledge, information, intelligence, news. Mambo ni maarifa, si nguvu, the world is ruled by knowledge, not by force. (Ar. Cf. arifu, taarifu, and follg., and syn. elimu, busara, akili.)

*Maarufu, a. known, celebrated, famous. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Maasi, n. any repudiation of obligation (duty, right), i.e. disobedience, rebellion, mutiny, disloyalty, apostasy, desertion of wife or children, &c. (Cf. asi, uasi, and syn. halifu, thulumu.)

Mawio, n. plur. See Maao.

*Maazimu, n. a loan, a debt. (Ar. Cf. azimu, kopa, and syn. deni, karatha.)

*Mabruki, n. a common Swahili name,—meaning blessed. (Ar. Cf. bariki, mbaraka.)

Maburudisho, Maburudu, n. recreation, refreshment, relief. (Ar. Cf. baridi, burudisha.)

*Machela, n. litter, palanquin, sling or hammock for carrying a person. (Cf. tusi.)

Macheleo, n. plur. objects of fear (reverence, awe). (Cf. cha, v., fear, and afa.)

Macheo, n. plur. for machweo. Macheo ya jua, sunset, the west. (In Z. magaribi is usual. Cf. cha, v., and machwa.)

Machinjio, n. plur. slaughter, massacre, place of slaughter. Also machinjio, slaughter-house. (Cf. chinja.)

Macho, n. plur. (1) eyes (sing. jicho, which see), and as a. awake, on the alert; (2) macho ya jua, sunrise, east. (Cf. cha, v., dawn, and maao.)

Machubwichubwi, n. pl. mumps.

Machuki, n. plur., (1) objects of hate, abomination, offence; (2) and Machukizo, feeling of hate, hatred, disgust, aversion, loathing. Namachukia machuki makuu, I utterly detest him. (Cf. chuki, chukia.)

Machunga, n. plur. pasturage, pastures, feeding-places for animals. (Cf. chunga, and malisha, lisha.)

Machwa, n. plur. Machwa ya
MACHWEO 202

MAGEZI

Mafaa, n. use, utility, profit, advantage, e.g. ng'ombe hisi hazina mafaa, these oxen are no good. (Cf. faa, vifaa, faiida, and syn. uchumi.)

Maficho, n. plur. concealment, place of concealment, hiding-place. Amefanya kwa maficho, he has acted secretly, i.e. kifchoficho. (Cf. ficha.)

Mafu, n. death, dead things. Also as adj., maji mafu, neat tide. (Cf. fa, kifo, ufu, fu.) In Z. mauti (Ar.) is usual for death.

Mafua, n. plur. chest symptoms, chest complaint (cold in the chest, bronchitis, pneumonia, phthisis, &c.). (Cf. kifua, pafu.)

Mafungulia, n. plur. unfastening,—esp. mafungulia ng'ombe, as a mark of time, grazing time, about 8–9 a.m., when the dew is gone, and sun not too hot. (Cf. jungua.)

Mafusho, n. See Mavusho.

Mafuta, n. plur. oil, fat, grease (of any kind). M. ya nyama, fat, lard, dripping (also shahamu, animal fat. Butter is commonly distinguished as siagi, or samli, ghee). Mafuta ya taa (ya kizungu, amerikano), common petroleum. Vegetable oils are mafuta ya uta, semsem oil; m. ya mbárika, castor oil; m. ya nazi, cocoanut oil. (Cf. juta, usufuta, utha.)

Mafuu, n. plur. craziness, silliness, half-witted state. (Cf. kicha, wazimu.)

Mafya, n. plur. (sing. jifya), stones used to support a pot or kettle in cooking. (Cf. mafiga, meko.) Also name of an island (Momia), S. of Zanzibar.

*Magadi, n. soda. Also plur. of gadi (which see).

*Magaribi, n. also Mangaribi, Magrebi, (1) time of sunset, Mahommedan evening prayers or vespers; (2) place of sunset, the west; (3) Morocco (as the western land). (Ar. Cf. mashariki.)

Mageuzi, n. plur. change, changes, changeableness. Also mageuzo, i.e.

channings,—the process rather than the fact or effect, and cf. gena.

Mago, n. plur. of kago (which see).

Magombezi, n. plur. quarrel, opposition, prohibition. Also magombezo, quarrellings,—of the action, rather than the fact or effect. (Cf. gombi, gombeza, ugonvi.)

Mahabba, n. affection, fondness, love. (Ar. Cf. habba, muhebbi.)

Mahali, n. also Mahala, cf.

pahali, pahala, (1) place, position, situation, and fig. place of honour;

(2) region, district, country (cf. in-chi); (3) room, space, interval (cf.

nafasti). Mahali (pahali) is the only noun in Swahili meaning 'place,' the only word with which the pfx. p-

(pa-, po) in reference to space is regularly associated, and as a rule means 'place, position,' only. E.g.

mahali hapa, this place. M. hapo

(pale), that place. M. pote, every place, everywhere. Mahali pa, in the place of, instead of. Wakamwenda pale pahali pake, and they went to him at his place there. Anu-weka mahali, he puts me in a place,

i.e. treats me with distinction. (Ar.

Cf. pahali,—a form assimilated to the B. pfx. of place. Dist. mahari, dowry.)

Maharazi, n. a shoemaker's awl,

—for stitching leather. (Arab.)

Mahari, n. a marriage settlement, money or property paid to the wife's relations, or settled on the wife.

Tumepatana na mahari yake rupia sittini, we have agreed as to her dowry, viz. sixty rupees. (Ar.

Dist. mahari.)

Mahati, n. a carpenter's gauge for marking lines. Also, a marking cord, ruddle. (Hind.)

Mahazamu, n. a shawl or wrapper worn round the waist as a girdle.

(Ar. Cf. mshipi, masombo, utumumu.)

Mahindi, n. plur. single grains of Indian corn, maize, i.e. seeds of the plant muhindi. (Cf. hindi, mu-hindi.)

Mahiri, a. and Mahali, skilful, clever, quick. Fundi mahiri, a clever craftsman. (Ar. Cf. umahiri, and syn. mbingwa, mstadi, waria, &c.)

Mahoka, n. plur. (1) (a kind of) evil spirits; (2) frenzy, mania, madness. (Cf. shetani, pepo.)

Maisha, n. (1) continuance, duration, permanence; (2) life (in respect of length and duration), period of living, mode of life. E.g. mtu huu una m. sana, this wood is very durable. M. mauvu, evil living. M.

mengi, long life. Also as adv., maisha na milele, for life and for ever,

i.e. for ever and ever. Utufinge maisha yetu, imprison us for life.

Mwaka maisha, till life ends, the whole life long. (Maisha is treated sometimes as D 6, sometimes as D 5, though there is no sing. isha. While maisha mengi means (see above) long life,' maisha nyongi would rather mean 'many lives,' i.e. life-periods. Maisha is life in respect of length and content; umri, time of life, age; uzima, life as manifest in the living condition, state of living;

roho, the life-principle, soul, spirit.

(Ar. Cf. ishi, aushi, uzima, roho, umri.)

Maiti, n. a dead body, corpse,— usually human only. Also, a dead person, i.e. mtu maiti. Hukuta maiti za Wawemba, we kept coming on the bodies of dead Wawemba. (Ar.

Cf. maiti, also msoga, pinda.)

Majahaba, n. a dock—for ships.

(Cf. gudi.)

Majaliwa, n. what is granted, aid, help, favour, grace of God. (Cf.

jali, jalia.)

Majani, n. plur. grass, leaves,—in general. See Jani.

Majeruhi, a. wounded. (Ar.

Cf. jeraha, jeruhi.)

Maji, n. water, or what resembles water, (1) in general,—liquid, fluid, moisture, damp; (2) in particular,— secretion, juice, sap, &c. Usually treated as D 5 (P), no singular. E.g. teka m., (draw water (from a well, water-hole, &c.). M. baridi (matamu, ya pepo, ya mwaa), fresh water. M. ya shumvi (ya bahari), salt water. M. bavuna (makali), spring tide. M. maju, neat tide. M. ya moto, (1) hot water, (2) a kind of light red or yellow ant. Kama maji, (1) fluid, liquid, (2) fluent, flowing,—of ready speech. Used also in virtual compounds, mja maji, one who arrives by sea, a stranger, newcomer. Mwana maji, a sailor, sea-faring man. M. ya shahada, water poured (by Mahommedans) into a small hole at the head of a grave, when filled in. Also as a., maji, majimaji, wet, damp. (Cf. Ar. maad, water, maji, bitter, salt, briny, or better perh. uji, rice gruel, and ? ja, v. Other Bantu dialects have madi, amanzi, matsi, medi, mfa, mashi, &c.)

*Majibizano, n. teaching by question and answer, catechetical instruction. (Cf. jibu.)

*Majibu, n. an answer, reply, response, also as a plur. form, answers. (Ar. Cf. jibu, jawabu.)

Majilio, n. plur. time (place, manner, &c.) of coming (to), approach, arrival, advent. (Cf. ja, jilia.)

Majilipa, n. also Majilipo, Majilip-izi, -izo, -isho, repayment, requital, revenge. (Cf. lipa, malipo, and syn. kisasi.)

*Majira, n. time, period, season. K'wa m. haya, at this time. M. ya mwaa, rainy season. As conj. 'when, while,' e.g. m. akilinda shamba, while (he is) watching the plantation. (Ar. Cf. wakiti, pindi.)

*Majira, n. course of a ship,—in navigation. Twaa majira, get bearings, find the course. (Ar.)

Majisifu, n. plur. self-praise, boasting, brag, conceit. (From Rf. of sifu, cf. folg.)

Majivuno, n. plur. boasting, bragging, self-laudation. (From Rf. of vuna, cf. prec. and kujiona.)

Majonsi, n. sorrow, grief, mourning, sadness. Fanya (ona) m., be sorrowful, sad. (Cf. hamu, huzuni, simanzi, sikitiko, &c.)

*Majuni, n. a preparation of opium, Indian hemp, &c., with sugar and other ingredients made up into a sweetmeat,—strongly intoxicating. (Cf. madadi.)

Majuto, n. plur. and Majutio, regret, repentance, remorse. Majuto ni mjukuu, remorse is like a grandchild, i.e. comes at last. (Cf. juta, and toba.)

Makaa, n. plur. coal, charcoal. See Kaa.

Makalalao, n. nickname of the Madagascar settlers in Zanzibar. (M. means cockroaches,—in Z. commonly mende.)

Makali, n. the sharp part, edge, point, of a thing, e.g. makali ya upanga, the edge of a sword, as contr. with bapa, the flat. (Cf. -kali, nkal, and mapana.)

*Makani, n. dwelling, dwelling-place, residence, home. (Ar. Cf. masikani, makazi, kao, makao.)

*Makasi, n. a pair of scissors,—sometimes mkasi, also treated as D 5 (P). (Ar.)

*Makataa, n. binding agreement, contract, final settlement, engagement. (Ar. Cf. kata, kataa, maka-taa, and syn. mkataba, sharti.)

Makatazo, n. plur. prohibition, objection, refutation. (Cf. kataa, kataza.)

Makazi, n. plur. dwelling, dwelling-place, mode of dwelling. (Cf. kaa, v., kao, &c., and syn. makani, masikani.)

Makengeza, n. plur. squinting, a squint, i.e. m. ya macho. Mwenyi m., one who squints. Kuwa na m., to have a squint,—so angalia kwa m. (Cf. upogo, kitongo.)

*Makeruhi, a. offensive, in bad taste, wrong. (Ar. Cf. kirihí, tkitrìhi, and syn. machukízo.)

*Maki, n. thickness, stoutness. Ngwò za m., thick clothes. Ukwà una m., the wall is thick. (Ar. amag, deep, depth, and cf. unene, urefu, upana.)

*Makini, n. quiet, docile, amenable, well behaved, gentle, composed. Roho makini, a quiet disposition, e.g. of a child who stays at home, and does what it is told. (Ar. Cf. -pole, -tulivu.)

*Makiri, n. a cleat on the side of a native vessel, for fastening a rope (Str.).

Makosekano, n. plur. failure, lack, defect, deficiency, want. M. ya imani, want of faith. M. ya bithaa, no supply of goods. (Cf. kosa, kosekaná, and syn. upungufu.)

*Maksai, n. a castrated animal, bullock, gelding. N'ombe maksai, a bullock. (Ar. Cf. hastí, and towashi.)

*Makubazi, n. plur. a pair of leather sandals with ornamentation. (Cf. kiatú, ndara, mlalawanda.)

*Makufuru, n. infidelity, sacrilege, blasphemy. (Ar. Cf. kafiri, kufuru.)

*Makuli, and *Maakuli, food, victuals, provisions. (Ar. Cf. chakula, risiki, nasuú.)

Makulima, n. plur. implements or operations of agriculture, agriculture, tillage. (Cf. lima, mkulima, kili-mo.)

Makungu, n. plur. signs of dawn, daybreak. (Cf. ukungu.)

Makupaa, n. plur. See Kupa.

Makupwa, n. plur. shore, rocks, &c., left uncovered at low tide. (Cf. pwa, pwani, kipwa.)

Makusanyiko, n. plur. gathered people or things, a gathering, crowd, concourse, meeting, assembly, collection. (Cf. kusanya, kutana, and syn. mkutano, makutano, jamii.)

*Makusudi, n. plur. and Makasidi, purposes, intentions, objects.

Also as adv., on purpose, intentionally, voluntarily, and as conj. that, in order that, to. (Ar. Cf. kusudi, and conj. illi.)

Makutano, n. plur. gathered people or things, a gathering, assembly, meeting, crowd, collection. (Cf. kuta, mkutano, and syn. makusanyiko, jamii.)

*Makuti, n. plur. used commonly of cocoonal leaves prepared for use as thatch in Zanzibar. See Kuti.

Makuu, n. (strictly plur. of a.-kuu), (1) pride, ambition, ostentation, show (cf. fahari, kiburi, majisifu). Also (2) presumption, which ignores human conditions of dependence and limitation, defiance of divine law, blasphemy, sacrilege (cf. makufuru). (Cf.-kuu.)

Makwa, n. plur. notches,—cut in the top of an upright post, to carry a cross-piece.

*Malaika, n. (1) a messenger, an angel; (2) a baby (cf. kitoto, mchanga). (Ar., and dist. malaika, down, from laika.)

Malaji, n. plur. greediness, gluttony, voracity (as shown in acts or habits, while ulaji is rather of the quality or character in general). (Cf. la, chakula, ulaji.)

Malalo, n. plur. sleeping things, i.e. place, arrangements, bedding, things to lie on. (Cf. lala, ulalo, and follg.)

Malazi, n. plur. also Malazo, (1) things to sleep on, bedding,—like malalo, e.g. ngwó njema na malazi mema, fine clothes and fine things to sleep on; (2) marriage bed, sexual intercourse. (Cf. laza, lala.)

Malele, n. orchilla weed, used as a dye, and a regular article of commerce in East Africa.

Malemedi, n. plur. the season of uncertain and changing winds, between the monsoons and during the rains, i.e. about April and November in Z. Also called tanga mbili. (Cf. musimu, kusi, kaskazi.)
Malenga, n. a professional singer, employed to lead the singing in dances, concerts, &c. (Perhaps at first the name of a well-known singer.)

*Maleuni, a. accursed. (Arab. Cf. laana, -laanifu.)

Malevi, n. plur. of ulevi, drunkenness, i.e. drunken habits, acts, &c., -ulevi, rather of the quality or condition. (Cf. lewa, levya, and malafi.)

Malezi, n. plur. of ulezi, rearing, bringing up, both of nurture generally, and of education, training. Malezi masuri, good breeding, good education. (Cf. lea, ulezi.)

*Mali, n. (treated indiscriminately as D 6 or D 5 (P)), property, goods, wealth, riches, possession. Thus mali yake nyangi, mali mengi, mali zake chache. Ni mali ya, it is the property of. Mali ya watu (or ya mwennyewe), it is some one else's property, it is not mine. There is a game called mali ya ndimu, guessing at an unseen striker. (Ar.)

Malidadi, n. one who makes a show, esp. of dress, a showily dressed person, fop, dandy, coxcomb. (Cf. umalidadi, urembo, mlimbwende.)

*Maliki, v. make a beginning of, set to work on, start a job, e.g. of construction, cultivation, &c. M. nyumba, begin to build a house. M. shamba, begin to clear, or hoe, a plantation. M. kwunda chombo, begin to construct a ship. Ps. malikiwa. Ap. malik-ia, -iwa. Cs. malik-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. miliki, and syn. anza, shika.)

*Maliki, n. See Malki.

Malimwengu, n. i.e. mambo ya ulimwengu, worldly matters, mundane affairs, the concerns of men. (Cf. ulimwengu, mlimwengu.)

Malindi, n. (1) plur. of lindi, deep places, channels; (2) a district of Zanzibar city; (3) an ancient town on the coast north of Mombasa; (4) (Str.) the flap or small apron of beads worn by a string round the loins by native women on the mainland (but ? in Z.).

Malipizi, n. plur. causing to pay, retaliation, revenge, dunning for debts, distraint, extortion. Malipizo (and -isho), what is exacted, extortion, and so vengeance, fine, &c., but also as malipizi. (Cf. lipa, and follg., -also kisasi.)

Malipo, n. plur. payment, reward, atonement, vengeance suffered or inflicted. (Cf. lipa, and prec.)

*Malisaa, n. shot, i.e. small shot, for firearms, &c. (Cf. lisasi, bullet, and kiasi, cartridge.)

Malisha, n. and Malisho, pasturage, grazing ground, paddock, forage, food for cattle, &c. (Cf. la, lisha, and machunga.)

Malizano, n. plur. mourning of many together, a general wailing. (Cf. lia, and Cs. liza, lisana.)

Malizi, n. plur. things causing a sound, things rustling, making a noise. E.g. nasikia malizi nyasini, I hear things rustling in the rushes. (Cf. ita, and prec.)

Malki, n. also Maliki, a king, ruler, sovereign. (Arab., not usual in Z. Cf. follg. and miliki, also syn. sultani, mfsalme, jumbe.)

Malkia, n. (ma-), queen, female sovereign. (Cf. prec.)

Mama, n. mother, female ancestor or parent,—of all kinds. Mama wa kambo, step-mother. Mama mkubwa (mdogo), mother's elder (younger) sister. Mama wee, an African's most natural cry in pain, sorrow, or surprise. Kr. quotes Mama ni Munugu wa pili, one's mother comes next to God. Mama is treated grammatically like Baba, which see. Mwana is used in polite reference or address to one's own mother (cf. mwana, bibi).

Mamba, n. (1) a crocodile; (2) a name of a very dangerous kind of snake.

Mambo, n. plur. of Jambo, which see. Used independently mambo often means, affairs of importance, difficulties, problems, hardships, e. g. ulimuengu una mambo, the world is full of wonders (or, strange things, mysteries, difficulties). Mambo mengi, like visa vingi, complications, puzzles, perplexities. So used as int., i.e. wonderful! very awkward! a poser!

*Mamlaka, n. (1) authority, dominion, rule, rights of ownership; (2) property, possession, dominions. In the latter sense, miliki is more usual. Sina m. na kitu hicho, I have no right to (power over) that thing. (Ar. Cf. malki, miliki, milki, and syn. ensi, amri, hukumu, ngwvu, wwezo.)

Mamoja, a. form of -moja, agreeing with D 5 (P), i.e. of one kind, treated as one. Often used independently, e. g. mamoja kwangu, it is all one (all the same) to me, I do not care, I have no choice. Mamoja, as you like. (Cf. -moja, and syn. haithuru.)

Manuka, n. plur. smell, scent

Manjano, n. turmeric, — used as a yellow colouring material for ornament, and also in curry powder, — an East Indian vegetable product. Rangi ya m., yellow colour.

Manowari, n. a man-of-war,— one of the earliest and most established adaptations of an English word in Swahili. (Others are more or less commonly known, e. g. boi, kala, shati, koti, julana, sitoki, kabati, bira, burashi, daktari, sitma, meli, afsa, dasan, inche, spitali, posta, afisi.)

*Mansulii, n. a kind of woollen material, used for dress and as a coverlet.
odour. (Cf. nuka, and follg., also syn. harufu.)

Manukato, n. plur. sweet scent, perfume, sweet-smelling substance. (Many such are used in Z., as liquids, in powders, for fumigation, &c. E.g. marashi (a general term for liquid scents), meski, hal waridi, sandali, dasili, undi, ubani, dalia, mugabu, rihani, garafuu, garafuu maiti, wumba, liwa, buhuri, tibu, kivumbasi, afu, &c. Cf. nuka, and -to, which is not common as a suffix in Z. except in this word.)

*Manuku, n. a copy, transcript, translation, imitation. (Ar. Cf. nakili.)

Manyiga, n. a kind of hornet (Str.).

Manyoya, n. plur. of unyoya (which see).

Manyunyo, n. plur. showers, sprinkling, drizzle, light rain. (Cf. nyunyisa.)

Maokozi, n. plur. saving, rescue, means of saving. (Cf. okoa, mwokozi.)

Maombi, n. plur. also Maomvi. (cf. iba, mwivivii, prayers, entreaties, requests, intercessions. (Cf. omba, and syn. haja, dua, sala.)

Maombolezo, n. plur. loud wailing, lamentations, mourning, dirges. (Cf. omba, omboleza, malio.)

Maondokeo, n. plur. (1) departure, going away, taking leave; (2) rising up, respectful salute. (Cf. ondoka, ondokea.)

Maondoleo, n. plur. taking away, removal. M. ya thambi, remission (forgiveness) of sin. (Cf. ondoa, ondolea.)

Maongezi, n. plur. talk, conversation, gossip, amusement, pastime. Weka m., prepare for a long chat. (Cf. ongea, and syn. mazungumzo.)

Maongezo, n. plur. addition, increase, supplement. (Cf. ongeza and nyongeza, and syn. mazidisho.)

Maongo, n. plur. back (of men or animals), but in Z. usually mgongo (which see).

Maongozi, n. plur. direction, superintendence, management, administration, arrangements. M. ya Muungu, Providence, divine dispensation. (Cf. ongoa, and syn. madaraka, matengeneo.)

Maonji, n. plur. tasting, testing, trial, experiment. Maonji ya mtumbo, testing a machine, to see if it works. (Cf. onja, and maonbi from omba, and syn. jaribu.)

Maozi, n. giving in marriage, arrangements for bringing about a marriage. (Cf. oa, oza, and mazi-shi.)

Mapaji, n. present, gift. (Cf. pa, -paji, upaji, mpaji, and dist. paji la uso, forehead.)

Mapakizi, n. (1) arrangements connected with shipping and dispatch of goods, conveyance on board, payment of freightage, &c. Also (2) goods shipped, cargo, freight. Similarly mapakio. (Cf. pakia.)

Mapalilio, n. plur. also Mapalilo, Mapalio, time (place, process, &c.) of hoeing, i.e. not the first hoeing (lima), but the cross-hoeing, cleaning the ground among trees or crops already planted. (Cf. paa, palia, paliiia.)

Mapambano, n. plur. contact, comparisons, collisions. (Cf. pambana.)

Mapana, n. plur. the wide or broad part of a thing, flat side, breadth, width, diameter. Meza hii ina mapana, this table is broad. Njia mapana thaifu, a road of insignificant width. (Cf. -pana, upana, and -nene, and for the form makali.)

Mapatano, n. plur. agreement, contract, understanding, conspiracy, alliance. (Cf. pata, patana, and syn. maafikano, nkataa.)

Mapema, adv. in good time, early, soon. Assubuhi na mapema, early in the morning.

Mapenda, n. plur. loving another, love. Other nouns of similar form from penda may be enumerated here, but most of them will be found also under a sing. form beginning with u or p, i.e. as D 5 or D 6. See also Penda. Mapendo (sing. u), mutual love. *Mapendefu, love, from the side of its object, i.e. being loved, love as experienced. Mapendelefu, mapendeleko, favour, bias, self- ingrati- tation, from the side of recipient or giver. Mapendesi, things that please, engaging manners, amiability, affectionateness. Mapendo, acts of love, loving - kindness. Mapenzi, love, liking, inclination, desire, will, wish, purpose. E.g. asfuta mapenzi ya moyo wako, he follows his own caprices (whims, fancies, ideas, &c.). Mapenzi hayana macho, love is blind.

Mapepeta, n. plur. a preparation of immature rice (peteta sa mipunga). (Cf. pepeta.)

Mapinduzi, n. plur. turning things upside down, revolution, disorder. (Cf. pinda, pindua.)

Mapishi, n. plur. things (materials, utensils, &c.) for cooking. (Cf. pika.)

Mapiswa, n. unmeaning nonsense, drivel, silliness.

Mapokeo, n. plur. things received, traditions. See Pokea.

Maponea, n. plur. means of subsistence, livelihood, food. (Cf. pona, and follg. Also syn. riziki, nasu, vifaa.)

Maponyea, n. plur. means of curing (rescuing, &c.). Matikiti na matango ndio maponyea nyaa, water melons and cucumbers are what save from starvation, i.e. as the last resource in drought. (Cf. pona, ponya.)

Maponyo, n. plur. (1) healing things, drugs, medicines, means of saving, (2) getting well, a cure, rescue, preservation. (Cf. pona, mapoza.)

Mapoza, n. plur. and Mapoza, things withered, undeveloped, not matured, useless, e.g. of fruit dropped in an unripe green stage. (Cf. poza.)

Maposo, n. plur. proposals or arrangements for marrying, wooing. (Cf. poza.)

Mapoza, n. plur. remedies, means or appliances for healing. (Cf. poa, pona, poza, and syn. dawa.)

Mapwaji, n. plur. coast, foreshore, part affected by tides. In Z. usually pwa, kipwa.)

Maradufu, a. double, extra thick, of two thicknesses. (Ar. radaf, or daaf.)

Marahaba, int. used as a common rejoinder to the salute of an inferior, or on receipt of a present or favour,—thank you, very well. (Ar. 'it is welcome, I am pleased.' Cf. ak-sante.)

Marakaraka, a. with patches, stripes, spots,—and so of colour, mottled, speckled, variegated, &c. (Cf. raka, kiraka, and syn. madoadoa.)

Marasharasha, n. sprinklings, showers; drizzle,—of rain, sprinkled perfume, &c. (Ar. Cf. mrashi, marashi.)

Marashi, n. scent, liquid perfume. Marashi mawaridi, rose water. (Ar. Cf. prec. and tibu, manukato.)

Mardudi, n. repudiation, rejection. (Arab.)

Maregeo, n. and Marejeo, coming back, return, and fig. reference, recurrence. (Ar. Cf. rejea.)

Marehemu, n. and a., one who has found mercy,—used as a euphemistic term of reference to a deceased person, the late, the departed, the defunct. (Ar. Cf. rehemá.)
Marejeo, n. See Maregeo, and Rejea. (Ar.)

Marembo, n. plur. ornaments,—personal, architectural, &c. articles of finery, carved work, bas-relief. (Cf. urembo, remba, and syn. pambo, naks, choro.)

*Marihunu, n. ointment, unguent, plaster,—scented, medicated, &c. (Ar. Cf. lehenu, likamu, and syn. mafuta, bandiko.)

Marigeli, n. a largemetal caldron, chiefly for cooking rice in great quantities. (Ar. Cf. chombo, hungu, sufuria, &c., for vessels of different kinds.)

*Marijani, n. coral,—but in Z. not of the stone, or coral rock (cf. tumbawi), but of the red coral imported and used as ornament. Called also marijani ya fethaluka.

Marika, n. plur. of rika, contemporaries, of same age, i.e. umri sawa. (Cf. hirimu and rika. There is a town called Marika, or Marka, on the Somali coast, north of Z.)

*Marikebu, n. ship. See Merikebu. (Ar. Cf. rekebu, and syn. jahazi, and B. chombo.)

Marindi, n. See Malindi.

*Marini, a. pleasing in appearance, bright, smart, blooming. Vijana marini, fine young people. (Cf. syn. -suri.)

*Marisaa, n. also Malisaa, shot,—i.e. for firearms. (Cf. risasi, kiasi.)

*Marithawa, a. in abundance, plenty, sufficient. (Ar. 'to one's heart's content, as much as one would wish.' Cf. rithi, rathi, and syn. -ingi, tele.)

*Marra, n. and adv. (1) a time, a single time, a turn, an occurrence; (2) at once, immediately. M. moja, (1) once, (2) at once, immediately. M. mbili, twice. M. ya kwansa, the first time. M. nyangi, often, repeatedly. Marra kuwa marra, time after time, often. Marra marra, at intervals, at times, occasionally. M. hii, at once, on the spot. Marra chako, marra changu, now yours, now mine,—a riddle to which the answer is mali, wealth. (Ar. Cf. safari, zamu, which are sometimes syn.)

*Marudi, n. plur. also Marudio, (1) a return, a recompense, a paying back; (2) punishment, discipline, correction. (Ar. Cf. rejea, and malipo, athabu, zuio.)

*Marufaa, n. plur. part of a native loom,—small boards between which the warp is stretched. See Kitanda cha mfumi.

*Marufuku, a. forbidden, prohibited. Piga m. (or rufaka), give public notice of prohibition, proclaim as forbidden, forbid officially. (Ar. Cf. mifaka, and syn. kataza.)

Marugurugu, n. and a., small swellings, lumps, e.g. mtu akijikuna, hufanya m. ya mwili, if a man scratches himself (as when stung), he raises swellings on his body.

Masa, n. See Masali, Masazo.

*Masafi, n. purity, cleanliness, correctness. (Ar. Cf. safi, usafi, which is seldom used, utakifu, usasaha, tohara.)

*Masahaba, n. plur. the special friends and companions of Mahomed. (Ar. Cf. sahib.)

*Masaibu, n. accident, calamity. (Ar. Cf. msiba, from same root.)

Masalio, n. plur. also Masalia, Masaa, remains, remnant, what is left over. (Cf. salia, sazo, baki.)

*Masalkheri, the common Arabic evening salutation, good evening,—as subukheri for the morning. (Ar. masaa, evening, and heri.)

Masango, n. wire, esp. thick brass wire,—one of the commonest articles of exchange and barter in East Africa. Called also seng'enge, masoka, and a fine kind udodi. Different kinds of material are distinguished as m. ya chuma, ya shaba nyeupe, ya shaba nyekundu, ya fetha, i.e. iron, brass, copper, silver wire.

*Masarifu, n. also Masarufo, Masruf, supplies for an expedition or journey, provisions, outfit, goods and money. (Ar. expenses, outlay. Cf. sarifu, gharama.)

*Mashairi, n. plur. of shairi, verses, a poem, poetry. *Tunga mashairi, compose poetry. (Ar.)

*Mashaka, n. plur. of shaka, doubts, trouble, difficulties, danger. (Ar.)

*Mashapo, n. plur. dregs, lees, sediment, e. g. of squeezed fruits, grains, herbs, &c. (Str.) (Cf. masira, masalio.)

*Mashariki, n. the East. -a mashariki, eastern, easterly, oriental. (Ar. Cf. magaribi, and syn. matlai, matokea (macho, mao) ya jua.)

Mashenda, n. plur. rice cooked as a kind of pudding, used for invalids, -not dry like wali, nor gruel like uji. Mashindea ya mchele, rice-pudding. Also m. ya mtama.

Mashindano, n. plur. contest, race, competition, struggle, athletic sports. M. ya mbio, racing; m. ya kuruka, jumping competition; m. ya kushikana mbavu, wrestling. (Cf. shinda, mishindani.)

Mashua, n. boat, boats, -built of boards, &c., not hollowed out in native fashion. M. ya moshi, a steam launch. (Cf. shua, and dau.)

*Mashuuri, a. famous, renowned, celebrated, well-known, notorious. (Ar. Cf. syn. maaru, -enyi sifa, -bayani.)

Mashuazi, n. plur. breaking wind, -without noise. (Cf. shuta, ushuni, and jamba.)

*Masia, n. walking, a walk, gait. *Enda masia, go out walking. (Arab. for usual tembea, matembezi.)

*Masifwa, n. plur. things praised, recommended, advertised. (Verb. noun passive from sifu, cf. follg. and similar noun mapendwa, &c.)

*Masifu, n. plur. praises, congratulations. (For more usual sifa, cf. sifu, v.)

*-masihiya, a. Christian. (Cf. Ar. masiha, Christ, and masiya.)

Masika, n. the season of the greater rains (maji ra ya mwua nyangi) in Zanzibar, i. e. March, April, and May, when the hot north monsoon gives way to the cooler south. Corresponds to autumn in northern latitudes. (For seasons generally see Mwaka.)

*Masikani, n. dwelling place, abode. (Ar. Cf. makani, and syn. B. kao.)

*Masikini, n. (1) a poor man, beggar, - used descriptively, and also (2) in pity or contempt, a hapless, luckless, miserable individual. (3) a freed slave, who has no protector, home or belongings, i. e. m. wa Muungu, one who picks up a living as he can. (Ar. Cf. fukara, mwombaji, mnyonge.)

Masimango, n. plur. ill-natured remarks, reproaches, - of a patronizing contemptuous kind. (Cf. simanga, and mashutumu, masuto, matusi.)

Masingizio, n. plur. (1) slander, calumny, false insinuation, misrepresentation. Hence (2) pretence, disguise, make-believe, belying facts. (Cf. singizia, nenea, sengeya, amba.)

Masiwa, n. large islands, -used to describe the Comoro, or Seychelles islands. (Cf. kisiva, usiwa.)

*Masiya, n. (ma-), the Anointed One, Christ. (Ar. masiha.)

Masizi, n. plur. soot, grime, i. e. masizi ya moshi meusi yaliyoganda-mia chungu, the black smoky grime that forms on a cooking pot. (Dist. misizi, rootlets, and masizi, cattle-pens.)

Masoka, n. thick iron or brass wire. (Cf. masango, and usoka.)

Masombo, n. girdle, - consisting of a long piece of cloth wound round Masongo

Matafuni, n. plur. chewings, nibblings, things chewed. (Cf. ta-funa.)

Matagataga, adv. enda m., walk with long striding steps, straddle along. (Cf. taga or tagaa.)

Mataka, n. plur. wantings, desires, inclination. (Cf. taka, v., matakwa, and syn. haja, maeleko. Dist. mata-kataka.)

Matakata, n. plur. (1) cleanings,1 screenings, scrapings, offscourings, and so (2) refuse, rubbish. (Cf. takata, taka, and follg.)

Matakataka, n. plur. dirt, filth, refuse, rubbish. (Cf. taka, n., kita-kataka, takata, kifusi.)

Matakafifu, n. plur. pure living, holy life, holiness (i.e. perf. holiness not only considered as an attribute (utakatifu) but exemplified in acts. See Ma., 2 (d) (1). (Cf. -takata, -takatifu, utakatifu.)

Matakwa, n. plur. (1) things wanted, needs, desires, requests; (2) being wanted, being in request, e.g. matakwayangu kufwa mtumishi killa mtu ayajna, every one knows how I was wanted as a servant, how my services were in request.

*Matana, n. used sometimes of a form of leprosy disease. (Cf. ba-tanga, ukoma.)

Matanga, n. plur. of tanga (which see).

Matangamano, n. plur. a mixed crowd, medley, miscellaneous assemblage, promiscuous collection. (Cf. tangamana, also syn. makutano, jamii.)

Matata, n. plur. tangle, complication, complex affair, troubles, difficulties, &c. Tia m., complicate, involve. (Cf. tatiza.)

Mate, n. plur. of ute (cf. ute, mata), spitting, spittle, saliva. Mate-mate, light spitting rain, drizzle (cf. manyunyo). Tema mate, spit, expectorate.

Mateka, n. plur. (1) booty, prey, plunder, and esp. (2) captive in war, the waist, like (Ar.) mahazamu. (Cf. ukumbuu, which is shorter, and mshipi.)

Masongo, n. plur. plaits,—e. g. of hair, tresses, wreaths of flowers, garlands. (Cf. msokoto, and suka, songa.)

*Masri, n. and Misri, Egypt.

Masua, n. plur. and Mazua, giddiness. (Cf. zulu, zulika, kizuli, and syn. kizinguzungu.)

Masuguo, n. plur. rubbing, something to rub with, a whetstone, knife-board. (Cf. sugua, noa, kino.)

Masuko, n. plur. and commonly Masukosuko, (1) shaking, wagging, tossing; moving to and fro quickly,— and so generally (2) agitation, disturbance, a restless state of affairs. Used of the rolling or pitching of a vessel at sea. (Cf. suka, and mramma.)

*Masuluhu, n. reconciliation, peace after quarrelling. (Ar. Cf. sulushisha, selehisha.)

Masumbu, n. plur. acts of annoyance, annoying habits or character. Kijana kidogo kina masumbu, a small child is a nuisance. (Cf. sumbua, -sumbfu, usumbu.)

Masuto, n. plur. reproaches, accusations, critical remarks, fault-finding, sarcasms. (Cf. suta, and syn. la-mu, shatumu, shtka.)

Mata, n. plur. of ute, native shooting weapon, bow and arrows. (Cf. upindi, mshale.)

*Mataajabu, n. plur. wonders, marvels, surprises. Also of wonder, as felt, e.g. ona m., feel astonishment, wonder. (Ar. Cf. ajabu, staajabu, and syn. mwujiza, shani.)

Matabwatabwa, n. plur. rice cooked with a great deal of water, rice gruel, called matabwatabwa ya wali, wali ulio mashendea mambamba sana, i.e. a thin porridge, uji mwe-pesi, uji wa majimaji, a very thin watery gruel. (Cf. wali, utabwa, uji.)
Matembezi, n. plur. (1) a walk taken for pleasure or business, a ramble, a tour, a round; (2) also idle strolling, street walking. *Matembezi kule matembezi, I went there for a walk. (Cf. tembea, masia.)

*Mathabahu, n. and Mathbahu, place of sacrifice, altar. (Ar. Cf. mathabuha, thabihu.)

Mathabuha, n. and Mathbuhu, thing sacrificed, victim, offering. (Cf. prec.)

Mathabu, n. and Mathehebu, (1) customs, ideas, tenets, usages; (2) sect, denomination, party, persuasion. M. ya maneno, uses of words, formularies, idioms. M. ya mambo, usages, ceremonies, rites. (Ar. Cf. desturi, kawaida, kanuni. Dist. thabahu.)

Mathali, conj. also Mathal, Methali, Mithili, Mizali, as, like. (Ar. See Methali, and cf. kama.)

Mathubutil, n. and a., also Mathubutu, (1) evidence, proof, confirmation, support (cf. ushahidi); (2) trustworthy, honest, reliable, effective, decisive. E.g. makarani si m., the clerks are not to be trusted. Hoja m., a strong, conclusive argument. (Ar. Cf. thu-butu, thabiti, and syn. imara.)

Matiko, n. hardening or tempering metal. Tia m., harden, temper. Fundi ametilia m. shoka langu, the smith has tempered my axe. So tilika (pata, ingia) matiko,—of the metal. (?) Cf. utiko.)

Matilabu, n. desire, wish, purpose. Matilaba siano mrazi, desire and intention. (Arab., not often in Z. Cf. tamaa, tamamani, matakwa, shauri, shauko.)

Matilo, n. and Mantilo, a rope from the after-part of the yard to the masthead, to give greater security in a high wind.

Matimutimu, n. nyele za m., dishevelled, disordered hair.

Matindi, n. half-grown Indian corn (muhindi.).

Matiti, n. enda m., trot, go at a trot,—of an animal. (Cf. telki, mbio, and dist. titi, kititi.)

*Matlaa, n. and Matlai, sunrise, the east, east wind, morning wind. (Ar. Cf. mashariki.)

Matongo, n. discharge from the eyes. Mwenyi m. ya macho, a person whose eyes run from weakness or disease. (Cf. utongo, tongo, and perh. choongo.)

Matukano, n. plur. insulting words, abuse, bad language, insults. (Cf. tukana, and syn. matusi, masuto.)

Matumbawe, n. plur. coral stone in the intermediate stage, between actual formation and complete fossilization,—a white, light, compact stone, used esp. on account of its lightness in concrete roofs; and, being comparatively soft, it is also cut to form a projecting support for plaster string-courses.

Matumishi, n. plur. service, a servant's work. (Cf. follg. and mutumshi.)

Matumizi, n. plur. (1) acts of using, use, using, employment; (2) things used, requisites, conveniences, e.g. food, clothes, firing, &c. E.g. hana m. nayo, he has no use for them. Sina m. leo, I am quite destitute at present. (Cf. tumia, and syn. zikiz, vifaa.)

Maubumbe, n. plur. created state, original condition, natural constitution (Kr.),—but umbo is usual in Z. (Cf. umba, kiumbe.)

Maungo, n. plur. of ungo (which see).

Maunzi, n. plur. a structure, frame, framework, esp. one of wood and of shipbuilding, i.e. the hull or framing of a vessel. (Cf. unda, mnunzi.)

Mauthiko, n. plur. annoyances, (feeling of) annoyance. Kwa uchu-ngra na m., from resentment and irritation. (Cf. uhi, uthia, and syn. masumbuo.)

slave,—used as sng. and plur. (Cf. tekka, v.)
*Mauti, n. death. Patiwa na (kutiwa na, patikana na) mauti, die. (Ar. Cf. maiti, and syn. B. nfu, kifo.)

Mavi, n. plur. (no sing., (1) dung, excrement; (2) dross (of metal), scoria, e.g. m. ya chuma, iron-worker's refuse; m. ya nyota, star droppings,—used of bright, metallic, sparkling stone, mica, &c. (3) a coarse term of abuse and contempt, like mawe, rot, humbug, nonsense, trash.

Mavunde, n. plur., and Mavundevunde, broken, scattered, ragged clouds, a cloudy overcast sky. (Cf. vnja, and pass. termin. -e.)

Mavune, n. plur. that which is harvested or reaped. Sometimes used fig. of outcome, result, consequences, effect. (Cf. vnja, and pass. termin. -e, also follg.)

Mavuno, n. plur. (1) time (place, process, results, &c.) of harvesting, reaping crops; (2) fig. generally profit, gain, exploitation. M. ya nyuki, bee harvest, i.e. honey. (Cf. vnja, and prec., and for profit, faida, uhumi.)

Mavusho, n. plur. (like mavukizo), fumes, exhalations, fumigation, &c. (Cf. vukizo, vukiza.)

Mawe, n. plur. of jiwé (which see). Often used contemptuously of things common or worthless,—rubbish, nonsense, trash.

Mawele, n. plur. a very small species of grain, a kind of millet (Penicillaria spicata, Sac.).

*Mayiti, n. See Maiti.

Mayugwa, n. plur. leaves of the plant jimbi, a green vegetable like spinach when cooked.

Mazao, n. plur. natural produce, products, offspring, fruit. (Cf. zaa, zaao.)

*Maziada, Mazidi, Mazidio, Mazidisho. See Ziada, &c. (Ar. Cf. zidi.)

Maziko, n. plur. process (time, place, &c.) of burial, funeral, interment. (Cf. zika, mzishi, maishi, kaburi.)

Mazinga-ombwe, n. juggling tricks, conjuring, puzzles. (Cf. kiini-macho, nizungu, and follg.)

Mazingazina, n. plur. going round, revolutions, rounds, e.g. of a patrol, police, &c. (Cf. zinga, zunguka, mzinga.)

Mazishi, n. plur. preparations for burying, attendance at a funeral, things used at a burial (e.g. sanda, kiunsu, pamba, ubani, &c.). (Cf. zika, maziko, mzishi.)

Maziwa, n. (1) as a collective noun, milk of man or animal; (2) plur. of ziwa, i.e. (a) breasts, sucking organs; (b) pools, lakes. M. mabivu, curdled milk. (Cf. m-tindi, butter-milk.) M. ya watu wawili, dragon's blood (sap of a tree).

Mazoea, n. plur. habituation, practice, familiarity, use, habit, custom. Sina m. ya kusema naye, I am not used to talking with him. Fanya m., settle down, become sociable, get contented. (Cf. follg.)

Mazoezo, n. plur. and Mazoezi, habits, customs, usages, practice, wont. (Cf. zoea, -zoefu, and syn. desturi.)

Mazu, n. local name for a kind of banana, not in Z. (Cf. ndizi, ngomba.)

Mazua, n. plur. and Masua, giddiness, confusion. (Cf. zulu, zulika.)

Mazuka, n. plur. apparitions, ghosts, spirits. (Cf. zuka, kizuka, and syn. kiwuli, peko.)

Mazungunzo, n. plur. social intercourse, conversation, amusement. (Cf. zungumza, and syn. maengesi, mchezo.)

Mb-, a common plural prefix of nouns beginning with n, w, uw, ub in Singular, usually representing a euphonic change from original n sound. Words not found under Mb may Mba, n. a kind of skin disease, causing irritation and subsequently scaling. (Cf. choa, dasi, rupia, uvati.)

Mbaamwezi, n. See Mbalamwezi.

Mbaazi, n. (mi-), (1) a shrub bearing a yellow laburnum-like blossom, and pods containing an edible pea or bean; (2) the beans of this shrub,—? Angola pea (Cajanus Indicus, Sac.). Tundu la mibaazi, a cage made of twigs of the mbaazi.

*Bmahari, n. (wa-), commonly. Baharia (ma-), a sailor. (Cf. bahari, and syn. mwana maji.)

*Mbahili, n. (wa-), a miser. (Ar. Cf. bahili, ubahili, mkabithi.)

Mbalamwezi, n. Also Mbaamwezi, Bamalwezi, moonshine, bright moonlight. (Mba-l- is perhaps a plur. form connected with waa, v., shine, i.e. u(w)aa(l)a, u(a)laa, mba(l)a-, combined with mwezi, moon.)

Mbalanga, n. Also Balanga, a form of leprosy. (Cf. ukoma, bala-isi.)

*Mbalehe, n. (wa-) and a., boy or girl growing up, developed, marriageable. (Ar. Cf. balehe, and syn. mzima, mpevu.)

Mbalu, adv. (1) far, far off, distant (in place or time), long ago, long after; (2) distinct, separate, different, contrary, opposite; (3) with the Ap. form of verb, altogether, completely, quite. E.g. waliyo mbalu kwa mbalu huonana kwa nyaraka, people who are far apart meet by means of letters. Weka m., put aside (apart). Safari ya mbuli, a long journey. Hakuna m. sana, it is not very long since he came. Sometimes Rd. rangi mbuli, (of) different colours, many-coloured, variegated. Mambo haya mbali mbuli kabisa, these things are diametrically opposed.

With verbs, uilia mbali, kill outright. Potetaa mbali, perish utterly,—a common imprecation, 'go and be hanged.' Tupia mbali, throw quite away. With ya or na, mbali is used as a prep., far from, distant from,—in time, space, or quality. (Cf. ubali, of which mbali is a plur. form, as mbele of ubele. Opp. karibu, kando.)

*Mbalungi, n. (mi-), a citron tree, its fruit being balungi. (For other varieties of orange see Mchungwa.)

Mbamba, n. (mi-), (1) thin, flat piece (of stone, metal, or other material), plate, layer, sheet, strip, chip, &c. Mbamba wa jiwe, jiwe la mbamba, a flat stone. Also (2) a plant, a kind of Euphorbia. (Cf. bamba, bambo, embamba.)

Mbandiko, n. (mi-), a sticking on, application (e.g. of a plaster, &c.)(Cf. bandida.)

Mbanduko, n. (mi-), a taking off, removing (e.g. of a plaster, covering, clothes), a stripping off. (Cf. bandua.)

Mbangi, n. (mi-), the Indian hemp plant, from which the intoxicant bangi is made. (Cf. afuni, mahuni, bangi.)

Mbango, n. A kind of wild pig with projecting tusks. Hence of a person with projecting teeth. (Seldom in Z. Cf. ngiri, nguruwe.)

Mbano, n. An instrument for grasping and holding, forceps, pincers, a hand-vice, stick partly split. (Cf. mano, bana, banzi, kibano.)

*Mbaraka, n. (mi-), also Baraka, a blessing,—in Z. more usual form than baraka. Shauri ni m., taking counsel brings a blessing. (Ar. Cf. bariki.)

Mbarango, n. (mi-), also Barango, stout club, cudgel. Dim. kibarango. (Cf. bakora, fimbo.)

Mbarika, n. (mi-), the castor-oil plant,—elsewhere on the coast called mbono. Mashuta ya mbarika, castor-oil.
Mbaruti, n. (mi-), a thistle-like weed.

*Mbashiri, n. (wa-), one who brings news, one who foretells, a prophet. (Ar. Cf. bashiri.)

Mbasa, n. or Mbazua, giddiness, craziness. (Cf. mazua, kizua, mutika.)

Mbata, n. a ccoconut in the final state of ripeness and dryness, when the nutty part inside gets loose from the shell. Commonly used for copra. (Cf. nazi, mnazi.)

*Mbatu, n. (perh. plur. from a sing. kwati), the poles laid along the top of a wall, or of side posts, supporting the rafters on which the roof rests.

Mbati, n. (wa-), prodigal, spendthrift, gambler. (Cf. batili, and bathiri, and syn. mharibifu, or mpetevu, wa nali.)

*Mbau, n. (mi-), (1) a plank, a board. Also (2) plur. of ubau, a plank, i.e. timber generally, sawn wood.

Mbavuni, adv. by the side (of), alongside, on the sides (skirts, flanks). Mbavuni mwa mlima, on the flanks of the mountains. Ailinganda mbavuni, he stuck to his side,—kept close to him. (Plur. of ubavu, with locative suffix -ni. Cf. kando, upande.)

*Mbawa, n. plur. of ubawa (which see).

*Mbayanu, n. (wa-), a well-known, notorious person. (Ar. Also Baini, which see.)

*Mbayani, n. (wa-), trader, dealer, pedlar. (Ar. trader in calico, draper. Cf. ubazasi, and syn. tajiri, mchuruzi.)

*Mbegaa, n. monkey with long black silky hair, white on the shoulders. (Cf. kima.)

*Mbegu, n. (1) seed, germ, that from which a plant grows; (2) breed, race, stock. A wider term than chembe, punje (a single grain, a separate small thing), and including what is planted and set to grow, i.e. bulbs, roots, seedlings, cuttings, &c. Fig. of the germ of a disease.

*Mbeja, n. (wa-), a person who is neat, smart, well dressed, careful of personal appearance. Mbeja wa kano, a fine muscular man, athlete. (? Ar. *bahaj. Cf. umbuji.)

Mbeko, n. perh. the same as mbeleko (which see).

*Mbele, adv. and n. (1) of place,—before, in front, on the near side, on the far side, forward, beyond; (2) of time,—long ago, previously, in the past, in the future, hereafter; (3) fig. in the front, in a prominent place (as to rank, quality, value, &c.). Mbele is often used with ya or za (never na) in the above senses, and also (4) in the presence (of), in view of, and so, as compared with. E.g. as a noun, 'something before,' huna mbele huna nyuma, you have nothing before or behind you, no prospects or resources, you are utterly destitute. Neno hili ntakufeshe mbele, I will explain this matter to you presently. Tuendelee mbele, let us go forward. Alikuja mbele, he arrived previously. Hawi mume we mbele ya sheria, he is not her husband in the eye of the law. Dunia si kitu mbele ya jua, the world (earth) is nothing compared with the sun. Akiba ya mbele ni, a provision for the future. (Mbele is a plur. form from ubele, or vele. Hence its prepositional use with za, as well as ya. The seeming vagueness of mbele, as meaning 'on the near side' and 'on the further side,' and also 'before' and 'after' in time, is generally removed by the context suggesting the point of view. If the idea of movement onward, progression, is suggested by the circumstances or only present in the mind, then mbele is usually 'on the further side, further on, after,' e.g. mbele ya mlima, beyond the mountain, mbele ya siku kuu, after the festival. Otherwise mbele may equally well mean 'in front of, before.' Alisi mame mbele ya mlima, he stopped on this side of the mountain, in front of it. Hufunga mbele ya siku kuu, there is a general fast before the feast. (Cf. kabla, nyuma, baada.)

Mbeleko, n. also Mbeko and Ubeleko, a piece of calico used by women for carrying a child on the back while at work or walking. Such a cloth is a usual wedding present, made to the bride's mother. Ondoa (vunja) mbele, put to shame. (Cf. eleka.)

Mbembe, n. (wa-), a coaxing, insinuating, flattering person, a coquette, a flirt. Also, a procurer. (Cf. bembeleza, ubembe, bembe, and fogg.)

Mbembezi, n. (wa-), similar to Mbembe. (Cf. ubembezi.)

Mbibo, n. (mi-), the cashew-nut tree (also known as mkanju), bearing the cashew apple (bibo) with the attached nut (korosho). (Cf. dunge, kanju.)

Mbigili, n. (mi-), a thorny brier-like shrub.

Mbili, a. two, the form of -wili agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). (Cf. fili, -wili.)

Mbilikimo, n. (wa-), a name by which the pigmy races of the central African forest region are known on the coast, a dwarf.

Mbilingani, n. and Mbilinganya, a plant producing the edible vegetable bilingani (of the tomato class), sometimes called the mad-apple or egg-plant.

Mbingu, n. plur. of uwingu, the skies, the heavens, heaven.

Mbinja, n. plur. of uwingja, whistling. Piga m., give a whistle. Endeleza m., make a long whistle. (Cf. ubinja, ubinda, and winda, i.e. of hunting-calls, imitation of birds, &c. Also miunzi, msonyo.)

Mbinu, n. (—), roundness, plumpness, protuberance, a curve. M. ya mkono, a plump, well-shaped arm. (Cf. benuka.)

Mbio, n. and adv., act of running, running, with speed, fast. Piga m., run,—like kimbia. Enda m., go quickly. Rd. mbio-mbio, at full speed. (Cf. kimbia, and syn. upesi, hina.)

Mbirambi, used only in the semi-Arab. expression of condolence to a mourner, or bereaved person, or after any great personal loss, viz. mbirambi zako. Also in the form bi Rabbi zako, e.g. hunena bi Rabbi zako. Hujibu, zimepita, the usual words are 'thy (sorrows) be with the Lord,' and the usual reply, 'they are over.' (For rambi and rabbi cf. bundi and buddi.)

Mbisho, n. (mi-), (1) act of striking, knocking against; (2) opposition, contradiction; (3) in navigation,—beating to windward, tacking. Mbisho wa pepo, the winds being contrary. (Cf. bisha, bisho, ubishi.)

Mbisi, n. also bisi (which see), parched Indian corn. (Dist. mbizi, diving.)

Mbiu, n. (1) a buffalo's horn,—sometimes beaten as a musical instrument; (2) also blown to call public attention, and so meaning a proclamation. Piga m., give public notice, announce. Hijokwisha m., when the proclamation had been made. (For horn cf. pembe,—for proclamation hubiri, tangaza habari.)

Mbizi, n. a dive, diving. Piga (enda) m., dive. Hodari sana kwenda m., a first-rate diver. (Mbizi is used mainly of the plunge itself. Professional diving is described by zama, which see.)

Mboga, n. (1) (mi-), the plant which produces the boga, pumpkin. E.g. ukaota mboga, ukasaa maboga mengi, and the plant grew and produced a number of pumpkins. (2) when treated as D 6, is a general term for garden produce, edible vegetables of all kinds,—including the above. Mboga ya pwani, an edible plant growing like a weed in creeks near Z. city,—Sesuvium portulacasterum (Sac.), purslane. (Various other vegetables are dodoki, nyanya, mumunye, figili, bilinganya, jimbi, hauling, dragging; (2) track or marks made by pulling something along. (Cf. burura, and mkokoto.)

Mbuyu, n. (mi-), the baobab or calabash tree,—often of enormous girth in proportion to the height, producing a large nut (buyu), the hard shell of which is used for drawing water, and the kernel (ubuyu, a dry biscuit-like substance with an acid taste) for flavouring food. Siyogopi wene wa mbuyu, I am not afraid of a baobab's size, i.e. appearance of strength without reality, the wood being soft and unworkable.

Mbuli, n. (mi-), and Mabuzi, of size, (1) a goat; (2) an instrument for grating cocoanut, i.e. mbuli ya kukulua nasi,—a piece of iron with serrated edge fixed in a board. (Cf. kibusi. Next to fowls, goats are the usual and often the only feasible investment for a native. The next is a cow, or slave.)

Mbuwa, n. (—), a dog,—an unclean animal to Mahomedans. M. wa mwitu, a jackal, or wild dog. M. koko, a bush-dog, the common pariah or half-wild dog of Zanzibar, of a reddish fox-like kind, living in the plantations near the town in a semi-domesticated state and invading it in troops at night. (Cf. jibwa.)

Mbwai. See Mbuai.

Mbewe, n. (—), small stone, pebble, shingle,—larger than changarawe. (Cf. jiwe, kijwe, kibwe.)

Mbewa, n. (—), a fox, jackal.

Mbweu, n. (—), also Mbweo, belching, eructation. Piga (enda) mbweu, belch. (Cf. syn. Ar. riyahi.)

Mchafuko, n. (mi-), disorder, disturbance, chaos, confusion, mess. M. wa watu, riot, tumult. (Cf. chafua, and syn. phasia.)

Mchago, n. (mi-), the end of a bedstead, where the head rests. (Cf. kilanda.)

Mchakacho, n. (1) a crushing, a pounding, and so (2) a crackling, rustling sound, e.g. of feet on dry grass and leaves. (Cf. chakacha, and perh. mitakaso.)

Mchakuro, n. (1) a scratching; (2) the sound of scratching. (Cf. chakura.)

Mchana, n. (no plur.), day as opposed to night (usiku), daytime, daylight. Mchana and usiku together make one day, or period of twenty-four hours. The mchana or period of daylight at Zanzibar varies little more than an hour in the course of the year,—so little that sunset, whenever it occurs, is taken as 6 p.m., the point from which the next twenty-four hours are to be reckoned. An evening salutation is Za mchana? i.e. Habari za mchana? How have you been to-day?—with the invariable response, njema, quite well. Also used in Z. as a kind of challenge word, e.g. Mchana usiku? Are you friend or foe? (lit. day or night). Mchana kuchwa, the whole day long, like usiku kucha, the whole night long. Mchana is also used in a more limited sense, midday, noon, also mchana mkutu, i.e. the height of day (and commonly athuuri, and juu kichwani). Mchana mdogo, the period before and after the midday hours. Chakula cha mchana, the midday meal, lunch, tiffin. The commonest divisions of daytime are al-fajiri, when the first signs of it appear; kucha, dawn; assubuhi, forenoon (including masungulia njombe, between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m.); athuuri, noon; alasiri, afternoon, about 3 p.m.; jioni, evening, till dark. (Perhaps conn. with cha, v., for fear, as a passive form, 'a dreaded one.' For syn. cf. mwanga, mwangaji, milozi, i.e. mlogaji.)

Mche, n. (mi-), seedling, slip, shoot, cutting, young plant. E.g. Mche huu ni mti gani? What tree is this a cutting of? (Dist. mchi, mchu.)

Mchekeshaji, n. (wa-), an amusing droll person, a wag, a clown, a merry smiling person. (Cf. cheka, and follg.)

Mchekeshi, n. (wa-), and Mche-shi, like mchekeshaji.

Mcheko, n. (mi-), act (manner, circumstances) of laughing, &c. (Cf. cheka, and prec.)

Mchele, n. (mi-), rice,—collectively, the grain as gathered and cleaned of the husk. Plural seldom heard, e.g.
wakala michele pia, they eat up all the rice. Mchile has also a wider sense, i.e. 'cleaned grain' in general, hence mchile wa mtama, millet grain, and mchile wa mpuungu defining it as 'rice-grain.' Different sorts of rice are known as sena, bungala, shidano, garasfu, kapwai, kifungo, ma-devu, mwanga, sifara, uchukwi. (Dist. mpuungu, the rice-plant, growing rice, and the various kinds of cooked rice, wali, uji, ubwabwa.)

Mchengo, n. (mi-), a cutting, esp. of wood, trees, bushes, stalks, &c. (Cf. chenga, chanja, and kata.)

Mchenza, n. (mi-), a tree bearing a large mandarin orange (chenza). (For other kinds cf. mchungwa.)

Mcheshi, n. (wa-), a merry, laughing, genial, amusing person. (Cf. cheka, mchekeshi.)

Mchezzi, n. (wa-), one who plays, a gay sportive person, a player, an actor. (Cf. cheza, and follg.)

Mchezzi, n. (mi-), game, pastime, amusement, sport. (Cf. cheza, and prec., and syn. maongezi, ma-zungumzo. For games cf. tinge, bao, sataranji, karata, tiabu, dama, ki-shada.)

Mehi, n. (mi-), a pestle, a pole of hard wood used for pounding grain &c. in a wooden mortar (kinu).

Mehicha, n. (mi-), a common plant with edible leaves, used as a vegetable, like spinach. (Dist. chicha.)

Mehikichi, n. (mi-), the palm-oil tree, bearing the fruit chikichi. (For other palms see mmazi.)

Mehinjali, n. (wa-), a butcher, a slaughterer. (Cf. chinja, and follg.)

Mehinjo, n. (mi-), act (place, manner, &c.) of slaying, slaughter, butchery, massacre. (Cf. chinja.)

Mehirizi, n. (mi-), anything for collecting or draining away water, a gutter, a channel, a stick or leaflet or blade of grass for leading rainwater from the trunk of a tree to a pail. Also, the eaves of a house, from which rain drips or trickles. (Cf. churusika.)

Mehiro, n. (wa-), but better ng'chiro, a mungoos.

Mehocho, Mehoko, n. (mi-), a poking up, a rousing, stimulation, —from chocha (which see).

Mehochoro, n. (mi-), a narrow alley, or passage between houses. (Cf. kichocho.)

Mehokikoki, n. (mi-), and Mehokokoko, a tree bearing the fruit chokichoki (which see) (Nephe-lium Litschi, Sac.).

Mehomo, n. act or process of burning, &c. See Choma, Chomo. Also irritation, smart, pricking, stab-ing, &c.,—and of cooking. (Cf. mkaango, mtokoso, mwoko, &c.)

Mehonge, a. mchonge wa jicho, a one-eyed person, i.e. mwenyi chongo. (Cf. follg.)

Mehongo, n. (mi-), a cutting, act of cutting, making a cut,—with axe, knife, &c. Mchongo wa kalamu, cutting a pen. (Cf. chonga, chonge, chongo.)

Mehongoma, n. (mi-), a thorny shrub, with white flowers, and a small black edible fruit (Str.). Used for fences. Also? a kind of Euphorbia.

Mehoro, n. (mi-), carving, engraving, making a scratch or scrawl. (Cf. chora, and follg.)

Mehorochoro, n. (wa-), a scrawler, scribbler, bad writer. (Cf. chora, and prec.)

Mehoroko, n. (mi-), the plant which produces the edible bean choro (which see).

Mehoto, n. (mi-), a small bit, a scrap, a sample, a taste, e.g. of a delicacy or sweetmeat, sent as a present. (Cf. chota, choto.)

Mehovyo, n. (mi-), a dipping, plunging in a liquid,—and so used of tempering metals, process of plating or coating with a substance or colour. (Cf. chovya.)

Mchu, n. (mi-), a kind of mangrove, with tough whitish wood.

* Mchukusi, n. (wa-), a bearer, carrier, porter. (Cf. chukua, and mpagazi, hamali.)

* Mchumbi, n. (wa-), one who seeks or is sought in marriage, suitor, lover, sweetheart, fiancée. (Cf. chumba, kinyumba.)

* Mchungu, n. (wa-), one who has the care of animals, shepherd, herdsman, groom, &c.,—with or without a preposition. M. (wa) ng’ombe, a cowherd. *Mbusi wasio m., goats without a goatherd. Also m. wa gari, coachman, driver. (Cf. chunga, itsha.)

* Mchungaji, n. same as *Mchunga (which see)—the ji suffix denoting a professional or habitual occupation, shepherd, &c.

* Mchungwa, n. (mi-), an orange tree, bearing a sweet orange (chungwa) of the common kind, plentiful during nine months of the year in Z. (Cf. chungwa, and for other varieties mchenza, mlimag, mbalungi, mndimu, mkangaja, mdansi, mfurungu.)

* Mchuruzi, n. (wa-), small trader, shopman, retail-dealer, pedlar, stallkeeper. (Cf. churusa, and syn. mbaasi, mfanyi biashara, mwenyi duka.)

* Mchuzi, n. (mi-), any kind of gravy, soup, sauce, broth,—esp. as used to flavour a dish of rice or other cooked grain. Prov. mchuzi ni maji, gravy means water,—of something indispensable. (Cf. chusa, and kitowe, kiuango.)

* Mchwa, n. (—), white ants,—of a small but destructive kind in Z. (For other varieties cf. chungu, siafu, maji ya moto, sisimisi, kmibi.)

* Md, n. (mi-), also Muda (which see), a space of time, period.

* Mdwa, n. (mi-), a plant used for producing a black dye.

* Mdasisi, n. (wa-), one who questions, an inquisitive, curious, prying person. (Ar. Cf. dadisi.)

* Mdo, n. (mi-), a kind of weed.

* Mdai, n. (wa-), a claimant, plaintiff, prosecutor, creditor. (Ar. Cf. dai, dawa, mdawa, and mwii.)

* Mdaiki, n. (wa-), similar to Mdaiku, and Mduki (which see), a eavesdropper, gossip-monger, &c.

* Mdaiku, n. (wa-), one who catches up news, slanderer, tale-bearer, &c. (Cf. prec. and daka.)

* Mdala, n. (mi-), a cinnamon tree, also the bark.

* Mdanzi, n. (mi-), the tree bearing the danzi, or bitter orange. (For other kinds cf. Mchungwa.)

* Mdare, n. (mi-), also Mtarabe, the rose-apple tree, bearing the fruit darabi.

* Mdaw,a n. (1) (wa-), claimant, accuser, prosecutor, opponent, assailant. Sometimes (2) (mi-), a claim, suit, legal proceedings. (Ar. Like mdai, cf. dai, da’wa, and mshtaki, mtesi.)

* Mdkei, n. (mi-), a ramrod. Shindili bunduki kwa mdakei, to load a gun with a ramrod. (Ar.)

* Mdengu, n. (mi-), a plant producing the small edible bean or pea, dengu (which see).

* Mdeni, n. (wa-), a debtor, a person in debt. (Ar. Cf. deni, and mwii, wia, wiwa.)

* Mdila, n. (mi-), a coffee-pot. (Ar. Cf. buli, teapot.)

* Mdumu, n. (mi-). See Mndumu, the tree which bears the lime fruit ndimu.

* Mdiron, n. (wa-), a kingfisher.

* Mdodoki, n. (mi-), the climbing plant producing the edible vegetable dodoki, a kind of lufah.

* Mdomo, n. (mi-), with variants mlomo, muomo, mwomo, (1) a lip; (2) beak, bill (of a bird); (3) fig. anything lip-like, i.e. a similar organ, a projection, overhanging part. M. wa pande, a hare-lip. Figa m., pout,—also, make a long speech, be garrulous,—but usually domo in this sense. (Cf. domo, and omo.)

* Mdoshi, n. (mi-), a kind of pedal or treadle, working the part of a native loom which raises the threads of the warp alternately. (Cf. mfumi, fuma, kitanda.)

Mduara, n. (mi-), and Duara, a circular thing, circle, round heap, wheel.—like duara (which see). (Ar. Cf. mviringo, guru dumu.)

*Mdudu, n. (wa-), the most general word for 'insect,' including ants, flies, fleas, grubs, worms, and all small creeping and flying creatures. Also used of various diseases caused by, or attributed by the natives to, parasites and other insects in the body. (Ar. Cf. dudu, kidudu, and dist. dude.)

Mdukizi, n. (wa-), eavesdropper, gossip-monger, slanderer. (Pers. the same as mdakizi, cf. daka, mdaku, dakisga, dukiza.)

Mdukuyo, n. (mi-), a tap, push, poke, thrust,—given with stick, finger, or open hand, e.g. mtie mdukuyo wa jicho, poke him in the eye. So pigo la kidole.

Mdumu, n. (mi-), commonly dumu (which see), pot, mug.

Mdundo, n. (mi-), used of a rolling, rumbling sound, as of drums or a band. (? Hind. dund. Cf. ruma, nwumo.)

Me-, (1) as a tense-sign, marks the completion of an action or process, or the consequent state and condition, and so supplies a Perfect and Pluperfect Tense. This form of the verb also often supplies the place of a Past Participle. It can never be combined with a relative-pfx.,—the necessary forms being supplied by the -li- (Past) Tense. It is rarely used with a negative pers.-pfx., sinekwambia? Have I not told you?—its place being supplied by the Past Tense Negative with ku-. E.g. amefika amechoka, he has arrived in a tired state. Tukamkuta amekufa, we found him dead. Ameva ngu nzuri, he is wearing fine clothes. (2) as an initial syllable, sometimes represents ma- combined with an-i, e-, or -o following, e.g. makasha mengine mengi, for ma-inge, ma-ingi, many other boxes; mavazi mero, for ma-ororo, soft clothes. See A, E, I.

Mena, v. 'grow' as a vegetable or plant,—of plant life, but also of parts of the animal organization, which resemble plants in growth, i.e. hair, teeth, nails, &c. Also in a quasi-active sense, e.g. buu likamea mbawa, the grub grew wings. Ap. melea, grow in (on, by, &c.), grow as a parasite of, and also in a quasi-passive sense, be grown over, be overgrown, e.g. shamba langu linamelea, my plantation is overgrown (with weeds, &c.). Cs. meza, cause to grow, e.g. Muungu amenimeza meno, God has caused my teeth to grow. (Dist. meza, swallow.) (Cf. mmea, umea, mmeelea, kimelea, and syn. ota, kua.)

Мего, n. (wa-), a piece, a bit, a morsel, a bite, a helping, esp. of food. (Cf. mega.)

Meka-meka, v. a variant of meta meta, merimeta, memeteka, memete, sparkle, glitter, shine, be bright, fiery, &c. (And cf. mulimuli.)

Meko, n. plur. of jiko (i.e. majiko, maiko, meko) (which see), and cf. figa, jifya, stones for supporting a cooking-pot over the fire.

Memeteka v. also Memetuka, sparkle, shine. (Cf. metameta.)

Mende, n. (—), a cockroach. Also a slang term for a rupee.

Mengi, a form of -ingi agreeing with D 5 (P), i.e. maiangi, mengi. So mengine, from -ingine.

Meno, n. plur. of jino (i.e. majino, maino, meno), teeth. Meno meno, battlements, usually arched or pointed in Z. See Jino.

Munya, v. (1) shell, husk, peel, e. g. sugar-cane; (2) beat, pound (not usual in Z.). (Cf. ambua, chambua, paa, v.)

*Merikebu, n. (—), also Marikebu, Marekabu, a ship, esp. of foreign construction, as contr. with the native vessel chombo. Various kinds are distinguished as merikebu ya matanga, sailing vessel; m. ya moshí, steamer — also ya dohani; m. ya kazi or ya serkali, a freight vessel, as contr. with meli for passenger traffic; m. ya milingote miwili (miwili u nussu, mitatu), a brig or schooner (a barge, a full-rigged ship). Ingia (panda) merikebuni, go on board a vessel. Shuka merikebuni, disembark. (Ar. Cf. jahasi, chombo.)

Merimeta, v. sparkle, shine (cf. metameta).

*Meshmaa, n. (—), a candle. (Ar. shamaa,—sometimes changed to meshmaa (mi-)).

*Mesi, n. and Miski, musk. Also similar scents. (Cf. marashi, harufu.)

*Meskiti, n. also Msikití, Moskiti, a mosque. (Ar. changed from mesgidi, masjidi, cf. sujudu.)

Meta, v. also Metameta, shine, sparkle, glitter, be bright, &c., e.g. of polished metal, fireflies, stars, &c.

Nh. meteka, e.g. upanga humeteka kotekote, the sword is bright all over. Cs. metesha, make shine, polish. (Cf. merimeta, memeteka, memetuka, mekameka,—all perh. variants of similar sound. Also mulimuli, mulika, and (of steady light) ng’aa, anga.)

*Methali, n. and conj., also in several other forms, mathali, mathal, methili, mithili, misili, (1) a likeness, resemblance, emblem, similitude, parable, proverb, allegory. Often methali ya, like, resembling, a likeness of, in the likeness of, and so (2) as, like, just as if, for instance,—same as the commoner kama. Mithili ni kuwa ameuva mtu, as for instance (it is as if) he has committed a murder. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. mfano, and conj. kama.)

Meza, v. (1) swallow, swallow up (perh. a Cs. of mega (which see), i.e. megesha, meza; (2) Cs. of mea, cause to grow.

*Meza, n. (—), a table, raised wooden bench, school form. Mezani, (of Europeans) at a meal, at dinner,—also a dining-room, mess-room, i.e. chambo cha kulia. (Portug. Cf. Lat. mensa.)

*Mfáa, n. (mi-), centre-piece of native door, fixed to one valve, the other closing against it. (Cf. mlango.)

*Mfalme, n. (wa-), king, chief, ruler, sultan. (Cf. ufalme, and syn. jumbe, sultani, mkuu.)

*Mfano, n. (mi-), likeness, resemblance, similitude, emblem, sample, pattern, parable. Mfano wa maneno, an allegory, parable. Kwa mfano wa, or only mfano na, like. Also mfano alone, as conj. ndio mfano nguoya pili, it acts as another garment. (Cf. fanana, kifano, and syn. Ar. methali, and conj. kama.)

*Mfanyi, n. (wa-), a doer, a maker, one who practises,—usually as a verbal noun governing another noun, e.g. mfanyi biashara, a trader, a merchant; mfanyi viatu, a shoemaker. (From fanya.)

*Mfaransa, n. (wa-), also Mfaraa, Mfaraa, a Frenchman, (From Français. Cf. -farsa.)

*Mfariji, n. (wa-), one who comforts, a comforter, a consoler. (Ar. Cf. fariji.)

*Mfrika, n. (wa-), a young animal,—goat, sheep, &c., grown but not yet breeding. (Ar. Cf. fariki and follg.)

*Mfariki, n. a divider, esp. a comb-like instrument used in weaving. Same as faraka (which see).

*Mfasiri, n. (wa-), an expounder, MFATHILI 224 MFUMA

intermediate, translator. (Ar. Cf. fasiri, and mkalimani.)

*Mfathili, n. (wa-), a benefactor, helper, a kind, liberal, generous person. (Ar. Cf. fathili.)

Mfenessi, n. (mi-), a jack-fruit tree, a single fruit of which often weighs over 20 lb. (Cf. fenesi.)

Michachi, Mchifiichi, n. (wa-), one who habitually conceals, a very reserved or retiring person. (Cf. ficha, and -nymafu.)

Mfigili, n. (mi-), and Mfjili, a kind of radish-plant, with an edible root. figili.

Mfiko, n. (mi-), arrival, reach, range. Mfiko wa lisasi, range of a bullet (gunshot, rifle). (Cf. fika.)

*Mfilisi, n. (wa-), one who forces another into ruin, bankrupt, &c., a distrainer, defrauder, embezzler. (Cf. fitti, and follg.)

*Mfilisika, n. (wa-), a ruined person, bankrupt. (Cf. prec.)

Mfinessi, n. See Mfenessi. Mfinyangi, n. (wa-), also Mfinya- nzi (and -ji), a worker in clay, a potter. Mfinyanzi hulia gae, a potter eats off a potsherd, i.e. is no millionaire. (Cf. finyansa, finya, ufinyanzi.)

Mfisha, Mfishaji, n. (wa-), one who kills, a slaughterer. (Cf. fa, fisha.)

*Mfituli, n. (wa-), an insolent, rude, overbearing, insulting person. (Ar. Cf. fitului, ufitleli, and syn. mjeuri.)

*Mfitini, n. (wa-), one who causes discord, a quarrelsome person, brawler, agitator, disturber of peace, mutineer, conspirator. (Ar. Cf. fitina, fitini.)

Mfiwi, n. (mi-), plant producing the fwi, Cape bean.

Mfó, n. (mi-), torrent, rain-fed stream, flood, also the channel or bed of a torrent. Mfó mkavu, dry bed,—of a torrent. Leo kumeshuka mfo, hakupiti, to-day a flood has come down, it is impossible to cross. Mfo alikuwa na mfo, the river was in flood. (Cf. furiko, and mfo.)

*Mforsadi, n. (mi-), a mulberry tree, bearing the fruit forsadi.

Mfu, n. (wa-), a dead person. (See -fu. Cf. fa, v., kifo, ufu, and syn. maili.)

Mfua, (1) (wa-), one who beats, esp. of one who works in metal with hammer, &c., a smith. A verbal-noun from fua, governing a noun following, e.g. mfua chuma (thahantu, fetha, &c.), a blacksmith (goldsmith, silversmith, &c.). Mfua nguo, one who washes clothes, a washerman (commonly dobi in Z.). (2) (mi-), mifua (or mifuo), bellows. Vukuta mifua, blow bellows. (Cf. fua, muku.)

Mfusasi, n. (wa-), (1) a follower, adherent, retainer, disciple; (2) a pursuer, tracker. (Cf. fuata.)

Mfufuzi, n. (wa-), one who raises from the dead, restorer of life. (Cf. fufu.)

Mfugo, n. (mi-), taming, breeding, rearing of birds or animals. M. wa nyama, cattle breeding. M. wa frasi, keeping a stable, breaking-in horses. Nina mifugo mingi, I rear many kinds of animals. (Cf. fuga.)

Mfuko, n. (mi-), a bag, a pocket,— a general term, with dim. kifuko, and fuko (wa-), a large bag, travelling bag, saddle-bag. (Cf. fukia, fukua. Various kinds of bags are fumba, kifumba, guni, kiguni, kanda, kikanda, mbatu, mkoba, ntomba, &c.)

Mfukuzi, n. (wa-), (1) from fukusa, pursuer, persecutor; (2) from fukua, digger, miner, pitman.

Mfulizo, n. (mi-), causing to go on, giving an energetic impetus, a pull, tug, haul, thrust, shove, &c. Kwa mfulizo mmoja, all pulling together. (Cf. fua, fuluza, and follg.)

Mfululizo, n. (mi-), also Mfufululizo, a Rd. form of mfulizo, a going on and on, a regular progression, series, succession. Siku tano ya mfululizo, five consecutive days. (Cf. prec.)

Mfuma, Mfumaji, Mfumi, n.
MFUMBATI

MFUMBA, n. (mi-), side-piece of the frame of a native bedstead. See Kitanda.

MFUMI, n. See MFUMA.

MFUMO, n. (mi-), (1) art (act, process, &c.) of weaving; (2) texture, fabric. MFUMO wake nzuri, it is a well-woven stuff. (Cf. funa, mfumi, kitanda cha mfumi, mtande (warp), mshindio (woof.).)

MFUNGIZO, n. (mi-), a fastening up, an investment, blockade, siege. (Cf. funga, fungisa, and masinginya.)

MFUNGO, n. (mi-), (1) a fastening, shutting, closing, tying, &c. (see Funga), and (2) esp. fasting,—used both of such fasts as the month Ramathan and of the carnival immediately preceding it. MFUNGO wa Ulaya, European mode of fasting. (Cf. funga, kifungo, and follg.)

MFUNGUO, n. (mi-), unfastening, untying, loosing, releasing, &c. (see Fungua). Used to describe the nine months following the month of fasting, Ramathan, viz. mfunguo wa mosti, wa pili, wa tatu, &c.—the remaining three being called by the Arabic names Rajabu, Shaabani, Ramathani. (Cf. fungua, and prec.)

MFUNZA, MFUNZAJI, MFUNZI, n. (wa-), a teacher, instructor, tutor. (Cf. funza, fundisha, and syn. mwali-mu, mkufunzi, fundi. Dist. funza, maggot.)

MFUO, n. (mi-), (1) a beating, hammering, &c.—verbal of funa, v.; (2) a groove, crease, mark made by drawing a line, stripe, band of colour, &c. E.g. karatasi ya mfuso, ruled paper. Ngwo ya mfuso, striped cloth, tartan. (3) Mfuso, or mfua, bellows; (4) mfuo wa mawinbi, the beating of waves on the shore, and also, the beach, shore of the sea. (Cf. nsuo, nsuko, and fua.)

MFUPA, n. (mi-), a bone. Mfupa, a skeleton. Mfupa mitupa, a mere skeleton, i.e. very emaciated. Dim. kifupa. (Cf. usupa, fupa.)

MFURUNGU, n. (mi-), the tree which bears the shaddock, furungu. (Cf. mchungwa.)

MFUTO, n. (mi-), (1) a wiping, sweeping, clearing off, erasing, abolition, absolution; (2) used to denote a common, plain, rough, inferior article of any kind, e.g. mlango wa mfuto, a plain door, without carving or ornamentation. Mkeka wa mfuto, a plain, cheap mat. (Cf. juta.)

MFUU, n. (mi-), a tree bearing a small black edible berry (fuu).

MFYOZI, n. (wa-), an abusive, scornful, insolent person. (Cf. fyoa, and syn. mifuthuli.)

MGANDA, n. (mi-), (1) a bundle, a sheaf, e.g. of rice or other crop; (2) a kind of drum (cf. ngoma). (Cf. ganda, and follg.)

MGANDISHO, n. (mi-), causing to coagulate (set, curdle, thicken), coagulation. (Cf. ganda, and follg.)

MGANDO, n. (mi-). MGANDO wa chuma, iron smelted and run out to cool, pig iron (cf. mkuo). Piga chuma mgando, make wrought iron. (Cf. ganda, and prec.)

MGANGA, n. (wa-), a native doctor, medicine man,—the recognized representative of superior knowledge on all subjects mysterious to the native mind, and regarded with respect, fear, or toleration accordingly. The mchawi is, on the other hand, not recognized or tolerated as a rule by the community, however useful his services may be to individuals. Mganga mkua, mganga sana, a famous medicine man. (Cf. ganga, uganga, and mchawi.)

MGANGO, n. (mi-), a binding up, MGUNYA

splicing, mending. (Cf. ganga, gango, kigango.)

Mgawanya, Mgawanyi, n. (wa-), a divider, a distributor. (Cf. gawa, gawanya, and follg., also mwenezi.)

Mgawo, n. (mi-), and Mgao, a dividing, division, distribution, partition. So also Mgawanyo. (Cf. gawa, and prec.)

Mgema, n. (wa-), and Mgemi, a man who climbs and taps coconut trees to get palm-wine (tembo). This business (mgemo, kugema) is a regular profession, and in Zanzibar is often carried on by Digo men from the coastland a little north of Z. Cf. Prov. mgemi akisitawa tembo hulitia maji, if the tapper hears his tap praised he waters it. (Cf. gema, and tembo.)

Mgemo, n. See Mgema.

Mgeni, n. (wa-), (1) a stranger, new-comer, foreigner; (2) a guest. Mgeni na aje mwenejeja apone, let the foreigner come that the native may be the better off. (Cf. -geni.)

Mgerere, n. See Mwingereza.

*Mghalaba, n. competition, rivalry.
Bei ni mghalaba, commerce is competition. (Ar. Cf. ghalibu, and syn. B. shindana.)

Mgogoro, n. (mi-), (1) an obstacle, obstruction, e.g. a stone or tree in a road; (2) a difficulty, nuisance, trouble, worry. (Cf. syn. zuizo, tatizo, kwa.)

Mgoja, n. See Mnggoja.

Mgomba, n. (1) (mi-), the banana plant, plantain tree, bearing the fruit ndizi (which see), and producing a strong fibre (ugomba); (2) (wa-), verbal noun of gomba (which see, and cf. follg.).

Mgombwe, n. (mi-), bull's-mouth shell (Cassis rubra, Str.).

Mgomvi, n. (wa-), a quarrelsome person, brawler. (Cf. gomba, ugomvi, and nfitini.)

Mgongo, n. (mi-), (1) the back, back part; back-bone,—of man or animal; (2) of things resembling the back, anything raised, ridge, hump, edge. Geuka (elekeza, pa) m., turn the back,—in fear, contempt, &c. (Cf. pa kishogo). Lala mgongoni, lie on the back (cf. kichalichali, kitanitani). M. wa nyumba, ridge of a roof. Nyumba ya m., a house with ridge-roof (cf. paa). Njia ya m., a raised path, causeway. M. wa mwitu, a thick line of trees, a forest ridge. Kinyosha m., a back-straightener, i.e. a gratuity after a hard job. (Cf. jongo, kijongo, ki-biongo, maongo,—all of which point to ongo, a form not used in Z. but occurring in mongo, mwongo, a back,—in other dialects. Gongo, a thick stick, is different, cf. gonga, strike, beat.)

Mgonjwa, n. (wa-), a sick person, an invalid,—used of any bodily ailment, serious or slight. Cf. mwele, bedridden, crippled,—of more serious illness, disablement, e.g. mgonjwa avesa kutembea kidogo, mwele amekaswa na marathi, hawezi kutembea, a mgonjwa can (at least) just move about, a mwele is gripped by his malady and cannot move. (Cf. gonjwa, gonjweza, ugonjwa, and use of hawezi, as a semi-noun, and contr. muna, sound, in good health.)

Mgoto, n. (mi-), (1) act of beating, knocking together, blows, strokes, clashing, sudden meeting, conflict, and (2) commonly of the sound of such beating, e.g. m. wa makasia, the beat of oars,—both act and sound; m. wa maji, the sound of meeting or falling water. (Cf. gota, and pigo, shindo, mbisho.)

Mgunga, n. (mi-), a kind of acacia (Sac.).

Mgumo, n. (mi-), a grumbling, grunting, murmuring, complaining, discontent. (Cf. guma, mung'uni.)

Mgunya, n. (wa-), a native of a coast district between Mombasa and the river Juba. They use the sailing vessel called tepe.
Mguruguru, n. (wa-), a large kind of lizard, living in holes and feeding on insects. (For other varieties cf. mjiusi, kenge.)

Mguu, n. (mi-), (1) the leg,—of man or any kind of living creature, and esp. the lower part of it, the foot; (2) anything resembling a leg, in shape or function. Enda kwa miguu, go on foot, walk. Shika miguu (ya), make obeisance (to), become a subject or dependent (of). Pania (tanna) miguu, take long strides. (Cf. guu, kiguu.)

*Mhabeshi, n. (wa-), an Abyssinian,—esp. of the female, valued as a slave from the light complexion. (Cf. Habesha.)

*Mhadimu, n. (wa-), a Hadimu,—one of the earlier inhabitants of the island of Zanzibar, living mostly on the east and south of the island, retaining their own dialect and customs, and till latterly some independence. Mostly fishermen. (Ar. Cf. hadimu, hudumu.)

*Mhajiri, n. (wa-), an emigrant, settler, colonist,—also one who travels to Mecca as a pilgrim. (Ar. Cf. hajiri, and haj.)

*Mhalbori, n. a strip of lining under the ornamental silk stitching down the front of a kanzu (Str.).

Mhamishi, n. (wa-), a wandering, unsettled, homeless person, a nomad, pilgrim, tramp, vagrant. (Cf. hama, mahame.)

*Mharamu, n. (wa-), a destructive person, a destroyer, a vandal. (Cf. haribu, and syn. mwangamizi, mwauji.)

*Mhashiri, n. (mi-), or Mwashiri, a strong beam, by which the mast is secured in position in a native vessel. (Cf. mlingoti.)

*Mhass, n. (wa-), a castrated man or animal, a eunuch. (Ar. Cf. maksai, and syn. kawashi.)

*Mhenzerani, n. (mi-), a plant producing a small kind of cane, henzzerani.

*Mhimili, n. (1) (mi-), that which carries (bears, supports), a beam, girdle, post, prop, bearing. Also (2) (wa-), a patient, enduring person. (Ar. Cf. himili, hamali, himila, stahimili, and for 'patient' mvumilivu.)

*Mhina, n. (mi-), the henna plant, the leaves of which steeped in water produce a red dye, much used for ornamental staining of fingers, feet, and often donkeys. (Cf. hina.)

*Mhindi, n. (1) (wa-), also commonly Muhindi, a native of India, but in Z. usually restricted to the Mahommedan Hindoos, who are divided into two chief sects, the Bohoras and Khojas, each with their own mosques, burial grounds, clubs, &c. The heathen Hindoos are called Bani (ma-). (Cf. Hindi, kihindi.) (2) (mi-), also commonly Muhindi, the plant bearing maize, or Indian corn—also called Muhindi, in its natural state and collectively. Single cobs are called gunzi, kiguni, and the grains when separated manhindi. (Cf. hindi, gunzi, bis, kimvi, ganda.)

*Mhitaji, n. (wa-), (1) a person who wants (needs something), a candidate, applicant, petitioner. (2) one who is needy, in want, poor. E.g. mimi si mhitaji na (or kwako), I want nothing from you. Bwana alikuwa tajiri, sasa mhitaji, my master was once rich, now he is poor. (Ar. Cf. hitaji, uhitaji, haja, and syn. masikini.)

*Mhogo, n. (mi-), also commonly Muhogo, the cassava or manioc plant, producing the edible roots, also called in their natural state and collectively mhogo, muhogo. Very large roots are called hogo, mahogo. The roots are cut in strips (cf. kopa, ubale) and dried; then, when wanted, pounded and boiled. There are several varieties, m. wa bunga, and m. mveusi, with reddish stems, sweet and eatable without cooking; m. wa kindoro, m. nangwa, m. mchungu, with green stems, bitter, and requiring (excepting in one variety) to be dried before eaten. E.g. siuchese mho mchungu. I do not play with bitter cassava. Enga mchungu, cut cassava in slices for cooking.

Munzi, n. (wa-), a worker in metals, or stone, a smith, a stone-cutter. Usually defined by a word following, e.g. m. wa chuma (fetha, bati), a blacksmith (silversmith, tin-worker). M. wa mawe, a stone-cutter, carver in stone. (Cf. mfua, and fundu.)

Mi-, Plur. Pfx. of D 2, e.g. mti, a tree, miti, trees.

Mia, n. and a., a hundred, one hundred. -a mia, hundredth. Mia kwa moja, one per cent. Mia mia, hundreds, in hundreds, —of a large indefinite quantity. (Ar. Cf. dual from miteen.)

Miaa, n. plur. also Miyaa. See Mwaa.

Mikambe, n. Piga m., in bathing, duck down and throw one leg over so as to strike the water with it.

Mila, n. (—), custom, habit, propensity, usage. (Ar. Cf. desturi, tabia, ada.)

Milele, n. and adv., eternity, perpetuity. -a milele, continual, never ending, everlasting. As adv., always, perpetually, for ever. Maisha na milele, for life and for ever, for ever and ever. Also Umilele. (Ar. Cf. syn. daima, siku zote.)

Milhoi, n. one kind of evil spirit. (Cf. pepo.)

Milia, n. plur. of milia, but used as a., striped. Punda milia, zebra. (Cf. milia.)

Miliki, v. possess, be owner (ruler, king) of, rule, exercise authority over. Ps. milikiwa. Ap. miliki-ia, e.g. hold in trust for, be regent for, rule in (for, with, &c.). Cs. milik-isha, -ishwa, put in possession, make king or ruler. (Ar. Cf. maliki, malkia, mamlaka, and follg. Also syn. tawala.)

*Milki, n. (—), sometimes also Mulki, and treated as if D 2, possession, property, dominion, kingdom. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Mimba, n. (—), conception, pregnancy, embryo. Shika (chukua, tunga-wana) mimba, be (or, become) pregnant, conceive. Tia m., cause to be pregnant. Haribu m., cause miscarriage, miscarry. Also of plants, mtana unafanya mimba, the millet is just forming the ear. (Cf. himila, uzito.)

*Mimbara, n. (—), pulpit,—in a mosque. (Ar.)

Mimi, pron. of I Pers. S., I, me. Also often miye. Mimi mwenyeewe, mimi nafsi yangu or bi nafsi yangu, I myself. -angu mimi, my own. (All the personal pronouns are duplicated forms, except the third plural, mimi, we, weye, sisi, siniyu, wao.)

Mimina, v. (1) pour out, pour, spill,—of anything in a fluid state, and so (2) run into a mould, cast. Ame-miminina samli chomboni mwanga, he has poured me out some ghee in my vessel. Mkate wa kumimina, a kind of confectionery. Ps. miminiwa. Nt. miminika, e.g. be poured out, overflow. Ap. miminia,-iwa. Cs. mimin-isha,-ishwa. (Cf. follg., and mwaga, pour away, subu, cast.)

Miminko, n. (ma-), something poured out, a casting. (Cf. prec.)

Mio, n. plur. of umio (which see), (2) (ma-), amplif. form of umio (cf. kimio), e.g. mio la mnyama, the throat-passage of an animal.

Miongoni, plur. locat. form from mwongo (which see), number, account, reckoning. Used in miongoni mwa, as a prepositional phrase, in the number of, among, from among, on the side of, in the party of, i.e. katika hesabu ya. Hava si miongoni mwangu, these are not among my people, in my service.

*Mirathi, n. inheritance, heritage, —for more usual urithi. (Ar. Cf. rithi.)

*Miski, n. and Meski, musk, or similar perfume.

*Misko, n. Moscow, and used for Russia.

*Misri, n. Egypt. (Ar.)

*Miteen, n. and a., two hundred. -a miteen, two-hundredth. (Ar. dual of mia, i.e. mia mbili.)

*Mithili, n. likeness, resemblance, similitude,—same as Methali (which see). Usually (1) in prepositional phrase mithili ya, like, just as,—or only mithili. (2) as conj., for (or with kama), as, like, like as. Nataka kasha mithili ya hii, I want a box of this pattern. Wakaonna mithili kama auwali, and they met like as at first. (Ar. Cf. methali, kama.)

Miunzi, n. plur. of mwunzi, which is seldom used, whistling, a whistle. Piga miunzi, whistle. (Cf. ubinja, mbinja, msonyo.)

Miwa, n. plur. of muwa, or mwa, sugar-cane.

*Miwani, n. a pair of spectacles, eye-glasses. Commonly described as macho mawili, double eyes. (Ar.)

Miye, pron. 1 Pers. S., same as Mimi, I, mc. (Cf. weye, yeve, sye.)

*Mizani, n. (1) weighing machine, balances, scales. The pan is called kitanga, and the beam of the scales mlanje. Also (2) the pendulum, or balance, regulating a machine, clock, watch, &c. (Ar. Cf. uzani, uthani.)

Mja, n. (wa-), verbal of ja, one who comes, and so (1) a new-comer, foreigner,—also mja na maji, or mja maji; (2) a slave,—not usual in Z., for mtumwa. Ada ya mja, hunena; mungwana ni kitendo, a slave talks, but a free man acts.

*Mjakazi, n. (wa-), a female slave. (Cf. kijakazi, and mtumwa. Perh. mja, and kazi, work, but kazi, mkazi, in some dialects means a woman.)

*Mjane, n. (wa-), a widowed, bereaved person, male or female, a widow, a widower. (Cf. ujane.)

*Mjanja, n. (wa-), cheat, impostor, knave, sharper. (Cf. -janya, ujanga, and syn. ayari, mkopi.)

*Mjeledi, n. (mi-), whip (of leather), thong, strap. Piga (tia) mjeledi, beat with a whip. (Ar. leather. Cf. jelidi, jalada, and uka-nda.)

*Mjengo, n. (mi-), (1) act (process, style, method) of building, architecture, also (2) thing built, erection, structure, e.g. encampment, hut. (Cf. jenga, jengo, mjenzi.)

*Mjensi, n. (wa-), a builder, esp. in native style, i.e. of wooden structures. (Cf. mwashi, of stone work.) Kwenyeni miti hakuna mjensi, where the trees are, there is no one to use them. (Cf. jenga, and prec.)

*Mji, n. (mi-), (1) village, hamlet, town, city, i.e. a collection of human dwellings irrespective of number, 5 or 5,000. (Cf. kijiji, kitongoji.) Used with and without preps. Toka (ondoka, &c.) katika mji, or mjini, or mji only. So enla (fika, &c.) katika mji, or mjini, or mji. (2) middle of a piece of cloth; (3) after-birth, placenta, and sometimes of the womb itself. (Mji is traceable in other Bantu dialects, some distant, as also maji, water.)

*Mjari, n. (mi-), tiller-rod (Str.). Also njari. (Cf. kamba for other ropes.)

*Mjibu, n. an affable, pleasant, accessible person. (Arab., not common, cf. wajibu.)

*Mjiguu, n. (wa-), a large foot, a long leg, a person with large feet (or long-legged). (Cf kijiguu, muguu.)
Mjiko, n. (mi-), lower bowel, rectum (Kr.). (Cf. jika.)

Mjima, n. (wa-), one who cooperates, or gives friendly help, an assistant. (Cf. njuma.)

Mjinga, n. (wa-), a fool, simpleton, ignoramus, dupe, and esp. of innocent ignorance, inexperience, and so, new-come, raw slave, greenhorn, tenderfoot. Akawa.mjinga, kama mbuzi illa kasoro, he was a fool, like a goat and even worse. Mjinga ni mtu, usinene ni ng’ombe, a simpleton is a human being, do not call him a cow,—a native type of silliness. (Cf. mpumbafu, barasuli, mwuzu.)

Mjio, n. (mi-), coming, arrival. Verbal of ja, v. (Cf. majililo, jioni.)

Mjoli, n. (wa-), fellow slave, member of same establishment, fellow servant. (Cf. mtumwa.)

Mjomba, n. (wa-), (1) uncle, nephew,—the term being used by each of the other. But mjomba also is used especially of the uncle on the mother’s side, who is also called baba mkubwa or mdogo (according as he is older or younger than the father). Contr. amu (Ar.), uncle on the father’s side. (2) a native name for a Swahili,—the Swahili region being called Ujomba, and language kijomba.

Mjukuu, n. (wa-), grandchild, or other relation of the second generation, grand-nephew (or—niece), second cousin (male or female). Fig. as in majuto ni mjukuu, remorse is a grandchild, i.e. comes at length. (Cf. kijukuu, kilembwe, kining’ina.)

Mjumbe, n. (wa-), messenger, go-between, deputed person, ambassador, delegate, representative. Mjumbe hauawi, a messenger’s person is sacred. (Cf. jumbe, kijumbe, u-jumbe.)

Mjume, n. (wa-), a skilled workman who executes ornamental work, engraving, inlaying, &c. on weapons, and personal ornaments. M. wa visu, a high-class cutler. (Cf. njume, mjumu.)

Mjumu, n. or Njumu, inlaid work, ornamental decoration with various materials.

Mjusi, n. (wa-), (1) a lizard,—of the smaller sort, of which there are many varieties. (For larger kinds cf. guruguru, kenge.) (2) a lizard-shaped ornament worked in silk stitches on the front of a kanzu (which see).

Mjuu, n. used of wind,—as blowing above or overhead. (Cf. juu.)

Mjivi, n. (wa-), a saucy, impudent, inquisitive, prying, intruding person. (Cf. jua, ujivi, and follg.)

Mjuzi, n. (wa-), one who knows, a well-informed, large-minded, sagacious, wise person. Mwenyesi Mugu ni msikizi na mjuzi wa killa kitu, Almighty God hears and knows everything. (Cf. jua, ujuzi, and prec.)

Mkaa, n. (1) (wa-), one who sits, remains, lives, &c., an inhabitant, a resident, an occupant. Mkaa jikoni, a kitchen maid, a Cinderella. (Cf. kaa, and follg.) (2) (mi-), a tree, the bark of which is used medicinally as an astringent.

Mkaaji, Mkaaazi, n. (wa-), an inhabitant, regular occupant, a stay-at-home, not a traveller, contr. to mjitaaji, nhamishi. Ukiwa mkaazi, jenga, if you are come to stay, build a house. (Cf. kaa, v. and prec.)

*Mkabala, Mkabil, adv. mostly in prepositional phrase, mkabala wa, in front of, facing, opposite, corresponding to, fronting. Also, in front, future. (Ar. Cf. kabili, khabla, kihula, &c., and lekea.)

*Mkabithi, n. (wa-), verbal of kabithi, one who holds, keeps, &c., and so (1) a trustee, one who holds property or money; (2) a miser, an economizer, a thrifty person. (Cf. kabithi, and bahili.)
Mkadamu, n. (wa-), and Mukadamu. See Kadamu.

Mkadi, n. (mi-), a pandanus tree, with strongly scented leaves used in perfumes, and large fruits like pineapples.

Mkagwo, n. (mi-), inspection, visitation, review. (Cf. kagwa, and follg., also angalia, tazamia.)

Mkaguzi, n. (wa-), an inspector, examiner, reviewer. (Cf. kagwa, and prec.)

Mkahaba, n. (wa-), also Kahaba (ma-), prostitute.

*Mkahawa, n. (mi-), coffee-house, restaurant, café. A square containing several of these in Z. is known as Mkahawani. (Cf. kahawa.)

Mkaja, n. (mi-), cloth worn by women round the body, esp. after child-birth,—one of the presents usually made to the bride’s mother at marriage. (Cf. mbeleko, and follg.)

*Mkalimani, n. (wa-), interpreter, i.e. in a professional sense, one who is employed to translate into and from an unknown tongue. (Ar. kalima, a word, cf. syn. mfasiri. Mkalimu is also used for teacher.)

Mkalio, n. (mi-), a customary wedding fee, one of several given to the bride’s attendants, lit. sitting by,—like kiosha miguu, kipa mkono, kifungua mlango, &c.

Mkamba, n. (mi-), a larger species of sea crab. (Cf. kamba, and kaa.)

Mkamsho, n. (mi-), a kind of wooden spoon (Str.). (Cf. mwiko.)

Mkana, n. (wa-), verbal of kana, one who denies, repudiates, &c. Mkana Muungu, an atheist. (Cf. kana, mkanushi, ukanyo, ukani, &c.)

Mkandaa, n. (mi-), a kind of mangrove, growing abundantly on the coast in East Africa. The bark is used for tanning, and furnishes a red dye. The hard straight trunks supply largely the boriti of commerce, i.e. poles used for carrying concrete roofs in house-building. (Cf. mkoko, and mui.)

Mkangaja, n. (mi-), a tree bearing a small kind of mandarin orange (kangaja) in thick clusters of bright orange-red colour. (Cf. mchungwa, for other varieties.)

Mkanju, n. (mi-), a cashew-nut tree,—known in Z. usually as mbibo (which see).

Mkano, n. (mi-), tendon, sinew, muscle,—of cattle and animals generally. (Cf. kano, ukano, and mshipa.)

*Mkasama, n. (1) division, part, portion; (2) in mathematics, division. (Arab. Cf. mgawa.)

Mkasasi, n. (mi-), a fine tree, useless for timber (Str., who quotes a couplet, uzuri wa mkasasi ukipata maji basi, the mkasasi is a fine tree, but all it yields is sap).

Mkasiri, n. (mi-), a tree, the bark of which is used to dye nets black (Str.).

Mkata, n. (wa-), (1) one who cuts,—verbal of kata, v. (cf. mkate, mkati); (2) a poor man,—seldom heard in Z. city. Ni mkata, sina mbele wala nyuma, I am a poor man, with nothing before or behind me. Mkata hana kinyongo, a poor man cannot afford fancies. (Cf. ukata, and syn. masikini, fukara.)

*Mkataa, n. and adv., also Mkataa, (1) what is settled, final decision, end of an affair; (2) in a fixed, firm, decided, final way, e.g. m. neno hili. sitakwenda, this is my final word, I will not go. Tumeafrica m., we made a final contract. Sema kwa m., make a final statement. (Ar. Cf. kita.)

*Mkataba, n. (mi-), what is written, book, statute, contract, engagement. (Ar. Cf. kitabu, and syn. hati, sharti, maagano.)

Mkate, n. (mi-), stocks, instrument for confining a prisoner by the feet, i.e. mi tiliyocongwa ukusulisa tundu, a piece of wood shaped and with holes bored in it. (Cf. kifungu, mnyororo, pingu.) and so, (1) any kind of lump, or separate piece, m. wa tumbako, a plug or cake of tobacco, m. wa nyuki, a piece of honey-comb, but esp. (2) a loaf, cake, bun, biscuit, or anything similar, and used commonly of European bread. Various kinds are distinguished as m. wa ngano, bread made of wheat flour; m. wa mofa, or mofa only, a cake of millet meal baked in an oven; m. wa kumimina, a cake of batter, fritter; m. wa kusonga, &c. When mkate is used of ordinary bread, the crust (ganda la mkate) is distinguished from the crumb (nyama ya mkate). (Ar. Cf. kata, kazi, and follg.)

Mkati, n. (wa-) (1) any kind of lump, or separate piece, m. wa tumbako, a plug or cake of tobacco, m. wa nyuki, a piece of honey-comb, but esp. (2) a loaf, cake, bun, biscuit, or anything similar, and used commonly of European bread. Various kinds are distinguished as m. wa ngano, bread made of wheat flour; m. wa mofa, or mofa only, a cake of millet meal baked in an oven; m. wa kumimina, a cake of batter, fritter; m. wa kusonga, &c. When mkate is used of ordinary bread, the crust (ganda la mkate) is distinguished from the crumb (nyama ya mkate). (Ar. Cf. kata, kazi, and follg.)

Mkato, n. (mi-) (1) a cutting, incision, amputation, cut; (2) effect of cutting; a slit, crack, crevice; (3) a fraction, piece, esp. a separate part of a native house, a division, apartment, room,—made by a partition or screen only, kiwambaza; (4) fig. a cutting down or away, cutting short, reduction, retrenchment; (5) a short, abrupt, decisive act or method. Fanya kwa mkato, like mkataa, act quickly, decisively, at a word. (Ar. Cf. kata, and prec.)

Mkazi, n. (wa-) (1) for Mkaazi (which see), an inhabitant; (2) Muungu ni mkazi wa ulimuwenzi, i.e. perh. from kasa, upholser, firm supporter. (Cf. follg.)

Mkazo, n. (mi-) (1) cutting, incision, amputation, cut; (2) effect of cutting; a slit, crack, crevice; (3) a fraction, piece, esp. a separate part of a native house, a division, apartment, room,—made by a partition or screen only, kiwambaza; (4) fig. a cutting down or away, cutting short, reduction, retrenchment; (5) a short, abrupt, decisive act or method. Fanya kwa mkato, like mkataa, act quickly, decisively, at a word. (Ar. Cf. kata, and prec.)

Mkereza, n. (wa-) (1) one who turns with a lathe, a turner. (Cf. ke- reza.)

Mkewe, n. for mke wake, his wife. So mkewo, mke, your wife, i.e. mke wako.

Mkia, n. (mi-) (1) a tail. Suka m., wag the tail. M. wa njusi, lines of silk stitching running up the front of a kansu from the ornament called njusi.

Mkilemba, n. (wa-) (1) one who has earned a turban, i.e. by completing a job or a course of instruction, and so denotes a successful candidate, prizeman, graduate. (Cf. ki- temba.)

Mkimbizi, n. (wa-) (1) one who runs, e.g. the slave who runs in front of his master's donkey, but also (2) one who runs away,—fugitive, runaway, deserter, truant; (3) one who causes to run, pursuer, hunter, persecutor,—also a robber, a highwayman (cf. mito). (Cf. kimbia, mbio.)

Mkindu, n. (mi-) (1) the wild date palm,—producing an edible fruit (*kiniu), and leaves which furnish material (ukindu) for weaving fine mats, and a fibre used for string. (For other palms cf. mnazi.)

Mkinga, n. (mi-), anything that stops, obstructs, or diverts something else, e.g. mkinga maji, a strip of leaf or stick used to catch the water running down a tree, also mchilizi. (Cf. kinga, v., and follg.)

Mkingamo, n. (mi-), a crossing, being athwart, obstructing, in the way. Njia ya mkingamo, a cross-road. (Cf. kinga, kingama, and follg.)

Mkingiko, n. (mi-), a cross-pole laid on the top of upright posts to carry the lower ends of the rafters in building a native house. (Cf. kinga, and prec.)

Mkiwa, n. (wa-), a solitary, destitute, friendless person, a poor man. (Cf. -kiwa, ukiwa.)

Mkizi, n. (wa-), a kind of fish.

Mz. na, n. (mi-), bag, pouch, walla, chombe. im is made of the entire skin mkoba, bag which waves, i.e. smooth swelling water not like breakers. (For various kinds of bag, &c. cf. mfuko, kikape.)

Mkoche, n. (mi-), one name of a kind of palm (Hyphaene), known also as mkoma, but in Z. commonly as mwaaw, or mnyaa (which see).

*Mkohani, n. (wa-), and Mkuhani, Kuhani, Kahini, priest, soothsayer, magician. (Ar. Cf. kahini, kasisi.)

Mkoko, n. (mi-), micturition, urine, —also choo cha mbele, choo kidogo. (Cf. kojoa, and follg., also nya, choo.)

Mkojozi, n. (wa-); one who cannot or does not control his urine, one who wets his bed. (Cf. kojoa, and prec.)

Mkoko, n. (mi-), a kind of mangrove, much used as firewood in Z., with a red bark used for dyeing. (Other kinds are mkanda, and mut.)

Mkokoto, n. (mi-), (1) a dragging, a hauling, a pull; (2) the mark or trail of something dragged along. (Cf. kokota, and dist. makokoto.)

Mkoma, n. (1) (wa-), verbal of koma (which see), one who stops, ceases, comes to an end; (2) (wa-), a leper, one suffering from ukoma (which see); (3) (mi-), one of the names by which the Hyphaene palm is known on the East Coast,—others being mkoko, mwaa (which see).

Mkomasi, n. (mi-), name of a tree (Carapa moluccensis, Sac.). The wood is red, and was formerly much used in Z.

Mkombozi, n. (wa-), one who ransoms (buys back, gets out of pawn, recovers a deposit), a redeemer. (Cf. komboa, ukombozi.)

Mkomwe, n. (mi-), a kind of climbing plant,—the seeds of which are used as counters in playing various games. (Cf. komwe.)

Mkondo, n. (mi-), current, flow, rush, passage, run, e.g. of water in a river or poured on the ground; of air through a door or window, i.e. draft; of the wake of a ship, of an animal, i.e. track, run. Cf. mkondo wa nyasi, a track through rushes, showing where people have passed. (Cf. kondo.)

Mkonga, n. (mi-), trunk of an elephant,—in Z. commonly mkondo wa tembo.

Mkonge, n. (mi-), (1) a fibre-producing plant, a kind of hemp or Sansevieria, i.e. shubiri la kufanyia kitani, the fibre being called ukonge, or usi wa mkonge; (2) a kind of fish.

Mkongoro, n. (mi-), a staff used as a prop or crutch, for an old or weakly person. (Cf. kongoa, ukongo, and for sticks bakora, kimbo.)

Mkongwe, n. (wa-), an aged, feeble, infirm person. (Cf. konga, kikongwe, and syn. mzee.)

Mkono, n. (mi-), (1) the arm of a human being, esp. of the lower arm, and the hand, e.g. mkono hukatwa kati ya kisigino na mkono, his arm is cut off between the elbow and hand.
Mkono wake watoa sana, his hand gives freely. Pelekea mkono, lay hands on, arrest. Then (2) of a corresponding member in animals, front paw. Simba abamkamatata mkono, the lion seized him with its paw. (Cf. mkono wa tembo, an elephant's trunk, and mkono (or kikono, kond), of the tendrils of a plant.) (3) of what resembles an arm, e.g. as projecting, mkono wa sururia, the handle of a European saucepan,—as spreading, mikono ya uito (bahiari), branches of a river, creeks of the sea,—as grasping, &c. (4) as a convenient measure, from finger tips to elbow, a cubit, same as (Ar.) thira, 18 inches, i.e. double of a span, and half a yard. Also in various figurative senses, e.g. mvwenyi mkono nirefu, a thieving, mischievous, cunning person, a rogue. Mkono wake mzuri, he is a liberal, open-handed person. Chio cha mkono, a handy book; manual. Kupa mkono, to give the hand, i.e. greet, congratulate, condole with, assist, take leave, take an oath, &c. Mkono wansiba, condolence in grief. (Cf. kono, kikono.)

Mkondo, n. (mi-). See Konzo.

Mkoo, n. (wa-), a slut, slattern, a dirty untidy person, male or female. (Cf. syn. mchafu, and dist. ukoo, koo.)

Mkopeshi, n. (wa-), one who supplies goods or capital on credit for commercial purposes, a lender, a usurer. (Cf. kopa, v., and follg.)

Mkopë, n. (wa-), (1) one who borrows goods or money, e.g. to trade with on the mainland; (2) a swindler, impostor, knave. (Cf. kopa, ukopi, and prec.)

Mkopò, n. (mi-), act (process, method, &c.) of borrowing, swindling, &c. (Cf. kopa, ukopi, and prec.)

Mkorolfi, n. (wa-), an evil-minded, malignant, brutal, tyrannical person, a monster, a brute. (Cf. korolfi, ukorolfi.)

Mkoroga, n. (wa-), a stirrer, i.e. (1) a maker of discord, an agitator, firebrand; (2) a blunderer, bungler. (Cf. koroga, and follg., and syn. mfutini.)

Mkorogo, n. (mi-), (1) a stirring, mashing, mixing of ingredients, &c.; (2) a causing discord, agitation, disturbance of peace, blundering, bungling. (Cf. koroga, and prec., also syn. fitina, sukusuko.)

Mkoromaji, n. (wa-), a regular snorer. (Cf. koroma, and prec.)

Mkoromo, n. (mi-), a snoring, snorting, or similar sound. (Cf. koroma, and follg., and msono.)

Mkubwa, n. (wa-), (1) a great man (in wealth, dignity, power, &c.); (2) chief, director, responsible head, master, owner. Huyu ni mkubwa wetu, here is our master. (Cf. -kubwa, and syn. mkuu, msimamizi, bwana.)

Mkuchyo, n. name of a town on the Somali coast, north of Morobasa, also called Mukdisha and w.t. only Makdesh or Magclo; e who tu. Mkufu, n. (mi-), pl. Mkufunzi. (Cf. k. metal, of a light kind, &n as an ornament. (Contr. wa, -oro, and for ornaments cf. ure v. )

Mkufunzi, n. (w-), a teacher,—more usual form for funzi. (Cf. mfundishi, mwalimu, and for the insertion of ku cf. mkulima.)

Mkuki, n. (mi-), a spear. Chomeka mkuki, to stick a spear in the ground. (For the iron head cf. chembe, kengee, for the shaft mi, uti, for the butt end tako.)

Mkuku, n. (mi-), the keel,—of a boat or ship. (Dist. kuku, a fowl.)

Mkule, n. (wa-), a garfish (Str.).

Mkulima, n. (wa-), a tiller of the ground, cultivator, agriculturist, field labourer, peasant. (Cf. lima, limaji, and for the form mkufunzi,—the ku being inserted perh. to distinguish from lima, a hill.)

Mkumbizi, n. (wa-), one who clears up, makes a sweep of anything, a gleaner. (Cf. kumba, and follg.)

Mkumbo, n. (mi-), a complete clearing out, a clean sweep, a thorough removal, wholesale devastation. (Cf. kumba.)

M Kunasi, n. (mi-), the jujube tree, bearing a small edible stone-fruit like a cherry, kunazi.

M Kunde, n. (mi-), the shrub, which produces the common bean ukunde, much used in Z.

M Kundu, n. (mi-), the anus, orifice of the bowel.

M Kunja, n. (wa-), (1) a midwife, but in Z. commonly nyalishi (cf. kunga, ukunga, kunji); (2) a kind of eel, or sea-snake.

M Kunji, n. (mi-), (1) a large tree bearing a fruit (kunga) resembling a small apple, but with a large stone and kernel; (2) the fruit-stem or pedicel of a banana plant carrying the whole head of fruit; (3) an earthenware dish, used for cooking, and also its lid, mkungu wa kujunikia. (For other vessels cf. chu-ngu, chombo.)

M Kunji, n. also Ukunji, the fever which attacks a new-comer at a place, after a change of residence and diet, sickness of acclimatization.

M Kunji, n. (mi-), a straining off, a shaking off, a wiping off, a sifting. (Cf. kunguta, kunguto.)

M Kunjo, n. a folding, a creasing, a turning over, a fold. (Cf. kunja.)

M Kunjo, n. (mi-), a scratching, a grating. (Cf. kuna.)

M Kujo, n. (mi-), an ingot, lump or bar of cast or unwrought metal, pig (of iron), rough casting. (Cf. mgando, and mtafo.)

M Kupujo, n. (mi-), a shaking or pushing off, a getting rid of, a letting drop. (Cf. kupa, and kunguta.)

M Kusanji, n. (wa-), also M Kusanyya, a collector, a gatherer together, convener. (Cf. folig.)

M Kusanjo, n. (mi-), a collecting, gathering, &c. (Cf. kusanya.)

M Kutano, n. (mi-), (1) meeting, gathering, assemblage, council, committee; (2) confluence, concurrence, coincidence. M wa watu, a meeting. M wa mito, junction of rivers. (Cf. kuta, kutana, makutano.)

M Kuto, n. (mi-), (1) a meeting with, a lighting upon, a finding; (2) ? a fold, like kunjo. Kunja nguo mkuto, fold up a dress. (Cf. kuta.)

M Kuwu, n. (wa-), (1) a great person in wealth, position, power, &c., a grandee; (2) ruler, head, master, governor, &c. Mkuw wa genzi, leader of a caravan. (Cf. -kutu, -kubwa, and syn. bwana, msimamizi.)

M Kuwu, n. (mi-), the sycamore of the east, fig-mulberry tree, producing the fruit kuyu.

M Kwaju, n. (mi-), the tamarind tree, bearing the fruit mkwaju.

M Kwamba, n. (mi-), a kind of thorny shrub.

M Kwaruso, n. (mi-), (1) a scraping, a grating; (2) track or trail of something scraping along, e.g. mkwaru, wa nyoka, the trail of a serpent. (Cf. kwaruza.)

M Kwasi, n. (wa-), a rich man, a well-to-do opulent person. (Cf. kwasi, ukwasi.)

M Kwe, n. (wakwe), used of near connexions by marriage, father (or mother) in law, son (or daughter) in law. (Cf. mwamu, wif.)

M Kweme, n. (mi-), a species of climbing plant.

M Kweo, n. (mi-), a climbing, a mounting up or upon (cf. kwea); (2) for kwe wako, see Mkwe.

M Kwezi, n. (wa-), one who climbs, ascends, mounts up. (Cf. kwea.)

M Kwiro, n. (mi-), a drumstick, used with some kinds of native drum.

M La, n. (wala), an eater, consumer, devourer,—verbal of la, governing a noun. Mla watu, a cannibal. Mla leo ni mlaji, the man who eats to-day (here and now) is the real eater. (Cf. la, v., mlo, ulafi, mlaji, mlaji.)

M Laanisi, n. one who curses, swears, uses bad language. (Cf. laana, laanisi.)

M Laadi, n. (mi-), a thin piece of
The frame consists of side-pieces (mwimo) and top and bottom pieces (kizingi). Doors in Z. are often richly carved, and adorned with large brass studs.

*Mlariba, n. (wa-), a usurer, a money-lender. (Ar. Cf. riba, usury, interest, and syn. faida. The first syllable is perh. mila, one who eats, consumes.)

MLazi, n. (wa-), bed-attendant, bed-fellow. (Cf. lala.)

Mle, (1) adv. there within,—like kule, pale; (2) form of the pronominal adj.-ie, 'that,' agreeing with a noun in the locative form, e. g. nyumbani mle, in that house (cf. yule); (3) subjunct. 2 Pers. P. of la, (that) you may eat.

Mleo, n. (mi-), reeling, staggering, unsteady gait. Also Mleoleo, of uncertain wavering movement. (Cf. lea, and follg.)

Mlevi, n. (wa-), a drunkard, a drunken person. (Cf. lea, leveya, and prec.)

Mlezi, n. (wa-), one engaged in the rearing or training of children, a nurse, governess, tutor. Also name of a disease, scrofula (Sac.).

Mlezo, n. for Mwelezo. (See Cholezo, and cf. elea.)

Mlia, n. (mi-), a stripe (line, band) of colouring. Used in plur. as adj. Prunda milia, zebra.

Milana, n. (mi-), name of a shrub.

Milma, n. (mi-), a mountain, high hill, long steep ascent. Milima, milima mungi, a mountain range. Milima mrefu (mkuwbo), a high mountain. (Cf. kilima, and Mrima, the name of the coast district opposite and south of Zanzibar.)

Milmaji, n. (wa-), for the usual mkuilima, cultivator, tiller of the ground. (Cf. lima.)

Milimau, n. (mi-), the tree bearing lemons (malimau). (Cf. for other varieties mchungwa.)

Mlimbiko, n. (mi-), (1) a waiting for something, taking turns, a turn
MLIMI 237  MMUMUNYE

(line, bait. (2) a native name for the month called in Arab. Shaaban, i.e. the month before Ramathan. (Cf. la, lisha, and prec.)

Mliwa, n. (mi-), a tree with fragrant aromatic wood. (Cf. liwa, sandali.)

*Mlimamu, n. (mi-), a spout for carrying water off a house-top, or eaves. Commonly called kopo.

Mlizi, n. (wa-), one who cries or makes a noise, a child who is always crying, a ranter, a loud-mouthed orator. (Cf. lia, ulizi.)

Mlomo, n. (mi-), a variant of mdomo (which see).

Mlongo, n. (mi-), a variant of mwongo (which see).

*Mlozi, n. (1) (mi-), an almond tree, producing the almond nut, loki. (Ar.) (2) (wa-), wizard, sorcerer, for the more usual mchawi. (Cf. logo, ulozi.)

Mlungula, n. (wa-), a blackmail, an extortioner, a robber. Also, blackmail, bribe extorted. (Cf. hongo, rushwa.)

Mmea, n. (mi-), anything possessing vegetable life, or growth resembling it, plant, shoot, sucker, sprout, &c. Mmea, vegetation,—in general. (Cf. mea, and syn. ota, kua, mmelea.)

Mmego, n. (mi-), act of breaking off a piece or portion of food, with fingers or teeth. (Cf. mega, mego.)

Mmelea, n. (mi-), that which grows at (in, on) some place or thing, a creeper, a parasite shrub. (Cf. mea, kimelela.)

*Mmnadi, n. (wa-), also Mnadi, an auctioneer, salesman, broker, hawker of goods for sale, public crier. (Ar. Cf. mnada, dalali.)

Mmoja, n. one man, a man, a person, a certain man. See -moja.

Mmumunye, n. (mi-), the plant producing a kind of gourd (mumunye), like a vegetable marrow. The outer rind, when dry and hard, is used as a vessel for fluids. (Cf. boga, buyu.)
Mmuna, n. (wa-), a true believer, i.e. a Mahommedan. (Ar. Cf. imani, amin, mawamini.

Mmvita, n. (wa-), an inhabitant of Mvita, i.e. Mombasa.

Mna, verb-form, (1) there is (within) (cf. m, na, and mna, pana); (2) you (plur.) have. (Cf. nina, una, &c.)

Mnada, n. (—), an auction, sale, public notice. Mnadani, a sale-room, place of auction. Tia mnadani, put up for sale. Mnada wa Sultan unanadiwa, a proclamation of the Sultan is being made. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

Mnadi, v. also Nadi, sell by auction, put up for sale, hawk about the streets. Ps. mnadiwa. (Ar. Cf. tembeza.)

Mnafiki, n. (wa-), a hypocrite, pretender, impostor, liar. (Ar. Cf. unafiki, and mwongo, mjanja, ayari.)

Mnajimu, n. (wa-), an astrologer. (Ar. Cf. unajimu.)

Mnajisi, n. (wa-), an unclean soul, one who is profane in conduct or speech. (Ar. Cf. unajisi, najisi, and syn. mchafu.)

Mnana, n. (wa-), (1) a small yellowish bird, building in colonies on coconuts and other palms; (2) a substance used as a yellow dye for the leaf strips (ukili) used for plaiting mats.

Mnnanaa, n. (mi-), mint. (Ar. Cf. nanaa.)

Mnnanasi, n. (mi-), the pineapple plant,—the fruit being nanasi. (Hind.)

Mnasara, n. (wa-) and Mnasa-rani, Nazarene,—used of Christians by Mahommedans. (Cf. masihiya.)

Mnaso, n. (mi-), (1) a catching, holding, hampering; (2) difficulty, hitch, trap, impediment. (Cf. nasa, mgogoro, kusuzo, mtego.)

Mnazi, n. (mi-), coconut tree,—which grows in great numbers in Zanzibar, and the adjacent islands and coast, and next to cloves is the most important commercial product, as well as the most useful for local purposes. The tree-stem is little used, except for stout posts or props, but when cut down the soft nutty substance at the top, from which the leaves and blossoms grow, is eaten as a delicacy (moyo wa mnazi, kilele or kichelema cha mnazi). The other principal parts and products are the leaf kuti, fruit nazi, fibre kumvi, and sap called tembo. (See kuti, &c.)

The trees are distinguished as mkinda, i.e. young, not yet bearing, nume male, and mke female. (See further under the words mentioned above. Various kinds of palm are mkindu, mwaa, mpopo, mvumo, mhikichi, mtende, mwale.)

Mnena, n. (wa-), one who speaks, or who has the power of speech. (Cf. follg.)

Mnena, n. (wa-), a speaker, a professional orator, an eloquent person. (Cf. nena, and nsenaji, nseni.)

Mnenea, n. (wa-), (1) a pleader, interceder, one who speaks for or to the advantage of another; (2) a critic, opponent, one who speaks against or in rebuke of another. (Cf. nena, and prec.)

Mnevu, n. See Mnyefu.

Mng'ao, n. (mi-), (1) brightness, blaze, lustre, glare; (2) fig. clearness, perspicuity. Mng'ao wa maneno, lucidity of statement. (Cf. ng'aa, and follg.)

Mng'ariza, n. (wa-), with or without macho—one who has glowing, glaring eyes, and so to the native mind one suspected of sorcery, malignity, evil intent. So also mng'arizo, gleaming, glaring, glitter. (Cf. ngariza.)

Mng'arizo, n. (mi-), like mng'ao, glitter, gleam, glare, radiance, &c. M. wa macho, glowing, radiant look, or, glaring, gleaming eyes. (Cf. ng'aa.)
MNGAZIJA

Mngazija, n. (wa-), a native of the Great Comoro Island. (Anzwan, Moalli, Moetwe are other islands in the group.)

Mng'oaji, n. (wa-), one who digs out, roots up, extracts, &c. Mng'oaji wa meno, a dentist. (Cf. ng'oa.)

Mngoja, n. (wa-), also Mngoje, and Mgoja, -e, one who waits at a place (occupies a station, is on guard), sentinel, guard, keeper. Mngoja mlango, hall-porter, door-boy, gate-keeper. (Cf. ngoja, and follg., and syn. mlinzi.)

Mngojezi, n. (wa-), keeper, caretaker, guardian, watchman. (Cf. ngoja, and prec.)

Mng'ongo, n. (mi-), name of a tree.

Mnguri, n. (mi-), a shoemaker's mallet. (Cf. mshoni.)

Mngurumizi, n. (wa-), one who grumbles, growls. (Cf. nguruma.)

Mngwana, n. (wa-), one who is not a slave, a free (civilized, educated) person, gentleman, lady. Mngwana ni kitendo, a free man can act (while a slave can only talk). (Cf. ngwana, kiungwana, and contr. mtumwa.)

Mnjugu, n. (mi-), the plant producing the ground-nut njugu. (Also njugu, of the plant.)

Mno, adv. very much, too much, excessively, exceedingly, beyond measure. Sometimes combined with other adverbs of similar meaning, sana mno, mno ajabu, very exceedingly, wonderfully much.

Mnoffu, n. flesh, meat, fleshy part, as opp. to bone, i.e. nyama tupu, all meat.

Mng'onezi, Mngong'oni, n. (wa-), a whisperer. (Cf. follg.)

Mng'ono, n. (mi-), whispering, a whisper. (Cf. non'ona.)

Mnuna, Mnunaji, Mnuni, n. (wa-), a grumbler, one who complains (sulks, is discontented). (Cf. follg.)

Mnunda, n. (mi-), a semi-wild town cat. (Cf. paka.)

Mnuno, n. (mi-), grumbling, discontent, complaint, sulkingness. (Cf. nuna, and prec.)

Mnunuzi, n. (wa-), a buyer, customer, purchaser. (Cf. nuna, munuzi.)

Mnya, n. (mi-), one of the names by which the Hyphaene palm is known,—commonly mwaa (which see).

Mnyakuzi, n. (wa-), a snatcher, pilferer, thief, shop-lifter, pickpocket. (Cf. nyakua, and syn. mwizi.)

Mnyama, n. (wa-), (1) an animal, a beast. Also fig. (2) having the characteristics of an animal, a stupid fool, a brute, a beast. But commonly nyama is used in both senses. (Cf. nyama, ndama. Mnyama, a riddle, is seldom used in Z.)

Mnyampara, n. (wa-), head of a body of men (caravan, expedition, army), or of a part of it, headman,—whether of porters or armed guard. (Cf. mkua wa gensi, msimamizi.)

Mnyamwezi, n. (wa-), one of the Nyamwezi tribe, living on the mainland west of Zanzibar, and largely used as porters to and from the coast. Used as a term of contempt by coast people.

Mnyang'anyi, n. (wa-), robber, thief, highwayman, burglar. Commonly implies a larger scale of action than mwizi, which includes mere petty thieving or pilfering. (Cf. nyang'anya, unyang'anyi, and mwizi.)

Mnyanya, n. (mi-), the plant bearing the tomato (nyanya).

Mnyefu, n. (mi-), and Mnefu, damp, wet, moisture, dampness. (Cf. nya, -nyefu, and syn. rútuba, maji, uloefu, chépechepe.)

Mnyenyekoe, n. deference, a humble attitude, reverence, &c. (Cf. nyenyeka.)

Mnyeo, n. (mi-), a tickling, pricking, itching sensation, a creeping feeling, craving. Mnyeo wa njaa, the pricks, pangs of hunger. Also of prurience. (Cf. nyea, and kinyefu, nyegi.)

Mnyimo, n. (mi-), a withholding, refusal, prohibition. (Cf. nyina.)

Mnyiri, n. (mi-), also Mnyiriri, and Mng'iri, arm, tentacle, feeler, of the cuttle-fish pweza (and similar creatures?). Commonly mkono wa pweza.

Mnyofu, n. (wa-), a straightforward, honest, upright, trustworthy person. See -nyofu, Unyofu.

Mnyongo, n. (wa-), a humble, abject, low, debased person. Mnyonge msonge, name of a kind of musical entertainment or concert, in which the performers are women, forming a kind of club. (Cf. -nyoge, unyonge.)

Mnyororo, n.(mi-), also Mnyoro, Mnyoo, (1) a chain, used commonly for securing prisoners, slaves, &c., hence (2) fetters, prison, confinement, gaol. Tia mnyororo, or mnyororoni, imprisoned, put under arrest. Sometimes (3) intestinal worm, but commonly chango. (Cf. kifungo, pingu, mtí kati, mkatala, and contr. mkufu, light ornamental chain.)

Mnyozi, n. (wa-), a barber, commonly kinyozi (which see).

Mnyunyona, n.(mi-), a sprinkling,—of liquid, scent, &c. (Cf. nyunyiza, manyunyo, and marashi.)

Mnywa, Mnywaji, n. (wa-), verbal of nywa (see Nya), one who drinks, a drinker, i.e. of any fluid. Mnywa moji, a water-drinker. Mnywa pombe, a beer-drinker. (Cf. nya, kina, kinywaji.)

-mo is the same element as mu, m,—the o either denoting reference or relative distance, 'in there,' or else giving it the force of a relative pronoun, 'in which.' (See Mu, M, and -o.) Mo (1) forms part of the demonstr. adv. humo, and mumo (which see); (2) affixed to ndi- and person-prefixes, and the verb -wa or its equivalents, has a demonstrative force, with general or usually local reference, 'in there, to (or, from) inside there,' e.g. yumo, he is in there. Ndimo aimo, that is where he is (in). Mimi sino, I am not in it, i.e. I have nothing to do with it. (3) in verb-forms generally is the form of relative pronoun referring to 'place within which,' e.g. ndimo akaamo, that is the place he lives in. Hamna! hamua! ndimo miwamo, Nothing in that! nothing in that! that's where there is something (to be) eaten. Mo as a separate word only appears in such a phrase as mo mole, in whatever place, wherever. (Cf. mu, mwa, humo, mumo.)

Moali, n. the island Mohilla in the Comoro group.

Mofa, n. (1) a small, hard, round cake of millet (mtana) meal; (2) a cooking oven of burnt clay.

Moga, n. (waoga), coward, for muoga, mwoga (which see). (Cf. oga, ogopa.)

Muja, n. also Moji, Mosi, Moja, (the number) one, one as an abstract. Kumi na moja, ten and one, eleven. Moja kwa moja, straight on, continuously, without a break. Njia inakwenda moja kwa moja, the road goes straight on. Barra na poli moja kwa moja, desert and forest without a break. Mia kwa moja, one per cent.

-moja, a. (same with D 5 (S), D 6), (1) one, a single, a certain, an individual; (2) one in kind, similar, identical; (3) one in feeling, agreeing, harmonious, of one mind. Mtu mmoja, an individual, a certain man. Nguo moja, the same kind of cloth. Moyo mmoja, concord, harmony,—so hali moja, shauri moja. Namna moja na kile, the same pattern as that one. Various plural forms occur, e.g. vitu vingi vimoja, many single, separate, single things; watu si wamoja, people are not all alike. Mtu na mwanawe, watu wamoja maskini, a man and his son, both equally poor. Mamboja, often with yote or pia added, all one, all the same, all alike, to express indifference. Mamboja kwangu, it's all one to me, I do not care, never mind. (Cf. haithuru.) -mojawafo, any one whatever, -moja-moja, one by one, singly, individually, - so vimoja. Pamoja is used as an adv., all together, with one voice, unanimously, at one time (or, place). (Cf. mosi, and Ar. wahedi, which is also commonly used in counting.)

Mola, n. a title of God, 'Lord.' (Ar. Cf. Muungu, Rabbi.)

Mombasa, n. the Arab name of the island and town of Mombasa, about 120 miles north of Zanzibar. The native name is Mvita. (There is also a village called Mombasa in Zanzibar near the town.)

Moris, n. Mauritian.

Moshi, n. (mi-), (1) smoke, steam; (2) soot, lamp-black. Moshi wa moto, the smoke of a fire. Moshi unosimama, the smoke rises straight up. Merikebu ya moshi, a steamship. (Cf. ota, moto, and syn. mvuke, masizi.)

Mosi, n. (the number) one. -a mosi, first, but -a kwanza is usual. Jumaa mosi (Jumaa ya mosi), Saturday, as being the first day after Friday, which is observed by the Mahommedans as Sunday. See Juma. (Cf. moja, and Ar. wahedi.)

Moskiti, n. also Meskiti, Misskiti, a mosque, the Mahommedan place of worship. There are great numbers in Zanzibar city and island, many being merely native houses of sticks, mud, and thatch, with a barrel or large vessel of water near the door. In the city they are mostly of stone, plain in architecture and ornamentation, only one with a minaret, and only one of large size. Each has its mwalamu, or official teacher, and mwathini, or crier, a cistern for ablutions, and for the most part a distinct congregation of members of the same nation, sect, or class. Moskiti is a form of masgidi, mesjidi, cf. sujuda.)

Mote, a. and Mwote, form of -ote, all, agreeing with nouns having the locative termination -ni, e.g. jini mote, in the whole town. (Cf. -ote, kote, pote.)

Moto, n. (mioto), (1) fire, flame, a fire, a conflagration; (2) heat, warmth, inflammation, temperature; (3) fig. zeal, ardour, energy, vehemence, martial spirit, fierceness. Fa- nya m. make a fire. Washa m., light a fire. Pekecha m., light a fire by means of firesticks. Pata m., get hot. Ota (kota) m., sit by a fire, warm oneself. Choma (pasha) m., or kwa m., set fire to, heat, cook with fire. Chochea m., stir the fire. Zima (zimisha) m., put out the fire. Prov. dawa ya moto ni moto, fire must be met with fire. Akajisifu moto, he boasted of his martial prowess. -a moto, hot, warm, energetic, fiery, &c. Kasi moto, sirenous, eager work. Maji ya moto, (1) hot water; (2) a large red ant, living in trees, is so called. (Cf. ota, moshi. Fire-sticks are seldom seen in Z., -matches being very cheap, and embers easily obtainable.)

Moyo, n. (miyo, also nyoyo as if from uyo), (1) the heart (the physical organ); (2) the heart, feelings, soul, mind, will, self; (3) inmost part, core, pith, centre; (4) courage, resolution, presence of mind; (5) special favourite, chief delight. Unichinje utauona moyo wangu, kill me and you will find my heart. Jipa m., piga m. konde, take heart, pluck up courage. Tia (simika, kuzu) m., encourage, cheer, hearten. Shuka m., be depressed. M. mkache, lack of courage, a faint heart. Mimi moyo wangu nataka, I really desire it. M. wa jipu, the core of an abscess. Moyo wa mnnazi, the soft nutty core at the top of a coconut.
tree, from which leaves and blossoms grow,—eaten as a delicacy. Moyo wa kanzu, the part of a kanzu over the chest. Huuyu nidiwe moyo wake, this is his great pet. -a moyo, voluntary, willing. Sema (fanya) kwa moyo, speak (act) voluntarily, readily. Also sema kwa moyo, say by rote, repeat without a book or reminder. (Cf. roho, nafsì, and mtima.)

Mpagazi, n. (wa-), carrier, bearer, caravan-porter. Nikawa wa mpagazi upagazi wa o, I gave the porters their wages. (Cf. pagaa, upagazi, and syn. mchukusi, hamali.)

Mpaji, n. (wa-), donor, giver, benefactor, a generous, liberal person. But esp. of God, e. g. mpaji wa kupa ni Muungu, the real (only) Giver is God,—also called mpaji asiyepewa, He who always gives and never receives. (Cf. pa, upaji, kipaji, and -karimu. Dist. paji, kipaji, forehead, temple.)

Mpaka, n. (mi-), boundary, limit, border, term. Piga (weka) m, fix a boundary, lay down a limit. Ruka m, trespass, break bounds. Mpaka mmoja, adjacent, bordering, adjoining. Also used as prep., up to, as far as, till, until, to the time of,—like hatta. Akajika mpaka kwetu, he came as far as our country. Nikae mpaka inii? How long am I to stay? (Cf. maka, v., pakana, also upeo. Dist. maka, with other meanings.)

Mpaka, Mpaki, n. (wa-), verbal of paka, a plasterer, a painter; also mpaka chokaa, mpaka rangi.

Mpakato, n. (mi-), something applied, stuck on, e. g. a patch, a bandage. (Cf. pakata, paka, v.)

Mpakizi, n. (wa-), a shipper, a stevedore, one who sees goods or freight put on board. (Cf. pakia.)

Mpako, n. (mi-), a plastering, plaster. Mpako wa rangi, applying paint, painting. (Cf. paká.)

Mpalio, n. (mi-), (1) a rising in the throat or nostril, a choke; (2) a hoing up the soil among growing crops. (Cf. paa, palia.)

Mpamba, n. (mi-), (1) the plant producing cotton, pamba; (2) (wa-), verbal of pamba, one who adorns. (Cf. pamba, and follg.)

Mpambaji, n. (wa-), an undertaker, one of the professional attendants who with the mwosha prepares a dead body for burial,—using such things as pamba, dalia, manukato, mavukizo, sanda, mike wa pamba. (Cf. pamba.)

Mpambano, n. (mi-), a meeting, colliding, confronting, an encounter. (Cf. pambana.)

Mpambe, n. (wa-), a person dressed up, bedecked with ornaments, in a showy costume, esp. of a female attendant on a chief at certain ceremonies, maid-of-honour. (Cf. follg.)

Mpambi, n. (wa-), a decorator,—of house, person, &c., e. g. a lady's maid. (Cf. pamba, v.)

Mpanda, n. (wa-), verbal of panda, (1) one who climbs, a climber; (2) one who plants, a planter. Also Mpandaji, Mpandi. Also (3) (mi-), a forked branch or stick,—such as is used for a slave-stick. See Kongwa.

Mpande, n. (mi-), piece, part, side. Rarely used. (Cf. upande, kipande, pande.)

Mpando, n. (mi-), (1) a climbing, mounting up, ascent. Inchi ya mpando, rising ground. (2) act (process, method, &c.) of planting, time or season of planting. Also of a row or line of plants, cuttings, seeds, &c., e. g. mpando kumi ya muhindi, ten rows of Indian corn. (Cf. panda, mpanzi.)

Mpango, n. (mi-), (1) act (process, manner, time, &c.) of arranging, setting in order, placing in line, marshalling (cf. panga, and syn. andika. Dist. pango). (2) act (terms, method, &c.) of hiring, renting, letting, &c. (Cf. panga, kuchisha.)

Mpanzi, n. (wa-), a planter, a sower. (Cf. panda, mpando. Dist. fanzi, grasshopper.)

Mpapai, n. (mi), the tree which bears papaw-fruit (papai). The leaves and juices rubbed on meat make it tender, and are so used by cooks. Digestive preparations are now made from it.

Mpapatiko, n. (mi), fluttering, throbbing. (Cf. papatika.)

Mpapuro, n. (mi), a scratching, a scratch, esp. with nails or claws. ( Cf. papura, and mtai, msuo, mkuno.)

Mparamuzi, n. (mi), name of a tree difficult to climb. Mti pia umepanda, huu ndio mparamuzi, you have climbed every kind of tree, but this is a puzzler? (Bombax Ceiba).

Mparuzi, n. (wa), one who does not work smoothly, a bungler. (Cf. paruza.)

Mparuzo, n. (mi), a scraping, rough work, bungling, &c. (Cf. prec.)

Mpasi, n. (wa), one who gets, one who makes money, a rising ambitious man, a prosperous merchant. (Cf. pata, pato, and syn. tajiri, mkwasi.)

Mpatanisho, n. (wa), a peacemaker, reconciler, one who brings people to terms, settles quarrels and difficulties, a negotiator. (Cf. patana, and msuluhishi.)

Mpato, n. (mi), (1) verbal of pata, a getting, a procuring, &c.; (2) a float used for showing the position of a fishing-net, and keeping it extended; (3) ? lattice, trellis-work (Str.)

Mpekecho, n. (mi), (1) a twirling, a stirring; (2) a disturbance, agitation, fomenting of discord. (Cf. pekecha, upekecho.)

Mpekuzi, n. (wa), one who picks and scratches (like a fowl), an inquisitive person. (Cf. pekua.)

Mplekwa, n. (wa), a person sent, a messenger. (Cf. peleka, and syn. tume.)

Mpelelezi, n. (wa), (1) one who investigates, reconnoitres, examines, &c.; (2) a spy, scout, tracker, eavesdropper. (Cf. pelezea.)

Mpenda, Mpendi, n. (wa), verbal of penda, one who loves, likes, intends, &c., a lover. Mpendwa (wa), one who is loved. (Cf. penda, mapenda, mpensi, upendo.)

Mpenyezi, n. (wa), (1) one who introduces, causes to enter or penetrate, brings in, and esp. in an underworld secret way, hence (2) a traitor, smuggler, illicit trader, secret agent, one who gives bribes. Mpenyezo, a bribe. (Cf. penny, upenyezi.)

Mpenzi, n. (wa), (1) one who is beloved, a dear favourite person; (2) one who loves, a lover, as mpendi. Cf. mapensi, active love, inclination, will, and see Mapenda. Mpenzi hana kinyongo, (1) the object of affection has no defect, causes no scruples; (2) a lover sees no defects. (Cf. penda, upenzi.)

Mpepea, n. (mi), a light breeze, a zephyr, i.e. upepo mpepea, a breeze that fans. (Cf. pepea, upepo, pepeo.)

Mpepetaji, n. (wa), also Mpetaji, one who sifts or winnows grain, &c. (Cf. pepeta.)

Mpera, n. (mi), the tree that bears the guava fruit, pera. Mpera wa kizungu, the rose-apple tree. Another variety is the mtofua.

Mpetaji, n. (wa), for mpepetaji.

Mpevushi, n. (wa), a corrupter of morals, esp. of the young, lit. one who ripens, brings to maturity, forces growth. (Cf. pevua, pevuo, and koma.)

Mpiga, n. (wa), verbal of piga, in all its manifold uses, one who strikes, &c. See Piga.

Mpiganisho, n. (mi), collision, encounter, conflict. (Cf. piga, upigano.)

Mpigo, n. (mi), act (mode, &c.) of striking. (Cf. pigo.)

Mpikaji, n. (wa), a cook, a professional cook, head cook. (Cf. pika, mpishi, and follg.)
Mpiko, n. (mi-), (1) stick or pole to carry or sling loads on; (2) act (process, method, &c.) of cooking,—including mkaango, mchomo, mtokoso, mwoko. See Pika.

Mpilipili, n. (mi-), the plant producing capsicums (piliplili), the red-pepper plant. (*Cf. piliplili.)

Mpimo, n. (mi-), (1) act (mode, means, &c.) of measuring; (2) payment for measuring. (*Cf. pima, kipimo.)

Mpindani, n. (wa-), a person bent or crooked by stiffness or disease. (*Cf. pinda, and follg.)

Mpindano, n. (mi-), a bending together, a stiffening. *Mp. wa *mshi-pa, cramp. (*Cf. pinda, and syn. kiharusi.)

Mpinduzu, n. (wa-), one who turns things upside down, a revolutionist, a disturber of peace. (*Cf. pinda, pindua.)

Mpingani, n. (wa-), an obstructor, a stubborn opponent. (*Cf. pinga.)

Mpingo, n. (mi-), the ebony tree.

Mpini, n. (mi-), a handle, haft,—of an instrument, such as knife, sword, tool. (*Cf. *kipini. Other kinds are called (1) *mkono, e.g. projecting handle of a saucepan; (2) utambo, e.g. handle of a bucket.)

Mpira, n. (mi-), (1) a tree producing india-rubber; (2) the substance india-rubber, and hence a ball of india-rubber, and hence a ball of any material,—used of a cricket- or foot-ball, and extended to any games of ball. Gema mpira, draw off the sap from an india-rubber tree. Mpira wa ku-ponda, india-rubber got by boiling the roots of trees. The natives make up the sap into balls of about three inches diam. for sale. (*Cf. mbungo, mtoria.)

Mpishi, n. (wa-), a cook. (*Cf. pika, pikisha, upishi. Dist. pisha, Cs. of pita, and pishi, a measure.)

Mpofu, n. (wa-), an eland. Also (from po-fu, a blind person, blind,* i.e. mtu mpofu wa macho.* (*Cf. po-fu, po-fua. And for various antelopes cf. pa-a, n.)

Mpokesi, n. (wa-), one who receives, a receiver, recipient. (*Cf. pekea, and mkabihiti.)

Mponda, n. (wa-, verbal of ponda, one who crushes, breaks to pieces. Mponda mai, a spendthrift, prodigal.

Mpondo, n. (mi-), a pole for pushing a vessel in shallow water, a punting-pole. (*Cf. ponda, also pondo, kipondo.)

Mpopoo, n. (mi-, the areca palm, bearing the betel-nut, popoo, which is always in great request for chewing. See Popoo, Tambuu, Uraibu.

Mposa, n. (wa-, a suitor, one who makes proposals of marriage to parents. (*Cf. posa, and follg.) Mposo, n. (mi-, proposal of marriage, wooing. (*Cf. posa, and prec.)

Mpotezi, n. (wa-, one who spoils, ruins, corrupts, misleads, destroys, perverts, &c. (*Cf. *potea, -potevu, and follg. syn. mwangamizi.)

Mpoto, n. (wa-, and more commonly Mpotofu, Mpotoe, wrong-headed, wilful, perverse, wayward, headstrong, unprincipled,—contr. of mwongofu, and described as mtu asiyeongoka, a man who does not go the right way; asiyeshika akili za mtu mwingine, one who never listens to others. (*Cf. *pota, and potea.)

Mpoozi, n. (wa-, one who cures, a physician,—a title which is usually ascribed to God. Mpozi ni Muungu, God is the real physician. Doctors are usually called mganga, tabibu, daktari. (*Cf. *poa, *pona, powa.)

Mpumbafu, n. (wa-, a fool, a dupe, described as mtu asyirweza kusanyisa kasi ya nafsi yake, a man who has not the wits to do what he sets himself to do. (*Cf. pumba, -pumbafu, and syn. mjinga, barathuli.)

Mpunga, n. (mi-, the rice plant, and rice while still growing or in the husk. (When husked it is called Michele, when cooked in the ordinary way wali.)

Mpungate, n. (mi-), a kind of cactus (Str.).

Mpuzi, n. (wa-), one who is foolish, flippant, careless, loose,—in conduct, conversation, &c., a gossip, flirt, babbler, gad-about. (Cf. -puzi, upuzi, puza.)

Mpwa, n. (wa-), sister’s child, nephew, niece, and ?cousin. (Not often in Z.)

Mpweke, n. (mi-), (1) a short thick stick, cudgel, bludgeon (cf. kibarango, and for other sticks bakora, fimbo). (2) a. See -pweke.

Mpya, a. See -pya.

*Mrabaa, n. (mi-) and Mrabba, what is fourfold, square, a square, a rectangle, a right angle. Also of squares laid out for planting, garden beds. -a miraba minne, rectangular. Mtu wa miraba minne, a square-built, stout man. Piiga miraba katika shamba, lay out beds for cultivation on an estate. (Ar. Cf. robo, árobo. Also in Ar. mraba means ‘jam, preserve.’)

Mrabaha, n. (mi-), royalty, fee paid to a chief by a trader for right of trading in a place. (Ar. Cf. rabbri.)

Mradi, n. (mi-), intention, plan, resolve. (Ar. Cf. nia, shauri, azima, kusudi.)

Mrama, n. also Mramma, Mrama, pitching, tossing, rolling,—the motion of a ship at sea, e.g. m. wa chombo. Enda m., roll, toss, pitch, &c.,—of a ship. (Ar. Cf. sukoso.)

Mraro, n. (mi-), fuse for a gun, match for lighting the powder in a matchlock,—a small twisted bit of combustible fibre from a suitable tree. Bunduki ya mraro, a matchlock gun. (Cf. utambo.)

*Mrashe, n. (mi-), a long-necked glass or metal bottle or flask, used for sprinkling scent. (Ar. Cf. marathi.)

*Mrejaa, n. and Mregaa. Bei ya mrejaa, trading by commission, i.e. with goods lent for sale, and returnable if not sold. (Ar., lit. ‘returning.’ Cf. rejea, and kopa, ukopi.)

Mrenaha, n. (mi-), the thorn-apple tree (Str.).

Mreno, n. (wa-), a Portuguese. (Cf. -reno.)

Mrera, n. lines of ornamental stitching on the collar of a kanzu, usually of red silk. See Kanzu.

*Mrhani, n. basil (the aromatic herb). (Ar. Cf. rihani, manukato.)

Mrja, n. (mi-), a small kind of reed,—often used as a pipe (for drinking with, musical, &c.), and so (2) a pipe, tube, piping.

Mrima, n. and Merima, name of the strip of coastland opposite and south of Zanzibar, with its own dialect of Swahili called Kimrima. The people also are described as Wamrima. (Perh. cf. milima, i.e. the hill-country, rising from the coast inland.)

*Mrithi, n. (wa-), an heir, legatee; inheritor. (Ar. Cf. rithi, urithi, warithi.)

*Mrithia, n. (wa-), a pleasant, affable, amiable person. (Ar. Cf. rathi, urathi.)

Mrithishi, n. (wa-), an executor,—of a will. (Ar. Cf. mrithi.)

Mruba, n. (mi-), a leech.

Morututu, n. sulphate of copper, blue-stone, blue vitriol,—often used as a caustic for sores, &c.

*Msada, n. (mi-), help, aid, assistance, support. (Ar. Cf. saidia, and syn. anni, tegemo, shime.)

*Msafa, n. (mi-), a line, row, series,—more commonly safu (which see). Msafa wa milima, a chain of mountains, mountain-range, i.e. imefungamana, kama kilima kimoja kwa kimoja, they are joined together like a continuous series of hills. (Ar. Cf. mstari, mpango, and safu.)
MSEMO

*Msaliti, n. (wa-). See Msalata.

*Msamaha, n. (mi-) also Msameha, pardon, forgiveness, forbearance, repit. Nataka msamaha kwako, I beg your forgiveness. (Ar. Cf. samehe, and follg., and syn. achito, ghofira.)

*Msamehe, n. (wa-), a forgiving, merciful person. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Msamilo, n. (mi-), wooden headrest, used by natives as a pillow.

*Msanaa, n. (wa-), also Msani, one skilled in an art, artist, artisan. (Ar. Cf. sanaa, -sanifu. In Z. commoner syn. are fundi, waria, mstadi, mbingwa.)

*Msandali, n. (mi-), the tree producing the aromatic sandal-wood.

*Msandarusi, n. (mi-), the gum-copal tree. (Cf. sandarusi.)

*Msangao, n. (mi-), also Msangao (which see).

*Msapata, n. (mi-), a kind of native dance. (Cf. ngoma.)

*Msasa, n. (mi-), (1) a plant or shrub with rough leaves, used for smoothing wood. Hence (2) sandpaper, emery paper.

*Msazo, n. (mi-), what is left over, leavings, remnant, remainder. (Cf. salia, sasa, salo, salio, and syn. baki.)

*Msekeneko, n. syphilis. (Cf. sekeneke.)

*Mseleleisha, n. (wa-), also -ishi, a reconciler, a peacemaker. (Ar. Cf. suluhi, seleleisha, and syn. mpatanishi.)

*Msema, n. (wa-), verbal of sema, one who says, speaks, has the power of speech. (Cf. sema, nena, and follg.)

*Msemi, Msemaji, n. (wa-), (1) a speaker, a narrator; (2) an eloquent person, an orator, a fluent, talkative person. Msemaji wa habari, one who tells news, a narrator, an historian. (Cf. sema, and prec., usemi, usemaji.)

*Msemo, n. (mi-), act (kind, style, &c.) of speaking, utterance, speech. Kilichowafungana ni msemo wao wenyewe, what convicted them was their own speech. (Cf. sema, and prec.)

Msetiri, n. (wa-). See Mstiri.

Mseto, n. (mi-), and Msheto, a mixture of grains and other ingredients cooked for food, a mash, e. g. mtama, choroko, kunde, viasi. (Cf. seta.)

Msewe, n. (mi-), a sort of rattle, fastened to the leg, to make a jingle in dancing. (Cf. mjuga.)

*Mshabaha, n. (mi-), likeness, resemblance, similitude. Used also like methali (mithili) and mfano as a conj. ‘in the likeness (of), like,’—for the common kama, sawa (na). Mshabaha mmoja, alike. (Ar. Cf. shabaha.)

*Mshahara, n. (mi-), monthly wages, regular salary. (Ar. shahr, a month. Cf. njira.)

*Mshairi, n. (wa-), a composer of verses, a rhymer, a poet. (Ar. Cf. shairi.)

*Mshakiki, n. (mi-), (1) spit, skewer; (2) a bit of meat, toasted over embers on a skewer. (Ar. sikkat, and cf. syn. kijiti, kibansi.)

Mshale, n. (mi-), an arrow. For various parts cf. chembe (iron head), wano (shaft), manyoya (feathers), kolo (notch). Dim. kishale. (Other common weapons are mkuki, upanga, kisu, rungu.)

Mshangao, n. (mi-), also Mmangao, thrilling excitement, deep sensation, admiration, wonder, perplexity, amazement, bewilderment, stupefaction. Ona (fanya, shikwa na, ingia), be seized with wonder, &c. (Cf. shangao, and ajabu, bumbuazi, toshea.)

*Mshari, n. (wa-), an evil person, one who brings ruin, strife, ill luck, destruction, &c. Opp. of heri. (Ar. Cf. syn. mgonzi, mtesi, mkorofi, mchokosi, mpotesi.)

*Msharika, n. (wa-), also Mshiriki, partner, participant, sharer, associate, equal,—but msharika may imply the closest possible identification of interests, communion of life, nature, and feeling. (Ar. Cf. shariki, shiriki, and syn. mwemeyi, rafiki.)

*Mshathali, a. and adv., also Mshethali, and sometimes heard as Msitara, crooked, slanting, oblique, out of the straight or level, sloping, on one side. (?Ar., and cf. syn. upande, kikombo, kipago.)

*Mshauri, n. (wa-), adviser, friend, counsellor. (Ar. Cf. shauri.)

*Msheheri, n. (wa-), an Arab from Sheher in South Arabia, usu. of a low class, engaged in manual trades and labour. (Ar.)

*Mshemali, n. (wa-), a northern Arab, i. e. one who comes from Muscat and the Persian Gulf. (Ar.)

Mshenzi, n. (wa-), a barbarian, savage, one of the aborigines, a person untouched by civilization. Often used contemptuously by the coast Swahilis of those who come from the interior. (Cf. ushenzi, mjiga.)

Msheto, n. (mi-). See Mseto.

Mshika, Mshiki, n. (wa-), one who holds, takes hold of, grasps. Mshiki shikio (or, msukani), pilot, steersman. (Cf. shika.)

Mshikilizo, n. (mi-), lit. a causing to hold on to, or together,—used of tacking orbastling materials ready for sewing.

Mshinda, n. (wa-), verbal of shinda, one who remains, conquer, &c. (See the various meanings of shinda, and follg.)

Mshindaji, n. (wa-), a conqueror, victor, successful competitor or candidate. (Differs from Mshinda, Mshindi, only so far as the termination ji implies that the action is characteristic, repeated, or professional. Cf. shinda, msindi, msindwa, mshinde, mshindo, and follg.)

Mshindani, n. (wa-), (1) an opponent, rival, antagonist, competitor; (2) a contentious, obstructive, capacious person. (Cf. shinda, mshindano, ushindani, and syn. mbishi, mpingamizi, mtesi, adui.)
Mshinde, n. (wa-), one who is conquered. (From shinda, with pass. termin. -e. Not often used.)

Mshindi, n. (wa-), a conqueror, winner, prize-taker, victor. (Cf. shinda, mshindi, mishindaji, and prec.)

Mshindilio, n. (mi-), a pushing, a pressing, application of force. Used also of (1) loading a gun, ramming the charge home. Also of (2) the charge or cartridge itself. (Cf. shinda, shindilia, and kiasi.)

Mshindio, n. (mi-), (1) the working of the woof or weft across the warp (mtanda) in weaving; (2) the woof itself. Used also of the interlacing of plaited leaf strips (mashupatu) to form a bedstead (kitanda),—mshindio wa mashupatu. (Cf. shinda, and prec., also mshindo for weaving.)

Mshindo, n. (mi-), used to describe any act (process, effect), characterized by suddenness, force, violence, &c., and so translated variously as 'shock, blow, stroke, explosion, noise, bang, sensation, burst, thump, crash, outbreak, tumult, uproar,' &c. Mshindo wa ngurumo, peal of thunder. Ngoma ya mshindo saba, a drum with seven notes. Ikawa mshindo mkubwa katika inchi, there was a general rising throughout the land. Also of a report, rumour, news of a thrilling or sensational kind. Mshindo wa miguu, tramp of feet. (Cf. shinda, and prec., and dim. kishindo.)

Mshipa, n. (mi-), used rather vaguely of minor organs of the body not commonly distinguished by natives, blood-vessel, nerve, vein, artery, and of any pain, ache, disease or affection of them,—ache, swelling, throbbing, fullness of blood. E.g. mshipa unamfipa fundo, there is a knot (obstruction, clot) in his vein,—of aneurism, &c. Marathi ya mshipa, neuralgic pain, sciatica, and similar pains. Mshipa unamtmabaa mwiliini, of creeping shooting pains in different parts of the body. M. inapiga (inapuma, inatukutika), the vein, or pulse, beats (throbs, is irregular). Kanda mshipa, feel the pulse.

Mshipi, n. (mi-), (1) a narrow strip of stuff (cloth, webbing, &c.), used as a belt, girdle, waist-band, halter,—also used of braces, suspenders; (2) a fishing-line, a fishing-net.

*Mshitiri, n. (wa-), customer, buyer. (Arab., for the common mnunuzi.)

Mshituko, n. (mi-). See Mshaiko.

Mshona, Mshoni, n. (wa-), one who sews,—always a man in Z., a tailor. Mshona viatu, mshoni wa viatu, a sandal-maker, a shoemaker. (Cf. shona, and follg.)

Mshono, n. (mi-), sewing, seam, suture. Kunga mshono, sew a seam. (Cf. shona, ushoni, prec., and kunja.

*Mshataka, n. (mi-), charge, accusation, complaint. Fanya mshataka, prosecute. (Cf. shtaki, and follg., and dawa.)

*Mshakile, n. (wa-), accuser, prosecutor, plaintiff. (See Shtaki, and prec., and cf. dava.)

*Mshubiri, n. (mi-), an aloe. (Cf. also subiri, siliri.)

Mshuko, n. (mi-), (1) descent, coming down, an incline; (2) coming to end, conclusion. Used of the time of coming away from the mosque after any of the usual prayers. Mshuko wa jua (wa magaribi), time of twilight, just after sunset, 6 to 6.30 p.m. (Cf. shuka.)

*Mshumaa, n. (mi-), candle. See Meshmaa. (Ar.)

*Mshurutisho, n. (mi-), a compelling, a compulsion, moral pressure. (Ar. Cf. sharti, shuruti.)

*Msiba, n. (mi-), (1) calamity, misfortune, untoward accident, disaster; (2) sorrow, distress of mind, grief; (3) formal mourning, outward signs of sorrow, &c. Used of war, famine, sickness, and minor calamities. Msibwa mkubwa, mgumu, a great disaster. Fanya (ona, ingia, pata, &c.), m., take to heart, grieve (over). Muungu hushusha msiba kwao watenda maovu, God sends down calamities on evil-doers, Kwenda kupa mkono wa msiba, go and make a visit of condolence, offer sympathy, inquire after,—after a funeral, misfortune, &c. Akakaa msiba wa mamanye, he observed the usual mourning for his mother. Ikiwa jumbe amekufa, ukaanguka msiba nkubwa mno wa ajabu, when a chief dies, it means the occurrence of a very great and exceptional demonstration of sorrow. (Ar. Cf. masaibu, sibu, and follg.)

*Msibu, n. (wa-), one who causes trouble, distress, &c. (Ar. Cf. sibu, and prec.)

*Msifu, n. (wa-), verbal of sifu, one who praises, recommends, flatters. Msifu mno, a gross flatterer, toady, parasite. (Cf. sifu, sifa.)

Msijana, n. (wa-), young unmarried person of either sex, from ten to twenty-five years of age. (Not usual in Z. Cf. kijana. Perh. m-si-jana, i.e. one who is not a child. Cf. msikwao.)

*Msikiti, n. mosque. See Moskiti. (Ar.)

Msikizi, n. (wa-), one who hears, heeds, obeys, and so (1) an auditor, hearer, listener, one who attends a class or meeting; (2) a follower, disciple, adherent, a teachable, obedient person, good pupil, good servant. Mwenyesi Mngu ni msikizi na m'usi wa killa kitu, Almighty God sees and hears everything. Natafuta watu wasikizi, I am looking for people to listen to my case. (Cf. -sikia, -sikifu, sikio.)

Msikwao, n. (wa-), one who has no home, a vagrant, a wanderer (si kwao). (Cf. mkiwa.)

Msilimu, n. (wa-). See Mwislamu.

Msimamizi, n. (wa-), lit. one who causes to stand, or stands over, i.e. an overseer, overlooker,—esp. the headman of a plantation, or of a caravan. Also generally, responsible head, director, manager, superintendent, steward, foreman. (Cf. simama, and also nokoa, kadamu.)

Msimulizi, n. (wa-), one who reports, narrates, gives an account, tells a story, recounts news, newsman. (Cf. sumulia.)

Msindikizo, n. (mi-), act of escorting, escort, cortège, retinue. (Cf. sindikiza, sindika.)

*Msingefuri, n. (mi-), the anatta plant. (Cf. singefuri.)

Msinji, n. (mi-), also Msingi, a trench, ditch, cutting made in the ground, e.g. round a house for carrying off water, &c., but esp. of the foundation for a stone house. Piga (weka) msinji, lay a foundation. (Perh. msinji, and conn. with zinga,zunguka, &c.)

*Msiri, n. (wa-), a confidential (intimate, bosom) friend, confidential agent (adviser, counsellor). (Ar. Cf. siri, and mshauri, mkunja.)

Msisimizi, n. See Mzizimizi.

Msisimuko, n. (mi-), and Msizim'ko, a startling, nervous excitement, irritation, stimulation. (Cf. sisima, zizimua, and syn. mshtuko.)

Msitamu, n. (mi-), keelson or inner keel, to which the foot of the mast and ribs of a vessel are secured. (Cf. mkuku, keel, and chombo.)

Msitiri, n. (mi-), and Msetiri. See Msitiri.

Msitu, n. (—, and ? mi-), land covered with thick bushes, undergrowth, small trees. Sometimes msitu wa miti, forest, but mwitu is usual in this sense.

Msizi, n. (mi-), a plant from which a black dye or ink is made. (Cf. masizi. Dist. msizi, a rootlet.)

*Msomari, n. (mi-), also Msu- mari, Miamari, a nail, large pin, or anything similar in appearance or use. Msomari wa parafujo, a screw. (Ar.)

Msomeshi, n. (wa-), a teacher, instructor, reader, esp. one who teaches and leads Mahommedan devotions. (Cf. soma, and follg. Also mwalimu, nkufunzi.)

Msomo, n. (mi-), (1) reading, the act (method, means, &c.) of reading, repeating a lesson; (2) study, subject of study, lesson-book. (Cf. soma, somo.)

Msonde, n. (mi-), a kind of drum, long and of large size,—also called gogo. (Cf. ngoma.)

Msonge, n. and adv. (something) stirred, twisted, compressed, muddled, jumbled. Maneno haya ni msongesonge, these words are all jumbled together, confused. For mnyonge msonge see Mnyonge. (Cf. songa, and follg. The -e is a passive ending.)

Msongi, n. (wa-), one who stirs, twists, presses, &c. Msongi wa nyele, a hairdresser, who arranges the hair in folds (cf. msusi wa nyele, one who plaits the hair). (Cf. songa, and prec.)

Msongo, n. (mi-), a stirring, twisting, plaiting, compressing, muddling, &c. (Cf. songa, kisongo, and prec., and syn. msuko.)

Msonyo, n. (mi-), and Msuno, a whistling sound, made with the teeth as well as the lip, to attract notice or express contempt. Piga (vuta) msonyo, give a whistle. (Cf. songa, and fyonya, also mwunzi, ubinja, and koroma.)

Mstadi, n. (wa-), a skilled workman, one who knows his trade. (Cf. fundi, waria, mbingwa.)

*Mstafeli, n. (mi-), a fruit tree commonly called mtotetote, and sometimes mtomoko, custard-apple tree. There are several varieties known in Z., e.g. mstafeli wa kizungu, bearing the fruit called 'sour-sop,' mst. wa Ajjemi, bearing the 'bullock's heart.' There is also an mst. wa mwitu, or 'wild custard-apple.' (Cf. topete.)

*Mstaki, n. (wa-). See Mshtaki.

*Mstamu, n. (mi-). See Msitamu.

*Mstarehe, n. state of rest, repose, calm,—esp. in the phrase raha mstarehe, i.e. absolute, complete repose. (Cf. starehe, starehefu, raha, utulivu, kinya, and mstiri.)

*Mstari, n. (mi-), a line, an extended stroke, a line ruled or marked, a row. Piga mstari, draw a line. (Ar. Cf. safu, mfu, alama.)

*Mstiri, n. (wa-), (1) for mshiri, a customer, a buyer (Arab.). (2) (with variants msetiri, mstiri), one who conceals, a hider, one who covers, veils, disguises. (Ar. Cf. stiri, ficha.)

*Msuaki, n. (mi-), a twig of a fibrous shrub, the end of which is chewed and used for rubbing and cleaning the teeth, a tooth-stick, a tooth-brush. Often a twig of the mzambara. (Ar. tooth-pick.)

*Msufi, n. (mi-), the cotton-tree (Eriodendron anfractussum). (Cf. sufi, and dist. mpamba, the cotton plant, a small shrub.)

Msuka, n. (1) (wa-), verbal of suka, one who plait, &c.; (2) (mi-), the spike of a native hoe (jembe),—the part of the iron head which passes through and is fixed in the handle (kipini). See Jembe.

*Msukeni, n. (mi-), also Sukani, Usukani, rudder, and steering gear in general, of a boat or ship. The tiller or handle is called kana; the tiller-rod, rudder-line, njari (plur. njari); the steersman, mishiki mskukani or rubani; a steering wheel, cherehe (or gurudumu) ya mskukani. (Hind. Cf. shikio.)

Msukano, n. (mi-) and Msukawano, part of the drill (keke) used for boring hard woods by native carpenters, viz. the shaft and barrel carrying the iron bit or boring tool. See Keke.

Msuki, n. (wa-), also Msusi, one who plait, &c. See Suka. M. wa nyele, a professional or skilled hairdresser. M. wa vikapo, a basket maker.
Msuko, n. (mi-), act (process, style, &c.) of plaiting, a plait. Also of shaking, e.g. of a ship at sea. (Verbal of suka, in all its meanings.)

*Msululishi, n. (wa-), a peacemaker, a reconciler, one who brings to terms, arranges a bargain, ends a quarrel, &c. (Ar. Cf. sululisha, suluhifu, and syn. mpatanishi.)

Msumen, n. (mi-), a sawing tool, a saw. Piga m., use a saw. Kaka kwa m., cut with a saw, i.e. pasua. Various kinds are m. wa kitanda, frame-saw,—large ones being used as pit-saws, and for plank cutting. M. wa tamba, a fret-saw. M. wa jambeni, a saw with two saw-edges. (Cf. Ar. jambe, two-sided. Also ki-su, ji-su, whence perh. m-su with meno, i.e. a toothed or serrated knife.)

*Msunobari, n. (mi-), pine-tree, fir-tree, deal,—timber imported in quantities to Z. chiefly from Norway. It is rapidly destroyed by white ants. (Ar. and Hind.)

Msuruwita, n. (mi-), the wooden peg on a kind of clog (mtalawanda) used by women indoors, passing between the toes and so holding the clog on the foot.

Msuzi, n. (wa) for Msuki (which see). (Dist. mzuzi.)

Msuusa, n. (mi-), name of a tree.

Msutuma, n. (mi-) and Msuzi, a large piece of coloured calico, often used as a screen or partition in a native house,—more commonly kisutu, a piece of coloured calico worn as a woman’s dress. (Cf. ngwo, kisutu.)

Msuzo, n. (mi-) and Msusio, handle of wood by which the upper stone is turned, in grinding grain between two stones.

*Mtaa, n. (mi-), division of a town, quarter, district, parish. Kaa mtaa mmoja, live in the same district, be neighbours. (Cf. syn. fungu, sehemu, upande.)

*Mtaala, n. study, practice, reading. (Ar. Cf. taali, and soma.)

*Mtalamu, n. (wa-), an educated, learned, well-instructed person, a scholar, a sage. (Ar. Cf. elimu, and syn. mwana vyuo.)

*Mtabiri, n. (wa-), one who announces or foretells events, a prophet, a soothsayer. (Ar. Cf. tabiri, hubiri, and nabi.)

Mtara, n. (mi-), crupper,—the cord used to fasten the saddle to the tail (Sac.)

Mtai, n. (mi-), a scratch, a slight cut. Piga mtai, make a scratch, scarily. (Cf. papura, chora, toja, piga, ukucha, also mfu.)

Mtaimbo, n. (mi-), also Mtabi, an iron crowbar, lever, bar.

Mtajiri, n. (wa-). See Tajiri.

Mtaka, n. (wa-), one who wants, asks, begs, needs, &c. See Taka, v. Mtaka yote hukora yote, he who begs for everything gets nothing. (Cf. mtashi, mwombaji.)

Mtakaso, n. cleansing, a thing cleaned (cf. takasa). Also ? a rustling, rustle,—perh. a variant of mchakacho (which see).

Mtala, n. (mi-), also Mtaa, a tree supplying a light wood, from which clogs are made in Z. Hence also (2) a wooden clog, i.e. kiatu cha mta. (Cf. kiatu.)

Mtali, n. (mi-), an anklet, bangle. (Cf. furungu, and for other ornaments uremba.)

Mtama, n. (mi-), millet, Kaffir corn, sorghum,—a food staple in many districts near Z. Mtama mtendj, young half-grown millet. Mtama tet, millet with grain formed but not fully ripe. The stalk is bua (ma-), and of a sweet kind kota (ma-). Various kinds are known as felele, kipoe, kibakuli, jumba, &c. (Ar. loom, food, corn of any kind. For other kinds cf. uwele, ulezi, uwimbi, ngana, hayiri, kimanga, mchele.)

Mtambwa, n. (wa-), a female animal that has not yet borne young. Mt. wa ng’ombe, a heifer. (Cf. mfarika.)
Mtambaaazi, n. (wa-), any crawling creature, insect or reptile. (Cf. -tambaa, -tambaa-zai, utambaaazi, and ttririka,—used of the gliding of snakes, i.e. without feet.)

Mtambo, n. (mi-), a trap with a spring-action. Hence of any similar contrivance or machine with movement. Mtambo wa bunduki, the lock (or, action) of a gun. Tega mtambo, set a trap. Mtambo wa taa, a clock (or, watch) spring. (Cf. tamba, tambo, kitambu, utambo, tambi, tambaa, &c., differing in meaning, but perh. with same root.)

Mtambuu, n. (mi-), the shrub which produces the betel-leaf,—in great request for chewing at Z. See Tambuu, Uraibu.

Mtambuzi, n. (wa-), a knowing, clever, well-informed, intelligent person. (Cf. tambua, utambuzi, and tamba.)

Mtanda, n. (wa-), verbal of tanda, one who spreads, &c. See Tanda, and follg.

Mtande, n. (mi-), lit. something spread or stretched out. Hence used of (1) a frame of sticks, or a line on which clothes, &c. are hung to dry. Also of a weaver’s loom, more accurately called kitanda cha mfumi. (2) strip of flesh, or fish, hung up to dry in the sun or by the fire. Also of the threads of the warp in a loom,—the woof being mshindio. (Cf. tanda, and follg.)

Mtando, n. (mi-), a spreading, a stretching out, &c. Also of what is spread out. (Cf. tanda, and prec.)

Mtanga, n. (wa-), one who wanders idly and aimlessly about, an idler, loafer, common tourist, vagabond, tramp. So also Mtangatanga. (Cf. tanga, mtango, kitanga, and syn. mtambesi, mpuzi.)

Mtangazi, n. (wa-), one who makes generally known, proclaims, divulges. (Cf. tangaa.)

Mtango, n. (mi-), (1) a loitering, strolling about, idling (see Tanga, and prec.). (2) the plant producing the tango, a kind of cucumber used as a vegetable.

Mtangulizi, n. (wa-), one who goes before, leads the way, is pre-eminent or first in anything, and so a leader, ringleader, herald, forerunner, predecessor. (Cf. tangulia, and syn. takadamu.)

Mtani, n. (wa-), one of a family, clan, or tribe, a kinsman, a relation,—but not nearer than a cousin on the father’s side. (Cf. utani.)

Mtapo, n. (mi-), name of a plant, a kind of Cycad. Also verbal n. of tapa, shivering.

Mtasbihi, n. (mi-), a kind of reed.

Mtashi, n. (wa-), an earnest, importunate suppliant, one whose mind is set on an object, an urgent pleader. (Cf. taka, v., and syn. mwombaji.)

Mtata, n. (mi-), name of a plant.

Mtatago, n. (mi-), a tree placed so as to bridge or dam a stream, i.e. mti wa kulingamisha magogo mtani. (Cf. ulalo.)

Mtatio, Mtatizo, n. (mi-), a coiling (of cord), winding (of thread), an entanglement. (Cf. tata, tatiza.)

*Mtawa, n. (wa-), (1) one who stays at home, keeps indoors, and so (2) one who leads a moral self-controlled life, a recluse, a devout religious person. (?Ar. Cf. tawa, close up, utawa. In (2) sense, the sound of a seems prolonged, and is written sometimes mtaawa, mtaowa, mtawa.)

Mtawanya, n. (wa-), one who scatters, and so, one who spends freely, an open-handed, liberal person. (Cf. tawanya, and syn. karimu, mpaji.)

Mtazamo, n. (mi-), looking, gazing. See Tazama.

Mtego, n. (mi-), a trap, snare, gin,—used of all kinds of devices for snaring animals and birds. Tega mtego, set a trap. (Cf. -tega.)

Mtema, Mtemi, n. (wa-), verbal of teme, one who spits, one who cuts. See Tema, and Mtemo.

Mtembezi, n. (wa-), (1) from tembea, one who walks about for pleasure or exercise rather than business, an idler, a pleasure-seeker, a tourist, &c., e.g. mtmbezi ada miguu yake, one who travels for pleasure, lives off his own feet; (2) from tembeza, e.g. mtmbezi wa bithaa, one who hawks goods about for sale, a pedlar, a commercial traveller. (Cf. tembea, tanga, sunguka.)

Mtemo, n. (mi-), (1) cutting; (2) spitting, i.e. mtemo wa mate. See Tema.

Mtendaji, n. (wa-), an active (energetic, enterprising, pushing) person. (Cf. tenda, kitendo, utendaji, &c.)

Mtende, n. (mi-), a date-palm, producing the fruit tende. Not numerous in Z., dates being imported from Arabia.

Mtendo, n. (mi-), a doing, mode of acting, performing, accomplishing. (Cf. tenda, kitendo, utendaji.)

Mtenga, n. (wa-), verbal of tena (which see), one who separates, &c.

Mtenge, n. (mi-), a separating, a dividing off, &c. See Tenga.

Mtenge, n. (wa-), one who is divided off, separated, put aside, set apart, devoted (to a work or occupation). (Cf. tena.)

Mtenzi, n. (wa-), one who does things, carries on work, follows a trade or occupation, &c. M. wa mashairi (wa maneno), one who makes poetry (stories), a poet, an author. M. wa kazi, an active, hard-working person. (Cf. tenda, utensi.)

Mtepe, n. (mi-), a native sailing vessel, with a very long projectig prow, upright mast, and square masting sail. Constructed with wooden pegs and cord, at coast towns north of Mombasa,—Patta, Lamu, &c., and used by the Wagunyu in their trading voyages. (Cf. chombo, dau.)

Mtepevu, n. (wa-), a slack, remiss, do-nothing person. (Cf. -tepetu, utepetu.)

Mteremezi, n. (wa-), a kindly, genial, friendly person, who sets others at their ease. (Cf. terema, and follg., -kunjufu, changani'ka.)

Mteremo, n. (mi-), cheerfulness, happiness, comfort, relief from trouble. (Cf. terema, and prec.)

Mteki, n. (wa-), one who causes trouble or annoyance, a persecutor, opponent, enemy, a quarrelsome or litigious person. (Cf. tesa, teso.)

Mteke, n. (mi-), a reed. (Cf. kitete, unyasi, mwanzi, bua.)

Mtemezi, n. (mi-), shaking, trembling, shuddering, shivering, quaking. Mtemezi wa inchi, earthquake. M. wa meno, chattering of the teeth. (Cf. tete, tetemeko, and syn. mti, kisok, msuzo.)

Mteua, n. (wa-), verbal of teua, one who chooses, criticizes, picks and chooses. Mteua mno kuanguka mbovu, the dainty person is sure to find (his food) bad. (Cf. teua, and follg.)

Mteule, n. (wa-), one who is chosen, selected, picked out, and so choice, of high quality or character. (Cf. teua, -teule, mteusi, and prec.)

Mteuxi, n. (wa-), like Mteua, a dainty person, a critic, an eclectic, a connoisseur, e.g. mteuxi haachi tamaa, i.e. a critic is never satisfied. (Cf. teua, and prec., and syn. mehagusi.)

*Mthamili, n. (wa-), an unjust, tyrannical person, an oppressor, despot, persecutor, defrauder, &c. (Ar. Cf. thamili, uthamili, thulum.)

*Mthamini, n. (wa-), a surety, trustee, one who goes bail for another, a hostage, guarantor. (Ar. Cf. thamini, thamana.)

Mtii, n. (mi-), (1) a tree,—of any kind and in any state; (2) tree-material, i.e. wood, timber; (3) a tree, or part of a tree, prepared for use,—pole, post, palisade. Merikibu ya mtii, a wooden ship. Nyumba ya mti, a house of timber, a wooden house. Nyumba ya mti, a house built with poles. Mti kati, a post to which a prisoner is secured by fetters on his feet. (Cf. mkatala.) (Cf. kijiti, uti, and ubau, plank, sawn timber, nguso, boriti. Lists of trees may be found in Sacleux, Dictionnaire Frang-Swahili, Appendix, and for British Central Africa in Johnston's British Central Africa, p. 227, first ed.)

Mti, n. (—). Marathi ya mti, uwele wa mti, denotes sores of a scrofulous or gangrenous kind.

*Mtti, n. (wa-), an obedient (submissive, docile) person. (Ar. Cf. tii, utti, ta' a.)

Mtiti, n. (mi-), the plant producing the water-melon, tikiti.

Mtima, n. (mi-), heart,—seldom used in modern Swahili, for moyo.

Mtindi, n. (—), buttermilk,—also described as mtindi waa masiwa, or maziwa ya mtindi. (Cf. -tindi.)

Mtindo, n. (mi-), (1) sort, shape, size, pattern; cut; (2) a special sort, a good kind, extra quality; (3) conclusion, end. Nguo hii ya m., this is a special (unusual, superfine) calico (dress, fabric). Mwanangu ni m. wa kusi, my son is just like him. M. wa kusi, the end of the (season of the) south wind. (Cf. kitinda, tindika. Perh. same as chinja, mchinja, i. e. (1) a cutting; (2) cut, shape; (3) cutting off, end.)

*Mtini, n. (mi-), a fig-tree, the fruit being tini. (The wild fig is mvumo.)

Mtipitipi, n. (mi-), name of a climbing plant, or creeper. (Dist. ttipiti, a bird.)

Mto, n. (mto), (1) a river, small or large, rivulet, brook, stream, &c.; (2) creek, inlet, estuary, arm of the sea, i. e. mto wa bahari; (2) a cushion, pillow. Mto wa kono, a branching river, delta. Mto mkau, a river bed, dry channel. Mkono wa mto, affluent, branch of a river. Mto waenda kassi, the river runs swiftly. Vuka mto, cross a river. Kaia mto, go upstream. Fuata mto, go down-stream. Mto haupiti, the river is impassable. (Cf. jito, kijito, also juto, and uto, mfo.)

Mtoa, Mtoaji, n. (wa-), verbal of toa, in all its senses, one who gives, removes, &c. See Toa. Mtoaji kahawa, one who serves coffee.

Mtobbe, n. (mi-), a tree from which a favourite kind of walking-stick is made,—white, and possessing the quality of bending and keeping any curve it is bent to, like lead. (Cf. bakora, sibmo.)

Mtofaa, n. (mi-), a fruit-tree, with an apple-like fruit, tofaa (Jambosa Malaccensis, Sac.), jamrack.

Mtoki, n. (—), painful swelling in the groin, usually accompanied by fever.

Mtokoso, n. (mi-), (1) act (condition) of boiling; (2) rice boiled and dried,—so sold in shops. (Cf. chemka.)

Mtombo, n. (mi-), and Mttembo, (1) the heart or centre of the sprouting shoot of a palm-tree, cocoanut or other (cf. kitile, moyo). (2) painful cracks and sores caused by the bubu disease, esp. on the soles of the feet.

Mtombo, n. (mi-), solidity (firmness, strength, good workmanship) in building (Str.). (Cf. tumea, and syn. imara, sithabiti.)

Mtomoko, n. (mi-), a fruit-tree of the same class as the custard-apple (mtotepote).

Mtomondo, n. (mi-), a fruit-tree of the same class as the mtofaa,—a Barringtontia, bearing the fruit tomonto.

Mtondo, n. (mi-), the third day following,—the series being leo, today, kesho, to-morrow, kesho kuchwa, the day after to-morrow, then mtondo, the third day. The fourth day is called mtondo goo, or kushinda mtondo.

Mtondo, n. (mi-), a large tree, bearing the fruit tondoo, with a seed rich in oil,—Calophyllum Inophyllum.

Mtongozi, n. (wa-), one who tries to attract (allure, seduce), e.g. by words, signs, dress, &c., a seducer. (Cf. longosa, kitongo, utongozi.)

Mtoto, n. (wa-), implies generally what is (A) in an early stage of development, or (B) in a subordinate position, and includes the following meanings.
A. Child, young person, offspring, offshoot, descendent. E.g. m. mwanaume (mume, wa kiume), male child, son, boy. M. mwanaume (wakike, mke), a female child, daughter, girl. An mtoto remains so till the age of about 7 years, or about 15 years,—next becoming a kijana (see Kijana). M. mchanga, a very young child, a baby. The offspring of any animal is called mtoto, e.g. m. wa ng’ombe, a calf; m. wa mbusi, a kid; m. wa kuku, a chicken. For offshoot of plants cf. watoto wa mgomba, the young shoots springing from the roots of a banana. Mtoto is also used of morbid growths, e.g. mtoto wa jicho, of a growth near the eye. But cf. B. B. (1) dependant, subordinate, follower, servant, ward, member of a household in relation to its head. This sense is quite irrespective of age. (2) Mtoto is also extended to inanimate objects of all sorts, whose function is of a subordinate kind, but in this case it is sometimes treated as a mi- noun, i.e. with plur. mtoto, e.g. m. wa mesa, the drawer of a table; m. wa kasha, a shelf or inner compartment in a box; m. wa kitasa, a ward of a lock; m. wa mto, tributary of a river; m. wa parafujo, the worm (thread) of a screw; m. wa randa, the iron used to stiffen the cutting-iron in a plane. (Cf. kitoto, toto, kijana, and syn. mwana.)

Mtoza, n. (wa-), verbal of toa (toa), one who causes to pay, an exactor, &c. Mtoza ushuru, a collector of taxes.

Mtu, n. (wa-), (1) a person, a human being, an individual, one of the human race, a man; (2) a dependant, servant, slave, follower, adherent. E.g. mtu mume (or m’m), a male, mtu mke, a female,—more commonly mwanaume, mwanaume. Mtu wangu, one of my servants (slaves). Mtu wa nani? Who does he belong to? Mtu gani? Of what tribe is he? Si mtu, not a man, no one. Hakuna mtu, there is no one, nobody. Mtu and watu are used to point a number of contrasts, each illustrating the content of the idea. Thus (1) mtu, si watu, one person, not many persons. (2) mtu, si nyama, a human being, not a beast. (3) mtu, si kitu, a living personality, not a chattel. (4) mtu, a mere man, a man as isolated and helpless. Nimukwaa mtu in, of one conscious of his own existence only, ignorant of all his surroundings, ‘I was a simple nonentity.’ (5) mtu, a man as possessed of intrinsic worth, e.g. sisi hatukwa watu mbele yao, we did not count as men in their eyes. (6) mtu, in an emphatic sense, a person of rank, importance and consideration, e.g. mto wa watu, a well-born (well-connected) child, a child of people of position. (7) watu, people in general, the average man; mimi mtu kama watu, I am a common man. (8) watu, other people, as distinct from the self, esp. as to ownership, e.g. kwenda kwiba tango.
la watu, to go and steal other people’s cucumbers. Fetha hii ya watu, this money is not mine. (9) watu, public opinion, society. Watu husema hivi, it is a common (popular, general) opinion. (10) mtu is often used to denote the possession of a certain attribute, or condition, e.g. tukawa watu wa kufa tu, we were as good as dead (entirely at the mercy of an enemy, or mortally wounded). Si mtu wa kwenda naye, he is not a man to go with, a fit comppanion. (Cf. itu, kitu, jitu, ki-jitu, and syn. mwana Adamu, bin Adamu.)

Mtulinga, n. (mi-), the collarbone, i.e. mfupa wa bega.

Mtumba, n. (mi-), also Tumba,
(1) a bale, bag, or bundle, e.g. of cloth or other goods, made up as a load for a caravan-porter, and so
(2) in general, a load, a man’s burden. (Cf. tumba, tumbo, tumbi, syn. mzigo, mfuko, robota.)

Mtumbuizi, n. (wa-), one who soothes (consoles, cheers) the pain or sorrow of another, esp. by singing.
(Cf. tumbuiza, and syn. farifi, tuliza.)

Mtumbwi, n. (mi-), a native canoe, made all in one piece of a dug-out tree-trunk, often a hollowed log of the mango tree, without outriggers, but sometimes with a small mast and sail. (Cf. tumbua, tumbo, tumba, and for other kinds of boat galawa, dau, mashua.)

Mtume, n. (wa-), one who is employed or sent, a messenger, an emissary. But in Z. especially of Mahomet, i.e. the Apostle, and also of the chief characters of the Old Testament, Moses, Job, and others.
Tume is used in the more general sense. (Cf. tuma, tume, utume, utumwa, and follg.)

Mtumishi, n. (wa-), a paid servant, hired domestic, house-servant,— not so general as tume, or so limited as mtumwa. (Cf. tuma, and prec., and syn. boi, mwandishi.)

Mtumwa, n. (wa-), one who is employed or sent, but usually in the special sense a bond-servant, slave, one who is the property of another.
Contr. bwana, the master, owner of slaves, and mngwana, a freedman, or one who has never been a slave (see Utumwa). E.g. mtumwa wawena nakawa hesabu yake nguo mbili na bunduki moja, a stout, good-looking slave cost two lengths of calico and a gun,—i.e. an average price in the interior in past years.
Mtumwa wa shamba, a plantation slave, mostly engaged in cultivation.
Mtumwa wa nyumbani, a domestic slave, employed in his master’s house.
For various descriptions of slave see mbwana, kitwana, mjakazi, kijakazi, suria, msalia, mtoro, mjoli, kijoli, teka, mjinga, mtaarabu.
(Cf. tuma, tume, mtume, mtumishi mtumwaji, utumwa.)

Mtumwaji, n. (wa-), one who is regularly employed, or sent, an agent, a messenger, i.e. mtumwa, without the limitation to slaves.
(Cf. tuma, and prec.)

Mtunduizi, n. (wa-), a spy, a scout. (Cf. tunduia, and syn. mpelelezi.)

Mtungi, n. (mi-), an earthen pitcher,—the commonest kind of water-jar in Z. of this baked earthenware, mostly plain and made by hand in the island, but also imported with colour and ornamentation. Water-jars of various shapes and kinds are balasi, kasiki, kuzi, gudulia. (Cf. tunga, tungi, and follg. Also chombo.)

Mtungo, n. (mi-), a putting together, arranging in a row (and in other senses of tunga, v.), also of things put together in a row. Used esp. of fish, mtungo wa samaki, or mtungo only, a string or stick of fish, i.e. fish on a string or stick.
Mtungo mkuwba, a great lot (haul, catch) of fish. (Cf. tunga, utungo, also tanda, panga.)
Mukadisha, n. (mi-), name of a shrub, a kind of Solanum, with an edible fruit.

Mtupa, n. (mi-), a kind of Euphorbia, very poisonous. (Cf. utupa.) Also verbal n. of tupa, one who throws.

Mtutumo, n. (mi-), a low distant roll or rumbling sound, as of thunder, an earthquake, waterfall, boiling water, &c. (Cf. tutuma, and perh. telema.)

Mtwa, n. (wa-*), one who takes, or carries off. Ndye mtwa watu, it is he who carries off people, i.e. the angel of death. (Verbal of twaa.)

Mtwangaa, n. (mi-*), act (place, or manner, &c.) of pounding with pestle and mortar. Also the pounding instrument, a wooden pestle, usually mchi. (Cf. twanga.)

Mteto, n. (mi-*), panting, gasping. (Cf. tweta.)

Mu-, (1) is a prefix appearing in a few demonstrative adverbs, humu, numu, numo, mle (for mule), with the meaning 'in here, in there,' and corresponds generally to ku in similar uses. (See Ku, 3. (2).) It is more common in the relative form mo, which is also a demonstrative of reference or relative distance. (See Mo, and -o.) It is also identical with m in forms like mna, mnamo, there is (in there) (see M-, i.e. a demonstrative pfx. of general reference with the special idea of interiority, or being inside. (2) is used in some cases for the noun-pfx. m (which see), especially before a u following, as Muna- muwuni, muumishi, or before another m in nume, though the change represents no important difference of sound. Some foreign inhabitants of Zanzibar, however, e.g. the Goanese, regularly pronounce the m- pfx. as mu, e.g. muwu, muti, for mu, miti. (3) appears as mwa in mwa, as kw for ku in kwa. See -a.

Mua, n. (1) (miwa), sugar-cane,— better mwa (which see); (2) (waua), verbal form from wa, v., one who kills,—better mwua (which see), or muua.

Muaa, n. (miaa, miya) See Mwaa.

Muda, n. (no plur. used), space of time, period, set term, fixed interval. M. wa, for the space of, during. M. kitambo, a short time. M. mzima, a considerable time, full time. Baniani amemba muda mi-exi mitatu amlife, the Banian gave him a term of three months for payment. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. muhulla, wakati, majira, nafasi.)

Mudu, v. stretch, extend. Seldom except in Rf. form jimudu, stretch oneself, move one's limbs,—as a sick person recovering or for relief. (Ar. Cf. muda, of time, and syn. ji-nyosha.)

Muhashamu, a. a complimentary title in the Arabic fashion of beginning a letter, honoured. (Ar. Cf. heshimu, heshima, and see Dibaji.)

Muhebbi, n. and a., also Muheb, Moheb, beloved friend, dear, affectionate,—used like Muhashamu. (Ar. Cf. haba, and pre.)

Muhindi, n. (1) (Wahindi), a native of India, but in Z. especially a Mahommedan from East India (as distinct from the non-Mahommedan Hindoes called Banians); (2) (mi-) Indian corn plant. See Mhindi.

Muhogo, n. (mihogo), the cassava plant. See Mhogo.

Muhtasari, n. (—), abridgement, abstract, summary, list of contents, précis. (Ar.)

Muhulla, n. (—), space of time, period, interval. (Ar. Cf. syn. muda.)

Muhuri, n. (—), seal, signet, crest, armorial bearing. Tia m., seal, set seal to, confirm, sign. (Ar.)

Mui, n. better muwi, miwi (which see).

Mukadisha, Mukdesha, n. a town on the Somali coast, north of Zanzibar, formerly (with Barawa, Merka, Warsheikh) under the Sultan, now in the Italian sphere.

Mulika, v. shine, gleam, throw (make, show) a light. Akumulikaye mchana, iku nguza usiku, who lights you by day, sets fire to you by night. Ap. mulik-ia, iwa, bring a light for, make a light with, help with a light. E.g. nimulikie chini, light me downstairs. (Cf. kimulimuli.)

Mume, n. (waume), for mto mume, mwanaume, a male, a man. Used alone mume means distinctively husband, in contrast with mwanaume. (See -ume, and cf. mke.)

*Mumiani, n. (ma-), a mummy, (used in native medicine, &c.). (Ar.)

Mumo, adv. demonstr. of reference, also mumo humo. See Mumu.

Mumu, adv. demonstr., usually with humu, i.e. mumu humu, just inside this very place (in these circumstances), just in here. (See Mu, and cf. mume, and adv. kuku, papa.)

Mumunya, v. also Mug’unya, and Munya, break in small pieces, esp. in the mouth, i.e. mumble, munch, prepare for swallowing, e.g. like a toothless person or donkey. Nt. mumunyika, (1) be broken up, munched, crumble away; (2) be friable, easily crumbled or triturated, e.g. like bad mortar.

Mumunye, n. (ma-), a kind of gourd resembling a vegetable marrow, used as a vegetable. The rind when hard and dry is used as a vessel to hold fluids,—like the boga, buyu. The plant is mumunyika.

Munda, n. (miunda) (1) a harpoon, for spearing large fish, i.e. wa kuchomea samaki kubwa. Also (2) a piece of planking, used in wooden construction. (Cf. unda.)

Mundu, n. (miundu), a sickle, billhook, chopper.

Mung’unya, Munya, Munya—munya, v. same meaning as mumunya (which see).

Munyi, n. a variant of mwenyi, used in the sing. as a title, chief. See Mwenyi.

Munyu, n. (no plur.), salt, incrustation. (Cf. chunyu, chumvi, nyunyu.)

Muo, n. (miuo), (1) a great killing, a slaughter, a massacre (cf. ua, v.). Also (2) a wooden stake used to dig up stones &c. with, or as a lever, often with an iron point. (Cf. mtaimbo, mchoko.)

Muomo, Mwomo, n. (miomo), variants of mdomo, lip, which is usual in Z. Ndenu za muomo, or only muomo, moustache. (Cf. mdomo, omo.)

*Musimu, n. (no plur.), northerly wind, time of the north monsoon at Z., i.e. Dec. to Feb., but extended sometimes to the whole season from and to the period of southerly winds, i.e. from October to May. (Ar. For other seasons cf. masika, and mwaka.)

Muu-. See words under Mwu-.

Muuaji, Muuguzi, n. See Mwua-i, Mwuguzi.

Muumba, n. (waumba), one who creates, makes, fashions, esp. as a title of God in Z., the Creator of the world, i.e. Muumba yote. (Cf. umba, kiumbo, and syn. Ar. huluku.)

Muumishi, n. (waumishi), a professional cupper. (Cf. umika.)

Muundi, n. (miundi). Muundi wa mguu, the shin, shin bone, between knee and ankle.

Muungo, n. (miungo), a fastening, thing which fastens, esp. a tie, tiebeam, in wooden construction. (Cf. unga, kiungo.)

Muungu, n. (miingu),—the sing. being treated as D 1, the plur. as D 2. Also may be written Muungu, Mungu,芒gu, (1) God, a god; (2) providence, luck, accident,—used to describe anything unaccountable or unexpected. Words commonly connected with Muungu are, Mwenyezi Mngu, i.e. mwenyi enzi Muungu, Almighty 'God. Omba M., pray to God, also ombakwa M.,—ombeka being usually 'pray for, intercede,' Shukuru M., be resigned, accept the inevitable, submit,—seldom of felt or active gratitude. Shiriki Muungu, be wholly given to God,—the strongest expression for a religious life (cf. shiriki), and when pressed to its extreme, i.e. union or sharing the nature, repudiated by Mahommans, as impious and inconceivable (cf. siba M.). Kumbuka M., meditate on God. Ngoja M., trust in Providence. Muungu akweweke, may God provide for you (bless you), is often used by the lower classes,—also M. akubariki. Mbaraka wa M., God's blessing. Maskini wa Muungu, a destitute person, esp. of a poor freed-slave, deprived by freedom of all claim to human (i.e. his master's) protection and support. (Muungu in various forms, Mulungu, Mulukyu, &c., occurs in most Bantu dialects on or near the East Coast. Swahilis sometimes use Mola, but seldom Allah, as an equivalent. The ideas conveyed are vague, but in Z. principally Mahommans,—whence perhaps the anomalous plur. (of the inferior mi-class), to avoid encroachment on the unity of the Godhead. Cf. Allah, Mola, Rabbi, and various titles of God. Also mungu, and umungu.)

Muwa, n. (miwa), also Mua, the sugar-cane. Less cultivated in Z. than formerly. There are still a few mills, producing treacle and a coarse brown sugar (sukari guru).

Muzimu, n. See Maimu.

Mvi, n. (no plur., sing. is treated as D 4 and also D 6), grey hair. Mwenyi mvi, a grey-haired old man. So ndeuza mvi, grey beard. Nywele za mvi, grey hairs. Mvi mweupe or nyeupe. (Cf. unyele.)

Mviko, n. (mi-), act (style, &c.) of dressing, clothing, a garment, dress. (Cf. vika, and syn. uvao, vazi, nguo.)

Mvinje, n. (mi-), the cassiorina tree, a kind of fir growing freely on rocky ground near the seashore in Z.

Mvinyo, n. (no plur., sing. is treated as D 4 and also D 6), wine, spirits, esp. the latter in Z. (Portuguese. Cf. devai, tembo, pombe.)

Mviringo, n. (mi-), roundness, a round shape, anything round, a circle, a curve, a ring, a washer. (Cf. viringa, fingirisha, and syn. duara, dura, mduara, mzino, peta.)

Mvita, n. the Swahili name for the town and island of Mombasa. Also for Mvita, an inhabitant of Mombasa.

Mvua, n. (1) (—), rain. Mвуа nyangi (kubwa), heavy rain. Mвуа ya mwaka, a slight rainfall usually in August. Alikwenda na mwua yake, he went in the rain. Also (2) (wa-), verbal of vua, in all its senses, mvua samaki, a man fishing, mvua nguo, &c. (For the rainy seasons in Z. cf. masika, and mvule, and for light rain Manyunyo.)

Mvuje, n. a fetid gum, asafoetida.

Mvuke, n. (mi-), vapour produced by heat, steam, perspiration. (Cf. vukiza, and follg. Also syn. moshi, hari, jasha.)

Mvukuto, n. (mi-), bellows,—as used by native smiths, i.e. two leather bags alternately inflated and deflated by hand. (Cf. mfuwa (mi-) and prec.)

Mvulana, n. (wa-), a young unmarried man, a bachelor. (Cf. uvulana, and syn. kijana.)

Mvule, n. also Mvuli, and Vuli, the lesser rains, the short rainy season, i.e. November in Z., when the north wind begins to set in. (Cf. masika and follg., and for the seasons mwaka. Perh. conn. with uvuli, shade, i.e. clouds after clear weather, or with mvua.)
Mvuli, n. (mi-), a shady place, shade of a tree, &c. (Cf. kivuli, a patch of shade, a shadow, &c., and uvuli, shade in general, gloom, darkness.)

Mvuma, n. (wa-) and Mvumi, verbal of vuma, one who mutters, hums, &c.* See Vuma and follg. Mvuma ilili, name of a bird.

Mvumo, n. (mi-), (1) a rumbling noise, muttering sound; (2) a report, rumour (see Uvumi); (3) a rubber (in cards, Str.); (4) the Borassus palm, not common in Z. island. (Cf. vuma, and for palms mnazi.)

Mvunaji, n. See Mvuni.

Mvungu, n. (mi-), a hollowed-out place, a hollow, hole, empty space, cavity,—e.g. a hole in a tree, the space under a bedstead, i.e. mwungu wa kitanda. Mika cha mwunguni huinama, he who wants what is under a bed must stoop for it. (Cf. mwungu.)

Mvuni, n. (wa-) and Mvunaji, one who gathers in a crop, a reaper, &c. (Cf. vuna.)

Mvunja, n. (wa-), verbal of vunja (which see), one who breaks, destroys, &c.

Mvunjo, n. (mi-), act (time, manner, &c.) of breaking. (See Vunja and prec., also kivunjo, uvunjo.)

Mvuo, n. (mi-), act (time, manner, place, &c.) of fishing, fishing ground, catch of fish. Also in other senses of vua (which see).

Mvurugo, n. (mi-), (1) messing, muddling, mixing up, mixture, and so (2) of unripe fruit in a squashy, messy condition,—squash, jam. (Cf. vuruga.)

Mvushi, n. (wa-), (1) a ferryman, (2) a preserver. See Vuka.

Mvuto, n. (mi-), act (manner, &c.) of drawing. Also in other senses of vuta (which see),—pulling, influence, persuasion, persuasion, &c. Mvuto wa maji (wa upeso), current of water (air). (Cf. mkondo.)

Mvuvi, n. (wa-), a professional fisherman. Proverbially quarrelsome over their fish, and so nyumba ya wawuvi, a noisy, quarrelsome household. (Cf. vua, mvuu.)

Mw-, as a pfx. See Mu, and M.

Mwa, prep. form agreeing with the locative form of nouns in -ni, of (i.e. mu-a, see Mu, -a), e.g. nyumbani mwa Msungu, in the house of the European.

Mwa, n. also Muaa, Mnyaa, Myaa, with the plur. miwaa, also miyaa, miya, (1) the Hyphaene, or Dwarf palm, also commonly known as mkoche and mkoma, furnishing the leaves, which are generally used as material for mats, bags, baskets, coarse cord, and string, (2) a leaf-blade of this palm. The blade is divided into two parts, chane, and each part slit into three, the central piece being the finest material for plaiting, the outsides for coarser kinds. (Cf. un'ong'o, utangule, ukindu, ukili, chana, suka.)

*Mwasa, n. (miafa), anything causing fear, danger, a terror, horror, bugbear, enemy. (Ar. Cf. hofu, afa, and syn. kioja, kiteko.)

*Mwafaka, n. (miyaka), agreement, bargain, conspiracy, plot. (Ar. Cf. afika, and syn. mapatano.)

Mwatu, n. (miafu), wild jasmine. (Cf. afu, yasmini.)

Mwaka, n. (miaka), a year. Two ways of reckoning years are in use in Z., (1) the lunar year of twelve lunar months,—Ramathan being counted as the first month,—and about 355 days. This is the Arab official and religious year, and beginning ten days earlier each year has no correspondence with the seasons. (2) the solar year, with 365 days, the first day of the year being called siku ya mwaka, and kept as a popular festival, the last kigwizi, and the days being reckoned by decades (miongo). It is of Persian origin, and used for nautical and agricultural purposes. Mwaka wa jana, last year. Mw. wa juzi, the year before last. Mw. wa kesho (or njao), next year. Mwaka kwa mwaka, killa mwaka, year by year, annually. Mwakani, in a year’s time,—but often indefinitely, some day or other, sooner or later. Mwaa ya mwaka, light rains which fall usually in August, between the two rainy seasons. The seasons in Zanzibar are regular and well defined. The island lying about 7° south of the equator, the sun is overhead about October 21 and February 21. These dates are followed by periods of calm, light variable winds, and rains,—the greater rains called masika, chiefly in April, the lesser rains mvuli in November. When the sun is in the south, the north wind blows, and the heat is greatest, i.e. in December, January, and February. This is called kaskasi, or musimu. When the sun is in the north, the south wind blows, and the heat is less, i.e. from June to October. This is called kusi, and includes the kiputywe or cool period in June and July, following the heavy rains, and the demani in September and October. The times of calms and light winds are called malelezi, or tanga mbili. The thermometer in the shade in Zanzibar city is seldom above 85° or below 75° night or day. For other divisions of time see Mwezi and Siku. (Perh. cf. waka, and chaka, the hot season,—the latter seldom heard in Z.)

Mwako, n. (miwako), blaze, flame, blazing, burning. Mwako wa moto (jua), blaze of a fire (the sun). (Cf. waka.)

Mwalamu, n. (mialamu), a stripe, band, line of colour, esp. in a dress-material. (Cf. miia, utepi.)

Mwali, n. (1) (mwali), a Raphia palm,—not common in Zanzibar island. The mid-rib of the leaves is very long (20 feet to 30 feet), strong and light, and is much used for doors (see Mlango), ladders, and other purposes. (2) (wali, for walis), a maiden, a virgin; usually with mwana, i.e. mwana mwali, plur. waana wali. (Cf. bikira.)

Mwali, n. (nyali), flame, tongue of fire. (Arab. Cf. ulimi wa moto.)

Mwaliko, n. (mial-), (1) a cracking sound, click, clap. (2) an invitation, summons, call. (Cf. alika, and mwito)

Mwalimu, n. a learned man, a teacher, a schoolmaster, esp. the Mahomedan official teacher attached to a mosque. (Ar. Cf. elimu, alama, mtalamu.)

Mwalishi, n. (waali-), one who calls, summons, invites, e.g. to a feast, wedding, &c. (Cf. alika, mwali.)

Mwamba, n. (miamba), (1) a rock, a mass of rock, a very large stone, a reef. (2) in building, a ridge pole or wall-plate, i.e. a transverse pole, resting on the top of poles forming the side or roof of a native house. (Dim. kijamba.)

Mwambao, n. (miambao), (1) a passing near to, grazing past, not touching, missing contact with; (2) passing along a shore (in a boat); (3) coast-line, coast, edge of the sea. Safari ya mwambao, a coasting voyage. Safari (vuta) mwambao, make a coasting voyage. (Cf. ambaa.)

Mwambi, n. (waambi), one who speaks against another, a slanderer, a critic, a tale-bearer, a gossip. (Cf. amba.)

Mwamu, n. (waamu), brother-in-law, sister-in-law. (Cf. wif.)

Mwamua, Mwamuzi, n. (waam.)

a judge, arbitrator, umpire, mediator. (Cf. amua, maamuzi, and syn. kathi, which marks office rather than function, and hakimu.)

Mwana, n. (waana, wana), (1) specifically, child, son, daughter, dependent,—of relationship as such, without reference to age (cf. mtooto, which often connotes age). Huyu ni mwanangu, this is my child. Akaa a akasaa mwana, he married and begot a son. Mwana (wa) Adamu, a child (or descendant) of Adam, a human being, one of the human race. Mwana mwali, a maid, a virgin. (2) in general, without reference to relationship, a person, one of a class. E.g. Mwana mume (mwe), a man (woman). Mwana mwezi, a sailor. Mwanaamsi, an apprentice, disciple, Mwana sheria, a lawyer. Mwana vyuo, a scholar. Wanakuwa waana wazima, they are becoming grown-up people (adults). Marra nikaona waana wanakuja, presently I saw people coming. Sometimes with mtooto, e.g. akakaa hatatmwa ana mtooto asipate, he lived on but did not get a child. Mwana has also various special senses, e.g. (a) lady of the house, mistress,—and in addressing such a one, madam,—like bibi, bibi mkubwa. Younger ladies of the house are called wa kina mwana, or namtvana. (b) used in polite reference or address to one’s own mother,—madam. (c) a recess in a grave, closed by the kiunza, is called mwana wani andani (cf. use of mtooto, of appendages of various kinds). (Cf. jana n., kijana, and the same root ana is perh. seen in bwana, mtvwa, for mite mwana, misjana, mwulana.)

Mwanamizi, n. (waan.), a kind of crab, a hermit crab.

Mwandamano, n. (miand.), a following, procession, retinue. (Cf. andama, and follg.)

Mwandamizi, n. (waand.), (1) a follower, an attendant; (2) a successor, one who comes next after. (Cf. follg.)

Mwandamo, n.(miand.), act(time, manner, &c.) of following, a coming after, a procession. Mwandamo wa mwesi, the following of the moon, the beginning of a month,—also mwesi mwandama, the moon succeeding or following, i.e. the new moon. (Cf. andama, and prec.)

Mwandani, n. (waand.), companion, associate, friend. (Perh. for mwandamani. Cf. andama, and prec., also syn. mwensi, rafiki.)

Mwandazi, n. (waand.), one who prepares food, cook, confectioner, pastry cook. (Cf. andaa, maanda-si, and mpsihi.)

Mwandikaji, n. (waand.), also

Mwandiki, (1) one who arranges, serves, waits at table, a waiter, a server; (2) a writer, copyist, amanuensis, clerk. (Cf. andika, mwa-ndishi, and follg. Also karani.)

Mwandiko, n. (miand.), (1) act(style, &c.) of writing, handwriting, (2) what is written, manuscript,—also what is printed, a writing, a book; (3) arrangement, careful treatment, manipulation, e.g. of a doctor. (Cf. andika, andiko (mna), and prec.)

Mwandishi, n. (waand.), (1) one who serves (waits at table), waiter, house-servant (cf. mtumishi, bot); (2) a writer, clerk, secretary, amanuensis (cf. karani). (Cf. andika, and prec.)

Mwanga, n. (mianga), (1) a light, shining, that which gives light, e.g. mwango wa jua (maa, mtooto), the light of the sun (lamp, fire); (2) fig. (wa-), a very wise, enlightened person; and esp. (3) a wizard, sorcerer, supposed to go about at night, sometimes in the form of a rat, and frighten people; (4) name of a kind of rice. See Mchele. (Cf. anga, and follg.)
MWANGAFU

Mwangafu, n. (waang.), a clever, enlightened, intellectual, bright-witted person. (Cf. anga, -angafu, waangafu, and prec.)

Mwangalizzi, n. (waang.), an overseer, manager, superintendent, director, administrator. (Cf. angalia, and syn. msimamizi.)

Mwangamizi, n. (waang.), one who ruins, a destroyer. (Cf. angamia, maangamizi.)

Mwangaza, n. (miang.), that which makes light, or enlightens, and so (1) light, brightness, clearness, radiance, daylight. Mw. wa alsayirji, the first streaks of dawn, twilight. Wetsa na mw., brightness and light. Mwangaizeni, in broad daylight, in full view. (2) a hole admitting light and air, as in stone houses in Z., an aperture, small window, loophole. Akaona tundu dogo, aona mwangaiza mbali sana, and he saw a little hole, a light-hole a long way off. (3) fig. enlightenment, lucidity, shrewdness, prudence. (4) publicity, making known, showing, advertising, touting. Jambo hili ni katika mwangaiza, this matter is open to all, public property. Nifanyie mwangaiza, nikione kitu hiki, give me a chance of seeing, that I may examine the article. Miangaiza mingi, much showing off (of goods). (5) way of escape, way out of a difficulty, a solution, a bright idea, a ruse, e.g. nyangaza (as from uang.) mbili, mmoja humponya, twofold chance of escape, one saves him. (Cf.anga, and follg.)

Mwangazi, n. (waang.), a clever, shrewd, clear-headed, well-informed person. (Cf. anga, mwangaafu, mwanga, and prec.)

Mwango, n. (miango), (1) a frame hung against a wall to carry a native lamp,—and so, lamp-stand, lamp-holder, lamp-suspending (cf. anga, mwanga); (2) for miango, door (which see).

Mwangu, n. form of -angu agreeing with a locative in ni, e.g. shami ni mwangu, in my estate. See Mu- and -angu.

Mwanguzi, Mwangushi, n. (waang.), one who throws down, or causes to fall, one who overthrows (destroys, &c.). Mw. wa nazi, a professional coconut picker,—also mkwesi, who charges one (or two) pice per tree. (Cf. angua.)

Mwangzi, n. (miangzi), an echo. (Perh. cf. mwanga, wizard, mysterious person.)

*Mwani, n. (miangi), (1) seaweed (in general); (2) an eye-glass. See Miwani. (Ar.)

Mwanya, n. (miangya), a gap, breach, hole, notch, narrow pass, small opening, cleft, crevice. Mw. wa mgwi, a cloven foot. Mw. wa udhuu, a forked beard. Miimwanye mwangya, a hill with a cleft, a double-peaked hill. (Cf. pengo, usfa.)

Mwanzi, n. (miangzi), a bamboo. Hence of other kinds of reed and cane, and things resembling them in appearance or use, e.g. a pipe or tube of any kind, an ear-trumpet, a musical pipe, flageolet, flute, telescope, a stick used for hanging things on. Mwanzi wa pua, the nostril. Kalamu ya mwanzi, a reed pen.

Mwanzo, n. (miango), (1) act (time, method, &c.) of beginning, a start, commencement, first stage; (2) origin, primary principle. (Cf. anza, chanzo, and syn. Ar. asili.)

Mwao, n. (miido), (1) a piece of wood used as a support, prop, or strut (cf. walti). Also (2) trouble, effort, bother (Str.).

Mwao, a. form of -ao, agreeing with a locative in -ni, e.g. njimi mwao, in their town.

*Mwaraabu, n. (Warabu), an Arab. One from the south coast of Arabia is known as Msheheri, from the north, i.e. the Persian Gulf, mshemali. (Ar. Cf. Warabu, kiarabu, mana, Arabunt.)

*Mwariidi, n. (miwariidi), a rose-tree, the flower being wdiridi. (Ar. Cf. wdiridi.)
Mwashi, n. (waashi), a mason, one who builds with stones and mortar. (Cf. aka; uashi, and contr. mjensi.)

Mwashiri, n. (miash.), one of the longitudinal timbers which support the mast (mlingote) in a native vessel. See Mlingote, and Chombo.

*Mwathini, n. (waath.), one who calls Mahomedans to prayer at the mosque at the regular hours, a muezzin. (Ar. Cf. athini, athana.)

Mwavuli, n. (miavuli), an umbrella, sunshade. (Cf. mvuli, uvuli, kivuli, and tapa.)

*Mwawazi, n. (waawazi), disposer of events,—a title of God. (Ar. Cf. awaza.)

Mwayo, n. (miayo), a yawn. Piga mwayo, enda mwayo, yawn.

Mwaza, Mwazii, n. (wawaza), one who thinks (supposes, fancies, &c.). See Waza. (Dist. wawa.)

*Mwazimo, n. (miiaz.), a borrowing, a lending, accommodation, advance, loan. (Cf. azima, v.)

Mweko, n. (miweko), a putting aside (off, down, away, &c.). See Weka, also Mwiko.

*Mwele, n. (waele), a sick person, a bedridden patient, an invalid, a cripple. (Ar. Cf. uwele, and syn. mgonjwa.) (2) (miele), the plant bearing mawele or uwewe, i.e. a kind of millet with an ear of very small edible seed (cf. mawele).

Mweleko, n. (mieleko), used of a leather sling for a gun. (Dist. mbileke, ubeleko.)

Mwelewa, n. (wael.), one who understands, who is intelligent, takes a thing in. (Cf. elea, and folig., and perh. mwerezu, i.e. mwilefu, and syn. mtambuzi, mwangafu, &c.)

Mwelenzo, n. (miel.), explanation, sign, indication, exposition, programme. (Cf. elea, and elezo, and prec. Also syn. mafesamusi.)

Mwembe, n. (miembe), a mango tree, bearing the fruit embe. Mangoes and cocanuts are the commonest trees in Z. Canoes are made from the hollowed trunk of the mango. (See Embe, and dist. umembe, a razor.)

Mwenda, n. (waenda), verbal of enda (which see), one who goes. Nyati ni mwenda pekee, the (Indian) buffalo is a solitary beast. Mwenda nguu, one who despairs. (Cf. nguu.) See Enda.

Mwendeleo, n. (miend.), progress, advance, movement. (Cf. enda, and mwendo.)

Mwendelesi, n. (waend.), one who causes to go on, one who carries on or forward, and so in various senses of endelesa (see Enda). E.g. (1) a persistent, persevering, progressive person; (2) one who copies, one who spells words.

Mwendo, n. (miendo), a going, moving, motion, proceeding, progress, way (manner, style) of going, gait, behaviour, course, &c. E.g. mwendo wa siku tatů, a three days' journey. Vunja mwendo, prevent progress. Mwendo wa jua, the sun's course, orbit. (Cf. enda, mwende, and mwendeleo.)

Mwenea, n. (waenea), one who spreads out (pervades, extends),—esp. as a title of God, as omnipresent, i.e. mwenea pote. (Cf. enea, mwenesi.)

Mwenendo, n. (mienc.), going on, moving, &c., like mwendo, but often fig. proceedings, behaviour, conduct. (Cf. enda, enenda.)

Mwenenzi, n. (waen-), (1) one who measures (surveys, compares, &c.) (cf. enenza); (2) one who goes, a traveller. (Cf. enenda.)

Mweneza, n. (waen-), one who allots (distributes, gives out), esp. as a title of God, the Giver of good to all. (Cf. enea, eneza.)

Mwenge, n. (mienie), a torch, a fire-brand, a wisp of straw or grass for carrying fire or a light.

Mwenyeji, n. (weneji), lit. the regular possessor (cf. -enye, and the formative -ji). Hence (1) master of a house, householder, owner, occu-
Mwezi inchi, the ruler of a country. Mweza mwenyewe, his own master, an independent power. Mweza yote, supreme over all things, Almighty,—a title of God,—also mweza kwetu, ruler of our world. (Cf. mwenyewe.)

Mwezekaji, n. (waez-), a professional thatcher of houses. (Cf. ezeka, and follg.)

Mwezo, n. (miezi), (1) the moon; (2) a month, i.e. a lunar month; (3) menses (also damu, and hethi, which see). (1) Mwezi mkubwa (mpewu, kamili, duara, wa mviringo), full moon. Mwezi mdo go (mchanga, mpya, mwandama), new moon. Mwanga (mvangaza) wa mwezi, moonshine, also mbaamwezi. Mwezi wapasswa wingu, wachimbuka, waleta anga, the moon Pierce the cloud, it bursts forth, it sheds light. (2) Each month begins when the new moon is first seen, or after 30 days from the last new moon. Mwezi mwandamo, mwandamo wa mwezi, new moon, the beginning of the month. M. mpungu fu, a month of 29 days. M. kamili, a full month of 30 days. The month beginning when Ramathani ends is considered the first month, and called Mfunguo mosi, i.e. the first non-fasting month. The next are called (Mfunguo) pili (or wa pili), tatu (wa tatu), &c. to kenda (wa kenda), the ninth month—the remaining three having the Arab names Rajabu, Shabaabi (or Mlisho), Ramathani (mwezi wa Mfungo). The other Arab names are used in letters, and in giving dates, but are not commonly known. The month is divided variously into (1) weeks, or quarters, i.e. four sets of seven days, juma (ma-). Mwezi ni majuma manne, the month is four weeks. But the weeks are reckoned independently of the months, the week and the month not necessarily beginning together. (2) decades, \textit{kumi} (ma-) or \textit{mwongo} (miongo), i.e. three sets of ten days, called

\textit{kumi} la kwanza, la kati, and la kwisha, the days in each being counted as \textit{mwewezi mosi}, the first day of the month, \textit{mwewezi pil}i, the second day, and so on.—also \textit{mwewezi wa mosi}, \textit{wa pil}i, &c. Occasionally \textit{mwewezi mmoja} is used, e.g. \textit{killa}

\textit{mwewezi mmoja} ukiandama, on each succeeding first of the month. \textit{Mwewezi ngapi}, or \textit{siku ya mwewezi ngapi} (or\textit{wa ngapi})? What day of the month is it? (3) halves,—the full moon being the middle point, the first half being called \textit{mwewezi nye}, or \textit{mwanga mkubwa}, the second \textit{mwewezi ndani} (\textit{mchimbu}) or gisa. (4) in letters, documents, agreements, &c. the days are usually reckoned straight on from one to thirty, and are commonly designated by the number only, e.g. \textit{ishirini Shaabani}, the 20th of Shaabani, \textit{mosi Ramathani}, the first of Ramathani. See also \textit{Mwaka}, \textit{Siku}, \textit{Tarihi}.

\textbf{Mwia, n.} (\textit{waivia}), a creditor, one who demands payment of a debt, a dun. (Cf. \textit{wa}, \textit{v}, \textit{waia}, and \textit{mdeni, mkopeshi}.)

\textbf{Mwiba, n.} (\textit{miiba}), (1) any small sharp-pointed thing, e.g. a thorn, prickles, spur, sting, fish-bone, spine, sharp splinter, nail,—defined by context or qualifying word, as \textit{mwiba wa nyuki}, a bee’s sting,

\textit{mw. wa samaki}, \textit{wa nge}, &c. (2) verbal of \textit{iba}, one who steals (cf. follg.)

\textbf{Mwibaji, n.} (\textit{waibaji}), a thievish person, a regular thief. (Cf. \textit{iba}, \textit{mubivi}, and prec.)

\textbf{Mwigia, Mwigaji, n.} (\textit{waiga}, &c.), one who imitates (or, copies), —but commonly, a mocker, mimicker, caricaturist. (Cf. \textit{iga}, and follg.)

\textbf{Mwigo, n.} (\textit{miigo}), (1) imitation, copying; (2) mimicry, mockery, counterfeiter, forgery, caricature (cf. \textit{iga}, and prec.); (3) \textit{waigo}, a large kind of pigeon or dove. (Cf. \textit{njiva}, \textit{hua}.)

\textbf{Mwiko, n.} (\textit{miiko}), (1) a spoon, or instrument resembling it, e.g. a mason’s trowel (cf. \textit{mkamsho, upawo, and kijiko}); (2) something put aside, esp. food left over from a meal, put away from evening to morning, &c., i.e. \textit{chakula cha mwiko}. Also (3) something deliberately abstained from, by order of a doctor, or considerations of health, &c. \textit{M. wa nyama}, abstention from meat. \textit{M. wa vileo}, teetotalism. \textit{Shika m.}, live by rule, diet oneself. \textit{Mshike miiko}, misionane na wake wenu, keep the rules, and do not be seen by your wives. (Perh. cf. \textit{weka}, at least for (2), and for the change of consonant cf. \textit{tweka, twika}.)

\textbf{Mwili, n.} (\textit{miili}), a body, human or animal, and usually a living body, a whole body, including head and limbs. Also the trunk of the body, without the head. (Cf. \textit{kwiliwili}, esp. of the trunk only, without head or limbs, and \textit{maiti, pinda}, of dead bodies. Obs. \textit{m-wili} is a possible form of \textit{-wili}, twofold, double, two, and so perch. of the body as characterized by pairs of limbs and symmetrical sides.)

\textbf{Mwima, n.} (\textit{waima}), one who stands erect (or, stands still). (Sel-dom in Z. Cf. \textit{ima}.)

\textbf{Mwimbaji, n.} (\textit{waibmb.}), a singer, songster, chorister. (Cf. \textit{imba}, and follg.)

\textbf{Mwimbishi, n.} (\textit{waimb.}), one who teaches, or leads singing, a singing master, a conductor. (Cf. \textit{imba}, and prec.)

\textbf{Mwimo, n.} (\textit{miimo}), an upright or side-piece of a door-frame. (See \textit{Mlango}, and cf. \textit{ima}.)

\textbf{Mwinamishi, n.} (\textit{waain.}), one who causes to bend (stoop). (Cf. \textit{inama}, and follg.)

\textbf{Mwinamo, n.} (\textit{miin.}), a stooping, a bending down. (Cf. \textit{inama}, and prec.)

\textbf{Mwinda, Mwindaji, n.} (\textit{wa-} winda), a huntsman, one who hunts, of any kind of game. (Cf. winda, mwinzi, windo, and syn. saka.)
MWONYI

Mwinyi, n. used as a title. See Mwenyi.

Mwinzi, n. (wa winzi), sometimes used for mwinda, mwinda i s (which see, and cf. winda).

Mwihyo, n. (mi isho), act (time, place, manner, means) of ending, bringing to an end, end, result, conclusion, final step, extreme limit, consumption, annihilation, death. Often as adv., finally, last (cf. hatima). -a mwisho, final, last, extreme. (Cf. isha, and syn. ujono, upao, mpaka, and contr. mwanzo.)

*Mwislamu, n. (Waislamu), a Mahomedan. Also Mwslimu, Mwaslimu (which see).

Mwita, Mwitaji, n. (wa ita), one who calls (summons, invites). (Cf. ita, and alika.)

Mwito, n. (mi ito), act (time, manner, &c.) of calling, a summons, an invitation, a call. Akataaye mwito, kukata a iti tewa, he who declines a call, declines what he is called for. (Cf. ita, and prec.)

Mwitu, n. (—, and mi itu), forest, implying large trees and close together. Mwitu mmena, a thick, dense forest. -a mwitu, wild, savage, untamed. Nyama ya mwitu, a wild animal. Gigu mwitu, a weed. (Cf. m situ, thick underwood, jungle, nyika, open grassy forest sparsely covered with trees, also poli, pululu.)

Mwivi, n. (wevi), Mwizi (wevi), a thief, robber, kidnapper, swindler. Mwivi hushiku na mwivi mwe nziwe, a thief is caught by his fellow-thief. (Cf. iba, mwibaji, uzi, and syn. mnyang'ani, mkopi, pakaka, mlungula.)

Mwoga, n. (woga), (1) a coward, a timid person (cf. oga, ogopa, and syn. mhofu; (2) a bather (from oga, bathe, cf. osha).

MWONGO

Mwogofyo, n. (mi go), threatening, denunciation. (Cf. ogofya.)

Mwoko, n. (mi ko), act (process, &c.) of baking, roasting. (Cf. oga, joko.)

Mwokotaji, n. (wa ko), and Mwokozi, one who picks up, one who finds by chance. (Cf. okota.)

Mwokoz, n. (wa ko), one who saves, a saviour, rescuer, preserver, deliverer. (Cf. oka, wokovu.)

Mwomba, n. (waomba), one who asks (begs, prays)—verbal of omba, governing a noun following. M. pesa, one who asks for money. M. dua, one who makes a special petition. M. Muungu, a man of prayer, a devout person. (Cf. omba, and follg.)

Mwombaji, n. (waombi), a beggar, a professional beggar, a mendicant. (Cf. omba, mwomba, mwombi, and follg.)

Mwombezi, n. (waombi), one who begs on behalf of (or, against) another, an intercessor, pleader, advocate,—also, opponent. (Cf. omba, and follg.)

Mwombi, n. (waombi), one who makes a petition (or, prayer), a petitioner, a suppliant. (Cf. omba, muomba, mwombaji.)

Mwomo, n. (mi m o), lip,—for usual mdomo (which see).

Mwongezi, n. (wa ong), also Mwongoa, one who talks (gossips, passes the time, amuses, &c.). Mwongezi haongetzwini, one who amuses is not amused. (Cf. ongea.)

Mwongo, n. (waongo), a liar, impostor, inventor of falsehoods, deceiver, perverter of truth. (Cf. wongo, -ongo, and dist. follg.)

Mwongo, n. (mi ongo), (1) number, reckoning, rank. Usually in plur. hamo katika mi ongo yao, he is not one of them, and in the phrase mi ongoni mwa, used prepositionally, among the number of, on the side of, from among; (2) a period of time, esp. a decade, sometimes used as a division of the Swahili month. (See Mwezi, and syn. kumi. Dist. prec.)

Mwongofu, n. (waong.), one who is directed, guided, instructed, put in the right way,—and so in religion, i.e. mwongofu wa dini, a convert, a proselyte. Mwongofu wa kazi, a proficient in an art, a good workman. (Cf. ongoa, wongofo, and follg.)

Mwongizi, n. (waong.), also Mwongishi, one who shows the right way (guides, leads), and so, a skilled workman who can show others how to work (cf. fundi), or a guide, pilot (cf. the usual kiongosi). (Cf. ongoa.)

Mwonjo, n. (mionjo), a tasting, a trial. (Cf. onja.)

Mwosha, n. (waosha), also Moshia, (1) one who washes,—in general, but also (2) esp. of one who is engaged to wash a corpse, and prepare it for burial, an undertaker,—sometimes one of three, who each take a part. Mwosha naye huoshwa, the washer of corpses is himself one day a corpse. (Cf. osha, osa, and also fua, dobi.)

Mwoshoo, n. (miosho), act (place, manner, &c.) of washing. (Cf. osha, jishe, and prec.)

Mwozi, n. (waoszi), one who has to do with marrying or causing to marry,—whether bridegroom, parent, or official. (Cf. osa, osa, maozi, &c.)

Mwua, n. (wausa), also Mua, verbal of sa, one who kills, murders, puts to death.

Mwuaji, n. (wauijaji), also Muaaji, a slayer, murderer, assassin, destroyer of life. (Cf. sa, wauijaji, and prec. Also mehinjaji, mjeshaji.)

Mwuguzi, n. (waug.), one who tends or has the care of the sick, medical attendant, nurse. (Cf. uguna, and syn. mlezi.)

Mwujiza, n. (miuij.), anything wonderful, extraordinary, supernatural, a wonder, a surprise, a miracle. (Cf. syn. ajabi, mzungu, shani, and perh. kioja.)

Mwumba, n. (waumb.), also Muumba, one who creates, esp. the Creator of all things,—God. Mwumba ndiye Mwumbua, the Maker is the Destroyer. (Cf. umba, Mwumba, and follg.)

Mwumbaji, n. (waumb.), one who creates, usually of God only, the Creator. (Cf. umba, and prec.)

*Mwumini, n. (waumini), a believer, i.e. a Mahomedan. (Ar. Cf. amini, mmunina.)

Mwumishi, n. (waum.), a professional cupper. (Cf. umika.)

Mwumizi, n. (waum.), one who hurts, causes pain. (Cf. uma, umizi.)

Mwunda, n. (wa-), one who constructs, esp. of woodwork. Also mwundi (wa chombo, &c.), a shipwright, who does the work. Mwundisha, the person who orders, arranges, or contracts for the work. Mwunditwa, the person to whose order or for whose trade the work is done. (Cf. unda, mwunzi.)

Mwungama, n. (waung.), one who acknowledges (admits, confesses) wrongdoing. Used as a title of Mahomed. (Cf. ungama.)

Mwungamishi, n. (waung.), one who invites (receives, extorts) confession, &c. (Cf. ungama.)

Mwungamo, n. (miung.), (1) acknowledgement of obligation, confession, admission of guilt (cf. ungama, and prec.); (2) a plant, which produces ungamo, a yellow dye for matting. (Cf. manjano.)

Mwungo, n. (miungo), also Mungo, a joining together, a joint, e.g. mwungo wa kufili, to describe a dovetail joint, lit. a lock-joining. (Cf. unga v., and the more usual ungo, kinugo.)

Mwunzi, n. (waunzi), also Mwunda, Mwundi, one who constructs (frames, builds), esp. of a carpenter's and shipwright's work. Mwunzi wa chombo, a shipbuilder. (Cf. unda, and see Mwunda.)

Mwunzi, n. usually in the plur., i.e. miunzi, whistling (which see).
MWUZA

Mwusa, n. (wauza), verbal of usa, one who sells. Mwusa nguo, a draper. Mwusa samaki, a fishmonger, &c. Also mwooza, a professional seller, a dealer, a salesman. Contr. mnunuzi, a buyer, a customer. (Cf. usa.)

Mkaa, n. (wa-), verbal of zaa, governing the word following, one who begets, or gives birth to. Mzaa bibi, great-grandmother. (Cf. zaa, mzazi, kizazi, msao.)

Mzabibu, n. (mi-), a vine,—the fruit being zabibu. Tawil la mz, a bunch of grapes. (Ar. zabib, raisin.)

Mzabuni, n. (wa-), a buyer, a bidder at a sale. (Ar. Cf. zabuni, and the common B. syn. mnunuzi.)

Mzaha, n. (mi-), fun, joke, ridicule, derision. Fanya m, do in fun. Fanyizia m, make fun of. (Ar. Cf. thihaka, ubishi, mchezo.)

Mzalia, Mzalishi, n. (wa-), with Ps. sense, one born at (or, in a place), a native (of a given spot), and esp. a home-born slave, one born in the house or country of his master. Such slaves rank above the raw slave (mjinga) from the interior. (Cf. zaa, and follg., and see Mtumwa.)

Mzalisha, Mzalishi, n. (wa-), a midwife. (Cf. zaa, and prec.)

Mzaliwa, n. (wa-), one born (at), e.g. mzaliwa huko (or, wa huko), one born there, a native.

Mzama, n. (wa-), verbal of sama, one who sinks, or dives in water. Also Mzamaji (wa-), a diver, but commonly mzamia (hulu), one who dives for (pearls). (Cf. sama, and mzamishi.)

Mzambarau, n. (mi-), a kind of Eugenia, a large fruit-tree, bearing a kind of damson or sloe, zambarau.

Mzamishi, n. (wa-), one who employs divers. Also Mzamisho, causing to sink, plunging in water, employment of divers. (Cf. sama, samisha, and msama.)

Mzamo, n. (mi-), diving, plunging (in liquid), drowning. (Cf. prec., and sama.)

MZIMA

Mzandiki, n. (wa-), a hypocrite, liar. (Ar. Cf. mufiki, mwoongo.)

Mzao, n. (wa-), child, offspring, descendant. (Cf. zaa, msazi. Perh. for mzawo.)

Mzawa, n. Ps. verbal of saa,—see Mzaliwa, which is the form commonly used.

Mzazi, n. (wa-), one who begets, or bears offspring, a parent (male or female). Used also of (1) a woman recently delivered, and (2) a prolific parent. (Cf. zaa, and -sazi, usazi, kizasi.)

Mzee, n. (wa-), (1) an old person, an elder, (2) a parent, (3) an ancestor. Mzee mmoja mzee sana, one old man was very old. An old woman is usually kizee. (Cf. perh. zaa, also sze, kizee.)

Mzibo, n. (mi-), (1) a stopping up, closing a hole (path, passage, &c.), a plug, a stopper, bung, &c. Also (2) fig. a check, a stop, a dead-lock. (Cf. ziba, kizibo.)

Mzigo, n. (mi-), a load, a burden,—esp. of such a load as a caravan porter (mpagazi) carries on his head in East Africa, i.e. about 60 lb. weight. Also fig. of a sorrow, bereavement, infirmity. Mzigoya kuti-futa, odd jobs of porterage. Twaika m, shoulder a load (i.e. usually, place on the head). Tua (panga) m, lay down a load. Fungu mzigo, prepare for a journey, pack, make preparations (for any undertaking). Bwaga m, throw a load on the ground. (Cf. mtumba, mpagazi.)

Mziko, n. (mi-), act (manner, &c.) of burial. (Cf. sika, and the more usual masiko.)

Mzima, n. (wa-), (1) a person in good health, in sound condition of mind and body, whole; (2) a fully grown person, an adult. (Cf. sima, a. Msima is also verbal n. from sima, v., one who extinguishes, puts out (a light, fire, &c.).)
MZIMU

Mzimu, n. (mi-), a native place of worship, i.e. where offerings and prayers are made to spirits, whether of ancestors or others. In Z. it is usually a rock, cave, tree, or ruin, and the offerings are rags of calico, cooking pots, and occasionally small coin. *Peleka kitu mizimuni, go and make an offering. (Cf. kuzimu, the state after death, the world of disembodied spirits, death (as a state), the grave. Also zimu, a spirit, ghost, demon, and wazimu, madness, lit. spirits. Perh. also cf. zimu, zimua, zimuka, meaning ‘to become cold, be extinguished, put out.’ Contr. the m of mzimu of ‘place within which,’ with the more general ku of kuzimu, the whole environment, general condition.)

Msiminduko, n. (mi-), (1) opening ceremony, inauguration; (2) awakening suddenly from sleep. (Cf. zinduka.)

Mzinga, n. (mi-), anything of a cylindrical shape,—a round hollowed log, a native beehive (usually a hollowed section of a tree, and fixed in a tree), a cannon (from its shape). *Piga mzinga, fire a cannon. Mzinga ya salaam, a salute (by cannon). (Cf. zinga, mzinga, zunguka, &c.)

Mzingile, n. (mi-). Mzingile mwambiji, a labyrinth, a maze, a puzzle *(Str.). (Cf. zinga, and follg.)

Mzingo, n. (mi-), in general, a rounding, curving, bending, and so used to denote (1) circuit, bend, winding (e.g. of a river), turn; (2) working on a curve, making a bevel, making a round mat or basket; (3) circumference, distance round; (4) environment, neighbourhood, margin of a pool or stream, what is around one. Hence used prepositionally, mzingo wa, around, on all sides of. —a mzingo, around, enclosing, surrounding. *Shona mzingo, sew in a curve. *Mzingo ni mzunguko wa mviringo, mzingo means going round in a circle. (Cf. zinga, mzinga, zunguka.)

*Msinzi, n. (wa-), an adulterer, a fornicator, a debauchee. (Ar. Cf. zini, uzini, zinifa.)

Mzishi, n. (wa-), one who has to do with a burial, and so (1) an undertaker, who manages it, or grave-digger; (2) a friend who attends it, esp. a trusted, intimate, bosom friend, as being relied on for securing decent burial. (Cf. zika, mazishi.)

Mzizi, n. (mi-), (1) a root, rootlet, i.e. kishina kidogo cha mtini chini, the small root-fibres of a tree beneath the ground; (2) perh. from the use of roots in native medicine, ‘a doctor’s prescription, dose, medicine,’ described according to the way it is to be used, e.g. wa kuchoma, to be heated; wa kusaga, to be pulverized; wa kuchanja, for inoculation; wa kutafuna, to be chewed; wa kuchemsha, to be boiled, &c. (Cf. mwikе and shina.)

Mzizimizi, n. (wa-), one who sinks, goes to the bottom, disappears suddenly and completely. Hence, an adventurer, stranger, swindler, who suddenly vanishes leaving no traces. (Cf. zizimia.)

Mzo, n. (mizo)—also Mso, a measure of weight or dry measure, viz. 10 frasila, or 60 pishi, i.e. about 350-360 lb.—equivalent to jisla. (Ar.)

Mzoea, n. (wa-), verbal of zoea, one who is used, accustomed (to), practised (in), familiar (with). *Mimi mzoea sana naye, I am on quite familiar terms with him. (Cf. zoea, -zoefu.)

Mzofafa, adv. on tiptoe, with a strut, proudly. (Ar. zaf,—for mzaafaf.)

Mzoga, n. (mi-), carcass, dead body, carrion,—not usually of a human body, corpse, i.e. maiti. (Cf. mwili, pinda.)

*Mzomari, n. a kind of scent, MZOME O

N.

N represents the same sound as in English. This sound involves more difficulties than any other in learning Swahili,—its grammatical function, together with its peculiar phonetic affinities, producing the only forms of words which can be called exceptional or irregular.

It may be considered A. as a sound, B. as a formative prefix.

A. The sound n is either (1) purely consonantal, or (2) semi-vocal.

(1) As a pure consonant, n can be combined with any vowel, but only five consonants, viz. d, g, j, y, and z, e.g. ndio, ngoja, njaa, nyumba, nzuri.

When its function as a prefix (see below) would require its use in combination with other consonants, the effect is as follows:—

Before b, n becomes m, e.g. mbaya for nbaya.

Before w, n becomes m, but the w following is also changed into b, e.g. mbili for nwili, mbingu for nwingu.

Before r (or its convertible sound l), n is retained, but the r (or l) is changed into d, e.g. ndefu for nrefu, ndimi, plur. of ulimi. Cf. also nd, in words like ndume, ndoa, ndoto, &c. (perh. indicating a lost l in the root).

Before k, p, t, n is represented, if at all, by giving an explosive force to those consonants, e.g. pepo as the plur. of upepo.

Before ch, f, h, m, s, and v, n does not appear, i.e. cannot be pronounced as a pure consonant.

(2) As a semi-vowel, or semi-independent syllable, n is limited, with few exceptions, to use before g, ch, j, z, d, t, s or another n. Thus it sometimes represents the prefix ni in verbs, as in nnapenda, ntakwenda, for nnapenda, ntakwenda, and appears in the words nge, nje, nta, ncha, -ngi, -ngine, -mso, -nzi, nne,—in which inclines to the sound of in, especially in the dialect of Zanzibar and in the words-ingine,-ingi, inzi. This faintly vocalized use of n is sometimes indicated by writing it 'n or n', and accounts for the sound ny- which it often assumes before vowels, e.g. nyumba, nyekundu, nyingi.

(For further remarks on the n sound, see Ny-, Ng', Nyana, and Njoo.)

B. As a prefix, n is

1. In verbs a shortened form of ni, i.e. the Pers. Pfx. subjective and objective of the 1 Pers. S. mnapenda, I love, amenita, he has called me. Cf. also ndi (for ni) in ndio, ndiwe, &c. See Ndi-, and obs. the irreg. Imperat. n-joo, from ja.

2. In nouns, n or ny- (before a vowel) is a common initial of D 6 and the Plur. Pfx. characteristic of D 4, with various euphonic variants (see above).

3. In adjectives, n or ny- is the Pfx. agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6, subject to the euphonic limitations given above, and excluding the pronominal and a few other adjectives. Obs. however, the two common irregular forms nyema (and ngema) for nyema, and ṇỵa (for the inadmissible monosyllable p̣ya), also nd for n- (ny-) in ndoto, ndume, ndoa, ndio, ndui, and nduma, as plur. of uma (perh. to characterize the n as prefix, and not part of the root).

Na is a B. particle, used as a conj., prep., and with a verbal signification, with the general idea of connexion, association, or the opposites. Like kwa and katika it is one of the commonest particles in Swahili.

1. As a conjunction. (a) na, simply connective, 'and,' but connective mainly of nouns, pronouns, or their equivalents, not commonly of sentences, or adjectives, which in Swahili usually follow each other without a separate connective particle, e.g. mimi na weve, I and you, baba na mama, father and mother; e.g. wapikeni na nyama wapeni wale washibe walale, cook for them, and give them meat, so that they may eat and be satisfied, and go to sleep. (The common connectives of paragraphs are hatta and bassi.) Even when beginning a paragraph, na is as a rule in close connexion with a noun. When used to connect two verbs, when the verbs are quite distinct in mood, tense, &c., e.g. omba, na utapewa, ask and you will receive, &c., the latter verb is commonly in the Infinitive (i.e. noun) form, the force of the inflections of the first verb, mood, tense, person, &c., being, however, carried on to the second, e.g. moyo wangu waniambia, Soma na kusali, my heart says to me, Read and pray. Even when connecting two adjectival ideas, the second is often in noun form, e.g. inchi kubwa na uzuri, an extensive and beautiful country,—otherwise inchi kubwa nsuri. (b) na qualifies, and corrects, 'and yet, withal, even,—connexion suggesting some difference,—whether with nouns or verbs. Na tongoje bassi, let us even wait then. Akala na ngurwe, he ate even pork. Na is thus commonly used with pronouns, after a verb, with an idiomatic force qualifying the verb rather than the pronoun, e.g. njoo nawe, do come along, I wish you would come, lit. come even you. Atakaja naye, he is sure to come, lit. even he will come. Kafa naye, he is actually dead.

2. As a preposition, the main idea of na is connexion or association, i.e. 'with,' whether in thought, place, or time, but is inclusive of many correlative ideas, e.g. disconnexion, distance as well as nearness, reciprocation, separation as well as union, subtraction as well as addition, i.e. 'from' as well as 'with, by, to.' E.g. alkivenda na baba yake, he went with his father (also, 'he went and (so did) his father,' or 'his father went also,' or ‘even his father went’). Thus (a) na is the characteristic preposition of the Agent with a passive verb, alitokwa na adui, he was killed by his enemy,—the instrument being denoted by kwa. But na may be used of any active force, and also of the instrument. Alishikwa na homa, he was seized with fever. Alipigwana fimbo, he was beaten with a stick,—also kwa fimbo, or fimbo alone. Also in other passive constructions, e.g. alitokwa na damu, he bled. (b) na is used with adjectives and adverbs in consonance with its main idea, e.g. sawa na, equal to; mbali na (or ya), distant from, different from; karibu na (or ya), near to; pamoja na, together with. (c) na is frequently connected with the Rd. form of verbs (which appears to be formed with it), shindana na, contend with, agana na, take leave of, tenga na, be divided from, achana na, depart from.

3. Na has a very common and important use in connexion, and in combination, with the verb -wa, be, and those other forms, including the person-prefixes, which are regularly used with the meaning of -wa (see -wa), especially li with the relative, and the person-prefixes, ni, u, a, o, i, li, zi, ma, ya, pa, ku, &c. With all these na is used (and too commonly to need illustration) to express (a) having, (b) being, existing. Thus (a) -wa na, &c., have, lit. be with, e.g. alikuwa na mali, he had property. Kitabu alicho nacho, the book which he has. Sina nguvu, I have no strength. Yuna afya? anayo, Has he health? he has (it). (b) -wa na, be, exist. Palikuwa na mtu, there was a man. *Kuna nini? What is there? What is the matter? Hakuna kitu, there is nothing. In some negative phrases na seems to lose all trace of its connective meaning and prepositional force, and to represent itself the force of a verb, e.g. hakuna, there is not. (Kuna (ina, pana, &c.), ‘there-is,’ is not used alone, but with a noun or pronoun following, or another element in combination, e.g. kunako, sinazo.) In all uses na is very commonly compounded with the pronouns (nami, nawe, nye, nasii, &c.), and with the relative forms of other prefixes (e.g. nayo, nalo, nazo, napo, nako, &c.).

- na, as a tense-prefix, is the sign of the Pres. Indef., e.g. anakuja, he is coming. The forms of this tense are constantly used in the sense of the Pres. Partic. (as the forms of the me tense are for the Past Partic.), e.g. akamwona anakuja, he saw him coming. (For -na combined with person-prefixes, e.g. nina, zina, hamna, kuna, &c.; see Na, 3.)

Naam, a common affirmative particle, Yes, Certainly, I understand, It is so. (Ar. Cf. neema, and syn. ndio, vema, a-hee.)

Nabii, n. (ma), a prophet, a preacher of righteousness, one who foretells the future. Used of Adam, Noah, Abraham, Jesus Christ, and others, as well as of Mahomet. (Ar. Cf. bashiri, tabiri.)

Nadi, v. (1) call, summon, announce publicly, proclaim. Mnada wa Sultani unanadiwa, the Sultan’s proclamation is being made. Akotokea Bilali akanadiwa kusali, Bilali appeared and called to prayers. (2) hold a sale (or public auction). Watu wananadi vitu kwa makelele, people are having a noisy sale. Mtu anadiye nguo, a man who sells clothes by auction. (Ar. Cf. mnada, mnadi, and dalali.)

Nafaka, n. corn, grain,—in general, including rice, maize, millet, &c. (Ar.)

Nafasi, n. (1) breathing time, space, room, opportunity, leisure, relief, spare time; (2) means, money, wealth. Sina nafasi, I have no time, I am too busy. (Ar. Cf. nafsi, nafusi, and syn. pumuzi, pumuzika.)
*Naftsi, v. usually nafisisha, accommodate with money, relieve, put in easy circumstances. Rf. ji-nafisisha, make oneself comfortable. Nt. nafisika, get out of poverty, become well off, be relieved. (Ar. Cf. prec. and tanafusi.)

*Nafsi, n. (—), also Nafusi, vital spirit, breath, soul, self, person, individuality, essence. Generally used to emphasize personality, e.g. mimi nafsi yangu (or bi nafsi yangu), I myself. Wakachukizwa nafasi zoa, they were deeply offended. (Ar. Cf. nafasi.)

*Nafuu, n. (—), profit, advantage, gain, progress, equipment, assistance, e.g. in money or food, for a journey; esp. of improvement in health, convalescence. Amepata nafuu, he has got better (like hajambo). (Ar. Cf. syn. risiki, wifaa, faidi.)

*Nahau, n. (—), explanation, unfolding of meaning, and so (1) grammar, syntax; (2) excuse, quibble, subterfuge. N. ya maneno, an evasive statement. Killa neno lina n. yake, every word has its meaning. (Ar. for the more common maana, tafsiri, elezo. Also for 'grammer, cf. sarufi.)

*Nahotha, n. (ma-), also Nahotha, Nahoza, captain,—of a vessel. (Ar.)

*Najisi, -najisi, a. unclean, dirty, impure, profane. — v. also Najisisha, defile, contaminate, pollute, profane. (Ar. Cf. unajisi, chafua, and syn. B. -chafu, -a tabataka.)

*Nakawa, a. clear, good-looking, in sound condition, of fine quality,— of persons and things. Pembe n., good sound ivory. Mtumwa mwema n., a fine good-looking slave. (Ar. Cf. -ema, -sima, -zuri.)

Nako, for na huko, and there.

*Nakshi, n. and Nakishi, carving, carved ornament, fine chisel-work, engraving,—and used of any ornamentation of similar appearance, e.g. embroidery, painting. Pigia (kata) nakshi, carve, adorn with carving (embroidery, &c.). — v. carve, adorn with carving, &c. Ps. naki-shiwa. Ap. nakish-ia, -iwa. (Ar. Cf. chora, pamba.)

*Nakudi, n. cash, ready money, a trifle. Nunua kwa nakudi, buy off-hand, buy on the spot, i.e. mkono kwa mkono. (Ar. Cf. sarifu.)

*Nakulu, n. See Nakili.

Nama, v. bend down. See Inama.

*Nombara, n. a (single) number, e.g. the number which marks an object, person, &c. (Eng. number.) Nami, for na mimi, and I, even me. See Na.

*Namna, n. (—), also Namuna, (1) example, sample, pattern, model, sort, kind; (2) special sort, perfect example, model, a rarity, choice article. Wataka namna gani? What sort do you want? Nguo hii ya namna, this calico is the best. (Hind. Cf. Ar. ginsi, aima.)

Namua, v. draw away, disengage, get out of a difficulty, take out of a trap, set free. (Not common in Z.)

*Nana, n. and Nanaa, mint. (Ar.)

*Nanasi, n. (ma-), pine-apple, the fruit of the mnanasi. Common in Zanzibar, in two principal varieties. Yields a fibre, used as string. (Ar. Unanasi.)

Nane, -nane, n. and a., eight. —a nane, eighth. (Cf. Ar. themani, which is rarely used, and perh. nne, four.)

Nanga, n. an anchor,—properly, of the four-fluked pattern commonly used,—a European two-fluked anchor.
being baura. Tia (puliza) nanga, cast (let go) anchor. Ng’oa nanga, weigh anchor. (Cf. baura, kombe, fluke, also amari, cable.)

Nao, for na hao, or na wao, and these, and they. Napo, for na hapo, and there. (See Na.)

*Nasaba, n. pedigree, genealogy, lineage. (Arab.)

*Nasibu, n. chance, fortune, luck, accident. Kwa nasibu, accidentally, not on purpose, by chance. (Ar. Cf. bahati.)

Nasihati, v. give good advice (to), counsel wisely. Also n. a sincere friend, faithful counsellor, wise adviser. (Ar. Cf. mshauri.)

Nata, v. be sticky, adhere, stick. Utomvu wafenessi wanata sana, the sap of the jack-fruit is very sticky. Ap. natana, stick together. (Cf. ambata, ganda.)

*Nathari, n. (1) look, glance; (2) attention, consideration; (3) choice, discretion, judgement. Nathari yako (or, kwako), it is for you to choose. Sina n., I have no choice. (Ar. Cf. hitiari.)

*Nathifu, a. also Nadifu, clean, neat, well-kept. Nyumba yake nathifu sana, his house was in very good order. (Ar. Cf. safi, safidi.)

*Nathiri, n. vow, solemn promise, dedication of something to God. Weka n., make a vow. Ondoa n., fulfil (perform) a vow. (Ar.)

*Nauli, n. fare, charge for freight (or, conveyance), passage-money. Also v. hire, pay fare for passage (carriage, &c.). Cs. naulisha, let for freight (carriage, conveyance), charter, be a ship’s broker. (Ar.)

Nawa, v. wash ceremonially, perform ablutions, according to the prescribed Mahommedan custom, esp. wash the hands and face,—tawasa being used of the feet, chamba of other parts of the body. Sometimes nawa mikono (uso, miguu). Ps. nawiwa. Nt. nawika. Ap. nawi-ia, wash with (at, by, &c.). Maji ya kunawia, water for ablutions. Cs. nawiwa, e.g. nawiwa watu mikono, i.e. bring people water to wash with. (Cf. also oga, fiaa, and tohara.)

Naye, for na yeye, and he, even him. Mjinga ni mu naye, a fool is after all a fellow man. (See Na.)

Nazi, n. (—), the ripe fruit of the cocoanut-palm (mnazi), which is very plentiful in Z. (as well as the neighbouring islands and coast) and one of the most important commercial products. Nazi is the most general descriptive name, but seven stages in its development are distinguished under the names (which see): (1) upunga, the first forming of the fruit on the flower stem; (2) kitale, a young nut; (3) kidaka, half-grown; (4) dafu, full-grown and full of milk (maji), also cf. urambambe, and tonga; (5) koroma, when the milk is decreasing, and nutty part forming; (6) nazi, fully ripe, no milk, and nut hardening; (7) nazi kavu, the nutty part dry and separating from the shell. Cf. mbata. Also joya, a nut full of a white spongy nut-substance; kisimwi, without milk or nut; makumbi, the fibrous husk; kisfu, the inner hard shell (dist. kisfu, a stake used for ripping off the husk); usfuu, the nutty part inside it; kisio, half a nut (when broken in two). As a rule, nazi only are gathered, i.e. fully ripe fruit, and the nutty part used for cooking (cf. tui, chicha, mbugu) or dried and sold as copra. Mafuta ya nazi, cocoanut oil. Prov. nazi mbou harabu ya nzima, a bad cocoanut.
Ncha, n. (—), also Incha, tip, point, end, extremity, e. g. of a knife, branch, cord, &c. Hakuna refu lisiło ncha, nothing so long that it has no end. Habari ya uwongo ina ncha saba, a false story has seven endings, i.e. can be told in many ways. (Cf. kikomo, mwisho, mpaka, and dist. nta, wax.)

Nchi, n. See Inchi.

Nd-, as an initial sound, cf. N. (See N, A (1), and Ndii-)

Ndama, n. (—), the young of cattle, esp. a calf, but also distinguished as ndama ya ng’ombe, calf; nd. ya mbusi, kid; nd. ya kondoo, lamb. (Cf. nyama, mtamba.)

Ndara, n. (—), a plain leather sandal. (Cf. kiatu, makubazi.)

Ndefu, (1) a. form of -refu, long,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6; (2) n. See Ndevu.

Ndege, n. (—), (1) a bird; (2) an omen. N. zaanga, birds of the air. N. njema (mbaya), a good (bad) omen. N. akaruka juu, the bird flew upward. Tusintilie n., do not let us obstruct him (by anything which might be a bad omen). Dim. kidege. (Cf. nyuni, rarely heard in Z.)

Ndevu, n. plur. of ndevu, the hair of the face, beard, whiskers. Also ndevu za mashavuni, whiskers. Ndevu za ndomo wa juu (wa chini), moustache (imperial). (Cf. kidewu, ndevu, sharabu, and perh.-refu.)

Ndewe, n. (—), a hole pierced in the lobe of the ear, i.e. ndewe ya sikio, to hold an ornament, sometimes of great size. (Cf. toja.)

Ndezi, n. name of a kind of rat. Ndi- is used as a pf. of emphasis (perh. a strengthened and so emphatic form of ni, and see also N), in combination with (1) personal pronouns, ndimi (for ni mimi), ndiwe, ndiye, ndiswi, ndinyi, ndio, i.e. it is I, yes I, yes me, &c. (2) with the demonstratives ending in -o, i.e. ndio (ni wao), ndiyo (ni hiyo), ndizo (ni hizo), &c., it is they, that is it, &c., and the adverbs of the same form, ndiko, ndipo, ndimo, there, it is there. Ndiko atokako, that is where he comes from. Often strengthened by repeating the demonstrative after it, ndiyo hiyo, it is just so, exactly so. Ndiyo hiyo, that is the very thing. Ndiö is constantly in use as a simple affirmative, 'yes, it is so' (cf. naami). (Cf. n, A. (1), nd-, and perhaps the irregular form njoo, Imperat. of ja, come.)

Ndifu, n. (—), also Kidifu, and Kilifu (which see). (Perh. a plur. n. from ulifu, i.e. nlifu, ndifu.)

Ndilo, emphat. for ni hilo, that is it. See Ndii-.

Ndimi, (1) plur. of ulimi, a tongue; (2) emphat. for ni mimi, it it I. See Ndii-.

Ndimo, emphat. for ni humo, it is in there. (Cf. prec.)

Ndimu, n. (—), and sometimes Dimu, a lime, the fruit of the lime-tree, mndimu, ndimu. There are at least two varieties in Z., ndimu kalti, the bitter lime, ndimu tanu, the sweet lime. (For kindred varieties see Mchungwa.)

Ndio, Ndipo, Ndiswi, Ndinyi, Ndiyo, &c. See Ndii-. Ndio is one of the commonest forms of simple affirmation, 'yes, it is so.' (Cf. Ar. naam.)

Ndizi, n. (—), banana, plantain, the fruit of the mgomba. The fruit stalk with the whole head of fruit is called mkungu, a cluster or bunch-let on it chana (tana), a single fruit dole. There are many varieties in Z.,—green, yellow, and deep red, known as kisukari,kipukusa,mzuzu, mchenga, mkono wa tembo, bungala, paka, kiguruwe, kizungu, &c.

Ndoa, n. (—), marrying, marriage,—often treated as a plur. noun, ndoa zangu, my marriage. (Cf. o.a., maazi, and for the form ndoto, ndume, and see Nd-. Also cf. harusi, nikaha.)

Ndofu, n. (—, and wa-), also Ndovu, an elephant. (Rarely in Z., where tembo is used.)

Ndole, Ndomo, n. plur. of udole, uomo (i.e. ulomo). See Kidole, Mdomo.

Ndonya, n. (—), ring or round ornament worn in the upper lip, esp. by women from Nyasaland (where it is also called pelele).

Ndoto, n. (—), a dream, dreaming. (Cf. ota.)

Ndugu, n. (—), brother, sister, cousin, relation, fellow - tribesman (-citizen, -countryman). Further defined as n. mume, brother, n. mke, sister. N. baba mmoja mama mmoja, full brother, with the same father and mother. N. tumbo moja, brother with the same mother, half-brother (at least). N. kunyonya, foster-brother. Donda n., a malignant kind of ulcer. (Cf. udugu, kidugu, and umbu, ntani, jamaa.)

Ndui, n. plur. small-pox (ndui, a single pustule). (Perh. from na, cf. nduli, from its fatal effects.)

Nduli, n. and a., a savage person, a killer, murderous, blood-shedding.

Ndume, n. and a., a plur. form from uume (i.e. ulume), used as both sing. and plur.,(1) a male animal, as contr. with man; (2) a man, in respect of manly character and qualities, rather than of sex or individuality. Punda ndume, a male ass. Bata ndume, a drake. Askari ndume bora, warlike heroes. N'dume za mpunga, hard grains of rice which resist pounding. (Cf. -ume, and opp. jike.)

Ndumiko, n. cupping instrument, usually a horn, i.e. pembe ya kumikia, with which the cupping is done. (Cf. umika, and chuku.)

*Neema, n. (1) ease, affluence, comfort; (2) bounty, favour, help, grace. Esp. of providential blessings, plenty, a good harvest, abundance of food. Inchi ile ina neema nyingi, that is a favoured country, a good one to live in. Imemshukia neema kubwa kwa Munugu, a great mercy had descended on him from God. (Ar. Cf. naam, and follg., and syn. mbaraka.)

*-neemefu, a. plentiful, abundant. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Neemeka, v. live at ease, have plenty, be in comfortable circumstances, possess property, get good profits. Cs. neemesha, make rich, provide well for. (Ar. Cf. neema, unneemefu.)

*Najisi, a. See Najisi. (Ar.)

*Neli, n. a tube, a pipe,—the word commonly used being nwanzi. (Hind. nal. Cf. Ar. kasiba.)

*Nema, v. bend, give way, yield. Nt. nem'ka, e.g. of graceful dancing. Cs. nem'esha, -eshwa, cause to bend. (Ar. Cf. nepa, and inama.)

Nembo, n. (—), a tribal mark,—usually a kind of tattoo. (Cf. syn. chale, chanjo, and toja. Prob. a Yao word.)

Nena, v. (1) speak, have the gift of rational speech, articulate, utter, say; (2) speak of, mention, name, declare. Kinena na kisichonena, that which speaks and that which does not,—a common way of contrasting people and things, the rational and irrational. Ps. nena. Nt. neneka, (1) be spoken, be mentioned; (2) be utterable, be such as can be expressed in words, be fit for mention, &c. Mambo ya siyoneneka, unutterable, indescribable things. Neno hilo kalimeneki, that word is not in use, is not a possible word. Ap. nen-ca,-ewa, e.g. speak against (for, to, with, &c.), but in common usage ambia regularly takes its place for 'speak to,' say to,' and nenea (when not defined by the context) is used for 'speak against, rebuke, scold,' more commonly than 'speak for, intercede for, recommend, praise.' Hence neneana. Cs. nene-sha, -eshwa, -esa, -eswa, e.g. cause (provoke) to speak. E.g. wakamemesana kwa maneno mabaya, they exasperated each other by abuse. Rp. nenauna, speak of each other, and so commonly, quarrel, abuse each other. (Cf. neno, unenzi, wnenzi, mwenena, mnenaji, mnenuena, &c. Also sema, and ambia. Sema is used exactly like nena of rational speech, and in most other senses. But (1) with a person-object, nena means mention, sema speak against, rebuke, abuse (like amba). (2) sema has often the meaning 'talk, converse,' nena rarely. Ambia with a person-object regularly takes the place of both nena and sema, when the meaning is simply, speak to, say to.)

Nenda, v. See Enenda.

- nene, a. (nene with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) thick, stout, fat, plump, broad; (2) full, whole, complete. (Cf. nenepea, unene, and neno, nona, -pena, -zima.)

- nenepea, v. become fat (stout, corpulent)—of persons, but nona, of animals. Cs. nenepesha, make stout, &c. (Cf. nene, nona.)

- Neno, n. (ma-, (1) a word, utterance, expression, message; (2) assertion, objection, argument, plea, point; (3) thing, fact, matter, affair, cause, case; (4) a serious matter, difficulty, danger, trouble. The plur. maneno is also used for (1) language, speech,—in general, and (2) consultation, discussion, argument, trial, debate. E.g. sikufanya n. I did nothing. Usioma n., usinenae n.; ukinena n., litakujiya n. if you see anything, do not say anything; if you say anything, something will happen to you. Fanya maneno, hold a discussion, argue, debate. Mtu wa maneno mengi, a talkative, argumentative person. Maneno ya kiunguja, the Zanzibar dialect. Hana n., he has nothing to say. Muisaidie, nisene neno njiani, help me that I may not find difficulty in my way. (Cf. nena, and jambo.)

Nenyeka, v. See Nyenyeka.

- Nepa, v. incline downwards, bend down, dip, drop (of a rope), sag. Cs. nepesa, cause to bend, bend (by pressure, &c.). Bakora hiti inanepe sana, this stick bends very much. Kisu chanepa, the knife (blade) bends. (Cf. Ar. nema. Also inama, pinda.)

- Ng', thus written, is used to represent the only sound in Swahili not easy to pronounce, viz. a close combination of n and g which does not pass on to the vowel following, though forming one syllable with it. Thus yang'oa, it plucks up, is pronounced quite differently from yangoa, of desire, in which ngoa is only a nasalized goa. The sound is not common, and only in a few words initial. (It is sometimes heard and written as gn, but Str. argues that words beginning with it are treated grammatically as of the N (i.e. D 6) declension, and that with pfxs. (e.g. ki- or ma-) the g is retained even if the n is dropped.)

- nga- and nge- , as a pfx., is the sign of the Pres. Condit. Tense,—as ngali of the Past, e.g. ningapenda, I would love. See Ngali.

- Ng'aa, v. be bright, glitter, gleam, shine. Cs. ngaza, make shine. (Cf. anga, ng'ara, &c.)

Ngabu, n. (—), a gouge,—a carpenter's tool, same as Bobari.

- Ngadu, n. a kind of crab. (Cf. kaa.)

Ngalaw, n. (—), commonly galawa (which see) in Z., a small dug-out canoe with outriggers.

- ngali—, as a pfx., is the sign of the Past Condit. Tense, e.g. ningali— Nge, n. (—), or Inge, a scorpion.

Ngedele, n. a small black monkey,—also called tumbili, kitumbili. (Cf. kima.)
Ngema, a. often used in Z. for njema, i.e. (1) the form of -ema agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6; (2) without a noun, as common expression of assent, good, very well, certainly,—like inshallah, ewalla. (Cf. -ema.)

Ngeu, n. (—), a line used by carpenters for marking work, a ruddle,—so called from the red chalky earth applied to make the mark.

Ng-, -n. and a., variants of ungi, wingi, -ingi, which are usual in Z. See Ingi, &c.

Ngia, -ngine. See Ingia, -ingine.

Ngiri, n. (—), wild boar,—commonly nguruwe wa mwitu.

Ng'oa, v. root up, dig out, tear out, pull up. Ng'oa mi, root up a tree. Ng'oa jino, extract a tooth. Ng'oa macho, gouge out the eyes. Ng'oa hema, strike a tent. Ng'oa safari, start on a journey, Ps. ng'olewa. N. ng'oka, e.g. moyo umering'oka, my heart jumped into my mouth. Ap. ngo-lea. (Cf. fukua, toa, ondoa.)

Ngoa, n. desire, passion, lust. Timiza n., satisfy the passions. Tia n., weep for jealousy. (Cf. hawa, shaiko.)

Ng'oe, n. (—), a forked stick or pole, e.g. for gathering fruit, &c. (Cf. ng'oa and kiope.)

Ng'ofu, n. (—), roe of a fish.

Ngoja, v. wait, wait for, await, stay for, remain. Ngoja mlango, wait at a door, act as door-keeper. Ngoje, wait for me,—also ngijoje. Ap. ngoj-ea, -eza, wait for (at, with, &c.), be patient with, &c., e.g. mngoj-e bavana afu, wait for your master to come. Cs. ngoj-esa, -ezwa, e.g. keep waiting, delay, adjourn. Rp. ngojana, e.g. wait for each other, wait all together. (Cf. mngoj, ngojo, kingojo, mngojzzi. The n sound is sometimes neglected, e.g. ngoja mlango, a door-keeper.)

Ngojo, n. (—), waiting-place, station, post, period of waiting, watch. (Cf. ngoja, kingojo, and samu, lindo.)

Ngoma, n. a drum. As the one universal accompaniment of all merry-making, and ceremonial, ngoma is extended to include (1) any kind of dance, (2) music in general. Piga (chapua) n., beat a drum. Chesa (ingia) n., join in a dance. N. ya kucheza, dancing for amusement. N. ya kupunga (pepo), dance for the exorcizing of a spirit. Ngoma ikilia sana, haikawii kupasuka, when a drum sounds loud, it will soon break. (Drums are of many sizes and patterns, and these as well as the accompanying dances and modes of beating vary with every tribe, and with the different occasions of their use. Cf. goma, kigoma, and see tari, misapata, dandalo, kiumbizi, msondo, vumi, chapuo, kumbwaya, kitanga, kishina, msoma, mganda. And for musical instruments, kinanda, santuri, kinubu, zee, somari, toazi, upato, kayamba, pandu, baragumu, filimbi.)

Ng'ome, n. (—), ox, cow, bull, cattle. Defined as n. ndume (or, mak-sai), ox, bullock; n. jike, cow; n. fahari (or fahari only), bull. Ndama ya n., a calf. Kukama n., to milk a cow. Prov. wawili hula ng'ome, two can manage an ox. Dim. king'ome. Also used as a term of insult, idiot, blockhead, like ngamia, mbusi. (Cf. fahali, mtaba.)

Ngome, n. (—), fort, fortress, stronghold, castle. (Cf. syn. gereza, boma.)

Ng'onda, v. cure,—of meat, fish, &c., e.g. by cutting in strips, and drying in the sun. Ps. ng'ondwa. (There seems also to be a n. ng'onda, king'onda, i.e. a strip or slice of dried meat, fruit, &c.)

Ng'ong'o, n. plur. of ung'ong'o (which see).

Ngo, n. (—), and plur. of uongo, (1) sleeping time, and so, night; (2) sleeping-turn, a wife's turn or time for sleeping with her husband. (Gona in cognate dialects means sleep, v., but is not used in Z. Cf. sindia, lala.)

Ng’oo, int. also Nyoo, expressing utter contempt, a contemptuous refusal.

Ngoshi, n. and Ngovi, skin,—of any animal, hide, leather. Chuna n., take off the skin, skin, flay. Tengezea (fanyiza) n., tan hides. (Govi also occurs, but in Z. in restricted sense, in relation to circumcision, tohara.)

Ngumi, n. fist. Piga n., strike with the fist, give a cuff to. (Cf. syn. konde.)

Ngungwi, n. plur. or Nkungwi, songs taught to boys, when circumcised; also called malango. (Perh. cf. kunga, kungwi.)

Nguo, n. (—), (1) cloth, as material, i.e. any woven fabric, of cotton, flax, silk, &c., but commonly cotton cloth, calico; (2) a cloth, a piece of cloth, for whatever purpose, e.g. nguo ya meza, a tablecloth; nguo za kitanda, bed clothes; nguo za kugu utilia, mourning; (3) clothes, a garment of any kind. Vaa n., put on clothes, dress oneself. Viia n., clothe (another). Vua n., take off clothes, undress. Fuma n., weave cloth. Tanda n., prepare the web in weaving. Sifa ya nguo ni pindo, the merit of a cloth is the (coloured, embroidered) border. (Perh. cf. uo, chuo. Various kinds of cloth are known as nguo asili, in commerce ‘grey sheeting,’ nguo maradufi, grey drilling. Amerikani, kaniki, bendera, bafta, huthurungi, satini, gamti, johe, ulaiti, hariri, shashi, &c. For articles of dress cf. (1) for men, kikoi, kanzu, kisibau, fulana, kitambi, kilemba, kofia, shuka, gwamba, johe, soruali, mfuria. (2) for women, shiti, kisuto, kanga, lesu, kanzu, soruali, dusamali, barakoa, ukaya, shela, &c.)

Nguri, n. a shoemaker's tool (Str.).

Nguru, n. (—), name of a fish,—of good quality for eating and often of large size. (Cf. samaki.)

Nguruma, v. make a rumbling or roaring noise,—of any loud and deep sound, e.g. roar of a lion, thunder, roar, growl, rumble. (Cf. folltg. and vuma.)

Ngurumo, n. (—), a loud roaring, rumbling sound, growl. Leo kundapiga ngurumo, it is thundering today. Mshindo wa ngurumo, a clap of thunder, i.e. radi. (Cf. prec.)

Nguruwe, n. (—), also Ngwuwe, Ngwwe, a pig, hog, swine. N. wamwitu, a wild pig. N. jike, a sow. Nguruwe aendealo, ndolo atendalo, what a pig goes for, that he does. Also of a loose, immoral character, yule nguruwe aliyeta aliufisi nyumba, that vile wretch, who wanted to violate a home.

Nguruzi, n. See Nguzi.

Nguu, n. in the phrase mwenda nguu. Kilio cha mwenda nguu, the cry of one who utterly despairs,—of some irreparable calamity.

Ngusa, n. (—), a dugong, manatee.

Nguvu, n. force, strength, power,—in general. Thus (1) strength of body, muscular physical power, strength of mind, or character, ability, energy, vehemence, or mere mechanical strength, force, impetus, momentum, solidity, stability, pressure; (2) authority, supremacy, influence, importance, weight, earnestness; (3) exercise of force, compulsion. Tia (pa) n., strengthen, consolidate, establish. Fanya (toa) n., use (put forth, exert) strength, exercise authority. Neno la n., an effective, forcible statement, command. Kwa nguvu, (1) by force (strength, ability, energy, &c.), (2) in a high degree, strongly, earnestly, (3) reluctantly, under compulsion, against the will, e.g. aliku-bali kwa nguvu, he consented under pressure. (Cf. bidii, uwezo.)
NGUZI  282  NINA

Nguzi, n. also Nguruzi, a hole in the bottom of a boat or vessel, for letting water out, i.e. tundu katika mkuku.

Nguzo, n. (—), (r) pillar, supporting column, post, prop, buttress, pilsade, pale, pole; (2) fig. assistance, support, evidence, fundamental principles. Forms of prayer are called nguso ya sala. Nguzo ya imani, articles (pillars) of faith, creed. In house-building nguzo are the poles forming the sides and supporting the roof. (Cf. kiguzo, and tegemeo.)

-ngwana, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) of or belonging to the status of a free man, as contrasted with a slave (mtumwa), and so of a relatively high social grade, and (2) civilized, educated, gentlemanly, well-manered. (Cf. ungwana.)

Ngwe, n. (perh. plur. of ugwe), a measured plot, or patch of ground, whether (1) a bed or row, of young plants, &c., or (2) an allotment, ground assigned for cultivation, or for a task. (Cf. kwo, and perh. ugwe, of the line used in measuring.)

Ni is used simply as a copula, without distinction of person or number, or definite indication of time, though usually equivalent to the present tense of the verb wa, i.e. I am (was), you are (were), he (she, it) is (was), we (you, they) are (were), e.g. yele ni mwema, he is a good man. Ni hizi tu, it is just so. Nyumba ni tupa, the house is empty.

Ni-, -ni, -ni-, as a formative prefix (1) in verbs, is the pfx. of the 1 Pers. Sing. subjective and objective, I, me. When subjective, it is sometimes n, or omitted altogether, e.g. ninapenda, I love; mnaana, I see; takwenda, I will go. (2) in nouns, is suffixed to form a locative case, meaning 'in, at, to, from, into, near, by,' and used with the prep. mwaa, pa, kwa (and mw-, p-, kuv-, as the prefix of the pronom. adj. agreeing with nouns in the locative case), according to the reference is to (a) inside position, (b) place simply, (c) environment generally, e.g. nyumbani mwangu, in my house; shambani pangu, at my estate; kuwangu- kani kwangu, in my fall, as I fell. (3) -ni, is subjoined to verbs as a contracted form of (a) nini? What? e.g. kunani? for kunani? What is the matter? or (b) ninyi, e.g. kwa- herini, good-bye all of you; twende zetuni, come along all of you; amekupeni vingi, he has given you many things.

*Nia, n. (—), intention, purpose, resolve,—but extended to any mental activity, and can be translated 'thought, idea, opinion, mind, conscience, heart, character,' &c. Nia haikuwa moja, ndio usipate jambo, your mind was not made up, so you did not succeed. N. njema (swaf), a good disposition. N. mbou (batili), bad thoughts (character, conscience). — v. have in mind, think of, purpose, intend. (Ar. Cf. muia, and syn. kusudi, wazo, moyo, thiimiri, mradi.)

*Nikahi, n. (—), and Nikaha, marriage,—esp. with reference to formalities, ceremonial, &c., betrothal, espousals, marriage settlement, e.g. humfungia nikaha humwoza, he makes a match for her, and gives her in marriage. Akanuua kwa nikaha, and he married her in due form. Fungisha n., perform the marriage ceremony for. Sikiliza (shuhudia)n., attend (attest) a marriage,—said of the congregation present at the mosque. (Ar. Cf. ndoa, harusi, maozi.)

Nikali, Nili, verb-forms, and I am (was), -ni, pfx. of 1 Pers. Sing., ka connective, `i in the sense of -wa, v. Nikali nikienda, and I was on the move. See -li.

*Nili, n. (—), indigo, and esp. blue, as used in washing. (Ar.)

Nina, n. (1) mother,—only in poetry, and a few phrases in Z. (cf. mama). (2) verb-form, I have. See Na.
Ning'a, n. (—), a kind of green dove. Used also as a woman's name.
Akakaa na molawe, kama ning'a na utawii, and he rested with his God, like a dove on a branch.

Ning'ia, v. or Nying'inia, sway, swing, wave to and fro, dandle (a child), rock, e. g. of trees, matawi yaning'ia, the bunches (of fruit) swing to and fro on the tree. Cs. ning'in-isha,-ishwa. (Cf. kining'-ina, and syn. wayawaya, yumba-yumba.)

Ninyi, pron. of 3 Pers. Plur., also Nyinyi, you, ye. Often subjoined to verbs in the unreduplicated form -ni, e.g. njooni, come (ye). Kwaherini, good-bye all of you. Ntkupigeni, I will beat you. (Cf. -emu, your, as containing the same element.)

Nipe, for unipe, give me,—2 Pers. Sing. Imperative (or Subjunctive) of -pa, v.

Nipo, verb-form, I am here,—ni, person-pfx. of 1 Pers. Sing., and -po, adverbial of place. (Cf. hapo.)

*Nira, n. (—), a yoke (for oxen). (Ar.)

*Nisha, n. (—), or Nashaa, starch. (Ar. Cf. syn. uwanga.)

*Njaa, n. (—), hunger, craving for food, lack of food, famine. Nina (naona) n., I am hungry. Shindisha kwa n., starve. N. inaua, I feel the pangs of hunger. Njaa ya leo ni shiba ya kesho, hunger to-day means (i.e. hopes for) plenty to-morrow. (Ar. Dist. jaa, dust-heap).

Nje, adv. outside,—opp. to ndani. -a nje, external, outside, outer, outward. Nje ya, outside of, on the surface of. Kwa nje, outwardly, on the outside.

Njema, a. also Ngema, an irregular form of -ema, good, agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6, for ny-ema. Often as an adv. in rejoinders, like vema, Good! Very well! Certainly! (Cf. -ema, ngema.)

Njia, n. plur. used as sing. (—), (1) path, road, way, track; (2) way (or means) of proceeding, method, means; (3) progress, effect, influence. N. kua, highway. N. panda, a parting of roads, cross-ways. N. ya kukata, a short cut. Maneno yeniyi njia, forcible (effective, practical) suggestions. Njia ya mwongo wapi, a liar's career is short. Njia mbili zaumiza, double courses bring pain. (Cf. ja, v., and the Ap. form -fia, also njia, kijia.)

Njiva, n. (—), a pigeon. N. wa mwitu, a wild pigeon. N. manga, a tame pigeon, i.e. brought from Arabia and domesticated. See Manga.

Njombo, n. (—), name of a fish, barred with black and yellow (Str.).

Njoo, Njooni, v., 2 Pers. Sing. and Plur. Imperat. of -ja, come,—perhaps the only really irregular forms which are invariably used in Swahili. Other monosyllabic verbs as a rule use for Imperat. the Subjunct. form, or else the Infin. form, and sometimes e for a in the plur., e.g. kula, eat, is used as an Imperat. and leni, eat, plur. So kunywa, and ngwensi.

Njozi, n. (—), vision, apparition. (Cf. ndoto, ota.)

Njuga, n. (—), a small bell, worn as an ornament, and at dances. (Cf. kengele.)

Njugu, n. (—), ground nut. Two varieties are (1) njugu maana, which are hard, and (2) njugu na yasa, soft.

*Njumu, n. used of ornamental work, done by inlaying, or studding with metal, brass nails, &c. Kasha kubwa la njumu, a large chest ornamented with metal. (Hind.)

Nne, n. and a., four. As a n. always a syllable, and pronounced almost as inne; but as an a. with prefixes commonly heard as -ne only, e.g. watoto wannne or wanne. Nne with D 4 (P), D 6. -a nee, fourth. Kumi na nne, fourteen. (Cf. Ar. syn. droba, also often used.)

Nooa, v. sharpen, make sharp, whet, give an edge to,—of metal tools, weapons, knives, &c. Ps. nolewa. Nt. noleka, e.g. take an edge, be capable of taking an edge. Ap. nolea, e.g. jiwe la kunolea, a whetstone. Cs. no-lesha, -leshwa. Rp. noana. (Cf. kinoo, noleo, noo, and dist. nyoa.)

-nofu, a., nofu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6, lean, (of meat) i.e. all flesh, no fat or bone, i.e. nyama tupu. (Cf. mnofu.)

Nokoaa, n. (ma-), the second man in authority over a plantation, under the msimamizi, and over the kadamu, sub-overseer, assistant.

Noleoo, n. (ma-), (1) any instrument for sharpening, i.e. a whetstone, grindstone, strop, knife-sharpen, i.e. kitu cha kunolea (cf. kinoo, noa); (2) a ferrule, metal ring round the haft of a tool. (Cf. pete.)

Nona, v. get fat, usually of animals (nenepa of man). Cs. non-esha, -eshwa. (Cf. -ono, unono, and -nene.)

Nondo, n. and Noondo, (1) a kind of moth or grub; (2) a kind of serpent.

Nong'ona, v. whisper, speak under one's breath (in a low tone). Cs. nong’on-eza, -ezwa, address in a whisper, whisper to, e.g. mnong’oneze baba yangu, whisper to my father. Rp. nong’onaana, nong’onezaana, whisper to each other. (Cf. mnongonesi, mnongono, unongonesi.)

-nono, a. (ono with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), fat, sleek, plump, well fed,—of animals, &c. (nenene properly of human beings) and things, e.g. maisha nono, a life of luxury. Ng’ombe wanono, fat cattle. Kinono, a fatling. (Cf. nona, unono.)

Noo, n. (ma-), a large whetstone, grindstone. See Noa, Kinoo.

Nso, n. (—), and Inso, a kidney. (Figo also sometimes used.)

Nta, n. (—), and Inta, wax, beeswax,—collected by natives from mizinga (see Mzinga) and brought to the coast.

Nuia, v. also Nuya, have in mind, consider, purpose, intend, form a resolution. Ps. nuiwa. Ap. nuila-, liwa, e.g. resolve as to, form a good resolution about. Cs. nui-za-, -za, cause to have in mind, remind, instruct. (Ar. Cf. nia.)

Nuka, v. (1) give out a smell, have a smell, smell, but esp. (when used alone) of a bad smell, stink; (2) take into the nostrils, e.g. as snuff. N. visuri (vema), have a pleasant smell. N. vibaya (or nuka alone), have a bad smell. But nuka is also used of a sweet smell, like nukia, e.g. akinuka meski na ambari, (a person) smelling of musk and ambergris, and with an objective pers.-pfx., inaninuka ambari, I smell ambergris. Tumbako ya kunuka, snuff. Nuka (usually nusa tumbako, take snuff, or, smell of tobacco. Ap. nukia, have a sweet smell. Also nuk-ilia, nuk-iliza, smell out, follow by scent, e.g. mbwa hodari wa kumkiliza, excellent sporting dogs, dogs with a good sense of smell. Cs. nusa, nukiza, use the sense of smell, smell, smell out, and so of dogs hunting, scent, follow by scent,—and of taking snuff. (Cf. follg. and harufu, uvundo.)

Nukato, n. (ma-), anything having a sweet smell, odour, perfume, scent. (Cf. nuka, and see -to.)

Nukta, n. a dot, point, mark, spot, vowel sign (in Arabic writing), mark of punctuation (comma, stop, &c.) (Ar.)

Nuku, v. for Nukuu, copy, transcribe. — n. (ma-), a copy, duplicate. (Ar. Cf. nakili, nakulu.)
Nuna, v. grumble, show discontent, complain, be sullen, sulk. Nuna uso, look discontented (sulky). Ap. nun-ia, -iwa, be sulky about, complain of (to, &c.). Cs. nun-ishia, -ishwa, put in a bad temper, cause to grumble, &c. Rp. munana, sulk together, complain of each other. (Cf. nun'unikia, guna, nununaji, mnuno.)

Nunda, n. a fierce animal, beast of prey,—used also to describe a cruel bloodthirsty man. The semiwild town cats are sometimes called nununda (ma-), or mnunda (mi-).

Nundu, n. a hump, protuberance, boss, lump, bump, esp. of the hump of native cattle, which is considered a delicacy. Achinjaye ng'ombe, atoa nundu, akampa jimbe, when a man kills a bullock, he takes the hump and presents it to the chief. Nundunundu, or kinundunundu, humpy, lumpy. (Cf. kigongo.)

Nungunungu, n. (ma-), a porcupine.

Nung'unika, v. murmur, grumble, show discontent, complain. Ap. nung'unikia, grumble at (about, to, &c.). (Cf. follg. and guna.)

Nung'uniko, n. (ma-), grumbling, murmuring, complaint. (Cf. prec.)

Nunusa, v. buy, purchase, bargain about, make a bid for. Ps. nunuliwa. Nt. nunulika. Ap. nunulia, -liwa, buy for (with, at, &c.). Amenunuliliwa shamba, he has had an estate bought for him. Cs. nunuza, -zwa, e.g. cause (press, invite, persuade) to buy. Nunusa bia (or shirika), buy jointly, combine to buy. (Cf. munuzi, and Ar. syn. sabuni.)

Nurisha, v. Cs., cause to shine, make bright, give light to. (Ar. Cf. nuru, and angaza, ngariza.)

Nuru, n. (—), light, brightness, illumination. Tia n., brighten, illuminate, make bright (clear, intelligible). Toa n., give out light, shine. Used of a bright expression or complexion, e.g. nuru za uso sikampotea, he lost his happy expression. Waanake hao nuru zao sawasawa, these two women are equally good-looking. (Ar. Cf. mwanga, wewepe.)

Nusa, v. Cs. of Nuka (which see).

Nussu, n. (—), and Nuss, a half, a part, a portion, a bit. Nussu may denote any fraction of a whole. Nussu kidogo, a little bit. Kata nussu nussu, cut in halves (pieces, bits). Gawa nussu kwa nussu, divide in halves. Nussu . . . nussu, partly . . . partly. (Cf. Ar. nisf, middle, half.)

Nusura, n. (—), and Nusra, (1) aid, assistance, help; (2) as an adv., almost, nearly, within a little, e.g. amenitukana nusura kunipiga, he abused me almost to the point of striking me. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

Nusuru, v. help, assist, defend, preserve,—esp. of God's help. Mungu ameniusuru, God has helped me. Tunusuru watumwa wako, help us your servants. (Ar. Cf. saidia.)

Nwa, Nweleo, Nwewa, Nwesha.

See Nywa, Nyweleo, &c.

Nwele, n. plur. of Unywele (which see), hair.

Ny- represents the sound of ni in the word companion, but slightly thicker and more nasal (Str.),—the sound taken by n when a pfx. before a vowel (see N, B. (2), (3)), and also occurring in many Swahili words. See follg.

Nya, v. As in other monosyllabic verbs, the infinitive form, i.e. kunya, is used in forming certain tenses. See Ku, 1. (d). 1. Act., meaning 'discharge, emit, let fall, drop,' of something fluid or semi-fluid, but restricted almost entirely to the passage of excreta, and, when used alone, of urine. The only other common use is as a neuter, of rain, 'fall, be discharged.' Thus kunya mavi (damu), pass faeces (blood). Kumekunya sana leo, it has rained a great deal to-day. Mvua yanya, rain is falling. Inakunya, it is raining. Ps. nywa (see below). Ap. nyea, e.g. aisifuwe mvua, inemnyea, he who prays rain has had it. Cs. nyesha, (1) of rain, Muungu amenyeshu mvua nyetigi, God has caused much rain to fall. (2) e.g. nyesha mtoto, attend to a child at stool. 2. Pass. The passive form -nywa is the common word for 'drink, absorb, suck up, exhaust, consume,' either of liquids or figuratively of other things,—corresponding to -la, eat. (Nywa only retains a trace of the vowel sound of y, and is often heard and written as nua.) Having an active meaning, nywa has its own passive and derivative verb-stems, viz. Ps. nywee, be drunk up, be absorbed, dwindle, pine away, be consumed, dissolve away, evaporate, vanish. Nt. nyweka, e.g. (1) be drunk up, &c.; (2) be capable of (fit for) being drunk, be good for drinking purposes. Ap. nywea, drink at (with, for, to, &c.), e.g. kobo la kunywea, a mug to drink with. Nywea salaamu, drink to the health of. Sometimes also nywea for nywee, e.g. killa siku mkwe huzidi kunywea, every day his wife got thinner. Nyama imenywea, the meat has dried up (in cooking). Cs. nywesha, nyweshwa, cause to drink, furnish drink to, supply with water, &c. (Cf. kinywa, kinywaji, manyesi, manyunyo, nyweloe, and for 'pour out' (a liquid), mimina, mwaaga.)

Nyafua, v. snatch off, tear off, bite off, snap up, e.g. simba amennyafua ng’ombe nyama, the lion has torn off a piece of the bullock’s flesh. (Cf. follg., of which nyafua is perh. a variant.)

Nyaka, Nyakua, v. catch in the hands, snatch up, tweak, pluck with the fingers, twitch,—also filch, pilfer. Derivatives not commonly used.

(With nyaka, which is seldom used, cf. daka, catch, e.g. a ball in play.)

Nyala, Nyali, Nyalio, plurals from ala (?u-ala), woli, rice, and wailo (which see).

Nyama, n. (—, but see Mnyama), (1) an animal, beast, brute,—mostly of the larger animals; (2) flesh, meat; (3) body, substance, matter, chief constituent, e.g. nyama ya mkate, crumb as opp. to crust (of bread), nyama ya embe, the flesh of a mango-fruit, nyama ya roho, the material part of the soul; (4) fig. of a brutal, stupid, degraded person. N. ya mwitu, a wild animal. N. mkali (mbuati), a ferocious beast. Wewe kisu, sisi nyama, you are the knife, we are the animal, i.e. at your mercy. In concords nyama is treated as D 1 or D 6, e.g. wakaenda nyama sote, all the animals went. (Cf. mnyama, which seems only used when there is special reason for distinguishing an animal as a living creature. Also perh. cf. ndama.)

*Nyamaa, v. be silent, stop talking; hold one’s tongue, be (become) quiet, die away, cease, be still,—used not only of talking and noise, but of anything violent, troublesome, or painful, e.g. of wind, bodily suffering, &c., e.g. kichwa chaliniuma, sasa kinenyama, my head was aching, now it does not ache. Ap. nyamalia, e.g. be quiet to (for, in, &c.). Cs. nyamaza, usually Intens., i.e. keep quiet, refrain from noise, repress oneself, and in the Imperat., Silence! Hold your tongue! Hence nyamazia, e.g. nama amemnyamazia mtoto, the mother made the child quiet, and a derived Cs. nyamas-isha, -ishwa, reduce to silence, make quiet, calm, still. (Ar. namas, cf. follg. and kimya, tulia from tua.)

-Nyamafu, a. same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6, silent, quiet, still, reticent, reserved. Mtu mnyamafu, a man who says very little, keeps to himself. Panyumafu, a quiet spot.
(Cf. nyamaa, and -tulivu.)

Nyambua, v. pull in pieces, tear into bits, take off in strips, peel off.
Ps. nyambulivu. Nt. nyambuka, come to pieces, fall into bits, be peeled off, e.g. of over-ripe fruit, overcooked meat.
(Cf. ambua, and nyumbua, nyafua.)

Nyangumi, n. (—), a whale.

-nyangalika, a. used as an evasive or contemptuous epithet of what is difficult, impossible, or unfit to describe, a sort of a —, a what-do-you-call-it, a nondescript. Kitu kinyangalika, a nondescript thing. Mnya-ngalika gani huyu? What sort of a wretch is this?

Nyang’amba, n. a sweetmeat.

(Cf. nyanganyi, and iwa, pokonya.)

Nyanga, n. plur. of wangwa.

Nyani, n. (—), an ape, a baboon.
(Cf. kima.)

Nyanya, v. cause to be prominent, protrude, put out, raise up. Aka-nyanya mkono, akachukwa unanga mnoja, and he put out his hand, and took one sword. — n. (ma-), tomato, fruit of the nyanya.
(Cf. nyanyuka, and nyanya.)

Nyanyasa, v. or Nyanyaza, tease, annoy, molest, treat disrespectfully or rudely, hurt the feelings of.
(Not a common word, perh. Cs. of nyanya, cf. syn. sumbuha, uthi, chokoza.)

Nyanyuka, v. be prominent, rise above the rest, stick up, stick out. Also perh. a variant of nyambuka (which see).
(Cf. inua, tokea, one-kana,* nyanya.*)

Nyara, n. plur. (1) booty, spoils, plunder,—persons or things, taken by war or violence. Teka nyara, take captive.
(2) for nyala, plur. of ala (which see).
(Cf. teka, mateka, and perh. Arab. ghara, raid, plunder.)

Nyasi, n. (ma-), a reed, long coarse grass. Also plur. of unyasi.

Nyata, v. go silently (quietly, stealthily), steal along, sink, skulk, sneak, e.g. of a wild beast’s stealthy walk, or of a hunter stalking game. Ap. nyat-ia, -iwa, creep up to, steal upon, stalk (of a hunter).
(Cf. nyemelela, tambalia, gundulia.)

Nyati, n. (—), the African buffalo, and in Z. used of the Indian.

Nyauka, v. dry up, be withered, shrivel,—with heat, or drought.
(Cf. the more common kauka, anika, anuka.)

Nyayo, n. plur. of uayo (which see).

Nyea, v. cause a tickling or itching sensation, tickle, itch. Upele unani-yeya, the eruption itches. Ps. nyewa, be made to itch, be irritated, tickled.
(Cf. nyebo, nyega, nyegi, kinyefu, and syn. washa.)

-nyefu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), moist, wet, damp, humid, marshy, watery. Also -nyeefunyeefu.
(Cf. nya, nyawa, nyefu, and syn. rutuba, maji, uloefu, chepechepe.)

Nyega, v. cause to itch or tickle, excite prurient desire. Cs. (intens.) nyeg-esha, -eshwa, and Rp. nyegeshana.
(Cf. nyea, and follg.)

Nyegi, n. itching, tickling, irritation, esp. of sexual excitement, prurient desire; and in animals, heat.
(Cf. prec.)

Nyelo, n. plur. of unyelo (which see).

Nyelo, n. (ma-), also unyelo, pore (of the skin).
(Cf. nya, v., and tokeo.)

Nyemelela, v. go quietly up to, steal up to, creep upon, stalk (a wild animal or bird), surprise. Ps. nyemelewa, e.g. be approached by stealth, be taken by surprise. (Cf. nyamalía, nyamaa.)

Nyenje, n. a kind of cricket.

Nyenya, v. talk a person into telling, talk over, extort an admission from, extract news, pump with questions. Ps. nyenyewa. Nt. nyenyeka, be talked over, give way to pressure, submit. See Nyenyeke. Ap. nyenyeleza, get at a secret, &c., whence nyenyeleza, introduce quietly, slip in secretly. Cs. nyenyesha, intens. Kp. nyenyana. (Cf. follg.)

Nyenyeke, v. (strictly the Ap. form of Nt. of nyenya), act with submission (humbly, reverence, respect) towards, be polite (obsequious, cringing, &c.) to, be humble, defer to. E.g. kijana amenyenyekeba babaye, the young man treated his father with due deference. Ps. nyenyekewa. Cs. nyenyeke-esh-a, -eshwa, e.g. teach humility to, humble, &c. (Cf. nyenya, nyenyekeo, and follg.)

Nyenso, n. plur. of uenzo, wenso (which see).

Nyesi, n. (ma-), excrement, dung, urine, filth. (Cf. nya, kinyaa, and syn. mavi, ukojo.)

Nyeta, v. be teasing (tiresome, hard to please, unsatisfied, never content), be ill-mannered (disrespectful, arrogant), swagger. Ap. nyet-ea, -ewa, e.g. be disrespectful to (about, &c.). Cs. nyet-esha, -eshwa, e.g. cause to be troublesome, impertinent, &c.

Nyie, pron. for ninyi-ye, you (plur.), you there. (Cf. miye, weye, and ye.)

Nyiga, n. (ma-), a large wasp, a hornet.

Nyika, n. (ma-), open, bare, treeless wilderness, open forest with high grass, a barren, desolate region, contr. with mwitu, e.g. tukaenda wee mwitu na nyika, mwitu na nyika, we went on and on, through woods and wastes, forest and field. (Cf. poli, pululu, jangwa.)

Nyima, v. withhold (from), keep back (from), deprive, refuse, not give,—esp. of what is due, a person’s right, e.g. wages, a debt. E.g. yuna haki ya kupewa, lakini amenyima kasidi, he has a right to be paid, but the other has kept it back purposely. Muungu hapi kwa mwina, hanyimi kwa jua kali, God does not give by rain, or withhold by heat. Ps. nyimwa. (Other deriv. rare.) (Cf. follg.)

Nyimi-nyimi, adv. in little bits, by beggarly scraps, with a grudging hand. (Cf. prec.)

Nyiring’ina, v. See Ning’inia.

Nyinyi, pron., same as ninyi (which see), you (plur.).

Nyinyoro, n. a bulbous plant which throws up a large head of red flowers (Str.).

Nyoa, v. shave off,—of hair only. Ps. nyolewa. Ap. nyo-lea, -lewa, e.g. uembe wa kunyolea nyele, a razor to shave with. (Cf. kinyozi, and perh. unyele, and nya, nyonyoa.)

Nyofo, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) straight, extended, stretched out; (2) usually fig. straightforward, honest, upright, trustworthy, e.g. mtu nyofo, an honourable man. Maneno nyofo, plain, direct statement. (Cf. nyoka, n. and v., nyosha.)

Nyoka, v. (1) become straight (extended, laid out in a straight line), be straightened; (2) fig. be straightforward, be honest (practical, steadfast, effective), e.g. maneno ya kunyoka. Cs. nyosha (which see). (Cf. nyofu, and follg.)

Nyoka, n. a serpent or snake of any kind. There are not many poisonous varieties in Z. Pythons (chatu) are comparatively common. (Cf. prec.)

Nyonda, n. plur. trial, testing, proof, experiment. In Z. nyona
(from onja) would be more usual. (Cf. onja, jaribu.)

Nyondo, n. See Nondé, Nyundo.

Nyonga, v. (1) twist, twist the neck of, strangle, throttle; (2) vex, harass, worry; (3) as a neut., twist, wriggle, move from side to side. Ps. nyongwa. Ap. nyong-ea, -ewa. Cs. nyong-esha, -eshwa. (Cf. follg.)

Nyonga, n. plur. of unyonga, but also used as a sing. n. (—), the hip,—the part where the thigh (pa) and flank (kiuno) meet. Uchungu wa moto u katika nyonga ya mamaye, the trouble with a child is on the mother's hip,—native women often carrying a child astride on the hip. (Cf. nyonga, v.)

-nyonge, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), of a low order (degree or kind), low, mean, base, degraded, servile, insignificant, vile. Lia kinyonga, cry in a feeble helpless way. (Cf. nyonga, unyonga, and syn. haifiso, duni, -baya, thaisfu.)

Nyongeza, n. plur. of uongeza, addition, appendix, supplement. (Cf. ongeza.)

Nyongo, n. bile. Also sometimes as irreg. plur. of mwongo, as if uongo, e.g. nyongo mwa siku, in course of time. (Cf. mwongo, miongo, number, reckoning, decade.)

Nyongoa, v. straighten, stretch, untwist. Jinyongoa, straighten oneself, stiffen oneself,—used of convulsive stretching. (-oa here seems Rv., like -ua. Cf. nyonga, and follg.)

Nyongonyea, v. be languid, be weary, get slack and weak. ’ (Cf. nyonga,—the termination perh. giving the idea of being untwisted, loosened, relaxed. Cf. syn. latega.)

Nyonya, v. suck the breast,—of a child or animal. .Nyonya titi la mama, suck the mother's teat. Ndugu wa kunyonya, foster-brother (or -sister). Moto mnyonya, a babe, suckling. Cs. nyony-esha, -eshwa, suckle, give suck to, put to the breast.

Nyonyoa, v. pluck out hair (feathers, wool, &c.), pluck a bird, shave unskilfully (pulling instead of cutting). Mnyonyoeni manyoja, pluck out my feathers. Ps. nyonyoilewa, e.g. ngozi ya kondoo, isiyonyoilewa malaika, a sheepskin with the wool on. Nt. nyonyoka, e.g. kima amenyonyoka manyoja pia, the monkey had all its hair plucked off. Ap. nyonyo-lea, -lewa. Cs. nyonyo-sha, used fig. nag, constantly harass, worry, tease. (Cf. unyoya, and nyoya.)

Nyonyota. See Nyota.

Nyoo, int. See Ngoo.

Nyota, n. (—), a star. Nyota haionekani mchana, a star is not visible in daylight. Nyota-nyota, or nyonyota, is used of a drizzling rain, lit. drops, droppings (cf. mnyonyo). In poetry nyota means 'thirst, drought,' i.e. kiu. (Cf. ota.)

Nyote, a common contraction for ninyi nyote, you all, all of you. Cf. sote, for sisi sote. Ninyi wote, commonly for 'both of you (two).’ See -ote.

Nyoya, n. (ma-), also plur. of Unyoya (which see), a hair, a single feather, a piece of wool, an animal's hair. Manyoya is used generally of the external covering,—wool, hair, feathers,—of the bodies of birds and animals,—more particularly of the smaller body feathers of birds (contr. mbawa, mbawa, of the wing feathers).
and of short hair in animals (cf. singa of long hair),—down, both of birds and animals, being malaiika. Nyele, nyele za singa, is regularly used of human hair. ( Cf. nyoa, uryoya, urya, unyele.)

Nyoyo, n. plur. See Moyo.

Nyua, n. plur. of ua (which see).

Nyuki, n. (—), a bee. Asali ya nyuki, honey. Nyuki huenda na maua yake, the bee goes with its flowers. Fathili za nyuki ni moto, a bee’s thanks is fire, i.e. all the thanks it gets.

Nyuma, adv. after, behind, (1) of place,—behind, at the back of, whether (a) on the further side of, beyond, or (b) after, in the rear of; (2) of time, (a) hereafter, in the future, (b) behind, in the past. For the apparent vagueness of meaning cf. mbele, in which also the meaning is decided by the context and implied mental attitude. Watu wabaya wataondoka nyuma yangu, may mean ‘bad people will rise up after me’ (when I am gone, in the future,—if of time; or behind me, in my rear,—if of place). Mambo ya nyuma, may mean (1) the future, mambo ya baadaye, mambo ya mbele, or (2) the past, mambo yaliyopita, yaliyokwisha zamani, yaliyokuwa mbele. Cf. baada ya nyie hakuna wangiwe nyuma yenu, after you there are none coming after you, i.e. of greater consequence than you, which might also be expressed by mbele yenu. Kudi n., go back. Kaa n., sit behind. Huko n., often means ‘meanwhile, to resume,’—of returning to a point in a story. —a nyuma, behind, in the rear, in the past, in the future. Nyuma ya, after, behind, in the rear of, beyond. (Cf. kinyume, mbele, baada, kaola.)

Nyuma, n. plur. of uma (which see).

Nyumba, n. (—), (1) a house,—properly of a native house, made of poles, sticks, wattles, earth, grass, &c., and called n. ya miti, ya udongo, ya makuti, ya majani, &c., but extended also to a house of any kind, as of masonry, n. ya mawe, or of corrugated iron, n. ya mabati, &c.,—also called jumba (ma—). Also sometimes of structures made by animals, birds’ nests, lairs, burrows,—more commonly called tundu, kitundu; and fig. of objects resembling a house, e.g. nyumba ya randa, the stock of a plane. (2) household,—but this is more commonly watu wa nyumbani, or simply nyumbani, as in the polite inquiry, Hujambo (u hali gani) nyumbani? I hope your family are well? Prov. nyumbao kuu haina nafasi, a great house has little room. Nyumba ya udongo hathimili kishindo, a house of earth cannot stand a shock. (For words connected with house-building, &c., cf. jenga, aka, (materials) mti, udongo, kambamoyo, ufito, kamba, nguso, mwamba, bati, jiwe, chokaa, tifali, (roof, roofing) paa, kipaa, kuti, jani, eseke. And with nyumba, cf. jumba, kijumba, chumba, mchumba, kinyumba, and umba.)

Nyumbo, Nyumba, n. (—), name of an antelope (wildebeest, or gnu, Str.). Used in Z. of the mule, also called baghala (which see).

Nyumbu,a, v. used of handling a flexible, elastic, adhesive substance, —bend, draw out, stretch, manipulate without breaking. Nt. nyumbuka, be flexible (elastic, bend, yield to pressure) without breaking. (Cf. pinda, kunja.)

Nyundo, n. (—), a hammer. (Cf. unda, muwuni.)

Nyungu-nyungu, n. ulcerous cracks or sores on the feet, between the toes, &c. Miguu yangu ime-fanya nyungu-nyungu kwa jasho, my feet are ulcerated with the heat. Also a name of a worm.

nyunyizana. (Cf. manyunya, and perh. chunyu, nya. Also mimina, mwaga, rashi.)

Nyunyo, n. mostly used in plur. form manyuyo, sprinkled liquid, sprinklings, drizzle, light rain. (Cf. prec. and marashi.)

Nyushi, Nyuta, n. See Ushi, Uta.

Nywa, Nywea, Nywesha, v. See Nya.

Nyweleo, n. (ma-), also Nyeleo, pore,—of the skin. (Cf. nya, nywa, and kinweleo.)

Nzi, n. (mainzi), a fly (insect).
See Inzi.

Nsige, n. (—), a locust.

O.

O, A. As a sound, O represents the open vowel o sound, as in Italian and other continental languages, which would be written aw in English, or or with the r smooth, not trilled. The English closed vowel sound, as in no, is hardly pronounceable by a native.

When unaccented, the o retains the same difference in a less degree. The short o sound in English not would be represented by a Swahili as nart, not as nort. The o in Swahili words must always be uttered with the lips open, never with a w sound at the end, i.e. like ove.

O and U are often not clearly distinguished in Swahili, especially when unaccented, and in words of Arab or foreign origin, perhaps partly under the influence of Arabic, which has one vowel sign for both. In some words o and u coalesce. Thus ao and au represent equally well common pronunciations of the adverb meaning 'or.' Kuoga, kuota become kwoga, kwota, and koga, kota; ku-ote becomes kwote and kote; and noga, woga and oga.

Comparatively few Swahili words begin with o.

B. (1) In prefixes, and also alone, as a suffix, -o is the sound characteristic of the relative pronoun, 'who, which.' It is used in combination with the appropriate declension prefix of the noun referred to, e.g. wo, yo, lo, so, cho, vyo, po, ko, no, but the simple -o is capable of being substituted for any of these, except in the few phrases when these relative forms are used as separate words, not affixed to a verb-form, e.g. lo lote, vyo vyote, &c., e.g. kiwe cho chote. The only exception is that e or ye is almost always used for o, to agree with the Personal Pronouns in the singular number, and with D i (S), e.g. mtc aliye mwema, a man who is good; mimi ntipendaye ndizi, I who am fond of bananas.

The above relative forms cannot as a rule bear the accent, and therefore in verbs can only follow tense signs capable of bearing an accent (i.e. na, ja, li, -ka, not ta, me, &c.).

These forms are sometimes affixed to the adj. -ingine, somewhat generalizing the meaning, e.g. vitu vinginevyo, any other sorts of things, panginepo, elsewhere, in some (any) other place (cf. -mojawapo).

An independent (uncombined) relative form is made, regularly in Mombasa and elsewhere, but seldom in Z., by affixing the above forms to the root amba, with or without kwamba following, e.g. kitu ambacho (or, ambacho kwamba) nakipenda, a thing which I like, and so ambaye, ambazo, ambalo, &c. See Amba.

(2) Connected with the o of relation is the o of reference, which occurs (a) in one form of demonstrative adjective, viz. huyo, huo, hiyo, hicho, hao, &c., i.e. the pronoun of relative nearness or reference, 'that there, that already mentioned or referred to, that in question,' and in adverbs, &c., formed from it, huko, hapo; (b) in combination with na, when it may be regarded as a shortened form of the above demonstrative adjective of reference, e.g. yunaye for yunaye, he is, zinazo for zina na hize, they are, &c.

(3) -o is subjoined to nouns sometimes as an abbreviated form of wao, wako, e.g. wenzio for weni zio wao, their companions.

Oa, v. take a wife, marry a wife,— of the man only. Ps. owwa (seldom used), be married,—of the man only.
Also Ps. oleva, be married,—of the woman only. Nt. oleka, of the woman only,—be married, be marriageable. Ap. olea, oleva, marry with (for, at, in, &c.), e.g. of gifts, accessories, place, &c. for marrying.

Cs. oza (also oaza), ozwa, cause (persuade, allow) to marry, perform the ceremony of marriage. Used of parents, friends concerned, persons assisting, the official, &c., and even of the bridegroom, 'get for wife, take in marriage' (cf. zika, zisha). Hence Ap. ozea, osewa, and ozelea, marry to (with, at, &c.). Hence ozesha, oseshwa, e.g. unioeshe mtoto wako, allow me to marry your daughter.

Rp. oana, of the couple marrying, and of intermarriage generally, of families, tribes, &c. (Cf. ndoa, ha-rusi, and posa, poza, and dist. oza, v.)

*Ofsa, n. (ma-), also ohsa, hobsa, afsa, officer, i.e. the English word as pronounced by a native. So ofs, for office.

Oga, (1) v. bathe, wash the whole body, take a bath. Koga is often used as the root (i.e. ku-oga, see Ku.), and distinguishes the verb from oga, fear. Ap. ogea, ogewa, e.g.
majv ya kuogea, water to bathe with,
and cf. pakiogea, a bathing-place, a bath-room, chakoogeaa, a vessel to bathe in, a bath, i.e. of the European kind,—otherwise kiogea, birika (and ogelea, ogelwaa, ogeleka, used esp.
of swimming, with a Cs. ogel-eza, -esha,
-eswa, make (cause, teach) to swim.
Ogelesha vyombo, swim boats,—as children do. Sometimes olesha. Hapa-ogeleki, you cannot swim here. Mwegleshe punda, make the donkey swim across. Cs. ogesha, ogeshwa, e.g.
take (send, order) to bathe, and osha, oshwa (which see). Rp. ogana, e.g.
all bathe together.

Oga, (2) v. fear, be afraid, be timid, be cowardly. Derivative stems ogwa, ogeka, ogea, ogewa, ogesa, ogana, seldom if ever heard,—their place being supplied by ogopa, ogofya, &c.
(See follg., and cf. hofu, tisha, stuka,
-cha, v. As contrasted with hofu, oga refers more to the character and disposition, the mental attitude, hofu, to its direction and object, esp. apprehension of the future.)

-oga, a. cowardly, timid, nervous, easily frightened. Sometimes also as
n. for woga (uoga) (which see).
(Cf. oga, v. fear, and follg.)

Ogofisha, Ogofya, v. both used as Cs. of ogopa (which see), frighten, terrify, alarm, threaten, menace.
Ogofya, ogofyo (and mwogofyo, uogofyo), is also a n. generally used in the plur. maogofya, menace, threat, denunciation. (Cf. oga, ogopa, and syn. kamia, hofisha, tisha.)

Ogopa, v. be afraid (of), fear, feel fear. Ps. ogopwa. Ap. ogop-ya,
-ewa, e.g. akuta unyoge kwa kuogofya roho, he gets disgrace because of being afraid for his life. Cs.
ogof-isha, -ishwa, ogofya, i.e. frighten, terrify, threaten, menace. (For interchange of f and p see E, and cf.
gomba, ugomvi, iba, mutiv. For ya, as a Cs. form, cf. pona, ponya, and ya. Also cf. oga (2), and note.)

Oka, v. roast, toast, bake, i.e. prepare by applying fire only, not with water. Of pottery, burn, bake. Ps.
okwa. Nt. okeka. Ap. okea, okewa, and okelea. Cs. okeshaa, okeshwa. (Cf. joko, and for cooking pika, choma, kaanga.)

Okoa, v. save, rescue, deliver, preserve. Ps. okolewa. Nt. okoka.

Ap. oko-lea, -lewaa. Cs. oko-sa, -saa, intens. e.g. exert oneself to save, rescue, &c. Rp. okoana. (Cf.
wokovu, mwokizi, maokozi, also opoa, poma. Kr. connects it with oka, as a Rv. take off the fire, i.e. at the right time, keep safe and sound.)

Okota, v. (1) pick up, take up with fingers, hand, &c.; (2) light upon, come across, find by chance, get without exertion or anticipation.
E.g. of fishing, wakiokota ngwa, hugawana, if they come across a dugong, they divide it. Ps. okotwa.
Nt. okoteka, e.g. maji ikimwagika haiokoteki, spilt water cannot be (Cf. syn. zaa, kuta, vumbua, pata, and perh. oka.)

Ole, n. (no plur., but treated as D 4 (S), wolt, i.e. uole), usually with a pron. adj. as an exclamation of woe or pity, i.e. ole wanga! woe is me! ole wao! how sad for them!
Also mwenyi ole, a melancholy, sad, despondent person.

Olesha, v. also Oleza, shortened
Cs. of oga, for ogelesha. See Oga (1).

Olewa, v. Ps. of oa (which see),
be married.

Oleza, v. and Oleleza, make straight (even, level) with,—and so, follow a pattern, copy, imitate. Oleza kitu na kitu kingine, make one thing like another. (Cf. kiolezo. Not a usual word in Z. Cf. fuatisha, linganisha, sawasisha, i.e.)

Omba, v. beg (of), be a beggar, pray (to), request, ask (of),—with either person asked, or thing asked, as object, or both. Thus omba mtu, ask a person. Omba mtu kitu, ask a person for a thing. Also omba kitu kwa mtu, ask a thing of a person, e.g. imeomba nguo kwa bwana, I asked my master for clothes (cf. omba).
Nitiyvo tuombavvo, so we pray,—a common rejoinder on hearing good news. Ps. ombwa. Nt. ombeka, e.g. be asked, be a proper request.
Ap. omb-ea, -owa, usually in a restricted sense, e.g. ask on behalf of, plead for, intercede for, or petition against, rather than ask for (i.e. to have) or ask of (i.e. from). Thus kuwombea kwa Muungu, to intercede for him with God, is more usual than kuwombea baraka za Muungu, ask for God's blessing, or simply kuombea Muungu, pray to God.
Cs. omb-esh (ombesa), -eshwa, e.g.
cause to beg, instruct in prayers, &c.
Rp. ombana. (Cf. mwombi, mwombaji, maombi, mwombei, wumbezi, also syn. sali, shi, ulisa. In sali (sala), however, the outward form (ceremonial, ritual) of praying is the prominent idea, in omba, the object in view, in shi, the praying itself as an expression of felt need, an urgent appeal. Ulisa, 'is inquirer of, or for'.

Omboleza, v. bewail, lament,—in a ceremonial way. Used of formal chanting of dirges, &c. (Cf. maombolos, matanga, and perh. omba.)

Omo, n. (ma-), forepart of ship, bows, prow,—also called gubeti.
Pepoza omo, winds that carry forward, a wind astern, a fair wind. (Cf.
m'domo, mwomo, domo.)

Omoa, v. (1) dig up, dig out, break up, e.g. of breaking up soil with crowbars, &c.; (2) fig. disturb, weaken, cause trouble in, make confusion; (3) bring to light, reveal, show, begin, set on foot. E.g. omoa udongo, break up earth. Omoa viita, bring about a war. Ps. omolewa, e.g. mtu kuomolewa na tunda zake,
if a tree is dug up, so are its fruits.
Cs. om-esh, -eshwa. Rp. omoana.
(Not often heard in Z. Cf. chimbua, sukua, tekua, vumbua, and perh.
umua.)

Ona, v. used of any mode of perception by the senses or the mind, and hence with a wide range of meanings, viz. 1. of the senses. (1) of sight. Ona alone and unqualified by context usually means, see with the eyes, as contr. with other senses, e.g. kusikia si kuona, hearing is not the same as seeing. Ona (Imperat.), look, use your eyes (contr. tazama, fix your gaze upon, contemplate, angalia, observe, attend to). By a curious inversion, ona also is used for 'be transparent,' e.g. nguo hii inaona, this calico is transparent, i.e. one can see through it, it sees. (2) of the other senses, e.g. naona kishindo, I hear a noise. Naona harufu, I smell a smell. Naona mtu huu mgumu, I feel this wood is hard. Naona utamu wake, I taste its flavour. Naona kiusi (njaa), I am thirsty (hungry). (3) get to see, come on, find (cf. foll.).

(1) of feelings, very commonly with a defining noun, e.g. ona kiburi (huruma, haistra, uwivu, furaika, haya, mashaka, huzuni, &c.), I feel pride (pity, anger, jealousy; joy, shame, doubt, sorrow, &c.). (2) of other mental faculties,—observe, think, be of opinion, notice, discern, judge, consider, expect, fancy, imagine. E.g. naona,—very commonly alone,—I think so, certainly, probably, possibly, it is likely, perhaps. Naona nyani kusema, I observe an ape speaking. Naona utaona ajibu kuona barua hii, I think you will feel surprise at seeing this letter. Ps. onwa, of all the senses of the Act. Nt. oneka, e.g. (1) be seer, &c.; (2) be perceptible (visible, audible, tangible, &c.). So onekana, i.e. come into view, become visible, be apparent, be perceptible, appear, appear like, (as if), seem to be. Rf. jiona, (1) feel oneself, e.g. najiona nipo kwetu, I feel myself quite at home, I am quite at my ease; (2) commonly of affection, self-conscious pride, &c., i.e. be conceited (arrogant, ostentatious, affected), e.g. anajiona, he is conceited, proud of himself, showing off. Ap. on-eya, -eya, e.g. (1) see, feel, &c. with (for, at, by, in, against, &c.), e.g. nataka kijiona, I want to see for myself. Namwonea chuki, I am offended with him. Usimwonee makosa, do not visit his errors upon him. (2) commonly used alone in the restricted sense of an active expression of ill-feeling against, i.e. ill-treat, harass, persecute, oppress. Wale ndugu wakawavonea Siyalela, the sisters were hard on Cinderella. So also in Ps. onewa, be ill-treated, persecuted. Hence also a Rp. oneana, tease each other, as well as 'feel towards each other;' and a further Ap. verb-stem one-lea, -lewa, in the simpler sense 'feel towards.' Cs. (a) onya, Ps. onywa, (1) cause to see, show, display, e.g. nalinwonya njia, I showed him the road; (2) warn, admonish, reprove, nikamwonya asiende, I warned him not to go. Onya-onya kwa mikono, gesticulate. Hence onyeka, and onyeka, e.g. nimemwonya, lakini hakwoneka, I warned him, but he was incapable of taking a warning. (b) ony-esha, -esha, show, point out, demonstrate, make clear (for the simple onesh-a, which seems never used,—though formed from onya). Hence onyesh-ea, -ewa, e.g. (pass.) have a thing shown to one. Also onyana, of mutual warning. Rp. onana, see each other,—often of friendly meetings, cf. onana uso kwa uso, meet face to face; kwaheri ya kuona, good-bye till we meet again. (Cf. tazama, sikia, angalia, and mboni, oneo, onefu.)

Ondoa, v. (1) start off, set going off; (2) take (put, send, move) away, remove, take out of the way, set aside, dismiss; (3) do away with, abolish, finish off, conclude. Uniodoe nisimane, start me (help me) to get up. Akili nyingi huondoa maarija. Over-cleverness overrides prudence, wits are not wisdom. Darabaya kuondoa na kuweka, responsibility for removing or establishing. Ondoa nathari (ahadi), fulfil a vow, discharge a promise. Ondoa matanga, bring funeral ceremonies to an end. Ondoa thambi, remit sin. Ps. ondo-
INGTONA

Nt. ondoka, e.g. (1) go away, make a move, get out of the way, start off, set out (on a journey), depart, withdraw, retire; (2) rise up, get up, stand upright (as the first step to going off, &c.), e.g. often in beginning a story, paliondoka (or paliondokea) mtu, a man went (began, made a start). Ondoka mbele yangu, get out of my way. Ondoka katika ulimu-wengu, depart from this world, die. Alikwaa amelala, a-kaondoka anaketi, he was lying prostrate, but he rose (made a move) and sits up. Hence ondok- ea, -ewa, (1) make a move for (against, at, with, &c.), get out of the way of, esp. of rising up before, as a sign of respect, e.g. haondokewi, no respect is shown him; also (2) rise up, swell, protrude, stand out, become prominent, e.g. masiwa yaanza kunwondoka, her breasts begin to swell. Hence a further Ap. form ondokel-ea, -ewa, e.g. rise up and leave a place, and ondokeana. Ap. ondo- lea, -ewa, e.g. send (take, put) away for (by, with, at, &c.), i.e. remove from, deprive of, rid of, condone, forgive, &c. Ondolea heshima, disgrace, degrade. Ond. mashaka, rid of difficulties. Ond. huzuni, comfort, cheer. Ond. thambi, absolve from sin. Ond. hatiya, acquit, &c. Rp. ondoleana, ondoana. Cs. ondo-sha, -shwa, intens. send off, despatch, dismiss, cause to go away, do away with. Ondosha nanga, get up an anchor (commonly ng'oa). Ondosha mtumi-ishi, dismiss a servant, or despatch on an errand. (Cf. toa, weka, twaa, in various senses, and ma-ondokeo, maondoleo, and follg.)

Ondokeo, n. (ma-), departure, &c. More usual in plur. (Cf. prec.)

Ondoleo, n. (ma-), removal, &c. More usual in plur. (Cf. ondoa.)

Onefu, n. (ma-), ill-feeling, unkindness. (Cf. ona, onca.)

Oneo, n. (ma-), unkind treatment, persecution.

ONGEA

Nt. ongeza, e.g. (i) go away, make a move, get out of the way, start off, set out (on a journey), depart, withdraw, retire; (2) rise up, get up, stand upright (as the first step to going off, &c.), e.g. often in beginning a story, paliondoka (or paliondokea) mtu, a man went (began, made a start). Ondoka mbele yangu, get out of my way. Ondoka katika ulimu-wengu, depart from this world, die. Alikwaa amelala, a-kaondoka anaketi, he was lying prostrate, but he rose (made a move) and sits up. Hence ondok- ea, -ewa, (1) make a move for (against, at, with, &c.), get out of the way of, esp. of rising up before, as a sign of respect, e.g. haondokewi, no respect is shown him; also (2) rise up, swell, protrude, stand out, become prominent, e.g. masiwa yaanza kunwondoka, her breasts begin to swell. Hence a further Ap. form ondokel-ea, -ewa, e.g. rise up and leave a place, and ondokeana. Ap. ondo-lea, -ewa, e.g. send (take, put) away for (by, with, at, &c.), i.e. remove from, deprive of, rid of, condone, forgive, &c. Ondolea heshima, disgrace, degrade. Ond. mashaka, rid of difficulties. Ond. huzuni, comfort, cheer. Ond. thambi, absolve from sin. Ond. hatiya, acquit, &c. Rp. ondoleana, ondoana. Cs. ondo-sha, -shwa, intens. send off, despatch, dismiss, cause to go away, do away with. Ondosha nanga, get up an anchor (commonly ng'oa). Ondosha mtumi-ishi, dismiss a servant, or despatch on an errand. (Cf. toa, weka, twaa, in various senses, and ma-ondokeo, maondoleo, and follg.)

Ondokeo, n. (ma-), departure, &c. More usual in plur. (Cf. prec.)

Ondoleo, n. (ma-), removal, &c. More usual in plur. (Cf. ondoa.)

Onefu, n. (ma-), ill-feeling, unkindness. (Cf. ona, onca.)

Oneo, n. (ma-), unkind treatment, persecution.

Ongeza, n. only used in Z. in the sense, spend time, talk, gossip, idle, converse, pass time, waste time. No derivative stems in use. (Cf. maongesi, ongesa, and syn. zungumza, semezana, pisha wakati.)

Ongeza, v. Cs. increase, add to, make greater, multiply, magnify, enlarge. Ongeza manaeno, make a lengthy (or, additional) speech. Ongeza maongo, sometimes used for 'the back, back part' (of man or animals). (Cf. more usu. mongo, and ungo, maungo.)

Ongeza, v. cause to go right, guide, lead, set right, reform, correct, convert, make successful, prosper. Ongoa mtoto, give a child a good training. Useme naye hatta umwongoe, talk to him till you convert him. Ongoa mbele, lead forward. Ongoa njia, make the road straight, take a straight course on. Ungo hauongoi, a lie does not pay. Ps. ongoleta. Nt. ongoka, e.g. become straight, be set right, be well taught, prosper, be reformed, be converted, &c. E.g. vilimo haviko- ngoka, their plantings did not turn out well. Ongoka moyo, become a reformed character. Mtu umwongoka, the pole has become straight, is straight. Hence ongok- ea, -ewa, e.g. mvaka huu watu wameongokewa, this year people have been prosperous (cf. fanikiwa). Ongokea Muungu, be turned (directed) to God. Ap. ongo-lea, -lewa, ongoea, e.g. ongolea mto. ongoza, get a child to be tractable. Muungu amemwongolea kazi, God has granted success to his labours. Cs. ongo-ea, -ow, intens. make go right, drive forward, carry on vigorously. Ongosa kazi, do good work. Ongosa maneno, give a good turn to a discussion, clear up a statement. Ongosa kuku, drive fowls along a road. Hence ongosana, e.g. ng'one mbe zimeongosana, the cattle have worked their way on. Rp. ongo-ana. (Cf. mwongosi, kiongozi, ongofo, and perh. ongea, and even ongo, of which ongoa is possibly Rv., i.e. turn from wrong.

-ongofo, a. one who is set right, reformed, converted, well-conducted, well-trained, successful. (Cf. prec.)

Onja, v. (1) taste, take a taste of; (2) try, test, examine. E.g. onja unece, taste and see,—if a thing is good. Onja mitego, inspect traps. Ps. onjwa, Nt. onjika. Ap. onj-ea, -eua, e.g. muiko wa kuonjea asali, a spoon to taste the honey with. Cs. onj-esh, -eshwa. Rp. onjana. (Cf. maonji, mwanjo, kionja, nyonda, and jaribu.)

Opoa, v. (1) take (fetch, pull, draw) out; (2) fig. save, rescue, deliver. E.g. opoa ndoo kisimani, fish up a bucket out of a well. Opoa sumu, get poison out of the system,—by medicine. Ps. opolewa. Nt. opoka, e.g. be saved (rescued, cured). Ap. opo-lea, -lewa, e.g. chuma cha kuopolea, an iron hook (to pull with). Hence opo-ela, -eua. Cs. opo-sha, -shwa. Rp. opoana. (Cf. kiooto, and oko0, toa, pona.)

*Orofa, n. (—, and ma—), also Ghórofa, upper room, upper floor (story, flat) of a house. Nyumba ya orofo tatu, a house with three upper rooms (or, stories). (Arab. ghórofa, cf. chumba, davi, tababa, jiuu.)

Osha, v. Cs. of oga (see Oga, Ogesha), wash,—the most general term for washing anything, but for special kinds of washing see Fua (‘beat,’ of clothes), Nawa, Tawaza. Osha nguo, wash clothes (cf. josho, mwosho). Osha mwili (maita), wash the body (a dead body). Ps. oshwa. Nt. osheka, e.g. be washed, be washable, stand washing. Nguo za kuosheka, a good washing stuff. Ap. oshea, oshewa, e.g. unioshee nguo, wash my clothes for me. Mahali za kuosheka maiti, a place for washing corpses. Cs. oshea, oshewa. Rp. oshana. (Cf. oga, &c., and see above.)

*Osoia, v. also Usia, and Wosia (which see). (Ar.)

Ota, v. There appear to be three distinct verbs in this form, all common in restricted senses, and each with similar derived stems, viz. 1. grow, sprout, spring up,—usually of vegetable life, or of growth resembling it, e.g. of nails, hair, &c. (So also mea, but of animal growth usually kua.) E.g. mihindi inaota, the maize is springing up. Simba huota nyele za shingo, lions grow manes,—i.e. ota, in a semi-active sense. Hence Ap. otea, Cs. otesha, otoksha, e.g. cherish, tend, rear. (Cf. otea, and ?woto, vegetation, plant-life.) 2. (a) dream, have a dream; (b) be in a dreamy, dozing state, be half awake, be silly,—often with ndoto following. Derivs. as above. Rp. otana, dream about each other (cf. ndoto). 3. sit by (in, for), squat down at, often with jua, i.e. bask in the sun, or moto, sit close to a fire, warm oneself. Ap. otea, otewa, like ota, and also esp. lie in wait, form an ambush, look out for. (Cf. ?otea, an ambush, and otana, and perh. moto.
For sitting generally, kaa kitako, ketti.

OTAMA

OTAMA, v. squat, sit. (Seldom in Z. Cf. ota, 3, and perh. atomia.)

-ote, a. all, all the, the whole (of).
Like the a. -enyi, -enyewe, -inges, and sometimes -ema, -ote follows the so-called pronominal and demonstrative adjectives as to forms of agreement with nouns, i.e. wote, yote, zote, chote, pote, &c. (cf. huyu, and -angu), except that yote is the form agreeing with D t (S). -ote also takes the forms sote, nyote when associated with the pronouns sisi, ninyi. Nyumba yote, all the house, the whole house. Nyumba zote, all the houses. -ote is generalized by combination with a corresponding separate relative form, e.g. mtu ye yote, any man whatever. Watu wote, neno lo lote, &c. (cf. awaye yote, kiwacho chote). 'All,' in the sense of 'every individual,' is denoted by -ote-moja-moja, e.g. vitu vyote kimoja- kimoja, everything singly. (Cf. killa.)

OTOE

OTOE, n. (ma-), (1) growth, shoot, sprout (cf. ota, 1); (2) ambush, lying in wait (cf. ota, 3).

-ovu, a. bad,—usually in a moral sense, wrong, unprincipled, wicked, evil. If required to agree with nouns not of D 1, then usually -a unu, e.g. nyumba sa unu, wicked houses, not nyumba ovu. Mema na maovu ndio ulimwenye, the world is a mixture of good and bad. Contr. -bou, apparently from the same root, but of physical condition, e.g. nyumba mbou, dilapidated houses. Also cf. -baya, which includes the meanings of -ovu and -bou. (Cf. unu, and perh. oza, ovyo.)

OVOY

OVOY, n. and adv., trash, useless articles, rubbish, what is common and valueless. As adv. anyhow, recklessly, haphazardly, at random, extravagantly, foolishly. Mbanda ovo hula ovo, he who sows rubbish gets rubbish to eat. (Perh. cf. ovu.)

See Lowa, Lowama, Loweka, -lowefu.

OZA

OZA, v. (i) go bad, rot, putrefy, spoil, be corrupt. Tia dawa isioze, use medicaments to prevent putrefaction, use antiseptics, embalm (a corpse). Samaki moja akiosoa, wote wameza, if one fish is bad, all are. Ap. oz-ea, -eua. Cs. oz-esha, -eshua. (Cf. -ovu, -bovu, and pooza.) (2) Cs. of oa (which see), marry, and obs. in oa also a kindred form posa, poza).

P.

P represents the same sound as in English. At the beginning of some Swahili words it may be heard pronounced in an emphatic semi-explosive way (as t is in some words), which probably reflects a vanishing n sound before the p, as in pepo, plur. of upepo, for upopo. This difference is, however, never important and seldom noticeable in Z.

P before y is changed to f in some words, e.g. ogofya, Cs. of ogofa, fear, and afya, a Cs. of apa, swear.

P and B are hard to distinguish in some words as commonly pronounced, e.g. poromoka, pofu, and others. (Obs. these sounds are not distinguished in Arab.)

P sometimes represents the prefix pa- before an e or a. See PA-.

PA

PA, (1) is the form of the preposition -a, of, agreeing with D 7, i.e. mahali (pahali), place, or with a noun with the locative termination -ni, e.g. mahali pa mawe, a stony place, or, stony places. Mjini pa mgeni, in the foreigner's town. (2) used alone (not as a preposition) after mahali, represents (like the other pers. pfxs.) the verb-form ni, is, e.g. mahali hapa pa mere, this place is a good one. (3) is a verb-root, meaning 'give.' See PA, v.

PA-, P-, is the pers.-pfx. (1) of verbs and adjectives agreeing with D 7, i.e. mahali (pahali), place.
(2) and of adjectives agreeing with nouns which have the locative ending -ni, indicating position. (Ku-, kw-, and m-, mw- are also used with nouns in ni, but pa- is more general than m-, into, within, from within, and less general than ku-, which includes the whole environment, not position only.) (3) pa is also used of time, i.e. position in time, esp. in the relative form -po, and in the adv. hapa, pale, in which 'here, on the spot' and 'now, at once,' are often blended. See Po. (4) pa is also prefixed to verbs in a general sense, without definite reference to place, e.g. pana (palikuwa) mtu, there is (was) a man. Hapana, there is not, no. Palikwenda askari, a soldier went. (5) for this pfx. combined with the relative -o see Po. Cf. also papa, papo, hapo, hapo. E.g. mahali pake pema pampendesa, his good position pleases him. Shambani pangu, at my plantation. Mahali pale pasuri ndipo palipokuwapa mamba, that beautiful spot is where there were crocodiles. Pa- becomes p- in verbs before a, when a tense-sign, and in adjectives before -a, -e, and -o, e.g. pangu, pema, pote, and coalesces with an i following to form -e, e.g. pendi for pangi.

Pa, v. give to, bestow on, present with. As a rule, the simple stem pa is combined with an objective pfx. denoting a person, not a thing, i.e. it occurs only as nipata, kupa, mpa, tupa, wapa, jipa. Thus it may be regarded grammatically as a disyllabic root with varying initial syllable, and so does not follow the rule of monosyllabic verb-roots, as to the formation of tenses with ku-, i.e. the Infinitive form. See -fa, and Ku-. This restriction of the use of pa leads to the use of toa in its place, when all reference to a person as object is omitted, i.e. in the sense 'give, give away, bestow, distribute, present.' But toa is vague, and means 'take away' as well as 'give,' e.g. alitota nguo, he presented the garment, or, he removed, took away the garment. Nitolewa, it was given, or, it was withdrawn. See Toa. (Exceptions to the above rule are rare, e.g. Muungu hapi kwa mwa, God does not give (i.e. bless) by rain (only). Kitu kilichopewa na mtu, a thing which was given by some one.) Pa is often contr. with nyima, e.g. alionipa mimi, ndio aliokunyima wee, what he gave to me is what he took from you. Pa ngongo, turn the back on. -pa uso, face. -pa rathi, content, satisfy. -pa mkono, congratulate, condole with. -pa salamu, salute. Jipa varies with the idea attached to the Rf., e.g. jipa ujinga, play the fool, be purposely silly. Jipa mali, pretend to be rich. Jipa makus, be a grandee, make a foolish show. Jipa moyo, take heart, gain courage. Jipa salamu, consider oneself safe. Jipa ubwana, domineer, tyrannize,—and so on. See Ji. Ps. powa, and sometimes pawa, with a personal subject only,—be given, be presented with, receive as a gift, e.g. nimepewa, I have had a present. Nt. peka, seldom used. Ap.-pea, or -pia (and there is a Nt. palika as if from pa-lia), give to, &c. Sumu umenipiani? What, have you given me poison? Hence peana, piana, e.g. peana mikono (salamu), conclude a bargain, exchange greetings. Cs. (none in use). Rp. pana, e.g. ahadi (mikono, zawadi), make mutual promises (engagements, presents). (Cf. mpaji, kipaji, kipawa, and toa.)

Paa, v. (1) go up, ascend, mount, rise,—like panda, which is more common, and cf. kwea. Ps. pawa, Nt. palika. Ap. palia, palika, palowa, e.g. maji yanipala rohoni, phlegm rises in my throat, or nimepalwa na maji. Cs. paza, paliza, Pazwa, raise, cause to rise. Paza (paliza) sauti, lift up the voice, speak in a loud tone. Paza pumuzi, draw the breath in, inhale (shusha pumuzi, exhale). (Cf. panda, kwea, inua.) (2) (also para), scrape, scrape off, scrape up, e.g. paa samaki or magamba ya samaki, clean a fish for cooking by scraping off the scales. So of potatoes, gum copal, &c. Paa moto, convey fire, by getting a live ember on a sherd, i.e. twaa moto kwa kigai. Paa inchi, scrape, paw the ground, e.g. as a horse. Paa karala, clear off the cards, i.e. win a game (cf. para, paruza). Ps. pawa. Nt. palika. Ap. palia, palika, paluwa, palilia, paliliwa, (1) as above, e.g. unipalile samaki, clean the fish for me. (2) also esp. of cleaning ground under cultivation, i.e. which has been once hoed, i.e. 'collect weeds off, hoe the surface of the ground.' And palilia is used of the subsequent operations, piling grass (rubbish, weeds) in heaps, or round the roots of trees or plants, &c. Palil-iza, -iza, employ in cleaning-work. (3) fig. raise up for (against), stir up feeling, e.g. palilia ugonvi, raise a quarrel (cf. chochelea, vumbilia). Cs. paanza, paaza. Used of coarse grinding of grain, or pounding with a pestle and mortar (as contr. with saga, fine grinding between mill stones). Rp. paana. (Cf. para, paruza, and kuna, komba.)

Paa, n. (1) (—), a gazelle, esp. one of the very small species which alone exists in Zanzibar and the neighbouring islands, and so represents 'antelope' there, though there is no such generic name. (Names of antelopes, which reach Z. from the mainland, are kuru, mpou (posi), kulongu, kongoi (kuguni), mbawala (mbala), nyumbu, &c.) (2) (ma-), (a) the sloping thatched side of a native roof,—the smaller sides or ends being kipaa, (b) the roof of a hut (in general). Thus paa la makuti, a roof of cocoanut-leaf thatch. Paa la mgongo, a gable roof. Mapaa manne, a four-sided roof. (?Cf. paa, v., and panda, mount up, or follg.) (3) (ma—), bald part of the head, i.e. paa (or para) la kichwa. (Cf. upaa, and perh. paa, v. scrape.)

Paanda, Paango, n. See Panda, Pango.

Paza, v. grind coarsely,—of grain. (Prob. Cs. i.e. intensive form of paa (para), scrape (which see). (Cf. also paruza.)

Pacha, n. (—, and ma—), (1) a twin, one of twins; (2) something resembling another, counterpart, Zaa (zaliwa) pacha, bear (be born) twins. Pacha-pacha, like twins, similar, e.g. nyumba hizi ni pacha-pacha, these houses are a pair, exactly alike.

Pachika, v. secure in a particular position, fix, stick, e.g. p. mshale, adjust an arrow to the bowstring. P. kisu mishipini (kiunoni), stick a knife into the girdle (at the waist). Shada la mava la kujipachika sikioni, a nosegay to wear over the ear. Also jipachika, sit astride of, bestride. Ps. pachikwa. Other derivs. seldom occur, e.g. Nt. pachikia. Cs. pachikisha. (Cf. futika, chomeka, and obs. Nt. termination with Act. meaning.)

*Padre, n. (ma—), a clergyman, a priest. (Portug. Cf. Ar. kasisi, kuhani.)

Pafu, n. (ma—), a lung,—esp. of a dead animal, i.e. a butcher's or doctor's term. (Cf. kifua, and pumu, of the living organ.)

Pagaa, v. (1) carry,—esp. as a load, on head or shoulders, but also more generally, e.g. of charms worn on the neck; (2) used of the influence or power of an evil spirit over a man, possess (i.e. perh. carry along against his will). Ps. pagawa, e.g. amepagawa na pepo, he is possessed by a spirit. Cs. paga-za, -za, e.g. (1) cause to carry a load, engage as a porter; (2) bring evil on, i.e. illness, calamity, an evil spirit. (Cf. mpagazi, upagazi, and follg., and syn. chukua, the common word for 'carry' in Z.,—pagaa being only used in restricted senses as above.)

Pagao, n. a charm (against possession by a spirit, or other calamity). (Cf. prec. and upagazi, hirizi, talasimu.)

Pagua, v. lop, prune, strip off, e.g.oughs, leaves, stalks, fibres,—of trees. Ps. paguliwa. Ap. pagu- lia, -liwa. (Cf. poga,—prob. a variant of the above.)

*Pahali, n. (—), place, spot, position, situation, locality. (Ar. mahali, whence the common mahali,—altered to pahali to suit the B. locative prefix pa.)

Paja, n. (ma—), thigh, ham, of human beings,—kiweo usually of animals. Also plur. of upaja, with same sense.

Paji, n. (ma—). P. la uso, forehead. Also called kikomo cha uso, and kipaji. (Dist. follg.)

—paji, a. liberal, generous, open-handed. (Cf. pa, kipaji, upaji, mpaji, and syn. karimu.)

Paka, n. (—, or ma—, according to size), a cat. Paka ndume, a tomcat. A half-wild cat in a town is sometimes called mnunda. Dim. kipaka.

Paka, v. (1) also Pakaa, apply, lay (on), spread (on), usually of some greasy or adhesive substance, i.e. daub, smear, anoint, paint on, e.g. paka moto mufluta, smear a child with oil (ointment). P. rangi, paint. P. chokaa, plaster. P. udongo, plaster with mud (clay, earth). Ps. pakwa. Ap. pakia, e.g. of an instrument used for painting, &c. (but dist. pakia, put on board ship). Cs. pakaa-sa, -swa, intens. smear, rub on, e.g. hitpakasa moto daawa mwili mzima, they smear the child's whole body with medicaments. (Perh. cf. kipaku, a patch, spot, smear, and ?pakua.) (2) mark the boundary of, fix the bounds of. Paka shamba, mark the bounds of an estate. No Ps. or other deriv. stems seem in use, except Rp. pakana, have a common boundary, be adjacent, adjoin, be next to each other,—with a Cs. pakanisha, lay out side by side, cause to adjoin. Other parts are supplied by mpaka with various verbs. (Cf. mpaka.)

Pakacha, n. (ma—), (1) a light basket,—used for carrying fish or fruit, &c., made by plaiting part of a cocanut leaf. (Cf. kikapo.) (2) night-robber, one who waylays passers-by. (Cf. mwivi, mnyangani.)

Pakanya, n. rue (Str.).

Pakata, v. hold a child on the knee, lap, or shoulder. Ps. pakatwa. Nt. pakatika, e.g. moto huyn hapakatiki, afurukuta, there is no holding this child, he is so restless. Ap. pakat-ia, -iwa. Cs. pakat-isha, -ishwa. (Perh. cf. paka, v., and for the termination -ta, ambata, fubanta, kamata, &c.)

Pake, a. form of -ake, his, her, its,—agreeing with D7 (mahali), and locatives in -ni.

Pakia, v. put (take) on board a vessel,—of passengers or cargo, ship, load a ship with, embark, have on board, stow, pile up. Wakahanya merikebu, ikapakia vyakula, they built a vessel, and it was loaded with provisions. Ps. pakia, be loaded, have on board. Ap. paki- lia, -liwa, (1) ship goods (a cargo, passengers, &c.) to (for, in, by, &c.). Also paki-li-za, -swa, ship, have shipped, see to the shipping of, contract for freight for, &c. (2) also, lay upon, charge up, lay to the charge of, put on the shoulders of, and more generally, pile up, make heaps of. Hence pakiliana, (1) load one on the top of another, pile up in heaps, and (2) of mutual recrimination, countercharges, &c. Cs. pakia-za, -swa, get freight stowed on board, see to shipping, contract for freight, with either the vessel (cart, vehicle, boat, &c.) loaded, or the cargo (load, freight), as object. Pakiza gari, load a cart. Pakiza nasi, ship coconuts. Vitu vipakizawayo, exports. Jipakiza, take on one's own conscience, charge oneself with, undertake, be responsible for. Pakiana, get themselves on board, huddle together on board. (Cf. upakizi, upakio, pakua, and perh. paka, v.)

Pako, a. form of -ako, your, yours, —agreeing with D 7 (mahali) and locatives in -ni. (Cf. pa-, -ako.)

Paku, n. (ma-), usually in the dim. form kipaku (which see), a patch, spot, smear, &c. (Cf. paka, v.)

Pakua, v. RV. of pakiia, take out, take off, unload, e.g. tukapakua vitu katika mashua, and we unloaded the luggage from the boat. Commonly of taking cooked food off the fire,—dish up, serve up, bring on the table. Ps. pakuliwa. Nt. pakulikuia, e.g. be fit for serving up. Ap. pakul-ia, -iwa. Cs. pakul-isha, -ishua, -liza. Rp. pakuna. (Cf. pakia.)

Pakuogea, n. i.e. mahali p., a place to wash in, bathroom. (So pakuingilia, entrance, access; pakutokea, outlet, exit.)

Palama, v. be unproductive, be unprofitable, e.g. of a tree, which does not bear well, or a town where trade is bad. (Not common, and no common derivatives.)

Pale, a. form of the demonstr. -le,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali) and locatives in -ni, that, that yonder. As an adv. there, in that spot, then, at that time. So pale-pale, on the spot, at once, just then, just there. Pale indicates distance, and great distance is indicated by prolonging the last vowel and raising the pitch of the voice proportionately, i.e. pale-t-e. (Cf. mle, kule, papa, hapa, hapo.)

Palia, Palilia, Paliza, &c. See Pas, v.

Paliwuva, v. Past Tense of -wu, v. be, with pfx. pa, of place. Often with na in narrative, e.g. palikuwa na mitu, there was once a man. (Cf. pana, there is, and na.)

Palu, n. (ma-), also Paru, a sweetmeat made of bhang, or opium, with sugar, &c.

Pamba, n. (—), (1) cotton, the produce of the cotton plant, mpamba. Nguo ya pamba, cotton cloth, calico. (Cf. sufi, tree cotton.) (2) sometimes for the common pambio (which see), ornament, furniture, fittings. (Cf. follg.)

Pamba, v. adorn, deck out, decorate, embellish,—and of a house, furnish, fit for occupation. Pamba maaiti, prepare a corpse for burial. Jipamba, put on a gay dress (ornaments, &c.). Ps. pambwa. Nt. pambika. Ap. pamb-ia, -iwa, e.g. give a finishing touch to, finish off, e.g. a dish of food for the table. Cs. pamb-isha, -ishua, e.g. undertake to decorate, furnish, &c. Rp. pambana (but see Pambana). (Cf. pamo, mpambe, mpambi, mpambaji, and syn. rembesha, urembo.)

Pambana, v. come together, get into contact,—whether pleasant or otherwise,—thus of ships (1) go abreast, lie alongside, or (2) collide, fall foul of each other, jostle together. Ap. pamban-ia, -iwa. Cs. pamban-isha, -ishua, e.g. (1) set side by side, bring together, exhibit, compare; (2) set in contrast, cause conflict (opposition, contradiction, confusion) in (or, among), e.g. pambaniha manono, make conflicting statements, show to be contradictory, &c., and of persons, make trouble between, set at variance. Also pambanya, of persons and things, brow-beat, talk down, discredit, shake the evidence of, &c. (Seems to have no
PAMBANUA

Pambanua, v. Rv. of pambana, draw apart, pick out, separate from others, and so, discriminate, distinguish, select, clear up, explain. Ps. pambanulivwa. Nt. pambanuka. Ap. pambanu-la, -liwa. (Cf. syn. eleza, fajana, and follg.)

Pambazua, Pambauka, Pamba-uko. See Pambazua, &c.

Pambazua, v. seems to be an irreg. Cs. connected with pambanua, make clear, explain, e.g. p. maneno, speak plainly, make a case clear. Nt. pambazuka is chiefly used in a purely physical sense, of the dawn,—become clear, get light, be daytime. Kume pambazuka, morning has come. Hence pambazukia, dawn upon, e.g. tumepambazukiwa, dawn has risen upon us, it has found us asleep, we are late in getting up. (For dawn, cf. cha, v., and follg.)

Pambazuko, n. (ma-), dawn, light of morning. (Cf prec., also weupe, assubuhi, alfajiri.)

-pambé, a. adorned, dressed up, decorated, e.g. mnara mpambé, a decorated tower. (Cf. pambá, and mpambé.)

Pambo, n. (ma-), ornament, decoration, embellishment,—and so of a house, fittings, furniture,—of dress, finery, jewellery, fine clothes, &c. (Includes any kind of personal and other adornment. Cf. urembo, for various kinds, and syn. uzuri; also valia from vaa, v., pamba, and follg.)

Pamoja, a. form of -moja,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali), and locatives in -ni, one, the same. Also as adv., at one place, at one time, all together, unanimously. Pamoja na, together with, at the same place (time) as, in company of. (Cf. -moja, mamoja.)

Pana, verb-form,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali), there is, it has. (Cf. kuna, mna, and see Pa-, Na.)

-pana, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), broad, wide, flat, level. Inchi pana-pana, a flat country, a plain (cf. sawa). Bahari pana-pana, broad, open sea. Mapana is used as a n., breadth, broad (flat) side. Kwa mapana, breadth-wise, across. (Cf. upana, panua, and dist. -nene, thick, i.e. of measurement through an object, while -pana is rather of measurement of a surface, across an object.)

Pano, verb-form, like kunako, mnamo, where there is (are, was, were), or, there is (are, was, were) there,—according as -po represents the relative or demonstrative. (Cf. pa, na, pana, po.)

Panda, v. A. (1) go up, ascend, climb, mount, get upon, ride upon (cf. kwea); (2) fig. rise (of price), increase (in number, weight, quantity, &c.) (cf. zidi); (3) cover (of a male animal). Panda chomboni, go on board a vessel (also ingia). Chombo kimepanda pwani (nwamba), the vessel has run ashore (on a rock). Panda frasi (juu ya frasi), mount a horse, get on horseback. Mpanda frasi wawili, hujishuka miguu mi-wili, he who mounts on two horses comes down with his two feet. Atampanda huyu shetani, this evil spirit will come out of him. Panda mti (juu ya mti), climb up a tree. Ps. pandua. Nt. pandika. Ap. pand-ia, -iwa, e.g. get up with (to, by, &c.). Ngasi ya kupandia, a ladder to get up by. Cs. pandisha, -ishwa, also panza, e.g. cause to go up, raise, hoist, increase. Panza mtambo (na bunduki), cock, the trigger (of a gun). Amekipanza
PANDA 303  PANGU

chombo mwamba, he ran the vessel on a rock. Rp. pandana, get on one another, and so (e.g.) overlap, cross each other, lie across each other. (Cf. pitana, kingamana, paliana.) Hence pandani-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. pandio, paa, kwea.) B. sow, plant, set in the ground (whether seed or plant). Obs. pandikiwa, be grafted. Pandik-iza, -iwa, graft, e.g. pandikiza chipukizi la mchungwa, graft a cutting from an orange tree. But possibly this should be bandikiza, see Bandika. (Other derived stems as above. Cf. mpansi, mpandi, mpandaji, mpando, pando.)

Panda, n. (1) (—, and ma-), parting, division, fork, bifurcation, e.g. njia ya p., or njia p., the place where a road divides, or where roads meet, cross-ways. Panda za mto, branches (arms) of a river. Panda za mti, arms of a tree. Kijiti cha panda, a forked stick, for getting down fruit from a tree. (2) a cross-piece, e.g. short arm of a cross (transplant of a church). (3) a trumpet. Piga panda, blow a trumpet.

Pande, n. (1) (ma-), a big piece (part, side), block, mass, lump, e.g. p. la chuma, a bar (or lump) of iron; p. la mti, a block of wood; p. la jitu, a huge giant. (2) plur. of upande (which see). (Cf. kipande, and prec.)

Pandio, n. (ma-), means (act, method) of climbing, e.g. steps cut in a cocoanut stem.

Panga, v. (1) set in a line, put in order, arrange. E.g. panga mizigo, set down loads in a row. Panga asikari, draw up soldiers in line. Ps. pangwa. Nt. pangika. Ap. pang-ia, -iwa, e.g. arrange for (at, in, with, &c.). Hence pangili-ia, -iwa, set rows upon rows, i.e. interpose, intersperse, put in between rows, put in alternate places, e.g. pangiliali mapando, plant crops in regular order, or rotation. Cs. pangisha, often intens., e.g. pangisha watu karamuni, see that guests are duly arranged at a feast. Rp. pangana, e.g. of people arranging themselves in rows, as soldiers, guests, &c. Also pangana safu, fall into line, dress,—of soldiers. (2) hire, rent, take for use on hire. P. nyumba, hire a house. P. moto, borrow a light for a fire. Panga also seems used to mean, let on hire,—the same transaction from another point of view, see below. Ps. pangwa, be let on hire, e.g. a house. And sometimes of the person hiring, get on hire. Nt. pangika. Ap. pang-ia, -iwa. Cs. pang-isha, -ishwa, e.g. get a person to hire, let, or, get a person to hire, allow to hire, let to a person. Nimempangisha nyumba, I have let a house to him, or, I have rented a house from him. Unipangise, allow me to hire. (Cf. mpango, kodi, kodisha, ajiri.)

Panga, n. (ma-), a kind of shell-fish, bivalve with broad, flat, sharp-edged shell. (Cf. upanga, a sword, but dist. its plur. panga.)

Pangilio, n. (ma-), interposition, succession, alternation, rotation, e.g. mapangilio la mapando, rotation of crops. Also of a vein, or lode, of metal, &c. enclosed in rock. (Cf. panga, v.)

Pangine, Panginepo, a. and adv., also Pengine, form of -ngine, -inge,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali) or locatives in -ni. Also as adv. elsewhere, anywhere. (Cf. -ngine, -inge, and pa-.)

Pango, n. (—, and of size, ma-), a hollowed-out place, natural recess, cave, grotto, den, hole, lair of an animal, esp. of a large one. Dim. kipango, e.g. of a rat hole. (Cf. shimo, tunudu.)

Pangu, a. form of -angu,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali), and locatives in -ni. (Cf. -angu, and pa-.)
Pangua, v. cut off at a single stroke, slash off, remove with one sweep of the arm. (Cf. upanga.)

Pangusa, v. wipe, brush, rub clean, dust, e.g. with a brush or cloth. Pangusa vumbi katika vyombo hivi, wipe the dust off these articles. Ps. panguswa. Nt. pangusika. Ap. pangus-ia, -iwa. Cs. pangus-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. fula, sugua.)

Panja, n. (ma-), forehead, from which the hair is brushed away on both sides. (Cf. shungi.)

Panua, v. also sometimes Panya, make broad, broaden, widen, spread apart, open out. Panua miguu, sit with legs apart,—also, take long strides. Panya mwanya, make a wide gap—between teeth, for beauty. Ps. panuliwa. Nt. panuka. Ap. panu-ia, -iwa. (Cf. -pana, namua.)

Panya, n. (—, and of size, ma-), a rat,—of any common kind. Dim. kipanya, a young rat, a mouse. Paka akiondoka, panya hutawala, when the cat is away, the rat is king. (Cf. buku, the very large Zanzibar rat. Dist. panya, Cs. form for panua.)

Panza, v. Cs. of panda, for pandisha.

Panzi, n. (ma-), (1) a grasshopper; (2) a flying-fish; (3) panzi ya nasi, the thin brown rind of the kernel of the coconuut (Str.). Cf. panda, v.)

Pao, n. (ma-), (1) long thin pole used in making the roof of a native hut, laid across the larger poles (kombamoyo) used as rafters, and carrying the thatch; (2) long thin pieces of iron, whether flat or round, e.g. pao za chuma, rod iron, iron bars; (3) clubs (in cards, Str.). (Cf. upao, pawa, and ufito.)

Pao, a. form of -ao, their, theirs, agreeing with D 7 (mahali) and locatives in -mi. (Cf. -ao, pa-)

Papa, v. A. (1) tremble, palpitate, flutter, e.g. of the heart,—and so (2) be agitated, doubtful, anxious. Papa roho, have a throbbing of the heart, e.g. after running, or a fright. (Cf. patatika, and syn. puma, pigapiga, tekineka.) B. allow exudation, be porous, let through (a liquid). (In Z. chuja, vuja are usual.)

Papa, n. (—), a shark. (Sac. gives twenty names of different varieties. Though common in the surrounding waters, large sharks very rarely visit the roadstead of Z. Dried shark, papa kavu, is a favourite relish, and largely imported from the north.)

Papa, adv. Used to strengthen hapo (which see), to which it is prefixed. Thus papa hapo, just here, at this very place, at this very time, now, on the spot. (Cf. mumu humu, kuku kuku, and pa-)

Papai, n. (ma-), a papaw, fruit of the papaw tree, mpapai,—one of the commonest fruits of Z.

Papasi, n. (ma-), a kind of tick. (Cf. kupa.)

Patatika, v. flutter, move convulsively, flap the wings wildly, e.g. of a fowl. (Cf. papa, v.)

Patatua, v. remove the husk or shell (of a vegetable or fruit), e.g. patatua maganda ya mbaazi, shell beans. Nt. patatuka. (Cf. ambua, pua, menyia, fua.)

Payayuka, v. be delirious, talk nonsense, chatter foolishly (unintelligibly). Cs. payuyu-isha, -iwa. (A Rd. form of payuka, which see.)

Papi, n. plur. of upapi (which see).

Papia, v. eat voraciously, greedily, without regarding or waiting for others. (Cf. syn. kula kwa papa, and puka, from which papia seems formed, papo, adv. related to papa, adv. (which see), as mumo to mumu, kuko to kuku,—with hapo following, i.e. papo hapo, also papo kwa papo, in that place or time referred to, there, then.

papo, n. (ma-), a throb, flutter, palpitation, e. g. of the heart, papo la moyo. (Cf. papa, v. and papatiko.

papuri, n. (ma-), thin cakes flavoured with asafoetida (Str.).

para, v. also paa, v. (which see), scrape. Rd. parapara, e. g. of a horse pawing the ground. —n. (1) (—), a scraping, sliding, gliding (cf. mparuso); (2) (ma-), cake of semsem (Str.); (3) baldness, a bald patch on the head. (Cf. paa, n.) Para la kichwa, a bald, or shaved, head.

parafujo, n. a screw, i. e. nail with a spiral groove, —also msomari wa parafujo.

paraga, v. swarm up a tree, climb by grasping with arms and legs, i. e. kwa kwa mikono na miguu. (Perh. the idea is 'scrape up' a tree, and so cf. paa, para, v. and paruga.) paru, n. (ma-). See Palu.

paruga, Paruza, v. (1) be rough, be grating, graze, grate, grind coarsely; (2) fig. be harsh (to), be unfeeling (towards). Paruza kiberi, strike a match. Ps. paruzwa. Ap. paruz-ia, -iwa. Rp. paruzana, e. g. of boats scraping against each other. (Cf. paa, para, v. and paraga.)

paruparu, adv. roughly, coarsely, —used of rough, untidy work, wanting care and finish. (Cf. parusa, mparuso, and buruga.)

Pasa, v. concern, befit, be due (to), behove, be a duty, be binding, be of obligation,—including all degrees of moral obligation. Often used in an impersonal way, e. g. yapaswa, imepasa, it is right, it is a duty, it is proper. Also imenipasa, it is my duty, I am bound. Imekupasaje? How does it concern you? Ps. paswa, e. g. tumepaswa kwenda, it is our duty to go. Ap. pasia, pasiwa, e. g. ada ziliompasia jumbe, the customary privileges of the chief. famaa zake waliompasia, the relations who had a claim on him. Killa neno tiliompasia maiti, every proper attention to the corpse. Pasiwa athabu, be liable to punishment. Cs. pas-isha, -ishwa, e. g. pasisha huhumu, pass sentence on, give judgement on, condemn. Rp. pasana, be bound to each other, be under mutual obligations, belong to each other. (Cf. for moral obligation, bidi, juzu, wajibu, wia, funga.)

Pasha, v. Cs. of pata (which see).

Pasi, n. (—, or ma-, an iron, —for ironing clothes. Piga pasi ngwuo, iron clothes. (Hind.)

-pasi, a. money-making, avaricious, ambitious, pushing. (Cf. pata, pato.)

Pasipo, verb-form (person-pfx. of place pa-, negative sign si, relative of place or time -fo), 'where there is not,' used most frequently in a prepositional sense, 'without.' Pasipo hifu, without fear, fearless, safe. Pasipo ngwuo, without clothes. (Cf. *kuliko,—used as 'than' in comparisons, and syn. Ar. billa.)

Pasiwe, verb-form, negat. subjunct. of wa, v., be, agreeing with D 7, i. e. may there not be, that there may not be, without there being.

Pata, v. The general meaning is 'get,' with a wide range of application to persons and things. Thus (1) get, obtain, find, catch, get hold of, seize, secure, attain; (2) get to be, get at, get to, reach, find means to effect a purpose, succeed in doing; (3) happen to, come upon; (4) be the victim of, suffer, experience. E.g. p. mali, get rich; p. faida, get profit; p. hasara, suffer loss; pata ngwv, get strong; p. homa, get fever,—thus nimepata homa, I have got fever, or homa imenipata, fever has seized me, or nimepatwa na homa, I am seized with fever. P. inch, reach a country, arrive at land. Jiwe likampata mtoto, the stone hit the child. Kisu chaypata, the knife cuts. Shoka hili halipati, this axe does not cut. Nikapata kijana wa miaka miwili, I became a child of two years old. Of time, hawakupata mwesi mmoja, illa walitikia Sultan ti amesariki, they did not pass a month before they heard the Sultan was dead. Haukupata mwaka, before a year passed. Sometimes kupata is used absolutely as a kind of conjunction. Kupata njiani mwenzet akakamatwa na simba, as it happened, on the way our companion was seized by a lion. Pata is specially common in connexion with another verb, in a semi-auxiliary sense, like kwisha, the other verb sometimes following without the Infinitive prefix, e.g. faka kujua, or merely pata jua, get to know, find out. Nimepata kufanya, I have succeeded in doing it, I have done it. And in the Subjunctive, it often has the force of a final conjunction, 'in order to, so as to, to get to, so that.' Akaenda apate kuona, and he went in order to see. Ps. patwa, e.g. be got, be seized, be a victim, suffer, esp. of a calamity, illness, &c. E.g. patwa na homa, be attacked by fever; patwa na hasira, be seized with fury; patwa na msiba, be the victim of a misfortune. Also used of an eclipse, mwezi umepatwa, the moon is got hold of, i.e. eclipsed. Nt. patika, e.g. (1) be got; (2) be getable, be to be had, be procurable, be obtainable,—but this is commonly patikan. Patika kosani, be caught in a fault. Ap. pat-ia,-iwa, e.g. get for (by, with, in, &c.),—also often, get up to, overtake, attain to. Hence several further derivatives, with specialized meanings, —patil-ia,-iwa, e.g. patilia hasira, get angry with; patil-iza,-izwa, without a noun, cause to get,—usually of some unpleasant consequence, i.e. visit something upon, take vengeance on, remember something against, punish. Muungu alimpatilizia Barao maovu yake, God visited Pharaoh for his iniquities. And a further Rp. patilisana, of angry recrimination, each trying to inflict something on the other. Cs. pasha (or patisha, cause to get, cause to have, &c. Pasha moto, make warm, heat. Pasha fetha, give (lend) money to. Bariai inekupasha homa, cold has given you fever. Ntampasha habari, I will inform him (cause him to have the news). Rp. patana, get each other,—commonly used as 'come to terms, strike a bargain, agree, be reconciled, work harmoniously, harmonize, correspond.' (Cf. mapatano, and syn. lingana, suliki, ashe.) Also Cs. patan-isha,-ishwa, reconcile, arrange terms between, make peace among. (Cf. -pasi, pato, upatilizo.) Pata, n., or Patta, a hinge. (Probably a foreign word, cf. bawaba.) Patasi, n. (—), a chisel. (Cf. juba, chembeu.) Pati, n. name of a kind of coloured cloth. Patiliza, v. Cs. See Pata. Pato, n. (ma-), (1) something got, an acquisition; usu. in plur. mapato, gains, receipts, profits, income, revenue (cf. pata, v.); (2) a large flat gong of metal, commonly brass. (Cf. upato.) Paua, v. used of preparing the roof of a native hut, viz. fixing the cross-sticks (pao) to which the thatch is fastened. Ps. nyumba, roof a house. Ps. pauita. Nt. pauka. Ap. pau-tia, -tiwa, e.g. ufito wa kupaaulia nyumba, a stick suitable for roofing. (Cf. pao, upao, and paa, a roof.)

Páuni, n. a pound,—weight or value. (From the English 'pound'.)
Pawa, n. plur. of upawa, ladle. Dim. kipawa (which, however, also means 'present, a thing given,' but not in Z.)

Payo, n. (ma-), foolish talk, chatter, nonsense, gossip, blabbing; also of wandering of the mind, delirium. Mwenyi payo, a talkative, gossiping person. Ana payo, he is always talking, lets out secrets, does not control his tongue. So sema mapayo, talk idly, mischievously, &c. (Cf. payuka, papayuka, mpaya.)

Payuka, v. talk foolishly (idly, indiscreetly, unintelligibly, &c.), talk nonsense, blurt out secrets, blab, be delirious. Cs. payu-sha,-shwa, e.g. tembo limempausha, palm-wine has loosed his tongue. Homa inampausha, fever makes him delirious. (Cf. prec.)

Pazia, n. (ma-), a curtain, screen (of calico, &c.), awning. (Cf. chandalua.)

Pea, v. become fully grown, be completely developed, attain to the highest point (limit, acme of perfection). Tutasame hatta tende sitakapoera, let us watch till the dates are fully ripe. (In Z. the Nt. form pevuka is commonly used, or the syn. sitawu. Cf. upeo, kipeo, -penu.)

Peke, a word used in Z. only with a possessive adjective following, of the form agreeing with D 6 (S), and attaching to an object, state, or action, the attribute of singleness, loneliness, uniqueness. E.g. mimi peke yangu, I alone, I only, I by myself. Nguo hii ni peke yake, this calico is the only one of the kind.

Wakaa peke yako, you live alone. So peke yetu (yenu, yao). -a peke yake, or -a peke, single, alone, unique, sui generis. Mtu wa peke yake, a unique individual, one who has no rival. Jambo la peke yake, an extraordinary, unprecedented circumstance. (Cf. pekee, upweke, and ukiwa.)

Pekecha, v. produce, or affect, by turning something with the hands, and so (1) bore a hole, drill, i.e. pekecha tundu,—with a pointed knife, drill, &c. (cf. zua, tumbua, toboa); (2) produce fire, i.e. pekecha moto, e.g. wakapekecha moto wakawasha, they used the firesticks, and lighted a fire, by rapidly twirling a pointed stick (upekecha) in a hole in another stick; (3) fig. excite bad feeling, bore, exasperate, e.g. by abuse, noise, or sorcery, &c.; and (4) make a mess of, spoil, e.g. pekecha, kazi, bungle a job (cf. boruga, chapua, fujo). (Cf. upekecho. Sometimes peka is heard for pekecha, and upeko.)

Pekee, n. (in Z. usually upweke, upkeche), being single, singular, alone, lonely, isolated, unique, different from everything else. Mtu wa peke, a solitary man. Mwenda pekee, a solitary (and so) dangerous animal. (Cf. peke, upweke. Pekee represents peke yake.)

Peketeka, v. be arrogant, be scornful, be high and mighty. Ap. peketek-ëa, -eëa, treat with scorn, be insulting (or, contemptuous) to. (Poss. fig. from pekecha, peketë, be stirred up, inflated, conceited. Cf. follg.)

-peketevu, a. scornful, provoking, making discord. (Cf. prec. and pekecha.)

Pekua, v. (1) scratch up, scratch about, e.g. like a hen; (2) fig. be curious, inquisitive, prying. Ps. pekuliwa. Nt. pekuliika. Ap. pekulia, e.g. hunt for, pry into. (Cf. follg. and upekusi.)

-pekuzi, a. curious, inquisitive, prying. (Cf. prec. and dadisi.)
Pele, n. plur. of upele (which see), sores.

Peleka, v. sometimes peeka, peka, cause to go, send, take, convey, conduct, transmit, move, &c., both of persons and things. Dist. tuma, employ, use, send, which is limited (in the simple form) to the use of personal service, though tumia is used of an instrument. Thus ntapetuleka mtu kupeleka mzigo kwako, I will employ a man to convey the load to your house. Ntapatuleka mtu na mzigo, I will send a man with the load. Baniani amapeleka mali kwa kutuma watu wawili, the Banian has sent the money by employing two men. Peleka mkono, move the hand in a given direction, apply the hand, set to work. Ps. pelekwa. Ap. pelek-ea, -ewa, e.g. send to (for, by, in, &c.). Hence pelekeana. Rp. pelekania, e.g. accompany each other, all go together. (Cf. mpelekwa, and tuma.)

Pemba, n. an island near Zanzibar, famous for its cloves. (Wapemba, the people of Pemba. Kipemba, the dialect of Pemba.)

Pemba, v. (1) grasp with a hook, grapple, hook down, e.g. of fruit, pemba embe, get mangoes down with a hook; (2) fig. take by a device, outwit, entrap, catch. (Cf. upeumbo)

Pembe, n. (—), (1) horn, of an animal,—also the substance generally. Pembe ya nyoka, snake’s horn,—a small white one, considered a valuable medicine (Str.), (2) tusk of an elephant, also ivory generally (cf. kalasha, buri, for tusks of different sizes,—buri, the larger). (3) a projection, angle, corner. (4) various articles of horn, esp. powder-flask, tukamvulia pembe tukampa, we took off his powder-horn, and gave it to him. Pembeni, in a corner. -a pembe, -enyi pembe, pembepepembe, with many angles (corners, projections). Pembe za inchi, the uttermost parts of the land, quarters of the globe. Pembe za mwaka, the seasons of the year. (Cf. mwaba.)

Pembo, n. plur. of upepbo (which see). (Cf. pemba, v.)

Penda, v. like, love, choose, wish, will. Ps. pendwa. Nt. pendeka, e.g. be loved, be lovable, be popular. Cs. pendekeza, cause to be loved, excite affection for. Jipendekeza, make oneself pleasant, ingratiate oneself. Ap. pende, e.g. love for (on account of, with, in, &c.), whence pendewa, e.g. pendewa uzuri, be loved for beauty, and pende, have a special liking (predilection, bias, propensity) for, be partial to, favour, with Ps. pendelewa. Also penderleka, penderleza, -ezwa, cause to favour, commend to favour, prepossess in favour (of), recommend, with further deriv. penderlez-ea, -ewa, -eka. Cs. pendesa, please, be pleasing (popular, attractive, amiable, &c.), cause to like (love, prefer). Hence pendewa, pendeza, e.g. please with (for, in, &c.), and pendeza, be pleased with (something), be pleased. Also pendeza-sha, -shwa, e.g. cause to please, make popular, &c. Also pendesana, be mutually agreeable, and pendesana-isha, -ishwa. Ap. pendana, love each other, whence pendan-isha, -ishwa, cause to be friends, reconcile. (Cf. among other derivatives, pendo,
-Penda

Penda, a. loving—with n. following, e.g. mtoto mpenda sukali, a child who likes sugar. (Cf. penda, v.)

Pendu, -pendelefu, a. kind, loving, inclined to favour, sympathetic. (Cf. penda.)

Penge, n. (—, and ma—), love, liking. Also plur. of upendo. (Cf. penda, upendo, penzi.)

Pengee, n. (—), (1) by-path, roundabout way, (2) fig. dodge, device, wile. (Cf. kupengee.)

Pengi, a. form of -ingi, agreeing with D 7 (mahali) and locatives in -ni (i.e. pa-ingi), many.

Pengo, n. (—, and ma—), (1) gap, notch, hole, vacant space; (2) fig. defect, flaw. E.g. of a gap between teeth, i.e. mwanye wa meno. Ana pengo, he has lost a tooth. Huwinda pazima illi kupatia pengo, he hunts for a sound part in order to introduce a blemish in it.

Penu, a. form of -enu, your (plur.), agreeing with D 7 (mahali) and locatives in -ni.

Penu, n. (1) plur. of upenu (cf. kupenu). Also (2) aperture of urinal duct (Kr.). (Cf. follg.)

Penya, v. penetrate, make a way into, get inside, enter, pass into.—like ingia, but implying more effort, or purpose, difficulties in the way. Ameingia mlongo kwa kupenya, hakupata nafasi, he got into the door by forcing his way, as there was not room enough. Penya mwituni, make one's way through a forest. Ps. penyea. Nt. penyea. Ap. penyea, -eya, e.g. tundu la kupenyea, a hole to get in by. Cs. penye, -esha, -ehwa, -eza, -ezwa, cause to go into, force into, insinuate, introduce (by stealth, force, stratagem, &c.). Hence, of slipping money into the hand of another, putting an idea into the mind of another, and so of bribery, undue influence, &c. Hence penyeza, -ewa. (Cf. kipenya, mpnyezi, and follg., and syn. ingia.)

Penyenye, n. (—), way (means) of getting in, access, hole, secret plan. (Cf. mlango, tundu, and penya, v.)

Penyeve, a. form of -enyewe (which see, and pa—), agreeing with D 7.

Penyi, a. form of -enyi, possessing, with, having,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali) and locatives in -ni. Also used as a prep. of place, at, in, near, e.g. penyi mtenye, at the date tree,—and with a noun to express a single idea, e.g. penyi miti, a wooded place, a forest, thicket, penyi kuchimba mawe, a quarry.

Penzi, n. (ma—), (1) love, liking, pleasure, wish, will; (2) that which is loved, liked, &c. Mapenzi, wishes, will, resolve. (Cf. upenzi, penda, &c.)

Pepa, v. reel, stagger, totter, e.g. from weakness, drunkenness, &c. (Cf. leva, sita, kongoja, and perh. pepea.)

Pepa, n. (ma—), empty husk of grain, empty (barren) ear. (Cf. tete, chembe.)

Pepoea, v. make a current of air, fan, wave (like a fan), wave about in the air. E.g. wajakasi wamfsata jumbe wampeea, female slaves follow the chief fanning him. Pepea maini Sultani, keep the flies off the Sultan with fans. P. bendera, wave a flag about. P. vitambaa. flourish handicrafts. P. moto kwa kipepea, blow up a fire with a fan. Ps. pepewa, e.g. be fanned, wafted about, &c.

Ap. pepe-lea, -lewa, e.g. kipepeleaa mwana wali, utate kupeoa, fan the child's rice for him, to make it cool.
Pepeo, n. (ma-), a large fan, punkah. Also to describe a winnowing machine, vane on a tower, &c. (Cf. follg. and pepea, kipepeo, upepo.)

Peperuka, v. be carried by a current of air, blown away, wafted, fly off, soar up. E.g. nguo nipeperuka kwa pepo, the dress will be carried away by the wind. Cs. peperu-sha, -shwa, blow away. (Apparently, like pepesuka, one of the very few compound Bantu words in Swahili, from upepo, wind, and ruka, fly. Cf. pepea, pepesuka.)

Pepea, v. and Pepeza, wink,—the eye,—perh. really a Cs. form of pepea, i.e. clear, fan the eye by moving the eyelids, described as ukope wa jinนา na chinī, eyelid up and down. Hence also, keep the eye clear (or, steady) — in taking aim, i.e. pepea jicho kushika shebaha. (Cf. kopesa, ukope, pepea.)

Pepeza, v. be shaken in the air, wind-tossed, caused to fly away, caused to wave about, shake, totter. (Perh. from upepo, wind, and suka, wave, like peperuka (which see).)

Pepeta, v. winnow, sift, separate husks, chaff, &c. from grain by shaking and tossing in the air with a flat basket. E.g. pepeta mchele, wishwa sitoke, sift rice to get out the husks. Ps. pepetaua. Nt. pepeteka. Ap. pepet-ea, -ewa. (Cf. chunga, upepo, pepea.)

Pepeta, n. (—). P. za mpinga, grains of rice heated, and then pounded.

Pepetua, v. break open (Str.). (Cf. popotoa, perh. a variant.)

Pepo, n. has the meaning of both (1) wind, and (2) spirit. (1) (—), wind. In this meaning pepo is used (a) as plur. of upepo, a wind (which see), and (b) as a sing. noun meaning much wind, a high (strong, violent) wind. Pepo za chambelu, a whirlwind. Maji ya pepo, rain water, fresh water. See Maji. Peponyingi, PESI 311  PIGA

cf. rupia, reale, robo, themuni, robo pesa.)

Pesi, n. (ma-), also Pesi (which see).

-pesi, a. quick, light. See -epesi.

Peta, v. bend round, bend, bow, curve, fold over, wrap up, make like a ring. P. ufto, bend a switch into a bow. P. mguo, bend the leg. P. soruali, turn up the trousers. P. nguo, roll up clothes. P. uso, put on an angry look, bend the brows. Ps. petuwa. Nt. peteka. Ap. pet-ea, -ewa. Cs. pet-e-sha, -shwa, e.g. bend round, make into a ring. Kp. petana, e.g. be bent round, be bowed, form a ring (a circle, a hoop). (Cf. pete, petemana, peto, kipeto, and syn. kunja, pinda. Dist. peta sometimes used for pepeta (which see).)

Pete, n. (—, and for large size ma-), a ring, hoop, staple, circle. Kama pete na kidole, like ring and finger,—of close contact and attachment. Pete ya sikio, ear-ring. Dim. kipete. (Cf. duara, mviringo, and follg.)

Petemana, v. be bent round, form a ring, be made into a hoop, or circle. Cs. petamanisha, make into a hoop (circle), bend round, give a curve to. E.g. petamanisha fimbo hatta kugotana ucha sake, bend a stick till its ends knock together. (For the form cf. -mana, shikamana, fungamana, andamana.)

Peto, n. (—, and of large size ma-), a bag, matting-sack, e.g. used for carrying stones and sand. (Cf. kipeto, peta, and for different kinds kikapo.)

Petu, a. form of -etu, our, ours,—agreeing with D 7 (mahali), and locatives in -ni. (Cf. -etu, pa-)

Petua, v. turn round, turn over (bottom upwards, upside down), upset, capsize, e.g. petua chombo, turn a vessel over. Ps. petuliwa. Nt. petuka. Ap. petu-lia, -liwa. Cs. petu-sha, -shwa, petuza. (Cf. peta, and syn. pindua, genza.)

-pevu, a. (pevu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), full-grown, ripe, adult,—of plant or animal growth. Mwili mpevu, sound, healthy, well-developed body. Tende pevu, ripe dates. (Cf. pea, pevua, and syn. sima, bivu.)

Pevua, v. (1) develop fully, ripen, bring to perfection, hasten the maturity of. Hence (2) over-stimulate, excite unduly, pervert, teach bad ways to, corrupt. Jipevua, make a man of oneself, behave like a grown-up person or big man, swagger, be conceited, brag. Nt. pevuka. Cs. pevu-sha, -shwa, intens., as pevua. (Cf. pea, -pevu, and syn. komaa, -iva.)

Pewa, v. Ps. of -pa, give, i.e. be given, be the recipient, have a thing given to one, be presented with, receive. See Ps.

Pezi, n. (ma-), also Pesi, fin,—of a fish.

-pi, in combination with pers.-pfx. forms an interrog. adj., who? which? what? e.g. mti yapi? which person? mtu api? which tree? kitu kipi? which thing? &c. Also (1) subjoined to verbs, with the meaning 'how? in what way?' e.g. ntawezapi, how shall I be able? And (2) contracted for wapi, e.g. kendapi, where (are you) going? i.e. unakwenda wapi? (Cf. wapi, ngapi.)

Pia, a. and adv., all, the whole, complete, quite, altogether. Often with -ote, giving it emphasis, e.g. watu wote pia, all the people without exception. Ntukupa pia yote, I will give you the whole lot. As an adv. often in rejoinders (1) all of it, that too, that as well; (2) exactly so, just so. Nitwae hizi? Pia, Am I to take these? Yes, all of them, or, those as well. (Cf. -ote, killa.)

Pia, n. (—), (1) a top, i.e. the toy, a child's plaything, a humming-top, a whipping-top; (2) pia ya mgwu, the knee-cap.

Piga, v. strike, beat, hit, give a blow. This is the common definite meaning of piga. But piga in the simple act. form has also an indefinite use, which is at once one of the commonest and most characteristic features of the Swahili language, and also difficult to describe. It is used with a great number and variety of nouns to express the act, action, or effect, which the noun itself most naturally suggests; and even when another verb exists conveying this meaning, piga is nevertheless often substituted for it with a peculiar significance and flavour of its own. This is no doubt connected with the original idea of striking, but 'striking' in different aspects—sometimes suggesting its mode, i.e. the suddenness, forcibleness, effectiveness of a stroke, and sometimes the effect on the mind or senses, of what is striking, sensational, moving. It is impossible to enumerate all the nouns with which piga is commonly, or may be, used, or the most appropriate renderings,—depending (as they would do) largely on the context in each case, and a knowledge of the alternative verbs for which piga is in any particular instance purposely substituted. A few common cases can be given. Piga often describes (1) the proper use of a tool (in place of simple tumia, andesha, &c.), e.g. p. bomba, work a pump, p. randa, plane (wood), p. pasi, iron (clothes), p. kinanda, play an organ, p. bunduki, fire a gun, p. kengele, ring a bell, p. chapa, print (a book), p. kura, cast lots, p. bao, take omens. (2) construction, execution, giving form to something, e.g. p. fundo, tie a knot, p. kilenba, wear a turban, p. mbinda (uwinda), adjust the loincloth, p. mstari, draw a line, p. bandi, hem. (3) of a sudden, forcible action, e.g. p. mbio, run, p. kilele, shout, p. kof, give a box on the ear, p. miayo, yawn, p. mbizi, dive, p. teke, kick, p. pembe, butt, p. mdomo, bite (of a serpent), p. misonyo, whistle, p. mikambe, lash out with the leg (when bathing), p. hodii, ask admittance. (4) of producing a showy, sensational effect, p. makuu, play the grandee, p. ubwana, domineer, tyrannize, p. umalidadi, wear finery, and simply p. nguo, show off clothes, p. kiburi, show conceit, p. pua, turn up one's nose, carry one's head high, p. umeme, lighten (of lighting), p. moyo konde, take courage, p. domo, brag. Other examples are p. mikono, gesticulate. P. mabawa, flap the wings. P. fatiha, perform a religious ceremony. P. gott, kneel. P. moto, set fire to. P. uvivu, waste time by idling. P. mafungu, divide into parts. P. marafuku, publicly forbid. P. shauri, take formal counsel. P. vita, declare (wage) war. Ps. piguwa.

Nt. pigika. Ap. pig-ia, -iwa, e.g. strike for (with, at, in, &c.). Also pig-ilia, -iliwa, -ilikia,—used of special operations, e.g. pigilia sakafu, beat a concrete roof,—with rammers (vipande) till hard, lit. beat away at.

Cs. pig-isha, -ishwa, e.g. cause to beat about, flap, wave, e.g. pigisha tanga, let the sail flap, pigisha kiamo, administer an oath, pigisha nguo na upepo, air clothes. Also, pigisha chombo, make a vessel pitch, rock, toss. Pigisha maji, stir up water,—with intense force.

Rp. pigana, e.g. hit each other, fight. Hence pigan-isha, -ishwa, cause to fight, set fighting, or, fight hard. Also piganika, piganiwa, i.e. be fought for (about, with, in, &c.). (Cf. mpiga, mpigo, pigo, mapigano, mpiganisho, and follg.)

Pigano, n. (ma-) fighting, battle, skirmish, beating each other. (Cf. prec. and bishano, vita, shindano.)

Pigi-pigi, n. (—), also Piki-piki, a stick used for knocking down fruit off a tree. Dim. kipi. (Cf. for various kinds of stick bakora.)

Pigo, n. (ma-) (1) blow, stroke, beat, e.g. akawafundisha mapigo ya ngoma, and he taught the proper beats of the drum. (2) calamity, plague. (Cf. piga, mpigo, &c.)

Pika, v. cook, prepare by the use of fire, dress (food), boil (water). Ps. pikwa. Nt. pikika. Ap. pik-ia, -iwa, e.g. cook for (with, in, &c.). Pikiwa, be cooked for, have a cook. Hence pik-ilia, -iliwa, -ilika, e.g. nataka unipikiili uji, I want you to make some gruel especially for me. Cs. pik-isha, -ishwa, e.g. get some one to cook, get something cooked, contract for cooking. (Cf. mpishi, upishi, mpiko, and ? pishi. For ways of cooking cf. upishi.)

Pila, n. See Pira.

Pilau, n. (—), a dish of boiled rice, cooked in the Indian way, with ghee, raisins, &c. (Hind., and cf. wali.)

Pili, n. (1) two. _Mosi na pili ndio tatu, one and two make three._ -a pili, the second, the next. -a pili yake, the next to it (him, her). Marra ya pili, the second time (cf. marra mbili, twice). _Kwa pili, the other side, over the page._ Ya pili, secondly, next,—after kwansa, first, in the first place. (Cf. -wili, mbili, and for numbers hesabu, tara-kimu, harufs.) (2) name of a snake.

Pilipili n. (—), pepper, seeds and pods of the plant _mpilipili_. _Pilipili manga_, common black (Arab) pepper. _Pilipili hoho_, red pepper, capsicum,—grown in Zanzibar. (Cf. Ar. _filfil_, and Hind.)

Pima, v. measure, weigh. _P. urefu_, measure the length. _P. michele_, weigh rice. _Pima maji_, take soundings. Ps. pimwa. Nt. pimika. Ap. pim-ia, -iwa, e.g. _pishi ya kubimia_, a measure to measure with. _Pimiwa nguo_, have cloth measured out to one, receive a measure of cloth. Cs. pim-isha, -ishwa, e.g. _pimisha chakula_, superintend the measuring out of food. (Cf. mpimo, kipimo, pina, and syn. kadiri, linga, enenza, hesabu. The commonest measures of (1) length, are _shibiri, mkono, or thiraa, wari, pima_; (2) of capacity, _kibaba, kisaga, pishi_; (3) of weight, _wakia, rathi, pishi, frasila._ — _n._ a fathom, two yards (_wari_), six feet, the stretch of a man's arms,—equal to four cubits (_mkono, thiraa_), or eight spans (_shibiri)._ (Cf. kipimo, pima, v.)

Pinda, v. (1) bend, twist, fold, bend up, strain, put a strain on, make tense (stiff, hard); (2) hem. _P. upindi_, bend a bow. _P. upindo_, make a hem. _Jipinda_, (1) exert oneself, (2) be convulsed, i.e. _pinda-pinda maungo_ (cf. jinyonga). Ps. _pindwa_. Nt. _pindiaka_, e.g. of a trap made by bending a tree, or a bent switch acting as a spring. Ap. _pind-ia, -iwa_, e.g. bend for (with, by, &c.). Cs. _pind-isha, -ishwa_. Rp. _pindana_, e.g. be bent together, be stiff, be tense, have cramp. _Pindana nguu_, have a club foot. (Cf. _pindua, pindama, upindi, upindo, upindani, pindi, pindo, pindu, and syn. kunja, nyonga, peta, songa._)

Pinda, n. (—, and _ma-_), an animal that has died a natural death, a car-cass. (Cf. _kipinda_, and dist. _msoga_, a dead body (of any kind), _maiti_, usually of a human body dead, _mwili_, of a body, alive or dead.)

Pindama, v. be bent together, curved, contracted, tense, twisted, gnarled, convulsed, &c. (Cf. _pinda, pindana_, and syn. kunjama, pete-mana, kazaana, shupana.)

-pindani, a obstinate, unyielding, stiff. (Cf. _pinda, and upindani, and syn. _gumu, _kaidi._)

Pindi, n. (—, and _ma-_), a bend, twist, turn, curve, winding, fold, coil, ring; (2) a space or division of time, a time (of something), hour (in a general sense). E.g. _pindi za assubuhii_, morning hours. _Pindi ya chakula_, mealtime. _Pindi za mechana_, times (divisions) of the day. _Wajua pindi atakopokuwa_, Do you know the time when he will arrive? Pindi ya mua, a ring on a sugar-cane. Nyoka yapiga mapindi, the snake coils itself up. Mapindi ya mto, windings of a river. Also as conj. when, if, supposing, although, i.e. at the time when, giving time for, allowing for. (Cf. pinda, v., kipindi, and for 'time' saa, wakati, and for 'bend' kunjo, kombo, tao.)

Pindo, n. (ma-), also Upindo (pindo), selvedge, border of cloth or of a garment, folded edge, hem. (Cf. pinda, v. and prec.)

Pindu, n. (ma-), turning, tumbling, somersault. E.g. fanya (piga) pindu-pindu, turn over and over, head over heels. (Cf. pinda, v. and prec., also kichwangomba.)

Pindua, v. turn over, give an opposite direction to, reverse position of, upset, overturn, capsize; (2) change into something quite different, turn (into), transform. E.g. pindua mtumbwi, overturn a canoe. Pindua, chombo, wear ship, put a vessel on another tack, tack. P. vikombe, upset the cups. Ps. pinduliuwa. Akapinduliwa gogo, and he was changed into a log. Nt. pinduka, be upset, &c., be changed (into), become, take a new direction. Liipopinduka jua kichwani, when the sun passed the meridian. Hence pinduk-ia, -iwa, and pinduk-iza, -izwa, cause to fall over (on the other side). Ap. pindu-lia, -liwa, -lika. Nikupindulile jabali, let me roll you over the cliff. Cs. pindu-za, -zwa, e.g. pinduza dau huko na huko, turn a boat first on one side, then on the other,—to get the water out. (Rv. form of pinda, v. (which see.).)

Pinga, v. (1) cause (be, make) an obstruction, put in the way, obstruct, stop the way, block, thwart, check, oppose, contradict; (2) bet, lay a wager. Jipinga, put oneself in the way, oppose. P. mlango, fasten (close, bar) the door. P. shikio la chombo, pinga chombo kwa shikio, i.e. use the rudder to check, shape the course of, a vessel. P. njia, block the road. Ps. pingwa. Nt. pingika. Ap. ping-ia, -iwa, e.g. pingia mlango, close the door against, or, put a bar against the door, secure the door. Cs. pindi-sha, -shwa, pingi-za, zwa. Rp. pingana, oppose each other, bet against each other. Pingana na mtu, oppose a person. (Cf. pingamizi, pingo, pingu, pingua, pingani, and the very similar kinga, and syn. zuia. For betting cf. sharti, weka sharti.)

Pingamisha, v. obstruct, thwart, use as an obstacle or bar,—like pinga, but with intens. force, of active, intentional opposition.

Pingamizi, n. (ma-), that which obstructs, person or thing, a difficulty, obstacle, check, stop. (Cf. pinga, and foll.)

-Pingani, a. obstructive, contradictory, causing difficulty,—usually of persons. (Cf. pinga, and prec.)

Pingili, n. (—), the piece of a cane, or similar growth, between two rings or knots. (Cf. kipingili, and pinga.)

Pingo, n. (ma-), barrier, obstruction, bar, e.g. a door-bar. (Cf. pinga, kipingo, pingu, kipingwa, and for door-bar, komeo, kiwi.)

Pingu, n. (—, and ma-), (1) a fetter, and plur. fetters, i.e. two rings fastened round the leg at the ankle, and connected by an iron bar; (2) also, of a cord fastened round the ankles to assist in climbing a tree; (3) pingu ya sikio, a round piece or ring of wood, often ebony, worn in the lobe of the ear by women. (Cf. jasi, kipini, also pingo, pinga.)

Pingua, v. cut in pieces, cut up, cut in lengths, e.g. of sugar-cane. Ps. pinguliuwa. Ap. pingul-ia, -iwa. (Cf. pingili, pinga, and for various kinds of cutting, kala, pasua, chenga, chanka, tema, &c.)

Pini, n. (—, and of size ma-), haft, handle,—in which a tool or instrument is inserted. (Cf. kipini, and for other handles, mkono, utambo.)

*Pipa, n. (ma-), cask, barrel, tub, butt. Dim. kipapa. (Hind.)

Pipyana, a. irreg. form of -pya, new, agreeing with D 7 (mahali), and locals in -ni,—for papyana.

Pishi, n. (—), (1) a measure of capacity for solids, i.e. grain, &c., a dry measure, —equal to 4 kihaba (which see), i.e. about half a gallon. (2) it is also used as a measure of weight, corresponding generally to the above, about 6 lb. (3) the vessel used as a measure of capacity. Kwa mishani ao kwa pishi, by weight or measure, i.e. of capacity. (Perh. connected with Cs. form of pika, i.e. a conventional quantity for cooking purposes. Cf. follg.)

Pisho, n. (ma-), cautery, mark made by cautery. ( Cf. prec. note, and pika, apply fire to, &c.)

Piswa, v. become silly, foolish, doting. Also as n. (ma-), foolishness, doting. (Cf. kichaa, pumbaa.)

Pita, v. (1) pass, go on, go by, pass by (on, in front of, off, away, over, beyond); (2) fig. surpass, overpass, excel, exceed, outstrip, be too much for. Pita njia, go along a road. Mto wapita, the river is flowing by. Mambo yaliyopita, past events, the past. Mtu wa kupita, a passer-by, a wayfarer, a passing traveller. Yapita cheo, it passes bounds, is excessive. Hence kupita cheo, used as adv., beyond all bounds, extravagantly, abnormally. Kupita, as conj., more than,—in comparisons (cf. kuliko). Yule mrefu kupita mimi, he is taller than I. Pita juu, fly through the air. Used (like enda) with zangu, zako, zake, &c., e.g. napita zangu, I am going away. Piteni zenu (Imperat.), go away, pass on. Also in semi-Cs. sense, njia zinasopita watu, paths which people pass along. Shamba linalopita maji, a garden with a running stream. Ps. pitwa. 'Nt. pitika, e.g. be passed, be passable, be able to be surpassed, &c. Nyia inapitika, the road is passable. Hence pitikana, be able to be passed (surpassed). Haipitikani, it is unsurpassable. Ap. pitia, pitwa, e.g. (1) pass by (away from, to, &c.); (2) pass by on purpose, or by accident, and so slight, neglect, omit; (3) pass away from the mind, be forgotten. Nimepitiwa, I have forgotten, it has passed from my memory. Also a further deriv. pitia-liwa, -liwa, -likwa, e.g. pass right by, pass quite away from, be utterly forgotten by, wholly surpass, &c., and with mbali (which see), e.g. amewapitiilia mbali, he has completely outstripped them. Nimepitiwa, I have quite forgotten. Also pitiana, e.g. of commercial or social intercourse, pass to (or from) each other, be on good terms, be in constant contact with each other, &c. Cs. pitisha, or more commonly pisha, pishwa, e.g. (1) cause to pass, guide, conduct; (2) let pass, make room for, allow passage to; (3) put away (aside, off), oust, neglect, reject, &c. Pisha wakati, spend time. Pisha mchana (masika), pass away the day (the rainy season). Mito haipishi, the rivers do not allow crossing,—like haipitiki. Pishwa tohara, be put through the ceremony of circumcision. Also n. Muenyesi Mnungu atakapishwa amri yake, when Almighty God shall ordain. Hence pishia, pishiva, and pishana, pass by each other, allow each other to pass, &c. Rp. pitana, e.g. pass by each other, overlap. Mila sazo hasikutipana, their customs were distinct, did not run into each other. (Cf. pito, kipito, mpitaji, and syn. 'go', enda, 'surpass' zidi.)

Pito, n. (ma-), way (means, &c.) of passing, a passage. Not often heard. Dim. kipto. (Cf. pita, and njia, kijia, kiachocho.)

Po is a form of the demonstrative prefix pa, of place,—the q (a) either denoting reference or relative distance, 'there,' (b) or else giving it the force of a relative pronoun, 'where.' See Pa, and cf. ku, ko, mu, mo, -o.) (1) as a demonstrative, -po is used of position in time, as well as place, and also of circumstances generally, and commonly occurs (a) in the adv. hapo, papo, (b) affixed to niti- or the person-pfxs., or parts of the verb -wa, and its equivalents, e. g. yupo, he is there (here). Ndipo aliipo, that is where he is, &c. Alikwapo. he was there. Asipo, na lake halipo, out of sight, of out of mind. (2) as a relative, with verb-forms generally, referring (a) to mahali understood, or (b) of place, time, or circumstances, 'where, when, as, if, supposing, in case.' (Cf. -o, relative.) As a separate word, po only appears in such phrases as po pote, in whatever place, wherever it be, everywhere. (See Pa, and obs. -po in -mojawa-po.)

Poa, v. become cool, and so (heat being a common symptom of illness) improve in health, become well, be cured. Wali umepoa baridì, the rice has cooled. Amepoa ugonjwa, he has recovered from his sickness. Ap. poelewa, poelewa, e. g. cool off, cool down, cool itself. Cs. posa, pozwa, (1) cool, make cool; (2) cure, heal. Mganga ameniposa marathi yangu, the doctor has cured my sickness. (Cf. pona, and syn. burudika. Dist. poza (posa), cause to marry, and pozaa, be withered.)

Podo, n. (—, or ma-), quiver, arrow-case,—commonly of wood. (Cf. ala, no.)

Pofu, n. (—), also heard as bofu, scum, froth, foam, a bubble. Pofu la bahari, foam of the sea. Fanya pofu, v., foam, froth. Hatta pofu ipande, till scum forms on the surface. (Dist. follg.)

Pofu, and -pofu, a. spoiled, bereft, lacking something,—and esp. of lack of sight, blind, i.e. pofu wa macho. Labuda ntakuwa pofu, I shall perhaps become blind. (Cf. kipofu, and follg.)

Pofua, v. spoil, cause to fail, ruin, blight,—but esp. of sight, blind, deprive of sight. Muungu amempofua macho asione, God has bereft him of eyes, so that he cannot see. Ps. pofuliwa. Nt. pofuka. Ap. pofu-lia, -liwa. Cs. pofusha, intens. of pofua. (Cf. pofu, kipofu, and variants? tofua, tofuka.)

Pogo, n. and adv., perh. plur. of upogo, lopsidedness, a one-sided, awry condition, e. g. wana pogo za nyuso zao, they have their faces awry. Kwenda p., walk in an unequal, limping way. Tazama p., squint, leer. (Cf. upogo, and perh. pogoa, and syn. mshathali, upande, kilongo, kikombo.)

Pogoa, v. and variants bogoa, pagua, lop, prune, cut away branches or leaves. Ps. pogoletwa. Ap. pogo-lea, -lewa, e. g. kisu cha kupo-golea, a pruning-knife. (Cf. pogo, upogo, pagua, and syn. chenga, fyeka.)

Poka, v. take by violence, steal away, rob (of), abduct. Watakha poka mke wangu, they want to carry off my wife. Ps. pokwa, e. g. nimepokwa upanga, I have been robbed of my sword. Ap. pok-ea, -eoa (but see Pokea). Rp. pokana, rob each other (of). (Not common in Z. Cf. pokonya, nyang'anya.)

Pokea, v. Ap. form of poka, take from some one else,—but without any idea of force or violence, or even of active seizing, as in poka, i. e. (1) receive, accept, take in the hand; (2) take in, welcome, entertain, receive as a guest; (3) fig. accept, assent to, agree with. E. g. wakawa-pokea mizigo, they took their loads from them, i. e. in a friendly way, they relieved them. Ngoma za vita zikapokewa inchi yote, the war-drums were accepted (acknowledged, attended to), through the whole country. Ps. pokewa. Ap. pok-elea, Pokeo, n. (ma-), thing received, tradition. (Cf. pokea, mapokeo.)

-pole, a. mild, meek, gentle, sober-minded, good-humoured, amiable, kind,—opp. to -kali, of temper generally. -a upole is more common in same sense. Pole is used as an adv., gently, softly, quietly, slowly, &c. Often Redupl. polepole. Commonly used to soothe or encourage after an accident, shock, misfortune, bad news, &c.—be calm, take it quietly, don’t excite yourself, never mind (cf. upole). The quality implied holds a high place in native estimation, esp. as to Europeans,—contr. ukali, and cf. -ema, -anana, taratibu, kiasi.)

Poli, n. (ma-), forest, wilderness, uninhabited wilds. Polini hatana nyumba wala mti, in a poli there is neither house nor inhabitant. (Cf. pululu, nyika, mwitu.)

Pombe, n. (—), native beer,—an intoxicant made from many kinds of grain and some fruits, e.g. bananas, by fermentation. In the earlier stage of manufacture, while sweet and unintoxicating, it is called togwa. (Cf. togwa, tembo.)

Pomboo, n. (—, and ma-), porpoise. Pomboo wasama wazuka, porpoises dive and reappear.

Pomoka, v. variant (1) for bomoka; (2) for poromoka. (Cf. bomoa, poromoka.)

Pomosha, v. variant (1) for bomosha; (2) for poromosha. (Cf. prec.)

Pona, v. (1) become safe, escape, be rescued (saved, delivered); (2) get a living, subsist, preserve one’s life, live; and esp. (3) get well (from illness), recover health, be convalescent, regain strength. Ap. ponea, poneva, e.g. (1) be saved by (with, for, at, &c.); (2) live on, be supported by, depend on for subsistence (whether food, necessaries, or occupation). Unaponea mina? What are you living on? Aliponea maji sikisita, he lived on water six days. Cha kuponza, subsistence, means of living. Cs. ponya, ponywa, e.g. save, deliver, rescue, cure, restore to health. Uniponye wa jua, naka-ponya wa muzi, protect me in the sun, and I will protect you in the rain. Jiponya! Mind yourself! Look out! (cf. jihathari, simillah.) Also a further Cs. pony-esha, eshwa, ponyeka, e.g. hatponyeki habisa, it is utterly inurable. (Cf. poa, pozza, and syn. okoa, hitihi, lisha from -la, pata nafuu, salimika.)

Ponda, v. (1) crush by pounding or beating, pound to pieces, beat small, pulverize,—usually with wooden pestle and mortar (cf. kinu, mche). Dist. twanga, properly used of same process applied to cleaning grain, i.e. removing the husks, sagsa, of grinding grain to powder by millstones, pressure, attrition. Thus twanga is used of rice, maize, millet, &c., ponda of such seeds as pepper, curry (bizari), and also cassava, &c. (2) fig. crush, take all life and spirit away from, break down, dispirit. Ps. pondwa. Nt. pondeka, e.g. (1) be crushed, beaten down, pulverized; (2) be capable of being broken in pieces. Hence pondekea, e.g. mtama umepondekeka inchi, the millet is crushed down to the ground, and also pondekeana, e.g. of stalks of millet crushed and bruised against each other. Ap. pondea, e.g. amenipondea pilipili kinuni, she pounded the peppercorns for me in a mortar. (Cf. pondeo, pando, and twanga, saga.)

Pondeo, n. (ma-), a kind of mallet used by shoemakers. (Cf. prec. and munguri.)

Pondo, n. (—, and ma—), a punt-pole, for pushing a boat or canoe along in shallow water. Maji ya pondo hayataki tanga, shallow water does not require a sail.

Pongezi, n. a congratulatory address, I hope you are well, e.g. after safe return, childbirth, &c. The rejoinder is, tu salama, we are well. (Not usual in Z.)

Pono, n. name of a fish, said to be often in a torpid state. Ana usingizi kama pono, he is as sleepy as a pono.

Ponoa, v. strip off, e.g. of bark from a tree. (Cf. pogoa, pogua.)

Ponta, n. also Punta, Poina, back-stitch,—in sewing. Piga ponta, as v., back-stitch, e.g. of a wristband or cuff.

Ponya, Ponyeka. See Pona.

Ponyoka, v. slip away, slide out, escape,—of secret, unnoticed or unexpected movement. Mtu aliponyoka makutini akaanguka, the man slipped off the thatch and fell. Bilauri imeniponyoka mikononi, the glass has slipped out of my hand. Cs. ponyo-sha, -shwa, e.g. canse to fall, let slip from one's hand, e.g. (prep.) amemponyoshea kuku chembe sa mtama, she let a few grains of millet fall out of her hand for the fowl.

Ponza, v. put in danger, risk, speculate with, make a venture, do haphazard, be reckless. Kaponza roho yake, he just went at it, took his life in his hand. So jiponza. (Not often in Z. Cf. hatirisha, bahatisha. Dist. pon reza (ponsa), Cs. of ponya, pona.)

Pooza, v. become useless, withered, paralysed, impotent. Mwenyi kupooza, a cripple, an impotent man. Cs. pooz-esha, -esha, e.g. of the effect of illness,—cripple, disable. (Cf. follg. and syn. chakaa, fista.)

Pooza, n. (ma—), something undeveloped, withered, dried up, arrested in growth, esp. of fruit fallen from the tree in a half-formed, withered state. Dim. kipooza. Also pooza, a., undeveloped, withered. (Cf. pooza, v.)

Popo, n. (—, and of size ma—), a bat, a large bat. (Cf. kipopo, commonly used.)

Popoo, n. (ma-), (1) the areca nut, fruit of the mpopoo. Cut in thin slices, it is much used for chewing with tambuu, &c. in Z. See Uraibu. (2) a ball of iron or lead, bullet.

Pora, n. (ma-), a young cockerel, not yet old enough to crow,—described as pora la jimbi lianzalo ku-endokea, i.e. beginning to grow up. (Cf. jimbi, jogoo, kuku.)

Poroja, n. porridge, or anything of similar consistency. Wali poroja, rice cooked with too much water. Poroja la chocaa, watery mortar. Also as v. (poroa, or poroja), be watery, like gruel.

Poromoka, v. (also heard as boromoka, boromosha, and perh. ponomoka), glide or slip down in a mass, or with a rush (like an avalanche, cataract, or stône-slide),—be poured out, gush

Poromoko, n. (ma-), (1) place of sudden descent, precipice, steep place, face of a cliff; (2) shower, fall, discharge, rush, e.g. of stones, water, &c. Maporomoko ya mte, cataracts, rapids, waterfalls. (Cf. prec.)

Posa, v. and perh. poza, ask in marriage, become a suitor for, woo,—the person addressed being the parent or relation in the first place, e.g. yule mume humposa baba yake, the man proposes to the woman's father. Ps. potwa. Nt. poseka. Ap. posa, -ewa, e.g. mali ya kuposea, money to arrange a marriage with, to marry on. Cs. poso-sha, -shwa, e.g. mtu wa kuposha, a match-making person. Rp. posana, agree about a marriage. — n. (ma-, or plur. of uposa, i.e. vina vya uposa), marriage settlements, gifts, arrangements, &c., with a view to marriage. See also Poso. (Cf. follg. and oa, osa.)

Posho, n. (—, and ma-), rations, daily supply of food, clothing, maintenance,—e.g. such as is given to slaves, soldiers, a wife. (Cf. prec. and sarifu, riziki, nasifu.)

Poso, n. (ma-), or plur. of uposa, application for a bride, demand of marriage, marriage gifts or settlement, wooing. (Cf. posa, uposa.)

Pote, a. form of -ote, all, agreeing with D 7 (mahali), and locatives in -ni,—also used as adv., everywhere, in all places, and Rd. pote, -ote, everywhere. (See -ote, pa, and dist. pote, plur. of upote.)

Potea, v. (1) go astray, get lost, wander, be at fault, be ruined, perish; (2) fig. fall away, deteriorate, go to ruin, become reprobate. Potea is the common word for material and moral loss, failure, and ruin. Frequently used with an objective pfx. as if a true Ap. form (see note), kisu ki-menipotea, I have lost my knife, for nimepotewa kisu (or na kisu). Akili zimempotea, he has lost his senses. Kupotea njia ndio kujua njia, to lose your way is to know your way. Ps. pote, e.g. incur the loss of, kupotewa mali, to lose money. Ap. pote, potalewa, —not often used, except in the common imprecation potale mbali, go and be hanged. Cs. pote-zo, -zwa, cause to perish, throw away, ruin, corrupt, spoil. Hence pote-zo, -zwa, e.g. alimpotesa maneno, he quite refuted (thwarted, perverted) his statements. Also potazana. Rp. potazana, of several objects, get scattered, lose each other. (Cf. -poten, upoten, also potoa, -potofu, poto, and upote—all indicating a verb pota not in use, but meaning 'be out of the straight, be twisted, askew, set cross-wise.')

Potoa, v. (1) put out of the straight, make crooked (curved, slanting, &c.), turn aside, give a twist to; (2) fig. ruin, pervert, spoil, corrupt. P. kazi, spoil work. P. maneno, pervert words. Jipotoa, behave extravagantly, ruin oneself, e.g. by over-dressing. Ps. poto, Nt. potoka, e.g. be crooked, twisted. spoiled, perverted, &c.—also be wrong-headed, eccentric, cranky, perverse. Ap. poto, -ewa. Cs. poto, -shwa, intens., e.g. amepota akili za mitoto asimfuate baba, he has perverted the child's ideas, so as not to follow his father. (Cf. potea, note, and follg. Constr. ongoa, nyoka.)

-potoe, a. (potoe with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), used generally as -potoe, but with act. as well as pass. in the fig. sense, perverted, perverse, spoilt, headstrong, depraved. (Cf. potoa, and follg. The final -e is prob. passive, as in -teule, nishinde, &c.)

-potofu, a. (potofu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), used generally as -potoe, but with act. as well as pass. force. -potofu wa mali, prodigal, wasteful. -potofu wa akili, wrongheaded. (Cf. potoa, potea, &c.)

Povu, -povu, povua. See pofu, -pofu, pofuia.

Pozu, v. Cs. of poa, i.e. make cool, cure. (Dist. posa (or posa), ask in marriage, and posua, be withered, paralysed.) — n. plur. mapza, healing things, doctor's appliances, hospital stores. (Cf. poa, pona, and dawa.)

Pua, n. (—), (1) the nose,—and used to describe what resembles (or is supposed to resemble) the nose, e.g. apex of an arch. Mwanzi wa pua, nostril, also tundu la pua. Piga pua, snout. Sema kipua, semea puanj, speak through the nose. Ujinga huwa kuacha kinywa kutia puanj, as silly as to use the nose for the mouth. (2) steel, tempered iron,—also pua ya chuma, chuma pua. Ti a pua kishoka, temper the edge of an axe. (Cf. chuma.)

Pua, v. shell, remove from the pod,—of beans, peas, &c. (Str.). (Cf. pura.)

Pugi, n. a small kind of dove.

Pujua, v. (1) take the skin off, remove the outside covering, abrasive, e.g. pujua mhindi (embe), e.g. of a cob of maize, or the rind of a mango, i.e. strip off with the fingers (cf. kona, when an instrument is used),—not of the skin of animals. See Chuma. Also (2) fig. ji-pujua, bare oneself, cast off shame, lead a mean, beggarly life. Ps. pujulwa. Nt. pujuka.

Ap. pju-lia, -liwa. (Cf. follg., and kona, goboa.)

-pujufu, a. shameless, beggarly, and in act. sense, wasteful, prodigal. (Cf. prec.)

Pukupuku, adv. lit. in showers, and so, in quantities, wholesale, plentifully. Jaa pukupuku, be fall to overflowing, e.g. of a measure full till the grain runs over. Marathi ya pukupuku, used of a destructive epidemic, killing wholesale. (Cf. follg. and pukute, and syn. farasa, furifuri.)

Pukusa, v. (1) cause to fall in showers, cause to shower down in quantities, make shed fruit. Hence also (2) throw money about, make liberal presents; (3) make a congratulatory visit to,—with presents, &c. Pukusa is used of, e.g. stripping the grains off a cob of maize, leaves or fruit from a tree, giving money to a crowd, destroying lives wholesale (of an epidemic). Twende tupumuka, let us go and offer our congratulations (presents) to him. But akuPURUKUSA mkoma maima, he shook all the fruit off the palm. Ps. pukusuwa. Ap. pukusia, -iwa. Cs. pukusisha, -shwa. Pukusa also occurs as a n. of D 6, a congratulatory present, e.g. haya pukusa zako, mwanangu, these are presents for you, my child. (Cf. pukupuku, and follg.)

Pukute, n. lit. that which is showered down, or in a condition resembling such. Used of rice, when cooked so that every grain is loose and separate, i.e. pukute ya wali, or wali wa pukute. (Cf. follg.)

Pukutika, v. fall off in showers, as leaves when withered, or fruit when ripe, also rice when cooked so the grains are dry, not watery. Cs. pukuti-sha, -shwa, e.g. p. umande, wait, give time, for the dew to fall. P. mkate, crumble bread, let fall in crumbs. P. jasho, drop with sweat.
Uso wake unapukutishwa jasho, sweat is dropping from his face. (Cf. pukusa, puke, pukupuku.)

Puleki, n. (—), also Puliki and Puluki, a spangle, tinsel ornament.

Pulisa, v. (1) blow with the mouth, puff,—and with an object, blow up, fill with air. P. pumzi, fill with breath. P. kibofo, blow up a bladder, or a football. (Perh. conn. with pumzi, puma, &c., as if pumula.) (2) let go, let out, let down (or, up), lower, e.g. of a bucket in a well, a rope, fishing-line, anchor, a kite, e.g. pulisa tiara, let the kite go up, fly the kite. Ps. puliswa. Nt. pulizika. Ap. pulisa-inwa, e.g. (1) blow into, blow up, or (2) let down to (for, in), e.g. amepulisa mshipi samaki baharini, he has let down his line to a fish in the sea.

Pululu, n. (ma-), wilderness, uninhabited country, forest. (Cf. poli, nyika, mvitu.)

Puma, v. throb, pulsate, beat,—like the pulse, heart, &c., e.g. of an abscess, the head in illness. (Cf. piga, papa, tetema, tutuma.)

Pumba, n. (—, and ma-), also Bumba, lump, rolled-up piece, clod of earth, packet. Kuwa mapumba, to form lumps, stick together, congeal. Dim. kipumba. (Cf. bumba, donge.)

Pumba, v. be foolish, silly, weak-minded, negligent. Pumba kazi, take no pains about a job, do it carelessly, be idle. Cs. pumbaza, befool, make a fool of, treat as a fool, deceive, play jokes upon. Jipumbaza, be stupid on purpose, pretend to be a fool. Hence pumbaswa, and pumbazika, be made a fool of, be duped, e.g. p. nyia, miss the way by carelessness. Msiende mkapumbasike, do not go playing the fool. (Perh. conn. with pumba, and follg., i.e. be lumpish, heavy.)

Pumbu, n. (ma-), (1) scrotum, and plur. testicles; (2) affections of the scrotum, hernia, orchitis. Koko za (yai za) pumbu, testicles. (Cf. pumba, and prec.)

Pumu, n. (ma-), (1) the breathing organ, lung,—esp. of a living animal; (2) any affection of the lung, chest complaint, asthma. (Cf. follg., also kifua, and pafu.)

Pumua, v. (1) draw breath, breathe, live; (2) get breath, rest, find relief, have breathing time. Cs. pumwa, e.g. nimempumwa kazi, I have caused him to rest from his labour. (Cf. pumu, and follg.)

Pumuzi, n. (—), and Pumzi, breath, breathing, respiration. Paaza (pandisha, vuta) p., draw in the breath, fill the lungs. Shusha (toa) p., empty the lungs. Kokota p. (or, roho), draw the breath with difficulty. (Cf. pumu, pumua, and follg.)

Pumzika, v. and Pumuzika, get breath, rest oneself, take a holiday, stop working. P. uthia, have a respite from annoyance. P. kazi, rest from work. Ap. pumzikia, e.g. mahali pa kupumzikia, a resting-place. Cs. pumzi-sha, -shwa, e.g. cause (invite, allow) to rest. (Cf. pumzika, and prec. Also syn. tulia, burudika.)

Pumzikio, n. (ma-) and Pumziko, place (time, mode, &c.) of resting. (Cf. prec. and tuo, kituo.)

Punda, n. (—), donkey, ass. Punda kiongwe, a mainland (often Nyamwesi) donkey, commonly used for burdens in Z.,—in contrast to the large white Muscat donkey, which is much valued for riding purposes. Punda milia, zebra.

Punde, adv. a little, just a little, somewhat, within a little time, just now (then), presently, soon. E.g. nikaona sijambo p., I felt a little better. Mrefu p., a little taller. Atakuja punde hivi, he will come shortly. Umefika p., you have arrived lately. Punde kwa punde, little by little. (Cf. kidogo, kitambo, and opp. sana, zaidi.)

Punga, v. (1) wave, swing, sway, move to and fro in the air, gesticulate with, fan, use or cause a rhythmical motion. Thus p. upepo, put the air in motion, with a fan, &c., i.e. kwa kipepeo. P. mikono, sway the arms,—gracefully in walking. P. hewa, cool oneself, air oneself, take a change of air,—like badili hewa. Hence (2) a common special meaning, of the whole ceremonial of native exorcism,—dancing, drumming, incantations, &c. E.g. punga pepo, exorcize a spirit, and with personal object kupunga mtu, put a person through the ceremony of exorcism. Ps. punjwa. Nt. punjika. Ap. punji, -iwa, e.g. pungia mikono (kitambaa, nguo), wave the hand (handkerchief, dress) to, signal to, &c. Cs. punji-isha, -ishwa, e.g. unipungishe upepo, fan me. Nia-mpungisha pepo, I will have her exorcized. (Cf. suka, tikisa, pepea.)

Punga, n. plur. of upunga (which see).

Pungu, n. a kind of fish, also a bird of prey.

Pungua, v. grow less, diminish, abate, fail, decrease, e.g. jua lina-pungua, the sun is getting less hot. Upepo uma-pungua, the wind has dropped. Akili zimempungua, he is losing his mental powers. Nt. punguka (which see). Cs. punguza, -zwa, -sha, -shwa, make less, reduce, shorten, diminish, &c. E.g. p. zwi, lower the price. P. tanga, reef a sail. Jipungusa, humble, depreciate oneself. (Cf. follg. and syn. for 'reduce,' kaia, fupisha, rudisha.)
Pungufu, a. (pungufu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), defective, wanting, diminished, scanty. Mwenzu pungufu wa mali, short of money. Mwezi mpungufu, an incomplete month, i.e. one of 29 days. Mp. wa ungwana, without a clear title to freedom.—n. (ma-), defect, deficiency, something wanting, flaw. (Cf. upungufu, and prec.)

Punguka, v. Nt. of pungua (which see), grow smaller, get less, diminish, abate, fail. Ap. punguk-ia, -iwa, e.g. anapunguikiwa mali, his resources are failing him. (Cf. prec. and contr. zidi, ongesa.)

Punja, v. used in Z. only in the fig. sense, cheat, swindle. Ps. punjwa. Nt. punjika. Ap. punji, -iwa. (Kr. gives the literal sense as 'pound.' Cf. follg., and for syn. cf. kopa, karamkia, danga.)

Punjie, n. (—), a grain, i.e. a single grain,—of corn, maize, &c. Punje moja ya mtama, a grain of millet. (Cf. prec. and chembe.)

Puo, n. (—), nonsense, foolish talk, silly behaviour. (Cf. puza, upuzi.)

Pupa, n. (—), eagerness, haste, effort, zeal, eager desire. Fanya p. ya kwisha kazi, be eager to finish work. P. ya kula, greediness, voracity. Kula kwa p., to eat greedily. Mtaka yote kwa pupa hukosa yote, he who wants everything in a hurry loses everything. (Cf. syn. choyo, bidii, tamaa, tadi, and perch. papia.)

Pura, v. beat, beat out,—e.g. of corn, &c., i.e. thresh; and of clothes, —clean by beating; i.e. wash in the native way. (Cf. pua, v., and piga, fua.)

Puruka, v. fly off, be scared away. Cs. puruk-usha, -ushwa, i.e. cause to fly off, treat with contempt, slight, make light of, be off-hand with. Purukusha maneno, talk heedlessly, discuss superficially. P. sikio, listen attentively. Jipurukusha, be flighty, superficial, neglectful, inattentive.
(Seems connected with ruka, fly off. Cf. follg.)

Purukushani, n. negligence, superficial treatment, a hasty, careless manner. Fanya kasi kwa purukushani, work carelessly. (Cf. prec.)

Purura, v. rub off, strip off, e.g. of rubbing leaves off a branch, by passing it through the hand. (Cf. para.)

Puta, v. beat soundly, flog, thrash. Ps. putwa. Nt. putika. (Not often heard. Cf. piga, chapa, gonga, &c.)

Puza, v. be silly, foolish, nonsensical, esp. in talk,—gossip, flirt. Puza kazi (maneno), work (talk) in a silly way. Jipusa, play the fool, be good for nothing. Nt. puzika, in same sense, e.g. apuzika na waanake, he is always fooling with women. Cs. pusisha, e.g. amuse, entertain, make sport for (or, of). Ap. puzia, -iwa. (Cf. upuvi, -puvi, puo, and dist. puza, puzi, puziwa, as forms of puliza (which see).)

-pwa, v. (but kupwa in certain tenses, like other monosyllabic verbs, see Ku- i. (d)), dry, become dry, dry up, esp. of the ebb of the tide, e.g. bakari inakupwa, the sea is ebbing, maji yapwa, the tide is going out. Maji ya kujaa na kupwa, flow and ebb of the tide. Ap. pwea, pwewa, e.g. of the voice, be dry, hoarse, sauti imipwea, nimepwea sauti, I am hoarse,—and of a swelling, subside, go down. Also pwelea, pwelewa, pweleka, like pwea, but also esp. in Ps. and Nt. form of ships running aground, be high and dry, go ashore. Hence pweleza, e.g. (1) cause to dry up, (2) run aground. Cs. pwewa-sha, -sha, e.g. Mungu amepwesha maji, God has dried up the water, caused it to go down. Also pwesha jipu, reduce the swelling of an abscess. (Cf. pwani; kipwa, and syn. kauka.)

Pwaga, v. See Pwaya.
Pwani, n. and adv. (strictly a locative form from root -pwa (which see)), shore, coast, esp. the part affected by the tide, e.g. Kilwa pwani yake kupwa sana, at Kilwa the tide runs out a long way. Hiyo pwani inchi nzuri, this coast land is a fine country. Oga pwani, bathe on the seashore. (Cf. -pwa, v. and kipwa, also usuo, usuko.)
Pwaya, v. (1) also Pwaga, used of the final cleaning given to rice, &c., after pounding, removal of all husks, shells, dirt. Ps. pwayiwa. Nt. pwayika. Ap. pway-ia, -iwa, e.g. nimepwaiwa michele na watu, I had my rice cleaned for me. Cs. pway-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. twanga, ponda, kimu.) (2) be loosely attached, move about freely, not be well fitted or fixed, e.g. of a ring on the finger. (Cf. legea, cheza.)
Pweke, n. and a., solitariness, alone. Mimi ni pweke, I am by myself,—commonly peke yangu. Hii pweke ni uwundo, this loneliness is disgusting. (Cf. upweke, peke, pekee.)
Pweza, n. a cuttlefish.

-py, a. (mpya with D 4 (P), D 6, jipy with D 5, pipya with D 7), new, fresh, recent, novel, modern. (Opp. to -a kale, -a samani, -kuku, -see. Cf. for 'young in age,' mtoto, -dago; for 'novel, strange,' -geni; for 'fresh in condition, not fully matured,' -bichi.)

-pyro, a. one who cannot be trusted, one who deceives, exaggerates, &c. Mapyro, deceitfulness, exaggeration, double-dealing.

R.

R is used to represent (1) the Bantu r sound, which in Swahili is not practically distinguished from l, and so not quite so distinct as the English smooth untrilled r. Nearly all words of African origin beginning with this sound will be found under L; (2) the Arabic r sound, which is somewhat stronger than the English r, but in Swahili is often assimilated to the Bantu r. Nearly all the words given under R will be seen to be of foreign origin.

The rolled or guttural r is only used in imitation (conscious or unconscious) of Arabic pronunciation, esp. of ghain.

Though not careful to distinguish r and l, the Swahili recognizes the difference, and preserves it as a rule in words, where needed to make the meaning clear, e.g. hali, condition, hari, sweat, and in demonstratives such as yule.

*Rabbi, n. lord, master,—in Z. only as a title of God,—like Mola. (Ar.)

*Radi, n. (—), (1) plan, design, purpose, wish, resolve, e.g. mnekosa radi ya baba yenu, you have failed to carry out your father's wish. (Ar. mradi, cf. nia, kusudi, azima, shauri.) (2) for rathi, see Urathi, favour, good pleasure, acquiescence, approval, pardon. Taka (pata) radi, ask (obtain) consent. (Ar. Cf. rithi, urathi, and ruhusa.) (3) also Radu, thunder-clap, Piga radi, thunder. (Ar. Cf. ngurumo.)

*Raâki, n. (—, and ma-), friend,—the most common word. (Ar. Cf. urâski, and syn. mwensi, mpensi, sâhilu, nsiri, mzishi.)

*Raha, n. rest, repose, peace, tranquillity, passive enjoyment, ideal happiness, bliss. R. ya peponi, heavenly happiness. R. mstarehe, perfect peace. (Ar. Cf. sta-rehe, and syn. amani, ntulivu, furaha, kimya.)

*Rahisi, a. (1) cheap, of small value (contr. ghali, a-thamani; (2) easy, without difficulties,—and so, light in weight, comfortable, soft (contr. -zito, -gumu, and syn. -epepsi'). E.g. njia r., an easy road. Kazi r., easy work. Msigo r., a light load. Rahist inawunja upishi, cheapness spoils the cooking. (Ar.)

*Rai, v. give food to, put food in the mouth of, feed,—esp. as a sign of affection or respect. (Ar. Cf. lisha, Cs. of -la, v.)

*Rajabu, n. the seventh month of the Arabic year, regarded as esp. sacred, as the month of Mahomed's journey to Jerusalem. (Arab.)

*Rajamu, n. mark, stamp, trademark. (Ar. properly of a stone used as a mark, cf. anwani, chapa, alama.)

*Rakabisha, n. show vigilance (care, attention) as to, act with caution, arrange, provide, prepare. Sometimes also a Nt. rakabika, be done or managed with care, &c., and simple rakabu, in similar sense. (Ar.)

*Rali, a. (pronounced with deep guttural r). See Ghali. (Ar.)

*Ramani, n. and Rahmani, map, chart, plan. (Ar.)

*Ramathani, n. the Mahomedan month of fasting, when nothing is eaten or drunk between sunrise and sunset. (Ar. Cf. mwesi, and for fasting, mfungo, funga.)

Ramba, v. lick. See Lamba. — n. (1) (ma-), a Madagascar grass-cloth, of fine plaited grass with coloured stripes; (2) a kind of knife used by shoemakers (Str.).

*Rambi-rambi, n. words or messages of condolence after a death or disaster. (Ar. See Mbirambi.)

*Ramli, n. sand. In Z. of a divining-board, covered with sand, used for foretelling the future. Hence piga r., use a divining-board, take omens. Takaenda katika ramli, and we resorted to divination. Weka r., try divination. (Ar. Cf. B. mchanga.)

*Rammu, n. (with guttural r). See Ghammu, Hamu. (Ar.)

*Randa, n. a carpenter's plane. Piga r., plane, v. (Hind.)
Randa, v. dance for joy, gambol, frisk, jump about. (Cf. chesa, tapa.)

Rangi, n. (1) colouring matter, pigment, paint; (2) colour in general, tint, hue. Tia (paka) rangi, colour, paint, apply paint to. -a rangi, coloured, painted. -a rangirangi, of many hues, variegated. (Hind.) The only B. adjs. of colour in Swahili are -eufe, -eusi, -ekundu, white, black, red.)

Rasi, n. (—) also Ras, (1) headland, cape, promontory; (2) capital, property, fortune,—commonly ras il mali. (Ar. 'head'.)

Rateli, n. and Rátel, a pound-weight. See Ratli. (Ar.)

Rathi, n. (—), also sometimes Radi, (1) contentment, acquiescence, compliance, approval, pardon, favour, sanction; (2) apology, satisfaction offered. E. g. kwa rathi ya Muungu, by the favour (blessing) of God. Alishika rathi na wosti wa baba yake, he persevered in compliance with the charge of his father. Taka rathi, ask pardon, apologize. Nimetangulia kupokea rathi zako, I have accepted your apologies in advance. — a. contented, satisfied, willing, ready, consenting. Ni rathi sana, I am quite content. Univie rathi, pardon me, allow me, do not be displeased with me. Also common in the Arab. form kunrathi, pardon me. Rp. rathiana, agree together, consent, be reconciled, be of one mind.

Ratli, n. also Ráteli, Rätel, a weight of about 1 lb., reckoned as equal to 16 wakia or ounces. (Ar. For weights, see also Pishi, Frasila.)

Rayia, n. (—), subject, dependant, tributary. (Arab. for the common mtu, mtumwa, dependant.)

Reale, n. (—), a dollar,—usually reckoned for commercial purposes as equal in value to two rupees, eight pice. The coin commonly known by the name in Z. is the Austrian Maria Theresa silver dollar, still largely used in Abyssinia, and till lately the only coin widely current in East Africa,—its actual value varying with the demand for trade purposes,—also called Reale ya Sham, Syrian dollar. The reale ya mzungu is the Spanish pillar dollar (so called from its device). The French five-franc piece is called reale ya Fransa. (Span. and Port.)

-Regea, v. (1) also Legea (which see), be loose, slack. (2) Also Rejea (which see), return. (Ar.)

-refegeu, a. See -legefuu.

Rehan, n. (1) also Rahani (which see), pledge, pawn; (2) also Rihani, the herb basil (cf. kivumbasi);
(3) a kind of calico made at Cutch in imitation of Muscat fabric.

*Rehema, n. mercy, pity, compassion, fellow-feeling,—human and divine. Also an euphemism for death, fikiliza rehemani, take to mercy (rest). Cf. marehemu. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. huruma, perh. the same word. Rehema in poet. is sometimes ruhuma.)

*Rehemu, v. pity, have mercy on, commiserate,—and as an euphemism, end the life of, grant rest to. Ps. rehem-iwa, or -ewa, e.g. be shown mercy, die. Nt. rehem-ika, or -eka. Ap. rehem-ia, -iwa, or -ea, -ewa, like the Pr. form, show (feel) compassion to (for, by). Cs. rehem-esha, -eshwa, as Intens., show mercy to, bless, prosper. (Ar. Cf. prec. and marehemu, huruma.)

*Rejaa, v. (1) go back, return; (2) fig. refer (to), relate (to); (3) act. turn back, e.g. a will, for rejesa, e.g. rejaa wosia, revoke. Ps. rejewa. Nt. rejeka. Cs. rej-esa, -eswa, return, repay. Hence rejez-ea, -ewa. Also rejenesa. Rp. rejeana. (Ar. Cf. syn. rudi, and follg.)

*Rejeo, n. usu. in plur. marejeo, return, requital, repayment, reference. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Cs. remb-esha, -eshwa. (Cf. urembo, rembo, rembua, marembo, and the commoner syn. pamba.)

Rembo, n. (ma-), ornament, ornamental marking (form, colour). Mar- mar ya marembo, variegated marble, i. e. with streaks, veins, &c. (Cf. prec.)

Rembua, v. Rv. of remba, spoil the beauty of, distort, disfigure. Rembua macho, show the whites of the eyes. Ps. rembuliwa. (Cf. prec. and umbua.)

*reno, a. of Portugal, Portuguese. Mreno, a Portuguese. Ureno, Portugal. Kireno, the Portuguese language.

*Riba, n. interest on money or property, money-lending, usury. Toa r., lend at interest, practise usury. Mla r., one who takes interest, a usurer, money-lender, banker. (Ar., sometimes, with article, iriba. Cf. faida.)

*Rihani, n. and Rehani, a sweet-scented herb, sweet basil. Two varieties are known as r. ya kipata, and r. ya kiajjemi. (Cf. kivumbasi.)

Rika, n. (ma-), age, time of life, also, a contemporary, one of the same age, equal. So rika moja, marika mamoja, of same age. (Cf. marika and umri.)

*Risasi, n. also Lisasi (which see), and Russasi, lead. (Ar.)

*Ritha, n. consent, sanction, approval. Rarely used. Kwa ritha yetu wenyewe, by our own consent. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Rithi, (1) v. (the th pronounced as in Eng. then, i. e. dh), make content, satisfy, please, meet the wishes of. E.g. mwenyi kumrithi mwensiswe, one who treats his friend with kindness (courtesy, consideration). Kama akikurithi, bassi, if he pleases you, that is enough. Ps. rithiwa. Nt. rithika, e.g. be satisfied (contented, pleased), acquiesce, approve, consent. Ap. rith-ia, -iwa, e.g. agree with, consent to, be pleased about, approve, accept, &c. Cs. rithi-sha, -shwa. Intens. cause to be content, content, satisfy, please, win approval of, &c. Rp. rithiana, and rathiana, be mutually agreed, come to terms, be of one mind. (Ar. Cf. rathi, urathi, and syn. pendesa, kubali. Dist. follg.)
ROSHAHI

ROSHAHI 327

*Rithi, (2) v. (the th pronounced as in Eng. thin, also Risi, see note below), inherit, get by inheritance, be heir. Rithi mali kwa babaye, inherit property from his father. Killa atakayeniriithi, all my heirs. Ps. rithiwa, e.g. be left as a legacy, be bequeathed, be disposed of by will. Ameacha mtumwa huru, asi-uzwe wala asirithiwe, he has left the slave free, so that he cannot be sold or disposed of by will. Also see the Ap. Nt. rithika. Ap. rith-ia, -iwa, e.g. inherit from (by, for), &c. Cs. rithi-sha, -shwa, cause to inherit, instal as heir, do the duty of an executor to. In Ps. receive an inheritance, be made heir. (Ar. warash, urish. Cf. warithi, miriti, urithi. The word has become assimilated to the quite different rithi, make content (which compare). Cf. syn. acha, bequeath, achiwa, inherit.)

Riza, n. also Liza, door chain, secured by a staple (tumulu) and padlock outside the door.

*Riziki, n. (—), necessaries of life, means of subsistence, food, maintenance. (Ar. Cf. ruzuku, and syn. nafuu, mafa, chakula, maponae.)

*Robo, n. (—), (1) a fourth part, a quarter; (2) a quarter dollar, i.e. commonly a half rupee, worth 7–8 pence; (3) any silver coin of similar appearance, e.g. an English shilling. Robo pesa, one pic,—of which there are three to the piece, twelve to the anna. This coin is little used in Z. Kassa robo, lit. less a quarter, i.e. three-quarters. Saa tano kassa robo, five less a quarter, i.e. a quarter to eleven (English time). (Ar. Cf. other coins, ruapia, pesa, reale, and themuni.)

*Robota, n. (—) and Robta, packet, parcel, bundle, bale. Robota ya ngu, a bale of calico. Dim. kirobota. (Ar. Cf. mtumwa, bahasha.)

*Roda, n. sheave—of a pulley. (Cf. kapí.)

*Roho, n. (1) soul, spirit, life, vital principle,—of man or animals, regarded sometimes as wholly immaterial, e.g. roho peke yake haina kiwiliwili, the soul in itself has no body (cf. kivuli cha roho, the soul’s shadow or ghost)—sometimes as having a substance of some kind, i.e. nyama ya roho, kitu cha roho. Cf. killa chenyi roho, every living thing (also cf. usima, uhai). Hence (2) breath, as a sign of life, e.g. kata roho, die, expire, kokota roho, draw breath with difficulty (cf. pumusi); and (3) throat, as the breath-passage, e.g. chakula kinampalia rohoni, the food rises up in his throat. Kaba roho, seize by the throat (cf. koo). (4) heart, as a vital organ, e.g. roho haipigita tena, his heart no longer beats, but also distinguished, e.g. moyo haipigita, roho inentoka, the heart does not beat, his spirit is gone. (5) like moyo, character, individuality. Rohe yake njema, he is good, well-principled, trustworthy. Killa mtu ana roho yake, every man has his individuality (cf. nafiri, tabia). (6) greediness, gluttony, avarice, covetousness. Una roho, you are greedy. Kula kwa roho, greedy eating. Fanya roho, be greedy, covetons (cf. pufa, tama). (7) sometimes for a spiritual being, spirit, with plur. mrina roho (cf. pepo, simwe, msimu). a roho, of the soul, spiritual, heartfelt, &c. Also a kiroho, spiritual, immaterial, abstract. (Ar. Obs. the various words compared above.)

*Rojo-rojo, n. and a., of a thick, tenacious, sticky fluid, or substance. (Ar.)

*Roshani, n. balcony, projecting window. (Ar. window, cf. dirisha.)
Ruba

Rubani, n. (— or ma—), pilot, steersman, guide. (Ar. Cf. kio-ngosi, mshiki, msukani.)

Rudi, v. (1) turn (come, go) back, return, revert,—sometimes with Infin. of that from which the return is, e.g. amerudi kutembea, he has come back from a walk. Maskini amerudi kuomba, the poor man has returned from begging. (2) give back, send back, reverse, return, repay, reply to, contradict, e.g. akawarudi salaam, and he returned their greeting. Muungu akurudi mema yako, may God requite you your goodness. Mimi sivoezi kurudija liliokwisha, I cannot reverse what is done. Rudi neno, contradict, deny, refuse. (3) reprove, correct, reform, punish, e.g. rudi makosa, correct mistakes (faults). Rudi mtoto, punish a child. Ps. rudiwa, e.g. be reversed, be returned, be punished,— hataki kurudija neno lake, he will not have his words contradicted. Ali-rudiwa kwa neno la heri, he was reformed by a word in season. Nt. rudika, e.g. neno lake halirudiki, his orders cannot be disobeyed. Mtoto harudiki, the child is not amenable to discipline. Ap. rud-ia, -iwa, e.g. return to (from, by, &c.), punish for (with, at, &c.). Cs. rudi-sha, -shwa, give back, send back, repay, &c. Hence rudi-shia, -shiwa, and ruditshana. Rp. rudiana, e.g. return to each other, return all together (by common consent). (Ar. Cf. marudi, marudio, and syn. rejea, and punish, athibu, ongosa, tisha.)

Rufudu, a. double, twofold, usu. in form marufudu (which see). (Ar. Cf. follg.)

Rufufya, v. make double, double, redouble. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Rufaa, n. cargo, provisions for a voyage. *Waka*parakia rufaa, kila kilu cha dumtani na aina vyakula, they put stores on board, everything in the world, and all kinds of products. (Ar., not common, cf. masarisifu, risiki.)

Rujumu, v. stone, kill bystoning. Ps. rujumiwa. (Ar., for common B. *pi*ga mawe.)

Ruka, v. (1) jump, leap, hop, spring, bound, fly, fly up, fly away, pass through the air; (2) pass over, pass beyond, overstep, trespass; (3) omit, leave out, fail to notice. Ruka mpaka, pass a boundary, break bounds. Used of any object moving in the air. Ps. rukwa, e.g. rukwa na akili, lose one's senses,—corresponding to the act. form akili zina-nruka, his senses are leaving him. Ap. ruk-ia, -iwa, e.g. leap on, fly at, assail, attack, e.g. chui alirimukia kuku, a leopard pounced on the fowl. Rp. rukiana. Cs. rusha, rushwa, e.g. of a horse throwing its rider, flying a kite, letting off rockets, splashing up water, making dust fly, &c., driving away birds, &c., throwing a ball. (Cf. follg.)

Ruko, n. (ma—), and Mruko, leaping, a leap, over-stepping, trespass, omission. (Cf. prec.)

Bahari Rum, the Mediterranean Sea. (Ar.)

Rungu, n. (ma-), also Lungu, club, mace, war-club, knob-kerry. (Cf. for sticks, bakora, fimbo.)

Rupia, n. (—), (1) an Indian rupee, now worth about one shilling and fourpence. No gold coins are commonly current in Z., and all cash transactions are in rupees and pice. (Hind. Cf. reale, pesa, robo.) (2) a skin disease.

Rusasi, n. also Lisasi, Risasi, lead,—the metal. (Ar.)

Rushwa, n. (—), a bribe, commission. Taa rushwa, offer a bribe. Penyeza r., give a bribe. Kula r., to take a bribe. (Ar. Cf. kijiri, mlungula.)

Rutubia, n. damp, moisture, dampness. (Ar. Cf. maji, mnyefu, chepe-chepe.)

Rutubika, v. (1) be damp, wet, moist; (2) fig. be refreshed, relieved, cooled. Roho yao wagonjwa hurutubika kidogo, the spirits of the invalids were refreshed a little. Cs. rutubisha, make damp. (Ar. Cf. lowa, and burudika.)

Ruzuku, v. supply with necessary of life, provide for, maintain, support,—used commonly of God's providential care for His creatures, i.e. bless, preserve. E.g. mtu akimpa maskini kichache, Muungu humruzuku kingi, if a man gives a little to the poor, God gives him abundance. Hutaki kumruzuku mtumwa wako, you will not give your slave daily subsistence. Ps. ruzukiwa. Ap. ruzuk-ta, -twa. Cs. ruzuk-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. risiki.)

S.

S represents the same sound as in English, and may always be so pronounced. But it must be remembered that (1) in words of Arabic origin, s is used for both Sin and Saf, and is often written for the sound of Thay, i.e. the th in Eng. 'thin'; (2) a Swahili does not always clearly distinguish s, sh, and z, even when a difference of meaning in a word is involved, e.g. sindano, needle, and shindano, struggle, shavu and chafu, shanuo and chano. Hence somewhat different pronunciations of the same word are heard, and words not found under S may be looked for under Sh, Th, and Z. Obs. esp. shindika, sindika, zindika, and cognate words. Moreover when s is closely connected with a following consonant, there is a tendency to interpose a vowel sound to give it a separate syllabic force, e.g. situka for stuka, sitiri for stiri, simullah for ismullah, &c.

Saa, v. remain over, be left over, e.g. haikusaa tende hatta moja, not a single date remained. But the Ap. form is commonly used in this sense, i.e. salia, both in the simple and applied meaning,—remain over (for, to, by, in, &c.). Cs. saza, saawa, leave over, cause to remain over, leave unsaid or undone, omit, e.g. sitasaza kumweleza, I will not fail to inform him. Hence Ap. sazia, saziwa, Cs. saz-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. salio, sazo, and baki.)

Saa, n. (1) an hour, a twelfth part of the day or night; (2) time, period of time; (3) a timepiece, watch, clock. Saa ya mkono, a watch. The day in Z. begins at sunset, which is called saa thenashara jioni, i.e. twelve o'clock in the evening, about 6 p.m. all the year round, and from it the hours are reckoned on, one, two, three, &c. till 6 a.m., which is called saa thenashara assubuhi. The time is asked by Saa ngapi? How many hours? i.e. since sunset or sunrise, or Saa gani? What hour is it? and the reply is saa moja, saa kwa-nza (or saa ya kwa-nza), one o'clock, i.e. seven in English time, saa mbili, saa pili (saa ya pili), two o'clock, i.e. eight, saa tatu (saa ya tatu), three o'clock, and so on. Nussu saa, half an hour. Robo saa, quarter of an hour. Saa u robo, an hour and a quarter. Saa mbili kassa robo, an hour and three-quarters, lit. 2 hours less a quarter. A particular time of day is often roughly fixed by indicating the position of the sun, and the expression jua hivi, the sun thus. (Ar. Cf. dakika, mchana, siku, usiku. Dist. saa (ma-) for saito, (which see).)

Saa, int. of wonder, impatience, or simple acknowledgement of a call. Sema saa! Speak, will you! Ebu saa, in remonstrance, don't do that. Unaumiza saa, you hurt, I say.

Saanda, n. See Sanda.

Saba, n. and a., also commonly Sabaa, seven. -a saba, seventh. Sometimes used for juma, a week, e.g. sabaa ngine, next week. Sabaa tatte, three weeks. (Ar. Cf. sabatashara, sabaini.)

Sababu, n. and conj., reason, cause, motive. Toa sababu, give a reason, assign a cause. Hampati kwa sababu hana sababu, he does not get him because he has no motive to. Kwa sababu, and simply sababu, because. Sababu gani? Why? For what reason? Kwa sababu ya, by reason of, on account of, for the sake of, in consequence of. Sabadabu nini amekuja? What is the reason he has come? (Ar. Cf. ajili, maana, kwa ajili, &c.)

Sabaini, n. and a., also Saubini, seventy. -a sabaini, seventieth. (Ar. Cf. saba.)

Sabalkheri, also Subulkheri, the common Arab morning salutation, Good morning. (Ar. Cf. assubulhi, heri, and masalkheri. The common Hindoo salute is salam, and the common Swahili jambo.)

Sabatashara, n. and a., seventeen. -a sabatashara, seventeenth. (Ar. Cf. saba, ashara.)

Sabiki, v. go before, lead the way. (Arab. for common tangulia, cf. takadamu.)

Sabuini, n. and a., seventy. See Sabaini. (Ar.)

Saburi, n. soap. (Ar.)

Saburi, n. patience, patient waiting, resignation. Saburi ya venta heri, patience brings luck. S. ni ufungo wa faraja, patience is the key of comfort. — v. be patient,—also subiri (which see). (Ar. Cf. wumilivu, ustahimili.)

Sadaka, n. a religious offering, sacrifice, alms, act of charity, anything done from a religious motive. (Ar. Cf. sadiki, and kafara, thabihu, zaka.)

Sadiki, v. believe, give credence to, accept as true (truthful). Ps. sadikiwa. Nt. sadikika. Ap. sadik-ia, -iwa. Cs. sadiki-sha, -shwa, e.g. (1) convince, win credence, justify, make out to be true; (2) intens. believe firmly, trust implicitly. — n. and a., truth, true,—but usually kweli, hakika, amini. (Ar. Cf. sadaka, and follg., also syn. amini.)

-sadikifu, a. (1) prone to believe, credulous; (2) credible, trustworthy, true. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Safari, n. (1) a journey, voyage, expedition; (2) for msafara, a caravan, company of persons travelling together, an equipped party or expedition. (Such a party in E. Africa commonly includes (a) wagagazi, porters,—carrying goods and provisions; (b) asikari, an armed escort, acting also as police; (c) wanimagara (or wasimamisi, headmen, in charge of different detachments; (d) kiongozi, a leader, or guide,—besides the owner providing for the whole, tajiri.) (3) for marra, time, turn, instance. S. hii nakuachilia, this time I let you off. S. ngine, another time. S. ya pili, next time. Funga s., get ready, make a start. Safari! Time to start! Off you go! Right away! (Ar. Cf. safiri, msafara.)
Safi, a. and Swafi, (1) clean, pure, clear, bright, lucid. Maji (ngwo, nyumba) safi, clean water (clothes, house). Cf. -epe, -takatifu. (2) honest, sincere, disinterested. Moyo wake swafi, his character is good. Maneno swafi, clear statements, straightforward account. — v. make clean. Ps. safidiwa. Nt. safika. But usu. in the Cs. safi-sha, -shwa, clean, purify, clear up, set to rights. Ap. saf-i-da, -iwa, e.g. amemsaftia chuo, he has corrected the book for him. Also saf-ilia, -iliwa, e.g. msa wa kusafilia uta, sandpaper for smoothing the bow. (Ar. Cf. follg. and usafi, masafi.)

*Safidi, v. clean, clear up, put in order, set to rights, arrange neatly, e.g. of house, effects, or person. Ps. safidiwa. Nt. sofidi, e.g. maneno yamesafidika, the statement is clear, straightforward. Ap. safid-i-da, -iwa. Cs. sofidi-sha, -shwa, and intens. (Ar. Cf. prec. and takasa, tengenezza, fanyiza.)

*Safina, n. (—), a ship, a vessel, Noah's ark. (Ar. for common jahazi, chombo.)

*Safiri, v. travel, engage in a journey or expedition, sail, start. Ap. safiri-da, -iwa, -ika, i.e. travel for (in, by, with, &c.). Cs. safiri-sha, -shwa, send off, dispatch, see start, give farewell greeting to, &c. (Ar. Cf. safiti, msafta, msafti.)

*Safu, n. (—, and ma-), row, line, rank, series. Panga (weka) safu or kwa safu, set in rows. Miti safu safu, an avenue of trees. Safu za kaida, regular rows. (Ar. Cf. msafta, and mstari.)

*Safura, n. bile, biliousness, but also of disease causing a swollen or dropsical condition. (Ar.)

Saga, v. (1) grind, pulverize, triturate, crush to bits; (2) fig. grind down, oppress. Esp. of grinding grain with small native mill-stones, mawe ya kusagia, the upper called mwana, worked by a handle (msuso) on the lower (mama). Saga mena, grind the teeth. Ps. sagiwa. Nt. sagika. Ap. sag-i-da, -iwa, -ika. (Cf. ponda, seta, funda.)

*Sagai, n. (—), javelin, short stabbing spear,—of the Zulus and kindred tribes. (Cf. mkuke, fumo.)

*Sahani, n. (—), dish, plate, saucer. Dim. kisahani. (Ar. Cf. for various dishes, &c., chombo, chungu, &c.)

*Sahaulifu, a. (1) forgetful, inattentive, absent-minded; (2) forgotten. (Cf. prec.)

*Sahibu, n. (—), (1) friend, acquaintance; (2) master, lord. Walikuwa sahibu sana, they were great friends. Also masahibu, friendship. Nalikuwa na masahibu yake, I was on familiar terms with him. (Ar. Cf. rafiki, mwenzii.)

*Sahiti, a. correct, right, free from mistakes, valid, genuine, true. Mtu sahiti, a man of unblemished character. Fanya sahiti, correct, revise, rectify. — n. attestation, guarantee, signature. Tia sahiti, sign, attest. — adv. rightly, truly. — v. correct, put right,—but usu. in the Cs. form sahiti-sha, -shwa, (1) correct, put right; (2) pass as right or valid, attest, sign. Ps. sahitiiwa. (Ar. Cf. usahiti.)

*Saidi, n. lord, master. See Sayidi. (Ar.)

*Saisi, n. (—), groom, coachman.
(Ar.)

*Saka, v. hunt,—of wild animals, birds, &c. (Cf. nsakaji, msako, and syn. winda.)

*Sakafu, n. (—), a floor, or roof, of concrete, laid on pods in the upper stories, and rammed hard. Also of roofing generally, e. g. sakafu ya chuma, a roof of galvanized iron.
(Ar. Cf. sakifu.)

*Sakama, v. (1) stick fast, be caught (held, jammed); (2) fig. be in a difficulty (perplexity, &c.). (Ar. Cf. saki, and syn. kwama.)

*Saki, v. (1) press close, fit tight (to); (2) affect deeply, come home (to), touch the feelings (of). E. g. of clothes, the stopper of a bottle.
*Njaa inasahi, hunger presses. Ps. sakiwa. Cs. saki-sha, -shwa, cause to press, make fit closely. (Ar. Cf. sakama.)

*Sakifu, v. make a floor or roof of concrete, provide with floor or roof, put a roof on.
*Nyumba ime-sakisiwa na mbau juu, the house was floored with planks in the upper stories. Ps. sakisiwa. Ap. sakifiya, -iwa. Cs. sakif-isha, -ishwa.
(Ar. Cf. sakafu, dari, ezeka.)

*Sala, n. (—), prayer, i. e. to God, according to Mahomedan forms and ideas, public worship, divine service, devotions, whether performed with others or alone. The five prescribed hours of prayer are (1) alfajiri, an hour or two before sunrise; (2) aththwuri, noon; (3) alasiri, afternoon; (4) magaribri, sunset; (5) isha or esha, an hour or two after sunset.
(Ar. Cf. sali, msala, and syn. dua, maombi. Dist. saili, swali.)

*Salama, n. (—), also Salamu, greeting, good wishes, compliments.
*Salama is a common Arab greeting, also used by Hindoos,—in full Salama alek (phr. alekum), peace (safety) be with you,—the reply being wa alek (alekum) issalaam, and with you peace,—usually accompanied by a gesture, viz. placing the hand on the heart.
(Ar. Cf. salamu, salimu, salama, and syn. jambo.)

*Salama, n. (—), meat from near the backbone, the chine.
*Salamu, n. (—), also Salama, and Salaam, (1) safety, security, peace, salvation, sound health; (2) greeting, good wishes, compliments.
*Mizinga ya salaam, a salute with cannon. *Salaamu salimini, safe and well, quite safe. A common opening of a letter is kwa fullani salamu sana (or, salamu nyingi). *Na baada ya salamu, &c., i. e. to so and so all good wishes. And after good wishes, &c. — a. safe, secure, sound, flourishing, well.
(Ar. Cf. salimu, and syn. uzima, amani, wokovu.)

*Salata, n. (—), harshness, unfeeling conduct, sarcasm.
(Ar. Cf. saliti, msalata.)

*Sali, v. pray (to God), i. e. use the prescribed forms of Mahomedan worship, public or private,—offer prayer (divine service, worship).
(Cf. sala, and dist. omba, in which the idea of earnest request, begging, is the chief one.) *Sali dua, offer a special request to, make a petition to, God. Ap. sal-ia, -iwa, pray for, intercede for, &c., e. g. mtu ali-yekusa husaliwa, prayers are said over a dead person. *Msala ni mkeka wakusaliwa, a msala is a praying-mat. Cs. sali-sha, -shwa, e. g. teach forms of prayer to, lead the prayers,—in a mosque, as is done by the mwalimu. Also intens. engage in worship.
(Ar. Dist. saili, sali, petition, question, and salia as Ap. of saa, v. be left over.)

*Salihi, a. good, sound, fitting, useful, proper, in good condition. Mtu salihi, a man of good (honourable, unblemished) character. Sometimes as a v. See Selehi. (Ar. Cf. suluhisha, selehe, and syn. sahithi.)

*Salimini, adv. in safety, safely,—used in conjunction with salamu, e.g. waraka wako umenifia salamu salimini, your letter reached me quite safely. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Salimu, v. (1) express good wishes to, salute, greet, accost, congratulate; (2) hand over safely, deliver, rescue; (3) give up, surrender, yield, resign, e.g. wali anakusalimu, the governor sends his compliments to you. Nimensalimu wali fetha yake, I have paid the governor his money. Salimu roho, give up the ghost, die. Ps. salimiwa. Nt. salimika, e.g. salimika ajali, meet one's fate, come to the appointed end, die. Also, delivered, rescued, be paid off, &c. Ap. salim-ia, -iwa, e.g. unisalimie baba yako, give my kind regards to your father. Rp. salimiana. Cs. salim-isha, -ishwa, e.g. (1) cause to be safe, save, rescue; (2) give up, hand over, pay, i.e. intens. Ntaosalimisha roho yangu, I shall die. Mali hizi umsalimishie ndugu yangu mkenoni, pay this money into my brother's hand. Salimisha kwa hila, betray. (Ar. Cf. salamu, silimu, and syn. toa, lipa, kabithi, ponya.)

*Salio, n. usu. in plur. masalio, remainder, residue, remains. Mas. ya mirathyi yake, residuary estate. (Ar. Cf. saa, v. and syn. baki, sazo.)

*Saliti, v. be harsh (domineering, sarcastic), bring a charge (against), attack, esp. with the tongue. (Ar. Cf. salata, msalata.)

*Saluda, n. a sweetmeat, made of saffron, sugar, and starch (Str.).

Sama, v. stick in the throat, choke.

(Cf. kwama, and dist. kaba, choke by outside pressure, throttle.)

*Samadari, n. (—), a bedstead of foreign, non-African, make, iron or wood. Commonly of Indian beds. (? Hind. Cf. kitanda, ulili.)

*Samadi, n. (—), manure, cow-dung, dung and ashes mixed. (Ar. Cf. mboleo.)

*Samaki, n. (—), a fish (of any kind), fish (in general). Kr. gives sixty-three names of different kinds, Saelc. twice as many, and cf. Playfair's Fishes of Zanzibar. For some of the commonest cf. papa, nguru, pweza, taa, changu, daga. Kambari is the commonest fresh-water fish. S. mbichi, fresh fish. S. mkaazi, dried fish. S. ya ng’onda, cured (sun-dried) fish. S. ya chumwi, salted fish. Vua samaki, fish, catch fish.

.Tunga s., tie (hang up) fish in a row. Bana s., fasten fish in a cleft stick,—to bake by a fire. Cf. samaki akioza ni mtungo pia, if one fish is bad, the whole lot (string) is too. (Ar.)

*Samani, n. (—), implement, tool, utensil, piece of furniture, movable chattel. Samani ya chombo, gear of a ship. (Hind. for the common chombo. Dist. samani, ilhamani.)

*Samawati, n. (—), the heavens, the sky, sky-colour, azure. Also rangi ya samawati (or samawi), sky-blue, blue. (Ar.)

Sambamba, adv. alongside, abreast, side by side, shoulder to shoulder, in line. (Cf. sanjari.)

*Sambusa, n. (—), a small kind of cake, bun.

*Samli, n. ghee, native butter. (Cf. Ar. samn.)
Sana, adv. very, much, in a high degree,—used as an intensive of any kind of action or quality, and translatable accordingly, e.g. kubwa s., very great. Pigita s., flag soundly. Sema s., speak loud. Vuta s., pull hard. Kimbia s., run fast. Kaa s., remain a long time. And so on. Often with descriptive nouns, e.g. mtu mganga sana, a great doctor; fundi sana, a good workman. Sometimes doubled for emphasis sanasa, or combined with mno, ajibu, &c. Also in rejoinder, signifying appreciation, approval,—just so, certainly, I understand, quite right. (?Ar.)

*Sanaa, n. art, work of art, handicraft. (Ar.)

*Sanamaki, n. (—), senna,—the drug.

*Sanamu, n. (—, and sometimes, ma-), image, idol, likeness, statue, picture, representation, figure. Ibada ya sanamu, idolatry. Pigita sanamu, draw a picture, make a likeness. Sanamu yara nji, a painting. (Ar. Cf. tawira, mfano.)

*Sandia, n. shroud, winding sheet, burial cloth,—commonly of thin white calico, i.e. bafla ya kuzikia mtu. (Ar. Cf. maziashi.)

*Sandali, n. (—), sandal wood,—from the tree msandali.

*Sandarusi, n. (—), gum copal,—foossil exudation of the tree msandarusi.

*Sanduku, n. (—, and of size ma-), chest, box, trunk, case. (Ar. Cf. kasha.)

*Sanjari, adv. also Shanjari, Shangari, Chinjari, in Indian file, in column, following each other, e.g. of ships in company, a convoy and consort, e.g. tukafula sanjari, mashika zote mbili, and we followed in company, with both boats. (?Ar. Cf. vinjari.) — v. follow in line, escort, accompany,—of ships.

*Sansuri, n. a kind of sword,—also a sword-fish. (Cf. upanga.)

*Sarafu, n. (—), also Sarf, Sarfu, Sarifu, Sarifu, (t) small coin, small change; (2) more generally,—exchange, rate of exchange, e.g. sarfu gani ya mji leo? What is the exchange in town to-day? (3) a small metal plate or plates worn on the forehead, or neck. (Ar. Cf. serifu.)

*Serifu, v. arrange, set in order,—and esp. of language, use words well (grammatically, in good style), i.e. serifu maneno kwa uzuri. (Ar. Cf. sarufi. Dist. serifu.)

*Seruji, n. (—), and Seruji, (1) cement, chalk and sand mixed, Portland cement,—also called udongo wa Ulaya; (2) saddle, for a horse. (Ar.)

Sasa, adv. now, at this time, at present, in these days. Sasa hivi, directly, immediately, at once. *a sasa, *a kisasa, of the present day, fashionable, modern.

Sasamlando, n. borage.

*Sataranji, n. (—), chess. (Ar.)

*Satini, n. grey long-cloth. Varieties are s. ya Mombee, s. ya Ulaya. (Cf. nguo.)

Satta, n. (ma-), lees of cocoanut oil, i.e. satta la mfutu ya nasi. (Cf. shapo, siru.)

*Sauti, n. (1) voice, sound, noise,—mostly of animals, birds, or instruments, not merely of sound. Toa s., utter a cry. Pazaas, raise the voice, speak loud. Kwa sauti kubwa, with a loud voice. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. milio, which includes all kinds of sounds, and uvumi, shindo, ukelele, of loud sounds.)

Sawa, a. (1) like, alike, equal, the same; (2) equal, fair, equitable, just, right; (3) level, smooth, even, flat, straight. Sawa na, sawa kama, equal to, like, just as. Inchi sawa, flat country, a plain. Fanya sawa, e.g. make equal (cf. sawaazisha), act fairly. — n. like uawa, likeness, equality, flatness, &c. Sawa kwa sawa mimi nawe, we share equally, have half each. — adv. equally, just the same,—also sawasawa. (Ar.
Cf. follg., and syn. -moja, yule, yule, yule vile, &c.)

*Sawanisha, Sawazisha, v. cause to be like, equal, even, &c., equalize, compare. *Ps. sawanishwa. (Ar. Cf. linganisha, pambanisha, fana-nisha.)

*Sayidi, n. (—, and ma—), also Saidi, Sayidi, lord, master, esp. as a title, and in Z. a title of the Sultan. But also in respectful address, Sayidi wangu (yangu), Sir,—like bwana. (Ar.)

*Saza, v. Cs. of Saa, v. (which see). (Ar.)

*Sazo, n. (ma—) remainder, balance, superfluous. Sazo la matumizi, credit balance, excess of receipts over expenditure. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Sêbule, n. (—), indoor reception-room, front room,—usually next the entrance, but sometimes on first floor, e.g. akapanda darini katika sêbule yake, he went upstairs to his parlour. (? Ar. Cf. baraza, which is usually outside.)

*Sehemu, n. (—), part, portion, piece, share. (Ar. Cf. syn. B. fungu.)

Sekeneke, v. be syphilized, be infected (ruined, destroyed) by syphilis. Cs. sekene-sha, -shwa, infect with syphilis, ruin by disease. (Cf. follg.)

Sekeneko, n. syphilis.

*Solaha, n. (—), and Silaha, a weapon, arms (warlike, offensive). Twaa (shika) s., take up arms. (Ar.)

*Selehi, v. also Suluhi, Salahi, put in good condition, improve, make agree (with); conduct to, serve (for), be of use (to), be fitting for, reconcile, be reconciled. Ps. selehiwa. Nt. selehiaka. Ap. seleh-ia, -twa. Rp. selehiana. Cs. selehisha, cause to agree, reconcile, make peace between, conciliate. — n. concord, peace, reconciliation, agreement. (Ar. Cf. m selehishi, salahi, suluhi, -suluhifu, and syn. patanisha.)

*Selu, n. signal of arrival or departure of a ship. (Cf. Eng. Sail ho!)

Sema, v. say, talk, converse, speak. Sema sana, speak loud. Sema na, talk to, converse with. But sema with an objective pers.-pfx. means 'speak against, abuse' (cf. ambia, and ambia), e.g. watu watamsema sana, people will abuse him soundly. *Jisema (and jisemea), pretend, profess, — to be what one is not. Ps. semwa. Nt. semeka, e.g. be said, admit of being uttered, pronounced, &c. Ap. sem-ia, -twa, e.g. speak to, address, say to (contr. ambia, which introduces the words used). Semea puani, speak with a nasal twang. Hence semana. Cs. sem-esh, -eshwa, -twa, -twa, and hence semeana, hold a conversation together, wrangle. Rp. semana, abuse each other.

*Semwa wa taa, an Arabic phrase sometimes heard,—hear and obey, to hear is to obey. (Cf. iii, taa.)

Sembuse, adv. much more, much less, not to speak of. (Also heard as seiwa, a form of usa, i.e. usulie, do not ask about. Cf. licha.)

Seneza, v. and Seza, smooth (with an adze), flatten, take off projections, edges, blunt. Ps. seneza. Nt. senezea. (Cf. sezo. Cs. of senea, become smooth, blunt, &c., not common in Z.)

Seng'enge, n. (ma—), brass or copper wire,—made into rings or spiral twists, as bracelets and anklets. Hence of brass wire in general. (Cf. masango.)

Sengenyaa, v. calumniate, back-bite, attack by secret or underhand insinuations. Ps. sengenywa. Rp. sengenyana. (Cf. syn. singizia, ambia.)

*Senturi, n. and Santuri, musical box or similar music machine.

*Serahangi, n. (—), headman of a crew, or of part of a crew,—mate, boatswain, serang. (Hind.)

*Serakali, n. (—), and Serikali, Serkali, official executive, government, court, public authorities. Montana wa s., an official. Fetha ya s., public money. (Hind.)

*Seramala, n. (—), and Semala, a carpenter. (Hind.)

*Serifu, v. spend money, pay, incur expense. Ps. serifswa. Ap. serif-i-a, -iwa, e. g. ameserifa watu wamfuate, he paid people to take his side. (Ar. Cf. sarafa, and syn. gharimia, wakifu, lipa.)

*Serkali, n. See Serakali.

*Seruji, n. See Saruji, saddle of a horse. (Ar.)

Seta, v. (1) crush, squash, mash, beat up,—usually of things relatively soft, e. g. seta viasi kwa mviko, mash potatoes with a spoon, but also of pounding ingredients together in a mortar (cf. miseto). (2) jostle, press (in a crowd). Ps. setwa. Nt. seteka. Ap. set-ea, -ewa. Rp. set-e-sha, -eshwa, e. g. huddle together. (Cf. twanga, ponda, saga, songa.)

*Setiri, v. also Sitiri, and Stir, conceal, hide, cover up, atone for. The deriv. stems commonly follow stiri. Thus Ps. stiriwa, Nt. stirika. Ap. stir-i-a, -iwa. Cs. stiri-sha, -shwa. (Ar. Cf. stara, misitiri, and syn. ficha, funika.)

Sezo, n. (—), also Senezo, an adze. (Cf. seneza, and shoka.)

-sha (and -za) is the characteristic termination of the causal conjugation of verbs. For meanings see -za.

*Shaaban, n. eighth month of the Mahomedan year, next preceding Ramathan, and called mwesi wa mlisho, i. e. carnival month. (Ar. Cf. shiba.)

*Shaba, n. copper, brass,—also distinguished as shaba nyekundu, copper; shaba nyewepe, brass. (?Ar. mixture,—a mixed, alloyed metal.)

*Shabaha, n. (—), also Shebaha, Shabibi, (1) similarity, likeness (cf. methali, mfano); (2) figure, object to shoot at, target, butt (cf. sanamu); (3) aim (with a weapon), sight (of a gun). E. g. twaa sh., take aim, aim; also piga sh. Pata sh., hit the target, make a hit. Used as adv. like, the same as, e. g. nyama shabaha (or, shabaha ya) mbwa, an animal like a dog. (Cf. methali, mfano, kama.) (Ar. Cf. shabibi.)

*Shabu, n. alum. (Ar.)

*Shabihu, v. and Shebibi, be like, be analogous to. (Also as n. for shabaha.) Rp. shabihiana. (Ar. for common fanana, lingana.)

*Shabuka, n. a snare, a trap. (Ar. ‘net,’ cf. mitengo.)

*Shada, n. (—, and ma-), parcel, bunch, cluster,—of things fastened together, e. g. of flowers, a nosegay, also a tuft, a tassel, a rosette, a string of beads. Dim. kishada. (Ar.)

*Shaha, n. (ma-), also Shehe, Sheki, (1) head, headman, chief councillor,—used sometimes as the title of the officer ranking next to a chief, i.e. waziri or prime minister; (2) heart, pith,—of a cocoanut tree, the crown from which the leaves and flower spring (cf. kilele). (Ar. Cf. she.)

*Shahada, n. (—), (1) the Mahomedan creed, confession of faith; (2) bond, covenant, deed of ratification, e. g. wahaandikiana shahada, they executed a deed. Cf. kidole cha sh., the fore-finger. Maji ya shahada, water used ceremonially at a funeral. (Ar. Cf. shahidi, ushuhuda.)

*Shahamu, n. (—), fat, lard, grease, i. e. animal fat. (Ar. Cf. mafuta, also nona, nenepa.)

*Shahawa, n. semen. (Ar. Cf. mani.)

*Shahidi, n. (ma-), one who attests or guarantees, a witness, an authority, a martyr. (Ar. Cf. shahada, ushahidi, shuhuida.)

*Shaibu, used sometimes in the (Arabic) expression shaibu la juzi, a very old woman. (Ar. ‘grey-haired.’ Cf. kizee, kikongwe. Juzi for Ar. ajuz, old, decrepit woman.)

*Shairi, n. (ma-), a line of poetry, a verse, usu. in plur. verses, poetry, song, a poem. Tunga mashairi, compose verses. (Ar. Cf. mshairi, also utensi, beti. Dist. shayiri, bar-ley.

*Shaka, n. (ma-), trouble, doubt, perplexity, difficulty, danger, crisis. Usu. in plur., e.g. -wa na mashaka, be in doubt; so shikwa na (ona, kuta, ingia) mashaka. Tia mashaka, cause trouble, perplex, &c. Mashaka me-nji, a troublesome business. (Ar. Cf. shuku, and syn. taabu, matata, shinda, hatari, fataha, uthia, thiki.)

*Shalaka, n. small hole in the gunwale of a boat for securing the loop of rope (kishwara) used as a rowllock. (Ar. Also (?) a knot or loop secured by a peg.)

*Shall, n. a shawl. (Ar.,— whence the Eng. word.)

*Sham, n. Syria. Keale ya Sham, an Austrian silver dollar. Bahari ya Sham, the Red Sea.

*Shamasi, n. fennel. (Ar.)

*Shamasi, n. See Shomasi.

Shamba, n. (ma-), (1) a piece of ground having an owner, an estate small or large, a plantation, farm, garden, a plot of cleared or cultivated land; (2) country, as opp. to town (mji), and in this sense treated similarly as a proper noun, e.g. enda shamba, go into the country; toka sh., come from the country; shinda sh., live in the country. Mutu wa shamba, a rustic, a peasant. Cf. kimashamba, countrified, boorish,— of language, manners, &c.

Shambulia, v. attack, make an inroad (incursion, invasion, war) upon, rush violently on. Ps. shambuliwa. (Cf. follg. and syn. pigia (lettea, tolea), vita (jeuri.).

Shambulio, n. (ma-) also Usha-nbulio, sudden attack, rush, incursion. (Cf. prec.)

*Shamil, n. (ma-), an ear-ornament. (Ar.)

* Shamua, v. sneeze, sniff. (? Ar. smell, sniff. Cf. chafya, enda cha-fya.)

Shangaa, v. be astonished, stand and stare, be dumbfounded (with wonder, horror, &c.), be dazed. Cs. shanga-za, -wa, astonish, strike with wonder, terrify, &c. (Cf. mshango, ajabu, toshewa, fathaka, pigwa bumbuazi.)

Shangazi, n. (ma-), father's sister, paternal aunt. (Cf. mumdo.)

Shangilia, v. make rejoicings (for, at), shout or sing with joy and triumph, make demonstrations of enthusiasm, congratulate. Ps. sha-ngiliwa, e.g. be received with triumph (rejoicings, congratulations). (Cf. follg. and shangwe, and syn. ambia heri, pigia vigegele, furahia.)

Shangilio, n. (ma-), rejoicing, triumph, congratulation. (Cf. prec.)

Shangwe, n. rejoicing, demonstration of joy (triumph, enthusiasm). (Cf. shangilia.)

*Shani, n. a startling (rare, unlooked-for) thing or occurrence, a wonder, a novelty, a curiosity, an adventure, a sudden mishap, accident. E. g. patwa na s., have an accident, meet with an adventure. Nguo ya s., fine, new clothes, latest fashion. Mambo hayo si shani, that is no wonder, nothing to be surprised at. (Ar. Cf. mwujiza, ajabu, kitisho.)

*Shanjari, adv. See Sanjari.

Shanuo, n. See Chanuo.

Shapo, n. usu. in plur. mashapo (which see).

*Sharabeti, n. sherbet. (Ar.)

*Sharabu, n. (ma-), also Sha-warabu, Sherabu, moustache. (Ar.)

*Sharafa, n. sharafa la ndevu, ndevu za sharafa, (?) long flowing whiskers and beard. (Ar. Cf. shariifu.)

*Sharia, n. (—), also Sheria (which see). (Ar.)

*-sharifu, a. (sharifu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), honourable, respectable, noble, excellent. (Ar. Cf. ushariku, and syn. azizi, mashuhuri, bora.)

*Sharika, n. (—, and ma-), also Shirika, partnership, action in common, common interest, communion. E.g. ntajitia shirikani, I will go shares. Mali yetu ni sharika, we are joint owners of our property. Also as adv., in common, together, in partnership. Fanya kazi sharika, share a job. Tumia sh., use in common. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Shariki, v. and Shiriki, (1) share, have a share in, take part in, be partners (in), be associated (with), act together, do in common, e.g. shariki njaa, come in for a share of famine; shariki katika biashara, form a commercial partnership (company, joint-stock business). (2) be intimately connected with, be devoted to, be addicted to, e.g. sh. kazi, be heart and soul in a work; sh. ulevi (uzinzi), be a confirmed drunkard (profligate); sh. moyo, give the rein to one's desires, be an utter sensualist; sh. chuo, be a diligent student; sh. sanamu, be an idolater. Also (3) in a deeper sense, of intimate communion, self-identification, communion of spirit and nature, with an object, e.g. shiriki Mungu, lead a wholly devoted, saintly, religious life,—also, share the divine nature (understood by Mahomedans as a wholly blasphemous claim). Sh. shetani, be of a diabolic temperament, a sinner of the worst kind. Ps. sharikiwa, be shared, &c. Nt. sharikika. Ap. sharikia, e.g. take part in, give a share to, associate with. Cs. shariki-sha, shwa, e.g.

cause (invite, allow, help) to share in, give a share to, &c. Rp. sharikiana. (Ar. Cf. prec. and usharika, msharika, shirika, and for sharing generally, gawanya, enesa, twaa fungu, or sehemu, &c.)

*Sharti, n. (—, and ma-), also Sharuti, Shuruti, (1) necessity, obligation (actual, practical, rather than moral), absence of choice; (2) binding contract, terms, conditions, clause of a legal document; (3) wager, bet. S. kwenda (or, uende), you must go, you have to go. Fanya s., make a contract, bind oneself. Manehe ya s., peremptory, uncontrollable language. Akataka sharti yake kuondoka, he wanted to go in spite of everything, because he had to. Kwa masharti, under conditions, conditionally. Wekana masharti, shindana (pigana) kwa masharti, engage in betting, lay wagers. (Ar. Cf. lazimu, farathi, juzu, mkataba.)

*Shashi, n. a kind of muslin.

Shasira, n. and Shazia, a long copper or brass needle, used in making mats and mattresses. (Ar. Prick of a thorn.)

Shati, n. an English shirt or similar short garment. (From the Eng. Cf. koti, sitoki, fullana.)

Shatoruma, n. shawl worn as waistband (Str.). (Cf. mshipi, mahazamu, masombo.)

Shaua, v. excite desire, and esp. desire which is not gratified, and so (1) make a display, show off; and (2) deceive, disappoint, delude, flatter, often as Rf. jishaua, e.g. (1) make a useless show, be silly (lackadaisical, frivolous, flirty), and (2) be disappointed, have a sense of failure. No deriv. stems commonly used. (Cf. follg.)

-shaufu, a. showy, pretentious, affected. (Cf. prec. and ushaufu.

*Shauko, n. (—), strong desire (affection, wish, fondness, liking), sexual passion. E.g. kuna shauku ya kitu chema au ya kitu kibaya, i.e. shauku is applicable to good and bad

*Shavu, n. (ma—), also *Chavu, *Chafu, (1) cheek, i.e. *shavu la uso; (2) biceps, muscle of arm, i.e. s. la mkono; (3) calf of leg, i.e. s. la mguu. Also s. la samaki, gill of a fish; s. la jogoo, wattles of a cock.

*Shayiri, n. barley. (Ar.)

*Shazasi, n. sal-ammoniac. (Ar.)

*Shazia, n. See *Shasira.

*Shebaha, Shebihi. See *Shabaha.

*Shehe, n. (ma—), also *Sheki, elder, chief, ruler, teacher, an important or powerful person. (Ar. Cf. also *shaha, and syn. mkubwa, mzee, mwalimu, mfalme.)

*Shehena, n. (—), cargo, freight, load. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Sheheni, n. have cargo on board, be loaded up,—of a ship. Cs. *sheheneza, cause cargo to be put on board, load up with freight. *Sh. chombo, load a vessel. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Shela, n. large black veil,—usually a square of black silk, worn over the head by Arab women out of doors. Also called *shela mdeusia, i.e. a black silk veil. Also, a sword-game, fencing (Sacl.). (?Ar. Cf. *utaji, *dusumali.)

*Shelabela, adv. in a lot, with all defects, just as they are, indiscriminately. (?Ar.)

*Shemali, n. (1) the left (hand); (2) the north (quarter); (3) north wind, mist, fog. (Ar. not usual in Z. Cf. *kushoto, *kibla, *kaskazi.)

*Shemasi, n. (wa—); a deacon. (Ar. Cf. *kasist.)

*Shembea, n. a curved knife. (?Ar., or variant of *jambia (which see), and cf. *kisu, *kotama.)

*Shemegi, n. (wa—), also Shemeji, a relation by marriage,—usually of the first degree, i.e. wife's (or husband's) brother or sister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law.

*Sherra, n. See *Sheria. And for *Sherafa, *Sherabeti, see *Sharafa, *Sharabeti. (Ar.)

*Sherehe, n. (—), and *Usherehe, (1) show, pomp, display; (2) demonstrations, rejoicing, cheers, triumph. (Cf. *shangwe, *kigelegele.)

*Shorizi, n. (—), glue. (Hind. serish.)

*Shetani, n. (ma—), (1) an evil spirit, demon, devil, Satan; (2) that which suggests supernatural power, whether evil, or simply incomprehensible, e.g. (a) a clever dodge, great skill, conjuring; (b) epilepsy, fits, hysteria. (Ar. Cf. *jini, *pepo.)

*Shiba, v. (1) have enough to eat or drink, have a full meal, be satisfied with food; (2) sometimes used fig. of being wholly filled with, and so under the influence of something, e. g. shiba Muungu, be wholly given up to worship and religion, be a devotee.
Ap. shib-ia, -iwa. Cs. shib-isha, -ishwa. — n. (—), also Shibe, fullness, satiety, repletion, completion, finishing touch. E. g. shibe ya nyama, a full meal of meat. Njaa si bora kuliko shiba, hunger is not better than a good meal. Shiba ya ngu'o ni kilamba, a turban is full dress. (Ar. Cf. shaaban.)

*Shibiri, n. a span, from thumb to little finger of the open hand, about 9 inches, half a cubit (mkono, thiraa).

(Ar.)

*Shidda, n. trouble, difficulty, want, scarcity, rarity, something hard to get. Patwa na s., -wana s., ingia s., get into trouble or distress.
Kitu hiki ni shidda kuonekana, this article is seldom to be seen. Kwa shidda, with difficulty, scarcely, hardly, seldom, unlikely. (Ar.
Cf. taabu, thiki, m'siba.)

Shika, v. have in the hand, hold, hold fast, take hold of, keep hold on, seize, grasp, keep. A common word with a wide range of application, e. g.
(1) get a hold on, press hard on, be on the mind, put in difficulties; (2) keep a hold on, persevere in; (3) hold to, keep to, observe, remember, attend to, obey; (4) determine, resolve, make up the mind to; (5) also as a Nt., have a hold, prevail, be urgent. E. g. s. njia, take to the road, start, proceed, keep to (follow) a road S. amri, obey an order. S. lak'o, Imperat., mind your own business. S. kwenda, resolve to go. S. nyanazoa, persevere in silence. S. mgensi, welcome (receive, entertain) a guest.
S. bei, hold out for a price, haggle, bargain. Nita Kayokumbia, nawe shika, what I say to you, mind you attend to. Masika imeshika, the rainy season is in full force. Njaa inashika, famine is prevalent. Vita inashika, war is being waged. Shika ras, keep to (i. e. steer for, make for) the cape. Shika miguu ya, salute, pay honour to, submit to, become the slave of (cf. shikamu). Ps.

shikwa, e. g. shikwa na homa, have an attack of fever. S. na deni, be pressed with debt. Nimeshikwa kwa Sultani, I am in difficulties with the Sultan. Nt. shikika, e. g. maji hayashikiki, water cannot be grasped in the hand. Ap. shik-ia, -iwa, e. g.
hold by, hold on to, hold for (at, by,
in), e. g. kamba ya kushikia, a rope to hold by. Kushikiwa fetha, to have money held for one, i. e. in the hands of trustees. Hence shik-ilia, -iliwa, e. g. hold on to (in some special way), with Cs. shikil-iza,
-izwa, e. g. cause to hold, give into the hands of, make hold, make fast (firm, tight), fasten, prop, keep in place. Shikiza nyumba, prop up a house. Shikiza mlango, secure the door. Shikiza mkono, guide the hand, e. g. of a young scholar writing. Hence shikiz-ia, -iwa.
Rp. shikana, e. g. hold each other,
be friends, grapple, form connexion with. (Cf. follg. and shikizo, also syn. kamata.)

Shikamana, v. St. Rp. form of shika, i. e. be in a state of firmly holding together, be firm, set, hard,
e. g. of mortar. Ushikwapo shikamana, when you are held tight, hold on tight yourself. Cs. shikaman-isha,
-ishwa. (Cf. shika, ma-, -mana.)

Shikamuu (also shortened into Shikamu, Shikam, Kamu, and even Kam), a common salutation used by a slave, woman, or dependant, to a superior, i. e. 'your humble servant.'
In full, nashika miguu yako, I hold your feet,—as a sign of inferiority and submission.
SHIKIO 341

SHINDA

Maji yashinda kisimani, water is left in the well, i.e. there is still some left. Kushinda jana, used for 'day before yesterday,' i.e. continuing over or past yesterday. Ps. shinda, e.g. nimeshinda, it was too much for me, I could not do it.

Nt. shindika, e.g. be conquered, &c., as above, but also more commonly in other and apparently different senses, perh. from another root. See Shindika below. Ap. shind-iwa, iwa.

The form shindilia seems also different in meaning. See below and cf. shindika. Cs. shind-isha, -ishwa, and shind-iza, -izwa, e.g. cause to conquer, help to excel, cause to remain. Thus shindisha nyumbani, receive as a visitor, take in as lodger. Also apparently with a special intensive force, maji ya kushindisa, a flood, inundation, and a deriv. Nt. shindiza, of a knife or crowbar getting spoilt for use by work, blunted. Rp. shindana, e.g. try to overcome each other, contend, be rivals, dispute. Compete. Shindana sawasawa, be well matched. Hence shind-ania, -aniwa, strive about (for, against, with, &c.), e.g. sh. fetha, wager, bet. Sh. maneno, oppose, contradict, a statement. Sh. mtungi, compete for (or, win by a struggle) a water-jar. Also shind-anisha, -nishwa, be matched, set to fight (compete, &c.). Also shindaniana, e.g. sh. kina, compete as to price, bid against each other for something. (Cf. follg. and shindamana, shindo, mshindo, mshindi, mshinde, &c. It seems that shind-, or sind-, has two (or three) distinct root meanings, viz. (1) surpass, (2) apply force, (3) continue. See Shindo, Shinda, Shindika, Shindilia, &c.)

SHINDA

Shinda, n. (ma-), remainder, residue, e.g. shinda la mtungi (kina), what is left in the jar (mortar), a large remainder being shinda zima (kua, la kujaa). Gunia hii ni shinda, this sack is, partly full. Mtungi

Shindani, a. rivalling, competing, opposing, contesting. (Cf. shinda, mshindani, ushindani.)

Shindano, n. (ma-), struggle, competition, race, trial of strength, &c. (Cf. shinda, and dist. sindano, needle.)

Shindika, v. (1) Nt. of Shinda (which see, and note), (2) also Sindika, apply force to,—but mostly with special senses, e.g. shindika mafuta, extract oil by pressure. Sh. miwa, crush sugar-canes. Sh. mlango, partly close a door, close but not fasten, set ajar, — opp. to shindua (sindua) mlango. Ap. shindik-ia, -twa, e.g. kinu cha ku-shindikia, a crushing mill, i.e. oil-mill, sugar-mill. Cs. shindikiza, e.g. (1) intens. like shindika. (2) in special sense, attend a departing friend or guest to the door, go with him a little way, see off, give a send-off to (cf. safirisha, and lakti, of going to meet an arriving friend). (Cf. follg. and shindua, also shinikizo, ? for shindikizo.)

Shindikizo, n. (ma-), and Sinikizo, (1) forcible pressure; (2) a pressing or crushing machine, e.g. oil-press, sugar-mill. (Cf. prec.)

Shindilika. (Connected with root of shindika. Cf. shindo.)

Shindo, n. (ma-), used to describe a sudden, forcible, striking act, movement, effect, or sound, e.g. shock, jerk, blow, bump, outburst, rush, dash, crash, beat, bang, loud report, spasm, fit. E.g. alisikia shindo linakuja njiani, he heard a noise approaching in the road. Ukatoka shindo mji vote, the whole town was out in a moment. Enda kwa ma-shindo, trot,—of a horse. (Cf. shinda, mshindo, kishindo, shinikida.)

Shindua, v. and Sindua, take off pressure, unfasten; esp. of a door, set ajar, set open. Shindua maneno, give vent to utterance, make an opening statement,—and so with akili. Ps. shindulwa. Nt. shinduka, e.g. maji yameshinduka, the tide has retreated. Ap. shindu-tia, -twa, e.g. open (a door) for a person. (Cf. shinda, and the words following it. Obs. that shindika, shindua seem identical with zinikiza, zindua, and their derivatives (which see),—meaning inaugurate, open, &c., and which nevertheless are commonly heard with z rather than s initial.)

Shingo, n. (ma-), (1) neck; (2) objects resembling a neck, e.g. an isthmus. Also fig. of hard unyielding temper, e.g. mvwenyi shingo gumu, a stiff-necked person.

Shinikizo, n. (ma-), also Sinikizo, (1) pressing, crushing, pulping; (2) a machine or mill for such work, i.e. oil-mill, sugar-mill, &c. (Perh. for shindikizo. Cf. shindika.)

Shirika, Shiriki. See Sharika, Shariki.

Shishia, n. a kind of sand-glass for measuring time, used in native vessels. Shiti, n. (ma-), printed calico piece-goods, prints,—sold mostly in Z. for women's dresses. (Cf. kisuto, nguo, kanga.)

Shoga, n. friend,—a term of endearment or familiarity between women in Z. (Cf. jamaa, dada, somo.)

Shogi, n. (ma-), also Sogi, a pannier, a pack-saddle, a large matting bag slung over a donkey's back, and open across the middle.

Shogoa, n. forced labour, corvée. Tia katika shogoa, requisition.
SHOKA

Shoka, n. (ma-), an axe. *Shoka la bapa, an adze. Dim. kishoka. (Cf. seso.)

Shona, v. sew., make (or, mend) by sewing. Used of shoemaking as well as tailoring, and all kinds of sewing. Ps. shonwa, Nt. shoneka. Ap. shon-ia, -ewa, e. g. sew for (with, in). Cs. shon-esha, -eshwa, e. g. employ to sew. (Cf. mshoni, shonua, and also bandi, ponta, shulu.)

Shonde, n. (ma-), (1) dung of animals; (2) dried cake of dung, used as fuel (Sacl.)

Shoto, n. (a) left-handed, left-handedness. Ana shoto, he is left-handed. Kushoto, left-hand side, -a kushoto, on the left-hand side. Also as adj. -shoto, left-handed, e. g. upande wa mkono mshoto, on the left side. (Cf. opp. kuume, and Arab. shemali, opp. to yamini.)

*Shtaka, n. (ma-), also Mahtaka, accusation, charge, complaint, prosecution. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Shtaki, v. accuse, charge, complain of, prosecute. Ps. shtakiwa, Nt. shtakika. Ap. shtak-ia, -iya, e. g. akamshtakia baba habari sa kwake, she complained to her father about her home. Rp. shtakiana. Cs. shtak-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. mshtaka, mshtaki, and prec. Also dar.)

Shtua, v. also Stua, and Situa, (1) put out of place, move suddenly or violently, strain, e. g. shua mgwu, strain the ankle; (2) startle, surprise, shock. Nt. shtuka, be strained, be startled (alarmed, shocked). Cs. shtusha, shtushwa, e. g. shtusha mshipa, strain a muscle (tendon). (Cf. tegua, teguka.)

Shua, v. let down, lower,—commonly of launching a boat or ship into the water. Ps. shuliwa, Nt. shuka, (1) go down, come down, descend, alight, disembark, land; (2) be lowered, depressed, humbled, degraded. Shuka jwu, come downstairs. Shuka 'pwani, land on the beach, go down to the shore (coast). Hence shukia, shukiwa. Ap. shu-ilia, -liwa, e. g. vitu vya kushulia, launching apparatus. Cs. shusha, shushwa, let down, throw down, put ashore, discharge (cargo, &c.). Shusha pumuzi, breathe out, exhale. fishushamoyo, humble oneself. Hence shush-ia, -iya, e. g. shushiwia muva, have rain sent down on one. (Cf. mashua, and syn. angua, inama.)

*Shubaka, n. (ma-), small window, light-hole, loop-hole, port-hole, embraasure. In Z. sometimes a blind window, window-like recess in a wall (cf. dirisha, window; mwangaza, light-hole). (Ar. an aperture fitted with lattice, or trellis-work, cf. shabuka, net.)

Shudu, n. (ma-), refuse of seed after it has been crushed for oil, oil-cake.

*Shufaka, n. anxious care, fear, awe, pity. (Ar. not common, cf. hofa, huruma.)

*Shuguli, n. (—), also Shuhuli, (1) business, occupation, absence of leisure, engagements; (2) trouble, worry, anxiety. Ana sh., he is busy, engaged. Opp. to mchezo, faragha, e. g. hatukuja kucheza, tumekuja kwa shughuli, we did not come to play, we are here for business. Shughuli za inchi, public affairs. (Ar. Cf. follg. and syn. kazi, mambo.)

*Shughulika, v. be busy (engaged, occupied), have one's hands full, be harassed, hard-worked. (Cs. shughuli-sha, -shwa, occupy, give trouble to, take up the time of, &c. Fishi-Shulisha, trouble oneself, be nervous, —also, pretend to be busy, make excuses (for putting off, not attending to a case). (Ar. Cf. prec., and ushur.)

*Shuhuda, n. (ma-), testimony, evidence, witness. (Ar. Cf. follg. and shahidi, ushuhuda.)

*Shuhudu, v. bear witness, testify, give evidence,—but usu. in the Ap. form. Ap. shuhud-ia, -iwa, -ika, attest, confirm, give evidence (about, for, against, &c.). Cs. shuhud-isha, -ishwa, e. g. call to witness. Also intens. bear emphatic witness. (Ar. Cf. prec., and shahidi, shahada, ushuhuda.)

*Shujaa, n. (ma-), a brave man, warrior, hero, champion. (Ar. Cf. ushujaa.)

Shuka, v. Nt. of Shua (which see).

*Shuka, n. (ma-), a piece of calico about two yards long, worn as a loin-cloth; in commerce, grey scarves. Shuka la kitanda, a sheet. As a measure, one fathom (pima). (Ar. Cf. doti, pima.)

Shuke, n. also Suke (which see).

*Shukrani, n. gratitude, thanksgiving, thanks. (Ar. Cf. shukuru.)

*Shukuru, v. (1) thank, give thanks (to), be grateful; (2) take comfort, leave off mourning or grieving, be resigned, become contented. Sh. Muungu is esp. common in this latter sense, passive acquiescence in things bad and good. — n. (ma-), expression of gratitude, thanks. (Ar. Cf. ahsante.)

Shuli, n. See Tuka.

Shulu, n. a kind of sewing (? whip-stitch, herring-bone).

Shungi, n. (—, and ma-), (1) plait of hair, tress, crest, forelock. Shungi mbili, hair dressed in two large plaits or rolls. (2) used of the hair-like silky growth or beard on the ear of some kinds of grain,—maize, millet, &c. Shungi la taa, a flaring lamp. Taa inatao shungi, the lamp flares. (Cf. kishungi, also songo, suko, sokoto, panja.)

Shupaa, v. (1) be hard, firm, well set, compact; (2) be stiff, obstinate, unyielding, peremptory. Shupaa kwa maneno, affirm with urgency, insist. Cs. shupasa, harden, render tough, firm, strong,—also, make obstinate. Rp. shupana, be strong, well-compactcd, stiff, unyielding, obstinate, &c. (Cf. follg., and syn. -gumu.)

-shupafu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) firm, compact, well-knit, tough; (2) bigoted, unyielding, &c. (Cf. prec., and syn. -gumu.)

Shupatu, n. (ma-), a narrow strip of plaited grass or leaf, used for lacing bedsteads, or sewn together for mats, bags, &c.

*Shura, n. saltpetre. (Hind.)

Shurua, n. measles.

*Shuruti, v. compel, oblige,—but seldom in simple form. Ps.shurut-iwa, e. g. haikushurut-iwa kuta fetha, there was no obligation to pay. Cs. shuruti-sha, -shwa, put pressure on, order peremptorily, press with argument, force, compel. Rp. shurutiana, make terms or conditions with each other, bind each other, wager, bet. — n. (ma-), also Sharuti, Sharti (which see). (Ar. Cf. sharti, and syn. lazimu, juzu, bidi.)

Shusha, v. Cs. of Shua (which see).

Shuta, v. break wind. (Cf. shuki, and jamba.)

Shutumu, v. upbraid, reproach, revile, scold. E. g. watu wanishutumu ubaya bilashi, people upbraid me for wickedness without cause.
Ps. shutumiwa. Nt. shutumika.

Shusi, n. (ma-), breaking wind. Fathili ya punda ni mashuzi, i.e. nothing worth having to be had from a donkey. (Cf. shuta.)

*Shwari, n. a calm, calm weather. (Ar.)

Si, (1) adv. of negation, but always with a word following, which it qualifies,—never as an independent negation, no (which is sio, sityo). Si mimi, not I. Si mrefu, not tall, &c. Si attaches itself so closely to the word qualified, as often not only to negative it, but to reverse more or less entirely its meaning. Thus si vema means ‘badly,’ as well as ‘not well.’ Si lazimu kwenda, it is necessary not to go. (And so in some verbs, e.g. sitaki, I want not to, I decline, sipendi, I dislike.) Si in comparisons indicates the less preferable member, ‘rather than,’ e.g. jirani ya karibu si niumu wa mbali, a neighbour at hand is better than a brother far off. Si is commonly combined with (1) the Personal pronouns, e.g. simi, siye, sinyi, si (si wao); (2) the relative form of person-pfxs., e.g. sio, sicho, siso, sityo. Sio and sityo are commonly used as an independent adv. of negation, i.e. ‘no, not so’ (cf. hakuna, hapana, la). Si is used with verbs to form the Negative Imperative only, e.g. si piga (pigæni), do not strike. (2) as a verb-form, si is the negative connective corresponding to ni, i.e. ‘is not, are not,’ for all persons, Sing. and Plur., e.g. wao si watumwa, they are not slaves. See Ni.

Si-, in verbs is a pfx. of negation, in (1) 1 Person Sing. Indicative, always initial, e.g. sioni, I do not see, sikuja, I did not come. (2) all persons of the Subjunctive (Imperative) Mood, following the subjective person-pfx., e.g. nisison, that I may not see. Usimpige, do not strike him. (3) the relative form of the Negative Conjugation, e.g. siye, he who is not. Nisichokupa, that which I did not give you. (4) sometimes with -ja, -nge-, -ngali-, e.g. tusijaisha, wasingekwenda, for the common hatujaisha, hawangekwenda.

Siafu, n. (—), a well-known reddish-brown kind of ant, which travels in large swarms, attacks all living creatures alike, and bites fiercely. (Cf. chungu.)

*Siaji, n. butter, cream. (? Ar. sayig, cf. samli, mafuta.)

*Siara, n. (ma-), and Ziara (which see), grave, burial place. Masiara, cemetery. (Ar. zuru, ziura. Cf. kaburi. See Zuru.)

*Sibiri, n. for (1) shibiri, a span; (2) subiri (which see), an aloe.

*Sibu, v. treat badly, damage, ruin, bring trouble on. (Arab. Cf. msiba, and subu.)

*Sifa, n. (—), (1) praise, commendation, flattery, applause; (2) character, reputation, fame, characteristic. Sifa zake njema, he is well spoken. The following is a character of a popular chief, Mtu mwennyi okili na huruma, asiye na choyo, nsemaji sana, mwennyi ukali sana, azeaye kwenda mchana kwa usiku, asiye na kiburi na watu, a man able, kind-hearted, not grasping, eloquent, brave and resolute, an untiring walker, and one who treats all alike with courtesy. (Ar. meaning ‘quality, adjective.’ Cf. sifu, and syn. himidi, hamidi, and for character, tabia, moyo.)

*Sifanja, Sifunja, Sifongo, n. a sponge. (Variants of the Ar. sifunj.)

SIFURI

*Sifuri, n. (—), also Sifri, Sifuru, (1) brass; (2) a cipher, nought, zero. (Ar. for brass, cf. sufuria, and syn. shaba,—for zero, Ar. (? sifr, empty.)

*Sihi, v. beg humbly, supplicate, beseech, intreat. Ps. sihiwa. Nt. sihika, e. g. be placable, not inexorable, open to appeal. (? Ar. cry loud, call, cf. omba, laalama.)

*Sihi, v. bewitch, fascinate, throw a spell over, have power over. E. g. mchawi avesa kutushiri wote tukafa, a wizard can bewitch us all to death. — n. witchcraft, e. g. uchawi na sihiri ni kilu kimoga, sihiri is the same thing as witchcraft. (Ar. for usual loga, cf. pagaa, uchawi.)

-sija, -sij-. See -ja.

*Sijafa, n. (—), wristband or cuff of a native dress, a piece turned in to receive the stitching. (Cf. kauku.)

Sijambo, verb-form. See Jambo.

*Siki, n. (—), vinegar. (Hind.)

Sikia, v. (1) hear; (2) pay attention to, notice, understand, perceive; (3) heed, obey. Mostly of the sense of hearing, but also of other senses. E. g. nasikia harufu ya samaki, I smell fish. Nasikia utamu wake, I notice its taste, I taste it. Amen-sikia maneno yangu, he has obeyed my order. Ps. sikiwa. Nt. sikika, e. g. be audible, be noticeable. Ap. siki-lia, -liwa, -lika, e. g. listen to (for, with, at). Hence siki-liza, -li-zaa, usually intensive, listen;—sometimes in contrast with sikiia, e. g. nikamsikilia simba nisimsikie tenu, and I listened for the lion, but did not hear it again. Also sikiliza, sikilizana. Cs. siki-zaa, -zwa, e. g. cause to hear, make understand, make obey,—and sometimes as siki-liza, listen. Hence intens. or Cs. sikizisha and siki-zia, -ziwa,—also sikizana, e. g. hear each other, agree together, be mutually intelligible, &c. Ile lugha yao hatusikizani, we do not understand each other in that lan-

SIKU

+guage of theirs. (Cf. follg. and nskizi, uskizi, sikio, and syn. in general, ona, shika, fahamu, tii.)

-sikifu, n. and -sikilifu, attentive, teachable, docile, obedient. (Cf. sika, usikifu, and syn. -angaliifu, -elekevu, -tii.)

Sikio, n. (ma-), also Shikio, the ear,—organ of hearing. Tega sikio, listen attentively. Tia sikioni, remember, attend to. Sikio halipiti kichwa, the ear does not rise above the head. Tega (toja) sikio, bore holes in the outer edge of the ear, as Swahili women do, for ornaments. (Cf. ndewe, majasti.) (Cf. sikia, and prec.)

Sikitika, v. be sorry, grieve, feel regret (pity, remorse),—the common word in Z. Ap. sikitik-ia, -iwa, e. g. be sorry for (about, at, in). Cs. sikiti-sha, -shwa (for sikiti-shwa), grieve, make sorry. (No simple sikita in use: Cf. gollg. and huzunika, lia.)

Sikitiko, n. (ma-), sorrow, grief, object of pity, cause of sorrow, regret, &c. (Cf. prec.)

Siku, n. (—, rarely ma-), (1) a day, i. e. a period of 24 hours, in Z. counted from sunset to sunset, one night (usiku) and one day (mchana, period of daylight); (2) in a general sense, day, time. E. g. siku zote, on all days, always. Killa siku, every day. Siku hizi, nowadays, in modern times. Siku za kale, days of old, old times. Siku kwa siku, day after day, from day to day. Siku moja, kwa siku, katika siku, one day. Masiku mengi, many long days. Siku kuu, festival, holiday, i. e. in Z. the usual Mahomedan feasts, (1) after Ramathani; (2) Al Haj, Idi (or Bairam) in the third month after it; (3) Maulidi, the birthday of Mahomed in the sixth month. There is also a celebration of the death of Hosein in the fourth month. Siku a mwaka, New Year’s day. See Mechana, Usiku, Mwaka.
Sila, n. pail, bucket, dipper, scoop,—esp. for bailing water out of a boat, &c. (Cf. the commoner ndoo, kata.)

Silaha, Silahi. See Selaha, Selehi.

Silimu, v. become a Mahomedan, be converted, initiated. Ps. silimिवा. Nt. silimिवा. Cs. silimिवा, silितिवा, -shima, -shwa, make a Mahomedan, initiate. (Ar. Cf. salimu, salama.)

Simama, v. (1) stand, be standing,—i.e. of position, as opp. to sitting or lying (cf. simika, ondoka); (2) stand, stand up, rise,—i.e. of movement, change of posture; (3) stand, stand still, come to a stand, stop, be stationary, keep in a particular place; (4) be erect, perpendicular, high, steep, elevated; (5) cost (cf. wakifu), e.g. imenismimia fetha nyangi, it has cost me much money. E.g. akaondoka akasimama, he rose and stood up. Muungu hakusimama naye, God did not take his side (support him). Wali haukusimama tumboni, the rice was not retained in the stomach. Mlima umesimama, the hill is steep. Maji yamesimama, the water is motionless, stagnant. Ap. simam-ia, -iwa, e.g. stand by (upon, in, for, against, &c.), oppose, obstruct, support,—but esp. common in the sense, stand over, overlook, superintend, manage, direct, administer (cf. msimamizizi). Cs. simam-isha, -ishwa, e.g. (1) make stand, cause to go on with work,—also (2) cause to stop, obstruct, thwart; (3) set up, erect, make stand, cause to rise. E.g. simamisha bei, raise price. (Cf. simika, simua, and ima, with which simama is connected as a Static form.)

Simanga, v. triumph (over), exult (against), cast in the teeth (of), reproach. Ap. simang-ia, -iwa. Cs. simang-isha, -ishwa, as intens., e.g. Wanika walitusimangisha unamikini wetu, the Wanika re-proached us with our wretchedness. (Cf. syn. shutumu, onea.)

Simanzi, n. grief, sorrow, depression. (Cf. syn. hamu, huzuni, majonzi.)

Simba, n. (—, and ma), a lion, a lioness. Also as complimentary description of a warrior, fine child, or young man. (Ar. sabu, sibaa.)

Sime, n. See Shime.

Simika, v. (1) stand, be set up, be erect,—like simama; (2) cause to stand, set up, erect; (3) cause to prosper, support, uphold; (4) appoint, establish, arrange. E.g. simika nyumba (miti, mliango), erect a house (poles, a door). Muungu akusimika, God prosper you. Mkufu hausimiki, hausimami, a chain neither holds up nor stands up. Nisimike mtu awe mkubwa wao, let me set up a man to be their chief. Simika mitego, set traps. Ps. simikwa. Ap. simik-ia, -iwa, e.g. wakasimikia asikari, and they provided him with a bodyguard. Cs. simik-isha, -ishwa, e.g. have a thing set, cause to set up. (Cf. ima, simama, simua.)

Similla, int. Make way! Out of the road! By your leave! Often with a word following, S. punda (ubau, jiwe), make way for a donkey (plank, stone). (Ar. for bismillah, in the name of God. Cf. inshallah, eewallah, wallai, allaalla, and syn. jihathari, jitengia.)

Sim* verb-form, I am not in it, i.e. often, I am not responsible, it is no concern of mine,—Negat. Pfx. of 1 Pers. Sing., with -mo, for humo).

Sim*o, n. (—), something striking, remarkable occurrence,—not often heard in Z. E.g. simo mpya ime-ingia, a new thing has occurred. (Cf. follg. and jambo, shani.)

Simu, n. the telegraph, telegraphic message (news, &c.). (Perh. same as prec.)

Simua, v. place horizontal what was perpendicular, lay down. E.g.
Simulia, v. also Sumulia (which see).

Sina, verb-form, I have not,—Negat. Pfx. si, and na, with. (Cf. si, na.)

Sindano, n. a needle. (Cf. shasira.)

Sindika, Sindua. See Shindika, Shindua.

Singa, v. rub with perfume, or aromatic substances, e.g. singa mwili kwa sandali, rub the body with sandal wood. Ps. singwa. (Cf. sugua, kanda.)

Singa, n. plur. of usinga, long, straight, soft hair,—of Europeans and some animals, i.e. nyele sa singa, as opp. to nyele za kipilipili, the short, tufty, wiry hair of natives. Singa za mkia wa frasi, horse-hair from the tail. (Cf. manyoya, used of animal hair generally, wool, down, &c., and see Unyela.)

*Singefuri, n. cinnabar, vermilion, a red dye, anatta. (Cf. msingefuri.)

Singiza, v. pretend, make pretence, allege as excuse, but commonly in the Ap. singiz-ia, -iwa, make a fictitious, calumnious charge against, slander, insinuate. E.g. jisingiza ujonjwa, make a pretence of sickness. Singizia moto, lay the blame on the fire. Ps. singizwa. (Cf. follg. and syn.amba, lukana.)

Singiziyo, n. slander,—usu. in plur. masingizio (which see).

*Sini, n. China,—the country. Wasi, the Chinese. (Dist. Wasi, a town on the coast between Z. and Mombasa.)

*Sinia, n. (—, and ma-), a tray,—commonly, a circular metal tray for carrying food, &c. (Ar.)

Sinikiza, Sinikizo. See Shindikiza, &c.

Sinzia, v. (1) sleep, doze, be drowsy; (2) be inattentive, absent-minded, make a foolish mistake; (3) of a lamp, flicker. Ap. sinzi-ia, -iwa, e.g. be sleepy about, be negligent over, fail to observe or act properly. (Cf. usingizi.)

Sio, adv. of negation, no, not so, it is not,—negative pfx. si with -o of reference, or for. hiyo, wao. (Cf. syn. la, hakuna, hapana.)

*sipo, in verbs, is a negative-relative pfx., referring to place, time, or general circumstances, i.e. where (when, in case) it is (they are) not, and so commonly in case... not, if... not, supposing not... not, e.g. isipokwana njema, if it is not good. Also often supplies practically a negative form of the Pres. Partic. in -ki. (Cf. si, -po.)

Sira, n. (ma-), dregs, lees. Sira la tembo, lees of palm wine.

*Siri, n. (—), a secret, hidden thing, mystery, puzzle, secrecy. Mambu ya siri, secrets. Kwa siri, secretly, privately, mysteriously. Sometimes also as a v., e.g. alijisiri genjeni, he secreted himself in a hollow. (Ar. Cf. msiri, and perh. suria, also syn. fumbo, faragha, and setiri, ficha. Opp. to wavi, thahiri. Dist. usiri, delay.)

Sisi, pron. of 1 Pers. Plur., we, us. Sisi sote, all of us. Sisi wote, commonly of two persons, 'both of us.' (Sometimes siye is used for sisi. Cf. miye, weye.)

Sisima, Sisimua, &c. See Zizima.

Sisimizi, n. or Zizimizi, a small black harmless ant. (Prob. from zizima (which see).)

Sita, n. and a., six. -a sita, sixth. (Ar. Cf. sitashara, sittini.)

Sita, v. (1) move in an uncertain, irregular way, hang back, dawdle, go lamely; (2) fig. be in perplexity, be undecided, be in doubt, hesitate. (Cf. tanga, sunguka, kwama.)

*Sitaha, n. and Staha, deck,—of a vessel. (Ar.)
SITABHI

*Sitahi, v. honour, respect. See Stahi. (Ar.)
*Sitashara, n. and a., sixteen.-a sitashara, sixteenth. (Ar. Cf. sita, sittini.)
*Sitawi, v. be in good condition, reach full development, flourish, succeed, go off well, be in full swing, be at the height. E.g. of healthy plants, of social functions, dances (ngoma), a feast (karamu), a wedding (arusi), or of trade (bushara). Cs. sitawi-sha, -shwa, e.g. cause to flourish, embellish, enhance, prosper, give a finish to. (? HInd., and cf. usitawi.)
*Sittiri, v. cover, conceal. See Setiri. (Ar.)
*Sitoki, n. See Stoki. (Eng. 'stocking'.)
*Sitti, n. (—), lady,—and in address, my lady, madam. (Ar. for the common bibi, mwana (which see).)
*Sittini, n. and a. and Settini, sixty. -a sittini, sixtieth. (Ar. Cf. sita, sitashara.)
Sivyo, a common form of negative adv. no, not so,—negative pf. si with -zyo of reference. (Cf. adverbal use of vi- in adjectives, and vile, hivi, nidivyo, &c., and for negatives, si, sio, la, hapana.)
Siwa, n. (ma-), a large island,—but seldom in Z. except in reference to the Comoro Islands, e.g. wafalme wa Masiwani, the Sultans of Comoro. Kiswa is regularly used of islands in general.
Siwa, n. used of a special kind of horn, or trumpet, of wood or ivory, which is a symbol of chieftaincy. (Cf. panda, baragumu, pembe.)
Siwezi, v. See Weza, and Hawezi,—also cf. jambo, sitambo.
Siyo, adv. of negation, like si, sivyo, si, it is not, not this, no. Also for si hiyo.
Sizi, n. usually in the plur. masizi, soot, grime, e.g. from the fire, on a cooking pot, in a chimney. (Cf. takataka, and dist. msizi.)

*SODA, n. lunacy. (Ar. Cf. syn. wasimu, kichaa.)
Sodo, n. (—), a particular kind of napkin, used by women.
*Soko, n. (ma-), a market, open market-place, centre of business, mart, emporium. (Ar.)
Sokota, v. twist, twine with the fingers, plait, spin. Used of thread, yarn, rope,—less properly of the hair,—also of making a cigarette. Fig. of pain, e.g. tumbo lanisokota, I have a twisting, gripping pain, colic, in the stomach. Ps. sokotwa. Nt. sokoteka. Ap. sokot-ea, -ea. Cs. sokot-esha, -shwa, -eza. (Cf. follg., and suka, songa.)
Sokoto, n. (ma-), a plait, a tress, a curl. (Cf. prec., and songo, suko, shungi.)
*Soma, v. (1) go to school, receive teaching, study, be educated; (2) attend a service, perform devotions. Hence (3) read, i.e. attend to (listen to) a book. Ps. somwa. Nt. someka, e.g. be a subject for teaching, be decipherable. Ap. som-ea, -ewa, e.g. sheki akalisomea jabali, the chief performed a service (reading) over the stone. Cs. som-esha, -esha, e.g. send to school, educate, lead devotions, act as teacher or minister. Hence somehesa, e.g. unisomeshee mwanangu, educate my son for me. (Ar. listen, i.e. the characteristic attitude of scholar, or worshipper, and hence the above meanings in Swahili. Cf. soma.)
Soma, n. (ma-), one kind of ngoma, or dance.
Sombea, v. move oneself by clasping or grasping, e.g. in climbing a tree, or of a cripple who cannot use his legs. (Str. and Kr. Cf. sombo, as that which clasps or girds.)

Sombo, n. usual in the plur. masombo (which see); a girdle. (Cf. follg.)

*Somo, n. (ma-), (1) that which is listened to or read, a letter, a reading; (2) a teacher, instructor, confidential adviser or friend. And so as a term of friendly address. *Njoo, somo, come along, my friend. (Ar. Cf. *soma, for friend, ra-fiki, jamaa, mwenzi, and *msiri.)

Songa, v. (1) press, press together, press close, throng, meet in a mass; (2) close up by pressure, squeeze, contract, hem in; (3) act on (form, fashion) by pressing; and (4) fig. apply pressure to, urge, press, overwhelm. E.g. *songa mbele, press forward, s. kamba, of rope-making, s. nyele, of hair-dressing, s. ugalî, of making porridge. S. roho, throttle, strangple. *Chakula chasonga, the food chokes. Watu wanasonga, there is a crowd, or crush, of people. *Nyia inasonga, the road is narrow. *Nguo inasonga, the dress is too tight. Siku zasonga, the days are approaching. Ps. songwa. Nt. songeka. Ap. *songea, -ewa, e.g. songea watu, push through a crowd. Cs. *songeshâ, -eshwa. Rp. *songana. (Cf. songe, msonge, kisongo, and follg. songoa, songomana, songonyoa, songomeza, sonjoa, and perh. soge, and *nyonga.)

Songo, n. (ma-), a plait, coil (e.g. of a snake), tress, wreath, raddle, garnland. (Cf. songa, sokoto, suo, pindi, kunjo.)

Songoa, v. and Sonjoa, twist together, bind up tight, press together, e.g. s. kamba, of rope-making, s. kuni, make up faggots, s. nguo, wing clothes, s. kuku, twist a fowl's neck, &c. Ap. *songo-lea, -lewa. (Cf. songa, also choma, chomoa, chonga, chongoa, &c.)

Songomana, v. be rolled or pressed together, e.g. of a snake wriggling and writhing, of clothes rolled up by a 'high wind, &c. (Cf. songa.)

Songomeza, v. roll or press together, e.g. of folding one's arm in a cloth, cramming food into the mouth, coiling up a rope. Jisongomeza, e.g. of a snake writhing. (Cf. prec., and songa.)

Songonyoa, v. squeeze, twist hard, wring out,—esp. of clothes, also of cleaning the teeth with a toothpick. Tumbo lanisongonyoa, I have colic. (Obs. songa, songoa, songomeza, songonyoa,—all denoting kinds of active twisting or pressure.)

Sonjoa, v. variant of songoa (which see).

Sononeka, v. (1) feel hurt, be pained, ache; (2) be grieved, vexed, troubled. Cs. sonone-sha, -shwa, e.g. hurt, cause pain (to), grieve, vex. (Cf. follg., and kisonono,—also a variant sosoneka.)

-*sononi, a. hurt, grieved, pained. (Cf. prec.)

Sonya, v. whistle, but commonly *piga msonyo. (Cf. msonyo.)

*Soruali, n. (—), and Suruale, trousers, breeches, drawers. (Ar.)

Sote, a. a form of -ote, used in agreement with the pers. pronoun sisi, Tu sote, we are all together. Twende sote, let us all go together. Tu wote is commonly used of two persons, we are both; twende wote, let us both go. (Cf. -ote, and nyote.)

Soza, v. reach, arrive at, meet with, approach, accost. Soza twâni, of a vessel, run ashore, be beached, come to land. (Not often in Z. Cf. soge, sogesa, and *ika.)

*Sta-, an Arab. sign of conjuration, retained in several words in Swahili. See follg.

*Staajabu, v. be greatly astonished, surprised, filled with wonder. — n. (ma-), wonder, a wonder, &c. (See Ajabu, and deriv. forms.)

*Staamani, v. have confidence, trust. See Amini.

Staarabu, v. get understanding, be wise, know about things, be civilized. Also Nt. staarabika, in same sense. E.g. washenzi wa papa wamestaarabika kidogo, the natives in these parts have a touch of civilization. Cs. staarabi-sha, -sha, -shwa. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

staarabu, a. wise, civilized. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Staha, n. (—), also Sitaha, deck,—of a vessel. (Ar.)

*Stahabu, v. like, prefer, be pleased (with). (Ar. Cf. habba.)

*Stahi, v. give honour to, show respect for, reverence. Ps. stahiwa. Nt. stahiika, e.g. be a worthy, respected person. Rp. stahiana. (Ar. Cf. stahifu, and syn. heshimu, tukua.)

*stahifu, a. estimable, honourable, deserving respect. (Ar. Cf. stahi.)

*Stahiki, v. be fitting (proper, suitable, becoming), be obligatory on, be a duty, be worthy (deserving) of. Also a. deserving, honourable, respected. (Ar. Cf. waqib, stahiila.)

*Stahili, v. merit, deserve, be fitting, be proper, be due. E.g. astahili kupiga, he deserves a beating. Wastahili kumpenda, you ought to like him. (Cf. stahili salamu, as a complimentary greeting, on some happy occasion.) Ps. stahiliwa. Nt. stahilikia. Ap. stahili-ia, -iwa, -iwa, e.g. make worthy, deem worth, declare deserving (suitable, good). Jistahilisha, think (make, pretend) oneself worthy, qualified for, &c. Also a. worthy, fitting, proper. (Ar. Cf. astahili, and syn. stahiki.)

*Staka, Staki. See Shtaka, Shtaki.

*Stakabathi, n. (1) earnest money, pledge (of a bargain made); (2) acknowledgement, receipt, quitance (of money paid, &c.). (Ar. Cf. kabithi, and syn. wasili.)

*Stambuli, n. Constantinople,—also called Ram.

*Stara, n. covering, concealment, modesty, reserve. (Ar. Cf. setiri.)

*Starehe, v. and Sterehe, be at rest (comfortable, undisturbed), live in peace and quietness, be still. Starehe (Imperat.), used commonly as a form of courtesy on meeting, or entering a room, 'keep your seat, pray do not move, do not disturb yourself.' Cs. sterehe-sha, -sha, -shwa, make comfortable, give rest to, refresh, relieve, tranquilize. (Ar. Cf. raha, mstarehe, and follg., and syn. pumzisha, burudisha.)

*sterehefu, a. comfortable, peaceful, tranquil, calm. (Cf. prec.)

*Stima, n. a steamer. (From the English.)

*Stiri, v. cover, conceal. See Setiri.

*Stoki, n. also Sitoki, Stokini, stocking, sock. (From the Eng. stocking.' Cf. kiti, boti, manowart.)

Stuka, v. sometimes Situka, (1) start, give a start or jerk, be sprained, be put out of joint; (2) be startled, taken aback, surprised, alarmed. E.g. mgwuni wangu umestuka, my foot is sprained. Nalistikwa kwa hofu, I started in terror. Ap. stuka, -wana, e.g. start (be startled) at. Cs. stuka, stuka, e.g. give a jerk to, sprain, startle, terrify, astonish. (Tuka, jikuka, kutuka sometimes occur. Cf. syn. teguka, and shangaa, toshawa, fathaiha.)

Subana, n. (1) a thimble (cf. kastabani); (2) small piece of meat, toasted on wooden skewers.

*Subaya, n. (—), outside covering of a bier, used in the better class of funerals, a pall. (Cf. mazishi.)

*Subiri, v. be patient (with), wait (for), endure, persevere, be resigned. E.g. akamuambia, unisubiri, aka-mpa saburi, and he said to him, grant me a respite. And he did so. Ap.
SUBIRI 352

SUBIRI, n. (1) shake, wag, move quickly to and fro, flourish, e. g. su.xia, wag the tail. S. kichwa, shake the head. S. masiwa, churn milk. Sukë suka, be violently agitated. (2) plait, twist, make by plaiting, e. g. s. mekka, plait a mat, —the common occupation of all women of the poorer classes in Z. Sukambaa, plait a cord. S. nyele, plait the hair,—regularly of the hair-plaiting, often elaborate, of Swahili women. Ps. sukwa. Nt. sukia. Ap. suk-ia, -iwa. Cs. suk-isha, -ishwa. Rp. suñana, e. g. s. nyele, each dress the other's hair. (Cf. msuko, suko, suke, sukua, and syn. 'shake' tikisa, pangua, 'plait' sokota, songa, kunja.)

SUKUMA

SUKUMA, v. (1) push, push away (onward, back, off, &c.), move, drive, thrust; (2) urge, impel, incite, encourage. E. g. roho yake inamsukuma mbele, his will impels him onward. Sukuma gari, push a cart along. Ps. sukumiwa. Nt. sukuumika. Ap. sukumi-ia, -iwa. Cs. suku-um-ia, -iwa. Often intens., e.g. (1) give a vigorous push, or impulse to, throw, thrust away. S. rungu, throw a club. S. marathi, avert sickness. S. popo, propitiate (keep off) evil spirits. S. dau, force the boat along. (2) rid oneself of, and hence suku-um-ia, -iwa, thrust on to another, e.g. blame, disaster, a load. Wanazidi kusu-kumiziwa mbele, they are impelled onward more and more. Also suku-mizana. Rp. sukumanu. (Cf. songa, soga, endesa, ondoa.)

Sukutua, v. rinse out the mouth with water, e.g. after eating. Seldom in deriv. forms. (Cf. piga funda.)

*Sulibi, v. also Salibu, Sulubu, crucify,—but usu. in the Cs. form. Ps. sulibita, Nt. sulibika. Ap. sulibi-ia, -iwa, e.g. mti wa kusulubia, i.e. a cross (msalaba). Cs. sulibi-sha, -shwa, cause to crucify (or, to be crucified), crucify. (Ar. Cf. msalaba.)

*Sulih, v. See Salihi (Selehi, Sulubi). (Ar.)

Sulika. See Zulika.

*Sultani, n. (ma-), king, ruler, chief, head of a town or village. Sultan, the Sultan of Turkey. (Ar. In Z. the Sultan is commonly called sayidi, or buana.)

*Sulubika, v. (1) be strong, firm; also (2) be diligent, vigorous, energetic. (Ar. Cf. follog. Also Nt. of sulubu. See Sulubi.)

*Sulubu, n. and Usulubu, firmness, strength, vigour. S. ya kazi, energy in work, industry. (Ar. Cf. prec., and syn. ngwenu, bidii, ushupafu.)

*Suluh, v. See Selehi and deriv. forms. (Ar.)

*Suluhfu, a. also -selehi, one who makes peace, reconciles, brings into order, administers, rules. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Sululu, n. (1) a curlew; (2) a pick, pickaxe.

*Sumari, n. See Msomari, nail, and Zomari.

Sumba, v. sell off, get rid of at any price, sell under pressure,—e.g. of stolen goods. Ps. sumbwa. Nt. sumbika.

Sumbua, v. annoy, trouble, molest, vex, harass, tease, torment. Ps. sumbuliwa. Nt. sumbika, e.g. be annoyed, troubled, &c. Hence sumbuk-ia, -iwa, be troubled about, anxious for,—and sometimes, be a cause of trouble to, e.g. watoto wanamsumbukia baba, the children's troubles fall on the father. Ap. sumbula-ia, -iwa, e.g. give trouble about, make a fuss about (over, to, at, &c.). Cs. sumbu-sha, -shwa, as Intens., e.g. of active, intentional annoyance. Rp. sumbuana. (Cf. follog. and msimbuo, sambuo, and syn. uthi, chokoza.)

-sumbufu, a. (1) troublesome, causing annoyance, &c.; (2) full of trouble, troubled, annoyed. (Cf. prec., and sambuo, msimbuo.)

Sumbuo, n. (ma-), annoyance, teasing, trouble. (Cf. sambua.)

*Sumisha, v. (1) name, call by name, give a call, call out. (Ar., not usual in Z. Cf. ita, alika.) (2) poison, give poison to. (Ar. Cf. sumu.)

*Sumu, n. (—), poison. Lisha sumu, na kwa sumu, and also sumisha, poison, give poison to. (Ar.)

*Sumughu, n. gum-arabic, sealing-wax,—used for fastening letters, &c. (Ar.)

Sungura, n. (—), (1) rabbit, —represented continually in E. African beast-stories as owing ascendancy to the power of outwitting all other creatures. Hence (2) an unprincipled person, a clever rogue.

*Sunnī, n. and Sunna, used of what is good, commendable, meritorious, but not absolutely binding or necessary. Hence, good traditions, counsel of perfection, work of supererogation. Also, one of the Sunnite sect. Opp. to ṣarāthī, e.g. kufa ṣi sunni, ni farathī, death is not optional, but inevitable.

*Sunobari, n. (—), deal, pine,—wood of the tree msunobari, largely imported (like msajo, teak) into Z. (Ar.)

Sunza, v. (1) let go grudgingly, give with reluctance—and (2) tease, provoke, annoy, e.g. by causeless delay, reluctance, &c. (Cf. syn. sumbuia.)

*Sura, n. (1) form, appearance, look, expression, face, exterior, likeness. S. ya ulimwengu, look of the sky, weather,—or, general view, prospect. (2) a chapter of a book, i.e. esp. of the Coran. (Ar. Cf. uso, tabia, ginisi.)

*Suria, n. (ma—), slave concubine. (Ar. Cf. follg., and siri.)

*Suriama, n. (ma—), one born of a slave concubine. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Suruale, n. and Soruali, trousers. (Ar.)

*Sus, n. liquorice. (Ar.)

*Suso, n. a contrivance for hanging things up in a room,—a cord, a hanging shelf, a net, a swinging stick or board.

Suto, n. (ma—), reproach, charge, accusation. (Cf. prec.)

Suza, v. rinse, souse, swill,—e.g. the final stage in washing, before drying the clothes. S. uji, make rice gruel,—for a sick person. Ps. suzwa. Ap. suz-ia, -iwa. Cs. suz-isha, -ishwa.

*Swafi, a. pure, clean. See Safi. (Ar.)

*Swahili, n. and Suaheli, the Swahili coast. Mswahili, a Swahili. Kiswahili, the Swahili language. (Ar. sahil, coast.)

*Swali, n. (ma—), question, inquiry, interrogation, problem. (Ar. Cf. saili, and syn. ulizo.)

T.

T, as used in this Dictionary, may be pronounced as t in English, without serious misrepresentation of Swahili words, i.e. the words so pronounced will as a rule be readily understood. T, however, has to represent both sounds of T in Arabic, ṭā, and ṭah (and sometimes ʿād), and even in Bantu words as used in Zanzibar it is possible to distinguish a smooth t in ṭFU, three, a sharper t in ṭano, five, and an emphatic or explosive t sound in taka, dirt,—this last sound being much more marked in some cognate dialects, and written as ʿnt or ʿht. Hence a considerable variation in the writing of the same Swahili word by different European authorities. It must be remembered, however, that (1) these varieties of pronunciation of t are not so marked in Zanzibar as at Mombasa; (2) many words pronounced with ṭ at Mombasa are pronounced with ch in Zanzibar, and so the chance of confusion of similar words is much reduced; (3) natives themselves hardly recognize varieties of the t sound in Zanzibar, except under the influence of Arabic pronunciation. Hence Bishop Steere appears justified in using t in all cases.

T is sometimes difficult to distinguish from ḍ in common pronunciation.

See further under Th, for the sounds so represented.

Ta-, -ta-, (i) as a B. pfx. is the sign of the Future Tense. It cannot as a rule bear an accent, and thus when followed by a Relat. pfx. is written taka, without change of meaning, e.g. nitakapokuja, when I shall come. In the 1 Pers. Sing. nita- is often pronounced nita, and sometimes ni is dropped altogether, e.g. takuja, I will come. Obs. ta appears to be a formative in verbs like ambata, jumbata, kamata, and such verbs involve mostly the idea of holding, or grasping. (2) is often, like sta, the Arab conjugational pfx., used without modifying the root meaning of the word.

*Taa, n. (the word thus written has several widely different senses, and probably slight differences of sound when carefully pronounced. See T.).

(1) a lamp,—of any kind, the most general word in Z. Washa ta, light a lamp. Zima tat, put out a lamp. (Perh. cf. Ar. ḍḍā, shine.) (2) obedience, allegiance, submission,—but in Z. the Africanized form utii is also used. (Ar. ṭa, ṭi, v., and the Arab phrase sometimes used in Swahili sema wa taa, hear and obey.) (3) a large flat fish, a skate. (4) pl. of utaa (which see). (5) in poet. shortened for taala, exalted, most high. (Arab. title of God.)

*Taabika, v. be troubled, in distress, anxious, fatigued. Cs. taabisha, i-shwa, cause trouble, &c. (Ar. Cf. follg., and sambua, uthi.)

*Taabu, n. trouble, distress, fatigue, annoyance. Also sometimes as v. for taabika, e.g. havataabu kitu, they have no sort of trouble. Ps. taabiiwa. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Taadabu, Tanjabu, v. See Adibu, Ajabu. (Ar. with ta,—the conjugational pfx.)

*Taala, v. sometimes Taa, lit. he is exalted,—commonly used in the Arab. phrase Allah taala, God is exalted, God Most High,—prefixed to all letters and formal documents. (Ar.)

*Taalamu, v. know, be learned in, be educated. Also as a. -taalamu, educated, scholarly, well-informed. (Ar. Cf. elimu, and Ar. pfx. ta.)

*Taali, v. study, learn, be a student. (Ar. For common B. soma, jifunza.)

*Taarifu, n. information, report, news, intelligence,—usually written. Also v., see Arifu. Tarifu nusu ya kuona, news of a person is something like meeting him. (Ar. Cf. naarifu, arifu, and syn. habari.)

Taataa, v. move restlessly, move about, throw the hands or body about,—as in sickness, distress, &c. (Cf. gaagaa, tataapa.)

*Taathima, Taathimisha. See Athama, Athimisha. (Ar. With conjugational pfx. ta.)

*Taawa, also Taowa. See Tawa. (Ar.)

*Taazia. See Tanzia.

*Tabaka, n. (—, and ma), anything laid on another,—and so, lid, cover, lining (of a dress, &c.), fold, layer, row, stratum, stage, story (of a house). (Ar. Cf. tabiki, and syn. bitana, orofa.)

*Tabakelo, n. (—), a snuff box, a tobacco case,—made of wood, reed, or horn. (Cf. tumako.)

*Tabaruki, v. and Tabaruku, consecrate, bless,—in a ceremonial way. (Ar. Cf. bariki, mbaraka, maburuki.)

*Tabassam, v. smile. (Arab. for common B. chekelea.)

*Tabawali, v. urinate. (Arab. for common B. kojaa, nya.)

*Tabia, n. condition, state, nature. Hence (i) of persons,—character, disposition, humour, habits, attainments, gifts; (2) of things,—e.g. tabia ya inchì, physical features, climate, weather, &c. (Ar. Cf. syn. of character, sifa, mathehehu, moyo, desturi, and generally hali, sura.)

*Tabibia, v. treat medically, act as doctor to, attend professionally. I's. tabibìwa. (Ar. Cf. tabibu, and syn. uguza, alika.)

*Tabibu, n. (ma-), doctor, physician, medical man. Tabibu kaziuti ajali, doctors cannot avert doom. (Cf. common B. mganga, and (English) daktari often heard.)

*Tabiki, v. lie close to, stick to, line, cover, be attached to. Ps. tabikiwa. Ap. tabik-ia, -iwa. Hence tabikiana, e.g. be great friends. Cs. tabik-isha, -ishwa, e.g. cause to stick to, paste on, glue on, line, put a lining to. Rp. tabikana (na), e.g. adhere closely (to). (Ar. Cf. tabaka.)

*Tabiri, v. interpret, explain, expound, e.g. of a fortune-teller, soothsayer, prophet,—and so, foretell, predict. E. g. tabiri mwaka kwa chuo, foretell the (events of a) year by a book. Ps. tabiriwa. Nt. tabirika. Rp. tabir-ia, -iwa. Cs. tabiri-sha, -ishwa. (Ar. abr. with ta, cf. fasiri, bashiri, and hubiri.)

*Tadariki, v. undertake, guarantee, be responsible for, come in time for. (Ar. Cf. daraka, diriki.)

*Tadi, v. transgress, do wrong, offend, be rude. Ap. tad-ia, -iwa, e.g. be rude to. — n. also Utadi, offence, rudeness, &c., e.g. ingia kwa tadi, enter rudely (with violence). (Ar. Cf. jeuri, fitahi.)

*Tafakari, v. consider, reflect, meditate. (Ar. Cf. fikiri,—with the Ar. pf. ta.)

*Tafathali, v. please, do a kindness to, be good to. Esp. in Imperat. as a form of polite request,—be so kind as to, if you please, do so, and so of making a polite request, e.g. aka-ntafathali bwana mkubwa amripe adui yake, and he begged the governor to overcome his enemy. (Ar. Cf. fathili, afathali, utafathali.)

*Tafauti, n. also Tofauti, (1) difference, discrepancy, interval (of space or time); (2) excess, want; (3) blame, quarrel. Kitu hiki kina t., this thing is different, not quite what I want. Nina t. naye, I am not quite satisfied with him. Yuna t., he is not up to the mark, not trustworthy, not qualified. (Ar. faut, and Ar. pf. ta. Cf. hitilafu.)

*Tafautisha, v. Cs. make a difference, cause to be different, treat differently, distinguish. Ps. tafautishwa. (Ar. Cf. prec., and pambana.)

*Tafiti, v. be prying (inquisitive, curious). (Cf. Ar. taftash, and fattiish, utafiti, tafuta, and syn. B. chungulia, tazamia.)

*Tafsiiri, v. explain, interpret, expound, make intelligible, translate. — n. (ma-), an explanation, translation. (Ar. See Fasiri for derivatives, &c.)

Tafuna, v. chew, nibble, gnaw, masticate, eat, i.e. use the teeth and jaws upon food,—of men and animals, e.g. t. nyama, chew meat, t. miwa (mkate), chew sugar-cane (bread). Ps. tafunwa. Nt. tafunika. Ap. tafun-ia, -iwa. Cs. tafuni-sha, -ishwa. (Perh. cf. tafa, for chaifu, cheek, and for eating, -la, mega, maza.)

*Tafuta, v. (1) search (for), seek, look for; and also (2) search out, get by search, find, obtain. Ps. tafutwa. Nt. tafutika. Ap. tafut-ia, -iwa, e.g. seek out for (at, by, &c.); search into, look for. Cs. tafut-isha, -ishwa. Rp. tafutana. (Ar. Cf. tafiti, and note.)

Taga, v. (1) lay (an egg), of birds generally,—also taga yai. Ps. tagwa. Ap. tag-ia, -iwa. Cs. tag-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. yai, atamia.)

*Tagaa, v. walk fast, stride, straddle. (Cf. Ar. taga, and perh. chege, tege.)
*Taghafali, v. (1) be taken unawares, be surprised, be off one's guard; (2) be unmindful (of), omit to notice, neglect; (3) Act. take by surprise, make a sudden attack (or, demand) on. Ps. taghafaliwa. Nt. taghafaliika, e.g. be taken by surprise. Cs. taghafal-isha, -isha, intens. (Ar. Cf. ghafala, and cf. gundua, stuka, zuka.)

*Tahamaki, v. look up, observe, take notice. As an interj. tahamaki (Imperat.), lo and behold! (Ar. for common angalia, tasama.)

*Taharizi, n. (—), side piece, of calico in making a native dress (kanzu), badani being the front and back piece. (Ar. Cf. kanzu.)

*Taharuki, v. also Taharakani, be in a hurry, be bustled, be excited, —from any strong emotion. Ap. taharuk-ia, -iya. Cs. taharuk-isha, -ishwa. (Ar. Cf. haraka, and syn. angerika, fathaika.)

*Tahayari, v. become ashamed, be abashed, be shy, be humiliated. Also Nt. tahayarika, in same sense. Cs. tahayar-isha, -ishwa, makeashamed, &c. (Ar. Cf. haya, and syn. aibu, setheka.)

*Tahidi. See Jitahidi. (Ar.)

*Tahlili, n. funeral song, dirge, coronach,—esp. of the monotonous recitation of the Mahommedan creed at a funeral, e.g. mwalimu husoma tahlili na wathu huitikana, the official leads the dirge and the people respond. (Ar.)

Tal, n. (—), (1) name of a large bird of prey, eagle, vulture; (2) (also Tal), obedient, commonly -ti (which see), and Taa.

*Taifa, n. (ma-), a tribe, nation. African tribes are not described by a collective word, but as a number of individuals bearing a tribal name. Thus the Yao tribe, Wayao; the Ganda tribe, Waganda. (Ar. Cf. kabila.)

Taja, v. name, mention by name, mention, speak of. Taja jina, call by name, give a name to, name. Ps. tajwa. Nt. tajika, e.g. be named, be mentionable. Ap. taj-ia, -iya. Cs. taj-isha, -ishwa.

*Tajiri, v. get money by trading, get rich. Also Nt. tajirika, in same sense. Ap. tajir-ia, -iya. Cs. tajir-isha, -ishwa, e.g. jita-jirisha, enrich oneself. — n. (ma-), a merchant, wholesale trader, capitalist, man of wealth. Tajiri na maliye, maskini na mwanaume, a rich man and his money are like a poor man and his child. (Ar. Cf. mtajiri, utajiri, and syn. mkwasi.)

*Taka, v. feel a want of, want, desire, wish, be inclined; (2) express a want (to), ask, request; (3) be in want of, need, require; (4) (seem to want, and so) have a tendency to, incline to, be on the verge of, be going to (of an imminent result or consequence). E.g. nataka kwenda, I want to go,—the negative form sitaki being the most absolute expression of refusal, I will not. Taka shauri, need advice. Kuma taka mti pesa, to ask a man for money. Inataka kunya mvua, it is going to rain. Also impersonally, e.g. inataka unene kijingana mti njinga, you must speak to a fool in a fool's way. Mbuzi anataka kusa, the goat is going to die. Ps. takwa. Nt. takika. Ap. tak-ia, -iya, e.g. ask of (for, from, about, at, against, &c.). Cs. rare, takisha. Rp. takana, e.g. takana buriani, take a final farewell of each other. (Ar. Cf. utashi, matakwa, and syn. tamani, penda, hitaji, elekeva.)

Taka, n. (—), and often Taka taka (ma-), (1) dirt, filth, refuse, rubbish, sweepings; (2) anything of little value, i.e. trifles, odds and ends, scraps, trinkets, fancy articles, miscellany. (Cf. uchafu, jaa, kipuzi.)
*Takabali, v. See Kubali. (Ar. form with ta.)

*Takabari, v. be proud, give oneself airs, play the grandee. So jitakarabari, and Cs.(intens.) jitarabari sha. (Ar. Cf. kiburi, and ta.)

*Takabathi, v. receive, take in hand, take charge of, esp. of money or property. Ps. takabathiwa.

Ap. takabath ia, -iwa. Cs. takabash isha, -ishwa, e. g. cause to receive, give in charge of, entrust with. (Ar. Cf. kabithi, and B. syn. pokea.)

*Takadamu, v. go before, go forward, precede, proceed, be in advance of, lead the way. (Ar. for common B. tangulia. Cf. kadamu.)

*Takarimu, n. gift, largess, bounty, hospitality, generosity. (Ar. Cf. karimu, karamu, karama, and for gifts generally bakashi.)

Takasa, v. clean, make clean, cleanse, purify, sanctify. Includes all kinds of cleaning. Ps. takaswa.

Nt. takasika. Ap. takas ia, -iwa, e. g. yimentakasia shamba, I have cleaned up his garden for him. Cs. takas isha, -ishwa. (Cf. follg. and utakaso, also syn. safisha, euwa, safidi, tengenesa.)

Takata, v. become clean (clear, white), be cleansed (purified, brightened). Often of weather, kumetakata, it has cleared up. Uwingu unetakata, the sky is clear. So also the Nt. takatika, e. g. moyo wake uneta-katakta, his mind was cleared of its passions, was calmed. (Cf. takasa, and follg.)

-takatifu, a. cleansed, clean, pure, sanctified, holy. (Cf. prec. and syn. safi, -ipe, which, with -takatifu, best lend themselves to express a high moral ideal in Swahili.)

Takato, n. (ma-), cleanliness, purity, serenity. (Cf. takata, and prec.)

*Takia, n. (ma-), a large cushion. (Ar. Cf. mto.)

Tako, n. (ma-), (1) the seat, buttock, ham; (2) the lower part, butt-end of anything, e. g. of a gun, spear, arrow, &c. (Cf. kitako.)

*Taksiri, n. fault, defect, offence, crime. (Ar. Cf. hafiyam, hambi, kosa, which are more usual.)

*Talaka, n. (—), divorce. (Ar. Cf. taliki.)

*Talakeki, n. (—), and Telakeki, a small Arab powder-horn, for carrying a fine-grained gunpowder.

*Talasimu, n. (ma-), talisman, charm, magic diagram. (Ar. Cf. hiris, dawa.)

Tale, n. (ma-), an undeveloped, valueless coconut. (Cf. nazi, and kitale.)

*Tali, v. See Taali. (Ar.)

*Ta liki, v. dismiss, divorce. Ps. talikiwa. (Ar. Cf. talaka.)

*Taliza, v. smear, plaster,—with clay or mortar, so as to give a smooth surface to the wall of a house. Ps. talizwa. (Cf. Ar. tala, and tomea, paka.)

*Tama, v. be finished, come to an end,—in Z. commonly timia, isha (which see). — a. and Tamma, final, decisive, finishing a matter. E. g. shauri taka tama, halirudi, his counsel is final and is never reversed. Also as adv. finally, once for all, out and out, wholly. (Ar. Cf. timu, timiza, timamu, and syn. mvisho.)

Tama, n. and Tamma, end, conclusion, final stage. Also in the phrase shika tama, meaning ‘rest the head on the hand,’ sit in a dejected or brooding attitude,—considered unlucky in Z. (Kr. has tama (1) last drop, dregs, sediment; (2) final draught (gulp, mouthful).)

*Tamaa, n. (—), longing, desire, lust, ambition, avarice, greediness. Fanya (piga, -wa na) t., desire, be ambitious, &c. Ni mtu wa t., mwenyi t., yuma t., he is a covetous, ambitious man. T. ya mali, love of money, avarice. Kata t., despair. Weka kwa t., keep waiting (in suspense, unsatisfied). Shika t., live in hopes.  (Ar. Cf. tamani, and syn. roho, shauko, kutaka.)

*Tamalaki, v. govern, rule, be master (of), possess.  (Ar. for the more common form miliki.)

*Tamani, v. long for, desire, covet, want, lust after, like.  Ps. tamaniwia.  Nt. tamanika, e.g. be desired, be desirable, be attractive.  Cs. tanamiska, -iskwa, e.g. yatamanka sana, it is very alluring (seductive, attractive, desirable).  —n. (—, and ma-), like tamaa, desire, longing, lust.  (Ar. Cf. tamaa).

*Tamasha, n. (—, and ma-), a spectacle, show; pageant, that which excites wonder (curiosity, amusement).  (Ar. Cf. shani, ajabu, mwujiza.)

Tamba, v. strut proudly, walk in a swaggering, conceited way, leap, dance,—e.g. of warriors returning in triumph from a victory.  Also jitamba, e.g. Waaroobu wanatamba nakujisifu, the Arabs are swaggering and bragging.  (Cf. tambo, and syn. randa more used in Z., and cheza.)

Tambaa, v. creep, crawl, move slowly.  Wadudu watambaa, insects, reptiles.  Inzi samtambaa kichwani, flies are crawling on his head.  Ap. tamba-ia, -iwa, i.e. creep up to, steal upon, e.g. akamtabala hatta akamkariba, and he crawled up to him, till he got near (cf. nyatia, nyemelea).  Cs. tamba-za, -za, e.g. t. maneno, speak slowly, drawl (cf. kokoteza maneno).  (Cf. -tambazi, tambaa, kitambaa.)

Tambaa, n. (ma-), a piece (strip, length) of calico or similar stuff.  Usually in the dim. kitambaa (which see).  Also plur. of utambaa.

Tambavu, n. (ma-), something hung on the shoulders or over the chest, e.g. charm, amulet (to protect from danger, accident, &c.),—also, shoulder straps, bandolier.  (Cf. ubavu, or tambaa.)

-tambazi, a. creeping, crawling,—of an insect, reptile, or creeping plant.  Also as n., name of a disease which spreads over the body.  (Cf. tambaa.)

Tambi, n. macaroni, vermicelli, i.e. tambi za maandasi.  Also plur. of utambi (which see).  (? Cf. tambo)

Tambika, v. used of performing certain ceremonies, e.g. making offerings at cross-ways in harvest time.  (Perh. not in Z.)

Tambo, n. (1) a length, distance, height,—but not so general in idea as urefu.  E.g. pale pana tambo, that place is a good way (piece, stretch) off.  Yule ana tambo, that is a tall man,—also tambo la mti, a tall, big man (cf. pande la mti).  (2) a long stride, measured step, strut, swaggering walk, e.g. akamfuata nyuma kwa tambo, and he marched proudly after him.  (3) ?a knot (cf. fundo, and tambua).  (Cf. tamba, tambi, utambu, and the common dim. form kitambua, alsomtambu.)

Tambua, v. recognize, know again, remember, see the meaning of, discern, understand.  Ps. tambulwia.  Nt. tambulika, e.g. mti wa kutambuliwa, a well-known (remarkable, distinguished) person.  Hence tambulika, be recognizable, be intelligible, be knowable.  Ametambulika kuwka mwezi, he has been convicted of thieving.  Ap. tambulwia, -iwa.  Cs. tambu-lisha, -lisha, i.e. make known, expound, explain.  Rp. tambuana.  (Cf. -tambuzi, utambu, and syn. fahamu, jua, and ?root of tamba, tambaa, &c.)

*Tambuu, n. (—), (1) leaf of the betel-plant, mtambuu; (2) a mixture for chewing, of which this leaf is the chief ingredient, very popular in Z.  See Uraibu.  (Perh. a Hind. word.)

Tambuza, v. used of smith's work,—fashion by heat and hammering, beat out, forge, weld, e.g. a broken knife or hoe.  Ps. tambuzwa.  Nt. tambuzika.  Ap. tambuz-ia, -iwa.  Cs. tambuz-isha, -ishwa, e.g. have a thing welded (repaired by a smith), Tanda, v. spread, spread out, spread over, be spread out (over). The idea seems to be not of mere extension (ened) or dispersion (tawanya), but of something that is continuous and covers. Hence several special uses, and a large number of derivative forms. E.g. tanda kitanda, lace a bedstead (with cord of coconanut fibre, making a strong springy mattress). (Dist. tandika kitanda, make a bed, i.e. supply with sleeping mat or coverlets.) Uwingu umetanda, kumetanda, the sky is overcast, it is cloudy. Jitanda, stretch oneself across (upon, over), —also jitanda ngu, cover oneself with clothes, put on an overcoat. Tanda samaki, catch fish in an outspread cloth, used as a net. Ps. tandwa. Nt. tandika,—most commonly in an Act. sense, spread out (over), lay out (on), cover (with), e.g. t. mkeka kitandani (see above), arrange a mat on a bed, make a bed, —also tandika kitanda. T. bunda, harness a donkey, put saddle, &c. on, —not used of putting on dress. Tandika ngu, lay out clothes on the ground. T. majamvi, spread mats (as carpets), &c. Cf. wangi waliotandika chini, many were laid low, i.e. killed. Munengu ametandika mbingu na inchi, God spread out the heaven and earth. Hence derivs. tandikwa, also tandik-ia, -iwa, tand-isha, -ishwa, and tandikiana. E.g. wakawapa nyumbo wakawatandika, and they gave them houses, and furnished them (with mats, &c.) for them. Ap. tand-ia, -iwa. Cs. tand-isha, -ishwa. Also tand-aza, -azwa, like tanda, tandika, but of special objects, e.g. tandaza mtama, spread out millet on a mat to dry in (about). (Ar. nabah, and cf. syn. angalia, fikiri, azimu.)

*Tanafusi, v. breathe, draw breath, recover breath. (Ar. nafsi, for common pumzika. Cf. nafsi, nafusi.)

Tanda, v. spread, spread out, spread over, be spread out (over).

---

Tanda, v. and n. See Chana.

*Tanabahi, v. give attention (to), turn the mind to, carefully notice and consider, form a conclusion.
TANDAMA

the sun, also t. nguo. (Cf. tandua, tandama, tandawaa, kitanda, utando, mtande, mtandio, tandiko, tando, and also such syn. as enea, towanya, wamba, funika.)

Tandama, v. St. be in an extended position, be spread out, lie stretched out, e.g. of floating on the water, as a crocodile or a log. Ap. tandam-ia, -iwa. Cs. tandam-isha, -ishwa. Rp. tandamana, of several objects together. (Cf. tanda.)

Tandawaa, v. stretch oneself at ease, recline, loll, spread oneself out on a couch. (Cf. tanda.)

Tandiko, n. (ma-), something spread out, e.g. t. la buibui, a spider's web. Tando, or tundu, la macho, a film over the eye, causing blindness. Also (?not in Z.) tribal marks, tattooing (cf. chale). (Cf. tanda, and mtando.)

Tandu, n. (—), or Taandu, a centipede.

Tandua, v. Rv. of tanda, e.g. take off (fold up, remove) what is laid on (spread out, &c.), and so of unfurnishing a bed or room, unharnessing an animal, &c. Ps. tandulilia. Nt. tanduka. Ap. tandu-ia, -iwa. Cs. tandu-za, -zwa. (Cf. tanda.)

Tanga, n. (ma-), (1) a sail,—of a vessel, of matting or canvas, e.g. teweke t., set (hoist) sail, tua t., lower sail. Kunja t., reef sail. Matanga kati, wind abeam. Obs. tanga mbili, of the period of shifting winds between the two monsoons, also called malelezi (cf. foromali, dasi). (2) a formal mourning,—usually in the plur. matanga, lasting from three or four to ten days, during which friends sleep in the mourner's house. Kaa (weka, andika) matanga, remain in (arrange a) mourning. Ondoa (wunjja) matanga, go out of (end) mourning. (Cf. msiba and follg.)

Tango, v. go to and fro, go from side to side, dawdle, loiter, stroll about, wander. Also Rd. tanga tango, move in a listless, objectless way. Cs. tang-isha, -ishwa, e.g. take for a stroll, cause to idle, &c. (Cf. mtango, tango, and follg., and syn. kita, sunguka, tembea.)

Tangaa, v. spread abroad, be in vogue, be current, become generally known, be published. E.g. jina lake limetangaa na ulimwengu, his name is famous throughout the world. Cs. tanga-za, -zwa (and perh. tang-isha, tangisha), make known, publish abroad. Ap. tanga-za, -zwa, e.g. amentangazia aibu yake, he made his dishonour known. Rp. tanga-zaana. (Perh. cf. tanga, v., and mtangazi.)

Tangamana, Tangam'ka. See Changamana, Changam'ka.

Tangawizi, n. (—), ginger.

Tangi, n. (ma-), a large wooden chest used for carrying fresh water in a native vessel at sea, a water tank.

Tango, n. (ma-), (1) a vegetable like a cucumber, but with a harder rind, fruit of the mtango; (2) aimless wandering, idling, vagabondage, idle talk, gossip,—alsoperplexity, trouble. (Cf. tanga, v.)

Tangu, prep. since, from,—with reference to a time or, less commonly, place, regarded as a starting-point.

Tangu lini aipokwa ha? How long ago was it that he came here? Tangu miaka miwili (tangu zamani), two years ago (a long time ago). Tangu ha? hatta huku, from here to there. (Cf. tok, kutoka, used as prep.)

Tangua, v. annul, abolish, annihilate, invalidate, bring to naught, frustrate. E.g. t. sheria, cancel a law; t. ahadi, revoke a promise; t. ndoa, annul a marriage; t. usafiki, break off friendship. Nt. tanguka. (A Rv. form, but no apparent connexion with tanga, v., and no deriv. stems in common use. Cf. follg.)

Tangulia, v. (1) go before, go first, precede, take the lead; (2) be beforehand (with), anticipate, forestall. Sometimes tangulia mbele, and mbele ya, and this is more common than construction with an objective person-pfx., i.e. nitemangulia mbele yako, rather than nitemku-tangulia. Alitangulia kuniambia, he was the first to tell me, or, he took the initiative in speaking to me. Cs. tanguli-za, -zwa, e.g. cause to go before, send on in advance, prefer, give precedence to. Tangulisa fetha, make a payment in advance. (No apparent connexion with tangua, or tanga. Cf. follg. and mtangulizi, and Ar. syn. takadamu.)

-tangulifu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), (1) in advance, before others, but commonly (2) fig. eminent, surpassing, of superior rank (quality). (Cf. prec. and mtangulizi.)

Tani, n. in the adverbial phrase kwa tani, on the back,—of position, and in tanitani, kitanitani, matanitani, sometimes tana,—in same sense. (Cf. kichalichali, kinglengali, and opp. judifudji, and perh. tanua, spread out.)

Tano, n. and a. -tano, five. -ata, fifth. Jumaa tano, Wednesday. See Juma. (Ar. hansi, also used.)

Tanua, v. open wide, stretch apart, widen, expand, make room by. E.g. tanua miguiu, take long strides; t. kimwa, open the mouth wide; t. mashua, push off a boat. Ps. tanuliwa. Nt. tanuka. Ap. tanu-1ia, -1iya. (Cf. tani, and also tanda, panua.)

Tanuu, n. (-), also Tanuru, Tanu, native lime-kiln, i.e. limestone piled on a circular heap of logs and burnt. E.g. jenga tanu ya kuoka chokaa, make a pile of wood for burning lime. Also choma t., i.e. burn lime.

Tanzi, n. (—, or ma-), loop, noose, slipknot, snare, trap worked by a string. E.g. t. la nkambaa (la ugwe, la kutegea nyama), a noose of cord (or string, for trapping animals). T. la samaki, a haul (catch, draught) of fish. T. la roko, a halter.

*Tanzia, n. (—) and Taazia, news of a death, announcement of a funeral, e.g. waraka wa tanzia (also barua ya msiba), a written notification of a mourning. Kumpa mkono wa t., to pay a visit of condolence to him. (Ar. Cf. mibrambi, hani.)

Tanzu, n. (ma-), a bough,—but in Z. usually towi.

Tao, n. (ma-), something curved, e.g. an arch, a bend of a river, a bay or inlet, the hem round the bottom of a native dress (kansu). E.g. njia inafanya matoo, the road is winding. (Cf. pindi, msingo, kunjo, kombo.)

Tapa, n. (ma-), leaf of a fan palm (mvumo), used by natives as an umbrella. Sometimes Dapa.

Tapa, v. shiver, tremble, shudder, jump about convulsively. T. kwa baridi, shiver with cold. Mwili waniata, my body is shuddering. Jitapa, jump about,—for display (cf. randa, ruka). Also tapatapa, of dying fish. (Cf. kitapo, mitapo, tipika.)

Tapaka, v. be scattered about, be spread abroad, be here and there, infest, be dotted about, e.g. of the stars in the sky, of a flood, robbers, &c. (Cf. follg.)

Tapanya, v. scatter about, disperse, throw away, waste, dissipate. T. mali, be prodigal. Nt. tapanyika, e.g. of water in a flood. Rp. tapanyikana, of people dispersing in different directions. Cs. tapan-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. tapaka, and ta-wany.)

Tapika, v. vomit, be sick. Cs.
TAPISHI 363

TAPI-sha, -shwa, cause to vomit, act as an emetic. (Cf. follg.)

Tapish, n. (ma-), vomit. Tapi-sha, n. (ma-), that which causes vomiting, an emetic. (Cf. tapika.)

Tapo, n. (ma-), a lot (troop, number) of men or animals,—esp. of a division (detachment, regiment) of fighting men. (A tapo would be part of a jeshi, or kundi. Cf. kikosi.)

*Tarabu, n. used to describe a door or window of wood, strong and framed, not that of a native hut. E.g. mlango wa tarabe, tarabe ya dirisha. (? Ar. tarib, arb, firm.)

*Tarabushi, n. and Tarbushi, a fez, red cap with tassel. (Ar. Cf. kofia.)

*Tarafu, n. (—), part, business, duty, work, task. (Ar. Cf. syn. shughuli, kazi.)

*Tarakimu, n. a written character, letter, numeral, figure. (Ar. Cf. harafu, sisuri.)

*Tarathia, v. try to satisfy, make apologies (to), conciliate, expostulate (with), remonstrate (with), urge objections (to). Ps. tarathiwa. Nt. tarathika. Cs. tarath-isha, -ishwa. (Ar., same root as rithi, urathi, &c.)

*Taratibu, n. (—), and Utaratibu, (1) arrangement, method, system, neatness, order; (2) quietness, slowness, gentleness. Panya (shika) t., be orderly, quiet, &c. Kwa t. and taratibu as adv., in a regular, steady, quiet, slow, easy-going way. Also as adj. and sometimes -taratibu, quiet, slow, regular, &c. Uwapo mtaratibu, humshinda mwenyi nguvu, i.e. method goes further than force, quietness than violence, &c. (Ar. Cf. utaratibu, ratibu, and syn. upole, kwaida, kiasi.)

*Taraza, n. (—), also Tarizi, a border or edging, woven on to turbans or waistcloths in Z., giving the effect of a narrow ornamental braid of silk. (Ar. Cf. tarizi.)

*Tarazaki, v. same as Ruzuku (which see). (Ar. Cf. riziki.)

*Tari, n. (—), a tambourine or small drum, used in various half-social, half-religious ceremonies. (Cf. ngoma.)

*Tarihi, n. (—), date, annals, chronicle, journal, history,—esp. of date of birth, e.g. tarihi yako ino ndani ya hirizi, your date (of birth) is inside the charm. As a specimen, nikesaliwa katika mwesi wa Rehaji, siku ya jumaa a tatu mwesi kumi na tatu kwa saa ya situ athuuri, sene (i.e. Ar. for mwaka) 1285, I was born at noon on Monday the 13th of Rehaji, 1285.

*Tariki, n. road, path, way. (Arab. for nyia.)

*Tarishi, n. (ma-), a swift runner, special messenger, postman, courier, express. (Ar.)

*Tarizi, v. weave a border (to), make an embroidered edging (on),—i.e. usually a coloured silk braid-like border to a turban, or waistcloth, or lines of stitched work on the wrists and front of a native dress (kanzu).—n. like taraza, woven border, stitched edging. (Ar.)

Taruma, n. (ma-), also Turuma, Toruma, any piece of wood used to stiffen or strengthen a structure or framework, e.g. ige, support, strut, spoke (of a wheel), rib (of a vessel), thwart.

Tasa, n. (—) and Tassa, (1) any small metal vessel, cup, jug, mug, basin, saucer, spittoon,—usually of copper, brass, or tin. (2) a game of touch (Str.).

Tasa, a. (and Tassa), barren, that has produced offspring once only,—of any living creature. Opp. to -zazi. (Cf. utasa.)

*Tasibihi, n. (—), (1), praise, ascription of praise, to God; (2)
TASHWISHI 364

TAWA

a Mahommadedan rosary, for recording praises and prayers. Sali t., recite prayers by a rosary. Viuta wrahi kwa t., obtain grace by use of the rosary. (Ar. sabbah. Cf. himidi, hemidi, sifu, sifa.)

*Tashwishi, n. (—), doubt, perplexity. (Ar. for the more common mashaka, fatha.)

*Taslimu, n. direct delivery, prompt (cash) payment. E.g. nunua taslimu, buy for ready money, i.e. mkono kwa mkono. (Ar. salimu.)

Tassa, v. not often heard in Z. Used with Negat. pfxs. only, but not changing the final -a to i in the Present, and only as a kind of auxiliary before another verb in the Infinitive. Be beforehand with, manage (to), get (to), finish (doing), what the following verb implies, e.g. sitassa kuandika, I have not yet written.

Tassa, n. See Tasa.

*Taswira, n. (—), picture, likeness, painting, portrait. (Ar. Cf. mfano, mathali, sonamu, sura.)

Tata, v. be in a tangle, be complicated, be in confusion, but usually in the Nt. tatika. Ap. tat-ia, -iwa, -ika, (1) make a tangle of; (2) wind up in a skein or ball; (3) puzzle, perplex, make difficulties. E.g. tatia uzi kijitini, wind thread on a stick. Tatia kilemba, arrange the folds of a turban. Also of a serpent coiling round its prey. Hence tatiana. Also tat-iza, -iwa, taziz-ia, -iwa (Cs. tatische), like tata, entangle, wind, cause a complication, perplex. Rp. tatana, be in a tangle, be puzzled, e.g. of interlacing foliage, of confused statements. Vyombo vina-tatana katika bandari, the dhows are all huddling together in the harbour. Hence tatan-ia, -iwa. Also tatan-isha, -ishwa. — n. usu. in plur. matata, tangle, mess, difficulty, perplexity, &c. E.g. tata la uzi, tangled thread. Tata la maneno, a puzzling statement. (Cf. tatau, tatanua, taito, mtia, and dist. tata, plur. of utata.)

Tataga, v. make a crossing (with), get across, lay across. E.g. tataga mti mioni, lay a tree as a bridge across a river. (Cf. mtatago, utalo.)

Tatana, v. and Tatanyua, (1) unravel, unwind; (2) fig. clear up a complication, disentangle, simplify, extricate, explain. Nt. tatamuka. (Rv. of tatana. See Tata.)

Tatizo, n. (ma-), entanglement, complication, difficulty. (Cf. tata.)

Tatu, n. and a. -tatu (tatu with D 4 (P), D 6 (P)), three. -a tatu, third. (Cf. Ar. thelatha, also sometimes used. Obs. the possibility in Swahili of such a word as mtatu, for a 'single threefold person.'

Tatua, v. also Tataua, Rv. of tata, (1) disentangle a tangle, cut a knot, -solve a difficulty, e.g. tatua tata; but mostly (2) tear, rend, cleave, rip open or apart. E.g. tatua nguo, tear clothes (Cf. rarua, pasua, tumbua). Ps. tatulivwa.

*Taumu, n. (ma-), prop, shore, support,—for a vessel ashore (Kr.). (Cf. gadi, and tegembo.)

*Tauni, n. (—), plague, pestilence, an epidemic. (Ar. Cf. ugonjwa, marathi.)

*Tausi, n. (—), a peacock. (Ar.)

Tawa, v. (1) remain indoors, live in seclusion,—esp. for a moral or religious object, and so (2) not gad about, live a quiet, moral, religious life. Ap. taw-ia, -iwa. Cs. taw-isha, -ishwa, e.g. kijana wagonmke akipata miaka sita kutawishwa, a girl, when six years old, is generally confined to the house. (Cf. follg. and mtawwa, utawwa, which appear the same, and of Ar. origin.)
-tawa, a. remaining indoors, choosing seclusion, devout, religious. (Cf. prec.)

Tawa, n. (—, and ma-), frying-pan, saucenpan. (Cf. chungu, kango.)

Tawafa, n. (—), a candle. (Cf. syn. meshmaa.)

*Tawakali, v. put trust in, have confidence (in), rely on, take courage, hope. E.g. tawakili kwa Muungu, trust in God. (Ar. Cf. wakili, and syn. amini, tumaini.)

*Tawala, v. become governor (of), govern, rule. Ps. tawaliwa. Nt. tawalika. Ap. tawaliwa, -iwa. Cs. tawali-isha, -ishwa, and commonly tawaza, tawazwa, e. g. cause to rule, instal as ruler, set on the throne, celebrate the coronation of. (Ar. Cf. wali, liwali, and syn. milikisha.)

Tawanyiko, n. (ma-), scattering, wastings, throwing away. (Cf. prec.)

*Tawashi, n. (ma-), also Towashi, an eunuch. (Ar. Cf. mhassi.)

*Tawaza, v. perform ceremonial ablution,—esp. as to the feet, i.e. tawasa migwu, as dist. from nawa, chamba (which see). (Ar. wathu. Dist. tawaza, Cs. of tawala.)

Tawi, n. (ma-), (1) bough, branch (of a tree); (2) stem with growing fruit or grain, bunch, cluster, ear, e.g. t. la nazi, bunch of cocanuts, t. la mzbabu (la mtende), bunch of grapes (dates). Ncha (shina) ya t., tip (stem) of the branch (bunch). (Cf. kitawi, and utawi, with plur. tawi, which dist.)

Taya, n. (ma-), jaw, jaw-bone. Tia hatamu tayani mwa punda, put the bridle on the donkey's jaw.

Taya, v. reproach, rebuke, blame. Not common in Z. (Cf. tayo, and syn. shutumu, laumu, suta.)

*Tayari, a. ready, prepared, at hand. Fanya (weka) t., make ready, prepare. — v. be ready. (Hind. Cf. andaa.)

*Tayi, a. and Tai, obedient. See -ti. (Ar.)

Tayo, n. (ma-), reproach, rebuke. (Cf. taya, and syn. shutumu, laumu, suto.)

Tazama, v. look (at), gaze (at), fix the eyes (on), contemplate, examine, observe, test. Ps. tasamwa. Nt. tazamika, e. g. (1) be looked at; (2) be fit to be looked at, be desirable (pleasant) to the eyes, be noteworthy. fitazama, look at one's face in a glass. Ap. tasama-ia, -iwa, e. g. look into, examine closely, inspect, review, look with, see with. Dura-bini ya kutazama, a telescope to look through. T. kazi, examine work, Tazamiwa na mganga, be examined by a doctor. Jitazama (moja), examine oneself (conscience). Cs. tazam-isha, -ishwa, e. g. attract the eye, draw attention, be attractive (to). Also intens. gaze intently. Rp. tasamano. (Cf. follg. and ona, of perception generally, and syn. angalia, chungulia, kagua.)

Tazamo, n. (ma-), look, glance, gaze. (Cf. prec. and syn. Ar. nathari.)

*Tazia, n. condolence. See Ta- nia, Taazia. (Ar.)

Tega, v. (1) set ready, put in position, prepare,—esp. of a trap, and so (2) snare, entrap, decoy, catch, and (3) fig. try to deceive, beguile. E.g. t. mtengo, set a trap. T. sikio, listen, give ear to, prepare to hear. T. kitendawili, propound a riddle,—the challenge being Kitendawili! Here is a riddle,—and the reply Tega, Propound it, let us hear it. Akajitega na uita wake, he put himself ready with his bow. Tega ndege kwa tanzi, snare birds with a noose. Ps. tegwa. Nt. tegeka.
TEGUEMA 366

TEKUA

Tegemea, v. (1) lean upon, rest on, be propped upon; (2) fig. trust (to), find protection (in), rely (upon). E. g. alintegemea mkono, he leaned on his arm. Nyumba inatgemea mti, the house is supported by a tree. Also with kwa, e. g. tegemea kwa Mungu (Sultan), trust to Providence (the Sultan). Ps. tegemewa.

Tegemeo, n. (ma-), prop, buttress, support, protection. Katika mategemeo yangu halikupati kitu, under my protection nothing can get at you. (Cf. prec., and syn. nguzo, hamaya, tunza.)

Tego, n. (ma-), a powerful charm, capable of causing disease and death. (Cf. tega, mtogo.)

Tegu, n. (ma-), a tapeworm.

Tegua, v. Kv. of tega, let a trap go off, remove a snares or spell, take away what was set ready or specially placed, take off the fire, put out of joint, sprain. Thus t. mtumbo, let off a spring-trap. T. ngunga, take off a spell,—also t. tego. T. nguwa, sprain the ankle. Ps. teguliwa, Nt. teguka (sometimes tewa). Ap. tegu-lio, -liwa. (Cf. tega, tego, mteto, and for `sprain` stuka, stusha. Also tekuva or tegua (?) for tekula.)

*Teitei, n. (ma-), frock, gown.

Teka, v. (1) take, take up, carry off,—of water from a well, e. g. teka maji kisimani, draw water at the well. But otherwise almost always implying violence, i. e. (2) plunder, ravage, ransack, capture by force, e. g. t. mji, plunder a town; t. inchi, ravage a country; t. watu na ng’ombe, carry off people and cattle. Ps. tekwa, in both senses, e. g. kisima kilichotekwa maji, a well from which water was drawn. Tumetekwa, we are prisoners of war. Ap. tek- ea, -evo. Obs. tekwa akili, be bewildered, lose one’s senses (like potewa, rukwa na akili). Cs. tekana.

Teke, n. (ma-), a kick. Piga teke, kick, v.

Teke, a. also -teke and Teke-teke, (1) soft, yielding; (2) weak, feeble. Nyama teke, tender meat. Mn teke, a soft, weak-spirited person. Muhindi mteke, Indian corn in a soft half-ripe state. Tunda teke, a soft over-ripe fruit. (Cf. (1) -ororo, laini, (2) thaiifu, dufu.)

Teke, v. and Tekewa. See Teka.

Tekelea, v. (1) arrive (at), reach, come to; (2) be accomplished, be carried through, come to its end. E. g. vakati umetekelea, the time has arrived. Ahadi imetekelea, the promise is fulfilled. Ps. tekelewa. Cs. tekelesa, fulfil, execute, carry out. (Cf. tekeza,—apparently from a root teca, syn. fika. Dist. teca, see above.)

Teketea, v. be consumed, be destroyed, be ruined,—commonly in the literal sense and by fire, i. e. teketea moto, or kwa moto, be burnt up,—but also of the effects of a storm, mashamba yote yametektea, all the plantations were ruined. Cs. teketeza, -ezwa, burn, destroy by fire. (Cf. choma, angamia, potea.)

Tekeza, v. cause to arrive, bring to an end. E. g. t. chombo pova ni, bring a vessel to the shore. T. roho, die. (Cf. syn. fikiza, and tekelea. Dist. teca, take off.)

Tekuva, v. break down, break up. See Ekua, which is a variant, also Wekua. Also for telekua, tekua, e.g. tekua chungu mekoni, take a cooking pot off the fire. See Tele-kua.

Tele, n. plenty, abundance, and a. plentiful, many, much, abundant. Maji tele, or ya tele, plenty of water. Alimpaka tele, he gave him a quantity. (Cf. syn. -ingi, marithawa. Dist. teli.)

Telea, v. come (go) down, descend, disembark,—but in Z. only in tele-m’ka (which see). Cs. teleza, e.g. (1) cause to come down, cause to fall; and so (2) be slippery. Also (3) intens. slip, slide, fall by slipping. Ameteleza kwa migun akaanguka, his feet slipped and he fell. Inchi yate-leza, the ground is slippery. Hence telezesha, cause to slip, make slide. (Cf. utelezi, telezi.)

Teleka, v. (1) put on the fire,—both of cooking pot and the food in it. In full, t. chungu motoni, put a pot on the fire. Hence (2) cook, boil (water), prepare food. Ps. telekwa. Ap. telek-ea, -eza, e.g. chungu cha kuteleka maji, a pot to boil water in. Cs. telek-eza, -ezwa, e.g. cause to put on the fire, get cooking done, get a meal prepared. Tumepumzi ka kut., we rested and got a regular meal.

Telekua, v. and Tekua, Tegua, take off the fire,—Rv. of teleka. (Cf. epua, ipua.)

Telemuka, v. cause to go down (fall down, slip down), pull down, &c. Nt. telemuka, or telem’ka, go down, descend, slope downwards, run (slide, fall), down a steep place. (Cf. follg. and telea, also syn. shuka, anguka, poromoka.)

Telemuko, n. (ma-), and Tele-m’ko, act (manner, place, &c.) of going down, descent, slope, declivity, hill, fall of the ground, downward tendency. (Cf. prec. and mshuko.)

*Telki, n. gold thread, gold braid. Also teli ya thahabu, gold thread, teli ya fetha, silver thread. (Hind. Cf. uzi, zari.)

*Telki, n. the quick ambling step of a donkey, half walk, half run. Enda telki, step quickly, go at a trot or run. (Ar. Cf. common syn. B. mbio.)

Tembe, n. (—), a hen full-grown but not yet laying. (Cf. kuku, koo.)

Tembea, v. go about, take a walk, stroll, wander, take exercise, go on a tour,—usually for pleasure, not ‘point to point’ walking, but also of a business round. Sometimes (like zunguka) of a loose, unprincipled, immoral way of living. E. g. amekwenda tembea, he has gone for a walk. Akili zake satembea, his mind is wandering. Pakutembea, a pleasure-ground. Ap. temp-ele-a, -elewa, e.g. go to visit, call on, walk about in, &c. Jitembele, go a stroll, go on a pleasure trip. Tembo ya kutembe-ele, a fancy walking-stick. Rp. tembeleana, call on each other, be on visiting terms. Cs. temb-eza, -ezwa, cause to walk about,—and so, hawk about for sale, advertise, parade, make a show of, send (employ) to sell goods, show (a stranger) round a town, &c. Chema chajiwus, kibaya chajitembeza, a good thing sells itself, a bad thing tries to (and fails). (Cf. follg.)

Tembezi, n. usu. in plur. mate-mbezi, a walk, stroll, tour, walking exercise, &c. (Cf. tembea, utembezi.)

Tembo, n. (1) an elephant,—the regular word in Z. but elsewhere often nilofu. Mkono wa tembo, trunk.
of an elephant,—also the name of a species of banana. (2) palm-wine, the fermented sap of the cocoanut tree (cf. gema). (3) name of a fish.

TEMSEI 368  TENGENEA

of an elephant,—also the name of a species of banana. (2) palm-wine, the fermented sap of the cocoanut tree (cf. gema). (3) name of a fish.

Tena, adv. and conj. Then, secondly, further, in addition,—also, next, still, again, afterwards. A common connective of sentences, like hatta and na, denoting sequence, succession, repetition. Nimesema tena na tena, I have said it again and again. Natumena tena? and then? what next? Akapimigina tena, and he beat him a second time, again. (Kr. suggests a connexion with the Ar. root of the second numeral, e. g. in miteen, two hundred.)

Tenda, v. do, act, practise. The most common and comprehensive word denoting action, operation, use of energy or force (cf. tendo, kitendo, utendaji). Often synonymous with fanya, e. g. tenda kazi, fanya kazi, tenda vema, fanya vema, but also broadly contrasted with it, as do with make, action or operation with production. See Fanya. The simple stem tenda, when used with a direct personal object, denotes not only direct acting upon, or treatment of, the person, but also commonly unfavourable action or bad treatment (cf. a similar use of the simple stems, fanya, sena, amba), in contrast to the Ap. form of the stem, implying favourable action and treatment. E. g. akutendaye umtende, do harm to him who does harm to you. Sungura amenitenda leo, the rabbit has done (what he liked to) me today. — n. jitenda, sometimes act as, pretend to be, make oneself. Ps. tendwa, e. g. ametendwa mengi, he has endured much ill-treatment. Nt. tendeka, e. g. be done, be practicable,—and hence, tendekeza, i. e. cause to be practicable, and jitendekeza, (1) get to be able to do, learn by practise, achieve; and also (2) make a display, show off an achievement. Also tendeana. Ap. tend-ena, -ewa, e. g. do to (for, on behalf of, with, in, against),—commonly of favourable treatment (see above). Cs. tend-esha, -eshwa, -esa, -eswa. Rp. tendana. (Cf. as above, and utenzi.)

Tende, n. (—), (1) fruit of the date palm mtende, a date,—grown in small quantities in Z., but largely imported from Arabia. Hence rudisha tende Manga, send dates back to Arabia,—of proverbial folly. (2) also teende, swelling of the limbs, elephantiasis.

Tendegu, n. (ma-), leg of a native bedstead. (Cf. kitanda.)

Tengea, Tengeza, v. also Tengelela, Tengeleza, Tengeleka, v. are variants of tengenea, &c. with same meanings.

Tengenea, v. (with variants as prec.), be settled, be arranged, be in good order, be in state of comfort (rest, well-being, &c.). E. g. duka limetengenea, the shop is duly furnished (stocked, fitted, ready). Upepo umetengenea, the wind is steady, has regularly set in. Chombo lime-tengenea, the vessel is in good order (in trim). (So tenga, tengeza.) Cs. tengen-esa, -eswa, also tengesa, tengeleza, put to rights, repair, put in order, arrange, correct, settle, bring to a happy conclusion, make comfortable. E. g. jumbe hutengeneza shughuli za inchi yake, the chief administers the affairs of his country. Munungu haharibu neno, illa kutengeneza neno, God’s work is not to destroy, but to set right. Hence Tengeneza (tengeneza). Also tengenezaka (tengenezaka). Also tengenezaka (tengenezaka). Also tengenezaka (tengenezaka). (Cf. follg. and syn. ongoa, fanyiza.)

Tengeneo, n. (ma-), arrangement, orderly disposition, administration, regulation. (Cf. prec., and syn. daraka, maongozi.)

Tengo, n. (ma-), outrigger,—of a canoe. (Cf. galawa.)

Tengu, v. (Rv. of tenga, with similar meaning,—move off, put on one side. Nt. tenguka. (Cf. tenga.)

Tepetea, v. be utterly slack (idle, indolent, listless, unstrung, relaxed). (Cf. follg. and legea.)

-tepete, a. lazy, listless, slack, &c. (Cf. prec., and syn. -legefu, -iviu, -zembe.)

Teremea, v. and Terema, be at ease, be free from care and anxiety, be cheerful (happy, comfortable). Nt. teremeka (in same sense). Cs. terem-esha,-eshwa. Teremeshama geni, make a guest comfortable, at his ease, e.g. cheer up, gladden, relieve, put at ease. (Cf. mteremo, mteremeshi, and syn. changam'ka, cheka.)

Teso, n. (ma-), suffering, affliction, pain, trial, persecution, adversity. (Cf. tesa, umivu, uthi.)

Teta, v. (1) act or speak strongly, strive, insist,—but generally (2) oppose (by word or action), act or speak against, obstruct, contradict, protest, dispute, quarrel, go to law. Often with na, e.g. ameteta nami, he disputed with me. Ps. tetewa. Nt. teteka. Ap. tet-ea, -eua, e.g. act (speak) for (against, in, at, &c.), defend, attack, oppose, support. Cs. tet-esha, -eshwa. Rp. tetana, e.g. quarrel, wrangle, be at enmity. (Cf. teto, and syn. bisha, zuia, shindana.)

Tete, n. grain fully formed, but not fully ripe or hard. Tete za mtama, or mtama tete, of millet in this stage. Chicken-pox is called tete za kwanga, also tete kwanga, titiwanga.)

Tetea, v. cackle,—of a hen.

Tetema, v. tremble, shake, quake, quiver. Commonly in the Nt., i.e. tetemeko, e.g. natetemeko kwa homa, I am shivering with fever, i.e. in the cold stage of malarious fever. Inchi natetemeka, the earth quakes. Cs. tetem-esha, -eshwa. (Cf. follg. and tikisa, suka.)

Tetemeko (ma-), also Tetamo, shaking, trembling, shivering. (Cf. tetema.)

Teteri, n. name of a small kind of dove.

Teto, n. (ma-), objection, argument, plea, protest. (Cf. teto.)

Teua, v. (1) choose, select, pick out; (2) be dainty, critical, fastidious. (Chagua is commonly used in Z.) Ps. teuliwa. Nt. teuliika. (Cf. -teule, mteua, mteuizi.)

Teuka, v. be put out of place, be strained (sprained)—a variant of teguka (which see).

-teule, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6) choice, select, eligible, of best quality. (Cf. teua, -e being a passive termination.)

-teuizi, a. dainty, fastidious, critical. (Cf. teua, mteuizi.)

*Tezi, n. (—), (1) stern, poop,—of a ship (cf. shetri); (2) a tumour, glandular swelling, goitre, wen.

TH, as used in this book, represents the same sounds as in English, i.e. th both in then and thin. These sounds in Swahili words represent the four Arabic consonants tha, thal, thad, and thah,—the three latter being pronounced as th in then. To represent this latter sound, Dh, D, and Z are regularly used in much of the increasing Swahili printed literature, while the th of thin is written as th or s. Bishop Steere's practice is, however, here adhered to, as not only convenient, but practically sufficient, if the following rule is remembered. Always pronounce th as in then, except (1) in numerals involving the Arabic words for 2, 3, and 8, e.g. thelatha, thenashara, themanini, &c.; (2) rithi, inherit, thubutu, make firm, and their cognates; (3) hadithi, thawabu, thamanini, methalti, and some other words of little practical importance,—in which cases th is pronounced as in thin. Words not found under Th may be looked for under Z or S. When initial th is to be pronounced as in thin, Th is printed in italics. Obs. In a few words Th is used in Swahili for the Arab. consonant Shin, e.g. theluji, snow, themanini, eighty, &c.

Thabihu, n. (—), a sacrifice, an offering,—both act and object. Sometimes also v. sacrifice, offer. (Ar. Cf. mathbahu, altar, mathbuka, victim, and syn. sadaka, kafara, tole.)

Thabitii, a. (1) firm, strong; (2) resolute, brave, steadfast,—of persons and things. (Ar. Cf. thubutu, uthabitii, and syn. imara, -gumu, -shupafu.)

Thahabu, n. gold. (Ar. For metals cf. madini.)

Thahirii, a. evident, plain, clear. Also as v. make clear, explain, show. (Ar. Cf. thahirisha, uthahirii, and syn. wasi, baini.)

Thaifu, a. and -thaifu, (1) weak, feeble, infirm, powerless; (2) of a poor quality, deficient, insignificant, mean, base, despicable. E.g. kijumba cha udongo thaifu, a mud hovel is not stable. Killa kitendo thaifu kiko kwake, he is an example of every kind of baseness. (Ar. Cf. thoofska, uthaifu, and syn. thalili, hafsu, -nyoge.)

Thalili, a. low, poor, abject, wretched. (Ar. Cf. thaifu, and maskini, hohe hahe, jukara.)

Thalimu, a. unjust, oppressive, tyrannical, fraudulent, violent. Sometimes as v. be unjust, &c., but commonly thulumu. (Ar. Cf. uthalimu, thulumu, and syn. jur., -korofa.)

Thama, conj. See Thamma. (Ar.)

Thamana, n. (—), a surety, guarantee, warrant, certificate, bail. Weka th., find bail, give surety. (Ar. Cf. thamanini, and amana.)

Thambi, n. (—, and ma—), crime, religious offence, sin, i.e. offence of the worst class (worse than hatiya, and kosa), but from the Mahomedan point of view, i.e. formal and utilitarian rather than moral. (Ar.)

Thamini, v. guarantee, become surety, be sponsor, give bail, go bail. Huyu amenthamini rafikiwe, this man has gone bail for his friend. Tumenthamini kama tutamitapa, we have certified him that we will pay him. (Ar. Cf. thamana, and amana.)

Thamiri, n. thought, mind, inner consciousness, conscience. Ni thamiri yake kusanya vita, his real intention is to make war. Also as v. think of, intend, e.g. akamsamehe kwa yale aliyothamiria, and he forgave him the thoughts of his heart. (Ar. Cf. thana, nia, kusudi, wa zo, moyo.)

Thamama, conj. (1) alike, equally, therewith, at the same time (cf. mamofa); (2) then, next, also, too. E.g. thamama wamironapo na wasi-pomwona, alike whether they see him or not. Thamma na wewe, and you as well. (Ar.)

*Thana, n. (—), thought, idea, notion, suspicion. (Ar. Cf. follg.)

*Thani, v. think, be of opinion, fancy, suppose, suspect. Ap. than-ia, -iwa, think of (about, in favour of, against, &c.), suspect. E. g. ametaniwa mwivu, he is suspected of being a thief. (Ar. Cf. thana, and syn. jikiri, wasa, nia.)

*Thara, n. usually in plur., i.e. mathara, hurt, harm, violence. (Ar. Cf. thuru, and syn. jwuri, thulumu, hasara.)

*Tharuba, n. (—), also Thóruba, describes anything sudden and violent, e. g. (1) stroke, blow, rush,—blow of an axe, charge of an elephant, a sudden calamity. Tharuba moja, at a blow, in a moment, all of a sudden. (2) in arithmetic, multiplication; (3) a hurricane, storm of wind and rain, tempest. (Ar., and obs. Ar. saaba, a storm, which seems confused with it. Cf. syn. ghofula, marra moja, and for 'storm' tusane.)

*Thawabu, n. (—), a reward, gift,—but esp. as from God. (Ar. Cf. for gifts generally bakshishi.)

*Thekhata, n. and a., three,—but usually tatu in Z. (Ar. Cf. theluth, thelitashara, thelathini.)

*Thelhu, n. (—), snow. Natives compare it with machicha ya nazi, grated cocoanut. (Ar.)

*Theluthi, n. a third (fractional) part. (Ar. Cf. thelatha.)

*Themani, n. and a., alsoThemanya, eight,—but usually name in Z. (Ar. Cf. follg. and themuni.)

*Themaniini, n. and a., eighty. -a th., eightieth.

Themantashara, n. and a., eighteen. -a th., eighteenth. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Themun, n. and a. also Thumuni, Thumuni, an eighth (fractional) part. Nussu ya themuni, a sixteenth part. Used of a quarter rupee, i. e. an eighth of a dollar,—about fourpence.

*Thenashara, n. and a., twelve. -a th., twelfth. (Ar. Cf. follg. and asha.)

*Theneen, n. and a., two,—but usually pili, -wili, in Z. (Ar. ihneen. Cf. prec.)

*Thihaka, n. (—), mockery, ridicule, scorn. (Ar. Cf. follg., and syn. mzaha, ubishi, mcheko.)

*Thihiri, v. make plain, be plain,—but usu. in deriv. stems. Ps. thihiriwa, e. g. (1) exposure for sale, show; (2) make clear, explain. Nt. thihiri-rika. Ap. thihir-ia, -iwa. Cs. thihir-isha, -ishwa, make plain, explain, show clearly. (Ar. Cf. thahiri, and syn. eleza, jafamua, baini.)

-thihirifu, a. clear, evident, plain, like thahiri. (Cf. prec.)

*Thil, v. (1) waste away, pine, be spoiled, be consumed; (2) be hard driven, be ruined, be distressed. Ps. thiiviwa. Nt. thiika. E. g. nguo zinethiika, the clothes are spoilt (eaten away). Cs. thiisha, thiishwa. E. g. mchwa wanathiisha nyumba, the white ants are spoiling the house. Muungu anamthiisha, God is sending him ruin. (Ar. Cf. uthia, uthi, and follg., and syn. chakaa, angawia, fesa.)

*Thiki, v. press hard on, put in difficulties, reduce to straits, distress. Ps. thiikiwa. Nt. thikika, for which thiki is also used, i.e. be hard-pressed, be in difficulties, e.g. kama umethikiko na neno, unambie, if you are in any difficulty, tell me. Ap. thik-ia, -iwa. Cs. thikisha, intens. — n. (1) narrowness, want of space, confinement; (2) being pressed, annoyance, distress, &c. (cf. uthiki). (Ar. Cf. syn. temea, funga, kwama, sunbua, &c.)

*Thikri, n. (—), name of a Dervish dance practised in Z. (Ar. 'invocation,'—the dance being accom-ppanied by the repeated invocation Allah hai, God the Living One.)

*Thili, v. abase, humble, bring low, set at nought. Ps. thiliwa.
Cs. thil-isha, -ishwa. Rp. thilianna.
—n. (—) and Thulli, mean condition, abasement, low state. — a. low, mean, despicable. (Ar. Cf. -thilifu, uthilifu, and syn. tusha, aibisha.)

-thilifu, a. and -tilifu, poor, mean, insignificant. Also sometimes a verb thilifu, reduce, make mean (poor, small), and thilif-ika, -isha, become poor, mean, &c. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Thiraa, n. (—), a cubit,—measure of length, from elbow to fingertip, thiraa kamili, or to the knuckle, thiraa konde,—about 18 inches, half a yard (wari). Commonly called mkono (which see). (Ar. For other measures cf. shibri, pima.)

*Thoofika, v. become weak (infirm, feeble), lose strength (force).
Also sometimes thoofu. (Cs. thoof-isha, -ishwa, weaken. (Ar. Cf. thaifu.)

*Thubutu, v. (1) be firm, resolute, convinced, proved; (2) venture, dare, have the courage to. Ps. thubutiwa.
Nt. thubutika. Ap. thubut-ia,
-iwa. Cs. thubut-isha, -ishwa, e.g.
establish, prove, make firm (strong).
(Ar. Cf. thabiti, uthabiti, mathubutu.)

*Thuku, v. taste, try the taste of, but commonly onja is used. (Ar.
Cf. tamu, luthha.)

*Thulli, n. also Uthulli, Duli, Uduli, and Thili, abject condition, misery, distress. (Ar. See Thilli.)

*Thulumu, v. also Thalimu, treat unjustly, defraud, oppress. Ps.
Cs. thulum-ishwa, -ishwa. — n.
(ma-), injustice, fraud, oppression, viole ne. (Ar. Cf. thalinu, and syn. jeuri, onea.)

*Thumu, n. also Somu, garlic.
(Ar. Cf. kitungu, somu.)

*Thumuni, n. See Themuni.
(As.)

*Thurea, n. a chandelier. (? Ar. a group of stars.)

*Thuru, v. hurt, damage, cause loss or injury to, harm,—sometimes in neut. sense, be hurt, e.g. amechoka amethuru, he was weary and wounded (after a fight). Haithuru, a common expression, meaning 'it does not matter, it is all the same, never mind'
(cf. mamoja). Ps. thurituwa. Nt.
thuriana. Cs. thur-isha, -ishwa.
(Cf. thara, and syn. hasiri, poteza.)

Tia, v. (1) put, place, set; (2)
apply, use, employ, bring to bear;
(3) cause, effect, affect with, bring about. One of the commonest verbs in Swahili, used freely in all the above senses, translatable according to the sense of the noun with which it is associated, and often forming one verbal notion with it. Synonymous in many senses with weka, also very common (which compare), but (generally speaking) in weka the action is regarded as ending with itself (i.e.
put, and leave, put and have done with it), in tia the action involves some further effect, or something else affected by it, i. e. put to, apply, add.
E.g. tia maji, put water (somewhere, in something), add water, dilute.
T. dawa, apply medicine. T. rangi, paint. T. giza, darken. T. ngwvu,
(1) apply force; (2) encourage,
strengthen, T. nanga, cast anchor.
T. ugonjwa, cause illness, infect with TIFUA, v. cause to rise like dust, stir up, make a dust. Nt. tifuka. (Cf. prec.)

Tii, v. obey, submit to, be docile (obedient, submissive). Ps. tiiwa, be obeyed, &c. E. g. hatiivi na mkewe, he is not obeyed by his wife. Nt. tiika, like tii, i.e. be obedient. Cs. tii-sha, -shwa, i.e. reduce to obedience, subdue. (Ar. Cf. taa, utii, and follg. Only the simple tii is commonly used, but obs. tisha, v. frighten,—similar in general meaning, and perh. the same word as above. For syn. cf. sikia, tumikia, shika migu.)

tii, a. obedient, docile, submissive. (Ar. Cf. prec. and syn. -sikifu.)

Tiki, n. used of the edging of red or white silk stitched round the neck of a native dress (kanzu). (Ar. necklace, collar.)

Tiki, adv. or better Diki, exactly, just, just so, in the same way, in the very way. (Cf. Ar. digat.)

Tikisa, v. (1) cause to shake, wave, move to and fro; (2) make restless, agitate, excite, e.g. tikisa mt, tunda zipate kupukutika chini, shake a tree, so that the fruit drops off. Tikisa inchi kwa fitina, disturb a country by rebellion. Ps. tikisiwa. Nt. tikisi (and tikitika, cf. tukutika). Ap. tikis-ia, -iwa. Cs. tikis-isha, -ishwa. Rp. tikisana. (Cf. syn. tukutisa, suka, tetemeshu, punga.)

Tikiti, n. (ma-), a water melon, —fruit of mtikiti.

Tikitiki, adv. in small pieces, to the last bit, utterly, completely, e.g. ponda tikiti, crush to dust. Oza t, rot away. (Ar. daq, fine powder, i.e. dikidi.)

Timamu, n. completion, completed state, perfected condition. —a. complete, perfect. (Ar. Cf. timia, -timiifu, tamia, and syn. kamili, -zima, -ote.)

Timazi, n. plummet, i.e. a small stone suspended by a string, used by masons. (Cf. bildi, chulw.)

disease. T. makali, sharpen, make sharp. T. mashaka (matata), cause (inspire) doubts, perplex. T. hofu, frighten. T. afu, disgrace. T. na (moyo), apply thought, consider seriously,—so tia moyoni (maanani). T. askari, employ soldiers, set a guard. T. utumwani, enslave. T. chuoni, send to school. T. kasimi, set to a job. T. roho, risk one's life. T. mfalme, call in (appeal to, bring to bear) the chief. Fitia uwele, pretend illness. Ps. tiwa. Nt. not used. Ap. tilia, tiliva, tilika, e.g. akanitilia mwanaungu ndui, and he infected my child for me with small-pox. Wajitiliani maneno haya? Why do you thrust yourself into this discussion? Hence tilitia, tililiwa, in various special operations, e.g. tilili uzi, darn. Also tiliana, and (rarely used) tilisha, tililisha. Cs. never used (i.e. tiza, tisha). Rp. tiana. (Tia has no cognate words, and two of the commonest deriv. stems, Nt. and Cs., are never heard. Cf. generally weka, as above.)

Tiabu, n. a game played by throwing up bits of stick, and watching how they fall (Str.). (For games cf. mcheso.)

Tiara, n. a kite,—the child's toy. (Cf. kishada, burutangi.)

Tibu, v. treat medically, give aid to, attend, treat (as a patient), cure. Ps. tibibi. Nt. tibika. (Ar. Cf. tabibu, and syn. uguza, alika, ganga.)

Tibu, n. perfume, scent, fragrance. Also a term of endearment, sweet. (Ar. Cf. marashi, manakuto.)

Tibua, v. (1) stir up, make muddy; (2) excite, provoke. Tibua maji, stir up the mud in water. Nt. tibuka. (Cf. chafua, and follg.)

-tifu, a. loose, crumbling, dust-like, dusty,—also tisutifu. E.g. mchanga mtifu, fine sand. Also a n. tifu (ma-), e.g. tifu la mchanga jingi, a great cloud of sand, sand-storm, or? mass of loose sand. Fanya tifu, make a dust. (Cf. follg.)
Timbi, n. bracelet, armlet,—the most general word. (For various kinds cf. kekee, kikuku, banagiri, dodi, kingaja, kikoa, seng'enge.)

*Timia, v. be complete, perfect, whole, finished, fulfilled, accomplished, done. E.g. wakati uimetimia, the time is ended, is come. So of kasi, deni, a task, a debt, &c. Ahadi imetimia, the promise is carried out. Ap. timi-ilia, -iliwa, -rika, e.g. be finished for, &c., or, be finished off, become complete. Hence timi-ilia, -iliwa. Cs. timi-za, -zwa, and hence timis-ia, -iwa. (Ar. Cf. -timilifu, utimizo, tanuma, timamu, and syn. maliza, kamilikia, isha, tindika.)

*timilifu, a. perfect, complete, finished, consummated. (Ar. Cf. prec. and utimilifu.)

Tim'ka, v. trot, run, amble,—of the running movement of an animal. Cs. tim'sha. (Cf. telki, kimbia.)

*Timu, v. be complete, finished,—but commonly timia (which sec). (Ar.)

Timvi, n. and Chimvi, one who is considered of ill-omen, unlucky, a menace to family or neighbours,—usually a child, e.g. one born with upper front teeth or other peculiarities. (Cf. kijego, and perh. kitimbi, utimbi,—b and v being interchanged, cf. janwia, jambia.)

-tindi, a. in an unripe stage, half-grown. Used of mtama, muhindi, &c. (Cf. mtindi, and syn. -bichi.)

Tindika, v. be cut off, fall short, fail, be finished, come to an end. Ap. tindik-ia, -iwa, e.g. be lacking to, fail to. Tindikia kuja, fail to come. Nimetindikiva maziwa, my milk has failed me, has run short. Cs. tindik-isha, -ishwa. Rp. tindikiana, e.g. be cut off from each other, be separated, alienated. (? Same root as chinja, chinjika,—this latter retaining a specialized meaning. Tindika is not much heard in Z. Cf. tindo, and syn. isha, katika, punguka.)

Tindo, n. a hard chisel,—for cutting metal, &c. (Cf. prec.)

Time, n. prepuce, when removed by circumcision. Also, a person circumcised. (Cf. govi, and tahiri.)

Tinge, n. (—), a favourite dancing game. (Cf. follg.)

Tingisha, v. like Tikisa, cause to shake, e.g. tingisha inchi, make the ground shake,—by dancing. T. embe, shake down mangoes,—off a tree. Nt. tingika. (Cf. tinge.)

*Tini, n. (—), (1) a fig fruit of the mtini. (Ar.) (2) sometimes used for the 5 gal. oil-tin, in which American petroleum is often sold in Z., but this is commonly debe. (Eng.)

Tiptipi, n. (ma-), a brown bird common in Z.

Tiririka, v. glide; trickle, slide along, e.g. of the movement of a snake, of water, &c. (Cf. churu-zika.)

Tisho, n. (ma-), that which terrifies, a menace, a scare. (Cf. prec., and syn. ogofya, kioja, afa.)

*Tissa, n. and a. and Tissya, nine. -a tissa, ninth. (Ar. Cf. tissatashara, and common B. kenda.)

*Tissaini, n. and a., ninety. -atissa-ini, ninetieth. (Cf. Ar. tissa, and follg.)

*Tissatashara, n. and a., nineteen. -a tissatashara, nineteenth. (Ar. Cf. tissa, and prec. Also syn. kumi na kenda.)

Tita, n. (ma-), a bundle of firewood, a faggot. —v. (1) tie up in bundles, make faggots of, i.e. junga (or, piga) tita; (2) make carry (a bundle, or load). Nt. titika, e.g. mtumwa ametitika mzigo na bwana wake, the slave has been given a load to carry by his master. Cs. tili-sha,
-shwa, (1) cause to tie in bundles; (2) intens. make carry a load. (Not often used in Z. Cf. funga, chukusa, pagasa.)

Titif, n. (ma-), teat, nipple of breast. (But enda kwa matiti means 'trot', v. ? Cf. kititi.)

Titia, v. shake, begin to sink, give way, break up,—e.g. of a rotten roof, and perh. of a rough sea. Nt. titika, with similar sense.

Titima, v. roll, rumble,—as thunder. Cs. titim'sha. (Perh. a variant of tetema, tutuma, which see.)

Titiwanga, n. also Kitiwanga, Tetekwanga, names for an eruptive fever, chicken-pox, rose-rash.

-to, a terminal suffix not commonly used in Z., but capable of being added to any appropriate noun or verb form to denote good quality, high degree, pleasing manner, i.e. excellence generally. E.g. manukato, sweet, high-class perfumes. Kunyokato, to be properly straightened. Kasi ya-ngu iifanyeto, do my work well.

Toa, v. one of the commonest Swahili verbs (cf. piga, tia, weka), with a range of meanings so wide, and seemingly contradictory, that often the context alone defines them. The most general idea is 'put out,' and this idea is developed in two main lines,—A. put forward, offer, make prominent; B. put away, reject, totally exclude,—this latter being so marked that toa is regularly used to express actual negation, the negating of an idea, and thus to supply an auxiliary of negation when combined with other verbs, e.g. kutoa kufanya forms the Infinitive of the Negative Conjugation, i.e. not to do, and is often shortened to kutoa fanya, and kutofanya. The following meanings and constructions may be noted among many, all traceable to the idea of putting out, while the examples are often capable of different and contradictory translations, e.g. A. (1) show, display, &c., t. nuru, shine. T. meno, show the teeth. Toa taa, display (or, remove) the lamp. T. hadithi, tell a story. T. ukali, show fierceness (bravery). T. muaa, cause flowers to grow. (2) give, supply, produce,—in this sense regularly used for -pa, give (in cases where the objective pfx. is absent, and -pa therefore cannot be used), e.g. t. mali, give money. T. gharama nyingi, lay out large sums. T. njia, grant right of way. Also (3) take out, produce,—in contrast with -pa, e.g. akatoa rupia akampa, and he took out a rupee, and gave it him. (4) offer, propose, make a plan of, arrange, e.g. toa salamu, salute. T. shauri, offer advice. T. nyumba, design a house. T. kazi, supply occupation, work. T. sharti, propose conditions. T. siku, arrange a day. B. (with the idea of removal, bringing to an end, negation, more or less prominent, and often synonymous with ondoa). (1) take out, deliver, select, except, e.g. t. ndani, take from within. T. hatarini, save from danger. Akamtnoa na nyumba, and he turned her out of the house. (2) give up, resign, yield, e.g. adui wakajitaa, the enemy surrendered. (3) force out, make come or go out, dismiss, take away. Mtu huyu ataka kututoa roho setu, this man wishes to take our lives. T. frasi shoti, make a horse gallop, get a gallop out of him. T. makosa, remove blemishes, correct mistakes. T. mimba, produce abortion. (4) refuse, decline, fail (to do), e.g. sababu ya kutoa kunirithisha, because of refusing to make me heir. Kutoa kupenda, not to love. Ps. tolewa, e.g. be put out, put forward, put away, be proposed, be rejected, &c. (as above). Nt. toka, (1) come out, appear, be rid (of), be let out; (2) go out, go away, get out, disappear, cease (from).—In this sense syn. with ondoa. Used with several constructions, e.g. toka mjini, or toka mji, go out of the town. Toka Unguja, come from Zanzibar. Toka utumwani, be set free from slavery. Toka katika chombo, disembark from a vessel. Natoka kumvuwia pembe, I have just been (or, come from) selling ivory to him. Toka has often a semi-transitory construction, e.g. anatoka damu, he is coming out with blood, i.e. he is bleeding. Damu inamotoka, blood is coming out of him. Thus the same thing may be described by kutoa moshi and kutoka moshi—according to the prominence of the idea of agency, e.g. of a smoker and his pipe. Hence a Ps. form tokwa, e.g. tokwa na hari (damu, machosi, roho), of perspiring (bleeding, shedding tears, dying). (For toka as preposition, see below.)

Toka has various deriv. stems, viz. (a) tokea, tokewa, and perh. tokeka, e.g. (1) come out to (for, against, in, &c., but rarely from, which is usually toka only), e.g. akatoka mji akatoka mji mwingine, and he left the town, and appeared at another town. Alitokewa na malaika, he was appeared to by an angel, i.e. an angel appeared to him; (2) result (from), be a consequence (of), mambo mbaya yatokea na moto huyu, evil consequences follow from this child; (3) tokea is used simply as ‘appear, come on the scene, come out.’ Tokea nje, come (appear) outside. Hence another Ap. form toke-lea, lewa, e.g. nimetokelewa na mgendi, I had a sudden visit from a stranger, and so tokelesa. (b) tok-eza, ezwa, and hence tokez-ea, -ewa, also tokesha, -ezeshwa, and tokesana, (1) cause to come out, make project (or prominent); or (2) intens. come out, ooze out, project, protrude, be prominent, e.g. jiwe latokeza mmo, the stone projects too far. Jino latokeza nje, the tooth is forcing its way out.

Sindano inatokeza ncha yake, inatokeza kwa pili, the needle is getting its point through, it is appearing on the other side. Mwana chunoni ametokeza maneno mabaya kwa watu, the teacher has foreshadowed bad news to the people. Muungu alimtokesa, God appeared to him in a special way. (c) toka, leave each other, part (from), e.g. huyu ametokana na mkeewe, this man has parted from his wife. Ap. tolea, tolewa, toleka, toleana, e.g. put out for (to, from, against, with, &c.), give to, present, offer (to), spend (on)—also, take away from, remove from, save from, &c. Thus kumtolea mali may mean,—spend money on, or, take away money from,—a person. Akamtolea, with meno, gave him (or, showed him, or, took from him) his teeth,—with kisimani, took him out of the well,—with ushairi, recited to him a stanza. Hatukutoleana heshima mimi naye, we failed in courtesy to each other. (Obs. also toesa, cause to put forth, or intens. send out, urge forth, and perh. toeka, e.g. be put out, vanish, disappear, but see Towekea, Toea). Cs. tosa, tozwa. Hence tosea, tozewa. Also tosesha, tozeshwa, e.g. cause to put out, force (urge, persuade, allow, &c.) to give, demand, extort, expose. Also tozana. Tozea mfalme kodh, collect taxes for the chief. Kunitoza haki yangu, to vindicate my rights for me. Wahadi wa kutosa kumvuliza, a promise not to ask him. Rp. toana, e.g. put each other out (or, forward), join in putting (or going) out, e.g. walitoona katika mji kwenda vitani, they made a general move from the town to go fighting. (Cf. mtoza, toleo, tokeo, toka, tokea, utoko, and generally ondoa.)

Toazi, n. (ma-), cymbal, large castanet. (For musical instruments cf. ngoma.)

*Toba, n. repentance, penitence, regret, remorse. (Ar. Cf. tubu, and syn. juto.)

Tobwe, n. (—), (1) wood of the tree mtobwe (which see). Hence also (2) simpleton, fool. — n. a hole, —also kitobwe (a pass. noun in -e, from tobo (which see)).

Toea, v. also Towea (which see).

Tofaa, n. (ma—), fruit (like a small apple) of the tree mtofaa.

Tofal, n. (ma—), and Tafali, brick, tile. (Cf. Ar. 'dry clay'.)

Tofauti, n. (ma—). See Tafauti.

Tofua, tofuka, v. perf. variants of pofua, pofuka (which see).

Toga, v. pierce (the ear), make incision (for ear ornament). Ps. togwa, e.g. hutogwa, maana hutiswa mapet katika masikio, the meaning of togwa is, having rings fixed in the ears. (Perhaps same as toja (which see).)

Togwa, n. (—), native beer (pombe) in the sweet unintoxicating stage, not fermented.

Tohara, n. (—), (1) purity, cleanness,—esp. in a ceremonial sense, i.e. according to Mahommmedan rules, e.g. of the purification of a corpse. (With reference to details, tohara is used as a plur. from utohara.) Esp. (2) circumcision. (Ar. Cf. tahiri, and also ukumbi, weu, ngariba.)

Toja, v. make incisions (cuts, gashes, &c.), scarify, tattoo, let blood, bore the ear (for ornament). Toja mshipa, open a vein, bleed. (Cf. toga, and follg., also syn. chanja, umika.)

Tojo, n. (ma—), gash, cut, incision, tattoo,—whether for ornament, tribal mark, or medical purposes. (Cf. prec. and nembo.)

Toka, prep. also Tokea, from, out of, away from, starting from, since. E.g. toka huko, from yonder, from that time (place). Toka leoa, from to-day onwards. Toka zamani, long since. Tokea hapo, or tokeapo, once on a time, long ago, from time immemorial. Often combined with kwa, katika, to define their meaning, or with locatives in -ni, e.g. toka nyumbani, from the house, toka kwa mfalme, from the king's presence. (Cf. toka, Nt. of toa, and follg.)

Tokea, (1) prep. See Toka. (2) Ap. form from toa (toka) (which see).

Tokeo, n. (ma—), place (time, act, mode) of going out (appearing, happening); (2) outlet, pore, e.g. natokeo ya hari, pores in the skin (cf. kitundu, nyeleo); (3) appearance, apparition, vision (cf. njosi); (4) occurrence, result, consequence (cf. tukio). (Cf. toa, toka, tokea.)

Tokomega, v. vanish, disappear, recede from view, extend beyond the range of the eye,—e.g. of the sea, bahari inatokomega. Cs. tokom-esa, -ezwa, e.g. reduce to nothing, annihilate. (Cf. toweka, and perf. toa, toka.)

Tokosa, v. boil, cook by boiling,—of food generally. Also of frying in fat or butter, e.g. tokosa mkate pamojaa na samiti (or, kwu samiti), fry a cake in ghee. Of water, pika, or chemsha, is usual. Ps. tokoswa. Nt. tokoseka. Ap. tokos-esa, -ewa. (Cf. follg., and for cooking, pika, upishi.)

Tokota, v. become boiled (fried), be boiled (boiling, frying). E.g. chungu chatokota kwa kupata moto sana, the pot boils by getting very hot. (Cf. prec.)

Tomasa, v. press, feel, knead softly with the fingers,—of a soft yielding substance, e.g. an animal, or ripe fruit. (Cf. papasa, bonye-sha, and kanda.)

Tomba, v. have sexual connexion, copulate (of animals in general, and commonly avoided as needlessly vulgar:  Ps. tombwa. Rp.
tombana.

Tombo, n. or Tomboo, a quail.

Tomea, v. used of mason's work,—bring to a surface with plaster and small stones the first rough setting of stones and mortar.  Ps. tomea.
Nt. tomeka.  Ap. tome-lea, -lewa.  Cs. tonel-esh-a, -eshwa.  (Cf. mtomo, and fogg.  Prob. for chomeo, but retaining t, as at Mombasa, in this special sense.  Cf. choma.)

Tomoa, v. stave in, break through, pierce,—e.g. tomoa pipa, stave in a barrel,—with a pole or crowbar. (Perh. same as choma.)

Tomoko, n. (ma-), a custardapple, fruit of mtomoko, similar to the tope-tope.

Tomondo, n. (ma-), fruit of the tree mtomondo.

Tona, v. fall in drops, drop, drip, form a drop or dot.  Also Nt. toneka, in same sense, and hence tonek-ea,
-ewa, drop upon, e.g. toneka meza,
Cs. ton-esha, -eshwa, cause to drip (trickle, drop),—esp. of a blow or injury to a sore place, causing it to be painful and bleed, and so fig.
cause unnecessary pain, reopen old griefs.  Hence Ap. tonesh-ea, -ewa, e.g. utoneshi tone la samli walinta, pour a drop of ghee over his rice.
Hence tonesheka, and toneshana.
Rp. tonana.  (Cf. tone, tonesho, and dondoka, donda, tiririka.)

Tone, n. (—, and ma-), a drop of liquid, a dot, a blot.  Dim. kitone.
(Cf. tona.)

Tonesho, n. (ma-), causing to drip, making bleed.  (Cf. tona, tone.)

Tonga, n. Tonga la dafu, a cocoan-ut when full of milk and in the later stage, when the nutty part is well set and tough.  (Cf. dafu.)

Tonge, n. (—, and ma-), a small rounded mass, a small lump or ball, e.g. of rice or other food, as taken in the fingers and eaten by natives.
Also Donge.

Tongo, n. plur. of utongo. (See also Matongo.)

Tongoza, v. (1) draw aside, call apart; (2) seduce.  Ps. tongozwa.
Ap. tongoz-ea, -ewa.  Cs. tongoz-esh-a, -eshwa.  Rp. tongozana.
(Cf. kitongo, kitongoji, utongozi.)

Tope, n. (—, and ma-), also plur.
of utope, mud, mire, dirt.  Tope nyembamba, thin, soft mud.  Tope nene (nsito), thick mud.  Wahi wengi kama tope,—descriptive of a great crowd, thick as mud.  (Cf. follg.)

Topea, v. (1) sink in mud or dirt, be bogged; (2) get into difficulties, get hampered (entangled), plunge in vice.  Cs. top-ea, -ewa, e.g. of effect of a heavy load.  Inchi inato-peza miguu yake, the earth makes his feet stick fast.  T. kidole katika mwili, press the finger deep into the body.  (Cf. tope, topoa, also syn.
zama, tota, and perh. bopa.)

Tope-tope, n. (ma-), custardapple, fruit of utopetope.

Topoa, v. get out of a difficulty, set free from a spell or charm, extricate, counteract a poison, e.g. topoa mtu uyangi, release a man from the power of a charm.  Dawa ya ku-topoa, antidote.  Ps. topolewaa.
Nt. topoka, e.g. amelala illi umtopoke ulevi, he is asleep so that his drunkkeness may leave him.  (? Conn.
with tope, and for Rv. force of oa, cf. chomoa, bomoa, chongoa, and syn. zingua.)

*Torati, n. also Taurati, the law of Moses, the Pentateuch.  (Ar.)

Toria, n. (ma-), edible fruit of the tree ntoria.  Also kitoria.

Toroka, v. desert, run away (from master, home, &c.), play truant.
Miumwa amemtoroka bwana wake, the slave has run away from his master,—also amemtoroka kwa bwana wake.  Ps. torokwa, be deserted, be run away from.  Ap. torok-ea,
-ewa. Cs. toro-sha, shwa, induce to desert, drive into running away, seduce, entice away. (Cf. mtoro, and syn. kimbia.)

Tosa, v. plunge in water, throw into the sea, cause to sink, drown. Used of launching a vessel, wakatosa marikebu katika bahari wakatingia, they launched the ship and went on board,—but commonly shua. (Cf. tota, and syn. chowya, samisha, didimia. Dist. tosa, Cs. of toa.)

Tosa, n. (ma-), fruit just ripening, nearly ripe, turning colour, beginning to be soft. Tosa la embe, embe tosa, a mango getting ripe. (Cs. -ivu, -pevu.)

Tosa, n. (—) and Toza, pipe-bowl for tobacco, short pipe, usu. of clay, with stem. (See kiko, which is mostly used in Z.)

Tosha, v. suffice, be sufficient (for), content, be enough (adequate, capable). Yamtosha kazi yake, his task is enough for him. Ap. tosh- ea, -ewa, -eka. Hence toshel-ea, -ewa, and toshel- eza, -ewa, and a further deriv. form toshel-eza, -ewa, e.g. mchusi kuu utamtosheleza wali wake, this gravity he will find enough for his rice. Watu wawili watamtosheleza kazi yake, two men will be enough for his job. (Cf. Ar. kifs, and dist. follg.)

Toshea, v. be amazed, astounded, staggered. Also Ps. toshewa, in same meaning,—bestruck with amazement. (Cf. sangaa, ajabu, and dist. toshea, Ap. of tosha.)

Tota, v. sink down, sink in, be overwhelmed, be drowned. Tota majini (bahirini), sink in water (the sea). Tota macho, have the eyes sunken, have lost the eyes (sight). Merikebu imetota, the ship has sunk. Ap. tot-ea, -ewa. Cs. tot-esha, -eshwa (and perhaps also tosa, which see). Totesha macho, make blind (cf. pofusha). (Cf. zama, didimia.)

Toto, n. (ma-), same as mto, child, but commonly either (1) of size, a big, fine child; or (2) of some object resembling a child or offspring, e.g. toto la nitzi, the fruit bud on a banana stalk; toto la mesa, the drawer of a table. (Cf. dim. kitoto.)

Totoma, v. wander at random, get lost, be off the path. Ap. totomca. (Commonly potea in Z.)

Tohu, a. (?) variant of -povu, i.e. lacking, deprived of. (Cf. tofua.)

*Towashi, n. (ma-), eunuch. See Tawashi. (Ar.)

Towea, v. or Toea, use as a relish, i.e. prepare food for the table by adding sauce, curry, gravy, fish, meat, vegetables, &c. to season and flavour it,—such addition being kitoweo. Ap. towe-lea, -lewa, e.g. towela la kwakwa mchusi, i.e. flavour boiled rice with gravy. Hence towel- eza, -lewa. Cs. tovesha, towea. (Cf. kitoweo, and syn. unga, v.)

Toweka, v. vanish, disappear, pass out of sight, die. Cs. towesha, shwa, e.g. put out of the way, ruin. (Perh. cf. toa, as if toeka, i.e. be put away.)

Tu, adv. only, just, exactly, simply, no more, merely, barely,—always following the word it refers to, and used with nouns as well as adj. and verbs. E.g. mtoto tu, a mere child, kidogo tu, just a little, giza tu, utter darkness. (? Cf. -tupu, e.g. giza tupu, utter darkness.)

Tu, verb-form, we are,—Pers. Pfx. of 1 Pers. Plur., e.g. sisi tu wazima, we are quite well.

-tu-, Pers. Pfx. in verbs of 1 Pers. Plur. subjective and objective, ‘we, us,’ and characteristic of the corresponding adjective, -etu (which see).
B. as a Nt. (1) settle down, rest, halt, bivouac, encamp, stop for the night; (2) go down, settle down, set, e.g. jua likatua, the sun set; ndege alitua, the bird alighted. Ps. tulwa. Nt. tulika. Ap. tulia, with many deriv. stems,—tulwa, tulika. Also tuli-ia, -iwa, -ika. Hence tulili-za, -zwa, and tuliliana. Cs. tuli-Za, -zwa, whence tuli-zia, -ziwa, and tulizana. (1) be quiet, be calm, settle down; (2) fig. become quiet (tranquil, peaceful), reform, give up bad ways, take to a quiet settled life, cease from anger (grief, excitement, passion). E.g. tulia (Imperat.), Be quiet! Moyo wake umentulilia, or, ametulilia moyo, he has calmed down. Bahari yatulia, the sea is going down. Uso wa kutulilia,a tranquil, peaceful expression. Maneno haya yamekutulilia? Have you got that matter settled? Chakula hakimutulili, the food does not agree with him, i.e. he cannot digest it. Tumetuliliza na habari hizi, we have been pleased with these news. Bahari haikutuliliwa, the sea was rough. Wametulizana, they have kept each other quiet. Kutuliliania, to come to an agreement or settlement among themselves. Tuliza, bring to rest, pacify, settle, relieve pain, comfort, bring to a better mind, effect a reform in. Ametuliziwa moyo, he has been tranquilized. (See Tuesha, Tusha, Tweza, all perh. Cs. forms connected with tua.) Rp. tuana, e.g. settle down together, all join in making a camp, set things into order, agree. (Cf. tuo, kituo, -tulivu, tulizo, tuama, besides tuesa, tusha, tweza. Obs. similar verbs tia, put to, toa, put out, tua, put down.)

Tua, v. rub. See Chua.

Tuama, v. get into a settled state, settle down, subside. E.g. of muddy water clearing itself. Acha maji yatuame, yawe sati, leave the water to settle and get clear. Mambo yanatuama, matters are settling themselves. Cs. tuam-isha,-ishwa. (A St. form from tua, cf. -ama.)

*Tubu, v. repent, be penitent, feel remorse, mend one's ways. A punished child says nimetubu, I am sorry, I will not do it again. Ap. tub-ia, -iwa, -ika, e.g. tubia kosa, repent of a fault; tubia Muungu, repent before God. Cs. tubi-sha, -shwa, e.g. correct, chastise, bring to a penitent state of mind. (Ar. Cf. toba, and syn. juta, tulia, ongoka.)

Tuesha, v. pay an evening visit to, call on at night, bid good-night to. Contr. ankia, of morning call. (Prob. specialized Cs. of tua (which see).)

*Tufane, n. storm, gale, tempest, hurricane, e.g. of rain, wind, and thunder together. (Ar. Cf. tharuba, kimbunga, chamchela.)

*Tufe, n. a ball, a game of ball. Cheza tufe, play at ball, e.g. cricket, tennis, golf. (Ar. "inflated bag." Often mpira in Z.)

Tui, n. (—), the creamy juice or milk got by grating the nutty part of a coconut (cf. kuna, nbuzi), mixing it with water and straining it through a sieve (kung'uto) or bag (kiteo), leaving only machicha, which is thrown away. Inzi kufa tuini si hasara, a fly does not mind dying in coconut cream. (Tui is much used in Z. for cooking. Cf. kasi-me.)

*Tuili, v. be prolonged, be belated. Cs. tuili-za, -zwa, i.e. make late, delay, prolong. (Ar. for commoner kawia (which see), and chelewa, ahiri.)

Tuka, n. (—), post supporting the projecting eaves in front of a native house, post of a verandah. (Commonly ngwuo, kigwo. Kr. gives shuli for the projecting eaves supported by tuka.)

Tuka, jituka, v. See Stuka, of which it is perh. a variant (i.e. stuka, situka, shituka, jituka.)

Tukana, v. use abusive language (to), abuse, revile, insult, call names. Ps. tukanwa. Nt. tukanika. Ap. tukan-ia, -iwa. Cs. tukan-isha, -ishwa, e.g. intens. treat with scorn. Jitukanisha kwa watu, expose oneself to public derision, i.e. voluntarily incur abuse in public. Rp. tu-kanana. (Cf. follg., and syn. suta, sema, amba. Tukana is itself reciprocal in form only.)

Tukano, n. (ma-), an abusive expression, bad word, abuse. (Cf. prec., and syn. suto, tusu.)

Tukia, v. happen (to), occur (to), present itself, come to pass. Jambo jimenitukia leo, a thing has happened to me to-day. Atajitukia yokojiji, he will find himself in the town. Ps. tukiwa, e.g. nimetukiwa na utshuru, opportunity presented itself to me. Cs. tuki-za, -zwa. (Cf. follg., and syn. tokea, kuta. Possibly tukia, tukiwa are variants of tokea, tokeza, with limited meaning, as above.)

Tukio, n. (ma-), occurrence, event, accident. (Cf. prec., and tokeo.)

-tukufu, a. (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), exalted, grand, glorious, majestic. (Cf. follg., and utu-kufu, also syn. bora, -sharifu, -kun.)

Tukuka, v. become exalted, grand, glorious, &c. (Cf. prec., and tukusa.)

Tukusa, v. perh. a variant of tikusa (which see), cause to shake, make restless, agitate, &c. (Cf. also follg.)

Tukuta, v. be restless, nervous, always on the move, be tiresome, petulant. Nt. tututika, e.g. move tremulously, tremble, quiver with excitement, shudder, be in a flutter. Ap. tutut-ia, -iwa, e.g. be annoying to. Cs. tutut-isha, or -isa, -iswa. (Cf. follg., and tikisa, -tukute.)

Tukutiko, n. (ma-), tremor, tremulous movement, nervous trembling, fluttering excitement. E.g. tukutiko la moyo, fluttering of the heart, excited feeling. (Cf. follg.)

-tukutu, a. restless, nervous, excitable, petulant, troublesome, e.g. of children. (Cf. prec., and tukuta, tukusa.)

-tulivu, a. (tulivu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), quiet, tranquil, peaceful, composed, gentle, docile. E.g. maji mutuli, standing, tranquil water. Watu watulivu, quiet, peaceful people. (Cf. follg., and tua, utulivu, also syn. -pole, taratilu, -anana, -a amani.)

Tulizo, n. (ma-), a quieting, soothing, means of soothing, relief, comfort, sedative. Dim. kitulizo. (Cf. tua, and prec.)

*Tuluku, v. variant of taliki (which see), divorce. (Ar.)

Tuma, v. employ (a person), send (a person), give work to. E.g. tuma mtu kazi (kwa kazi, kusanya kazi), set a person to work. Tuma mtu mahali (mjini, Mombasa, kwenda safari), dispatch a person to a place (to the town, to Mombasa, on an expedition). Ps. tawwa, i.e. be employed, be under orders, be on service (an errand, a job, a particular duty). Nt. tumika, e.g. (1) be engaged, be in service, be under orders, be used (in a general sense); (2) be disengaged, free to be employed, capable of service, be usable, available, &c. The Nt. applies to things as well as persons. So also
TUMAI

Tumiko, be capable of (free for, fit for, available for) service or use. Hence tumik-ia, -iwa, be used or available by, be at the service of, and so commonly, obey, be obedient to, submit to, be servant to. Tumikiwa, have service done, be obeyed. Also tumiki-sha, -shwa, e.g. cause to obey, reduce to obedience, take as servant. Also tumikish-ia, -iwa.

Ap. tum-ia, -iwa, -ika, use a person or thing, make use of, employ. E.g. akatuma mai sana, he spent money extravagantly. Neno hili latumika, this word is in use, is current. Kisu kinatumiwa, the knife is being used. Hence tumil-ia, -iwa, -ika, e.g. use for (with, in, against, &c.). Jitumilia, spend selfishly, waste. Tumilia mbali, use consume entirely. Also tumiana. Cs. tum-isha, -ishwa, -isa, -iswa, e.g. (1) cause to employ, make send; (2) commonly intens. give a special or urgent task to, impose a duty, give a charge to.

Zile ng’ombe ulisotumiza zimekuja, those oxen you sent for are come. Tutatumiza watu wa mji, we will give work to all the people in the town. Hence tumish-ia, -iwa. Rp. tumana. (Cf. tume, mtume, tumbo, matumizi, mtumishi, mtumuna, utumwa. Also peleka, which is in some senses synonymous. And dist. chuma and derivatives, which are sometimes pronounced, as at Mombasa, tuma.)

*Tumai, v. and also commonly Tumaini, hope, trust, expect, be confident, be trustful, rely on. Natumai una afya, I hope you are well. Nantumai mtu huyu, I trust this man.

Ps. tumaiwa, tumainiwa.

Nt. tumainika. Ap. tumain-ia, -iwa, -ika, e.g. hope in, confide in, rely on.

Cs. tumain-isha, -ishwa, e.g. raise the hopes of. Hence tumainish-ia, -iwa. (Ar. Cf. follg., and syn. taraja, amini, tegemea.)

*Tumaini, n. (ma-), confidence, trust, expectation, hope. Also as a.

-tumaini, confident, sanguine, hopeful. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Tumbo, n. (—, and ma-), (1) outer case, cover; (2) case, or bale, of goods. E.g. the unopened bud of a flower, matumba mawaridi, rose-buds. Tumba la chuo, cover of a book. T. la mwesi, the halo surrounding and enclosing the moon, and tumba la uso, the effect produced by oiling the face. Tumba la michele, a bag of rice. Ndiiye mweka wa tumba, (of the angel of death), he it is who sets down the load. (Cf. mtuba, kitumba, and nzigom.)

*Tumbako, n. tobacco. Vuta t., smoke. Nusa t., take snuff. Tafuna t., chew tobacco. The forms in which it is made up are known as mkate, cake, ukambaa, (ropelike) twist, pumba, lump. (Cf. kiko.)

*Tumbasi, n. (—), abscess. (? Ar., for common jipu.)

Tumbawe, n. (ma-), coral rock in the intermediate stage between coral and rock,—white and massive, but light and not fully consolidated. Used largely (from its lightness) for concrete roofs, also for cornices, being easily cut to a shape, and for lime-burning.

Tumbili, n. name of a small light-coloured monkey. Also kitumbili. (Cf. kima, nyani.)

Tumbo, n. (ma-), (1) stomach, belly, abdomen, womb; (2) anything resembling the stomach in shape,—a swelling, protuberance (cf. kitumbo); (3) or in capacity,—inside of a vessel, receptacle, hold (of a ship); (4) pain or disease in the abdominal region, colic, stomach-ache, diarrhoea, stoppage, &c. E.g. tumbo la kuhara (la kuenenda), diarrhoea, looseness of the bowels; t. la kuhara damu, dysentery. Also of pregnancy, yuma tumbo, or, tumbo kubwa, she is pregnant.

Ndugu tumbo moja, children of the same mother. Plur. matumbo, guts, entrails, bowels, i.e. contents of the lower part of the body. (Cf. utumbo, kitumbo, tumbu, tumbu, kitumbua, mtumba, mtumbwi.)

Tumbua, v. (1) disembowel, rip up, cut open, make a hole (in), perforate; (2) lay open, display. Tumbua ubau, rip, or make a hole in, a plank. Tumbua kindu, rip a leaf into strips. T. jipu, lance a boil. Ps. tumuliwa. Nt. tumbuka, e.g. (1) have a cut or hole made in it; (2) burst out, break open. Jipu lime-tumbuka, the abscess has broken. Mahali pa chombo palipotumbuka, the place in the dhow, which was ripped open. Hence tumbuk-ia, -iwa, esp. in sense (1) break out into, burst suddenly into, of a sudden rush or fall, e.g. ametumbukia kisimani, he has tumbled into the well; (2) get suddenly involved in, be caught or strangled in. So also Cs. tumbuk-iza, -izwa. Ap. tumbu-ia, -iwa, -ika, e.g. lay open for (to, at, with, against), e.g. nimekwambia, Fanya kasi yako, nave wantumubulia macho, I said to you, go on with your work, and you glare at me (cf. kodolea macho, ngariza macho). Hence tumbuli-za, -zwa, and tumbuliz-ia, -iwa. Cs. tumbua, intens. force a way through, penetrate, come out on the other side of, e.g. tumbua mwitu, pass through a forest; t. nje ya pilu, come out on the other side; jua limetumbua, the sun has burst out (cf. penya, and chimbuba). Rp. tumbuana. (Cf.umbo, and syn. pasua, kata, fungua, funua.)

Tumbuika, v. be soothed by being sung to. Cs. tumbi-ia, -izwa, soothe by singing, make a soothing sound with or without words, sing to, sing by turns. T. kwa nyimbo (kwa maneno masuri), soothe by songs (by gentle words).

Tumbuizo, n. (ma-), lullaby, ditty, refrain of a song. (Cf. utumbuizo.)

Tume, n. (—), (1) messenger, envoy, employé, representative, servant. E.g. wale wazee, tume za Mбега, the old men, Mбегa's envoys. Used absolutely, like mtume, of Mahomed, as apostle of God. Also (2) occupation, task, errand, business. Tume zangu simukwisha, my duties are finished. (Cf. tuma, mtumwa, which is the usual term for a slave, though not limited to this meaning, and mtumishi, which is used of household and general service, sometimes in contrast with mtumwa, slave, and tume, implying special service.)

Tumo, n. (ma-), and Mtumo, employment, using, use, &c. (Cf. tuma, and dist. chumo, also meaning 'employment.')

*Tumu, n. (—), (1) a fast, fasting, e.g. of Kamathani, mwesi wa tumu, the fasting month. (Ar. sum. Cf. mfungo.) (2) variant of tamu (which see), taste, tasting. (Ar.)

Tuna, v. (1) puff out, swell out; (2) show anger, be petulant (arrogant). E.g. tuna machazu, swell out the cheeks. Jituna, blister, brag (cf. jivuna). Ps. tumuwa. Nt. tunika. Ap. tun-ia, -iwa. Cs. tuni-sha, -shwa, e.g. (1) offend, enraged; (2) puff out, flatter.

Tunda, n. (—, and ma-), a fruit of any kind, a product of tree, plant, vegetable, &c. (Cf. tundika.) There are many kinds of fruit in Z. See nazi, chungwa, chenua, dani, limau, ndimu, kanga, furungu, balungi, ndizi (many kinds), embe, fenesi, nanasi, zambaru, pera, topetepe, kunasi, duriani, chokichoki, kwaju, bunju, kunu, papai, tkitiki, &c. Also numerous vegetables. Kr. gives tunda, v. get down fruit from a tree,—seldom if ever used in Z., where angwe, chuna are common. For common vegetables cf. mboga.)

Tundama, v. settle down, gather, accumulate, e.g. as water at the bottom of a well or hole. Cs. tundam-isha, -ishwa. (Cf. tungenama, tuama, tundama, and -ama.)

Tundika, v. hang up, suspend,—

Cs. tundik-isha, -ishwa. (? Cf. tunda, or tundi.)

Tundu, n. (—, and ma-), hole, hollow, passage, hollow receptacle,—and hence of several objects, den or lair of a wild animal, snake, &c., nest of a bird, a cage of any kind, a basket of open wicker-work. Tundu ya pua, nostril. Dim. kitundu. Fanya tundu, bore a hole. Tundu tundu, full of holes, e.g. describing trellis-work, lattice, net-work, &c., or of moth-eaten clothes. (Tundu is the most general word for ‘hole.’ Cf. shimo, which is usually bigger, kipango, kitobue, ufa, mwanya.)

-tundu. a. obstinate, perverse, naughty, self-willed, troublesome, esp. of children. Mtko mtundu lazima kurudi, a naughty child must be punished.

Tunduia, v. keep a watchful eye on, look out for; spy out, lie in wait for. E.g. of a doctor, akinxia mtoto hutawesa kutunduia, if the child is ill, you will not be able to attend it. Ps. tunduiwa. (Cf. follg., and otea, tunza, chungulia, pelelesa.)

Tunduzi, n. one who watches, guardian, spy. (Cf. prec.)

Tunduwaa, v. be still, silent, motionless, e.g. of one amazed, deceived, fascinated, deep in thought. (Cf. for the form, tundawaa.)

Tunga, v. (1) put together, put in order, put in a row; (2) form by arranging, compose, bring materials or ingredients together, construct, connect, make. E.g. (1) tunga nyama kijitini, put bits of meat in a row on a skewer. T. samaki, string fish together, or, put them on a stick. T. ushanga, string beads. T. mana, tie flowers together, make a garland or nosegay. Tunga sindano, tunga uzi (katika sindano) are both used of threading a needle. (2) T. moyai, form eggs,—also (Nt.) moyai yametunga, the eggs are hard set,—the contents having taken form. Mlana unatunga, the millet (grain) is forming. T. mumba, conceive, form an embryo. T. chuo (mashairi, nyimbo), compose a book (poetry, songs). T. usa, form matter, suppurate, e.g. of an abscess. Ps. tungwa. Nt. tungika, (1) not only as above, i.e. be put together, be formed, but (2) with the further sense, be hung up, i.e. perch. be put on a string, be suspended, be connected with, be dependent upon; and (3) sometimes Act., e.g. tungika paa, put up a roof, with Ps. tundikwa (cf. angika, tundika), e.g. alitu-ngikwa tansi la roho, he was hung up by a noose round the neck. T. nga, hang up a shield. Hence tundik-ia, -iwa. Ap. tund-ia, -iwa, e.g. umetungia (usi) sindano, you have threaded the needle. Cs. tung-iza, -izwa, -isha. Rp. tungana. (Cf. tungama, tungamana, tunguo, tungo, utungo, tungo, and ?mtungi,—also syn. panga, and tanda.)

Tunga, n. (—), (1) a round flat basket, used for sifting husks, &c., from grain by tossing (cf. chunga); (2) tail-bones, or dried tail of a skate (taa).

Tungama, v. be in a firm, compacted state, be formed like a clot, congeal, get thick. E.g. damu inatungama, the blood is clotted. Nyuki watungama, the bees form a cluster. Also as n., an embryonic clot, an embryo, like mumba. (Cf. follg., and tundama, tuama, and -ama.)

Tungamana, v. hold together, be connected, agree. Cs. tunganamisha, e.g. wali ametungamishia watu maneno mamoya, the governor got all the people to agree to one statement. (Cf. tanga, and tungamana, tangamana, shikamana.)

Tungo, n. (ma-), way of forming, composition, device, things in a row.
Also plur. of utungo (which see). (Cf. tunga, mtungo.)

Tungua, v. Rv. form of tunga, i.e. (1) uniform, disconnect, take to pieces; (2) unstring, take down, let down, e.g. t. madafu, get down coconuts. T. roho, discourage, dishearten. (3) fig: depress, depreciate, degrade. Ps. tunguliwa. Nt. tunguka, e.g. be let down, be taken down, sink, be depressed, &c. Ap. tungu-ia, -iwa. Cs. tungu-za, -zwa. (Cf. tunga, tungika,—also (angika) angua, (shuka) shua, which are common in Z.)

Tunguja, n. (ma-), an edible fruit of the shrub mtungujua.

Tunu, n. something rare, choice, valuable,—a keepsake, a souvenir, an heirloom, a special present, treasure, a rare sight, a curiosity. (Cf. tunuka, tunza, and syn. hedaya, kioja.)

Tunuka, v. (1) set the heart on, treasure, prize, long for, have special affection for (i.e. perh. regard as a treasure (tunu), make a treasure (tunza) of); (2) give as a present, make a present of, e.g. namtunuka mtu huyni, I have set my heart on this man. Ps. tunukwa. Ap. tunuk-ia, -iwa, e.g. make a present to. T. kofia, give a cap to. T. moskiti, make a gift to a mosque. Cs. tunuk-isha, -ishwa (tunusha, and cf. tunza). Rp. tunukana. (Cf. tunu, and follg.)

Tunza, v. treat with care or affection; (1) guard, protect, care for, tend, keep safe; (2) attend to, observe, examine, keep an eye on; (3) make a present to. E.g. tunza kasi, work with care. T. mtoto, mind a child. T. akili, keep the brain clear, use the wits. Ps. tunzwa. Nt. tunzika. Ap. tunz-ia, -iwa. Cs. tunz-isha, -ishwa. Rp. tunzana. — n. (—, and ma-), (1) care, attention, guardianship; (2) things cared for, belongings. Akamleta kijana na tunza zake, and he brought him the lad and his belongings. (3) gift, present, reward. (Cf. tunu, tunuka, also tuzo (tunzo), and syn. hifathi, shika, angalia.)

Tupa, v. (1) throw, cast, fling, e.g. a spear, stone, &c.; (2) throw away, cast off, desert, abandon. Tupa jicho, throw a glance. Ps. tupwa, e.g. nimetupwa, I am an outcast. Nt. tupika. Ap. tup-ia, -iwa, e.g. throw at (from, with, to),—also, pass on to, refer to, e.g. Sultanini kmintupia waziri maneno, the Sultan usually refers matters to his prime minister. Hence tupil-ia, -iwa, -ika. Also tupiana. Cs. tup-isha, -ishwa. Rp. tupana. (Cf. mtupa, and syn. rusha, peleka, piga.)

Tupa, n. (—), a file,—for metal, i.e. tupa ya chuma. A flat file is called tupa ya msumeno; a rasp for wood, tupa ya tunga. (See Tunga.)

-tupa, a. (tupa with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6, and sometimes tupa for all D), (1) empty, bare, void, naked; (2) mere, sheer, bare, by itself (themselves), unmixed, pure, without change or adulteration; (3) meaningless, worthless, vain, devoid of content. E.g. mikono mtupa, empty hands, empty-handed. Miguu mtupa, bare feet, barefoot. Mtu mtupa, just a man, a mere man, one who has nothing. Vongo mtupa, a sheer, downright falsehood. Wensi watupa, none but black people. Maneno matupa, idle talk, nonsense. Sometimes indecl., e.g. vyakula vitamoni tupa (or vitupa), nothing but nice food. Obs. -tupa, includes 'unclothed, naked,' but to denote nakedness in a vulgar sense, mtupa or tupa is used as an indecl. adj., e.g. huyni ni mtupa, the person is naked. Mtu tupa, a naked person. A less vulgar word is uchi. (Cf. utupa, uchi.)

*Turuhani, n. tare, allowance made in weighing for package, vehicle, &c. (? Ar. 'deduction.')

*Turuki, n. (ma-), also Turki, a Turk, an Egyptian. Hence Uturuki, Turkey. Kituruki, Turkish language.

Turuma, n. (ma-). See Taruma.

Tushi, n. (ma-), and Tusi, Tusu, insulting language or conduct, abuse, ill-treatment, outrage. Also as a. -tushi, degraded, insulted, abased, mean, low. (Cf. prec.)

Tusi, n. (ma-), a litter, palanquin, sedan, sling or hammock for carrying a person. (Cf. machela, and jenéza.)

Tuta, n. (ma-), a raised bed for planting; a long ridge of earth with deep furrows on either side. (Also perh. tuta, v. pile up. Nt. tutika, and Rv. tutua, take down, lower, deceive,—but not used in Z.)

Tutuka, v. rise in little swellings (tuttu, Kr.). (Cf. follg.)

Tutuma, v. (1) make a rumbling (muttering, grumbling, growling) sound, e.g. thunder, the bowls, &c.,—perh. imitative (cf. telena) or connected with (2) swell up, bubble up, boil up, and fig. be puffed up, swell up, e.g. with pride, anger, &c. Hence also a Nt. tutum'ka, in same sense, and Cs. tutum'-sha, -shwa. (Cf. mtutumo, tutumua, and syn. guna, nguruma, and furika.)

Tutumua, v. Rv. of tutuma, draw together, e.g. jitutumua, gather oneself up,—as for an effort. (Cf. prec. and nyata, kunja.)

Tuz, v. make a present (to), give as a reward (to). Mumewe akatuzua nganga michele, her husband gave the doctor a present of rice. Ps. tuzwa, e.g. get a present. Akatuzua na wani mapesha, people gave him a reward in money. (Cf. follg., and tunu, tunuka, or perh. tunza. Tusa also represents sometimes chuza, and tusha (which see.).)

Tuzo, n. (—), also Tuza, and Tunzo, a present,—esp. of a reward for success. (Cf. prec., and for presents generally bakishisi, sawadi.)

Tw- often represents the sound of tu before a vowel. See Tu.

Twaa, v. take (to oneself), take away (from another), carry away (from another), take off, receive, accept, obtain. A very common verb, syn. often with pokea, pews, chukwa, pata, shika. Mimi nime to fetha, naye ametwaa, I gave the money, and he received. Alitwaa mijji mingi, he seized (got possession of) many towns. Twaa ruhusa, receive leave. Ps. twawa, e.g. ametwawa na ghururi, he is seized with infatuation,—but commonly in the Ap. Ps. form twaliwa, which thus means both (1) be taken, seized, received, or (2) be robbed of, have something taken from (or, for) one, lose. See below. Nt. twaliwa. Ap. twa-ia, -liwa, -lika, e.g. take (receive) from (for, with, at, &c.), rob of, relieve, rid a person of, take on behalf of, &c. Hence twaliana. Cs. and Rp. not used.

Twana, Twaana, Twazana, v. be like, resemble each other,—sometimes with sura, uso, of personal resemblance. (Cf. fanana, li-ngana.)

Tweka, v. and a variant Twika, hoist up, raise from the ground, lift on to a person's shoulders or head,—esp. of loads, but also t. tanga (bendera), hoist a sail (a flag). Ps.
TWETA

twekwa. Nt. twekeka.
twek--e.a, -e. Tw. twekana.
(Cf.
syn. inua, pandisha, kweea.)

Tweta, v. pant, gasp, catch the breath,—of any irregular or difficult breathing.
Ap. twetea.
(Cf.
mtweto, and syn. kokota roho, vita pumuzi.)

Twiga, n. (—), a giraffe.

Twika, v. like tweka, but perch.
only of lifting loads on to the head or shoulder.
Jitiuika, lift on to one's own head.
Cs. twisha, intens. of loading another person.
(Cf. tweka.)

U.

U represents the sound of u in the English rule, or, when not accented, in full.
Uu is written when the sound is very marked and sustained, as in kuku, dist. kuku.

Before another vowel sound, u is commonly pronounced as a consonant,
i. e. w, and words not found under the one may be looked for under the other.

U is used independently

A. as a verb-form, (1) you are, agreeing with the pron. of the 2
Pers. Sing., i. e. weve, or (2) it is, agreeing with D 2 (S), D 4 (S), e. g.
mzigo u mzito, the load is heavy.

B. occasionally as conj. and, e. g.
tatu u nussu, three and a half.
(Cf.
Ar. wa.)

U- (before a vowel, W-) as a formative px. is used

A. in verbs, as (1) the px. of the 2 Pers. Sing., subjective only, e. g.
unapenda, wapenda (for wapenda,) you love. (2) the px., subjective and objective, agreeing with D 2 (S), D 4 (S), e. g. mti unaota, the tree grows.
Umbo waapenda, you like the song. (3) inserted before the final a of any verb, it forms the derived stem which may be called Reversive, as commonly reversing the meaning of the root, e. g. funga,

fasten, fungua, unfasten, and fusua,
raise to life, (Kd.) from fa, die.

B. in nouns, as the characteristic initial of a large class, like m and ki,—and in contrast with m and ki, the most general and characteristic use of u is to form abstract nouns, and any suitable root of verb, noun, or adjective may be given an abstract meaning by simply prefixing u, with or without a change in the final syllable.
E. g. cf. mtu, a man (a living organized thing), kitu, a thing, an object (a man, only when regarded as a thing), and utu, humanity, human nature, and also sometimes matter, substance (though this is usually covered by kitu). This being so, it is impracticable to attempt a full list of actual and possible abstract nouns in u, and a selection is made of those most common or remarkable.

The u class contains, however, many nouns with concrete meanings,
e. g. usafio, a brush, ufunguo, a key, utando, ukoko, umandie, and in a large number of u- nouns (1) there is no plural, or (2) the only plural in common use has the px. of D 5 (P), ma-; usually denoting concrete forms or cases of the abstract expressed by the singular; (3) the rest following the rather difficult grammatical rules for D 4 (P).

Two other meanings of u, as a noun-px., may be compared with the abstract meaning, viz. (1) u- to denote the inward (and relatively smaller) part of an object, its substance, or quality (cf. ubongo, ubunya, udevu, udo, ufupa,), and (2) u- to denote a country.
E. g. cf. Mzungu,
a European, kisungu, something European,—esp. European language, Uzungu, the European country, but also the quality of being European.

Obs. further that (1) u initial in nouns is sometimes not formative, but part of the root; (2) u and o are often not clearly distinguished in Swahili, esp. in Arabic words, which make no distinction; (3) u followed by another u or w often coalesces with it, e.g. uwmbo, umbo, wambo.

C. in adjectives, u (w-) sometimes takes the place of m-, mw-, to mark agreement with (1) D 1 (S), viz. in the pronom. adj. angu, ako, &c.; (2) D 2 (S), D 4 (S), not only in the pronom. adj. but also in -ote, -enyi, -enyewe; (3) D 4 (S), in a few other adj.s, viz. uchungu, uma, utupu.

The meaning of many nouns in u- is more fully indicated under an adjective or verb of the same root, to which reference is given. A word not found under U may be looked for under the next letter, or under W. Plurals of u nouns are sometimes irregular, and given in full.

Ua, n. (maua), a flower. Chuna maua, pick flowers. Tua maua, come into flower. (Cf. channa.)

Ua, n. (nyua), (1) an enclosure,—commonly an open court or backyard attached to a house, and fenced with sticks, plaited leaves, or a hedge. Also (2) a fence of this kind, i.e. ua wa nyasi (miti, makuti, mabua), a fence of grass (sticks, leaves, stalks).

Ua, for words beginning with these letters, see also under Wa-.

Uadui, Uahadi. See Wadui, Wahadi.

Uambo, n. See Uwambo.

Uambukizau, n. (nyamb. and maamb.), infection, infectiousness. (Cf. ambukiza.)

Uaminii, Uaminifu, n. honesty, trustworthiness, &c. (Cf. amini.)

Uandamizi, Uandamano, n. (nyand. and maand.), a following, a procession. (Cf. andamizi, anda-mano.)

Uanga, n. and Wanga (which see).

Uangalifu, n. carefulness, attention. (Cf. folg.)

Uangalizi, n. (ma-), observation, taking notice, care. (Cf. angalia.)

Uangamizi, n. (ma-), ruin, collapse, description. (Cf. angamia.)

Uapo, n. (nyapo), (1) a swearing, an oath (cf. apa); (2) also wapo, a giving, a gift, e.g. ndio wapo mmono, that is a rich present. (Cf. pa v., kipaji.)

*Uarabu, n. (1) country of the Arabs, Arabia,—commonly Arabuni, or Manga; (2) Arab nature. (Dist. uharabu.)

Uashi, n. art of mason's work, building with stone, masonry, a mason's fee. (Cf. aka, asha, m-washi.)

*Uasi, n. (maasf), rebelliousness, disobedience, rebellion, revolt, mutiny. Fanya uasi kwa Sultan, revolt against the Sultan. (Ar.)

Uayo, n. (nyayo), also Unyago, and Wayo, sole of the foot, footprint, footprint, track. (Cf. hatua.)

Ubaba, n. paternity, fatherhood. (Cf. baba, umama.)

Ubabwa, n. and Ubwabwa, (1) gruel, pap, e.g. rice, esp. as made for hungry children or invalids, boiled with water enough to make a paste, or (2) rice cooked plainly, without coconuts. Rice. Cf. the riddle Ubabwa wa mtoto m'tamu, a child's pap is nice,—the answer being usingizi, sleep. (Cf. matabwa-tabwa, uji, wali.)

*Ubadili, Ubadiifu, n. (ma-), change, changeableness, exchange, interchange. (Ar. Cf. badili.)

*Ubahili, n. miserliness, niggardliness. (Ar. Cf. bahili, and syn. ukabithi, choyo.)

*U Baini, Ubainifu, n. clearness, demonstrability, notoriety, demonstration, evidence. (Ar. Cf. baini, and syn. thahiri, wazi.)

Ubale, n. (mbale), strip, slice, piece, e.g. mbale za mhuho, cassava cut in pieces lengthways,—called also *Ubaliko (ma-), when dried. The process of cutting is lenqa (also kata) mbale. Kr. distinguishes ubale (mbale) from mbale (mbale), somewhat larger pieces, and bale (mbale) of the largest. (Cf. pale, mpande, kipande, and utamba, mbamba, bamba.)

*Ubalikho, n. (mbaliko), distance, being distant,—seldom used, but see Mbaliko, and cf. ubele.

*Ubalozi, n. office (position, work, salary) of a consul. (Cf. balozi.)

*Ubambo, n. (bambo), a thin grooved skewer, like a cheesetaster, used for testing and sampling bags of rice. (Cf. prec.)

*Ubango, n. (bango), reed,—but in Z. tete is usual.

*Ubani, n. frankincense. (Hind. Cf. udi, usumba.)

Ubape, n. (bape), the flat part of anything, a flat surface,—e.g. the blade of a knife, ubapa wa kisu. (Cf. bala, and kengee.)

*Ubarathuli, n. foolishness, simplicity, being easily duped. Cf. Ujinga wa kuza si ubarathuli wa kununa, to be outwitted in selling is better than to be duped in buying. (Ar. Cf. barathuli, and syn. ujingga, uzuza.)

*Ubaridi, n. (1) coldness, coolness; (2) a chilling manner, dullness; (3) comfort, convalescence. (Ar. Cf. baridi, burudisha.)

*Ubashiri, n. (ma-), proclamation, prediction, announcement. (Ar. Cf. bashiri,—also hubiri, tabiri.)

*Ubathiri, Ubathirifu, n. extravagance, prodigality. (Ar. Cf. bathiri, and syn. upotetu.)

Ubati, n. (bati), an addition to a house,—wing, outhouse, lean-to. (Cf. kipenu.)

Ubatili, n. nullity, emptiness, vanity, futility, uselessness. Mtu wa haki haamui ubatili, a just man does not give worthless judgement. (Ar. Cf. batili.)

Uba, n. (mba), board, plank, cut timber. Pasua mba, saw in pieces (or, saw out) planks. (Cf. bau.)

Uba, n. (mba), a rib, side of the body, or anything corresponding to it in relative position, e.g. skirt (slope, flank) of a mountain, side, wing (of an army, &c.). Mbauni mwa, at the side of, on the flanks of.

Uba, n. (mba), a wing feather. Funua mba, spread out the wing feathers. (Cf. ba, a wing.)

*Ubabawabo, n. office (work, pay) of a door-keeper (gaoler, turnkey). (Ar. Cf. bawabu, and syn. ugojese wa mlango.)

Ubay, n. (ma-), badness, wickedness, corruptness, ugliness. (Cf. baya, and syn. uovu, contr. uzuri, wema.)

*Ubazazi, n. (ma-), occupation (condition, habits, &c.) of a shopkeeper,—bargaining, buying, and selling, &c. (Ar. Cf. basazi.)

Ubele, n. position in front, a step forward, progress, promotion, advancement, success. Pata ubele, be promoted. (Cf. mbele, adv., prob. plur. of ubele, cf. ubali, mbali.)

Ubeleko, n. See Mbeleko.

Ubele, Ubembe, Ubembelezi, n. (bembe, mabembe), flirting, coquetry, coaxing, wheedling, fondling, allurement. (Cf. bemba, bembe.)

*Ubeti, n. (beti), verse, stanza, strophe. (Ar. Cf. beti, and shari.)

Ubichi, n. unripeness, immaturity, freshness, rawness, greenness. (Cf. bichi.)

Ubilisi, n. same as uhetani, devilry, madness. (Ar. Cf. bili, shetani.)
Ubina, n. (mbinda). See Ubinja, Uwinda,—different words, both of which seem to be also thus pronounced. (Cf. binda, bindo.)

Ubingwa, n. cleverness, proficiency, quality of a good workman. (Cf. bingwa, and syn. ustadi, welekevu.)

Ubinja, n. (mbinja), also Uwinja, Ubinda, a whistling noise, whistle, i.e. the act or sound of whistling. Piga mbinja, whistle. (Cf. miunzi, msunyo, kibinja, and dist. uwinda.)

Ubishi, n. (mbishi, mabishi), (1) joking, a joke, jest, fun (cf. mzaha), (2) refractoriness, contrariness, strife, opposition, obstructiveness. Ubishi mwingi huvuta mateto, joking carried too far leads to quarrelling. (Cf. bisha, also ukaidi, utundu, ushindi.)

Ubivu, n. ripeness, maturity, being well-cooked. (Cf. bivu, iva.)

Ubono, n. (mbono), brain substance, brain, marrow. (Cf. bongo.)

Ubona, n. (mbona) seed of the castor-oil plant (mbono).

Uboras, n. excellence, pre-eminence, fine quality (of any kind). (Cf. bora.)

Ubvuvu, n. rottenness, unsoundness, corruption, badness, putrefaction. (See -bvu, and cf. uozi, uovu, and ubaya.)

Ubua, n. (mbua), used for bua (mabua) of the smaller kinds of grain-bearing stalk, e.g. of mpanga, mwete, and of the stalk, as substance and material. (Cf. buea.)

Ububu, n. dunniness. (Cf. bubu.)

Ubugu, n. (mbugu), stem of a creeping plant, used as cord. (Cf. mbugu, mbongo.)

*Uburudisho, n. cooling, refreshment, recreation, relief. (Ar. Cf. baridi, burudisha.)

Ubuyu, n. the pithy substance or kernel inside the nut produced by a baobab tree,—a slightly acid biscuit-like substance, when ripe, occasionally eaten. E.g. hawakuona kitu ndani ya mabuyu illa ubuyu mtupu, they found nothing inside the calabashes except the pith.

Ubwabwa, n. See Ubabwa.

Ubwana, n. (1) mastership, qualities (rights, powers) of a master; (2) an overbearing, domineering, tyrannical, masterful character. (Cf. bwana.)

Uchache, n. (1) fewness, scarcity, want, slightness; (2) rarity, being scarce, (and so) of value. Uchache wa moyo, lack of spirit, feebleness of character. (Cf. -chache, haba.)

Uchafu, n. uncleanness, filthiness, dirt. (Cf. -chafu, and follg.)

Uchafuko, n. (ma-), disorder, muddle, mess, chaos, disorganization, unsettlement, confusion. (Cf. chafuka.)

Uchaga, n. and Uchala, storeplace for grain,—as used on the mainland, but utaa more usual in Z. (Cf. mchago, utaa.)

Uchaguzo, Uchaguzi, n. a choosiness, daintiness, fastidiousness, habit of criticism. (Cf. chagua, and uteno.)

Uchaji, n. fear, respect, awe, reverence. (Cf. cha v., kicho, and syn. hofu, woga.)

Uchakacho, n. a rustling sound, rustle, e.g. of leaves, clothes, &c. (Also perh. utakaso, cf. chakacha.)

Uchala, n. See Uchaga.

Uchale, n. (chale), gash, cut, incision. (See Chale.)

Uchanga, n. (1) immaturity, unripeness, early stage of development, babyhood, littleness (see -changa); (2) a grain of sand. (Cf. mchanga.)

Uchango, n. (chango), (1) smaller intestine; (2) worm in the intestine. (Cf. chango.)

Uchawi, n. witchcraft, sorcery, black arts, magic. Hapana maneno ya uchawi kwa watu Waswahili, Swahilis have nothing to do with witchcraft, i.e. they leave it to the savages (washenzi). (Cf. uchawi, and see Mganga, Uganda.)

Uchepechepe, n. being moist, wet, watery, &c. (See Chepechepe, and cf. ruluba, umaji.)

Uchi, n. nakedness, nudity,—less vulgar than utupu (which see). Used also as adj. Washenzi wa huko uchi, the savages in that part go naked.

Uchipuko, n. (chipuko), shoot, sprout, blade,—of a growing plant. (Cf. chipuka.)

Uchochoro, n. (ma-), narrow passage, lane, alley, e.g. between native houses in a town. (Cf. chochoro, and ujia.)

Uchokazi, n. (ma-), teasing, annoyance. (Cf. chokosa.)

Uchomozi, n. (1) coming out, bursting out, and so (2) of the sun, getting hot, scorching. (Cf. chomoza.)

Uchongo, n. (1) being one-eyed (cf. chongo); (2) discharge from a weak or diseased eye (also utongo).

Uchovu, n. (1) weariness, fatigue; (2) producing weariness, tediousness, dullness. (Cf. -chovu, choka.)

Uchoyo, n. See Choyo.

Uchu, n. longing, yearning, earnest wish. (Cf. shawko, tamaa.)

Uchukuti, n. central part, or midrib, of cocoanut leaf. (Cf. kiti.)

Uchukuzi, n. getting carried, conveyance, cost of carriage, porterage. (Cf. chukua, mchukuzi.)

Uchumba, n. relation of lovers, of lover and sweetheart, wooing, being wooed, lover's gift. The lover supplies his bride with clothes till marriage, nguza uchumba. (See Mchumba.)

Uchumi, (1) way of earning profits, trade, business, occupation; (2) profits, earnings, salary,—in this sense also uchumo. (Cf. chuma, chumo.)

Uchungu, n. (1) sharp pain, smart, bitterness, bitter taste; (2) fig. resentment, anger, offended feeling, grudge. -a uchungu, and commonly uchungu alone (cf. utupu) as adj., bitter, painful, angry, and obs. the adv. kiuchungu. (Cf. -chungu, -kali, nchomo, umivu.)

Udaku, n. (daku), (1) objection, demurrer, protest; (2) news got hold of secretly, gossip, rumour. Also udakuzi, getting hold of stories, telling tales, &c. (See Daka, Dakizo, Dakua, and Dukiza,—perh. same word.)

*Udalali, n. profession of salesman or auctioneer, salesman's commission or fee. (Ar. Cf. dalali.)

Udanganyifu, n. (ma-), craftiness, cunning, deceitfulness, imposture. (Cf. danganya, and syn. ujanja, we-revu, hila.)

Udevu, n. (ndevu), a hair of the face,—of the whiskers, moustache, &c. (Cf. ndevu, kidemu, and unyele.)

*Udi, n. and Uudi, aromatic aloewood,—used for fumigation (vukizo). (Ar. Cf. ubani, umumba.)

*Udibaji, n. (1) adornment, artistic form, style; (2) mere form as opp. to substance,—and so, delusion, outward show, deceit. (Ar. Cf. dibaji.)

*Udobi, n. occupation of a washerman, laundry work, payment for washing. (Hind. Cf. dobi, and ufuajt, fua.)

Udogo, n. littleness, smallness, insignificance. (Cf. -dogo.)

Udole, n. (ndole), finger, toe,—but in Z. kidole. Udole is used of the nail of a finger (in Z. ukucha) and claw of an animal. (Cf. dole, kidole.)

Udongo, n. soil, earth, clay,—including surface-soil, potter's material, red earth used in making mortar, &c.

*Udufu, n. poorness of quality, weakness, thinness, dullness, insipidity, worthlessness, exhaustion, good-for-nothingness. (Ar. Cf. dufu, and syn. uhaifu, whasifu.)

Udugu, n. brotherhood, kinsmanship, being of same family or clan or tribe. (Cf. ndugu, and syn. ujamaa, utani.) Udai, n. (ndu'i), a pimple, a vesicle. Hence ndui, small-pox.

Uduvi, n. also Nduvi, Duvi, shrimp, prawn. Also called kamba (which see). Uduvi is also used collectively.

Ue-, for words beginning with these letters, see also under We-.

*Uele, n. sickness, illness, esp. of a severe and crippling kind, confining the patient to bed. U. wa macho, ophthalmia. U. wa viungo, rheumatism. (Ar. Cf. -ele, and syn. ngonjwa, marathì.)

Uembe, n. See Wembe.

Ufa, n. (nyufa), a crack, split, slit, cleft, rent, tear,—or similar aperture. Fanya (tia) ufa, crack, v. Usiposiba ufa, utajenga ubuta, if you neglect a crack, you will have to build a wall.

Ufahanusi, n. (ma-), explanation, revelation, interpretation, telling out, publishing abroad. (Cf. fahanua, and syn. elezo.)

Ufagio, n. (fagio), small broom, small brush, i.e. commonly a bundle of leaf-strips tied together and used for rough sweeping, e.g. footpaths, floors, &c. (Cf. fagia.)

*Ufahamu, n. (fahamu), (1) recollection, memory; (2) intelligence, sense, consciousness, recognition, comprehension. Fahamu zikamrjea, his senses returned to him, he recovered consciousness. (Ar. Cf. fahamu, and syn. akili, moyo.)

Ufalme, n. (falme, masalme,— both seldom used), (1) chieftainship, kingship, royalty; (2) sway, rule, dominion; (3) sphere of dominion, kingdom. (Cf. mfasalme, and syn. enzi, mamlaka, ukuu.)

Ufanani, n. likeness, resemblance. (Cf. fanana, mfanò.)

*Ufasaha, n. (fasaha) and Ufasahi, elegance, aesthetic taste, purity of style, correct form,—esp. of a literary kind. (Ar. Cf. fasihi, and syn. dibaji, usahihi, uswafa.)

*Ufidhiwa, n. (fidiwa), ransoming, ransom. (Ar. See Fidia, and cf. dia, ukombozi.)

*Ufalisisi, n. distraining, selling up, disposing of a debtor's goods,—and more generally, financial ruin, whether self-caused (i.e. extravagance, waste) or otherwise. (Ar. Cf. filisi, and syn. angamíza, poteza.)

Ufanyanzí, n. also with final -gi, -ji, for -zi, art (trade, work, wages, &c.) of a potter. (Cf. finya nga, and finya.)

*Ufisadi, Ufísiki, n. vice, viciousness, debauchery, fornication. (Ar. Cf. físa di.)

*Ufíthuli, n. (fíthuli), insolence, arrogance, contemptuous temper, outrage, wanton insults. (Ar. Cf. fíthúlika.)

*Ufitína, n., commonly Fitína (which see). (Ar.)

Uifto, n. (fito), long thin piece of wood, stick, rod, lath, or anything similar in appearance, e.g. thin bar of metal, upto wa chuma, rod iron, iron bar (cf. upao). Often of the thin straight sticks used on native roofs to carry the thatch, laid crosswise horizontally on the rafters. (Cf. fimbo, and for sticks generally, bakóra.)

Ufizí, n. (fizi), gum,—of the jaw.

Ufo, n. (nyufa), act (place, state, manner, &c.) of dying. (Cf. fa, kifo, -fu, and follg., and syn. mauti.)

Ufu, n. state of being dead, death, deadness, numbness. (Cf. prec.)

Ufuaji, n. the act (manner, occupation) of beating, washing clothes, &c. (Cf. fua, and syn. udobi.)

Ufuasí, n. (fuasi, and ma-), following, accompanying, e.g. of musical accompaniment. (Cf. fuata, mfua si.)

Ufufuko, Ufufo, n. (fufuko, fufuo), restoration of life, raising from death, revival, renewing, restarting,—the neut. form in -ko meaning properly 'being restored to life, being renewed,' &c. (Cf. fufua, -fa, and syn. huísha.)
*Ufukara, n. utter destitution, beggary, poverty. (Ar. Cf. fukara, jakiri, hohekahi, and syn. mashini.)

Ufuko, n. (fuko), sandy margin of the seashore about high-water mark, i.e. maji ya bahari yakonapo, —pwani, including the whole shore to low-water mark. E.g. ulichokia cha pwani kakingojte ufukoni, the thing you left out on the shore, expect to find washed up on the sand. The Act. form ufuo is also used. (Cf. fua, used of the beating of the waves on the shore, and ufukwe, the fine white sand of the shore. Dist. mfuco, kifuko, fuko, a bag.)

Ufukwe, n. (1) the fine white sand formed by the beating of the waves on the shore (cf. prec.); (2) fig. utter destitution (cf. ufukara).

Ufumbi, n. (ma-), depression between hills, valley, bottom. In Z. commonly bonde.

Ufundu, n. art (position, work, wages) of a fundu, i.e. a skilled mechanic, artisan, master workman. Pata uf., become a master (after being an apprentice, mwanafuni). Piga uf., show off. (Cf. fundi, fundisha.)

Ufunga, n. (funga), a stone bench or seat of masonry, usually against the wall in front of the house, for the reception of visitors. (Cf. baraza.)

Ufungu, n. (fungu), (1) relationship, connexion; (2) a relative, kinsman. E.g. ufungu wangu anakuja, one of my family is coming. (Cf. ukoo, ndugu, akrabba, jamaa, mtani.)

Ufunguo, n. (funguo), (1) act (means, mode, &c.) of opening, commencement, exordium, preface; (2) a key,—the commonest use, e.g. killa mlango na ufunguo wake, every door has a key (means of opening). (Cf. funga, fungua.)

Ufuo, n. See Ufuko.

Ufupa, n. bony substance, cartilage, gristle. (Cf. mfupa, kifupa, fupa.)

Ufupi, n. shortness, brevity. (Cf. -fupi, fupiza, and contr. urefu.)

Ufupisho, n. shortening, contraction. (Cf. prec.)

Ufusio, n. sprinkling of small stones on a fresh-laid concrete floor, to bring it to a smooth surface. (Cf. fistia, kifusi.)

Ufuta, n. semsem,—the oil from which is called mafuta ya uta. (Cf. mafuta.)

Ufuu, n. the nutty part of a coconut inside the shell (kifuu), extracted by grating. Called chicha when mixed with water, and the oil strained out. (Cf. nazi, chicha, tui. Dist. fiu, the fruit.)

Ufuzi, n. (fuzi, mafuzi), a hair of the armpits, or of the pudenda.

Ufyozi, n. (1) making a contemptuous whistling noise between the teeth, so generally (2) a defiant, insolent manner of acting or speaking. (Cf. fyoa.)

Uga, n. (—), an open space in a town, or round a house. E.g. akafika ugani papano ile nyumba, he arrived at the open place, where the house stood. (Cf. uwanza, peupe, and dist. wa.)

Ugali, n. a stiff porridge, commonly made of mtama, millet, mixed with water and cooked.

Uganga, n. (ma-), (1) art (profession, fee) of a native doctor, doctoring, healing, surgical and medical aid,—including use of charms, &c (see Mganga). Also (2) medicine, charm. E.g. pika (fanya, weka) uganga, concoct (make, place in position) native medicine. Mganga, used of a doctor's appliances, materials, and operations generally. (Cf. nganga, and cont. uchawi.)

Ugeni, n. (1) state or condition of a stranger or foreigner, newness, strangeness; (2) state of being a guest; (3) a foreign region or country, foreign parts. Safiri ugenini, travel abroad, in foreign countries. (Cf. -geni.)

Ugeuzi, n. (geuzi, magezu), changing, changeableness, change, variation, turning round. (Cf. geuka, geu, and syn. ubadili.)

*Ugaiibu, n. See Uraibu.

Ugo, n. (nyogo), (1) enclosure, fenced court, yard; (2) fence. In Z. commonly uga, ua. (Cf. uga, ua.)

Ugomba, n. (gomba), fibre from the banana stalk (mgomba), very strong and fine.

Ugondvi, n. (gonvi, magonvi), quarrelsomeness, contentiousness, bad temper, wrangling, a quarrel. (Cf. gomba, gombana.)

Ugonjwa, n. (gonjwa, magonjwa), being ill, sickness, disease, ill health. Shikwana (patwa na, ingita) ugonjwa, get ill. Tia (fanya) ugonjwa, cause sickness. Oonda (ponya) u., cure sickness. Toka ugonjwani, poa ugonjwa, recover from sickness. (Cf. -gonjwa, gonzwa, and syn. marathi, uweli.)

Ugone, n. (ngono), sleeping-time, and so, night. (Cf. ngono.)

Ugona, v. (1) become sick, fall ill, be in pain, be ailing; (2) groan, wail. Ap. ugulia, -iwa, e.g. ngmo za kungulia, mourning dress. Ugulia nyumba, be ill in a house. Unaugulwa, you have sickness in your house. Cs. uguza, -zwu, (1) cause to be ill, produce sickness; but commonly (2) attend in sickness, as nurse, treat or doctor a sick person. (Cf. mwuguzi, uguzi, also ugonjwa, and hawesi.)

Ugumvi, n. hardiness, solidity, firmness, resolution, bravery, severity, insensibility, &c. (Cf. -gumvi.)

Uguzi, n. (mauguzi), nursing the sick, care of sick people, operations (materials, means, &c.) of nursing. (Cf. ugwa, and mlezi.)

Ugwe, n. (ngwe, and nyngwe), string, small cord, and anything used as such. (Cf. kigwe, kitani, kamba.)

*Uhaba, n. (1) fowness, scantiness, rarity; (2) being too few, deficiency, lack. (Ar. Cf. haba, and syn. -chache.)

*Uhafulu, n. lightness, cheapness, commonness, poor quality, worthlessness. (Ar. Cf. hafifu.)

*Uhai, n. being alive, life. (Ar. Cf. hai, huisha, and syn. -zima, iish.)

*Uhalu, n. state, condition, circumstances,—for the more common hali (which see), and dist. mahali, pahali. (Ar.)

*Uhalifu, n. (halifu, or mahalifu), disobedience, transgression, breaking rules, rebellion, naughtiness. (Ar. Cf. halifu, and syn. uasi, ukaidi.)

*Uharabu, n. destructive ness, mischievousness, vandalism. (Ar. Cf. uharibu, harabu, haribu, and syn. wunjiifu.)

*Uharamia, n. brigandage, piracy, outlawry. (Ar. Cf. haramia, haramu.)

*Uharara, n. (1) warmth, heat; (2) hastiness, impetuosity, violence. (Ar. Cf. harara, hari.)

*Uharibifu, n. destruction, spoiling, corruption, mortality, waste. (Ar. Cf. haribu, uharabu, and syn. upotevu.)

*Uhasidi, n. and Uhusuda, envy, spite, malignity. (Ar. Cf. hasidi, and syn. uvivu.)

*Uhassi, n. castration, being a eunuch. (Ar. Cf. hassi, maksai.)

*Uhayara, n. being a paramour. (Ar. Cf. hayara, hawa, and dist. uasira, ukahaba.)

Uhiana, n. hardiness, toughness, resistance, obstinacy, unkindness, unfairness. (Cf. hiana, and syn. uguumu.)

*Uhitaji, n. (hitaji, mahitaji), (1) want, need, requirement, desire; (2) indigence, necessitous condition. (Ar. Cf. hitaji.)

*Uhodari, n. strength, firmness, ability, resolution, courage, skill. (Cf. hodari, and syn. ngwe, wwezo.)

Uhunzi, n. work (trade, condition, wages) of a smith, metal-working. (Cf. mhunzi, and msua chuma.)

*Uhuru, n. freedom, liberty, emancipation. *Cheti cha uhuru, freedom-certificate. *Mtumwa amepewa uhuru, the slave has been emancipated. (Ar. Cf. huru, and ungewana.)

*Uhusuda, n. See Uhasidi. (Ar.)

Uhari, see Urari.

Uima, n. and adv. and Wima, uprightness (of position), upright. E.g. *watu waliosimama uima, people who stood upright. (Cf. ima.)

Uimbaji, n. being a singer (minstrel, chorister), singing (as a practice or profession). (Cf. imba, and follg.)

Uimbwe, n. (nyimbwe), also Wimbwe, a singing, a song. (Cf. imba, and prec.)

Uivu, n. and Uwivu, jealousy, envy. *Lia uivu, weep for jealousy. (Cf. -ivu, and husuda, hasidi.)

Uiizi, n. thieving, robbery, theft. (Cf. iba, mwizi, and syn. unyang'-anyi.)

*Ujahili, n. boldness, bravery, courage. (Ar. Cf. jahili, and syn. wshujua, ukali, uguvu.)

Ujaifi, n. verbal of -ja, i.e. a coming, but rarely used. (Cf. -ja, ujia, majiljo, and dist. uchaji, fear, uchache, fensness.)

Ujalifu, n. fullness, being full. (Cf. jaa, v. and ujazi.)

Ujana, n. youthfulness, youth, age of kijana. (See Kijana, for definition of meaning, and Mwana.)

Ujane, n. the unmarried state,—of bachelor, spinster, widow or widower. (Cf. mjane.)

Ujanja, n. craftiness, cunning, roguery, deceit, fraud. (Cf. -janja, and hya, udanganyifu, hadaa.)

*Ujari, n. (njari), tiller- rope, in a native vessel, i.e. kamba ya shikio, or ya msukani. (? Ar.)

Ujazi, n. fullness, abundance, plentiful supply. (Cf. jua, ujalifu, and syn. wingi. Dist. jazi, ma.)

Ujensi, n. (ma-), building operations, construction, designing, architecture. Majenzi, buildings,—also majenjo. (Cf. jenga, mjensi.)

*Ujeuri, n. more commonly Jeuri (ma-), violence, insolence, outrage, tyranny. (Ar. Cf. jeuri, and syn. uthalimu, ukorofu.)

Uji, n. gruel,—i.e. rice or other grain made into a soup or paste. Cf. ubabwa, and wali (rice so cooked that all the grains are separate and dry). *Humpa uji, halafu hukampa ubabwa, he gives him rice-porridge, and presently gruel.

Ujia, n. (? njia, majia), a passage, narrow path,—used (rarely) to mark a difference from the common general term njia, which is perh. its plur. form. (Cf. -ja, and follg.)

Ujima, n. work in common, cooperation, mutual help,—e.g. in building a house, planting or harvest,—a common native practice, repaid by a beer-drinking or by similar help on occasion. (Cf. shogoa.)

Ujinamizi, n. bending (of the body), stooping, inclination. (Cf. ji, inama, and jinamizi.)

Ujinga, n. rawnness (of a newcomer), ignorance, simplicity, folly. Ujinga wa mtu ni werevu wake, a man’s simplicity is (often) his shrewdness. (Cf. jinga, and syn. ujumafu, ubarathuli.)

*Ujini, n. the country or home of the genie (spirits, demons). (Ar. Cf. jini.)

Ujio, n. (majio), act (manner, time, &c.) of coming, approaching. (Cf. -ja, ujia, and majiljo, mjio.)

*Ujira, n. and Ijara, hire, wages, recompense for work done. (Ar. Cf. ajiri, and mshakara.)

*Ujirani, n. (1) having neighbours, neighbours, neighbourliness, e.g. ujirani ni fetha katika kasha, neighbours are money in a safe. (2) neighbourhood, neighbouring district. (Cf. jirani.)

*Ujitatahidi, n. energy, exertion, effort, personal endeavour. E.g. ujitahidi haiondoi amri ya Muungu, effort has no power against Providence. (Ar. Cf. jitahidi, and syn. utendaji, bidii.)

Ujumbe, n. (1) office (dignity, duty, privilege, &c.) of a chief, chieftancy, supremacy, royal dignity (cf. mjumbe); (2) office, &c. of a messenger, ambassador (cf. jumbe). (Cf. ufalme, ukuu, usultani, utume.)

Ujume, n. the art (profession, wages, &c.) of a mjume (which see), high-class metal work, cutlery, &c.

*Ujusi, n. defilement, i. e. of a ceremonial kind, e. g. after childbirth, according to Mahomedan rules. (Ar. Cf. unajisi, uchafu.)

Uujuvi, n. (ma-), impudence, impertinence, sauciness, preciosity, knowingness. (Cf. jua, v., and follg.)

Ujuzi, n. possession of knowledge, wisdom, sagacity, practical experience. (Cf. prec., and jua, v.)

*Ukabithi, n. economy, close-fistedness, hoarding. (Ar. Cf. kabithi, and syn. ubahili.)

*Ukadirifu, n. estimation, valuation, assessment. (Ar. Cf. kadiri.)

Ukaguzi, n. inspection, examination, survey. (Cf. kagua.)

*Ukahaba, n. prostitution, fornication. (Ar. Cf. kahaba.)

*Ukaimu, n. office (dignity, work, &c.) of a vicegerent, viceroyalty. (Ar. Cf. kaimu.)

Ukali, n. (ma-), (1) a sharp, acid taste; (2) sharpness, keenness, edge; (3) strong character, firmness, resolution, spirit, bravery; (4) cruelty, severity, tyranny, fury. (Cf. -kal, makali, uchungu, uhabiti, ugunu, ukorofi. Dist. ukali as a verb-form for ni, i.e. is, e.g. mtama ukali mmea, the millet is just growing up. See Li.)

Ukulifu, n. intensity, severity, keenness, e. g. ukulifu wa jua, scorching heat of the sun. (Prob. same as ukulifu (which see), or possibly ukali.)

Ukambaa, n. (kambaa), cord, of plaited leaf-strips, like shupatu,—sometimes used as a whip. (Cf. kamba, of cocoanut fibre.)

Ukame, n. barrenness, bareness, waste condition,—of land. (Cf. kame, and ukivi.)

*Ukamili, Ukamilifu, n. completeness, perfection, consummation. (Ar. Cf. kamili, and syn. timilifu, tima.)

*Ukamio, n. (kamio), menacing, threatening, reproaching. (Cf. kamia, and syn. wogofya.)

Ukanda, n. (kanda), a strip of leather, strap, thong. E. g. ukanda wa kupigia, a scourge. U. wa kwatiala sorrwa, a trouser-suspending. U. wa uta, a bow-string. (Cf. kanda, n.)

Ukando, n. (kando), side, edge, margin. (See Kando.)

Ukango, n. (kango), (1) frying; (2) frying-pan. (See Kaango, Kaanga.)

Ukano, n. (kano), also Kano (—), and Mkano (mi-), sinew, tendon,—but in Z. commonly mshipa (which see); (2) verbal of kana, v., denial, contradiction.

Ukao, n. (kaa), act (place, manner, &c.) of remaining (staying, residing), way of living, posture. (Cf. kaa, v., kikao, makazi, &c.)

*Ukairimu, n. generosity, liberality, hospitality, openhandedness. (Ar. Cf. karimu, karamu, karama, and syn. upaji.)

Ukata, n. poverty, destitution. (Cf. mkata.)

Ukavu, n. dryness, humour, irritability, nonchalance. Ukavu wa macho, an unconcerned, fearless, cool look. (Cf. -kavu, kauka.)

Ukawa, n. (kawa), delay. (Cf. kawa, kawio, usiri.)

Ukaya, n. (kaya), a long piece of thin blue calico or muslin, rolled up and wound round the head and UKOMBOZI

*Ukiri, n. (1) acknowledgement, conscience, justification, admission. Jitia ukiri, justify oneself, freely allow. (2) for ukili, a plait of leaf-strips. (Ar. Cf. kiri, and syn. ungama.)

Ukiwa, n. solitariness, loneliness, abandonment, desolation, state of being uninhabited. (Cf. -kiwa.)

Ukiziwi, n. deafness. (Cf. kiziwi, and ziba.)

Uko, verb-form, you are (it is) there, i.e. pf.x. u agreeing with D 2 (S), D 4 (S), and with Pron. of 2 Pers. Sing. wee, - and -ko for adv. huko of place or time, there, then. (Cf. u, ko.)

Ukoa, n. (koa), ring or band of metal, e.g. as used on a sword sheath, bridle, &c. (Cf. koa.)

Ukofa, n. See Kofa, Ukufa.

Ukoga, n. (koga), used of accretions or incrustations, such as tartar on the teeth, scum on water, scurf on the skin, &c. (Cf. ukoko.)

Ukohozzi, n. (ma-), coughing, expectoration, sputum, phthisis, any chest affection causing coughing. (Cf. kohoa, kifu.)

Ukoka, n. a fine, creeping kind of grass, largely collected and used as fodder for horses, donkeys, and cattle in Z. (Cf. kikoka, and the more general term majani.)

Ukoko, n. used of the hard burnt caked rice at the bottom or top of a cooking pot, and perh. of other substances in similar condition. (Cf. kikoko.)

Ukoma, n. leprosy. (Cf. also matana, balanga, balasi; and perh. conn. with koma.)

Ukomb, n. a curved tool, used for hollowing out by cutting and scraping, e.g. for native wooden mortars, drums, measures, canoes. (Cf. komba, v. and follg.)

Ukombo, n. (kombo), curve, bend, crook. (Cf. komba, kikombo, and prec.)

Ukombozi, n. (1) rescue, ransoing, redemption, recovery; (2) money paid for redemption, ransom, fine. (Cf. komboa, mkombozi.)

Ukomo, n. (komo), act (manner, time, place, &c.) of coming to a stop, end, halting-place, goal, end part, limit, destruction, death. U. wa njia (kisa), end of a road (story). U. wa bahari, seashore. U. wa uso, forehead. (Cf. koma, v., kikoma, and perh. ukoma.)

Ukonge, n. fibre of the mkonge, a kind of hemp.

Ukongojo, n. (kongojo), and Mkongojo, a staff for leaning on, a prop, a crutch. (Cf. kongoja.)

Ukongwe, n. extreme old age. (Cf. -kongwe.)

Ukono, n. (konso), used of the tendrils, by which plants grasp or cling to anything, and of other hand-like objects. (Cf. mkono, kikono.)

Ukonyezo, n. (konyezo), (1) making a silent or secret sign, esp. with eyes or hands, a wink, a shrug; and (2) fig. hint, suggestion, warning, allusion. (Cf. konyeza, and kopesa.)

Ukoo, n. (koo), (1) relationship, kinship, affinity, ancestry, pedigree, descent, family (cf. ujamaa, ndugu, utani, akrabba, nasaba); (2) perh. better ukowo, uncleanness, slovenliness, filth, dirt. (Cf. ujusi, uchafu, taka.)

Ukope, n. (kope), a hair of the eye-lash. Hatta ukope twaonea mzito, even an eye-lash we feel a burden. (Cf. kope, kopesa, and udevu.)

Ukopis, n. (kopis), (1) borrowing and not repaying, knavery, cheating, deceit, fraud (cf. ujanja, hila, udunyanyaifu); (2) thing borrowed, loan advance (cf. karatha, maazimo). (Cf. kopa, mkopi.)

UKOSEFANO, n. (ma-), like ukosefu (which see).

Ukosi, n. nape of the neck. (Cf. kikosi.)

*Ukubali, n. (1) acceptance, reception, consent, acquiescence; (2) acceptability, pleasingness. (Ar. Cf. kubali, kibali.)

Ukubwa, n. greatness, whether (1) materially,—big, bulky, huge; or (2) morally,—high, powerful, important, weighty, &c. (Cf. -kubwa, and kuu.)

Ukucha, n. (kucha, and ma-), nail (of finger or toe), claw, talon, hoof. Piga (peleka) uk., scratch, lacerate, claw.

Ukufi, n. (kufi), as much as will lie on the flat of the hand, handful. Punje za mtama zinazopata ukufi, as much millet as would lie on the hand. (Cf. kofi, i. e. ukufi for ukofi.)

*Ukufuru, n. (ma-), unbelief, infidelity, atheism, apostacy. Mukufuru, blasphemy, sacrilege, profane words or deeds. (Ar. Cf. kafiri.)

Ukulifu, n. (1) being tired, remissness, yielding; (2) oppressive- ness, being overwhelming or too much, &c. (Cf. kua, kulia, -kulifu, and ukalifu.)

Ukulima, n. (ma-), condition (employment, operations, &c.) of a husbandman (peasant, tiller of the soil), agriculture, cultivation, peasantry. (Cf. lima, mkulima, mlimo, kilimo.)

Ukumbi, n. (kumbi), porch, vestibule, outer hall, anteroom,—inside a stone house, outside a mud house. Ingia (tiwa) kumbini is an euphemistic expression for being circumcised, i.e. to be excluded (for the time) from entering the house. Hence kumbi for tohara, e.g. akamfanyia mtoto wake kumbi, he arranged for his son to be circumcised. (Cf. sebula.)

Ukumbizi, n. (kumbizi), (1) a clearing away, sweeping up, making a clean sweep, cleaning; (2) a pushing off or away, thrusting aside. (Cf. kumba.)

UKUMBUKO

UKUMBUKO, UKUMBUSHO, n. a calling to mind, remembering, reminding, remembrance, memorial, souvenir. (Cf. kumbuka, kumbuku.)

UKUMBUU, n. (kumbuu), girdle, sash, i.e. some textile material twisted or rolled up, and worn round the waist. (Cf. mshipi, mahazamu.)

UKUMVI, n. (kumvi), empty ear or spike or head of grain-bearing plant, rice, millet, &c., without the grain, husk, bran, chaff. (Cf. wishwa, kapi, and kumbi, which is perh. from same root. Corresp. to gandai in fruit.)

UKUNDE, n. (kunde), a bean produced in pods by the plant mkunde, grown for food in Z.

UKUNGA, n. the trade (work, pay) of a mkunga (which see).

UKUNGU, n. (kungu, ma-), (1) damp, moisture, mouldiness, mildew; (2) fog, mist, vapour,—esp. of morning and evening, and so of twilight. Hence makungu, of the signs of dawn, and glow after sunset. E.g. ukungu unatanda (unakuja, unawamba), the dawn is spreading. Mkate unafanya uk., the bread is getting mildewed.

UKUNGURU, n. also Mkunguru (which see).

UKUNI, n. (kuni), a stick of firewood. Chanja (pasua) kuni, cut firewood.

UKUNJUFI, n. cheerfulness, gladness, good temper, geniality (of mien and manner). (Cf. kunja, -kunjufu.)

*UKURASA, n. (kurasa), sheet or strip of paper, leaf or page of a book. (Ar. Cf. karata, karatasi.)

UKUTA, n. (kuta), stone wall of a house, i.e. ukuta wa mawe. (Dist. boma, which may or may not be a wall, kwambasa, a partition-wall, commonly of sticks and plaster, kitali, wall of a court.)

UKUTI, n. (kuti), a side frond of a cocoanut leaf. (Cf. kuti, maka-ti.)

UKUUK, n. greatness,—but more in a moral than material sense. (See -kuu, and Kubwa.)

UKWAJU, n. (kwaju), a tamarind, fruit of the mkwaju.

UKWASI, n. wealth, opulence, riches. (Cf. -kwasti and its syn. tafiri, mwenyi mali.)

UKWATO, n. (kwato), hoof (solid, of horse), part of a cloven hoof (of cow, &c.). Mgwa wa ng'ombe una kwato mbili, a cow's foot is cloven (in two parts).

UKWE, n. the relationship of wa-ke, i.e. of near connexions by marriage, e.g. father-in-law and son-in-law. (Cf. mkwe.)

ULAANIFU, n. a cursing, a curse, being cursed. (Ar. Cf. laana, laanifu, and follg.)

ULAANIZI, n. a cursing, using imprecations, malediction. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

ULAFI, n. (ma-), over-eating, voracity, greediness, gluttony. (Cf. -la, ulaji, and ulevi.)

ULAIAKA, n. (ma-), a hair of the body, a bit of down, gossamer. (Cf. udenv, unyele, ukope, and dist. Ar. malaika, angel.)

ULAINI, ULAINIFU, n. softness, smoothness, tenderness, gentleness (of accent, manner, &c.). (Ar. Cf. laini, and syn. vororo, upole.)

ULAJI, n. (ma-), act of eating, opportunity (means, chance) of eating, a feast. E.g. wawe ulaji wakubwa, give the leading people a feast. (Cf. -la, ulafi, chukula.)

ULALAMIZI, n. (lalamizi), supplication, humble appeal, begging for mercy. (Cf. lalamu.)

ULALO, n. (malalo), (1) place (time, accessories, manner) of lying down or sleeping, camping-place, bed. Malalo, things to sleep on, bedding (cf. kituo, kambi). (2) something lying or laid down, e.g. a tree or plank laid as a bridge across a stream (cf.
Ulambilambi, n. condition of a cocoanut, when the nutty part is just forming, still soft, and can be picked off, i.e. ul. wa dafu. (Cf. lamba, dafu, nazi. Dist. rambiramibi.)

*Ulaya, n. (1) native land, home,—but commonly used of foreigners, and so (2) Europe. Ulaya Usungu, Europe. U. Hindi, India. Ulaya wa Warenso, Portugal. (Ar. Cf. wilaya, and follg.)

*Ulayiti, n. European textile stuff,—esp. of a thin inferior kind of calico, not so stout as Amerikani, grey shirtings. Kamba Ulayi, hemp rope,—not of cocoanut fibre. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Uledi, n. in Z. a proper name common among slaves. (Ar., cabin boy, cook's boy.)

Ulegevu, n. and Ulegeo, (1) slackness, relaxed condition, exhaustion, weakness; (2) remissness, carelessness, negligence. (Cf. legea, -legeyu, and syn. utepetevu.)

Ulevi, n. (ma-), (1) a state of drunkenness, intoxication, giddiness, staggering, reeling; (2) an intoxicant, e.g. killa ulevi, all kinds of intoxicants (forbidden by Mahommedan law). Ulevi wa bahari, sea-sickness. (Cf. levya, and ulafi.)

Ulezi, n. (ma-), act (trade, work, pay) of one who has the care of children, e.g. a nurse, tutor, guardian. Malezi, education, training. (Cf. lea, melezi.)

Ulili, n. (ma-), bedstead,—with the legs turned, not of the common Zanzibar make. (Cf. kitunda.)

Ulimbo, n. birdlime, gum, glue. Ulimbo ni utomvu wa kutega na djege, ulimbo is a sticky stuff for catching birds with. Penyi urembo ndipo penyi urimbo (for ulimbo), finery is a snare.

Ulimbwende, n. dandyism, showy dress or manner; coxcombr. (Cf. -limbwende, umalidali.)

Ulimi, n. (ndimi), (1) the tongue,—of man and animals generally, also (2) of objects resembling it, a projection (cf. mdomo), e.g. 'tenon' in carpentering. Ulimi hauna mpapo, the tongue has no bone, i.e. nothing stable, reliable. Kama ulimi na mate, like tongue and spittle,—of things inseparable. Ul. hauna dawa, the tongue is incurable. Uji wa moto hanpo kwa ncha ya ulimi, the tip of the tongue does not cool hot rice. (Cf. -limi.)

Ulimwengu, n. (ma-), (1) the world in general, the whole creation, universe, visible things,—killa kitu kilicho na mwanga; (2) the sky, e.g. ulimwengu umetakata, the sky is clear; (3) the inhabited world, earth, globe, e.g. ul. tonaokaa sisi, the world we live in; (4) the present world (cf. kuwapo ulimwenguni, for 'to be alive'),—as opp. to the next world, which is peponi, kuzimu, ulimwengu wa huko (wa baadaye, nyao); (5) the world in a moral sense, the world as worldly, the world as transitory, unstable, evil, e.g. mema na mbaya ndio ulimwengu, the world is a mixture of good and evil; mtu wa ulimwengu, or mi-mwengu, a worldly man; (6) the environment, each man's own surroundings (circle, circumstances). Ametengenesa ul. wake, he has weathered his nest. Plur. malimwengu, usually,—worldly affairs, worldly pleasures or interests. (Cf. Ar. alam, also mlimwengu, and syn. dunia.)

Ulinganifu, Ulinganyo, n. correspondence, harmony, comparison, suitableness, convenience. (Cf. linga, -linganifu.)

Ulingo, n. (lingo, and ma-), like kilingo, a platform in a plantation, for a watchman in charge of crops. (Cf. kilindo, and dungu.)

Ulinzi, n. watching, guarding, guardianship, fee for guarding. (Cf. linda, mlini.)

Ulio, n. (lio), something for eating from or with,—and so of a wooden platter raised on legs and used as a table. (Cf. lia, Ap. of -la, v. eat. Dist. ulio, verb-form, 'that which is, you who are."
ULIPIZI 401  UMBA

Ulipizi, n. (ma-), forcing payment, exaction, vengeance. (Cf. lipa, and syn. kisasi.)

Uliza, v. also Uza, (1) question, interrogate, inquire (of, about), ask, ask about (not 'ask for,' which is omba, take), demand. E.g. nami mnwuliza kali, I asked him about his health, how was. Wote kadiru aniuzaye habari, every one who asks me for information. Ntowa kisa hiki, I will ask about this matter. Ps. ulizwa and uzwa, e.g. be questioned,—and so, supply an answer. Siwesi kunuliza wongo, I cannot uliza, -iza, uzza, -iza, e.g. ask on behalf of, e.g. kaniuuliizi mimi sababu, and do you demand on my behalf to have a reason given. Rp.
ulizana. (Cf. ulizo, and syn. saiti, hoji, dadisi.) (2) sell to, get to buy. See Uza. (It seems possible that uliza is a Cs of an unused ua, buy, i.e. invite to buy, generalized to mean 'ask, question.' See Uza, Uliza, sell.)

Ulizi, n. (ma-), bawling, squalling, shouting, screaming, loud cry.
(From the Cs form of lia, with intens. force. Cf. mlizi, and syn. kelele.)

Ulozi, n. (ma-), witchcraft, sorcery, enchantment. (Cf. loga, miozi, and syn. upagazi, uchawi.)

Uma, v. cause pain, hurt, bite, sting, smart, ache,—and sometimes, feel pain. E.g. nauma meno, I have a pain in my teeth, I have toothache, but usually meno (kichwa, tumbo) yanuma, my teeth (head, stomach) hurt me. Ps. umwa. (Nt.
umika, rarely used. Cf. umika, of medical cupping.) Ap. umia, umiwa, e.g. cause pain to (at, with, in, by, &c.), and also 'feel pain,' like uma. E.g. nyuki amenima, nami nimeumia, a bee stung me, and I feel it. Nimeumia macho, I have a pain in my eyes. Simba alimweumia mwituni (kichwani), the lion bit him in the forest (on his head). Cs. umiza, umizwa, usually intens. and of intentional infliction of pain,—hurt, cause to feel pain.
Hence umiz-a, -iza. Also umizana.
Rp. umana, hurt each other,—hence uman-i-sha, -shwa, and uman-i-a, -awa.
Meno ya mbwa hayaumi, a dog's Teeth do not hurt each other. — n.
(uma, nyuma, mauma), a metal spit, skewer, pointed tool, awl, punch, fork, sting (of an insect, or reptile).
(Cf. choma, washa.)

*Umahiri, n. and Umaheli, dexterity, cleverness, good workmanship. (Ar. Cf. mahiri.)

Umaji, n. and Umajimai, being fluid, being watery, wet, damp, misture, humidity. (Cf. maji, and syn. rútuba, ucpepechepa, baridi.)

Umalidadi, n. (1) display of dress or ornaments, fine dressing, showiness, —and so (2) over-dressing, dandyism, foppery. (Cf. ulimbwende, urembo, fahari.)

Umande, n. dew, damp cool air of the morning or evening, mist, fog.
(Cf. ukungu.)

*Umasikini, n. poverty, wretchedness, misery. (Ar. Cf. masikini, and syn. ujukara, ukata.)

*Umati, n. multitude, a number of persons, people (regarded collectively). E.g. umati wa watu, watu umati, and umati alone. Umati wa Muhamadi, Mahomet's people, the Mahomedan world. (Ar. not often used. Cf. watu, janii, kundi.)

Umba, v. give form to, shape, fashion, create, make. The word used regularly of the divine creation.
Mungu amenumba umwengu, God created the world.
Hukujuumba we, umecumbwa na
Mungu, you did not create yourself, you were created by God. But also

Umba-umba, v. See Yumba.

Uumbo, n. (ma-), shape, form, natural condition (appearance, constitution). U. la Adamu alitumbwa mbele, the form of Adam in which he was originally created. U. la mtu mbali, na na nyama mbali, men and animals have a different constitution. Also used like hali, methyl, e.g. njiona umba la kuwa kiziwi, I feel as if I were deaf. (Cf. umba, and syn. asili, namma, hali, tabia.

Umbu, n. (ma-), a sister, half-sister,—i.e. n'dugu mke, with at least one parent in common.

Umbuji, n. grace, elegance, pleasing appearance, accomplishments,—of dress, manner, &c. (Ar. bahaji. Cf. mbeja, Ume, n. and Uume, (1) male nature (sex, condition, characteristics), e.g. manliness, courage, pluck,—but commonly utu ume for manhood generally, and kiume for qualities and character, i.e. manliness, e.g. ume wa leo na kesho, true courage lasts more than a day. (2) condition of a husband, e.g. ume wa uke umekwisha, we have ceased to be husband and wife. (3) for the vulgar mbbo, penis. (Cf. follg., and uke.

-*ume, a. *(ndume with D 4(P), D 6, and sometimes D 1 (P)), (1) of the male sex, male, masculine; (2) like a man, virile, strong, courageous, prudent; (3) of things,—strong, firm, reliable, big. Mume (pl. waume), mtu mume (pl. watu waume), mtu wa kiume (pl. watu wa kiume), and most commonly mwanaume or mwanaume (pl. waanaume) are all used of man generally, in respect of sex simply. In relation to the female sex, mume has the definite sense, 'husband, married man,' in contrast to mwanaume, which denotes an irregular connexion (cf. mke, mwanaume). Mnasi mume, the male coconut tree,—comparatively unfertile. Mahindi maume, small, inferior grains of maize. Mkono mume, or wa kuume, right hand,—also mkono wa kulia. Ndugu kuumeni, relative on the father's side. Maume, manly deeds, prowess, e.g. ajeta maume, he brags of his strength. (Cf. prec., and mume, ndume, kuume, kiume, also contr. -ke, mke, &c.

Umeme, n. lightning. Yapiga umeme, it lightens. (Perh. cf. mere-meta, memeteka.)

Umika, v. cup, apply a cupping instrument, draw blood by cupping. A horn is commonly used. E.g. mwumishi ameniumika leo, the cupper has cupped me to-day. Aliumika pembe mwilini, he applied a horn to my body. Ps. umikwa. Ap. umikia, -iwa. Cs. umik-isha, -ishwa, e.g. employ as cupper, cause (persuade, compel) to be cupped. (Cf. follg., and umuka. Blood-letting is also done by gashing with a knife. Cf. chanja.

Umiko, n. also Ndumiko, a cupping instrument, usually a horn. (Cf. prec., and chiku.

*Umilele, n. and Milele, perpetuity, eternity. Also as adv. (Ar. Milele.

Umio, n. (mio), internal throat, throat-passage,—including both alimentary and air passage. *Mio za Uneni

ntu ni mbili, a man has two passages in his throat. (Cf. mio, kimio, and koo, roho, shingo.)

Umito, n. heaviness, sluggishness,—commonly uenito in Z.

Umivu, n. (ma-), pain, ache, smart. (Cf. uma, and syn. uchungu, uchomi.)

Umka, v. and Umuka, swell up, rise up with froth or foam,—e. g. of dough when fermenting, also of breakers and foaming waves.

Umo, n. (ma-), hurting, bite, sting, i.e. the effect rather than the cause (cf. uma, n.). (Umo is also a verb-form, ‘you are (it is) in,’ i. e. prefix u- agreeing with Pron. of 2 Pers. Sing. wewe, or with D 2 (S), D 4 (S).)

Umoja, n. oneness, unity, identity, concord. (Cf. -moja.)

Umototo, n. and Umotomoto, heat, warmth, vehemence, fury, &c. (Cf. moto, woto.)

*Umri, n. time of life, age. Umri wake apataje? How old is he? Ukawa msima wa umri, you were full-grown, come to years of discretion. Also of whole time of life, life in general, e. g. umri wako halali yangu, your life is at my disposal, at my mercy. (Cf. uzima, maisha.)

Umua, v. take by craft (from), deprive (of), steal away, e. g. honey from bees, woman from husband, &c. Ps. umuliwa. Nt. umuka. Ap. umu-lia, -liwa. (So Kr., but not used in Z., where iba, nyang'anya, pokonya are common. And see follg.)

Umuka, v. (1) for Um'ka (which see), swell up, rise; (2) Rv. of umika, cup, i. e. take off (the cupping instrument), or Nt. come off; (3) Nt. of umua. See prec.

Umungu, n. or Umungu, Umungu, deity of God, divinity, divine essence, or nature of a Personal God. (Cf. Muungu, and Ungu, Wungu, Ungu, which properly would denote deity in general, and so as conceivably attributable to other than God Himself. But also cf. umoto, from moto, in place of woto.)

Una, verb-form, ‘you have, it is,’ -u prefix, agreeing with Pron. of 2 Pers. Sing. and D 2 (S), D 4 (S),—and na (which see). Una? Una nini? What is the matter with you?

*Unaflki, n. hypocrisy, dissembling, deceit. (Ar. Cf. mnafiki, and mwongo.)

*Unajimu, n. astronomy, astrology. (Ar. Cf. mnajimu, and falaki.)

*Unanasi, n. heart or inside of the pine-apple plant (munanasi),—and so usually a strong fibre obtained from it, and used as sewing-thread. (Cf. ukonge, ubugu, umuntu, &c.)

Unda, v. construct, make, build, put together, esp. of wooden structures requiring skill, e. g. ship-building, but also of other materials. U. chombo, build a dhow. U. dema, construct, repair a fish-trap. Meri-kebu ile imuntuwa ya thahabu, that ship was built of gold. Ps. undewa. Nt. undika. Ap. und-ia, -iwa, e. g. miti huu ukundiwa una maisha sana, this wood if used in ship-building is specially durable. Cs. und-isha, -ishwa, e. g. order a ship to be built, give (or, take) a contract for ship-building. (Cf. mwunda, mwunzi, uunzi, kiunzi, and in general, janyiza, jenga).

Undu, n. (nuundu), comb of a cock (jogoo).

*Uneemefu, n. abundance, plentiful supply. (Ar. Cf. neema, -neemefu, and syn. wingi, usalifu.)

Unenaji, n. art (power, practice) of speaking, eloquence, fluency. (Cf. mnenaji, uenzi, nenzi, nena, and syn. usemzi, usemazi.)

Unene, n. stoutness, thickness, corpulence. (Cf. -nene, nenepa.)

Uneni, n. power of speech, speaking, articulation. (Cf. unenaji, nena.)
Unga, v. (1) make a joining, join, join together, connect, make by joining, unite, form connexion (with): compound, combine; (2) hence used esp. of mixing ingredients skilfully, e.g. u. chakula, season food (cf. kiungo, kitowo, kola); u. dawa, compound medicine; u. tambua, make a chewing mixture (cf. uraibu).

Unga, n. anything powdered, or ground small, esp. grain of any kind, powder, flour, meal, &c. Unga wa msumeno, sawdust, also—unga wa mbau, wa mi.

Ungama, v. acknowledge, confess, admit, allow, grant, concede. U. uizi, confess a robbery. U.rupia, admit the possession of rupees. Ps. ungamiwaa. Nt. ungamika. Ap. ungam-ia,-iwa, e.g. walimungamia nyumba, they granted him a house, i.e. agreed, allowed it. Cs. ungam-isha,-ishwa, induce to confess, hear a confession. (Cf. mwungamo, mwangamishi, and syn. kiri.)

Ungamana, v. be joined together, united, connected, coherent, interdependent. Cs. ungam-mana, -ishwa. (Cf. unga, and fungamana, shikamana, -mana.)

Ungamo, n. (ma-), (1) confession, concession, admission; (2) a yellow stuff, used as a dye, from the shrub mwungamo.

Ungara, n. brightness, lustre, light. (Cf. ngara, ngaa, mngao.)

Ungi, n. much, abundance, plenty, a quantity, a good deal, e.g. ungi wa chakula, plenty of food, or to express a 'multiple of three,' ungi wa tatu. (Wingi more common in Z. See -ingi.)

Ungo, n. (ma-), (1) a joining, a joint, and (of the body), a member, a part,—usually kiungo, but the plur. maungo is regularly used of the limbs of the body collectively, and so the body as a whole, e.g. maungo vole yanantemeka, he was shaking all over. Maungo wasi, stripped to the skin, bare bodies; ana maungo, he has a fine (well-knit, well-developed, muscular) frame,—of a strong athletic man. (6) the back, backbone, in a similar inclusive sense, also uti wa maungo, i.e. the stem on which the limbs grow. E.g. juu ya maungo ya frasi, on horseback. Ameshuka maungoni mwa mamaye, he has got off his mother's back. (With this use of maungo, cf. mgongo, jongo, kijongo, kibiongo.) (2) the hymen. Vunja ungo, (a) begin to menstruate; (b) deflower, deprive of virginity (cf. kisinda); (c) fig. of a tree beginning to bear fruit. (3) a round flat basket used for sifting grain (cf. tunga). (Cf. unga, v., kiungo, mwungo.)

Ungowe, n. (ngoje) and Ungowesi, a waiting (for), being in attendance on, service, a keeping watch, wages for attendance (waiting, watching). E.g. ungoje wa kungojea vyakula shamba, wages for watching crops on a plantation. (Cf. mngoje, ngoja, and the more general utumishi, huduma.)

Ung'ongo, n. (ng'ongo), a strip of palm-leaf, esp. of the dwarf palm nkindu,—ung'ongo being one of the coarser strips next to the middle rib, used for sewing together the plait for a mat, or basket, or for the binding round the edge. (Cf. mwaa, utangule, uzimba, ukindu.)

Ungu, n. (nyungu), a cooking pot, of the common kind, of baked clay. (Cf. chungu, i.e. kiungu, and jungu, i.e. ji-ungu.)

Ungua, v. (1) be scorched, scalded, hardened, damaged with fire, burnt. Nyumba imeunyua moto, the house has been (more or less) burnt, damaged by fire. Ps. ungu-liwa. Nt. ungliika, e.g. (1) be hardened with fire; (2) be combustible. Ap. ungu-iia, liwa, -rika, e.g. apply fire to, bake (pottery). Cs. unguza, -swa, burn, scorch, scald. (Cf. weketea, be burnt up, choma, set fire to, vaka, be on fire.) (2) Rv. of unga, disjoin, disconnect, cut in two, pull apart.

UNGUJA

UNYENYEKEO

Unyaa, n. dirt, excrement. (Cf. kinyaa, -nya.)

Unyago, n. dancing and other ceremonies connected with the initiation of children of both sexes into tribal rights, as of adult age. Used also of other grotesque dances, i.e. mummeries, acting, farce. (Cf. kinyago.)

Unyama, n. the nature of a beast, being like a beast, brutishness, stupidity, &c. (Cf. nyama.)

Unyamafu, n. silence, quiet, re- pose, reserve, taciturnity. (Cf. nyammaa, -nyamafu, and syn. kimya.)

Unyang'anyi, n. robbery, carrying off by force, abduction, brigandage, lawless depredation. (Cf. nyang'anya, and syn. uizi, and uharabu.)

Unyasi, n. (ma-), a blade of coarse grass, a flag-like reed.

Unyayo, n. (nyayo). See Uayo.

Unyefu, n. power of absorption, retention of moisture, dampness. (Cf. -nya, -nyefu.)

Unyegi, n. and Unyeji, itching, pruriency, heat. (Cf. nyegi, nyea.)

Unyele, n. (nyele, manyele, also unwele, nwele, a hair. When used alone, properly of human hair,—but nyele za singa, long, straight, soft hair, is used of the hair of Europeans, and of some animals when of similar kind, e.g. horse hair, mane of a lion, &c. Nylee za kipilipi (za kusoketeza, za kusongomana) describes the woolly, tufty, wiry hair of natives. The hairy (furry, woolly) coat of almost all animals is described as manyoya. (See usinga, unyoya, also nlaika, ndevu, nzi, ukope, unyusha, panja, shungi, mvi.)

Unyeloo, n. (nyelo, also unyelelo, manyelelo, pore,—of the skin. (Cf. -nya, -nywa.)

Unyenyekeo, Unyenyekevu, n. (ma-), humility, self-abasement, reverential awe, obsequiousness, servility, cringing. (Cf. nyenyekea, -nyenyekevu.)
Unyeo, n. itching, tickling. (Cf. nya, mnyeo, nyegi.)

Unyesi, n. (manyesi), passing excreta, excretion, excrement, urine. (Cf. -nya, unyaa, and the vulgar mavi, mkoko.)

Unyeti, n. being tiresome, irritability, sensitiveness, causing irritation, conceit, spite, misconduct. (Cf. nyeta.)

Unyofu, n. (1) straightness, being straight, extension; (2) straightforwardness, honesty, uprightness. (Cf. nyoka, -nyofu.)

Unyonga, n. (nyonga), (1) hip; (2) hip complaint, lameness due to disease or injury of the hip. (Cf. nyonga.)

Unyonge, n. (ma-), condition of being mean (vile, abject, low, lowly), meanness, poverty, feebleness, insignificance. In plur. low acts, conditions, &c. (Cf. -nyonge.)

Unyoya, n. (nyoya), a fibre of wool, or animal's hair, or down, &c. of birds. (See Nyoya, Unyele.)

Unyozi, n. art (profession, fee, &c.) of barber, hair-cutting, shaving. (Cf. nyoa, kinyozi.)

Unyushi, n. (nyushi), a hair of the eyebrow. (Cf. ushi, also udevu, ukope, and unyele.)

Unywele, n. (nywele). See Unyele.

Uo, n. (nyuo), cover, case, scabbard, sheath. Uo wa kisu, sheath of a knife. Uo wa kitabu, cover, binding of a book. (Cf. chuo, i.e. ki-uo, and perh. niguo.)

Uole, for wole. See Ole.

Uombaji, n. begging as a practice or profession, repeated or importunate requests. (Cf. follg.)

Uombi, n. (ma-), begging, praying, intercession, supplication, entreaty, prayer. (Cf. prec., and omba, and syn. sala, dua, haja.)

Uongo, n. (no plur.) and Uwongo, falseness, falsehood, a lie, lies, untruth, deception, sham, fraud, delusion, pretence. Sema (toa) u., tell a lie. Sultani akalia kwa u., the Sultan shed crocodile's tears. Used also as adj. (cf. uchungu, utupu) and adv., e.g. kufa uongo, to sham being dead (cf. kifa uongo, the sensitive plant). Uongo si thambi, uongo ndio watu watumiao kwa biashara, a lie is not sinful, it is a generally recognized commercial device. Njia ya u. fupi, lies do not go far. (Cf. -ongo, and contr. kweli, hakika.)

Uonyefu, Uonyo, n. (onyo, and ma-), warning, exhortation, remonstrance. (Cf. onya, onyo.)

Uovu, n. wickedness, badness, evil, corruption. (See -ovu, and cf. ubaya, -baya, and ubovu.)

Uozi, n. (ma-), act of marrying, celebration of a wedding,—esp. of the religious ceremony at a mosque, but applicable to the part of the parents, bridegroom, or celebrant. (Cf. ooa, oza, and syn. ndoa, karusi.)

Upaa, n. (and Upara), (1) crown of the head; (2) baldness. (Cf. kipara, kipaa, and perh. paa (mapa), roof of a native house.)

Upagazi, n. (1) work (profession, pay) of a caravan-porter; (2) witchcraft, being bewitched or possessed. (Cf. pagaa, pagao.)

Upaja, n. (paja), thigh, ham. Upaja wa tanga, broad, bulging side of a sail. Also paja. (Cf. kiweo, of animals.)

Upaji, n. giving, free giving, liberality, open-handedness, bounty, gift. Esp. of God, as the great Giver. (Cf. pa v., mpaji, kipaji.)

Upakizi, n. (ma-), loading a ship, placing goods on board, freight, freighting. Also upakio. (Cf. pakia, and follg.)

Upakuzi, n. (ma-), ladling out, serving out, distribution, &c., esp. of food. (Cf. pakua, Rv., and pakia, Ap., and prec.)

Upamba, n. (pamba), (1) a small billhook, a knife with a broad, flat, thin blade, used in getting palm-wine (tembo),—also called kotama.
(cf. gema). (2) a piece of cotton wool (i.e. pamba), for a plug or bandage, lint, &c. in surgery, &c. Upamba wa majuta, ointment spread on cotton wool or lint. (Cf. pamba, n.)

Upambano, n. (ma-), comparison, collision, quarrel. (Cf. pambana, mpambano.)

Upambo, n. decoration, adornment, furnishing a house, furniture, decorations. (Cf. pamba, v., and syn. urembo.)

Upana, n. (ma-), width, breadth. Mbaa zina mapana, the planks are broad. (Cf. -pana, and -ene, unene.)

Upande, n. (pande), a piece, a portion, a certain part, a side, a direction, region, district, place. E. g. weka u., put aside, on one side. Kwenda u., go sideways. Kuwa u., to be slanting, askew, out of the level or straight. Pande za barra, the mainland region. Pande zote, on all sides. Upande wa chini, lee-side, in sailing, u. wa jinu, weather side. Also used as a measure of cloth, i.e. a conventional piece or length, two yards. (Cf. mpande, kipande, pande, forms which seem to be sometimes used in contrast, with reference to size, but not clearly differentiated.)

Upanga, n. (panga), (1) a sword. Also (2) a flat wooden sword-shaped instrument, used by a weaver to tighten each thread of the woof in weaving. U. wa feleji, a long, straight, two-edged sword. U. wa imani, a short sword with a kind of cross hilt. Bapa la u., flat of the sword. Makali (ya u.), edge. Maunye (ya u.), back. Vula u., draw a sword. (Cf. sime, kitaara.)

Upao, n. (pao), a thin stick, fastened across the rafter- poles in a native hut to carry the thatch. Used also of thin rod-iron, iron bars, upao wa chuma. (Cf. syn. usito.)

Upapi, n. (popi), long, narrow strip, flat or rounded, of wood or metal, a long lath or bar, beading, edging, border. Of clothes, a gore, gusset.

Upataji, n. buying power, value, cost, price. (Cf. pata, pato.)

Upatilifu, n. reproach, blame,—whether as inflicted or incurred. (Cf. follg.)

Upatilizo, n. (ma-), blaming, reproaching, punishing, visiting an offence. (Cf. pata, and prec.)

Upato, n. (pato, and of size ma-), a round metal dish-shaped gong, with the edges turned up. Dim. kipato.

Upawa, n. (pawa), a flat, shallow ladle,—usually of a part of a cocoanut shell fixed on a short stick as handle. (Cf. kata, a deeper kind of ladle.)

Upekecho, n. (pekecho, ma-), (1) drilling; turning a boring tool,—but esp. (2) manner of making fire by twirling one stick pressed on another; (3) fig. annoyance, vexatious conduct. Also (4) a stick used for making fire, as above. (Cf. pekecha.)

Upele, n. eruption, pimples, pustules, a breaking-out on the skin. (Cf. kipele.)

Upembe, n. the upper corner of the triangular sail of a native vessel of the common kind (chombo). (Cf. pembe.)

Upembo, n. (pembo), curved end, hook, crook, a hooked stick, e.g. for pulling down fruit. (Cf. pemba, pembe, and prec. Also kipoop, mchocho.)

Upendaji, n. habit of liking or loving something. (Cf. penda, and follg.)

Upendeleo, n. (ma-), having a special liking, bias, inclination, favour, favouritism. (Cf. prec.)

Upendelevu, n. (1) as upendeleo, but also admits of a pass. sense ; (2) being favoured, being liked.

Upendezi, n. (ma-), (1) being agreeable (amiable, pleasing, lovable), pleasantness; (2) being pleased, happiness, delight. (Cf. penda, and prec.)

Upendo, n. (pendo), act (manner, &c.) of loving, liking, affection, love. (Cf. penda, pendo.)

Upendwa, n. (ma-), being loved, or liked. Mapendwa, things loved, liked. (Cf. prec., and upensi.)

Upenu, n. (penu), space outside a native hut covered by the projecting frame and thatch of the roof, and often enclosed so as to form a small lean-to or sleeping place. Hence any similar appendage to a house. (Cf. kipenu.)

Upenyesi, n. (penyesi, and ma-),
(1) secret, underhand, illicit action;
(2) bribery, smuggling, giving commissions,—also (3) insinuation, suggestion. (Cf. penyा.)

Upenzi, n. (ma-), (1) loving, liking, desiring, willing, resolving. Also (2) pass. being loved, liked, &c. (Cf. penzi, and penda.)

Upeo, n. (peo), limit, extremity, furthest part, boundary line, full extent or development. Upeo wa macho, as far as the eye can see, the limit of vision, horizon. E. g. jangwa kubwa upeo wa macho yake, a great waste extending as far as he could see. Kupita upeo, very extreme, beyond all bounds. Used as adv., to the utmost, thoroughly, as much as possible. E. g. piga upeо, give a sound beating to. Furahi upeо, be filled with joy, be enraptured. (Cf. kipeo, pevu, pevua, and also cheo, mpaka.)

Upepeo, n. (pepeо, and ma-), fan, punkah, i.e. upepeo wa kumpepelea mtu baridi, a fan to fan a person with. (Cf. kipepeо, pepo, upeо, pepeа, &c.)

Upepo, n. (pepo), wind, breeze, draught, fresh air,—i.e. of a light movement of air,—the plur. pepo being used of high winds, a gale. U. mwanana (mвороро), gentle (soft) breeze, zephyr. Punga u., take fresh air, go for a change, fan oneself.

Kaa upeponi, sit in a draught. (See Pepо, and Pepeа.)

Upesi, n. and Wepesi, speed, quickness, velocity, lightness in movement,—but wepesi commonly of 'lightness' in weight. (See opesi, pesi.)

Mostly used as adv., quickly, lightly, e.g. njoo upesi, come at once. Kimbia u., run fast. (Cf. haraka, hina, mbio.)

Upeto, n. (peto), folding, fold, roll, something rolled up, package, bundle. (Commonly peto, kipeto (which see), and cf. generally kikapo, furushi.)

Upigano, n. (ma-), fighting, contest, rivalry. In plur. battle, riot, brawl. (Cf. piga, piganа, pigo, and ushindani.)

Upindani, n. (pindani), stiffness, obstinacy, e. g. mmefanya u. na mimi, you have behaved obstinately to me. (Cf. -pindani, pinda, and syn. ukaidi, ugumu, ushindani.)

Upindi, n. (pindi) and Upinde, a bending, a bend, a being bent, a thing bent, but commonly a bow (for shooting; the weapon) only. Pinda u., bend a bow. U. wa mvua, a rainbow. (Cf. pinda, pindi, kipindi, and follg. For 'bow' cf. uta.)

Upindo, n. (pindo), (1) a bend, a fold, a turned edge; (2) of a cloth,—selvedge, hem, border, skirt; (3) a folding cloth, wrapper, e. g. for wrapping a corpse in before placing in the shroud, saanda (Kr.). (Cf. prec., and kunjo.)

Upinduzi, n. (ma-), upsetting, overturning, capsizing. (Cf. pindua, pinda.)

Upishi, n. (pisи), act (method, means, profession, &c.) of cooking, wages of a cook. Upishi ni kuni, no cooking without fuel. For ways of cooking cf. tokosa, oka, kanga, chemsha, choma. (Cf. pika, mpishi.)

Upo, n. (nyuо), a dipper, for baling water out of a boat, &c.,—commonly a calabash (buyu), or can URASHARASHA

(kopo). (Dist. upawa, kata, and the verb-form upo, you are (it is) here, i.e. u- and -po)

Upofu, n. deprivation, ruin, loss, but esp. of loss of sight, blindness, i.e. upofu wa macho. (Cf. pofua, and kipofu.)

Upogo, n. (pogo), condition of being cut away, i.e. one-sided, in unequal parts, being awry, distorted, zigzag. Of the eyes,—squinting. As adv. upogo-upogo, from side to side, zigzag. (Cf. pogo, poga.)

Upole, n. gentleness, kindness, meekness, slowness of movement. (See -pole, and contr. ukali.)

Upondo, n. (pondo), also Pondo, sing. (which see).

Upongoo, n. (pongoo), central rib or stem of a cocomut (or similar) leaf. (Cf. kuti.)

Upony, n. (ponyi), means of saving, way of escape, rescue, cure. (Cf. ponya, pona, mapoza, maponyea.)

Upoza, n. paralysis, deadness, numbness. (Cf. poza, mapoza.)

Uposo, n. (ma-), application for a wife, proposal of marriage, present sent to bride's relations. (Cf. posa.)

Upote, n. (pote), thong, bowstring,—of sinew, i.e. ugwe wa mikano ya ng'ombe. (Cf. ukanda, ugwe.)

Upotevu, n. (1) destructiveness, waste, ruin, vandalism; (2) pass. being lost, wandering, perishing, delusion. (Cf. potea, -potevu.)

Upotoe, Upotofu, n. caprice, wilfulness, obstinacy. (Cf. potea, -poteo, -potofu, and prec.)

Upumbafu, n. (pumbafo, and ma-), folly, stupidity, ignorance. (Cf. -pumbafo, pumba, and syn. ujinge.)

Upumuzi, Upumo, n. See Pumuzi.

Upunga, n. (punga), stage in the growth of a fruit-bearing tree or plant, when the flower is full-blown and the embryo fruit beginning to form. In Z. esp. of cocoanuts (pl. punja, the male flowers), but also used of maize, millet, &c., and obs. mpunga, of rice, while still on the plant.

Upungufu, n. (pungufu, and ma-), also Upunguo, becoming less, abatement, decrease, deficiency, defect, privation, want, lack. (Cf. -pungufu, punguka, &c.)

Upupu, n. cow-itch,—the mucuna bean, covered with velvet-like glossy hairs, extremely irritating to the skin. Up. wa bahari, a stinging jelly-fish, medusa.

Upuzi, n. folly in talk or conduct, dissipation, gossip, nonsense, mere fun. (Cf. pusa.)

Upweke, n. being alone, solitariness, independence, singleness, singularity. E.g. amekufa upweke, he died unattended. Safari ya u. haifai, it does not do to travel alone. (Cf. pekee, -peweke.)

Upya, n. (pinya, mapiya), newness, freshness, recency, novelty, strangeness. (Cf. -uya, and syn. ubichi, ugeni.)

*Urafiki, n. (1) friendship, friendliness, sociability; (2) circle of friends. (Ar. Cf. rafiki.)

*Uraibu, n. and Ughaibu, a chewing mixture very popular in Z. and commonly called tumbuu, from the betel leaf, in which it is wrapped and chewed. The ingredients are lime (chokaa), tobacco (tumbako), chips of areca nut (popoo), and often a red gum (kattu), and cloves (garafuu). The gum and areca nut colour the saliva expectorated a blood-red colour, and also dye the teeth. E.g. umaleta tumbuu, haina visaa, you have brought the leaf (wrapper), but not the mixture for chewing. (?Ar. Cf. tamu.)

*Urai, n. also Uirai, Worari, equality, proportion, evenness, balance,—a technical term used in accounts. Uraii wa hesabu, balancing an account. Fanya u., strike a balance. (?Ar. or Hind.)

*Urasharasha, n. (ma-), sprinkling of liquid (water, rain, scent), shower, drizzling. (Ar. Cf. mrashi, rash, and syn. manyunyo.)

*Uratih, n. feeling or making (giving) satisfaction, and so (1) contentment, satisfaction, complacency;
(2) active approval, kindness, condescension, consent, authorization, san-tion; (3) amends, apology, payment of claims or damages, satisfaction of demands, &c. (Ar. Cf. rithi, and dist. uruthi, inheritance.)

Urefu, n. length, tallness, height, depth, distance. Also the pl. marefu in same sense. Further distinguished as u. wa kwenda juu (chini), height (depth). (Cf. refu, and ubali, and measures of length, wanda, shi-biri, mkono, wary, pima, thira.)

Urembo, n. (rembo, ma-), adornment, ornamentation, finery, display,
esp. of dress or person, e.g. the deli-cicate black lines sometimes painted on the face to heighten a light com-xellation. Piga (fanya) u., make a display, dress oneself up. U. wa Munugu, the glorious work of God, i.e. the Universe, Cosmos. (Cf. rembo, and syn. pamo, uwhi, wali.)

For various kinds of personal ornament see mkufu, miali, furungu, banagiri, keke, kikuku, kipini, kipu-li, kingaja, poco, usoja, jasi, jobu, kipaji, dalia, ndunya, shamilu, sarafu, acana, pate, and for dress nguo.)

*Urithi, n. (rithi), th as in thin, —inheritance, a heritage, bequest, legacy. (Ar. Cf. rithi, v. inherit, warithi, mirthi. Dist. urathi.)

*Urotha, n. also Worocha, Wortha, invoice, list of goods, schedule.
(? Ar.)

*Urujuani, n. purple,—the colour.
(Ar.)

*Usafahi, n. See Usufili.

Usaha, n. matter (from abscess, wound, &c.), pus, discharge.

*Usahihi, n. correctness, accuracy, freedom from fault (blemish, mistake).
(Ar. Cf. safahi.)

*Usanifu, n. technical skill, art.
(Ar. Cf. sanaa.)

Useja, n. (seja), a collar of beads.

Usemaji, n. speaking as a practice or profession, eloquence, fine speech, metaphor, fluency. (Cf. follg., and unenaji.)

Usemi, n. speaking, speech, talk, diction, conversation. (Cf. prec., and sema, msemo, and generally uneni.)

*Ushahidi, n. (shahidi), bearing witness, attestation, evidence, proof.
(Ar. Cf. shahidi, ushuthuda, shuhudia, and syn. mathhubuti.)

Ushanga, n. (shanga, and ma-), a bead,—and collectively, beads in general. Shanga in relation to beads singly, mashanga, collections of beads, bead articles. Ushanga mwingi, a quantity of beads. Beads are sold in strings (timba, kete), or bunches (shada, fundo), and hitherto have largely supplied the place of money in the interior, being imported in large variety of shape and colour to suit the peculiar taste and demand of different localities.

*Usharifu, n. nobility, excellence, respectability,—esp. of rank and character. (Ar. Cf. sharifu.)

*Usharika, n. (sharika), and Ushirika, (1) partnership, co-operation, sharing; (2) community of interests, common nature, intimate union, commission. (Ar. See Shariki.)

Ushaufu, n. delusiveness, deception, misleading display, disappointing promise. (Cf. shaua.)

*Ushemasi, n. office (work, salary) of a deacon, diaconate. (Ar. Cf. shemasi.)

Ushi, n. (nyushi), (1) eyebrow;
(2) any ridge (projection, roughness) resembling an eyebrow, e.g. stringcourse of a wall, cornice, &c., rough surface of unplaned planks. (Cf. unyushi.)

Ushinda, n. (shinda), remainder.
(Cf. shinda, kishinda.)

Ushindani, n. (shindani), rivalry, competition, emulation, contest, fighting. (Cf. shinda, shindana, and upigana.)

Ushinde, n. state of being conquered, defeat. *Asiyekiri ushinde hakurwa msindani, one who does not acknowledge defeat has not been a combatant. (Cf. follg., and mshinde.)

Ushindi, n. (ma-), victory, conquest, overcoming, success. (Cf. shinda, mshindi, and prec.)

Ushoga, n. friendship—between women. (Cf. shoga.)

Ushoni, n. (ma-), needlework, sewing, i.e. the art, style, trade, wages, &c. of a seamstress or tailor. All sewing is done by men in Z. (Cf. shona, mshoni.)

*Ushakti, n. accusation, prosecution, making complaint. (Ar. Cf. shakti, shataka.)

*Ushuhuda, n. (shuhuda, ma-), testimony, evidence, proof. (Cf. ushahidi, shuhudia.)

*Ushujja, n. (ma-), bravery, courage, heroism. Mshujja, heroic acts, exploits,—also pl. of shujja, a hero, a brave man. (Ar. Cf. shujja.)

*Ushukuru, n. (ma-), thanksgiving, returning thanks, gratitude; (2) resignation, ceasing to feel or care, passive acquiescence. (Ar. Cf. shukuru, shukrani.)

Ushungi, n. (shungi), handkerchief, worn on the head by women out of doors. Lazima kujifunika ushungi, they are obliged to wear a handkerchief on their heads. (Cf. shungi, kishungi.)

Ushupafu, n. (1) hardness, toughness, firmness, compactness; (2) resoluteness, pertinacity, obstinacy. U. wa mwili, a well-knit, muscular body. U. wa maneno, obstructive speeches.

*Ushuru, n. taxation, tax, customs, duty, rate, rent, &c. Toa *u., pay taxes. *Toa *u., collect taxes. (Ar. prop. a tenth, ashr; cf. asharini.)

Ushuzi, n. breaking wind. (Cf. shuta, shuzi, and jamba.)

*Usia, v. See Wosia. (Ar.)

*Usibiri, n. magic, sorcery, charms, spells, enchantment. (Ar. For common uchawi, uganga, uloz, hirizi.)

Usikizi, n. (1) attention, hearing, listening, intelligence; (2) docility, obedience. (Cf. sikia, msikizi.)

Usiku, n. night, night time, i.e. the twelve hours of darkness, with which the day or diurnal period called siku begins, from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m., the following twelve hours of daylight being mchana. The pl. siku, and occasionally masiku, is not used distinctively of nights. Siku nne mchana na usiku, four whole days. Usiku wa manane, midnight, the dead of night. (See Siku, Mchana.)

Usimanga, n. rejoicing over another's misfortune, ill-natured triumph, mockery. (Cf. simanga, masimango, and syn. thihaka.)

Usimeme, n. firmness, stability, strength. (Cf. simama, and syn. uthabiti, ushupafu, ngwv.)

Usinga, n. (singa), a single hair, of the long, straight kind, of men and certain animals. (See Singa.)

Usingizi, n. (singizi), and Uzingizi, sleep. Lala usingizi, go to sleep. Us. maito, deep sleep. (Cf. sinsia, and peth. singa, roll up, turn round, also leppe. Dist. singizia, masingizi.)

*Usiri, v. stay, delay, be detained, but commonly in Nt. usirika, be detained, delayed, be behindhand. Cs. usirisha, -ishwa. — n. detention, delay, being late, lagging behind. E. g. mvano huwa na usiri, starting always seems slow to come. (Ar. Cf. kawia, chelewa, ahiri.)

*Usitawi, a flourishing condition, healthy development, full activity, success. (Cf. sitawi.)

Uso, n. (nyuso), (1) face, countenance, expression (cf. sura); (2) front, exterior, surface. *pa uso, put in countenance, relieve, comfort, assist. Vinja uso, disgrace, discourage. Kunja uso, express sorrow (anger, &c.), kunjua uso, of pleasure, good humour. Uso kwa uso, face to face. Usoni pa, in the presence of. Uso wa arthi, surface, crust of the earth.

Usoka, n. (masoka), brass wire,—in general, or a small piece of wire. (Cf. masoka, masango.)

Usononi, n. being hurt, pain. (Cf. sononeka.)

*Usubuhu, n. See Assubuhu (Subuhu). (Ar.)

*Ustahifu, n. (1) respectful conduct, courtesy, deference; (2) being honoured, respected, esteemed, &c. (Ar. Cf. stah, -stahifu, and follg.)

*Ustahiki, n. estimation, honour, worth. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Usubi, n. a small biting gnat, midge, sandfly. (Cf. imbu.)

Usufi, n. produce of the tree msufi, i. e. a very soft silky cotton in a large pod.

*Usufi, n. conduct and character of a susi, i.e. a Mahommedan philosopher or saint, on the higher side including piety, truthfulness, chastity, and on the lower pride, exclusiveness, solitariness. (Ar. Cf. susi, wali, mtawa.)

*Usuhuba, n. friendship. (Ar. Cf. sahibu, for commoner urafiki.)

*Usukani, n. See Msukani.

*Usultani, n. office (dignity, privileges, &c.) of a sultan, chieftaincy, headship, royalty. (Ar. Cf. sul-tani.)

*Usuluhi, Usuluhifu, n. peace-making, reconciliation, being reconciled, &c. (Ar. Cf. suluhi.)

Usumba, n. the fibres of the cocoa-nut husk, after being soaked and cleaned for use in making string, cord, &c. Also makumbi ya usumba. (Cf. kumbi.)

Usumbufu, n. (ma-), annoyance, vexation, worry, trouble,—whether as caused, or endured, act. or pass. (Cf. sumba, and utia, taabu, mashaka.)

Usuria, n. condition of being a 'suria,' domestic concubinage. (Cf. suria, and dist. uhawala, ukahaba.)

Ususi, n. plaiting, e.g. of hair, mats, &c. Ususi wa nyele, hair-dressing, coiffure. (Cf. msuko, suka.)

*Uswafi, n. purity, lucidity, clearness,—esp. of elegance of style (cf. ufashhi, usahihi). (Ar. Cf. safi.)

Uta, n. (1) (nyuta, and mata), a bow, bow and arrows, i.e. the weapon complete (cf. upindi); (2) mafuta ya uta, sensem oil (i.e. uta for usuti (?), which see). (Cf. ute, uto, and dist. uti, utu.)

Utaaa, n. (taa), a stage, raised and covered, to put grain on for storage and drying. (Cf. uchaga.)

*Utabibu, n. profession (practice, fee, &c.) of a doctor, medical science, doctoring, treatment. (Ar. Cf. tabibu, and syn. uganga.)

*Utabiri, n. (ma-), interpretation, explanation, exposition, announcement, prediction. (Ar. Cf. tabiri, and syn. ubashiri, ufasiri.)

*Utadi, n. (tadi), offence, error. (Ar. Cf. tadi.)

*Utafathali, v. from tafathali (which see),—used as a polite formula, please, if you please, would you be so good. (Ar. Cf. fa-thili, afathali.)

Utaji, n. a piece of calico or stuff of any kind used by women and men as a covering of the head, whether to conceal the features, protect from sun, or as ornament, a veil. (Cf. shela, dusamali.)

*Utajiri, n. wealth, possession of capital, status of a merchant or capitalist, riches. (Ar. Cf. tajiri, and contr. masikini.)

Utakaso, n. (1) cleansing, a thing cleaned; (2) a rustling, perh. for uchakacho. (Cf. mtakaso, and chakaza.)

Utakatifu, n. cleanliness, purity,—material and moral,—and so, sanctity, holiness. (Cf. -takatifu, takasa, and syn. weupe, uswafi.)
Utako, n. (tako), breech, butt, base, lower end, bottom part. (Cf. tako, kitako.)

Utambaa, n. (tambaa), a strip of cloth, rag, bandage, duster. (See Kitambaa, more commonly used.)

Utambazi, n. (tambazi), (1) act (power, means, &c.) of creeping or crawling; (2) mark left in crawling, track, trail. (Cf. tambaa, -tambazi.)

Utambi, n. (tambi), (1) wick of a candle or lamp; (2) vermicelli, i.e. tambi za kupika (za maandas); (3) stuff for a turban, e.g. tengeneza (panza, shusha) u., arrange (put on, take off) a turban; (4) membrane enclosing the bowels. (Cf. kitambi, tambi.)

Utambo, n. (tambo), (1) strutting, swaggering, and (e.g.) of horses, prancing, high action; (2) the swinging handle of a pail, iron pot, &c. (as contr. with mpini (of a knife, &c.), mkonu (of a saucepan), shikio (of a basket, &c.).) (Cf. tamba, tambo.)

Utambuzi, n. (tambuzi), mental quickness, intelligence, perception, facility, cleverness, skill. (Cf. tambua, -tambuzi, and syn. akili, usfahanifu.)

*Utamu, n. (1) flavour, taste,—in general; (2) sweet taste, sweetness, being agreeable to the sense or senses, pleasantness, charm. (Ar. Cf. tamu.)

Utamvua, n. (tamvua, and ma-). See Tamvua.

Utando, n. (tando) and Utandu. Used to describe anything spread out, extended, stretched (cf. tanda, -v.), e.g. (1) a veil, screen, coverlet, tapestry, hangings; (2) a spider’s web, u. wa buibusi; (3) sunset glow; (4) clouded sight, whether a film over the eyes (cf. chamba cha jicho), or sheer drowsiness; (5) scum, crust, film, e.g. on milk, cream, or on a pot of cooked rice (cf. ukoko, &c.). (Cf. tanda, tando, syn. ukingo, kiwambo.)

Utani, n. kinship, clanship, membership in tribe or race. (Cf. mtnani.)

Utapiishi, n. (ma-), (1) causing to vomit, action of an emetic; (2) vomit. (Cf. tapika.)

Utari, n. (tari), string of an instrument, leather thong,—and perh. more generally, cord, rope. (Cf. tari.)

Utasa, n. and Utassa, barrenness, sterility,—of produce generally. Mwaka wa utassa, an unfruitful year. (Cf. tassa.)

Utashi, n. strong desire, earnest demand, importunate request, present made to back an appeal. (Cf. taka, v. matakwa. Utashi seems to be from a Cs. takisha, with intens. force.)

Utasi, n. inability or disinclination to speak, being tongue-tied.

Utata, n. (tata), a kind of wicker fence used for enclosing and catching fish (Kr.). Cf. similar uzio. (Cf. tata.)

Utatu, n. (1) being triple, threefoldness, trinity; (2) a third part. E.g. kibaba cha utatu, a third part of a pishi, the usual kibaba being cha ‘mce, i.e. four to the pishi. (Cf. kibaba, and tatu.)

*Utawa, n. and Utaawa, Utaowa, (1) staying in the house, seclusion,—the usual life of Mahommedan women of the upper classes in Z.; (2) a chaste, religious, pious life and character. (Ar. Cf. tawa.)

Utaya, n. bone of the jaw. (Cf. taya.)

Ute, n. (mate, cf. uta, mata), thick, sticky, viscid fluid, e.g. saliva, mucus, lather. Tema mate, spit, expectorate. Ute wa yai, white of egg. (But cf. uto and uta, both of liquids, and dist. uti, utu.)

Uteketovu, n. destroying, being destroyed, destruction,—esp. as by fire, being utterly consumed. (Cf. teketea, and follg.)

Uteketeselo, n. destruction, burning. (Cf. prec.)

Utelezi, n. (ma-), slipperiness, sliding, steep descent. Ina matelesi, it is slippery. U. mwingi, very slippery. (Cf. telea, telemb'ka.)

Utumbe, n. the chewed refuse of the mixture called tambu or uraidu, which is expectorated. It is of a blood-red colour.

Utumbezi, n. (ma-) (1) offering for sale, advertising, exhibition of goods,—but commonly (2) walking about,—for business or pleasure, not merely for progress on a journey. Sometimes a euphemism for 'a dissipated life.' (Cf. tembea, and zu-nguka.

Utumbele, n. fibre from the leafstalk of various palms, used as string. (Perh. not in Z. Cf. ugomba.)

Utenaji, n. activity, energy, facility in doing. (Cf. tenda, te-ndaji, and syn. bidii, ujitahidi.

Utengo, n. act (manner, place, time, &c.) of withdrawal, retirement, separation, exclusion, &c. (Cf. tenga.)

Utenzi, n. (tenzi, (1) activity, action, work, operation,—but more commonly this is utendaji; (2) a poem,—esp. of a religious kind, an old story told in verse. (Cf. tenda, utendaji, and for poetry shairi.)

Utepe, n. (tepe, ma-) a narrow strip of cloth, band, fillet, ribbon, tape, badge on the arm (of a soldier).

Utepetevu, n. languor, listlessness, indolence, lack of energy. (Cf. tepetevu, tepea, and syn. ulegeyit, uviu.

Utesi, n. (ma-) (1) trouble, distress, annoyance, persecution; (2) strife, quarrelling, antagonism. Utesi wa Muungu huu, this is a visitation of God. (Cf. tesa, teso.)

Uteče, n. (teče, ma-), stalk or stem of a reed or grass, used as a pipe, or musical instrument. (Cf. te-te, kte-če.)

Utezezi, n. (ma-) intercession, advocacy, argument or effort for or against,—and so also, opposition, obstructiveness. (Cf. teta, telea, and follg.)

Uteko, n. (ma-) debate, argument, quarrelling, strife. (Cf. prec., and teta.)

Uteuzi, n. choice, choosing, criticizing, fastidious taste, daintiness,—like uchaguzi. (Cf. teva, te-tele.

Uthabiti, n. firmness, stability, strength, courage, resolution. (Ar. Cf. thabiti, thabitu.)

Uthaifu, n. (thaifu, and ma-) weakness, insignificance. (Ar. Cf. thaifu, thofika.)

Uthalimu, n. (thalimu, ma-) injustice, tyranny, oppression, inequality. (Ar. Cf. thalimu, thulumu.)

Uthamini, n. surety, bail, guarantee. (Ar. Cf. thamini, thamana.)

Uthani, n. See Uzani.

Uthia, n. trouble, annoyance, difficulty, bother, confusion, disturbance, uproar, riot. (Ar. Cf. prec., and syn. usumbufu, ghasia, makelele.)

Uthihirifu, n. (1) making clear or evident, manifestation, demonstration; (2) clearness, plainness. (Ar. Cf. thahiri, -thihirifu.)

Uthiki, n. (1) want of room, narrowness, tightness; (2) distress, annoyance. (Ar. Cf. thiki.)

Uthiko, n. (ma-) trouble, annoyance, vexation. (Ar. Cf. uthi, uthia.)

Uthilifu, n. (ma-) being brought low, bringing low, abasement, humiliation, degradation. Mathilifu, troubles, disasters, adversities. (Ar. Cf. thiti, -thilifu.)

Uthuru, n. (1) excuse, pretext, reason; (2) occasion, opportunity, emergency. E.g. nolikuwa na. u.
wa kikutaka, I had a reason for asking you. Hana ruhusa kutembea billa uthuru, he is not allowed to go walks without occasion. Toa wa, offer excuse. — v. excuse, allege an excuse for, use as pretext. Ps. uthuriva. Nt. uthurika, e.g. be excused, or excusable, have an apology made for one. Ap. uthuria,-iwa, e.g. allege pretext for, &c. Cs. uthur-isha,-ishwa. (Ar. Cf. hoja, sababu.)

Utis, n. (nyuti), of same root as mti, but mti being practically limited to the meaning 'tree,' as a whole, whether growing or as 'timber, pole,' uti supplies a means of representing the root in other connexions, e.g. (1) stem, trunk portion of a tree or shrub (cf. uti wa kuti, the central rib (wood) of the coconut leaf); and (2) fig. of the backbone, uti wa maungo, as the central support of the human frame. Also (3) the wooden part, shaft of a spear (uti wa mkuki), the brace of a drill (uti wa kekee); and (4) of a small bit of wood, a chip, splinter, e.g. matchwood. (Cf. mti, kijiti; kiti, and dist. ute, uta, uto, utu.)

Utiko, n. roof-ridge of a thatched house,—and so, ridge-tile, or anything so used. (Cf. matiko.)

Utimbi, Utimfi, n. mischievousness, roguery. (Cf. kitimbi, timvi.)

Utiriri, n. elusiveness, being provoking,—conn. with tiririka, glide, slip away.

Utisho, n. (tisho), frightening, scaring, causing abject terror. (Cf. tisha,—and tiisha, reduce to submission.)

Uto, n. (nyuto) or Ute, and perh. Uta, of any thick, viscous, oily fluid. E.g. uto (uto) wa yai, white of egg. Uto wa mafuta, oil. Uto wa lisisa, lead in a semi-liquid (molten) state; uto wa nyama, dripping,—from meat, melted fat. (Cf. utomvu, and perh. mto, kijuto for kijito.)

Utohara, n. (1) cleanliness, esp. ceremonial purity; (2) circumcision. (Ar. Cf. tohara, tahiri, and weno.)

Utokezo, n. (ma-), (1) bringing out, displaying, utterance; (2) prominence, appearance. U. wa mane-no, coming out with words, abrupt utterance, an aggressive speech. (Cf. toka, tokeza, tokeo.)

Utoko, n. mucus (Lat. e vaginâ). Utomvu, n. thick, viscous sap or juice from a plant. (Cf. uto, utlimbo.)

Utongo, n. (ma-), a discharge from the eyes. (Cf. chongo, matongo.)

Utongozzi, n. (ma-), (1) vicious propensity, lasciviousness, vicious life; (2) seduction (of women). (Cf. togoza, kitongo.)

Utoro, n. (1) running away, desertion, truancy; (2) condition (life, occupation, profits) of a runaway slave; (3) robbery, brigandage. (Cf. mtoro, toroka.)

Utosi, n. crown of the head.

Utoto, n. state (characteristics, condition) of a child or dependent, childhood, dependence. (See Mtoto.)

Utukufu, n. exalted state or station, majesty, glory, aggrandizement. (Cf. -tukufu, tukuza, and syn. athama, heshima.)

Utukutu, n. (1) restlessness, nervousness, tremulousness; (2) playfulness, petulance, fidgeting, mischievousness, e.g. of a child. (Cf. tikisa, tukutiza, -tukutu.)

Utulivu, n. quietness, rest, peacefulness, gentleness, composed manner or mind. (Cf. -tulivu, tua, and syn. upole, unyamafu, raha.)

Utumbafu, n. swelling, bulging, rising up. (Cf. tumbaa, tumba, tumbo.)

Utumbo, n. contr. with tumbo but utungu is limited in Z. to the special sense, pains of childbirth, birth pangs, labour, delivery, i.e. utungu wa kuzaa (wa usazi).

Utunu, n. quality of being rare, choice, valuable. (Cf. tunu, tunuka.)

Utupa, n. the juice of a kind of Euphorbia, mtupa, used as a fish-poison.

Utupu, n. (1) bareness, emptiness. Not common, because of the commoner meaning (2) nakedness, nudity,—in a vulgar sense, and (3) sexual organs. E.g. wanawumwe wanakwenda utupu, hawawai ngu, the men go naked, wearing no clothes. Utupu is used (like uchungu) as an adj. preserving its special meaning. (See -tupa, and cf. the less vulgar uchi.)

Uu-, this initial sound may also be looked for under U and W.

Uuaji, n. murderousness, savagery, blood-shedding, massacre. (Cf. ua, v., and -uaji.)

*Uudi, n. and Udi (which see). (Ar.)

Uuguzi, n. (ma-), nursing, medical attention, care of the sick. (Cf. ugwa, mwuguzi, and syn. ulesi, u-ganga.)

Uvimbe, n. (1) being swollen, puffed out, distention, protuberance, projection, inflation; (2) girth, circumference. (Cf. vimba.)

Uvivu, n. idleness, slackness, negligence, sloth, indolence. (Cf. -vivu, and syn. ulegem, utefetevu, uzembe.)

Uvuguvugu, n. lukewarmness, tepidity, i.e. neither cold nor hot, wala baridi wala hari. (Cf. -vuguvugu.)

Uvukizo, n. (ma-), producing or causing smoke, burning of aromatics, fumigants, &c., fumigation. Plur. of things thus used. (Cf. vuka, vukisa, vukiso.)

Uvukuto, n. (1) exhalation (produced by heat), vapour, steam, smell of perspiration; (2) working bellows. (Cf. vukuta, mvukuto, mvukye.)

Uvlulana, n. age, condition, &c., of a young unmarried man, youthfulness, bachelorhood. (Cf. mvululana, and syn. ujana.)

Uvuli, n. (vuli), shade, shadiness, —in general. (See Mvuli, and cf. kivuli, mwavuli.)

Uvumba, n. an odoriferous gum, used for perfume and incense. (Cf. udi, ubani, and vukizo.)

Uvumbi, n. dust, dust as a substance, a grain of dust, dust collectively (cf. vumbi), dustiness. Tifua u., stir up dust; also piga u., make a dust. (Cf. vumbi, a mass of dust, and uchanga, mchanga, also tifutiifu.)

Uvumi, n. (ma-), (1) any low indistinct sound, such as rumbling, roaring, humming, buzzing, murmuring; (2) common talk, rumour, report, gossip, fame. (Cf. vuma, mvuma.)

Uvumiliyu, n. endurance, perseverance, patience, fortitude. (Cf. vumilia, and syn. stahimili, saburi.)

Uvundo, n. and Uwandu, a bad smell, stink, stench. (Cf. harufu, vumba, and contr. manukato, nuka.)

Uvungu, n. and Uvurungu, hollowness. Jiwe la uwarungu, a hollow stone. (Cf. mvungu.)

Uvunjifu, n. destructiveness, vandalism, destruction, devastation, broken condition, wreck. (Cf. vunja, -unjisu, and syn. uharabu, upotevu.)

Uvunjo, n. a breaking, &c. See Vunja, Mvunjo.

Uvono, n. (ma-), harvesting, reaping, gathering crops, getting profits. Plur. mawono, crops, harvest, returns, profits. (Cf. vuna, mawono, and mvumwe.)

Uvurungu, n. and Uvungu (which see).

Uvusho, n. act (time, place, means, fare) of carrying across, a ferry. Similarly uvushi. (Cf. vuka.)

Uwakili, n. condition (employment, methods, salary, &c.) of an agent or representative (wakili), stewardship. (Ar. Cf. wakili.)

Uwali, n. office (dignity, duties, salary, &c.) of a governor, governorship. (Ar. Cf. wali, liwali.)

Uwambo, n. (1) act (manner, operations, &c.) of stretching over, &c. (See Wamba.) (2) the laced cords of a native bedstead. (Cf. kitanda, kiwambo.)

Uwanda, n. (wanda) and Uwanja, an open space, i. e. (1) in towns, and so usually in Z.—public square, space before houses, or (in houses) courtyard, yard, plot of enclosed ground attached to a house; (2) in the country,—open ground, plain, wilderness. (Cf. uwanja, kiwanja, and syn. ugo, wa, and dist. wangwa, uwanga.)

Uwanga, n. and Wanga (Uanga) (which see).

Uwanja, n. court, enclosure, open space in front of a house or among houses. (Cf. kiwanja, and uwanda, which is the same word.)

Uwati, n. (mbati), (1) wall-plate. See Mbati. (2) an eruption on the skin.

Uwatu, n. the herb fenugreek. Uwazi, n. openness, plainness, clearness, distinctness, intelligibility. (Ar. Cf. wazi, and syn. uthahiri, ubaini.)

Uwaziri, n. office (dignity, duties, pay) of a minister or chief secretary of a monarch. (Ar. Cf. waziri.)

Uwele, n. (ma-), the edible grain produced by the plant mwele, a kind of millet. (Cf. mwele.)

Uwele. See Uele.

Uweso, n. and sometimes Uweza, Uwesi, (1) being able,—and so (2) strength, might, power, capacity, authority, ability, faculty. (Cf. weza, and syn. nguvu, enzi, manilaka, amri, akili.)

Uwili, n. being twofold, duality, dualism, doubleness. (Cf. pili, -wili. For articles of double texture, or folded in two, extra thick, cf. maradiyu.)

Uwima, n. See Uima.

Uwinda, n. (mbinda) and Uwinja (mbinja), also Uinda, Unja, (1) hunting; (2) a way of wearing the loin-cloth, when engaged in hunting or hard work, viz. tucking it tightly between the legs and round the loins, and as the Banyan fashion is in Z. E.g. ukimpenda Banyani, umpende na uinda wake, if you love a Banyan, love his ways too; (3) a hunter’s whistle or call. E.g. piga uwinja, (1) adjust the loin-cloth (as above), gird up the loins; (2) give a whistle. Endeleza mbinja, give a prolonged whistle or call. (Cf. winda, ?inda, and for whistling msonyo.)

Uwindaji, Uwindi, Uwindo, n. (ma-) and Windo, art (profession, method, &c.) of hunting. Mawindo, what is got by hunting, booty, prey. (Cf. winda, and prec.)

Uwingu, n. (mbingu), (1) the sky, cloud region, upper air, heaven; (2) cloudiness, darkness, gloom. Plur. mbingu, the skies, heaven,—used sometimes as sing. Mbingu ikanena kwamba mimi bora, Heaven said, I am best. Mbingu sabaa, the seven heavens. Kumefanya uwingu mkuwu, there came on a deep gloom. (Cf. wingu, a cloud, and hewa, anga.)

*Uwitha, n. (mauwitha) and Watha, Witha, sermon, solemn exhortation. (Ar. Cf. hotuba, hutuba.)

Uwivu, n. and Uivu (which see).

Uwongo, n. and Uongo (which see).

*Uyabisi, n. (1) dryness, drying up, hardness, stiffness; (2) disobliging conduct, rudeness, reserve. E.g. u wa maungo, of rheumatism, and u waumbo, costiveness. (Ar. Cf. yabisi, and ubaridi.)

Uyoga, n. (nyoga), an edible fungus, mushroom.

Uyuzi, n. for common ujuzi, ingenuity, cleverness, knowingness, intelligence. (Cf. jua, ujuzi, ujwiti.)

Uza, v. (1) sell,—the only common word. The Infin. form kusa is often used, making it more distinguishable from uza, for uliza, i.e. ask. Uza appears to be a Cs. form of a verb ua, buy, not used in Swahili, in which the u sound is light and faint, and to mean,—cause (invite, permit) to buy, effect a sale. Hence uza is used both (1) of persons, sell, and (2) of things, be for sale. E.g. a man may reply to, Uza, i.e. name a price, Hatuzi, it is not for sale. Hence also the peculiar form uliza, or liza, sell, i.e. another Cs. form of ua, from an Ap. ulia, e.g. utulizie. Siuzi, please let us buy. I do not sell. Amemliza ng’ombe, he has sold him a cow. Nimemwuliza shamba, I have sold him an estate. Ps. nswa. Nt. uzika, e.g. be for sale. Ap. uzia, uziwa, and uz-ilia, -ilwa, sell to (for, in, at, with, by, &c.). No Cs. Rp. uzana. (Cf. uza-nya, and nadi, zabuni, nunua.) (2) ask,—for uliza (which see).

*Uzani, n. weighing, weight (by measure). (Ar. Cf. misani, and syn. uzito. For measures of weight cf. wakia, rali, pishi, frasila.)

Uzanyara, v. be for sale, be sold. (Cf. uza.)

Uzao, n. (ma-), product, production, offspring. (Cf. follg., and mzaa, zoa, kizao, zaa.)

Uzazi, n. (1) reproduction at any stage, production of fruit, or offspring; (2) parentage (of man or animal, male or female), begetting, procreation, childbirth, delivery, confinement; (3) reproductive power, fruitfulness, fertility, fruit-bearing; (4) produce, offspring,—but this is usually mazao. Chango la uazia, umbilical cord. (Cf. zaa, kizazi, mzaa, zaa.)

Uzea, n. being old, old age. (Cf. mzea, kizaa, and perh. zaa.)
Uzembe, n. slackness, idleness, indifference, negligence. (Cf. *uzembe, and syn. uivu, ulegevu.)

Uzi, n. (nyuzi), thread, cotton, string, fibre,—and similar objects, e.g. small sinew, ligature, a thin stripe, a fine beading.

Uzima, n. (1) life, vitality, health, vigour, soundness; (2) being full-grown, adult age, full development; (3) completeness, wholeness, totality, full dimensions, freedom from injury, (defect, harm). Uzima can also be used of ‘life, lifetime,’ but this is commonly maisha. (‘Time of life, age’ is umri.) Utu uzima, full age, manhood, years of discretion. (Cf. *simia, a., and see Maisha.)

Uzingizi, n. See Usingizi.

Uzingo, n. See Uzungo.

*Uzini, n. irregular sexual intercourse, adultery, fornication, immoral living. (Ar. Cf. zini, zani, and syn. ufisadi, ufasiki.)

*Uzinifu, n. viciousness (of temperament or life), wantonness, lasciviousness, sexual immorality. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

Uzio, n. (nyuzio), a fish-trap consisting of a fence of upright sticks fastened together, and used for enclosing an area, sometimes very large, on a sloping tidal shore, and preventing the escape of fish as the tide falls. (Cf. kichaga, utata, and dema, also zio.)

Uziwa, n. high sea, open unbroken expanse of water, sea as seen from the shore. (Cf. ziwa.)

Uziuo, n. (ma-), hindering, preventing, stoppage, obstructing, obstacle, hindrance, check. (Cf. zua, zio.)

Uzuka, n. condition of a kizuka (see Kizuka (3)), i.e. state of mourning and seclusion. Ondoa u., bring mourning to an end (Kr.).

*Uzulu, v. remove from office, dismiss, cause to abdicate, dethrone, depose, degrade. U. kazi, or katika kazi, discharge from work.

Uzungo, n. and Uzingo, that which surrounds, goes round, is round, e.g. uzungo wa mwezi, a halo round the moon. (Cf. zinga, mzungo, zunguka, uzungu, &c.)

Uzungu, n. (1) Europe, the country of the foreigners, i.e. the whites (Wazungu); (2) strangeness, wondrousness, novelty; (3) giddiness. (Cf. -zugu, mzungu, kizingwanzungu, zunguka.)

Uzuri, n. beauty,—mainly external, and appealing to the senses, and so often of things concrete, an ornament, decorative work, a work of art, a perfume, a cosmetic, &c. But also of ‘excellence,’ and even ‘moral goodness,’ considered rather as good taste than good principle (wema). Fanya u., make a display, adorn oneself. Tia u., give a finish to. A native list of points of personal beauty gives uso mdawari, a round face; shingo la mwanzi, a smooth neck; macho ya kikombe, large well-opened eyes; pua ya upanga, a thin nose (not short and broad); mikono ya binu, graceful, well-shaped arms; mwili uweviringana, a plump, well-rounded figure; mewa za pembe, teeth like ivory. For personal ornaments see urembo, and cf. pambo. (See -zuri.)

Uzushi, n. and Uzusi, (1) sudden appearance or bringing to light, as out of a hole,—outburst, emergence, coming in sight, bobbing up from water, &c. (2) invention, discovery, novelty, fiction, false accusation, gossip, innovation, heresy, reform. E.g. uzushi wa ilu, of a diver’s work, bringing up pearls to the surface. Uzushi mwingi, a complete revolution. (Cf. sua, zuka, nzushi, uzuka.)
Uzuzu, n. condition of a newcomer, rawness, inexperience, strangeness (to country, companions, surroundings, &c.). (Cf. mzuzu, zuzua, and syn, ujingga, ugeni, upya.)

V.

V represents the same sound as in English. But it is not clearly distinguishable from f in some Swahili words, partly no doubt under the influence of Arabic, which has only the f sound. Hence words not found under V may be looked for under F. (See F.)

Vaa, v. put on as clothes, dress in, wear, clothe oneself, dress. Ameevaa nguo nzuri, he is wearing a fine dress. Hajavaa, he is still dressing. Ps. valiwa, (1) of things, be worn; (2) of persons, be dressed. Nt. vika is used as act., clothe (with), cause to wear, dress (in), with pass. vikwa, be clothed (with). Ap. valia, valiwa, valika, e.g. (1) put on with (for, in, &c.), but esp. (2) put on something by way of addition to ordinary clothes,—and so, dress oneself up, wear fine clothes, be a dandy, —and of a soldier, put on accoutrements. E.g. mishipa wa kwaliang zulimo, a belt to secure one's clothes with. Ameevalia leo, he has got his best things on to-day. Also in a fig. sense, neno hili lajivalia, this matter stands on its merits. Hence valiana, e.g. collectively of many persons together. Cs. vali-sha, -shwa, but usually vika, as above, and also visha, vishwa, cause to wear, give clothes to, &c. Rp. vishana. (Cf. vao, valio, vazi, vika, vua.)

Valio, n. (ma-), extra apparel, accoutrements, ornaments, additions to usual dress. (Cf. follg.)

Vao, n. (ma-), style (place, act) of dressing, mode of wearing, something worn, dress, &c. (Cf. follg.)

Vazi, n. (ma-), article of dress, wearing apparel, dress, robes, garments, clothes. (Cf. vaa.)

Vema, a. and adv. for vyema, from -ema, good, i.e. rightly, well, nicely, properly, &c. Esp. as a common rejoinder of assent or approval, Certainly! Good! Very well!—like njema, ngema, inshallah, eewallah. (Cf. -ema, and vi-)

Vi, verb-form, they are,—agreeing with D 3 (P), e.g. vyakula hivi vighali, this food is dear,—taking the place of ni, or Pres. Tense Indic. of wa, be.

Vi-(Vy-), as a pfx., (1) in nouns. is the Plur. pfx. of D 3 (P), and of adjs. agreeing with it; and (2) in verbs, is the pfx., subjective and objective, agreeing with the above nouns. Obs. also (3) vivi hivi, these very things, in this very way, just so. Vi-(vy-), as a pfx. of adjs., is also the commonest way of giving them an adverbial meaning. E.g. vikubwa, on a large scale; vizuri, nicely; vibaya, badly, and obs. vizyo, hivi, vile, ndiyo, and other adverbial forms. Cf. use of ki, e.g. kidogo, kizungu, &c. See Ki. Obs. words beginning with vi-(vy-) may, as a rule, be looked for under ki-(ch-), or under the letter following vi-

Via, v. fail of full development (completion, perfection), and so (1) be stunted, cut short, half done, unfinished, blighted, underdone, spoilt; and (2) fig. be a failure, lack life, be of a low type, be backward, stagnate. Cs. visa, vizwa, e.g. cut short, interrupt, break off, keep back (work, progress, growth, &c.), e.g. ameni-visa kazi, he prevented me doing my work properly. Hence visia (which see). (Perh. cf. vilia, vizia, and viza, a., and syn. vanja, haribu, zuia, kaliza.)

Vifaa, n. plur. (sing. kifaa not in use), things useful, requisites, appliances, necessaries, accessories. (Cf. faa, mafaa.)

Vile, a. demonstr. from -le, (1) agreeing with D 3 (P); (2) adv. thus, in that way, so. Vile vile, just the same, just so, as before, equally. (Cf. vi-, viti hivi, vivyo, &c.)

Vilia, v. stop running, stagnate, e. g. of flowing blood, form clots, coagulate. Cs. vili-sa, -swa, and viza, vizwa, make stop, staunch, cut off the flow. (Cf. follaig. and via.)

Vilio, n. (ma-), stopping short, stagnation,—but esp. of blood, coagulation, clotting, clot. (Cf. prec. Dist. vilo, plur. of kilio, and verb-form, 'those which are,' for viliywa.)

Vimba, v. swell, expand, be distended (puffed out, swelled, bloated, stuffed). Ap. vimba-a, iwa. Cs. vimba-isha, -ishwa, c. g. jivimbisha, gorge oneself with food, eat gluttonously. (Cf. uvimbe, and vimbi, prob. of same root, and syn. umka, fura.)

*Vinjari, v. cruise about, be on the watch, search about,—but esp. of ships or boats. So merikebu ya vinjari, a cruiser, a ship on patrol. (? Ar. finshari, and cf. sanjari.)

Vinya, n. dandle in the arms, i. e. vinya (or, vinya-vinya) mteto. (Cf. pembeza, bembeza, and dist. finya.)

Viringa, v. become round, form a curve or bend, be rounded (spherical). Cs. viringa-isha, -ishwa, make round (curved, bent). Rp. viringana, be round,—like viringa, and hence viringanisha, for viringisha. (Cf. mviringa, and ?jiringishi.)

Visha, v. give clothes to, dress. (See Vika, Vaa.)

Vita, n. (—, but vita is itself often treated as D 3 (P)), (1) war, battle, fighting; (2) contest, struggle, wrangle, dispute. Fanya (pig) vita, make war, fight. Leta v, raid, invade. Alika v, issue a summons to soldiers, call to arms, muster an army,—so kusanya v. Funga v, engage in war, commence operations. Vita vikubwa, a great bat-

Vivi, a. only in phrase vivi hivi, i. e. agreeing with D 3 (P), these very, just these,—and as adv. just so, in this very way. (Cf. vi-, and vivyo hivyo.)

-Vivu, a. (vivu with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), idle, slack, remiss, indolent, slow. (Cf. uvivu, and -legefu, -zembe.)

Viza, v. (1) Cs. of via; (2) for viliza, Cs. of vilia. — n. a spoilt thing, e. g. an added egg, viza la yai, or yai viza. (See Vii.)

Vizia, v. Ap. from via, i. e. spoil work for, frustrate, balk, try to prevent success or completion of (see Viii). But vizia is commonly used in a more limited sense, waylay, be on the watch for (in a hostile sense), beleaguer, beset, keep an unfriendly eye on, molest, harass. No deriv. stems usual except Ps. visiwa, and Rp. viziana.

Vua, v. (to be distinguished from another common verb jua, A. take off clothes, undress, unclothe oneself, strip, both act. and neut.—with or without nguo. Used of any article of dress, e. g. vua jofia, take off a cap. Rarely of anything else, e. g. vua macho, utasame, open your eyes and look. Contr. vaa, put on clothes, dress. Ps. viliwa, (1) of clothes, be taken off; (2) of persons, be undressed, stripped. Nt. vika, e. g. nguo yote imemvuka, all his clothes have come off him,—but dist. vuka, cross over. Ap. vulia, vuliwa, vulika, e. g. take off for (from, in, with, &c.). Cs. vuliza, viliwa, e. g. make take off clothes, force (induce, allow) to undress. Rp. viana. (Cf. vulio.) B. fish, catch fish, try to catch fish,—with or without samaki. E. g. vua baha-rini, engage in sea-fishing. Vua samaki, 'catch fish. Also vua mshipi, fish with a line. Deriv. stems as above, e. g. ndoana ya kuvulia, a fish-hook. (Cf. mvuvi, mvuvi, mvuo.) C. save, preserve, get the idea of a difficulty,—perh. preserve, the one who got across a river (see Vuka). Akuaye ni karibu, a preserver is at hand. Mungu ataku-vua, inshallah utavuka, God will save you. All well, you will be safe. (Cf. vuka, mvuko, kivuko.)

Vuata, v. put in the mouth, hold between the teeth, e.g. a bone, tobacco, sugar, &c.

Vuaza, v. (1) make a cut in, cut, pierce; (2) fig. hurt, give pain (to). E. g. v. mua, cut the flower-stem of a coconao tree,—to get the sap (tembo). Kisu kimenivuaza, the knife has cut me. Neno hiliavuaza, this matter is painful. Ps. vuazwa. (Cf. syn. kata, choma, chanja, toja.)

-vuguvugu, a tepid, lukewarm, neither cold nor hot. (Cf. vuguvugu.)

Vuja, v. allow liquid to pass in or out, leak, let in, let out; (2) of a liquid, pass in, pass out, ooze out, leak out (or, in). E. g. mashua yavuja (yavuja maji), maji yavuja mahuani, the boat leaks. Nyumba yavuja, the house lets in the rain. Ap. vnj-ia, -iwa, -ika, e. g. mua imenivjia, the rain came in upon me. Ukuja inavujika, the wall is being spoilt by a leak,—by water getting in. (Cf. chuja, chuza.)

Vuka, A. Nt. of vua, (1) most commonly in the sense, get across, cross over, be ferried over, pass over,—of crossing a river or the sea in a canoe or ship; but also (2) pass through (of a forest), get to the other side (of a hill), &c.; (3) be saved, escape, be preserved, e. g. waliosinama vitani wakavuka, those who stood firm in the escape from across water. Ap. vu-k-ia, -iwa; e. g. cross by (in, with, at, &c.), e. g. tulivukia chini, we crossed on our feet, by wading. Chombo cha kuwuka, a ferry-boat. Cs. vu-k-isha, -ishwa, vusha, vushwa, cause (allow, induce) to cross, convey across (through, past), ferry over. Rp. vu-kana. (Cf. vua, C., mvuko, kivuko, mvushi, wushi.) B. Nt. of vua, of clothes, &c., be taken off. (See Vua, A.)

C. (in this sense also fuka), give out smoke or fumes, smoke, turn to smoke or vapour,—with or without moshi, evaporate, be vaporized. Nyumba yao haitvuki moshi, no smoke rises from their house. Ap. vu-k-ia, -iwa. Cs. vu-k-isha, -ishwa, -isa, -iswa, cause to give out smoke, turn to vapour, make fumes with, smoke (i.e. apply smoke to), fumigate, sense, burn incense. E. g. v. maiti (nyumba), fumigate a corpse (a house) with incense. V. udi, burn aloe wood,—for fumigation. Also v. maiti kwa uvumba. (Cf. vu-kizo, mvuka, vu-k-ia, vu-kizo, vu-kuta, &c.,—all of which are also heard as fuku, mfu, &c.)

Vuke, n. (ma-), vapour, steam, a drop of condensed steam, sweat. (Cf. prec.)

Vukizo, n. (ma-), (1) vapour, fumes, steam, smoke; (2) anything burnt or used for fumigation, incense, &c. (Cf. prec., and kivukizo.)

Vukuta, v. blow with bellows, work bellows,—with or without mifu, bellows. (See Mfua, Mvukuto.)

Vukuto, n. (ma-), sweat, a drop of sweat, condensed vapour. Also vu-kuto la jasho. (Cf. prec., and mvukuto, uwukuto, also vuka, and follg.)

Vule, n. and Vuli, the season of the lesser rains in Z. (See Mvule.)

Vulio, n. (ma-), clothes laid aside or not in use, cast-off (old, rotten) clothing, the cast skin or slough of snakes, &c. (Cf. vua, A., and contr. vali.)

Vuma, v. (1) usually of any low indistinct sound, i. e. roar, growl, rumble, hum, buzz, rustle, e. g. of wind, thunder, wild beasts, insects, drum. Baridi inavuma leo, it is blowing hard to-day. (2) fig. rumour, Vumba, n. (ma-), something with a bad smell, dried fish, foreshore, &c. Also the name of a famous old coast town a little north of Z. now in ruins. (Cf. vunda, uvundo.)

Vumbi, n. (ma-), dust, a mass (collection, cloud) of dust, fine powder, sediment. (Cf. uvumbi, and follg.)

Vumbika, v. or perh. Fumbika (see below), — used in a limited sense, put (cover up) in dust, ashes, leaves, embers, soil, &c., e.g. put fruit underground to ripen it, store coconuts for seed, put in the ground, plant a seed or seedling. Ps. vumbikwa. Ap. vumbik-ia, -iwa. Cs. vumbikisha, -ishwa. (Cf. vumbi, but rather perh. fumba, and so vumbua.)

Vumbilia, v. stir up, excite, get mixed up in, e.g. in a quarrel, brawl, war. Ps. vumbiliwa. Nt. vumbiliika. (Cf. prec., and vumbi.)

Vumbua, v. or perh. Fumbuka (which see), discover, explore, open up, hunt out, invent, find out, come upon, bring to light, disclose. E.g. vumbua inchi, explore a country. V. njia, find a road. Ps. vumbuliwa. Nt. vumbuka. Ap. vumbulila, -liwa, -lika, e.g. vumbulika, be disclosed, burst out suddenly or violently, be come upon unexpectedly. Cs. vumbusha, e.g. intens. come on suddenly, wake up with a start. (May be compared with jumba, and its derivatives, or perh. vambi, vumbika, and syn. fumbua, funua.)

Vumi, n. (ma-), a loud rumble, roar, hum, roll of a drum, &c. Also name of a kind of drum. (Cf. vuma, uwumi.)

Vuna, v. (1) gather a crop, reap, get in harvest of any kind; (2) fig. reap profit, get an advantage, profit. Hence the expression jivuma, boast oneself, brag, swagger, show off, give oneself airs, be conceited (cf. jiona, jigamba.) Ps. vumwa. Nt. vumika. Ap. vun-ia, -iwa, e.g. reap for (with, at, &c.). Nimenvumia shamba lake, I have got in his crop for him. Cs. vun-isha, -ishwa, e.g. employ in reaping, contract for harvesting. (Cf. mvumi, mvuuno, majivumo, uvumo, and syn. chuma, faili.)

Vunda, v. rot, putrefy. Nyammbichi aya kuvunda, fresh or putrid meat. (Cf. uvundo, and perh. vumba, and commoner syn. oza. Also dist. funda, v.)

Vunde, n. (ma-). See Mavunde.

-Vungu, n. (ma-). See Mavunde.

Vunja, v. (1) break, break down (up, in pieces, into, through, out of, off, away), and so (2) spoil, damage, destroy; (3) put a stop to, balk, frustrate. E.g. v. chungu, break a cooking pot (used of the final feast or carnival before the Ramathan fast begins). V. thamani, destroy the value, depreciate, disparage. V. nso, put to shame, bring dishonour on, Vuruga, v. also Vuruma, and Vuruuka, (1) stir, stir up, stir round (about), mix by stirring,—esp. in cookery, or compounding medicines, &c., mixing ingredients for mortar, for embalming, &c. Also (2) stir the vuruj-isha, -ishwa (rarely heard). Rp. vurnjana. (Cf. buruga, and syn. changanya.)

Vurujika, v. and Furiyika, be in a mouldering (decaying, crumbling) condition, be completely decomposed or putrefied. E. g. kitu hiki kinaosa, hatta kinafuryika, this thing is decaying, and even becoming wholly decomposed.

Vurumisha, v. and Furumiza, Vuvumisha. V. jiwé, throw a stone. jivurumisha, cast oneself headlong. (Perh. an emphatic form of vumisha, i.e. cause to hum. Cf. vuma, and syn. rusha from ruka.)

Vusha, v. Cs. of Vuka (which see), cross over.

Vuta, v. (1) draw, pull, drag, strain, stretch, attract, have an effect upon; (2) change, pervert, give a new direction (meaning, aspect) to; (3) have an influence on, charm, entice, tempt, allure, lead astray. Also with various special applications, e.g. v. makasia, use an oar, row, and v. mashua, row a boat. V. upanga, draw a sword (cf. chomoa). V. ma-nero, put a strain on words, i.e.
strain their meaning. V. tumbako, smoke a pipe. V. maji, bale out water. Ps. vutwa. Nt. vutika, e.g. be pulled, be capable of being stretched or altered. So also vutikana.
Ap. vut-ia, -iwa, and vut-ilia, -iliwa,
-ilia, of particular operations, e.g.
in plaiting. Cs. vut-isha, -ishwa.
Rp. vutana, e.g. all pull together.
(Cf. mvuto, and syn. kokota, move by pulling, drag along, and dist.utura.)

Vuvum'ka, v. grow up fast, develop quickly, shoot up,—of vegetation and also animal life. E. g. of mangoes, children. (Cf. syn. chipua, kwa.)

Vyo, -vyo, (1) pron. relat. which, agreeing with D 3 (P).—only used separately in vyo vyote, whatever, and a few other phrases. (2) conj. 'as,' usually following ginsi, kama, kadiri, and other words introducing an adverbial clause,—corresponding to the use of vi to form adverbs from adjectives, e.g. ginsi alivyokwana, as he was; kama alivyosema, according to what he said; kadiri niwezavyo, as far as I can. Mimi hapa nilivo, ni nzungo, I, as I am at present, am quite well.

W.

W represents the same sound as in English; (1) sometimes as a distinct consonant; (2) sometimes as a semi-vowel, not clearly distinguish-able from u, or uv. Hence words not found under W may be looked for under U, or UW, and some words are given under both.
W-, before a vowel, often represents the pfx. u (for which see U).

Wa, (1) prep. of,—form agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S). (See -a, prep.) (2) verb-form, they are, agreeing with D 1 (P), e.g. watumwa wa rahihi, slaves are cheap. (3) conj. Arab. and occurs sometimes, esp. in written Swahili, letters, documents, &c., and in combination, e.g. wabadahu, wassalaam, wakatabahu.

Waa, as a pfx., is used:—

A. in nouns, to form plur. of D 1. It becomes w before vowels, except i, with which it coalesces to form e, e.g. mwoivi, wevi, for waivi.

B. in adjectives, to mark agreement with plur. of D 1. It becomes w before vowels, except i, e.g. watu wako wabaya, your people are bad.

C. in verbs, the subjective and objective pfx. of the 3 Pers. Plur. agreeing with D 1 (P). Obs. (1) wa- is also one of the objective pfxs. used in agreement with ninyi, i.e. the pron. of the 2 Pers. Plur., e.g. nawapa means 'I give them,' or 'I give you' (plur.). Hence a form like wawapenda may mean (1) they love them; (2) they love you (plur.); (3) you (wa for u-a, sing.) love them.

-wa, v. be, become, take place, exist, occur, happen. (Kuwa is used in certain tenses. See under Ku, 1 (d)), rules for monosyllabic verb-roots.

(1) The common use of the simple verb wa, in all tenses and moods, is to connect Subject and Predicate in a sentence, and to supply an auxiliary in forming compound tenses,—like the verb To be in English. (2) The meaning 'become' is only clear in connexion with the sign of the Pres. Tense Definite, -na, e.g. jua linakuya kali, the sun is becoming scorching, and the Perf. Tense me-, e.g. amekua mgonjwa, he has become sick, he is ill. (3) Concrete existence, i.e. being as fact, actual being or taking place, is expressed by -wa, e.g. mambo haya yamekuwa, these things have actually taken place, are facts; and also absolute existence, so far as a Swahili conceives it, e.g. mwenyi kuwa, as a title of God,—the Self-existent, He who is, Ndije awaye, it is he who is (exists). Obs. however, that -wa is rarely used at all in any sense in the Pres. Positive, and not often in the Pres. Negative, e.g. yuwa, he is; siwi, I am not; hanwi, you (plur.) are not. As a copula, it is (1) either simply omitted,—or its place is taken by (2) ni for all persons and numbers, or by the personal pfxs. (ni, u, tu, wa, &c.) used as independent forms, or (3) li, but only in combination with a relative pfx. (-o, -lo, -uyo, &c.) Simple existence is also expressed by na in certain combinations. (See Na (3) for this, and also for -wa na, as corresponding to the English verb 'have.') Ap. wia, wiwa, and wea (? vetwa), (1) with the usual prepositional relations, be to (for, with, in, &c.), e.g. unowie rathi, be kind to me, favour me, pardon me; (2) with a special and definite sense, viz. be a creditor of, have a claim on, have in one's debt,—both in Act. and Pass. Thus ananiwia commonly means, I owe him money; namwia, he owes me money. So in the Pass. form nawiwa naye, I am his debtor; and awiwa nami, he is my debtor; e.g. wote wenyi kumuwa wakutane, let all his creditors hold a meeting; nawiwa usima wangu kwa Mungu, I owe my life to God. The form weca (if not a different verb) is sometimes used alone for 'be good for, turn out well to, be the property of.' No Cs. in use. Rp. wiana, e.g. be to each other, have relations with each other, be mutually indebted or under obligations.

Waa, v. shine brightly, blaze,—e.g. of the sun or moon, but not often heard in Z. (Cf. waka, washa, mawao, and the common ng* aa.)
WAA

Wakili, n. (ma-), agent, steward, representative, commissioner, manager (under a proprietor). Also sometimes v., act as agent, &c., and Cs.

Wajibi, v. appear, present oneself—and with kwa, visit, meet face to face, interview, salute. Wakawaji kwa Seyidi, they appeared before the Sultan. Rp. wajihiiana, meet face to face. (Ar. Cf. common onana, onekana, kutana.)

Waka, v. (1) blaze, burn brightly, be lighted, show a flame; (2) smart, burn, hurt (as by burning), be inflamed. Ap. wak-ia, -awa. Cs. washa, e.g. cause to burn, set fire to, light (a fire or lamp). Nt. washika, be lighted, burn. Hence wash-ia, -awa, e.g. univashie taa, light the lamp for me—and washikana, be inflammable, be capable of being lighted. (Cf. mwako, dist. aka, build.)

Wakala, n. agency, appointment, commission. (Ar. Cf. wakili. Dist. wakala from -la, and they ate.)

Wakatini, n. (nyakati), time (in general), season, period of time, point of time, sufficient time, opportunity. (Ar. Cf. saa, muda, muhulla, majira, zamani, and B. pindi, kipindi, kitambo.)

Wake, a. (1) pron. a., his, hers, its, from -ake,—agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S); (2) from -ke, mke, females, wives. (See -ke.)

Wakfu, n. See Wakifu. (Ar.)

Wakia, n. an ounce (weight)—commonly reckoned in Z. as the weight of an Austrian silver dollar piece, i.e. ni uzito wa reale, and as 16 to the pound weight (rati). (Ar. Dist. wakia, Ap. of waka.)

Wakifu, v. cost, be priced at, cause expense. Ap. wakif-ia, -iya, e.g. cost to (a person).—a. also Wakfu, and Wakf, set apart for religious purposes, consecrated, devoted to a holy use,—esp. of land or other gifts assigned to a mosque for its expenses, pay of the minister, &c. (Ar. Cf. gharamia, simama.)

Wajibi, n. (ma-), spot, patch of colour (light or dark), mark, stain, speck, blot, e.g. kuku mwennyi mawaa, a speckled fowl. (Perh. cf. waa, v. of a spot which catches the eye, and syn. doa, kipaku.)

Wabadahu, Ar. for wa baada ya haya, in letters, 'and after this, and next.' (Cf. wa, conj.)

Wabba, n. cholera. (Ar.)

Wadi, n., and syn. ukitemalawa, utemo. (Ar.)

Wafi, n. a stinging plant, a kind of nettle.

Wafiki, Wafikana, v. suit, agree,—same as afiki (which see). (Ar.)

Wahadi, n. promise. See Ahadi. (Ar.)

Wahedi, n. and a. one,—the numeral,—often used, as well as B. mosi, -moja. (Ar. Cf. wah- edashara, eleven.)

Wahi, v., and Wai, be in time, be prompt (ready, forward) to act. E.g. hakawahi kufika mijini, he had not time to get to the town (when), i.e. before he got to the town. Akawahi kumkaribisha, he was ready to welcome him. (Cf. wadi, v.)

Wainna, conj. if not, otherwise. (Arab. for common B. kama sivyo.)

Wajibu, n. what is right, fitting, proper, suitable; and so in moral sense, duty, obligation, due courtesy. Wajibu yaka, what is expected of you, worthy of you. Moto wajibu heshima na wazee wake, a child should be respectful to his parents. Also sometimes as v., i.e. be proper, be a duty, be an obligation, with Ap. wajibia. (Ar. Cf. bidi, pasa, sunna, -ema.)
WAKO

wakilisha, appoint as agent, commission. (Ar. Cf. wakala, and mjumbe, karani.)

Wako, (1) a. form of 'ako, your, agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S); (2) verb-form, i. e. wa, pfx. agreeing with D 1 (P), and -ko (cf. huko), they are (there). (See -ako, Wa, -ko.)

*Wala, conj. nor. Used (1) after a negative, repeating not reversing it, and so often translatable or'; (2) itself repeated, wala...wala, neither... nor. (Ar. 'and not,' cf. ao, ama, and folg.)

*Walakini, conj. but, however, nevertheless, notwithstanding. (Ar. Cf. wa, lakini.)

*Walao, adv. even, at least, anyhow, at any rate. E. g. humwachii wa alo kitu kidogo, you do not leave him even a little. Uganda wa alo wa mua, at least rain-medicine. (Ar.)

Wale, (1) adj. pronom. 'those, -form of -le agreeing with D 1 (P) (see Yule); (2) subjunct. mood of -la, v. that they may eat, let them eat. E. g. wale wa wali wale wali, let those (people) of the governor have a meal of rice.

Wali, n. (1) (nyali, seldom used), cooked rice, i. e. rice so cooked that each grain is whole and separate, though soft and thoroughly done. The staple dish of Zanzibar. Wali ni Sultan ya chakula, watawazwa katika kiti, cooked rice is the king of foods, it is placed on a royal throne, i. e. on a raised stool serving as a table. Rice cooked with too much water is wali mchezheche, or majimaji. (Also cf. poroja la wali, uji, ubabwa, mata bwabwabwa, mashe, and see Mchele.)

*Wali, n. (ma-), governor, the Sultan's representative in a town or district,—in Z. usually liwali (ma—),—perh. because wali for 'rice' is so common. (Ar. Cf. liwali, towala.)

*Walli, n. (—), a holy one, a saint, an angel. E. g. paka akajifanya walii sana, a cat set up as a great saint. Muungu akamshushia walii, God sent down an angel to him. (Ar. Cf. sufii, mtawa, and malai, angel.)

WANDA

Walli, n. (nyali), used of bits of stick put crosswise at the bottom of a cooking pot to prevent the contents from burning. Also of a kind of wattle fence for trapping fish. (Cf. uzio, utata, and dist. walio as a verb-form, 'they who are.')

*Wallai, a common Swahili oath, not considered profane by Mahomedans. (Ar. i. e. wa allah hai, by the living God. Cf. Allah, ewallah, inshallah, bismillah.)

Wamba, v. spread (bind, stretch, fix) over, overlay, overspread, overcast. E. g. w. kitanda kwa mshapatu, cover a bedstead with cords interlaced. W. ngama kwa ngozi, stretch a skin tightly on a drum. Ukungu unawamba ulimwengu, a mist overspreads the earth. Also umewamba mtango, you have blocked the door,—of one who barred the way with arms and legs. (Cf. wambo, and kiwamba, kwambaza, and perch. ambaa.)

Wambiso, n. fastening together, holding together, attachment, clasp ing. (Cf. ambisha, ambaa.)

Wambo, n. for Uambo,—better Uwambo (which see).

*Wamini, Waminifu, n. faithfulness, trustworthiness, honesty, fidelity. (Ar. Cf. amini, imani, amana, amina, -aminifu.)

Wana, (1) verb-form, they have, i. e. wa pfx. agreeing with D 1 (P) and na (which see); (2) n. (for waana, plur. of mwana), children, or (for una), youthfulness, childhood.

Wanadamu, n. (1) also Uanadamu, human nature, humanity (cf. mwanadamu, and utu, ubinadamu); (2) plur. of mwanaadumu, human beings.

Wanda, v. get fat, become stout,—but in Z. commonly nenepa, nona. Cs. wand-isha, -ishwa. — n. (nya nda), a finger's breadth,—about 1 inch, used sometimes in measuring (cf. chanda). Also pl. of uwanda (which see).

Wanga, v. (1) count, reckon (cf. kwango)—but in Z. hesabu is the usual word; (2) cause pain, hurt. Ps. wangwa, but in Z. uniza, uma. — n. a kind of meal made from a plant growing in streams in Zanzibar island (Maranta arundinacea, Sac.), arrowroot,—also used as (2) starch; (3) a sweet confection, sometimes with intoxicating ingredients; (4) name of a plant, perh. the above.

Wangafu, n. and Uang-, brightness, lustre, glow, transparency, power of reflecting light. (Cf. -angafu,anga, ng'aa, &c.)

Wangalifu, n. and Uang-, carefulness, attention. (Cf. angalia.)

Wango, n. See Kiwango, Mwango.

Wangwa, n. (nyangwa), waste, bare ground, sandy wilderness. In Z. usually jangwa.

Wanja, n. W. wa manga, antimony, used as a paint on the face. (Cf. dalia, manjano.)

Wano, n. (ma-), wooden part, or shaft, of a spear, arrow, harpoon, &c.—also called uti.

Wao, (1) pron. of 3 Pers. Plur., they. Denotes only persons, and sometimes animals. (2) a. pronom. their,—form of -ao (which see), agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S).

Wapi, (1) pron. interrog. of place, where? and colloquially, how? how so? often shortened to -api and -pi, and appended to verbs, e.g. wendapi, where are you going? (2) a form of -pi, which,—agreeing with D 1 (P).

Wapo, (1) n. (nyapo), for Uapo, from apa, i.e. an oath, swearing; (2) used in connexion with -moja, e.g. mmojawapo, every (any) one of them; (3) a gift, see Uapo (cf. pa, v.). (4) verb-form, 'they are here,' i.e. wa, px. of 3 Pers. Plur. and -po, for hapo.

*Waraka, n. (nyaraka), a written communication, a letter (of correspondence). Andikiana w., correspond (by letter). Waraka u nusu ya kuonana, a letter is next to seeing each other. (Ar. Cf. barua, cheti, hati, anwani, dibaji, and for a full account of Swahili as written in Arabic characters, Büttner, Lehrbücher des Seminars für orientalische Sprachen, Berlin, Band 10.)

*Wari, n. a yard (measure), half a fathom (pima), equal to two thiraa or mukono. (Cf. urefu.)

Waria, n. a skilled workman, foreman, master-builder, contractor. Often coupled with a defining word, seramala w., master carpenter,—so mwashini w., mwunzi w. (Cf. mbinwa, mstadi, fundi.)

*Waridi, n. also Wáradi, Wardi, a rose. Also as adj. hal waridi, rose-water, essence of roses. Maji mawaridi, rose-water diluted for toilett and bathing. (Ar.)

*Warithi, n. (ma-), an heir. (Ar. Cf. nrithi, which is usual, and urithi.)

*Wasaa, n. room, space, freedom, means, leisure, opportunity. Kwa na wasaa, to be comfortable, satisfied. Leo sina wasaa, I cannot do it to-day. (Ar. Cf. syn. nafasi.)

Washa, v. Cs. of waka, i.e. cause to blaze, set fire to, light, &c. See Waka.

*Washerati, n. and Uash-. See Asherati. (Ar.)

*Wasi, n. See Uasi. (Ar.)

*Wasia, v. also Wosia, Usia, direct, commission, order, charge,—and esp. of a solemn, serious, weighty command, e.g. last directions on starting for a journey, a religious exhortation, giving the terms of a will. Thus of a dying father, Enyi waanangu, ntawausia, my children, I will say my last words to you. Wakanwosia, spika vema watoto, and they solemnly charged him, be a good guardian of the children. Atimwasia nyumba, he gave his house in charge to him. Ps. vasi-

*Wasia
Waya, n. (nyaya), an earthen dish for baking, &c. (Cf. chungu.)

Wayawaya, v. sway to and fro, stagger, totter, reel, e.g. of a tree loaded with fruit, a man from weakness. (Cf. lewa, sila, yonga, yumba, ning'ina.)

Way, n. (nyayo), and Uayo, (1) sole of the foot, footprint, track of the feet; (2) trace, vestige, symptom.

Waza, v. (1) suppose, fancy, imagine; (2) reflect, ponder, meditate, have in mind. W. Muungu is used of religious meditation, deep inward heart-searching (but this ptch. from another Ar. word wasaa). Ps. waswa. Nt. wasika. Ap. wasia,-iwa. Cs. was-isha,-ishwa. Rp. wasana. (Cf. fikiri, kumbuka, thani, nia, azimu.)

*Wazi, a. sometimes -wazi, (1) open, bare, uncovered (of clear passage, free access, room inside, open book, &c.). Mangoo w., open door, njia w., open road. Fanalia wasi, it sounds hollow. Kitwaa kwasi, bare head. (2) fig. open, manifest, evident, clear, plain. (Ar. Cf. thahiri, baini.)

Wazimu, n. (no plur., treated as D 4), madness, mania, hallucination, desperation, infatuation. E.g. yuna w., he is mad. Fanya w., go mad. Tia w., make mad. Mwenyi w., a madman. Also as a. yu w., he is mad. (Cf. mazimu, kuzimu, simwe. Perh. wazimu is merely plur. of mazimu, i.e. (1) spirits, demons; (2) possession by demons, madness.)

*Waziri, n. (ma-), chief officer of state under a sovereign, prime minister, secretary of state. (Ar. Cf. shehe, dixwani.)

Wazo, n. (ma-), thought, fancy, idea, notion, supposition, reflection. Y'iu katika mawazo yake, he is abstracted, buried in thought, absentminded. (Cf. waza, and syn. thana, nia, skara.)

-we, a. form of wake, his, hers, its,—affixed to nouns. E.g. mwana-we, his son, wemsiwe, his companions.
(See -le, -ze, -ye.)

Wea, v. be good for, be in favour of,
be useful to, turn out well for, be the property of. (Perh. an Ap.
form from -wa, be, like wia. See -wa.)

Wee, for weewe, wewe, you,—pron.
of 2 Pers. Sing.

Weka, v. one of the very common Swahili words, with the general sense 'place, put, set,' and a great variety of applications, e.g. (1) put in position, set fast, place firm, e.g. w. uti-mwengu, of the creation; w. mseinji, lay a firm foundation; kikao tulichomweka, the position in which we placed him. (2) put down, put off, e.g. w. selaha, lay down weapons; w. mzigo, put down a load. (3) put aside, put away, put off, delay, adjourn. W. hukimu, defer judgement;
W. chakula, put away food (till wanted), (or else, put ready, prepare). (4) reserve, store up, keep for use, e.g. w. akiba, lay up in store;
w. kisinda, preserve virginity; w.
wakfu, devote to religious purposes.
(5) make place for, accommodate, have room for, contain, make comfortable, e.g. utimwengu wote haumweki, the world is too small for him; nyumba hainiweki, my house is not comfortable. (6) entrust, deposit, commit, allot, assign, e.g.
w. fetha (heshima, amana), give money (honour, a pledge). (7) set firm, establish, appoint, found, institute, e.g. w. mjalme, set a chief on his throne; w. desulti, establish a custom; w. sheria, lay down a law; kiwekwacho na Muungu, mwanadamu havezi kukiondoa, what is appointed by God, man cannot annul.
(8) a common form of pious wish or blessing is, Muungu akusweke, may God keep you, bless you, make you comfortable,—sometimes with heri added. Ps. wekwa. Nt. wekeka.
Ap. wek-ea, -ewa. Hence wekeana,
Wendo, n. (nyendo) and Wendo (nyenzo), way of going, means of moving,—hence used of mechanical methods and instruments, lever, gear, tackle, roller. E. g. mti hadendi illa kwa nyenzo, a log will not move without something to move it. (Cf. enda, mwendo.)

Wendi, a plur. of -ingi, i.e. wa- ingi, many,—agreeing with D 1 (P). (See -ingi.)

Wengu, n. (-) or Wengo, the spleen.

Wenu, a form of -enu, yours (plur.),—agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S). (See -enu.)

Wenzi, n. (1) w-enzí, friendliness, friendly association, companionship; (2) plur. of mwenzi, friend, companion; (3) sometimes for jenzi (which see), rule, power, sovereignty.

Werevu, n. cunning, shrewdness, cleverness, sagacity, worldly wisdom. (Cf. -erevu, and welekevu, akili, ujanja.)

Weu, n. (nyeu), clearing, open space for planting, place free from trees, forest glade. (Cf. follg., and -epe, weupe.)

Weuo, n. making white, purifying, cleaning. (Cf. eua, and prec.)

Weupe, n. (1) whiteness, white or grey colour, a light tint in general; (2) light as opp. to shade or darkness, brightness, and esp. of the dawn, morning light; (3) cleanliness; (4) fig. purity, innocence, integrity, guilelessness. (Cf. -upe, eua, weu, and contr. wenzí.)

Wewi, n. and Wezi, plur. of mwivi, mwizi, thief. i.e. wa-ivi.

Wewe, pron. of 2 Pers. Sing., you,—also weye, we. In sudden emphatic address often combined with ee, ewe! you there! I say, you! (See Mimi.)

Wewedeka, v. also Weweteke, Wewezeke, Wewedeka, talk in sleep or in delirium, or unconsciously. Cs. wewede-sha, -sha. (Cf. payika, payo.)

Weza, v. (1) be able, be strong, be capable, have strength. The forms of the Negative Present, siwezi, huwezi, &c., are regularly used in the special sense, I am sick, (ill, unwell, &c.),—so much so that huwezi is sometimes treated as an adj., and even a verb-root (see Hawezi, and generally under Jambo). (2) have power (means, liberty, opportunity, occasion, option, &c.), with an Infinitive following, or like the auxiliary 'can' with a verb-root form without the Infinitive sign $ku$. E. g. awesa kwenda, he has strength to walk, leave to go, &c. Naweza mpiga, I can beat him. (3) get mastery over, control, overcome, defeat, subdue,—with nouns. Simba alimweza, the lion overcame him. (4) be able to bear, endure, tolerate. E. g. ukali wako hawawezesi, they cannot endure your tyranny. Rf. jiweza, have power over oneself (or, in oneself, of oneself), have self-control, be temperate. Hence jiweza, be able to get on (to manage, to do for oneself), be independent. Ps. weza. Nt. wezeka, e. g. be practicable, possible, permissible, probable,—and also commonly wese kana, e. g. hawezekani, he is invincible, beyond all control. Ap. weza, etwa. Cs. weze-sha, -sha, e. g. empower, give authority (leave, strength, means, &c.) to. Rp. wezana. (Cf. weweza, mweza, haiwezi.)

Wifl, n. (-), brother-in-law, sister-in-law. (Cf. shemoji, mwamua.)

Wika, v. crow,—of a cock. Jogoo lawika, the cock crows. Likiwika lisimwe kutakucha, whether the cock crows or not, the morning will come. (See Jogoo.)

*Wilaya, n. district, province, region, country. (Ar. Cf. Ulaya.)

-wili, a. of second numeral (mbili with D 4 (P), D 6 (P)), two, a pair of, together, both. Marra mbili, twice. Upanga mkali kwili, a twodged sword. Walikwenda wawili, they went together, or, they both went. Viwili, in a twofold way, doubly. (Cf. pili and marudufu, and perh. mwili.)

Wima, n. being perpendicular, uprightness, standing up. (Cf. ima, uima, and simama.)

Wimbi, n. (1) (ma-), a wave. Hapana maji, yasiyo mawimbi, no water without waves. Killa chombo na wimbi, every vessel has its waves to meet. Mawimbi ya kuwimbi, breakers. Mawimbi ya mkoba, rolling waves, swell, rollers. Mawimbi ya kwelea, storm waves, high seas. (2) (—) and Uwimbi, a small kind of grain (Eleusine coracana, Sacl.). (Cf. kiwimbi, and perh. vimba.)

Winda, v. hunt,—of game in general, animals and birds, and small and large, with weapons, nets, dogs, &c. Also of pursuing a flying foe, or fugitive. (Cf. mwinda, uwindaji, windo, and perh. uwinda, and syn. saka.)

Winda, n. See Uwinda.

Windu, n. (1) act (art, manner, &c.) of hunting; (2) (ma-), what is got by hunting, booty, prey. (Cf. winda.)

Wingi, n. much (of), plenty, abundance, a quantity, a great deal. (Cf. -ingi, ungi, and syn. tele, marithawa, neema, baraka.)

Wingu, n. (ma-), cloud,—or what resembles a cloud. W. la muna, rain cloud. W. wa moshi, cloud of smoke. Thick cloud is called nene, zito, kubwa, jeusi. Wingu la gisa, a dark cloud. (Cf. uwingu, gubari, mavunde.)

*Wino, n. ink,—made in Z. of a gum (gundi), lampblack (moshi wa taa), and rice burnt black and powdered. Kidaa cha wino, inkstand, inkpot.

Wishwa, n. (—, or wishwa), chaff, husks, bran. (Cf. kumvi, kapi.)

*Witha, n. See Uwitha, (Ar.)

Wito, n. (1) infection, infectiousness, contagion. Pata (pewa) w., be infected. Ndii ina wito sana, small-pox is very infectious (cf. ambukiza). (2) casting,—of metal in a mould; also, a mould for casting (cf. ila and subu); (3) ? calling, call, from ila (cf. mwito).

*Wituri, a. odd,—of numbers, i. e. not even. (Ar.)

Wivu, n. and Uivu (which see), also Uwivu.

-wivu, a. (1) and -ivu, jealous, envious (cf. prec.); (2) and most commonly -bivu, ripe, mature, fully developed. (Cf. ivu, and n. -ovu, -bivu.)

Wo, relative form of -o,—agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S), but used separately only in a few phrases, e. g. wo wote, any and all, all of whatsoever kind. (See -o.)

-wo, (1) relative as prec. used as pfx. in verbs, and generally shortened to -o, e. g. watu walia wema, persons who are good; (2) contracted for wako, and subjoined to nouns, e. g. mwanaowo, or mwanao, your son.

Woga, n. (no plur.), cowardice, fear, timidity, shyness. W. mkubwa, panic. Fanya (ona, ingiwa na) w., be frightened. (Cf. oga, -oga, ogopa, ogofya, and syn. hofu.)

Wogofya, n. (nyogofya, and ma-), causing fear, threat, menace, terrifying. (Cf. oga, ogopa, and syn. kamia.)

Wokovu, n. (no plur.), deliverance, rescue, escape, salvation. (Cf. okoa, mwokosi, and ponda.)

Wongo, n. See Uongo, -ongo.
Wonyesho, n. a showing, exhibiting, demonstrating, pointing out, &c. Also wonyeshano, showing to each other, mutual display, general exhibition. (Cf. onya, onyesha, ona, anya.)

*Worari, n. See Urari.

*Worotha, n. See Urotha.

Wote, a. form of -ote, all, the whole,—agreeing with D 1 (S, P), D 2 (S), D 4 (S). Twende wote, let us all go—but commonly of two persons, i.e. let us both go, or, go together. Twende sote, let us all go. Wote wawili, both of them, both together. (Cf. -ote, sote.)

Woto, n. verbal of ota, v. (which see) in all three senses, viz. (1) growing (as a vegetable), vegetation; (2) dreaming; (3) getting warm, basking, warmth. (Rarely found, perh. from this ambiguity of meaning.)

Y.

Y represents (1) the same sound as in English, i.e. a consonantal i, which in Swahili usually takes the place of i before another vowel, but often is not distinguishable from a slurred i. (2) It is used in a few words to represent a very light and evanescent sound of i between certain consonants, e.g. it is often written in kunywa, to drink,—from the root nyla, and kinywa, from the same.

Y, as a formative, when inserted before the final -a of some verbs, gives them a Cs. meaning, e.g. pona, get well, ponya, make well, cure, save,—ogopa, fear, ogofya, make afraid.

Y-, as a pfx., is the form taken by i, before a vowel, and thus appears (1) in pronom. adj. agreeing with D 2 (P), D 4 (S), e.g. miti yangu, my trees; nyumba yao, their house. (2) in verbs, e.g. miti yaota, the trees grow; nyumba yaliengwia, the house was built.

Ya, prep. form of -a, of,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S), e.g. nyumba ya mgeni, the stranger's house; makasha ya mbau, boxes of wood. But ya is also the form used most generally for 'of,' whenever the reference is indefinite and general. E.g. ya nini? why? ya kwamba, that (conj.); ya kuwa, because, in that. Thus it is used continually with adverbs to form prepositional phrases, e.g. mbali ya, far from; karibu ya, near to; mbele ya, in front of; juu ya, above; chini ya, below, &c. (See -a.)

Ya, verb-form, they are,—agreeing with D 5 (P), e.g. makasha ya tayari, the boxes are ready,—and so in place of ni, or Present Tense of wa, v. (which see).

Ya-, pfx. corresponding to D 5 (P) in (1) pronom. adj., e.g. makasha yangu, for ya-ang'u, my boxes; (2) verbs, as Plur. Pfx., subjective and objective, e.g. magari yanayachukua makasha, the carts are carrying the boxes, or yayachukua, i.e. ya-a-ya chukua,—ya coalescing with a following, as in yangu, above.

*Yaani, conj. and Yani, that is, that is to say, I mean. (Ar., lit. 'it meant.'

*Yabisi, a. and Yabis, dry, hard, solid, e.g. udongoyabisi, hard, parched earth. Baridi yabis, rheumatism. Sometimes also as v., be hard, dry, with Nt. yabisika, in same sense, and Cs. yabisissha, -shwa, make hard. (Ar. Cf. syn. -gumu, -shupafu.)

Yake, a. pronom. form of -ake, his, her, its,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S).

*Yakini, n. truth, certainty, assurance, proof. E.g. najua y. ya habari, I know the truth of the story.
Kwa yakini, really and truly. Wataka yakini gani? What sort of proof do you want? — a. true, certain, proved. — v. be sure, — but usually as follg. (Ar. Cf. follg., and syn. hakika, kweli, thabiti.)

*Yakinia, v. resolve on, make up one's mind to, be sure of, determine on. Ps. yakiniva. Nt. yakinika. Cs. yakin-sha, -shwa, e.g. make sure, establish, confirm, prove. (Ar. Cf. prec., and syn. hakikia, thabiti-sha.)

Yako, (1) a. pronom. form of -ako, your, yours, — agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S) see -ako; (2) verb-form, they are (there), —prefix ya, agreeing with D 5 (P), and ko, for huko.

*Yakuti, n. ruby, sapphire. (Ar. Cf. johari.)

Yale, a. form of -le, — agreeing with D 5 (P), i.e. those. (See Yule.)

Yambo, sometimes used for jambo (which see).

*Yamini, n. (1) right hand; (2) solemn oath, sworn with right hand on the Coran. Thus 'take a solemn oath' is twaa (piga, apa, -la) yamini. E.g. naweza kula yamini ya kuwa simjui, I can solemnly swear that I do not know him. (Ar. Cf. B. syn. mkono wa kulia, right hand.)

*Yamkini, and Yumkini, n. possibility, e.g. kwa yamkini, possibly, probably. — a. possible, likely, probable, e.g. mambo haya ni yakini, these things are possible. — v. be possible (likely, probable). Itamkini kulia burre wee? Will it be likely you should cry for nothing? Haiyamkini, it is out of the question. (In Ar. an impersonal form of the verb, but in Swahili treated as above, like yakini. Cf. weza, wezekana.)

Yangu, a. pronom. form of -angu, my, mine, — agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S). (See -angu.)

*Yani, conj. See Yaani. Also for ya mini? why?

Yao, a. pronom. form of -ao, their, theirs, — agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S). (See -ao.)

*Yasi, n. a yellow powder from India used as a cosmetic. (Cf. dalia, liwa.)

*Yasmini, n. a cultivated kind of jasmine. (Ar. Cf. asi.)

*Yatima, n. a fatherless, motherless, or orphan child. (Ar.)

Yavuyavu, n. a butcher's term for 'lungs,' or 'lights,' of an animal. (Cf. pafu, pumu.)

*Yaya, n. (ma-), a nurse, an ayah. Killa moto na yaya wake, every child with its nurse. (Hind. Cf. mlezi.)

Yaya, a. a peculiar form of the adj. haya (huyu), used only in combination with it for emphasis, i.e. yaya haya, just these very things.

So lili hili, siizi hizi, vivi hivi, &c., and of yayo.

Yayi, n. (ma-), egg. (See Yai.)

Yayo, a. the relative corresponding to yaya, a. (which see), e.g. yayo haya, like papo hapo, kuko huko.

Ye, (1) relative pfxs. of 1, 2, and 3 Sing. referring to persons and animals. Only used independently in such phrases as ye yote, any one whatever, whosoever; (2) used in combination with verbs,—often heard as -c only. E.g. aliye mrefu, he who is tall. Anayempenda, he who loves him. (3) shortened for yake (which see), and subjoined to nouns and adverbs, e.g. nyumbaye, his house; badoaye, after that. (4) used in one form of the personal pronouns, except wao, i.e. miye for mini, siye for sisi, &c.

Yee, for yeeye, pron. of 3 Pers. Sing., he, she, him, her.

Yetu, Yenyewe, Yenyi, Yenu, forms of -etu, -enyewe, -enyi, -enu,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S).

Yeyuka, v. melt, become fluid, melt away. Cs. yeyu-sha, -shwa, cause to melt, melt.

Yo, (1) relative pfx., which,—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (P), D 6 (S),—only used independently in yo yote, whatever, any whatsoever;
(2) subjoined to verbs; (3) shortened for yakko, your, yours (see aoko), subjoined to nouns, e.g. babayo, your father; (4) cf. form of huyu, used in reference, i.e. huyo, that person yonder. (Cf. huyu.)

Yoga, n. (—), mushroom. (See Uyoga.)

Yonga, v. sway, bow or bend down, stagger under a weight or from feebleness, &c. E.g. of a tree in a wind, vessel at sea, a man weak from illness, &c. Cs. yonge-sha, -esha. (Cf. wayawaya, yumba, sita, lewa.)

Yote, a. form of -ote, all, the whole (which see)—agreeing with D 2 (P), D 5 (F), D 6 (S). Sometimes also used with D 1 (S), e.g.
ye yote, whatever person; awaye yote, whoever he is.

Yowe, n. a loud cry, shout, scream, esp. of a call for help.
Piya y., give a shout. (Cf. kelele, kiito, kiyowe.)

Yu, verb-form, he (she) is,—used as 3 Pers. Sing. Pres. Tense of -wa, like other pers. pfxs. (see -wa, N1),—the simple a never being used thus independently, but only in combination with a verb.

Yu-, (1) pfx. of 3 Pers. Sing., referring to a person, but in Z. not usual in verb-forms, and only before the Pres. Tense sign of monosyllabic verbs, e.g. yuwa (for yu-a-wa), he is; yuna, he has; yunaja, he comes.
(It is, however, regularly used in the folg. yuko (=po, =mo), yule, yuti.)

Yuko, verb-form, he (she) is (there), —agreeing with D 1 (S), i.e. yu, pers.
pfx. of 3 Pers. Sing., and -ko, for huko. So yupo, yumo. (Cf. prec.)

Yule, a. form of -le, that,—agreeing with D 1 (S). The other forms of -le are wale, ile, ile, ile, kil, ile, yale, ile, pale, kule, mrle. (Cf. huyo, -le, and prec.)

Yumba, Yumba-yumba, v. sway, wave to and fro, stagger, e.g. of trees,
a balanced pole, a drunken or feeble person. (Cf. yonga, waya, sita, lewa.)

Yumkini, v. See Yamkini.

(Ar.)

Yumo, verb-form, he (she) is within. (Cf. yuko, yu, -mo.)

Yuna, verb-form, he (she) has.
(Cf. yu, and na.)

Yungi yungi, n. (ma.), name of a blue water-lily (Nymphaea stel-lata, Slcl.).

Yupi, a. form of -pi (which see), agreeing with D 1 (S), which person?
Also for yu wa pi, where is he (she)?
(Cf. yu, -pi.)

Yupo, verb-form, he (she) is here.
(Cf. yuko, yu, -po.)

Z.

Z represents the same sound as in English. But the sounds of s and z are not always easily distinguished in Swahili pronunciation, and words of Arabic origin involving the letters
Thal, Thad, Thah, if not written with Th or Dh, are (by some) written with Z.

Hence words not found under Z may be looked for under S, or Th.

Z-, for Zi before a vowel in verbs and pronom. adjs. See Zi.

-sa, and -sha, are the terminations characteristic of the Cs. form of Swahili verbs—a form which under the general idea of cause includes a wide variety of meanings and applications, some of which may be distinguished as:—

A. Causal, and so (1) Causal simply, cause (to be or act), have done, get done. (2) Compulsive, force to (—). (3) Permissive, allow to (—). (4) Attractive, induce to (—).
(5) Passive, let (be or act). (6) Consequential, lead to, end in, have the result of, be followed by being (acting, doing).

B. Intensive, or emphatic, i.e. be emphatically, act energetically, in the way indicated by any verb.

(For illustrations cf. any verb, which is treated at length in its derivative forms toa, penda, ona, funga, &c.)

Za, prep. form of -a (which see), of,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P).

Zaa, v. denotes vital reproduction, the whole process or a stage in it, of male or female, in any region of organic life,—thus, bear offspring, produce fruit, procreate, beget, have children, be pregnant, give birth to, be delivered (of a child), be fruitful (productive, fertile). Ps. zawa, but commonly zalwa. Nt. salika. Ap. za-li-ia, -iwu, -ika, e. g. bear to (for, by, at), &c. Obs. amsalwa mto, may mean (1) a child has been born, or (2) he had a child born to him. Also zalwa is sometimes used passively, e. g. alilalia hapa, he was born here, he is a native of this place (—as if for zalwa). Hence zali-sha, -shwa, e. g. cause to bear (to be born), beget, fertilize, make productive, assist at childbirth, act as midwife, &c. Also zaliwa, breed together, multiply. (Cf. zao, mzaa, mzaa, usazi, kisazi, -sazi, kisalwa, msaliwa, ?meza.)

*Zabadi, n. civet, musk,—substance taken from the civet cat, and used in perfumes. (Ar. Cf. zabidi, ngawa, fungo.)

*Zabibu, n. (—), a grape, a raisin, fruit of the vine mzagibu. (Ar.)

*Zabidi, v. take civet from the civet cat. (Ar. Cf. zabadi.)

*Zabuni, v. buy, bid at an auction. The common word is nunua. (Ar. Dist. sabuni, soap.)

*Zaburi, n. (—), a psalm, the psalter. (Ar. Dist. saburi, patience.)

*Zafarani, n. saffron. (Ar.)

Zagaa, v. shine, glisten, give light, illuminate. Ps. zagaawa, e. g. be lighted up, be enlightened. Cs. zaga-sa, -waa, cause to shine. (Cf. more usual ng’aa, mulika.)

*Zaidi, adv. and Zayidi, more, in addition, in a greater degree or quantity. Zaidi ya (kuiko, kama), more than, beside. Also as n. zaidi ya habari, further news. (Ar. Cf. zidi, ziada, and jiua.)

*Zaka, n. (—), tithe, offering for religious purposes. (Ar.)

Zake, Zako, a. forms of -ake, and -ako, their, theirs, your, yours,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P).

Zama, v. (1) sink in a fluid, be immersed, dive, be drowned, sink down; (2) fig. plunge (into), be immersed (in), be overwhelmed (by). E. g. kilimia kikizama kwa jua, huzuka kwa mvua, if the Pleiades set in fine weather, they will rise in wet. Zama katika elimu (katika bahari ya maneno), plunge into study (into the sea of words, e. g. a dictionary). Ap. zam-ia, -iwa, e. g. z. lulu, dive for pearls. Cs. zam-isha, -ishwa, e. g. engage as a diver, contract for diving, immerse, drown. (Cf. mzano, msamishi, and syn. tota, didimia, zizimia.)

*Zamani, n. (1) time, period, e. g. zamani moja, at a certain time, once upon a time,—commonly in the plural. Zamani hizi, modern times. Z. za kale, ancient times. (2) ancient times, antiquity, the past. Thus often as adv. long ago, in ancient days, some time past, and sometimes of the future, e. g. mwanamke huyu atakaa hapa zamani, this woman will remain here for an (indefinite) time. (Ar. Cf. wakati, and dist. samani, thamani.)

*Zambarau, n. fruit of a large tree (msambarau), like a damson or sloe.

*Zamu, n. (—), (1) properly, a six hours’ spell of work, or watching; (2) period of duty or occupation, e. g. sentry, patrol, turn, innings. Z. yangu, it is my turn. Ngoja z., kaa z., ketti z., shika (linda) z., are all phrases used for keeping watch. Cf. waliwakana zamu, wangine kula, wangaime macho, they arranged watches amongst themselves, some to sleep, some to remain awake. (Ar. Cf. kesha, lindo.)
ZANGEFURI

*Zangefuri, n. and Zingefuri, cinnabar, anatta. (Ar.)

Zangu, a. form of -angu (which see), my, mine,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). Obs. maenda sangu, I am going away. (See Enda.)

*Zani, n. same as uzuni, uzunzi (which see). (Ar.)

Zao, (1) n. (ma-), fruit, produce, product, offspring. (Cf. za, mesao, uzao, kizao.) (2) a. form of -ao, their, theirs,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). (See -ao.)

Zarambo, n. ( —), a spirit distilled from palm-wine, tembo (Str.).

*Zari, n. gold thread, (braid, brocade). ( ? Hind.)

*Zatiti, v. put in order, put ready, arrange, prepare, provide. (Ar. for the common words tengenea, andaa, weka tayari.)

*Zawadi, n. present, gift, keepsake,—generally of what is given on some special or extraordinary occasion, e.g. starting on or returning from a journey,—not of regular customary, expected gifts, i.e. fees, reward for service, prize, &c. (Ar. For presents generally see bak-shishi.)

*Zawaridi, n. (ma-), Java sparrow,—a bird which swarms in the stone houses of Z.

*Zayidi, adv. See Zaidi. (Ar.)

-zee, (1) subjoined to a noun, shortened form for sake, his, hers, its; (2) at the end of a verb is often the subjunct. mood of Cs. form in -za.

*Zebakh, n. and Zibakh, mercury, quicksilver. (Ar.)

-zee, a. aged, old,—of animate objects,—others being described as -a zamani, -a kale, -a siku nyingi, -kukuu. (Cf. mzee, kizee, and perh. zaa.)

Zema, a. an occasional form of -ema, good, for njema, agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). (Cf. this form in the pronom. adjs. and -ole, -enyi, -enyewe.)

Zenu, Zenyewe, Zenyi, Zetu, a. forms of -enu, enyewe, enyi, etu (which see),—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P).

Zize, n. ( —), a native stringed instrument, a kind of banjo, or guitar, common in Z.

Zi, verb-form, they are,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P), and taking the place of ni, or Pres. Tense Indic. of -wa. Nyumba hisi zi nzuri, these houses are good.

Zi- (often Z- before a vowel) is a formative (1) of pronominal adjectives, the pfx. agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P); (2) of verbs, both subjective and objective pfxs. agreeing with the above; and (3) obs. zizi hisi, these very, just these.

Ziara, n. (ma-), tomb, burying-place. (Ar. 'place of visiting.' Cf. siara, zuru, and kaburi.)

*Ziba, v. fill up a hole (crevice, opening of any sort),—and so, stop up, cork, plug, dam, fill up, close, shut off. Ps. zibwa. Nt. zib-ika, -ikan. Ap. zib-ia, -iwa, e.g. fill up with (for, in, &c.). Cs. zib-isha, -ishwa. Rp. zibana, e.g. stop itself up, get stopped up, get filled up. (Cf. zibo, kizibo, zibua, and cf. fukia, funga, katiza.)

Zibo, n. (ma-), a stopper, plug, cork,—anything that stops an opening. Dim. kizibo. (Cf. prec.)

*Zidi, v. (1) become more (greater, larger, taller, longer, &c.), grow, increase, multiply, be more and more. With an Ininitive following, it is very often best translated by the adv. 'more' or a comparative adverb, e.g. anazidi kuwenda, he is going faster (or, further). Azidi kujuwa, he knows better. Habari inazidi kuwenda, the news goes on spreading. Zidi also means 'domore,' e.g. nizidi kumpiga?
ZIDE

Shall I beat him more? (2) be the greater, have more power (than), outstrip, gain on (in a race), be superior (to), e.g. haō ndio watuzidio sisi, these are the persons who surpass us (are better than us, more powerful, &c.). Maseyidi wa Unguya waliwasidi, the sultans of Zanzibar were their overlords. (3) get the better of, beat, overwhelm, reduce to straits. E.g. kazi imenizidi sana, the work is quite too much for me. This meaning is more clearly shown in the Ps. (see below). Ps. zidiwa, e.g. (1) be surpassed; (2) very often 'be beaten by, be put in difficulties by;' and so, be in want of help about. E.g. nimesiidiwa, I am in a difficulty, or with fetha, I am in want of cash, or with karatasi, I have run short of paper. Tuliziidiwa na mvua, we were quite beaten by the rain. Ap. zidi-ia, -iwa, e.g. increase to, grow upon. Sometimes Act. Muungu awazidie afya, may God grant them continuance of health. Cs. zidi-sha, -shwa. Hence zidi-shia, -shwa. (Ar. Cf. zaidi, ziada, zidisho, ma-zidio, and syn. B. ongeza.)

*Zidi, n. (ma-), Zidio (ma-), Zidisho (ma-), all used occasionally for 'increase, addition, augmentation, supplement,' &c. (Ar. Cf. prec.)

*Zifiuri, n. See Sifiuri. (Ar.)

Zika, v. bury, assist in burying, attend a funeral. Ps. sikwa. Ap. zik-ia, -iwua, e.g. bury in (with, for, &c.). Cs. zisha, zishwa, arrange (manage, provide, attend to or at) a funeral. (Cf. mzishi, ma-zishi, ma-siko.)

*Ziki, n. kanzu ya ziki, a kanzu with a collar, i.e. with white stitching round the neck, but not the usual red-silk embroidered stitching. (Cf. kanzu, and Ar. sik, collar.)

*Zikri, n. used in Z. of a kind of religious dance, like those of the dervishes, with violent jerking of the body and ejaculations of Allah hai. (Ar. 'meditation.')

ZILE, a. form of -le, those,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). (Cf. yule.)

Zima, v. repress, quench, quell, extinguish, put out, rub out,—in literal and fig. sense, but with a limited range of application (the idea being not merely to restrain, put a check on (zuia), nor to stop access, close an avenue or passage (ziba), nor bring to an end, destroy (komesha), but rather stop by active repression, turning back on itself), e.g. of fire, z. moto, put out a fire,—the commonest use, but also of light, z. taa, and also z. nuru; of thirst (hunger), z. kiu (njaa); of life and consciousness, z. roho. Zima maji ya chumvi, change salt water into fresh. Also fig. z. vita (ugovwi, hasira), quell a war (quarrel, anger). Also as a Nt. moto unesima, the fire has gone out. Amesima roho, the man has fainted, become unconscious. Ps. sinwa. Nt. simika. Ap. sim-ia, -iwa, e.g. put off for (by, in, with, &c.), and (like zima) zimia roho, faint. Ap. sim-ilia, -iliwa, -iliza, -ilizwa, e.g. zimila maneno, rub out (written) words. Cs. sim-isha, -ishwa, and intens. (Cf. kuzimu, msimu, wasimu, simwe, zimua, sizimia, but dist. follg. -zima, usima, &c.)

-Zima, a. whole, sound, unhurt, entire, alive, perfect, in good health, full grown, adult. E.g. mimi msima, I am quite well. Watu wasima, grown-up people. Fungu zima, a whole heap. Samaki msima, a live fish. (See Usima, and cf. syn. hai, kamili, -pevu, and dist. zima, v.)

Zimua, v. Rv. of zima, with similar meaning, i.e. quench, repress, take the life or strength out of, e.g. of taking away heat, sharpness, bitter taste, newness (of liquids) by dilution or otherwise. Z. maji ya moto, cool hot water. Z. tembo, reduce the strength of fermented
(Cf. zima, and note.)

Zimwe, n. and Zimwi, (1) of a quenched, extinguished, lifeless condition, e.g. makaa ya zimwe, dead coals, burnt-out embers. Also as a. makaa mazimwe. (2) condition of a hollow coconuut, without milk or kernel (cf. kizimwe), e.g. nazi tina zimwe, the coconuut has nothing inside. But perh. conn. with (3) a spirit, fairy, demon, ogre, goblin, ghost (cf. jini, pepo, &c.). (Cf. zima, and note zimaa, wazimu, kuzimu, &c.,—all of the spirit world.)

Zindika, v. (1) inaugurate, dedicate, initiate, hold an opening ceremony (for), formally open; (2) protect with a charm or spell. E.g. z. nyumba, have a house-warming. Z. mtoto, put a child under a charm,—for protection. (Cf. follg., and syn. tabaruki, and zinduka in same sense, see note.)

Zindiko, n. (ma-), (1) opening ceremony, inauguration, &c.; (2) protecting charm, spell. (Cf. prec., and zinduko.)

Zindua, v. (1) open, declare open, inaugurate; (2) wake up suddenly from sleep, wake with a start (cf. zusha, vumbusha). Ps. zinduliwa. Nt. zinduka, i.e. (1) be opened, inaugurated, &c.; (2) wake with a start, be suddenly wakened,—and (in this sense, commonly) zindukana. (Cf. zindika, in same sense, inaugurate,—the same ceremony being at once an opening for special uses, and closing for all other uses. And obs. seeming identity with sindika (shindika), sindua, sinduka, shinduka.)

Zinga, v. used both act. and neut. of movement in a circle, i.e. (1) go round, go about; (2) stroll, walk, loiter, wafer, gad about,—with a bad object or none; (3) turn about, wafer, change, chop, veer, e.g. of winds, change of mind, &c.; (4) act.

Zingamana, v. be of a turning, twisting, curving kind, e.g. of a winding river. (St. Rp. of prec.)

Zingi, n. See Usingi.

Zingo, n. (ma-), turn, twist, bend, revolution. (Cf. mzingo, and zinga.)

Zingua, v. Rv. of zinga, (1) unroll, unfold, unwrap; (2) relieve of a spell or charm, disenchant, exorcize, rid of some evil thing. Ps. zinguliwa. Ap. zingu-ilia, -iliwa. (Cf. zindua, and follg.)

Zinguo, n. (ma-), exorcism, removal of a spell, riddance of an evil. (Cf. prec.)

Zio, n. (ma-), post used in making the sides of a native hut,—commonly ngzuo in Z. (Cf. uzio.)

Zira, v. hate, have a grudge against, but in Z. chukia is usual.

-zito, a. (1) heavy,—in weight; (2) difficult, hard to deal with, of serious import; (3) severe, harsh, hard to bear; (4) sad, depressed, weighed down, heavy; (5) slow, sluggish, clumsy, awkward; (6) of fluids, thick; (7) pregnant. (Cf. uzito, and -gumu, and contr. rahisi, -epesi.)

Ziwa, n. (ma-), (1) lake, pond, marsh, pool; (2) breast (of female), milk-producing gland; (3) in plur.
maziwa, milk,—human or animal. (Cf. usiwa.)

Zizi, n. (ma-), (1) enclosure for keeping animals, yard, fold, pen, stable, cowshed. Dim. kizizi (cf. wa, banda, kitali, and dist. sizi, misi). (2) adj. form in the phrase sizi hisi, these very, just these,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P). (Cf. papa hapa, yaya haya, &c. See Zi.)

Zizima, v. and Sisima, become cool, get cold, settle down, sink down, be calm and quiet, be composed. Maji ya kuzizima, very cold water, still water. Chakula kimezizima, the food is quite cold (cf. poa). Ap. zizim-ia,-iwa, has a somewhat specialized meaning, sink quite away, disappear completely (as a stone in water), e.g. alizizima, hakuzukia juu tena, he sank, and did not come to the surface again. Cs. zizim-isha,-ishwa, e.g. (1) cause to be very cold; (2) cause to wholly disappear. (Cf. follg. and zima, also perh. sisimizi, and didimia, sink, disappear.)

-zizima, a. cold, still, stagnant, e.g. of water. (Cf. follg.)

Zizimua, v. Rv. of zizima, (1) lose the chill, get warm; (2) be stirred, excited, irritated. Nt. zizimuka, e.g. of nervous irritation.

Zo, (1) relat. particle, used independently only in such phrases as zo zote, all whatever, whatsoever,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P); (2) relat. pf. agreeing with the above, in combination with verbs; (3) shortened for zako, subjoined to nouns, e.g. babazo, your ancestors; (4) cf. hizo, form of hizi used in reference, those yonder, these mentioned.

Zoa, v. sweep up, gather up, gather in heaps, pick up, e.g. z. taka (kifusi), gather up mess (rubbish) for removal. Ps. zoelowa. Nt. zo-leka, e.g. chungu hazizoleki, ants cannot be swept up and carried away. Ap. zo-lea,-lewa, e.g. fagio (jamvi) la kuzolea, a brush (mat) for clearing up rubbish. Cs. zol-esha,-eshwa,-esa,-ezwa. (Dist. follg.)

Zoea, v. become used (to), get accustomed (to), be familiar (with), be inured (to), practise. Ps. zoelwa. Nt. zoeka, become a customary thing. Ap. zo-lea,-lewa,-leka. Hence zoelwa. Cs. zo-eza,-zwa, e.g. jizoeza, train oneself (to), practise. (Cf. follg., and mazoea, mazozi.)

Zoea, Zoezo, n. See Mazoea, &c. -zoefu, -zoefu, a. accustomed (to), practised (in), familiar (with), inured (to), e.g. mzoefu wa kazi, an experienced workman. (Cf. prec.)

*Zomari, n. a musical wind-instrument, a kind of pipe, flageolet, clarionet,—of wood, with a harsh, piercing tone,—like a bagpipe. (Cf. ngoma, for other instruments.)

Zomea, v. groan,—as an expression of grief, and also of contempt, esp. with an object expressed. E. g. wali-mzomea sana, they groaned at him contemptuously. (Cf. follg., and ugua, jyonya.)

Zomeo, n. (ma-), groan,—of sorrow or disapproval. (Cf. prec.)

Zote, a. form of -ote, all,—agreeing with D 4 (P), D 6 (P).

Zua, v. (1) make a hole in, perforate, bore through, make a way into, e.g. zuv tunu, bore a hole (cf. tobo), panvy amezua kiwambaza, a rat has made a hole through the wall; (2) bring to light, bring to the surface, hunt out; (3) fig. go into thoroughly, find out all about, get information, suck the brains (of), e.g. nimenzua habari zote, I have got out of him all he has to tell; (4) invent, discover, compose, fabricate, tell lies, make innovations, reform, revolutionize. Ps. zulivwa, e.g. mti ulizulivwa tunu, a tree with a hole bored in it. Nt. zuka has a special sense, emerge (as from a hole, out of water, &c.), suddenly appear, start up, bob up (cf. muzuka, uzuka). Ap. zu-lia, -liwa, e.g. invent for (against, with, &c.), e.g. tell lies about, make false excuses for, &c. Cs. zu-sha,-shwa, e.g. cause to emerge, bring to light, invent, reform, produce as new. (Cf. mzushi, uzushi, and syn. vumbua. Zuia should perh. be treated as two words, (1) bore, (2) make new, invent, &c.

Zuia, v. (1) cause to stop, keep back, restrain, hinder, obstruct, prevent, balk, withhold, detain, cause to stop, delay; (2) resist a tendency, and so, support, prop, strengthen. Ps. zuiva. Nt. zuika. Ap. zuilia, -iliwa, -ilika. Cs. zu-za, -zwa. Rp. zuiana. (Cf. zuio, zuizo, -ziufu, and syn. simamisha, komesha, pinga, ziba, and note.) -ziifu, a. or -zuivu (same with D 4 (P), D 5 (S), D 6), hindering, obstructing, delaying, &c. (Cf. follg., and zuia.)

Zuio, n. (ma-), and Zuizo (ma-), hindrance, obstruction, difficulty, support, prop, stopper. (Cf. prec.)

Zulia, n. (—, and ma-), a carpet.

Zuli-zuli, n. dizziness, giddiness, confusion. (Cf. zulu.)

Zulu, v. be giddy (dizzy), be confused in mind (bewildered, crazy). So also in Ps. zuiva, be flurried, be confused, be driven mad. Nt. zuilika, e.g. kicwa chomulika, akiona shimo, his head gets dizzy if he sees a precipice. Also Ps. amesulika na kicwa, he has lost his head, turned giddy. Ap. zul-a, -iva. Cs. sul-isha, -ishwa, e.g. kileko kimezuisha kicwa, drink has driven him crazy, turned his head. (Cf. maza, and cf. kicwa, kizunzungu.)

*Zumaridi, n. emerald. (Ar.)

Zumbua, v. See Vumbua.

-zungu, a. (1) strange, wonderful, clever, extraordinary; (2) European. (Cf. mzungu, uzungu, and perh. follg.)

Zungua, v. cause to go round, turn round, put round, but usually zungusha (see below). Nt. zunguka, (1) go round, be round, surround, revolve; (2) go round and round, wind about, be round about, wander about, stroll, make rounds; (2) loiter, waste time, delay, and so, be tiresome. E. g. njia inazunguka, it is a circuitous path, the road winds about. Boma lanzunguka mji, the stockade surrounds the village. Tu-meagana, usizunguke, we have said goodbye, so do not wait about. Hence zunguk-ia, -iwa. In Ps. zungukwa, be surrounded, be gone round, have on all sides, wear round the body. Cs. zungu-sha, -shwa, (1) put round, surround with, carry round; (2) cause to go round, make revolve, turn round and round, roll round; (3) keep waiting, waste the time of, cause needless annoyance. E. g. mahali paliposungushwa boma, a place with a palisade round it. Wakaizungusha uwavanja, and they formed a ring in the open space. Zungusha maneno, equivocate, use vague indirect statements. Zungusha kicwa, turn the head round. Hence zungush-ia, -iwa, e.g. alimzungusha ngu, he put clothes on him. Also zungushana, e.g. tisizungushane, do not let us keep each other waiting. (Cf. -zungu, mzunguko, zungusho, and see Zina.)

Zunguko, n. (ma-), going round, revolving, turning round, winding about, whirling, and so of objects revolving, &c., e.g. whirlpool, eddy, roundabout speech, windings of a river, circuit, way round, wandering, &c. (Cf. follg.)

Zungumza, v. amuse oneself, converse, play, engage in any pastime. Also act. amuse, play with, and so jizungumza, amuse oneself, occupy one's time. (Cf. follg., and cheza, ongea.)

Zungumzo, n. (ma-), amusement, pastime, game, conversation, gossip, talk. (Cf. prec. and maongezo, mchezo.)

Zungusho, n. (ma-), causing to go round, &c., and also likezunguko. E.g. mazungusho ya shamba, fencing materials, a fence of a plantation. (Cf. sungua.)

*Zuri, n. and Azúr, perjury, false swearing. Also as v. commit perjury, swear falsely. (Ar.)

-zuri, a. (nzuri with D 4 (P), D 6, zuri with D 5 (S)), beautiful, good, pleasing, fine, i.e. pleasing in any way or degree to any sense or taste,—usually of externals, and so translatable in a great variety of ways, to suit the particular sense affected, and the degree in which it was affected. But also of what commends itself to the moral sense, not as good in itself so much as consonant with that sense, i.e. agreeable, amiable, worthy, excellent, praise-worthy. Thus mti nzuri, a handsome person, or, an excellent, pleasant person. Kulikuvaje huko uliko-kwenda? How did you like your visit? Kuzuri, very much (lit. it was nice, pleasant). (Cf. uzuri, and -ema, contr. -baya.)

*Zuru, v. visit, go on a visit to. Esp. of visiting a grave, e.g. zuru kaburi, or katika kaburi. Enda kuzu, go to pay a call. Ps. zuriwa. Nt. zurika. Ap. zur-ia, -iwa, e.g. atanizuria katika kaburi ya mtume, he will pay a visit for me to the tomb of the apostle, i.e. Mahomet. (Ar., 'visit, go on pilgrimage to.' Cf. ziara, and syn. amkia.)

Zuruzuka, v. perh. a variant of sunguka, go about, wander about, loiter aimlessly, waste time, idle.

-zuzu, a. foolish, simple, inexperienced. (Cf. mzuzu, uzuzu, and follig., and syn. mjinga.)

Zuzua, v. make a fool of, play tricks on, puzzle a newcomer, treat as a simpleton. Nt. zusuka, e.g. be puzzled, be at a loss, not to know what to do. (Cf. prec.)

THE END.
Books published during the twelve months ending June 1, 1909, or in the Press, or in preparation, are underlined.

ENGLISH DICTIONARIES

CONCISE ETYMOLITICAL DICTIONARY. By W. W. Skeat. New Edition, arranged alphabetically. 5s. 6d.

STUDENT'S DICTIONARY OF ANGLO-SAXON. By H. Sweet. 8s. 6d. net.

CONCISE DICTIONARY OF MIDDLE ENGLISH, from 1150-1580. By A. L. Mayhew and W. W. Skeat. 7s. 6d.

GRAMMAR AND PHONETICS

SENTENCE ANALYSIS. By one of the authors of The King's English. 1s. 6d.

WRITING OF ENGLISH. By Philip J. Hartog, with the assistance of Mrs. A. H. Langdon. Second Edition. 2s. 6d.

PHONETIC TRANSCRIPTIONS OF ENGLISH PROSE. By D. Jones. 2s.

SOUNDS OF ENGLISH. By H. Sweet. 2s. 6d.

PRIMER OF PHONETICS. By H. Sweet. 3 Ed. 3s. 6d.

PRIMER OF SPOKEN ENGLISH. By H. Sweet. Second Edition, revised. 3s. 6d.

CHART OF ENGLISH SPEECH SOUNDS. With key-words and notes. By D. Jones. 4d. net.

DR. SWEET'S HISTORICAL GRAMMARS

PRIMER OF HISTORICAL ENGLISH GRAMMAR. 2s.

SHORT HISTORICAL ENGLISH GRAMMAR. 4s. 6d.

NEW ENGLISH GRAMMAR. 2 Ed. Part I, 10s. 6d. Part II, 3s. 6d.
CLARENDON PRESS SCHOOL BOOKS

ANGLO-SAXON AND MIDDLE ENGLISH

DR. SWEET’S PRIMERS & READERS

FIRST STEPS IN ANGLO-SAXON. 2s. 6d.
ANGLO-SAXON PRIMER. 8 Ed., revised. 2s. 6d.
ANGLO-SAXON READER. 8 Ed., revised. 9s. 6d.
SECOND ANGLO-SAXON READER. 4s. 6d.
SECOND MIDDLE ENGLISH PRIMER. 2 Ed. 2s. 6d.
FIRST MIDDLE ENGLISH PRIMER. 2 Ed., rev. 2s. 6d.

PRIMER OF ENGLISH ETYMOLOGY. By W.W. SKEAT.
Fourth Edition, revised. 1s. 6d.
PRIMER OF CLASSICAL AND ENGLISH ETYMOLOGY. By W.W. SKEAT. 2s.

BOOK FOR THE BEGINNER IN ANGLO-SAXON.
By J. EARLE. Fourth Edition, revised throughout. 2s. 6d.

EARLY ENGLISH

DR. SKEAT’S EDITIONS

Man of Lawes Tale, Pardoneres Tale, Second Nonnes Tale, Chanouns Yemannes Tale. New Edition, revised. 4s. 6d.
Priories Tale, Sir Thopas, Monkes Tale, Clerkes Tale, Squieres Tale. Seventh Edition. 4s. 6d.
Hous of Fame. 2s.
Legend of Good Women. 6s.
Minor Poems. Second Edition, enlarged. 10s. 6d.
ENGLISH

LANGLAND: Piers the Plowman. Sixth Edition. 4s. 6d.
LAY OF HAVELOK THE DANE. 4s. 6d.
PIERCE THE PLOUGHMAN'S CREDE. 2s.
PROVERBS OF ALFRED. 2s. 6d.
TALE OF GAMELYN. Second Edition. 1s. 6d.
WYCLIFFE'S BIBLE. Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Song of Solomon. 3s. 6d.
New Testament. 6s.

DREAM OF THE ROOD. Edited by A. S. Cook. 3s. 6d.

ELIZABETHAN

BACON: Advancement of Learning. With woodcuts. By W. ALDIS WRIGHT. 3s. 6d.

HAKLUYT: Voyages of the Elizabethan Seamen. By E. J. PAYNE. With notes and maps by C. R. BEAZLEY. With illustrations. 4s. 6d. Separately, Voyages of Hawkins, Frobisher, and Drake, 2s. 6d.; Voyages of Gilbert and Drake, 2s. 6d.

HOOKER: Ecclesiastical Polity, Bk.I. By R.W.CHURCH. 2s.

MARLOWE: Edward II. By O. W. TANCOCK. Third Edition. 2s. (boards) and 3s. (cloth).

MORE: Utopia. By J. CHURTON COLLINS. 2s.

NORTH: Translation of Plutarch's Lives of Coriolanus, Caesar, Brutus, and Antonius. By R. H. CARR. 3s. 6d. Separately, Coriolanus, and Caesar, 1s. 6d. each.
SHAKESPEARE: Select Plays.
By W. G. Clark and W. Aldis Wright.

Hamlet. 2s.
Macbeth. 1s. 6d.

Merchant of Venice. 1s.
Richard II. 1s. 6d.

By W. Aldis Wright.

As You Like It. 1s. 6d.
Coriolanus. 2s. 6d.
Henry VIII. 2s.
Henry V. 2s.
Henry IV. Part I. 2s.
Julius Caesar. 2s.

King John. 1s. 6d.
King Lear. 1s. 6d.
Midsummer Night's Dream. 1s. 6d.
Much Ado About Nothing. 1s. 6d.
Richard III. 2s. 6d.
Tempest. 1s. 6d.

Twelfth Night. 1s. 6d.

SCENES FROM OLD PLAY-BOOKS. By P. Simpson.
3s. 6d.

SELECT PLAYS OF SHAKESPEARE FOR SCHOOLS
(Merchant of Venice, Tempest, As You Like It, Henry V, Julius Caesar, Hamlet, Macbeth, Midsummer Night's Dream, Richard II). Slightly abridged, with introduction and notes, by G. S. Gordon. 3s. 6d.

In the press.

SIDNEY: Apologie for Poetry. By J. C. Collins. 2s. 6d.

SPENSER: Faery Queene, Books I, II. By G. W. Kitchin and A. L. Mayhew. 2s. 6d. each.

SEVENTEENTH CENTURY

Holy War and the Heavenly Footman. By M. Peacock. 3s. 6d.

DRYDEN: Selections. Prose and verse. By G. E. Hadow. 2s. 6d.

Select Essays. By W. P. Ker. Two vols. 8s. net.
ENGLISH

MILTON: Areopagitica. By J. W. Hales. 3s.
Comus. By R. C. Browne, 6d. By O. Elton, 1s.

Vol. I: Early Poems (L'Allegro, II Penseroso, Arcades, Comus, Lycidas, &c.); Sonnets; Paradise Lost, I-VI.
Vol. II: Paradise Lost, VII-XII; Paradise Regained; Samson Agonistes.

Il Penseroso. By O. Elton. 4d.

Lycidas. By R. C. Browne, 3d. By O. Elton, 6d.
L'Allegro. By O. Elton. 4d.

Paradise Lost. Book I, by H. C. Beeching, 1s. 6d.
Book II, by E. K. Chambers, 1s. 6d. Together, 2s. 6d.

Samson Agonistes. By J. Churton Collins. 1s.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY

ADDISON: Selections from the Spectator. By T. Arnold. 4s. 6d.

ADDISON and STEELE: The Coverley Papers from The Spectator. By O. M. Myers. 2s.

Vol. I: Thoughts on the Present Discontents; the two Speeches on America. With additions and corrections. 4s. 6d.
Vol. II: Reflections on the French Revolution. 5s.
Vol. III: Letters on the Regicide Peace. 5s.

BURNS: Selections. By J. Logie Robertson. Second Edition. 3s. 6d.

Vol. I: Didactic Poems of 1782, with some Minor Pieces 1779-1783. 3s.
GOLDSMITH: Deserted Village. (Text only.) By G. Birkbeck Hill. 2d. Traveller. By G. Birkbeck Hill. Is. Selections. By Austin Dobson. 3s. 6d.

GRAY: Elegy, and Ode on Eton College. (Text only.) 2d. Selections. By Edmund Gosse. With additional notes for schools, by F. Watson. 1s. 6d.

JOHNSON: Life of Milton. By C. H. Firth. 1s. 6d. (boards) and 2s. 6d. (cloth). Rasselas. By G. Birkbeck Hill. 2s. and 4s. 6d. Rasselas, and Lives of Dryden and Pope. By A. Milnes. Second Edition, revised. 4s. 6d. Separately, Lives, 2s. 6d. Vanity of Human Wishes. By E. J. Payne. 3rd Ed. 4d.

LOCKE: Conduct of the Understanding. By T. Fowler. Fifth Edition. 2s. 6d.

PARNELL: Hermit. 2d.

STEELE: Selections from the Tatler, Spectator, and Guardian. By Austin Dobson. With portrait. 7s. 6d.

SWIFT: Selections. By Sir Henry Craik. Two vols. 7s. 6d. each.

THOMSON: Seasons and Castle of Indolence. By J. Logie Robertson. 4s. 6d. Separately, Castle of Indolence, 1s. 6d.

NINETEENTH CENTURY

ARNOLD: Selected Poems. By H. B. George and A. M. Leigh. 2s.
Merope, with the Electra of Sophocles translated by R. Whitelaw. By J. C. Collins. 3s. 6d.

BROWNING: Strafford. By H. B. George. 2s.

BYRON: Childe Harold. By H. F. Tozer. 3rd Ed. 3s. 6d.

DE QUINCEY: Spanish Military Nun, and Revolt of the Tartars. By V. H. Collins. With 2 maps. 2s. Text only, 9d. (paper) and 1s. (cloth). In the Press.
ENGLISH

MACAULAY: History of England, Ch. III. By A. L. Bowley. 2s. 6d. Text only, 9d. (paper), and 1s. (cloth). Immediately.

SHELLEY: Adonais. By W. M. ROSSETTI and A. O. PRICKARD. Second Edition. 3s. 6d.

TENNYSON. English Idylls and other Poems, 2s. Lady of Shalott and other Poems, 2s. Together in one vol., 3s. By B. C MULLINER. Immediately. Enid. By C. B. WHEELER. 1s. 6d.

WORDSWORTH: White Doe of Rylstone, &c. By WILLIAM KNIGHT. 2s. 6d.
SELECT ENGLISH CLASSICS
Edited with introductions by A. T. QUILLER-COUCH.
Each 3d. (paper) and 4d. (cloth).

POETRY AND DRAMA
ARNOLD: Poems.
BLAKE: Poems.
BROWNING (R.): Poems.
COLERIDGE: Poems.
COWPER: Poems.
CRABBE: Poems.
EARLY ENGLISH LYRICS
(with glossarial notes).
EVERYMAN (complete, with glossarial notes).
GOLDSMITH: Traveller, and Deserted Village.
HOOD: Poems.
KEATS: Poems.
MARLOWE: Plays.
MARVELL: Poems.
MILTON: Minor Poems.
MILTON and WORDSWORTH:
Sonnets.
ROBIN HOOD: Old Ballads.
SHAKESPEARE: Songs and Sonnets.

SHELLEY: Poems.
TENNISON: Poems.
WHITMAN: Poems.
WORDSWORTH: Poems.

POETRY AND DRAMA (contd.)

PROSE

BOSWELL: Life of Johnson.
BUNYAN.
DEFOE.
HAZLITT.
LAMB.

NAPIER: Peninsular War.
WALPOLE: Letters.
WALTON: Lives, and Angler.

Together in cloth bindings.

BUNYAN, COWPER, CRABBE, and DEFOE. 1s. 3d.
BUNYAN and DEFOE. 8d.

OXFORD PLAIN TEXTS
Each 3d. (paper) and 4d. (cloth).

ARNOLD: Balder Dead, and Mycerinus. Sohrab and Rustum.
BYRON: Childe Harold, Cantos I, II, III, IV, 3d. or 4d. each. Togethcr, cloth, I-II, 8d.; I-IV, 1s. 3d.
COLERIDGE: Ancient Mariner, and Christabel.
DE QUINCEY: Spanish Military
Nun, and Revolt of the Tartars.

GRAY: Elegy, and Odes.

KEATS: Isabella, and Eve of St.
Agnes.

MILTON: Paradise Lost, Books I, II, V, VI, 3d. or 4d. each. In the Press.

MACAULAY: History of England,
Ch. III. Immediately.

SPENSER: Faerie Queene, Bock I.
Immediately.

In the Press.